Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT REVIEW
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
NEW YORK FIELD OFFICE
07/18/2012

Investigative Period: 07/18/2012 – Present

Synopsis

On July 18, 2012, at approximately 5:15 a.m., an Agent-involved shooting occurred in Queens [redacted], New York. The Agent involved, SA [redacted] assigned to the New York Field Office (NYO) Special Operations and Cyber Branch, Surveillance Operations [redacted], was off-duty at his residence, [redacted] New York. b6 -1 b7C -1

At approximately 5:00 a.m., SA [redacted]'s [redacted] heard a car alarm. Upon looking out of a second story window of their residence, she observed two unidentified males attempting to burglarize her vehicle. The vehicle was parked directly in front of their residence. [redacted] began to bang on the window in an attempt to stop the subjects. SA [redacted] asleep in an adjacent room, was awakened by the commotion and was advised by [redacted] their vehicle was being burglarized. SA [redacted] looked out of the window, began yelling verbal commands at the subjects and identified himself as a law enforcement officer. One subject turned toward SA [redacted] The subject reached to his waistband area and made suspicious movements directed toward SA [redacted] SA [redacted] armed with his Bureau issued firearm, fired one shot at the subject through the window screen of his second story bedroom window. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

Video footage from [redacted]s security camera revealed two subjects approaching the vicinity of SA [redacted]'s personally owned vehicle. Approximately two minutes later, the footage shows two subjects attempting to flee from the vicinity of SA [redacted]'s vehicle. One subject fell to the ground alongside a light colored truck parked between SA [redacted]'s Bureau vehicle and personally owned vehicle. The second subject ran back to the first subject and dragged him down the street out of the surveillance camera's view. Subsequent investigation by the NYPD revealed both subjects entered a vehicle at the corner of [redacted] and the vehicle departed the scene. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

[redacted] called 911. NYPD officers responded to the residence. SA [redacted] advised them he fired his weapon one time. He surrendered his Bureau-issued firearm, as well as the shell casing from the fired round to the NYPD. SA [redacted] was uninjured, but was taken to a local hospital for evaluation as a precautionary measure. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

Shortly after the incident, an individual identified as [redacted] arrived at [redacted] Hospital, Brooklyn, NY for treatment of a gunshot wound to his back. NYPD investigators responded to the hospital and identified [redacted] as the individuals who transported [redacted] to the hospital. b6 -2,7 b7C -2,7 [redacted] departed the area of the hospital with the vehicle and was not seen until 07/22/2012 when he surrendered to the NYPD's 106th Precinct to address charges related to the incident.

Details

The SIRT dispatched to the NYO during the evening hours of 07/18/2012. Contact was made with NYPD upon arrival at SA [redacted]'s residence. NYPD officials provided the SIRT with the following information: b6 -1 b7C -1

At approximately 5:15 am, an Agent-involved shooting occurred in [redacted] (Queens), New York. SA [redacted] assigned to the NYO Special Operations and Cyber Branch, Surveillance Operations [redacted] was off-duty at his residence, [redacted] New York, when the shooting occurred. At approximately 5:00 a.m., [redacted] while attending to [redacted] heard a car alarm activate. Upon looking out of her second story window, she observed two unidentified males attempting to burglarize the family's vehicle, a [redacted] The vehicle was parked directly in front of their residence. [redacted] began to bang on the window in an attempt to stop the burglary. SA [redacted] asleep in an adjacent room, was awakened by the commotion, and was advised by [redacted] their vehicle was being burglarized. SA [redacted] went to the bedroom window, raised the blinds and observed a black male wearing a white t-shirt at the rear of their vehicle "pulling" on the trunk. SA [redacted] observed a "shiny" object in the right hand of the subject, which he described as either a ratchet or a knife. SA [redacted] opened the window and yelled "Police, what the fuck are you doing?" SA [redacted] stated he yelled the command twice. The subject did not respond and continued to pull on the trunk. SA [redacted] advised the subject took his left hand and placed it in the area of his waistband, while still pulling on the trunk with his right hand. Based on his experience and training, SA [redacted] believed the waistband area to be a location where weapons were kept. Upon seeing this, SA [redacted] went to a drawer beneath his bed and removed his Bureau issued service weapon from its holster, a Glock 23 (SN# [redacted]). SA [redacted] returned to the window with his firearm and found the subject still pulling on the trunk. SA [redacted] again shouted at the subject to move away from his vehicle. Immediately following the command, the subject looked up at SA [redacted] reached to his waistband area and made suspicious movements directed towards him. In response to the subject's actions, SA [redacted] fired one shot from his weapon. Following the shot, the subject fled westbound on [redacted] b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

SA [redacted] went outside and found his vehicle had been burglarized and recalled seeing the passenger side window lying on the grass. Additionally, he looked westbound and b6 -1 b7C -1 observed a male lying near the crosswalk of [redacted] The subject looked towards him and stated, "You're killing me man." SA [redacted] was unsure how many other subjects were in the area and did not go further. Video footage from a [redacted] revealed a subject, later identified as [redacted], returning to the subject on the ground. [redacted] pulled [redacted] across the crosswalk and both men entered a waiting vehicle. SA [redacted] reported seeing a dark colored vehicle, possibly a [redacted] make a u-turn near the intersection of [redacted] A male exited the passenger side and pulled [redacted] from the ground into the backseat. All subjects entered the vehicle and drove away westbound on [redacted]

Upon re-entering his residence, SA [redacted] found [redacted] to be on the telephone with a 911 dispatcher. NYPD officers arrived on-scene within minutes and SA [redacted] identified himself as an FBI Agent. SA [redacted] advised a NYPD Sergeant he shot someone who was dragged into a [redacted] SA [redacted] described the individual he shot as a black male, with a shaved head, wearing a white T-shirt and dark shorts. After being questioned about the status of his weapon, SA [redacted] relinquished it, along with the spent shell casing, to the Sergeant.

b7C -1,2,7

Shortly after the incident, [redacted] arrived at [redacted] Hospital, Brooklyn, NY for treatment of a gunshot wound in his back. NYPD investigators responded to the hospital and identified [redacted] as the individuals who transported [redacted] to the hospital. [redacted] departed the area of the hospital with the vehicle and was not seen until 07/22/2012 when he surrendered to the NYPD's 106th Precinct, to address charges related to the incident.

b7C -2,7

The SIRT interviewed SA [redacted] Surveillance Team Leader for SA [redacted] SA [redacted] advised he received a call from SA [redacted] who told SA [redacted] he had been involved in a shooting. SA [redacted] unable to reach SA [redacted]'s immediate supervisor, contacted SA [redacted] a squad member of SA [redacted] and instructed him to respond to SA [redacted]'s residence.

The SIRT interviewed SA [redacted] who advised he arrived at SA [redacted]'s residence and observed him to be visibly shaken. He asked SA [redacted] where the shooting incident occurred, in an attempt to determine if the residence was a crime scene. He was unable to remember SA [redacted]'s response, but recalled he mentioned someone breaking into his car, and feeling he had to shoot. He requested SA [redacted] not provide any further details. He advised on scene NYPD officers he wanted SA [redacted] to go to the hospital and requested they contact an ambulance. He accompanied SA [redacted] in the ambulance to [redacted] Hospital, [redacted] Queens, New York.

The above-noted information regarding the interviews of SAs [redacted] was documented via FD-302.

As part of the SIRT investigation, a digital copy of a 911 call made by [redacted] on 07/18/2012 was received from the NYPD. As the 911 recording began, [redacted] was heard to yell "shoot the car." She identified herself as [redacted] to the 911 operator, provided her address, and told the operator two black males attempted to burglarize her vehicle. She told the 911 operator a [redacted] was headed down [redacted] and "they" picked someone up. She stated there were two or three black males and one of them was possibly injured. She noted [redacted] would be able to tell the police if one of the men was injured. She told the 911 operator [redacted] was outside looking at her car and "they" stole her radio. She then identified [redacted] as an FBI Agent. The 911 operator asked her if any weapons were involved. [redacted] stated [redacted] drew his weapon and fired one shot. She told the 911 operator she did not know if "they" drew a weapon and the incident occurred less than five minutes before the 911 call.

NYO, squad [redacted] began pursuing an AFO investigation ([redacted]) Agents responded to SA [redacted]'s residence, [redacted] Hospital, and [redacted] Hospital on the morning of the shooting. SAs [redacted] responded to [redacted] Hospital and learned [redacted] was treated for a gunshot wound to the back. The bullet was not removed during surgery due to its proximity to [redacted]'s spine. [redacted] was cleared for interview upon release from surgery at approximately 8:15 a.m. on 07/18/2012. During the interview with SAs [redacted] stated he went to Queens with his girlfriend and two friends. He told the Agents he was walking in a crosswalk and "got shot." He then terminated the interview due to discomfort from the surgery.

On 07/19/2012, in exchange for immunity from prosecution, SA [redacted] made statements to representatives of the Queens County District Attorney's Office (QCDAO) and the NYPD. SA [redacted]'s statement was consistent with his statement to NYPD on the morning of the shooting. [redacted], Attorney for SA [redacted] advised neither SA [redacted] would be available for an interview with the SIRT. As a part of the ongoing 89B investigation, NYO obtained a copy of the NYPD and QCDAO interview of SA [redacted] These interviews were made part of the SIRT's investigation.

As a part of the ongoing 89B investigation, NYO SA [redacted] met with the QCDAO and the attorney for [redacted] on 07/22/2012. In exchange for immunity from prosecution for [redacted] provided the following information to the QCDAO, which conflicted with the information provided by [redacted] to the FBI on 07/18/2012: [redacted] travelled to [redacted], Queens, in the early morning of 07/18/2012 to steal a car stereo and navigation system from a [redacted] similar to the one driven by [redacted] All four men met near the back of SA [redacted] took up look-out positions at the opposite ends of [redacted] used tools, to include a screwdriver, to burglarize the car. [redacted] heard someone shouting at him and [redacted] and then heard a gunshot. All four men began to flee the scene. [redacted] realized [redacted] was injured and assisted him as they entered [redacted] After dropping off [redacted] at [redacted] Hospital, [redacted] drove away in [redacted]'s vehicle.

b6 -1,2,7

To date, the SIRT is not aware of any evidence indicating the subjects were armed.

Pursuant to a SIRT team request, on 07/19/2012, NYO ERT completed photographs and video of the outside of SA [redacted]'s residence and began Total Station processing.

On 09/17/2013, in exchange for immunity from prosecution for violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1001, [redacted] made statements to the SIRT, the USAO for the Eastern District of New York, and [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, DOJ. [redacted] were interviewed separately in the presence of their attorney, [redacted] stated he, [redacted] and two friends were searching for a [redacted] similar to the vehicle owned by [redacted] Once they located the [redacted] owned by [redacted] they devised a plan to break into the vehicle to steal the stereo so it could be placed in the [redacted]'s vehicle. [redacted] and one of the friends acted as lookouts while [redacted] broke the passenger side window of the [redacted] and entered the vehicle. [redacted] attempted to disarm the vehicle's alarm with a small ratchet. [redacted] used a screwdriver to access and remove the radio. During this time, [redacted] moved to the rear wheel of the driver's side of the vehicle. [redacted] heard a male banging on a window and yelling, "What the fuck are you doing?" [redacted] handed the radio to one of the friends who ran away with the stereo. [redacted] hit the horn with his feet while exiting the vehicle, causing the alarm to go off and the lights to flash on the vehicle. He began to run down the street when he heard a gunshot and then [redacted] said "I got shot." Prior to hearing the gunshot, the last time he saw [redacted] was at the rear of the driver's side of the [redacted] He ran to [redacted] who was lying in the street. [redacted] observed a male approach pointing a handgun at them. [redacted] told the male, "You shot me, you really shot me." The male did not say anything to [redacted] then pulled [redacted] to a sidewalk where one of his friends picked them up in a [redacted] and they took [redacted] to a nearby hospital.

In a separate interview, [redacted] stated he, [redacted] (identified as [redacted] by the NYPD) were driving around neighborhoods in two vehicles on the morning of 07/18/2012, looking for a [redacted] so they could steal the radio and install it in [redacted]'s vehicle. Once they found a [redacted] which met their criteria, they parked the vehicles and approached the vehicle on foot. [redacted] attempted to disarm the alarm with a screwdriver while [redacted] broke the passenger side window and entered the vehicle. [redacted] moved to the rear of the driver's side of the vehicle to act as a lookout. At some point, [redacted] activated the vehicle alarm, causing the lights to flash and the horn to go off. [redacted] noticed blinds move in an upstairs window of a house located near the vehicle and heard banging on the window. [redacted] ducked down behind the vehicle. [redacted] heard [redacted] yell, "Let's go," and [redacted] began to run up the street. He heard one shot and fell to the ground. He thought he was shot but did not feel it immediately. [redacted] told [redacted] he was shot and looked back in the direction of where it occurred. He saw a male with a gun pointed in his direction and told the male, "You fucking shot me." [redacted] could not recall if the male responded. [redacted] helped [redacted] into a [redacted] and they drove to the hospital.

Enclosures

All enclosures have been made part of this report and are identified in the enclosed table of contents.

A. Administrative

The Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) was comprised of the following personnel:

Inspector-in-Charge (IIC) Christopher W. Davis
Inspector Thomas P. Ravenelle b6 -1
Assistant Inspector (AI)/Team Leader (TL) [redacted] b7C -1
AI/TL [redacted]
Assistant Inspector-in-Place (AIIP) [redacted]
AIIP [redacted]

B. Shooting Incident Review Protocol

On 07/18/2012, IIC Davis communicated with NYO Special Agent in Charge (SAC) April D. Brooks to arrange logistics for the SIRT. SAC Brooks served as the point of contact for the SIRT. The SIRT arrived during the evening hours of 07/18/2012. On 07/19/2012, IIC Davis and Inspector Ravenelle met with the NYO Assistant Director in Charge (ADIC) Janice K. Fedarcyk to discuss SIRT protocols. IIC Davis was informed the NYPD was conducting a parallel investigation and would provide their reports to the SIRT. ADIC Fedarcyk was advised all statements taken by the SIRT would be provided to the NYPD for inclusion in their investigative file.

On 07/19/2012, IIC Davis met with all SIRT personnel, members of the NYO executive management as well as the squad conducting the Assault on a Federal Officer (AFO) investigation. IIC Davis introduced members of the SIRT and outlined the SIRT protocols. There was an opportunity for dialogue regarding concerns, clarification, or questions prior to the investigation commencing. On 07/19/2012, SIRT team members visited the scene of the shooting along with members of the investigative squad [redacted] and a representative of the NYO Evidence Response Team (ERT). b7E -7

SA [redacted] through the advice of his attorney [redacted] appeared for an interview with the NYPD and the QCDAO. The SIRT was provided a copy of a summary of the b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2 interview. SA [redacted] refused to provide a Signed Sworn Statement to the SIRT. Additional interviews, events and observations were documented in FD-302s. FBI personnel were interviewed and allowed to read the FD-302 documenting their interview and confirm the accuracy of the information provided. b6 -1 b7C -1

Neither the FD-644 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information on a Voluntary Basis) nor the FD-645 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Required to Provide Information) were utilized. The interviews of witnesses were conducted voluntarily. FD-927's (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident) were executed for each Agent interview.

On 07/22/2012, an exit brief was provided by IIC Davis to ADIC Fedarcyk and SAC Brooks.

H. Evidence Recovery and Laboratory Division Reports

Prior to the arrival of the SIRT, NYPD Detective [redacted] Tax ID# [redacted] accepted custody of SA [redacted]'s Bureau-issued weapon from NYPD Sergeant [redacted] who initially took custody of the weapon, and entered it into NYPD: b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 Detective [redacted] also accepted custody of one (1) Glock model 23 magazine and 13 Winchester .40 caliber cartridges from Sergeant [redacted] All the items were taken to the NYPD Police Lab for analysis under voucher #6000002175 (a copy of which will be maintained in the 1A section of the file). Two (2) cartridges were test fired at the NYPD Lab by NYPD Det. [redacted] Tax ID# [redacted], and were retained as evidence at the NYPD Firearms Analysis Section (FAS), under laboratory #2012-084272. No mention was made of the spent shell casing collected by the Sergeant [redacted] from SA [redacted] within the NYPD Property and Evidence Tracking System (PETS), voucher #600002175. A copy of this report was included in the 1A section of the file.

b7C -1,4

On 07/18/2012, SA [redacted]'s Bureau-issued weapon and 11 cartridges were released to NYPD TFO Detective [redacted] Squad [redacted] NYO pursuant to an official written request from the NYO. TFO [redacted] released the items into the custody of SSA [redacted] Squad [redacted] on 07/18/2012. SSA [redacted] relinquished custody of the weapon on 07/20/2012 to firearms instructor SA [redacted] NYO Firearms Training Unit (NYO FTU), who accepted the weapon for storage.

The NYPD Crime Scene Unit (CSU) processed the scene following the shooting incident. On 07/20/2012, Bureau Chief [redacted] Career Criminal Major Crimes Bureau, QCDAO, met with IIC Davis. [redacted] provided IIC Davis with crime scene photographs of SA [redacted]'s residence. NYPD conducted a forensic examination of the second story window screen from the residence. Based on an analysis of the threads from the window screen, NYPD was of the opinion the shot fired by SA [redacted] was directed towards the rear portion of the [redacted] owned by [redacted] Based upon the forensic examination of the window screen and the supporting photographs, NYPD concluded the shot was angled towards the rear of the vehicle.

J. Declination by the Civil Rights Division

Upon completion of the on-site inquiry, IIC Davis coordinated SIRT investigative findings with [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division. By letter dated 10/04/2013, Mr. [redacted] stated the evidence did not "support a prosecutable violation of federal law" and noted the USAO for the Eastern District of New York concurred with the recommendation to close the matter. b6 -3 b7C -3

K. Local Prosecution Opinion

In exchange for their statements, SA [redacted] brothers were granted immunity by the QCDAO. As a result, QCDAO was unable to present this information before a Grand Jury, absent a signed and executed waiver by the affected parties. Due to this, on 03/05/2013, QCDAO dismissed all charges against SA [redacted] and the [redacted] b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

L. Inspector's Observations

The SIRT identified the following issues:

ANALYSIS: MIOG, Part 12, Section 11.2, Guidelines for Intervention at the Shooting Scene, states the following:

(4) If the Agent's weapon is secured for evidence or ballistics tests, another will be issued immediately unless there is cause not to issue a weapon. The Principal Legal Advisor, Office of General Counsel, FBIHQ, or the United States Attorney's Office should be consulted if questions arise regarding whether an Agent's weapon should be surrendered to local authorities.

The Crisis Response Plan for the NYO, updated 03/29/2012, documents the procedure to be followed in the NYO in the event of an Agent involved shooting. The relevant section of Annex D is cited as follows:

Crisis Response Plan New York Division

Annex D: Shooting Incident Response and Notification
The policy below addresses and assigns responsibility for notification and immediate follow-up response to shooting incidents. Given the unique circumstances associated with each incident, this policy is intended to serve as a guide to ensure that the NYO response to each incident is appropriate, timely and effective.
Any NYO employee, on or off duty, within or outside the NYO territory, who discharges a firearm or who is fired upon, whether or not injuries occur, will immediately notify the NYO

For the agent involved in the incident:
1. Ensure your safety and that of fellow personnel.
2. Contact 911, if necessary.
3. Contact the senior NYOC Duty Agent [redacted] b7E -5,9
4. [redacted]
5. Remain at the scene unless a pursuit occurs.
6. Secure the scene and protect evidence related to the shooting and the crime
7. Secure all weapons involved in the shooting; both yours and the subject's.
8. Make no statements to the authorities outside the FBI other than advising of current needs.
For the On-Scene Commander (OSC):
1. Ensure that the scene is secure tactically, physically, and for the conduct of the investigation that will follow regarding the shooting itself and the criminal matter preceding it.
2. Ensure that FBI personnel are properly cared for physically, mentally, and emotionally. The OSC will determine if Critical Incident Response Team (CIRT) members should respond on scene.
3. Request medical assistance and FBI personnel as needed.
4. Coordinate jurisdictional matters and investigative responsibilities with local authorities.
5. DO NOT SURRENDER ANY WEAPONS TO AUTHORITIES OUTSIDE THE FBI. If there is any question concerning this, contact the CDC. (NYO emphasis added)

SIRT interviews and analysis of NYPD reports indicated relinquished possession of his Bureau-issued weapon to an outside agency without consulting the appropriate personnel.

Additionally, SIRT interviews revealed SA [redacted] contacted SA personnel, but did not contact the NYOC Duty Agent, [redacted], and did not secure the scene. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -9

INSTRUCTION 1a:

ADIC, NYO will ensure all Special Agent personnel are aware of MIOG, Part 12, Section 11.2, Guidelines for Intervention at the Shooting Scene, as well as the Crisis Response Plan, New York Division, Annex D: Shooting Incident Response and Notification.

RECOMMENDATION 1b:

ADIC, NYO should consider changing the Crisis Response Plan, Annex D, #8, to more accurately reflect acceptable statements between the Agent(s) involved in the shooting incident and responding law enforcement personnel.

Synopsis: (U) This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) with respect to the captioned shooting following the meeting held on 11/20/2013.

Administrative Notes: (U) This communication summarizes the Inspection Division's (INSD) Shooting Incident Report dated 10/25/2013 by former Inspector In Charge (IIC) Christopher W. Davis. This communication does not provide a complete account of the original INSD Shooting Incident Report. A copy of the INSD Shooting Incident Report is electronically attached to this communication.

Enclosure(s): Enclosed are the following items:
1. (U) INSD Shooting Report dated 05/30/2013

Details:

This communication serves to memorialize the SIRT Investigation of the captioned shooting incident involving New York Field Office (NYO) SA [redacted] and the results of the 11/20/2013 SIRG meeting. b6 -1 b7C -1

On 07/19/2012, the SIRT traveled to SA [redacted]'s residence, [redacted] Queens, New York, to review the scene of the shooting. NYPD's Evidence Response Team processed the scene on 07/18/2012. The SIRT was not allowed entry into SA [redacted]'s residence. Federal Law Enforcement Officers Association (FLEOA) attorney, [redacted] who represented SA [redacted] advised the SIRT he would not allow SA [redacted] to provide a voluntary statement. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

The New York Police Department (NYPD) provided the SIRT a compilation of reports, the [redacted] 911 call, and video surveillance. The SIRT did not interview SA [redacted] The following three paragraphs summarize the shooting incident: b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

At approximately 5:15 am, on 07/18/2012, an Agent-involved shooting occurred in [redacted] (Queens), New York. SA [redacted] assigned to the NYO Special Operations and Cyber Branch, Surveillance Operations [redacted] was off-duty at his residence, [redacted] New York, when the shooting occurred. At approximately 5:00 a.m., SA [redacted] while attending to [redacted] heard a car alarm activate. Upon looking out of her second story window, she observed two unidentified males attempting to burglarize the family's vehicle, [redacted] began to bang on the window in an attempt to stop the burglary. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

SA [redacted] asleep in an adjacent room, was awakened by the commotion, and was advised by [redacted] their vehicle was being burglarized. SA [redacted] went to the bedroom window, raised the blinds and observed a black male wearing a white t-shirt at the rear of their vehicle "pulling" on the trunk. SA [redacted] observed a "shiny" object in the right hand of the subject, which he described as either a ratchet or a knife. SA [redacted] opened the window and yelled "Police, what the fuck are you doing?" SA [redacted] also yelled get away from my car. The subject did not respond and continued to pull on the trunk. SA [redacted] advised the subject took his left hand and placed it in the area of his waistband, while still pulling on the trunk with his right hand. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

waistband area to be a location where weapons were kept. Upon seeing this, SA [redacted] went to a drawer beneath his bed and removed his Bureau issued service weapon from its holster. SA [redacted] returned to the window with his firearm and found the subject still pulling on the trunk. SA [redacted] again shouted at the subject to move away from his vehicle. Immediately following the command, the subject looked up at SA [redacted] reached to his waistband area and made suspicious movements directed towards him. In response to the subject's actions, SA [redacted] fired one shot from his weapon. Following the shot, the subject fled westbound on [redacted]

On 07/18/2013, as part of the Assault on a Federal Officer (AFO) investigation, NYO Agents responded to [redacted] Hospital. [redacted] was being treated for a gunshot wound which entered the right rear side of his body. It was later determined [redacted] was burglarizing the vehicle of SA [redacted] when he was shot.

On 07/19/2012, in exchange for immunity from prosecution, SA [redacted] and [redacted] provided statements to representatives of the Queens County District Attorney's Office (QCDAO), and NYPD. As part of the ongoing AFO investigation, NYO obtained a copy of SA [redacted] and [redacted] statements.

The statements of and were consistent with the previous statement provided by to the QCDAO.

SIRG Deliberations:

b6 -1,2
b7C -1,2

DAD Morgan began by providing each voting member with a copy of the USDOJ Deadly Force Policy, which was reviewed by the SIRG members. OGC SIRG member also reviewed with SIRG members language from the United States Supreme Court in Graham v. Connor, 490 U.S. 386 (1989) regarding the test of "reasonableness" under the Fourth Amendment. A presentation of the known facts of the Agent-involved shooting, as detailed above, was made to the SIRG by Team Leader via a Power Point presentation. The Power Point included photographs of the scene taken by the NYPD, an FBI Laboratory Diagram of the scene, a recording of the 911 call made by and a copy of the video from as taken on the morning of 07/18/2012, which depicts a male running from the direction of [redacted]'s vehicle and subsequently falling on [redacted] b6 -2 b7C -2

The SIRG voted regarding the application of deadly force. Eight of 12 voting members determined the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] violated the DOJ Deadly Force policy. b6 -1 b7C -1

The DOJ Deadly Force Policy provides a core principle that agents "may use deadly force only when necessary, that is, when the officer has a reasonable belief that the subject of such force poses an imminent danger of death or serious physical injury to the officer or to another person."

The United States Supreme Court has explained that "the test of reasonableness under the Fourth Amendment is not capable of precise definition or mechanical application." Graham, 490 U.S. at 396. The Court advised that "proper application requires careful attention to the facts and circumstances of each particular case, including the severity of the crime at issue, whether the suspect poses an immediate threat to the safety of the officers or others, and whether he is actively resisting arrest or attempting to evade arrest by flight." Id. The Court also stated that reasonableness "must be judged from the perspective of a reasonable officer on the scene, rather than with the 20/20 vision of hindsight" and that the "calculus of reasonableness must embody allowance for the fact that police officers are often forced to make split-second judgments-in circumstances that are tense, uncertain, and rapidly evolving-about the amount fo force that is necessary in a particular situation." Id.at 396-97. The ultimate question is "whether the officers' actions are 'objectively reasonable' in light of the facts and circumstances confronting them, without regard to their underlying intent or motivation." Id. at 397.

Some of the factors, while not all-inclusive, cited by the voting members in evaluating the objective reasonableness of SA [redacted] use of deadly force and the application of the DOJ Deadly Force Policy core principle included: (1) insufficient facts showing b6 -1 b7C -1 it was reasonable for SA [redacted] to believe that the subject out on the street posed an imminent danger of death or serious bodily injury to SA [redacted] or others; (2) [redacted] was involved in a minor property crime out on the street while SA [redacted] and his family were inside the house on the second floor of the residence; and (3) the actions of SA [redacted] to include the presence of the structure in which SA [redacted] resided, verbal commands issued by SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] ability to safely move away from the window to retrieve his weapon prior to re-engaging the subject and using deadly force. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

In particular, the verbal commands issued by SA [redacted] were "Police, What the fuck are you doing," and to get away from his car; these commands did not indicate that SA [redacted] believed that there was an imminent danger to himself or others, but rather that he was concerned about his car. While particular language for verbal commands is not required by the DOJ Deadly Force policy, it was noted during the SIRG that the standard language taught to all new SAs by PAU is "FBI, don't move," followed by commands to the subject such as "FBI, show me your hands," in order to clearly address a threat posed to the agent or others by the movement of a subject. SA [redacted] verbal commands, in contrast, reflected a concern about protecting his vehicle and its contents. b6 -1 b7C -1

Four members of the SIRG requested further information from SA [redacted] in the form of a voluntary statement, to determine if additional circumstances existed which might be relevant to determining whether SA [redacted]'s use of deadly force was reasonable. The four voting members who requested additional information agreed that if SA [redacted] did not provide an additional statement that they would have to rely upon the existing record, and based upon the existing record, they would be unanimous in their decision that SA [redacted] failed to adhere to the DOJ deadly force policy. b6 -1 b7C -1 training:

Observation 2: SA [redacted] surrendered his weapon without consulting NYO CDC or EM, and did not adhere to NYO's Crisis Response Plan. b6 -1 b7C -1

Analysis: The Crisis Response Plan for the NYO, updated 03/29/2012, documents the procedure to be followed in the NYO in the event of an Agent involved shooting. The relevant section of Annex D is cited as follows:

For the agent involved in the incident:

6. Secure the scene and protect evidence related to the shooting and the crime

7. Secure all weapons involved in the shooting; both yours and the subject's.

8. Make no statements to the authorities outside the FBI other than advising of current needs.

For the On-Scene Commander (OSC):

4. Coordinate jurisdictional matters and investigative responsibilities with local authorities.

5. DO NOT SURRENDER ANY WEAPONS TO AUTHORITIES OUTSIDE THE FBI. If there is any question concerning this, contact the CDC. (NYO emphasis added)

SIRT interviews and analysis of NYPD reports indicated relinquished possession of his Bureau-issued weapon to an outside agency without consulting the appropriate personnel.

Additionally, SIRT interviews revealed SA [redacted] contacted SA personnel, but did not contact the NYOC Duty Agent, and did not secure the scene. b6 -1 b7C -1

Instruction 2a: ADIC, NYO will ensure SA [redacted] is provided remedial training regarding the application of the deadly force policy. b6 -1 b7C -1

Instruction 2b: ADIC, NYO will ensure all Special Agent personnel are aware of the Crisis Response Plan, New York Division, Annex D: Shooting Incident Response and Notification.

Recommendation 2c: ADIC, NYO should consider changing the Crisis Response Plan, Annex D, #8, to more accurately reflect acceptable statements between the Agent(s) involved in the shooting incident and responding law enforcement personnel.

4. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

This matter is being referred to the Internal Investigations Section (IIS), Inspection Division (INSD) for potential administrative action.

Deputy Assistant Director (DAD) Mark Alan Morgan, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector Robert J. Shields Jr., Office of Inspections (OI)(INSD); [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, USDOJ; [redacted] USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Jayne Challman, Criminal Investigative Division; SC Gregory D. Procedures for Responding to the Instruction

ADIC, New York Division, is responsible for ensuring each Inspection Instruction/Recommendation is satisfactorily resolved. The inspection process is not complete until the Instruction/Recommendation is addressed by the field office. The Inspector-in-Charge (IIC) will review the field office's response to determine if the Instruction/Recommendation has been resolved or requires further action. Resolution is based upon specific actions taken and not a recitation of the actions the division has under consideration or plans to implement.

ADIC, New York Division, is required to provide a written response, via EC, detailing the actions taken by the field office to resolve each Instruction/Recommendation. Follow- up EC responses must be directed to Unit Chief [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), INSD. Once the EC is serialized, please e-mail the Sentinel link to MPA [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

SIRG Observations

On 11/20/2013, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by SA [redacted] on 07/18/2012 was not in compliance with the Department of Justice's deadly force policy. The SIRG made the following observation: b6 -1 b7C -1

Observation 1: SA [redacted] did not adhere to the deadly force policy. b6 -1 b7C -1

Analysis: The SIRG voted unanimously regarding SA [redacted]'s failure to adhere to the deadly force policy. As such, the SIRG recommended SA [redacted] be provided remedial training regarding the application of the deadly force policy, and the matter be referred to the Internal Investigations Section (IIS). b6 -1 b7C -1

Instruction 1: AD, INSD, will refer this matter to the IIS for action deemed appropriate.

2. Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective action from an operational standpoint.

The SIRG made no recommendations or observations concerning the operational techniques used by SA [redacted] during this shooting incident. b6 -1 b7C -1

3. Provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues . The SIRG made the following observation requesting additional

This matter should be closed for the reasons described below:

1. Date of the Incident: July 18, 2012

2. Synopsis of the Facts and Reasons for Closing:

On July 18, 2012, around 5: 15 a.m., in Queens, New York, FBI Special Agent [redacted] b6 -1,7 per FBI
[redacted] shot and wounded [redacted] while he was involved in the theft of a car radio b7C -1,7 per FBI from the agents' family vehicle parked outside his home. The agent shot through a window screen from a second story room striking [redacted] in the right rear side of his body. [redacted] survived the wound without significant lasting adverse consequences.

The agent claims that, after he was awakened by [redacted]'s screams from the next roo b6 -1,7 per FBI he looked out the window and saw [redacted] bent down behind the car with a shiny tool, while b7C -1,7 per FBI another man was inside the car. The agent identified himself as "police," ordered the intruders away from the car, and grabbed his service weapon beneath his bed. According to the agent, rather than obey the commands, the man at the rear of the car turned toward the agent with the shiny object in his right hand and reached to his waist band with his left hand for what the agent thought might be a gun. Fearing for himself and [redacted] at the window in th[redacted] room, the agent fired one shot at the man. [redacted] and [redacted] (inside t[redacted] removing the radio) both claim that [redacted] was running away in the street about a car length away from the subject's car when he was shot. Forensic evidence, on the other hand, supports the fact that [redacted] was at or near the rear of the car when the agent fired and wounded him.

b7C -1,2,7 per FBI

The Civil Rights Division and the United States Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of New York carefully reviewed the evidence from the federal investigation and the independent Queens District Attorney's office (Queens DA) investigation to determine whether there was sufficient evidence to prove a federal criminal civil rights violation of the applicable statute, 18 United States Code, Section 242. That evidence included the Queens DA interviews of the agent, [redacted], and the [redacted]; an FBI/Department attorney interview of the [redacted] [redacted]; the FBI Lab enhancement of a video that recorded the events that appear to occur ju[redacted] after the shooting; and the ballistics testing and analyses performed by the Firearms Analysis Section of the NYPD Lab. The Queens DA declined a criminal prosecution of the FBI agent for any violation of state law.

b7C -2,7 per FBI

A violation of the federal criminal civil rights statutes requires proof beyond a reasonable doubt that a subject law enforcement officer acted willfully, that is, with the intent to do something that he knew to be unlawful. Mistake of fact, and even seriously bad judgment, would not establish such willful intent. There is insufficient evidence to refute the agent's claim that he fired his weapon in order to counter what he believed to be a threat to himself and to [redacted] [redacted] in the window next to him – a thief appearing to be reaching to his waistband to draw a handgun. Accordingly, with the concurrence of the United States Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of New York, it is recommended that there is insufficient evidence to support a violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 242 beyond a reasonable doubt and the matter should be closed.

3. Predication and Allegations Investigated:

The matter was immediately investigated by the FBI Inspections Division and the Queens District Attorney's office. The agent and [redacted], represented by counsel, were interviewed [redacted] Queens DA attorneys and New York Police Department (NYPD) investigators. After [redacted] [redacted] was located in a hospital, he was interviewed by the FBI. Later, both he and [redacted] both represented by counsel, were also interviewed by the Queens DA and NYPD investigators.

b7C -2,7 per FBI

A neighborhood investigation revealed there were no other witnesses to the shooting. Significantly, there was a video recording of events on the street in front of the agent's home at the time of the shooting. The frame of the video recording included the front bumper of the [redacted]'s car, but nothing further to the rear of the car. The video was enhanced by the FB[redacted] laboratory, providing a slightly better resolution of the recorded events.

b7C -2 per FBI

Additionally, the agent reenacted the shooting in his bedroom and provided local law enforcement with the window screen through which he fired. Local law enforcement investigators took crime scene photographs of both the inside of the residence as well as the outside street area. They made measurements of relevant distances and conducted ballistics testing on the screen. FBI Inspectors, local investigators, and attorneys from Queens DA and DOJ visited the scene.

[redacted] The Queens DA declined prosecution of the agent and of the [redacted]

[redacted] are represented by an attorney in potential civil litigation. Both [redacted] agreed to be and were interviewed by FBI inspectors and Department attorneys. The attorney representing the agent refused to permit either the agent or [redacted] to be interviewed by the FBI/DOJ.

4. Subject's Version of the Events:

The agent's [redacted] advised the Queens DA that she was awake and [redacted] room adjacent to the couple's bedroom on the second floor in the front o when she heard her car alarm go off at about 5:15 a.m. Looking out the window, she observed two individuals breaking into her car. She yelled to her husband who was asleep in bed in the next room.

b6 -2 per CRT DOJ, FBI
b7C -2 per CRT DOJ, FBI

The agent advised the Queens DA that, after he was alerted by [redacted] he looked out the window and saw one man inside the car and a second man at the rear of the car, holding a silver object. The agent opened the left-hand-most pane of a three-paned bay window and yelled, "Police, get away from the car (or words to that effect)." The men ignored the command.

The agent reached under his bed for his service handgun and pointed it tow repeating his command. The man behind the car (later identified as [redacted] still holding the object that appeared to the agent to be a tool in his right hand, and reached towards his left rear waistband area, turning his body towards the agent. According to the agent, he believed the man was reaching for a weapon and feared for himself and [redacted] in the adjoining room. He fired one shot at the man.

b7C -2,7 per DOJ CRT, FBI

After he fired the shot, the agent ran downstairs and out the front door. Once outside, he observed a man dragging another man to an automobile in a nearby intersection. Upon seeing more men, the agent returned to his house. [redacted] called 911. On a 911 recording, the [redacted] reports the shooting to the dispatcher. On the same recording, she can be heard yelling to [redacted] imploring him to shoot at the men getting away in a car.

An attorney representing the agent and [redacted] was present when they were both interviewed by the Queens DA office. The agent also conducted a reenactment of the shooting in his bedroom for the Queens DA, again with his attorney present. On that occasion, he also permitted the Queens DA to take custody of the screen with a gunshot hole for examination.

5. Witness Accounts:

Initially, when questioned by FBI agents at the hospital, [redacted] claimed that he was shot while innocently walking in a crosswalk. Later, while represented by counsel, he and [redacted] provided a proffer to the Queens DA in which they admitted that they were involved in a theft from the car at the time of the shooting. Later, when interviewed separately by the Queens DA, the [redacted] accounts evolved. They were initially deceptive about their actions on the night of the incident. Also, their stories were inconsistent. At first, [redacted] told the Queens DA that he was merely passing by the location when he observed another individual breaking into the car and that, when as a good Samaritan he sought to stop him, he was shot. [redacted] later admitted to being actively involved in breaking into the car and trying to steal the radio. After claiming it was a crime of opportunity, [redacted] ultimately admitted that the car had been spotted on a previous day.

b7C -7 per FBI

Months later, after the federal government made assurances that [redacted] would not be prosecuted for previously making a false statement to a federal officer, both [redacted] were interviewed in the presence of their attorney by an FBI Inspector and Department attorneys. [redacted] candidly admitted that, with the help of two accomplices, they broke into the car parked in front of the agent's home and stole its radio. Using a screwdriver, [redacted] attempted to disable the alarm at the front of the car. He then went to stand at the rear of the car, leaning against it to appear less conspicuous to passers-by. Meanwhile, [redacted] broke out the side window, crawled into the car, removed the radio, and handed it outside to a confederate.

b7C -7 per FBI

Both [redacted] were alerted to a pounding on the second floor window of the house in front of which the car was parked. [redacted] heard pounding only. [redacted] heard someone yell "get the F - away from the car (or words to that effect)." Both insisted they did not hear anyone yell "police."

b7C -7 per FBI

[redacted] claims that he ducked down, trying to hide behind the car, when he heard the pounding at the window. He still had the tool that he used to attempt to disarm the alarm in his hand or pocket. [redacted] believed that [redacted] was in possession of a ratchet tool, not the screwdriver, which he [redacted] carried into the car. Significantly, [redacted] insisted that he never reached for his waist band when he was behind the car.

Both [redacted] ran away from the car in the same direction – [redacted] on sidewalk and [redacted] in the street. Both claimed they heard a loud boom, later determined by them to be a gunshot. [redacted] estimated that he had run from the rear of the car to a place in the street adjacent to the vehicle parked immediately in front of the burglarized car, when he heard a boom. [redacted] corroborated that, when he heard the boom, he saw, in his peripheral vision, [redacted] running and falling at the approximate same spot in the street.

b7C -7 per DOJ CRT, FBI

When interviewed by federal authorities, [redacted] recalled falling at the sound of the boom immediately upon being struck by a bullet. However, when [redacted] was interviewed earlier by the Queens DA, he stated that, while he had begun to run from the rear of the car, he did not specifically remember where he was when the bullet struck him. [redacted] confirmed [redacted]'s later claim that he fell immediately when he was shot at previously indicated location.

Both [redacted] advised that [redacted] came to the aid of [redacted] and helped him to the nearby intersection. Before getting to the intersection, both men saw a man came out of the house. He was holding a gun and pointing it at them. The man did not say anything. [redacted] ran to get a car parked nearby and with the help of a confederate put [redacted] inside the car at the intersection and drove him to a hospital. b6 -7 per FBI b7C -7 per FBI [redacted] was treated for a gunshot wound that entered the right rear side of his body with a trajectory that took the bullet near the spine and causing minor liver damage. He has fully recovered and demonstrates no significantly adverse lasting effects of having been shot.

The Queens DA interviewed the confederates who acted as lookouts during the crime. They concocted conflicting accounts. While it is believed that they were nearby at the time of the shooting, it is not believed that they actually witnessed the shooting.

6. Video and Physical and Forensic Evidence:

Significant physical evidence was collected and forensically analyzed. As part of a canvass by police, video was obtained from a building across the street from the agent's residence. Additionally, the victim's sandals and a silver ratchet tool were found in the street adjacent to a truck parked immediately in front of the agent's car in the direction that the [redacted] ran. Finally, the agent provided the window screen with a hole through it from the gunshot he fired to the Queens DA for forensic analysis. b6 -7 per FBI b7C -7 per FBI

The video does not appear to capture the actual shooting, but it does show [redacted] running and then falling to the ground. It initially appeared that the video recorded [redacted] fall to the ground as he was shot. However, other forensic evidence contradicts such an assumption and supports the agent's contention that [redacted] was near the rear of the car when he was shot and then ran a few steps before he fell. In any event, in light of the totality of the physical evidence, the agent's contention that he shot at a man when he was behind the car – and turning toward him with a hand at his waistband, as the agent further contends – cannot be refuted beyond a reasonable doubt.

The stationary video camera ran continually. The video frame does not include the agent's residence. Instead, it records in its frame a portion of the street in front of the agent's home. The frame includes only the front of the agent's car on the right-hand edge of the frame. The remainder of the frame includes a view of the street from that point forward in the direction that the [redacted] ran towards the intersection a half-block away. b6 -7 per FBI b7C -7 per FBI

The recording shows figures approaching the agent's car. Then, a few seconds after the car alarm engages, a figure, later determined to be [redacted] runs on the street into the frame from its right-hand edge. The figure falls as it crosses in front of a truck parked immediately in front of the agent's car. Thereafter, the video records another figure ([redacted]) drag the figure that fell down the street to the intersection where a car eventually arrives to carry everyone away.

The distance at which the figure fell is twelve feet from the rear of the agent's car. In that same vicinity, [redacted]'s sandals were discovered in the street next to one another, as well as a silver ratchet. A blood drag was also discovered in the street from that spot to the intersection. b6 -7 per FBI b7C -7 per FBI

An examination of the agent's bedroom window revealed a tear consistent with a bullet hole in the left-side bay window screen. Weeks later, the agent conducted a reenactment of the shooting for the Queens DA. For the reenactment vehicles were placed where crime scene photographs pictured them at the time of the shooting. Measurements of distances and angles were made from the window to the location at the rear of the car the night of the shooting, as well as to the location where [redacted]'s sandals were discovered, and the same estimated location where he fell on the video recording. Thereafter, the Firearms Analysis Section of the NYPD Lab conducted forensic ballistic testing with the window screen. Also of forensic significance, there is a large fully-leafed curbside tree in the front yard of the agent's residence that partially blocks the view from the bay window.

We concur with the opinion ultimately reached by the Queens DA. First, after multiple, careful reviews of the FBI lab enhancement of the video, the image is consistent with [redacted] [redacted] tripping on his sandals, causing him to fall, rather than [redacted] falling from the impact of a bullet strike. Such a bullet impact would have jarred both his body and his feet forward. Instead, in the video recording, [redacted]'s body falls forward while his feet remain stationary on the street. b6 -7 per FBI b7C -7 per FBI

Second, the agent had a clear line of site from the window screen through which he shot to the rear of [redacted]'s car. At the same time, the agent's view of the area from the rear of the car to the location on the street where [redacted] fell would have been obscured by the curbside tree in addition to the window frame and window blinds covering the other parts of the bay window. Due to obstructions, it is highly unlikely that the agent would have been able to hit [redacted] with a gunshot if he shot while [redacted] was in the vicinity where he fell, twelve feet away from the rear of the car. Because of trajectory angles, it seemed almost impossible that the agent could have shot [redacted] anywhere on the street other than at the location at the rear of the [redacted]'s car.

Finally, to further confirm this conclusion, forensic testing was conducted on the window screen. The actual window screen with the bullet tear hole was taken to the Firearms Analysis Section of the NYPD Lab. Upon examination of the window screen, the bullet hole from the incident was identified and marked. The screen fibers disturbed by the round passing through it were photographed. Then, the angles of fire that were consistent with both the agent's statement and the location at which [redacted] fell, as indicated on the video and by the location of his sandals, were replicated. A weapon and ammunition, which were identical to that used by the agent during the incident, were used to fire through the window screen in an attempt to replicate the hole created at the time of the incident. b6 -7 per FBI b7C -7 per FBI

The results of the ballistic testing revealed that a hole generated by firing through the screen at an extreme angle (as if to shoot [redacted] where he fell in the videotape) was inconsistent with the hole created during the incident. In fact, it could not have been more different. The hole was much bigger and the fibers when disturbed by the bullet at the extreme angle bent interior on the top and exterior on the bottom of the hole. Yet, the hole created by firing through the screen at an angle consistent with firing toward the rear of the car (the agent's version of the events) generated a tear nearly identical to the original hole in both size and direction of disturbed fibers, all bending outward. Accordingly, the ballistics experts opined that the hole created during the incident was consistent with the agent's account of where the victim was located when the agent fired at him.

7. Legal Issues

To prove a violation of 18 U.S.C. § 242, the applicable federal criminal civil rights statute, the government must prove, beyond a reasonable doubt, that a police officer subject willfully used more force than was reasonably necessary under the circumstances. This burden of proof has both an objective and a subjective component. The reasonableness of the amount of force used is determined objectively and from the perspective of a reasonable officer on the scene, rather than with the 20/20 vision of hindsight. Graham v. Connor, 490 U.S. 386, 396 (1989). Allowance must be made for the fact that law enforcement officials are often forced to make split-second judgments in circumstances that are tense, uncertain, and rapidly evolving. Id. 396-97.

Even if there is evidence of unreasonable force, the government must further show that an officer acted willfully, that is with a bad purpose to violate the law. Screws v. United States, 325 U.S. 91 (1945). Accident, mistake, misperception, fear, or even poor judgment, do not constitute willful conduct prosecutable under the statute. The officer must intend to do that which he knew to be wrong.

8. Conclusion

There is insufficient evidence to refute beyond a reasonable doubt the agent's claim that he fired his weapon in order to eliminate what he believed to be a threat to himself and to [redacted] b6 -2,7 per FBI
[redacted] in the window next to him – a car thief appearing to be reaching to hi b7C -2,7 per FBI
waistband to draw a handgun. Forensic evidence supports the agent's claim that he fired one shot at [redacted] when [redacted] was at the rear of [redacted]'s car. [redacted] admits that he was bent down behind the car when confronted by the agent, just as the agent claims to have seen him. [redacted] admits, and the evidence confirms, that he likely had a silver object in one hand. Even if [redacted] is correct, that he did not reach toward his waist band, the agent's contention that he believed that he saw such a movement cannot be disproven. Further, the agent's claim that he was afraid for himself and his family similarly cannot be disproven.

While it is difficult to understand why the agent chose to shoot rather than to remove himself and [redacted] from harm's way, such second guessing does not prove the specific criminal intent beyond a reasonable doubt necessary to prosecute the agent under Title 18, United States Code, Section 242. As indicated in the previous section, accident, mistake, misperception, fear, or even poor judgment, do not establish willful conduct. Accordingly, the evidence does not support a prosecutable violation of federal law and it is recommended that the matter should be closed. The United States Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of New York concurs with this recommendation.

Mr. [redacted]
Federal Bureau of Investigation
New York, NY

Dear Mr. [redacted]

On May 8, 2015, the Office of Professional Responsibility (OPR) proposed dismissing you from the rolls of the FBI based on its finding that you: (1) intentionally fired your weapon outside the scope of the Deadly Force Policy, in violation of FBI Offense Code 5.15 (Misuse of Weapon – Intentional Discharge); (2) conducted yourself unprofessionally while off duty when you entered into an agreement with criminals to not testify against them in exchange for them to not testify against you regarding this shooting incident, in violation of FBI Offense Code 5.21 (Unprofessional Conduct – Off Duty); (3) you failed to comply with FBI guidelines for shooting incidents when you voluntarily relinquished your weapon to the local police department and did not contact your supervisor or another FBI manager to report the incident, in violation of FBI Offense Code 5.23 (Violation of Miscellaneous Rules/Regulations); and (4) you lacked candor in your interview with the New York District Attorney's Office and New York Police Department regarding this shooting incident, in violation of FBI Offense Code 2.5 (Lack of Candor/Lying – No Oath). As the deciding official in this matter, I have given full and impartial consideration to all documentation and evidence upon which your proposed dismissal was based, your written response, dated October 30, 2015, and your oral presentation on November 6, 2015. Based on a preponderance of the evidence, I conclude allegations (1) and (4) are substantiated. I do not find, however, that allegations (2) and (3) are substantiated and those allegations will not be further discussed. Based on the circumstances of this case, for the efficiency of the service, and considering the 12 Douglas Factors, including, but not limited to, consistency with precedent, the Penalty Guidelines, prior disciplinary history, and aggravating/mitigating factors, I am dismissing you from the rolls of the FBI.

DISCUSSION

I. Summary

In the pre-dawn morning of July 18, 2012, at approximately 5:00 a.m., you confronted an African American male (Individual), who was breaking into your [redacted] personally owned vehicle (POV) parked on the street in front of their residence. Individual's [redacted] (Individual's [redacted]) was assisting Individual with the break-in. You were off duty and inside your residence during the confrontation when you fired your FBI-issued weapon a single time from your second story bedroom window, striking Individual in the back.[1] Individual fled the area, sought medical attention, and survived his injuries. The initial shooting investigation was conducted by the FBI Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) prior to the initiation of an investigation by the U.S. Department of Justice – Office of Inspector General (DOJ-OIG). Prior to DOJ-OIG's investigation, the DOJ-Civil Rights Division (DOJ-CRD), U.S. Attorney's Office (USAO), and the local District Attorney's Office (DA) all declined prosecution.[2]

You and [redacted] refused to cooperate with the FBI SIRT, FBI Internal Inspection Section, Inspection Division (IIS), DOJ-CRD, and DOJ-OIG investigations.[3] The case file indicated you cooperated with local police department (PD) and DA only under condition of immunity from prosecution and agreed to interviews with DA under those conditions. Even with immunity from prosecution, you then entered into an agreement with the Individual and Individual's [redacted] that neither party would testify against the other. During your oral presentation, your counsel denied there was an immunity agreement with either the DA's office or Individual and Individual's [redacted] I will address this later in this letter. Suffice it to say, your refusal to testify in the DA's case with or without immunity resulted in the DA dropping its charges against Individual and Individual's [redacted][4] These agencies' decisions not to prosecute all occurred before DOJ-OIG compelled you to speak with DOJ-OIG agents on May 1, 2014. b6 -2,7 b7C -2,7

II. The Incident

On July 18, 2012, at approximately 5:00 a.m., before sunrise, [redacted] [redacted] when she heard a car alarm. She looked out a second story window of your residence and saw two males attempting to break into the POV, which was parked directly in front of the residence.[5] [redacted] banged on the window in an attempt to stop the subjects; she may also have called out to you; you were asleep in the adjacent bedroom. You awoke, heard from [redacted] that someone was breaking into the POV, went to the bedroom window and pulled up the blinds. You observed Individual at the rear of the vehicle attempting to break into the trunk with some sort of metal object or tool.[6] You opened the window and yelled at Individual to get away from your car. You yelled about three times but Individual showed no reaction and continued to work at opening the trunk of the car. b6 -2 b7C -2

[1] During your oral presentation on 11/06/2015, your counsel contended you did not shoot Individual in the back. From the description of the injury and the photograph, the entry of your bullet was in the lower right side of Individual's back.

[2] DOJ-OIG ROI, page 1. According to SIRT report, page 10, DOJ-CRD declined prosecution with concurrence of USAO on 10/04/2013. The SIRT report was dated 10/25/2013.

[4] SIRT report, page 10. The DA dropped charges on 03/05/2013.

[5] Video footage later obtained from [redacted]'s security camera shows two subjects approaching the vicinity of your POV. Approximately two minutes later, it shows the two individuals fleeing from that vicinity. One individual fell to the ground and the other individual ran back to the first and dragged him down the street out of the camera's view. Subsequent investigation revealed both individuals entered a vehicle and departed the scene. SIRT report, page 1.

[6] The tool was later determined to be a screwdriver.

Mr. [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

When Individual did not respond to your shouts, you left the window to get your FBI issued weapon, which was a few feet away by the bed.[7] You returned to the window and again yelled at Individual to get away from the car. This time, Individual started to turn towards you. You claimed Individual then moved his left hand near his waist, while still working on the trunk with his right hand. You fired one shot at Individual through the window screen of your second story bedroom window; Individual fled down the street.

You went outside, examined the POV, and found its passenger-side window had been removed and the radio had been stolen. You looked westbound and observed Individual lying near the crosswalk of your street and a cross street. Individual stated, "You're killing me, man." You were unsure how many other subjects were in the area and did not say anything or go further. Individual's [redacted] came up to Individual and pulled him across the crosswalk and then they both entered a waiting vehicle and left. b6 -7 b7C -7

[redacted] called 911 after you ran outside and PD officers responded to your residence. At the beginning of the call, [redacted] can be heard yelling, "Shoot the car." She identified herself as the [redacted] of a federal agent to the 911 operator, provided her address, and told the operator two black males attempted to break into her vehicle. She told the operator a black car was headed down the street and "they" picked someone up. She said there were two or three black males and one of them was possibly injured and that [redacted] would be able to tell the police if one of the men was injured. [redacted] further told the operator that [redacted] was outside looking at her car and "they" stole her radio. She then identified [redacted] as an FBI agent. When the 911 operator asked whether there were any weapons involved, [redacted] replied that [redacted] drew his weapon and fired one shot. She did not know if "they" drew a weapon and the incident occurred less than five minutes before the 911 call.[8] b6 -2,7 b7C -2,7

When PD arrived, you advised them you fired your weapon once. You voluntarily surrendered your FBI issued weapon to PD, along with the casing from the fired round.[9] You did not inform the PD officer you were not permitted to relinquish your weapon to anyone other than an FBI agent.[10] PD Evidence Response Team processed the scene that same day, July 18, 2012.

Shortly after the incident, Individual arrived at a local hospital for treatment of a gunshot wound to his back. Individual underwent surgery but doctors did not remove the bullet because it was too close to Individual' spine.[11]

To date, there is no evidence that either Individual or Individual's [redacted] was armed at the time of the shooting. b6 -7 b7C -7 [7] Your statement to PD and DA differs here from your statement to DOJ-OIG about Individual's response or lack of response prior to the shooting and the reason for your decision to get your weapon. This difference will be discussed later in this letter.

[8] SIRT report, pages 3 – 4.
[9] PD released your service weapon, magazine, and 11 of the 13 cartridges you had surrendered to PD earlier that day. The remaining two rounds had been test fired by PD Lab and retained as evidence by PD Lab. FD-302 dated 07/20/2012.
[10] You later claimed you had not been informed that it was FBI policy to decline to turn over one's weapon after a shooting incident to anyone other than FBI agents.
[11] SIRT report, page 4.

III. Initial FBI Division Response and SIRT investigation

Shortly after the shooting, you called a Special Agent (SA) who was your close friend and colleague on your squad (Friend) and told Friend that you were involved in a shooting.[12] After asking you a couple of times without getting a response as to whether you were going to call the Supervisory Special Agent (Supervisor), or if you wanted Friend to call Supervisor, Friend told you he would contact Supervisor. Friend thereafter called Supervisor but could not reach him. Friend then called another SA squadmate (SA), because Friend knew SA was on an early shift and would be available to respond to your residence. Friend also proceeded to the residence.[13]

On his way to your residence, SA contacted an Assistant Special Agent-in-Charge (ASAC) to inform her of the shooting. ASAC advised she would start making the appropriate notifications.[14]

When SA arrived at your residence, at approximately 6:00 a.m., he identified himself to PD officers on scene and went inside to you. SA observed you were visibly shaken. When SA asked you where the shooting incident occurred, in an attempt to determine if the inside of the residence was a crime scene, you said something to the effect of someone had been breaking into your car and you felt you had to shoot, the individual ran away, two people assisted the individual into a car, and they drove away. SA advised you not to provide him with any further details. SA asked you where your duty weapon was and you told SA you had surrendered it to PD.[15]

SA advised the on-scene PD officers that he wanted you to go to the hospital and requested an ambulance. SA accompanied you to the hospital and the ambulance delivered you to the hospital's [redacted] SA insisted you be taken to the emergency room (ER) because, SA said, you were visibly shaking and SA was concerned you were showing signs of shock. Supervisor arrived on scene and also requested you be transferred to the ER. You were subsequently transferred from the [redacted] to the ER.[16] b6 -1 b7C -1

As part of standard FBI shooting protocol, your division's Associate Deputy Counsel (ADC) reported to the hospital and spoke with you in her capacity as emergency interim counsel. Later that day, ADC confirmed that you had gotten independent counsel by obtaining your attorney (Counsel) to represent you.[17]

[12] Friend was your team leader and friend who socialized frequently with you and [redacted] outside of work. Supervisor was Friend's and your squad supervisor. b6 -2 b7C -2

[16] Id. In your oral presentation on 11/06/2015, your counsel made much of the fact that you were shaken by this incident. It is understandable that one would be shaken after a shooting, regardless of the circumstances or intent. Therefore, I will not consider it a factor either in your favor or against you.

[17] ADC FD-302. The SAC contacted your counsel, at about 8:00 a.m., who advised he would represent you (SAC FD-302).

Mr. [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

Once you were cleared by the hospital for release, Supervisor drove you to the off-site to relax and later transported you to a hotel.[18]

Intense media coverage descended upon your residence. The growing media attention required agents to move [redacted] out of the residence via a van they parked in the rear of the residence. The media later cleared out only because of a storm. Agents had to stand guard that night at your residence as well as relocate your two dogs that could not be taken to the hotel.[19] b6 -2 b7C -2

Your division opened an assault on a federal officer (AFO) case and continued to follow its protocol for shootings and AFO investigations, including conducting interviews and assisting SIRT in its investigation.

The SIRT was activated on July 18, 2012 and made contact with PD upon SIRT's arrival at your residence that evening. PD provided SIRT with an overview of the events.

The following morning, July 19, 2012, SIRT was denied entry to your residence to examine the scene and your counsel advised SIRT that you and [redacted] would not provide voluntary statements.[20] PD provided SIRT with a compilation of reports, the 911 call made by [redacted] and video surveillance. At no time in SIRT's investigation would you or [redacted] cooperate with SIRT, or later SIRG and DOJ-OIG, or agree to interviews.[21] b6 -2 b7C -2

On July 20, 2012, the division's Evidence Response Team (ERT) and division photographer responded to your residence at SIRT's request. ERT and the photographer documented the exterior of the residence and the surrounding area, through individual and spherical photography. They also collected digital sketching data via Total Station. SIRT, ERT,

[19] Friend FD-302.

[20] I acknowledge that your refusal to provide a voluntary statement to the FBI or DOJ may be due to advice of counsel in order to avoid self-incrimination that could be used against you in a criminal case. I find your lack of cooperation throughout this investigation to be significant and of grave concern as it impeded the internal administrative process. Even after you were informed there would be no criminal prosecution (and therefore no longer had a 5th Amendment right to refuse to cooperate in an administrative proceeding), you and [redacted] refused to cooperate with DOJ-OIG. b6 -2 b7C -2

[21] After DOJ-CRD and USAO had declined prosecution, FBI Chief Inspector contacted your counsel to again allow you to provide a voluntary statement. Counsel again stated you would not be available for an interview, absent being compelled. Four of the 12 SIRG members requested a voluntary statement by you in order to ascertain whether additional information could be relevant to determining whether your use of deadly force was reasonable. Without additional information from you, SIRG relied on the existing record and unanimously decided that you failed to adhere to the DOJ deadly force policy. Inspection EC dated 02/06/2014, pages 6 – 7. During the oral presentation, your counsel acknowledged the Chief Inspector verbally informed him in October 2013 that there would be no criminal prosecution. Counsel also stated that, even if there was no risk of criminal prosecution, you could still refuse a voluntary statement because it was not insubordination to do so and not misconduct. While your counsel may be correct that it did not constitute insubordination, he is incorrect regarding whether it constituted other misconduct: Failure to cooperate in an administrative proceeding is a violation of FBI Offense Code 2.10 and will be discussed later in this letter. I note here, however, that you not only failed to cooperate by refusing to be interviewed voluntarily, you also failed to cooperate by refusing the FBI and DOJ-OIG access to your home or to conduct a re-enactment.

and the photographer were denied entry into your residence by Counsel and thus were unable to obtain the necessary data to complete the Total Station Processing.[22]

IV. Interviews of Individual and Individual's [redacted] and Physical Evidence

b6 -2,7 b7C -2,7

FBI SAs interviewed Individual and Individual's [redacted] a couple of times. Initially, they lied to agents but eventually, in exchange for immunity from prosecution for violation of Title 18 United States Code, Section 1001, they provided some details that seemed more accurate, although still with conflicting information, to FBI, USAO, and DOJ-CRD.[23] Essentially, the two [redacted] said the following[24]: in the early morning hours of July 18, 2012, the Individual and two of their friends targeted your POV because it was similar to one owned by Individual's [redacted]. They devised a plan to break into the POV to steal the stereo so it could be placed in Individual's [redacted]'s vehicle. Individual's [redacted] and Individual broke into the POV and Individual's [redacted] broke the passenger window and removed the stereo with a screwdriver while Individual moved to the rear of the vehicle. From this point onward the two [redacted]' stories differ in certain aspects, although both maintained they did not hear anyone yell "Police."

According to Individual's [redacted] once he was inside the POV, he then heard a male banging on a window and yelling, "What the fuck are you doing?" Individual's [redacted] handed the radio to one of the co-conspirator friends who ran away with it. Individual's [redacted] got out of the vehicle, triggering the car alarm while so doing, and started running down the street when he heard a gunshot and then Individual say "I got shot." Individual's [redacted] ran to Individual lying in the street and observed a male approach pointing a handgun at them. Individual told the male something to the effect of, "You shot me, you really shot me." The male did not say anything to either of the [redacted] and Individual's [redacted] then pulled Individual to a sidewalk where one of their friends picked them up in a blue car. They took Individual to a nearby hospital.

According to Individual, once he and Individual's [redacted] were at the POV, Individual attempted to disarm the alarm with a screwdriver while Individual's [redacted] broke the passenger side window and entered the vehicle. Individual moved to the rear of the driver's side of the POV to act as a lookout. At some point, Individual's [redacted] activated the alarm and Individual noticed blinds move in an upstairs window of a house located near the POV and heard banging on the window. Individual claimed he ducked down behind the vehicle, shouted to Individual's [redacted] "Let's go," and began running up the street. Individual then heard one shot and fell to the ground. Individual told Individual's [redacted] he was shot and looked back in the direction from where the shot came. He saw a male with a gun pointed in his direction and told the male, "You fucking shot me." Individual could not recall if the male responded. Individual's [redacted]

[22] SIRT report, page 9. Again, I note your refusal to cooperate in the federal investigation.

[23] Both Individual and Individual's [redacted] as well as their two co-conspirators, have criminal histories. The [redacted] were arrested on 12/30/2009 for robbery and a weapons violation. However, the weapons charge for Individual's [redacted] was later dropped. It is unclear whether it was dropped for Individual as well since the file documentation did not include some of the same criminal history documents for Individual as it did for Individual's [redacted] regarding the same matter (see "Real Time Person File for [Individual's [redacted]" in tab III of the SIRT report).

helped Individual into a blue car and they drove to the hospital. Significantly, Individual insisted that he never reached for his waist band when he was behind the POV. b6 -7 b7C -7

Both [redacted] ran away from the car in the same direction – Individual's [redacted] on the sidewalk and Individual in the street. Both claimed they heard a loud boom, later determined to be a gunshot. Individual estimated he ran from the rear of the car to a place in the street adjacent to the vehicle parked immediately in front of the POV when he heard a boom. Individual's [redacted] corroborated that, when he heard the boom, he saw in his peripheral vision his [redacted] running and falling at the approximate same spot in the street.[25]

Individual was treated for a gunshot wound that entered the right rear side of his body with a trajectory that took the bullet near the spine and caused minor liver damage.[26]

Physical evidence that was collected and forensically analyzed could not definitively confirm whether you shot Individual in the back when Individual had already started to flee or when Individual was still at the rear of the POV. As part of a canvas by PD, video was obtained from a building across the street from your residence. Individual' sandals and a silver ratchet tool were found in the street adjacent to the vehicle immediately in front of the POV in the direction that the [redacted] ran. You provided the window screen with a hole through it from the gunshot you fired to the PD for forensic analysis. b6 -7 b7C -7

The video did not record the actual shooting but it did show Individual running and then falling to the ground. It initially appeared the video recorded Individual's fall to the ground as he was shot. However, other forensic evidence contradicted this assumption and supported your contention that Individual was near the rear of the car when he was shot and then ran a few steps before he fell.

The video further revealed Individual fell twelve feet from the rear of the POV and Individual's sandals were found in the same vicinity, along with a silver ratchet and a blood drag in the street from that spot to the intersection. However, with FBI lab enhancement of the video, it appears that it was possible Individual's fall was caused by him tripping on his sandals, rather than falling from the impact of a bullet strike.[27]

An examination of your bedroom window screen revealed a tear consistent with a bullet hole in the left-side bay window screen.[28] Weeks after the event, you conducted a reenactment of the shooting for DA.[29] Thereafter, the PD Lab conducted forensic ballistic testing with the window screen. The angles of fire consistent with your statement and the location where Individual fell, as indicated in the video and by the location of his sandals (and as Individual claimed), were replicated. The same type of weapon and ammunition as those of yours were used to fire through the window screen in an attempt to replicate the hole created at the time of [25] When Individual was interviewed earlier by the DA, he did not specifically remember where he was when the bullet struck him. Individual's [redacted] confirmed Individual's later claim that he fell immediately when he was shot near the vehicle parked in front of the POV. b6 -7 b7C -7

[26] According to the summary DOJ-CRD "Notice to Close File" summary, page 5, Individual fully recovered and did not demonstrate any significant adverse lasting effects from the gunshot wound.

[27] DOJ-CRD summary, page 6.

[28] You did not provide the window screen to the FBI, you provided it to PD.

[29] You refused to conduct a reenactment for the FBI and DOJ-OIG, even after being informed at your compelled interview (at the latest) there would be no criminal prosecution.

Mr. [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

the shooting. The ballistic testing revealed that a hole generated by firing through the screen at an extreme angle, as if to shoot Individual where he fell in the video tape, was inconsistent with the hole created during the shooting. The hole created by firing through the screen at an angle toward the rear of the POV (as you said you did) generated a tear consistent with the original hole created by the round you fired.

V. [redacted]'s Statements to PD and DA on 07/18/2012 b6 -2 b7C -2

[redacted] was interviewed on July 18, 2012.[30] [redacted]'s memory of the incident was similar to yours but did have a few differences: she was [redacted] at about 5:00 a.m. when she heard a car alarm going off. When she looked out the window, she saw two black males by the POV. One of the males was at the trunk of the car and another was in the street by the car. One of the males was wearing a white t-shirt. [redacted] began to bang on the window to stop the men from breaking into her vehicle. You were in the adjoining bedroom sleeping but awoke and asked [redacted] what was going on. [redacted] told you someone was breaking into the POV. You went to the bedroom window, opened it, and yelled, "Police, what the fuck are you doing." [redacted] then heard a single gunshot. Then, you ran downstairs and out the front door. [redacted] was downstairs by the time you reentered your residence. [redacted] recalled you told her to call 911 and she subsequently did.[31]

Notably, in neither interview report does [redacted] indicate hearing you yell for a second time before firing your weapon. [redacted]'s interviews also indicate that you ran outside very quickly.[32] b6 -2 b7C -2

VI. Your Statement to DA on 07/31/2012[33]

You were interviewed on July 31, 2012, by DA and PD.[34] SIRT obtained a draft interview report. You described the events essentially as outlined above: Your exterior house light was not on and the nearest street light was about three houses away. At approximately 5:00 a.m., you were awakened by [redacted] alerting you to the fact someone was breaking into the POV. [redacted] was in the adjacent room and you got out of bed, drew up the window blinds, and saw a black male wearing a white t-shirt at the rear of the POV "pulling" on the trunk.[35] You saw something shiny in the right hand of Individual, possibly a ratchet or knife. You cranked open the window of your second floor bedroom and began to yell through the screen "Police, what the fuck are you doing." You yelled this twice but Individual did not move and continued to work on the trunk of the POV. b6 -2,7 b7C -2,7 [30] The PD interview report indicates two Assistant Deputy Attorneys (ADAs), two PD detectives, and your counsel were at the interview.

[31] The first PD interview report of [redacted] conducted at 5:15am on 07/18/2012, does not include the details regarding you going to the bedroom window, opening it, or yelling anything. b6 -2 b7C -2

[32] This contradicts your statement to DOJ-OIG that you waited for a spell after shooting Individual before moving methodically through the residence, clearing it as you went.

[33] Draft/unapproved PD interview of you, dated 07/21/2012. During your oral presentation on 11/06/2015, your counsel explained the dates on this document were incorrect and the interview was actually on 07/31/2015. He also stated you spoke to PD and DA voluntarily without immunity. He did not clarify, however, whether you had a proffer agreement or any other type of agreement that your interview would not be used against you.

[34] The PD interview report indicates six ADAs were present, along with the PD detective and your counsel.

[35] Later identified as Individual.

Mr. [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

You stated that, then, Individual took his left hand and put it by his waistband and continued to work on the trunk with his right hand with the shiny object. You said that, from your training and experience, you knew the waistband to be an area where people keep weapons.[36] You then went to retrieve your weapon, located in a drawer under your bed. You unholstered the weapon, with your finger off the trigger, and pointed the gun at the window screen and yelled for Individual to get away from your car.

After you yelled this, Individual "did look up at [you] also with his left hand coming from his waistband coming towards [you]."[37] You fired one round at Individual, who was still at the trunk of the POV. Individual then fled westbound.

You said you did not know at that moment if you had hit someone but you went downstairs and outside. Outside, you observed that the POV had been broken into and the passenger side window had been removed and was lying on the grass beside the POV. You then looked westbound and saw Individual lying in the crosswalk, saying, "You're killing me, man." You did not move closer to Individual because you were unsure how many people were outside.[38] You began moving backwards towards your residence. You noticed a dark colored vehicle pull out of a spot and make a U-turn. A male exited the passenger side of the auto and pulled Individual into the backseat of the vehicle. The car then drove away.

You went back inside your home to find [redacted] on the telephone with 911. You called Friend and then went upstairs and put on your pants, holster, handcuffs, and identification. You came back downstairs and the police were onsite. You spoke with the sergeant and relinquished your weapon to the sergeant, along with the shell casing from the one round you fired at Individual. b6 -2 b7C -2

In the PD draft report of your statement to DA, you did not mention Individual's [redacted] returning to where Individual was laying on the ground after you shot Individual or that Individual's [redacted] pulled Individual across the crosswalk to where the vehicle picked them up.[39] b6 -2,7 b7C -2,7

Nowhere in the PD report does it mention that you feared for the safety of [redacted] or that you gave [redacted] any form of commands to get away from the window or to seek cover, or checked on her before running outside. The report indicates that even after the [36] At the time, you had about three years of FBI experience. You had previously served in the military.

[37] The SIRT report, page 2, indicates on 07/18/2012 PD provided SIRT with details of the event, including that Individual looked up at you, "reached to his waistband area and made suspicious movements directed towards [you]. In response to the subject's actions, [you] fired one shot from your weapon."

[38] In a PD document "Complaint-Follow up, Informational Report-General Investigation," a detective wrote that one of the PD Officers who responded to your residence, was told by you that four males broke into your car and fled westbound. This is not consistent with everything else in the documentation, which is that two individuals (the [redacted] were the ones breaking into the POV and two others helped them escape, including your statements to DA and DOJ-OIG. As this discrepancy appears to be a mistake or misunderstanding by either the speaker or writer, rather than due to any lack of candor, I will consider it as such and rely on the other documentation. b6 -7 b7C -7 shooting, your first interest was the POV as upon exiting the residence you went to examine the POV even before looking westbound and seeing Individual.[40]

Your Compelled Statement to DOJ-OIG on 05/01/2014[41]

You refused to speak with DOJ-OIG voluntarily.[42] In a compelled interview on May 1, 2014, you stated prior to your Bureau experience, you served as an army officer from 2002 to 2007. While in the army, you served two tours in Iraq, one between 2003 and 2004 and the other between 2005 and 2006. You advised that during those two tours, you fired your weapon in "excess of 20 times" in real life situations where you felt you did so in defense of your own life or others' lives.[43] You had no law enforcement experience before coming to work for the FBI and this was your first shooting incident as an FBI employee.

You recounted the shooting incident of July 18, 2012. You had been asleep in the master bedroom on the second floor of your residence for just a few hours when at approximately 5:00 a.m., you were awakened by [redacted] who told you someone was breaking into the POV.[44] [redacted] was in the adjoining room, [redacted] and could see the same events through the window in that room as you could see from the bedroom window. b6 -1 b7C -1

You got out of bed and went to the bedroom window where you observed Individual, whom you did not know, attempting to open the POV's trunk.[45] Individual was using some sort of tool with both of his hands to try to open the trunk.[46] You estimated the horizontal distance between yourself and Individual at approximately 30 feet and the vertical distance to be between 10 and 25 feet.[47]

[40] Agents are provided regular training, at the academy as well as through field firearms drills, to always scan the entire area before deciding if a threat is eliminated after firing one's weapon.

[42] DA, USAO, and DOJ-CRD had all declined prosecution months before your compelled interview so you no longer had a 5th Amendment concern about providing a voluntary statement. At the beginning of the compelled interview, the interviewing DOJ-OIG agent stated the prosecuting entities had declined prosecution and the interview was purely for administrative purposes. At the end of the interview, DOJ-OIG again requested an interview with [redacted] and a re-enactment of the shooting incident. After this interview, you and [redacted] again refused to cooperate with DOJ-OIG in these matters. At this point, if not at the time the FBI Chief Inspector informed your counsel there would be no prosecution, you no longer had a right to refuse cooperation in an administrative proceeding. b6 -2 b7C -2

[43] OIG compelled interview transcript, page 119 – 120. You did not provide a more accurate estimated range of shootings, or elaborate on the circumstances of any of these shootings, nor did you explain your or the army's definition for the appropriate use of deadly force.

[44] You had worked a late surveillance shift the night before and also had a [redacted] at the time. In your compelled interview, you stated you had at least four hours of sleep at the time of the incident (page 38). However, you also stated that getting up around 5:30a.m. was normal for your squad (page 115). Although you had not received much sleep by most standards, you did not indicate in your compelled interview that lack of sleep was a factor in your decision making process and, therefore, I will not treat it as a mitigating factor. b6 -2 b7C -2

[45] You did not see anyone else until you went outside after the shooting.

[46] OIG compelled interview transcript, page 40.

[47] Looking at the photograph of the location of the vehicle in comparison to your house and second story window, however, the distances appear to be greater than your estimate.

Mr. [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

You acknowledged that what you saw was a property crime: someone breaking into the POV, and that it was your goal at that point to get that person to leave.[48] You did not have any concern for your safety at this time.[49] Only when asked directly by the interviewer whether you had concern for the safety of [redacted] in the adjoining room, you said "yes."[50] When asked why, you stated, "Well, this is a property crime. And usually people that commit property crimes, in our line of work, we know that they are probably into some sort of reselling of the equipment, either for drugs or just for money. And they probably carry weapons. They have a high probability of carrying weapons. And that there are multiple people usually involved. So he's probably not alone. . . And it concerned me that I couldn't see anyone else."[51] When asked what, at this point in the situation, would have constituted a threat, you replied, "They, they could have discharged a weapon in the vicinity of [redacted]' who was near a window in the adjoining room.[52] b6 -2 b7C -2

The interviewing agent asked why, if your concern was for [redacted]'s safety, was your first response not to simply remove them from the situation, as it was only a property crime and the most danger that would happen would be for the subjects to get away with the car radio. You replied, "Because I just wanted him to get away from the car. I didn't think it was going to be that—."[53] b6 -2 b7C -2

It was dark outside and you raised the blinds ("I wanted to be seen. . . It was an overt movement—."[54]), opened the window ("ensuring there's only a screen between my mouth and his ear"[55]), and shouted at Individual something like "Get the fuck away from the car!" You shouted this about three times, with increasing volume, with the intent to alert Individual to your presence so that Individual would flee the area. Individual, however, showed no response to your shouts and continued the motion that appeared to you to be of trying to break into the POV. You felt Individual should have heard and reacted to your command.

You stated that you felt that because Individual did not react in any way to your shouts but continued working on the trunk and, in your mind, Individual now knew of your presence yet did not flee, the situation was "escalating."[56] Even still, you did not choose to move [redacted] to a safer location in the residence than the adjoining room. Instead, your goal remained to get Individual away from the POV.[57] b6 -2 b7C -2

The interviewing agent asked you whether, at this point in the events, you felt you were in imminent danger of death or serious injury. You replied, "I, I know that now I'm dealing with someone that is not compliant."[58] The interviewing agent stated this was because, in your opinion, you had yelled loud enough that Individual should have been able to hear you. You replied, "At least look up and acknowledge me."[59] You emphasized this again later in the interview, stating that "Maybe even if he [Individual] looked around to try to determine where the sound was coming from, that would have been okay with me. But there was nothing."[60] And, again, "I was looking for any kind of movement at all at that point, too."[61]

Because Individual did not acknowledge you, you claimed "Now it's a police action,"[62] You briefly stepped away from the window to retrieve your FBI issued weapon from the drawer under your bed about three feet away and unholstered it. To do so, you did not maintain a visual on Individual but completely turned away from him and the window for perhaps about five seconds.[63] When the interviewing agent asked you whether it was your intent to affect an arrest or still to drive Individual away from the POV, you acknowledged it was to drive Individual away.[64]

Only when the interviewing agent asked whether you still had the same safety concern for [redacted] did you say it had now "escalated" to yourself as well, despite having just acknowledged your intent was still to drive Individual away from the POV.[65] The interviewing agent again asked you why, if the situation was escalating, did you not direct [redacted] to take some type of action to remove herself from the situation. You were not clear about why you did not do so, offering suggestions that perhaps it was your dazed state of mind or your assumption that [redacted] would walk towards the back of the house. You acknowledged that, at that point, you did not know whether [redacted] was still near the window in the adjacent room. You did not know this, you said, because "I'm, I'm focused on him [Individual]."[66] You then added, "And, and I'm just wondering what else is going on. How many other people are involved?"[67] b6 -2 b7C -2

You stated that at this point you felt your life was in danger because Individual was a "noncompliant criminal,"[68] because there was a pattern of crime in the area, there were "heavy gangs" to the east, there were known drug transactions in the vicinity of your house, and because you did not know what "they're carrying or, or what they're doing. There's a high probability they have a weapon on them."[69] You added that over the two-year time that you and [redacted] had lived in that residence prior to this shooting incident, that was the pattern you had seen. I note you did not state – either in this compelled DOJ-OIG interview or in your written or oral responses – that you were aware of any of the neighborhood crimes involving guns or deadly force situations. You mentioned there had been multiple car burglaries. b6 -2 b7C -2

The interviewing agent observed that there was a difference between an agent's role and duty as a law enforcement agent who has to go make an arrest, who therefore must engage in action with a subject, and this personal property crime. The interviewing agent again asked you why, at this point in the incident (once you had yelled and Individual did not respond but before you retrieved your weapon and shot Individual), did you not simply remove yourself, [redacted], and [redacted] from the situation by just getting away from the windows; from where did you think the danger was coming? You replied, "Now I've announced myself."[70] b6 -2 b7C -2

You went on to speculate that whoever else was involved, and that it may not be Individual, had time to take up a position of advantage and shoot. You now claimed that all you could think about was ricochet.[71] You explained that your house was not very big, it had multiple points of entry, especially through the bay window at which you stood, and there was "enough opportunity for any round, once it hits drywall, to, to ricochet around."[72] Hence, you felt you could not retreat. I note you did not see anyone else and the person on whom you were focused (Individual) still did not appear to have heard you. Therefore, I find your statements lack credibility.

After you got your weapon from the bedside drawer, you returned to the window and pulled the blinds the rest of the way up because you ". . . wanted to be seen. I wanted to be heard."[73] You got in the "low ready" position[74] to ensure the weapon was visible to Individual[75] and again yelled at Individual, this time adding "police" and saying something like "Police, get away from the vehicle." You had an unobstructed line of site to Individual and believed Individual would be able to clearly see you and your weapon as there was a night light in your bedroom that provided back lighting on you. However, I observe from your statement to DOJ-OIG that you were fully aware Individual had not actually seen you or your weapon because he had not turned to face you.

The interviewing agent asked you at this point in the incident, what was the imminent danger posed that you chose to announce yourself as police when you yelled for Individual to get away from the POV. You maintained Individual was continuing to escalate the situation by his lack of response. "Now I've announced that I'm a police officer. . . And he is still not acknowledging me."[76] Later in the interview, when the interviewer asked you how long after yelling at Individual with including the announcement "police" before Individual started the motion of turning towards you, you contradicted this earlier statement when you replied, "That one was almost, that one was almost immediate."[77] You said that as soon as you yelled "police, get away from the vehicle," Individual started turning towards you, at which time Individual's left arm moved, and that was when you fired.[78]

When Individual started to turn towards you, this was the first acknowledgement that Individual heard you. While Individual's right hand stayed on the tool he was using on the trunk of the POV, as Individual began to turn his head and upper body towards you, you said you saw Individual's left arm drop away to his waist. You said, based on "our experience, in our line of work, that's the felony carry area. So, the next logical thing is he's going for a weapon."[79] At this point, prior to Individual completing his turn or even yet making eye contact with you, you fired your FBI issued weapon one time at Individual because, you said, you feared imminent death or serious physical injury to yourself or others.[80] You later added that you believed Individual was going to take aim at you because, "The whole time, he hasn't looked at me. The one time he starts to look at me, his hand drops to his waistband."[81] You claimed Individual was attempting to acquire a target.[82]

After you fired the one round, Individual turned toward the street and disappeared from your view. You felt "the threat [was] subdued."[83] You went to check on [redacted] and then went downstairs.[84] You said that, when you came out of the front of the residence, you "immediately" "figured he [Individual] was gone."[85] Later in the interview, you claimed you first scanned "everything" to make sure the scene was safe before assessing the POV. You also claimed you scanned the downstairs of your residence, in case someone had "breached downstairs"[86] and you "[redacted]"[87] when you opened the front door before exiting. You still kept your weapon in "low ready" and went "straight for the [POV]" to assess whether it had been broken into and/or damaged.[88] b6 -2 b7C -2 b7E -1

After looking around the POV and discovering the removed side window and "ravaged" center console, only then did you look to your right to start scanning the area for witnesses or the [80] You did not claim that you saw Individual retrieve any form of weapon from his waistband area. According to your compelled interview, you raised your weapon from the "low ready" position to eye level, got a sight picture, and fired one round (page 29). While this is a series of movements that can be done very quickly by someone trained in firearms, I note that this indeed would have been done extremely fast if you had in fact reacted to Individual' movement – rather than acted first – if you started to fire only after seeing Individual move his left hand towards his waistband but before Individual could complete his turn in your direction to look up at you. I note the timing is also consistent with the shooter's finger already being on the trigger and firing from position 3 (rather than raising the weapon to position 4, acquiring a sight picture, and then firing), or with firing first as opposed to firing in reaction to any movement by Individual as reaction time takes longer than initiating action.

[81] OIG compelled interview transcript, page 62. I note that earlier in the interview, you were upset that Individual would not even look at you. Here, Individual starts to turn to look at you as you wanted, albeit Individual's left arm dropped as he turned, a natural movement when someone is turning to look up at you.

[82] OIG compelled interview transcript, page 62. I note Individual had not finished turning or looking up at you, nor had his left arm or hand apparently made more movement indicative of reaching for a weapon and/or "acquiring a target" than to have dropped down near his waistband. No evidence suggests Individual was "acquiring a target." Nor does it suggest he even had the opportunity to see you and/or your weapon before you shot him.

[83] OIG compelled interview transcript, page 65. I note this contradicts your earlier statements where you maintained that you were concerned about other subjects that you could not see and that someone besides Individual could appear and shoot, harming [redacted] b6 -2 getaway car.[89] You heard someone say, "You're killing me, man" and you then noticed Individual and his "buddy" who had dragged Individual along the street, leaving blood on the sidewalk. They then got into a dark sedan, which did a U-turn and drove slowly past you before driving away.[90] You estimated you were outside, staring at the POV and its removed window, for over a minute before you heard and saw Individual.[91]

You both at the time of the incident and in the compelled interview were focused on the POV and the fact the subjects removed an entire window. You stated, "I just stood up there. I couldn't believe the window. I'm still focused on this window. And the trunk was up. And I'm just trying to assess, like, what happened. And, and I'm looking around. And it was, it was over a minute."[92]

You then went back inside your residence[93] and [redacted] was downstairs on the telephone with 911. [redacted] when she came downstairs and when you went back inside the residence. Two PD officers arrived and took the initial assessment. One of the officers told you he needed your weapon. You unloaded your weapon and relinquished it to the officer. You also retrieved the casing from the fired round and gave that to the officer as well. You acknowledged that you voluntarily surrendered your FBI issued weapon to PD and that PD merely requested the weapon but was not insistent and did not pressure you to relinquish the weapon. You claimed you were not aware that you were not supposed to relinquish the weapon to any other authorities outside of the FBI and that no one ever told you not to do so.[94] However, you said you did know that you were not permitted to give a statement to PD.[95] b6 -2 b7C -2

You claimed you called your supervisor to notify the FBI of the shooting and that was when the supervisor came to your residence. This "supervisor" also accompanied you in an ambulance to a hospital because you were shaking uncontrollably by the time the supervisor arrived on scene.[96] You later identified the "supervisor" you notified of the shooting was Friend.[97] However, further into the interview, you acknowledged that your squad supervisor was Supervisor and that Friend contacted Supervisor.[98] You did not contact your division's operations center and stated you were not aware you were required to do so. Later in the interview, you affirmed that you were aware of the requirement to notify one's supervisor of a shooting incident and said that you were trained on this about once a quarter.[99] You were not familiar at the time of the requirement to notify your division's operations center and said the

[93] You, through many leading questions and statements by the interviewing agent, also described your actions to take cover or put yourself in a tactically sound position when you saw and heard Individual and watched as Individual was dragged and loaded into the car and the car drove slowly by you. main focus in training was to notify one's supervisor who would then assist the reporting agent through the rest of the process, such as notifying the operations center.[100]

The interviewing agent reviewed the DOJ Deadly Force Policy with you. You were familiar with the policy and acknowledged you received training in it "at least quarterly."[101] You also advised that with any type of arrest or search warrant briefing, "Any type of operation we do, we brief it [the deadly force policy] verbally."[102]

The interviewing agent asked you to articulate how the facts and factors of this shooting incident fit within the deadly force policy as an authorized use of deadly force. You explained the factors you considered at the time that led you to conclude it was appropriate to use deadly force were: There was a high rate of crime in the area, including car thefts on your block;[103] you thought there was a high probability these individuals were armed and there were possibly others that were posing a danger; the "escalation" of Individual's noncompliance with your shouts; and Individual's "furtive movement towards his waistband, which is a common felony carry area."[104] Additionally, you applied each of the subcategories of the deadly force policy and how you were not in violation of those, including that you did not fire a warning shot at Individual because, you said, "I took aim" at Individual.[105]

When asked in this compelled interview whether it was your opinion that you were in compliance with the deadly force policy in this shooting incident, you firmly answered, "Yes, I am."[106] In answering the interviewer's leading questions, you maintained that you did not shoot Individual solely to prevent the property crime involving the POV but rather because you felt your life and the lives of those around you were in imminent danger.[107]

Again, the interviewing agent asked you why you felt there was no time during this incident to withdraw from the window and just allow the property crime to occur, and to call PD. You maintained it was due to "possible accomplices that were armed and could gain a position of tactical advantage. And from my experience clearing houses in small villages in the Middle East, there's a high probability of ricochet. . . there really was no safe area inside the house."[108]

During this discussion of whether there was a realistic option to seek safety in your house, your counsel commented that the deadly force policy does not impose a duty to retreat.[109] Counsel also noted that the issue to retreat would only come up "concurrently with the movement of this individual to his waist, because that's when his behavior rose to the level of imminence to justify the shooting. . .we're not suggesting that he, that sense of imminence existed prior to that movement to the waist—."[110]

The interviewer, again through leading statements and questions, addressed the possible argument that you yourself escalated the situation when you went to get your weapon. To counter that argument, the interviewer allowed for the possibility that you "felt that there was no safe place to retreat in the house, that may be a, a factor in that decision." You replied, "That's correct."[111] I again note you were a sizeable distance from Individual and on the second floor inside your house while he was outside on the street. When the interviewer asked if you felt it was tactically sound, before retrieving the weapon, to get [redacted] and move them further into the residence and call PD, you then said, "I wasn't sure if there was a breach in the main floor. So if somebody had entered the house and was making their way up. . . none of the rest of the house had been cleared."[112] The interviewer also offered you the idea of whether this incident could have been connected to work, to your assignment of organized crime cases, and related to a vendetta. You then answered that it was "always" a consideration and "yeah."[113] b6 -1 b7C -1

The interviewing agent provided you with the opportunity to conclude the interview by providing any additional information you would like someone reviewing this interview recording to know. You stated, "Not that I can think of, other than, you know, once, once one shot was fired, it was, everything for me was deliberate. It was, the, the threat was subdued, so you stop firing. And, and that was it. That was it for me. Yeah."[114]

At the end of the interview, the interviewing agent requested to interview [redacted] and that you re-enact the event at your residence for DOJ-OIG in order to document all the facts. After the interview, you declined to do so.[115] b6 -2 b7C -2

Your Written Response Dated 10/30/2015 and Your Oral Hearing on 11/06/2015

Your counsel provided a lengthy written response on October 30, 2015 to OPR's proposal for your dismissal. In the first footnote, in the summary section of the written response, your counsel stated you "voluntarily allowed the screen from [your] window to be removed from [your] residence for forensic examination. SIRT and OPR subsequently reviewed this matter."[116] I take exception with this characterization of your supposed cooperation, not only in this footnote but elsewhere in the written response and in your oral presentation on November 6, 2015. At all times, you were uncooperative with the FBI and DOJ-OIG and the FBI and DOJ-OIG had to obtain all evidence in this matter from the PD and DA because you consistently refused to cooperate, even after being advised the DA, USAO, and DOJ had all declined prosecution. In your oral presentation, your counsel acknowledged the FBI Chief Inspector had informed him verbally in October 2013 that all entities had declined prosecution. He further acknowledged

[115] OIG compelled interview transcript, page 118. You and [redacted] later maintained your refusal to cooperate with DOJ-OIG, despite the fact that – if not earlier – you had been informed in this compelled interview that there would be no criminal prosecution and this was strictly an administrative proceeding. b6 -2 b7C -2

DOJ-OIG informed you of this as well at your compelled interview on May 1, 2015. Simply because the FBI was able to obtain the evidence from elsewhere does not alter the fact you refused to cooperate at all stages of this process. Failure to cooperate in an administrative matter, such as the SIRT investigation and the DOJ-OIG investigation, is a separate FBI Offense Code (2.10), the only sanction for which is dismissal. I am, however, going to consider your refusal to cooperate as an aggravating factor in this matter rather than a separate violation.

The written response stated this office was "conflating two separate issues and analyzing one to prove the other" regarding your use of force. Your counsel then attempted to separate the circumstances to justify his argument that you did not violate the deadly force policy, rather than review them under the required "totality of the circumstances" and "reasonable person" criteria. He elaborated that you arming yourself was completely separate from the analysis of whether justification to shoot was present and that there was no rule against you arming yourself when someone was committing a crime in your presence.[117] He also stated your testimony indicated you had your weapon at the "low ready" position and gained a sight picture and fired your weapon in a split second reaction to Individual's "threatening movements (despite notice to the [Individual] to be compliant and stop his felonious activity), NOT in response to a property crime. [You] pointed and fired [your] weapon in response to an imminent threat, not a property crime."[118] However, your counsel's statement is in direct contradiction to your statements to DOJ-OIG, under oath, that Individual up until that point had made no movement indicating he heard you and that you wanted him to turn around and in some way acknowledge you.

The written response discussed various statistics regarding theft of automobile parts and organized crime and concluded there is a relationship between these property crimes and violence. It claimed DOJ-OIG and OPR attempted to paint the crime of Individual breaking into your POV as a "crime of opportunity" rather than possibly a crime committed by experienced, organized thieves. I take exception to this characterization: the proposal fully addressed the planned nature of the crime by Individual and his companions, and detailed their past criminal history. Additionally, neither you nor your counsel addressed in writing or orally your comment in your compelled DOJ-OIG interview that Individual's activities with your vehicle could have been a personal vendetta. Nor did you ever state that there had been violent crimes committed in your neighborhood. Given your variance on your stance about your thought process at the time, I find it difficult to credit your and your counsel's focus in the written and oral responses about your concern at the moment that Individual was part of some larger and more dangerous organized crime group.

Your counsel, in the written statement and the oral presentation, explained you were legally authorized to utilize physical force under state law in this situation and arrest Individual. He then attempted to rationalize that because SIRT, DOJ-OIG, and this office did not find your use of deadly force reasonable and inquired as to why other options were not utilized instead, the government was somehow trying to enforce a duty to retreat. This is yet another mischaracterization of the facts and of applying facts to standard legal analysis.

[117] I note that "in your presence" in this instance was outside, across the steps and sidewalk, to the street from where you were located inside your house on the second story.

Contrary to these mischaracterizations, when you retrieved your weapon and pointed it in the low ready position towards Individual is relevant to evaluating your actions under the totality of the circumstances. Not only does it go to whether your mindset was reasonable at the time, it is also relevant whether you were candid in the initial PD/DA investigation because you told them a different scenario than you told DOJ-OIG. This will be addressed further in this letter.

I find no relevance to the argument that state law's permissiveness to use physical force to stop a property crime was somehow related to you drawing a deadly weapon on Individual a floor level away vertically, and across the stoop, stairs, walkway, and sidewalk away horizontally, when you had no indication he was an imminent threat to your life and when you stated under oath you were just trying to get him away from your car. The issue of the appropriateness under state law of using physical force would only have arisen had you been outside and in close proximity to Individual; but physical force is an entirely different matter than deadly force.

Likewise, the various examples provided in both the written response and the oral hearing of when law enforcement officers, in the normal course of their on-duty responsibilities, became involved in deadly force situations that had begun as routine, non-deadly circumstances, entirely miss the mark. In the examples, none of the officers resorted to deadly force before seeing a weapon or before shots were fired. All of these examples were of law enforcement officers on duty who came into close proximity of the subjects. You, in contrast, were in the second story of your house while Individual was outside on the street, across the distance of your porch steps, walkway, and sidewalk. Individual was intent on breaking into the POV and was not making any movement to indicate he even heard you or saw you until immediately before you shot him in the back as he was beginning to twist around to respond to your shouting.[119] While you and your counsel made much, both in the written response and oral presentation, of the history of auto break-ins in the neighborhood, you provided no evidence of crimes involving physical or deadly force, or involving weapons or gunshots.

The written response quoted People v. Benjamin, 51 N.Y. 2d 267 (1980) to support the argument that a law enforcement officer does not need to await the "glint of steel" of a weapon before he could act to preserve his safety. This case is unpersuasive because it is not on point for the use of deadly force and actually rules against his argument that I must, when I evaluate your use of deadly force, divorce the surrounding circumstances from the immediate moment you decided to pull the trigger. People v. Benjamin was a case regarding at what point an officer could conduct a stop and frisk. Justification for conducting a pat down is a far cry from using deadly force. This case would have been appropriate to cite had you been outside with Individual, rather than inside on the second floor of your house, and needed to articulate a reason to conduct a stop and frisk. Benjamin did focus on articulating the totality of the circumstances standard and applying it to the fact the officer had received a call regarding men with guns combined with the officer being on the same ground level as the subject, in a close proximity of about 10 feet to the subject, and the subject's motion of stepping back and using both hands to [119] Again, I note you told DOJ-OIG that you wanted Individual to turn, to look at you, or to some way acknowledge you. While you and your counsel frequently used the term "noncompliant" regarding Individual's lack of acknowledgment of your shouts, the more accurate term would be "unresponsive." This is because there is no evidence Individual was intentionally ignoring your shouts, and therefore refusing to comply, as he made no reaction at all.

grab at something at his waist. Thus, Benjamin affirms the need for evaluating all of the circumstances leading up to your decision to pull the trigger.

Your written response attempted to state your circumstances as those that a reasonable officer would perceive as an imminent threat to his safety. It not only was unsuccessful, it contradicted your previous statement under oath to DOJ-OIG. The written response stated the Individual had been "consistently non-compliant" with your commands to get away from the POV, had "looked up" at you, and "made a furtive movement with his hand near his waistband" and it was at this point you perceived a deadly threat and shot Individual. The response also stated Individual was engaged in a crime with others which was traditionally linked to organized crime, "and yes violence" and acted "in a manner consistent with an individual drawing a weapon." Your written response argued that all of these "reasonably perceived facts" gave rise to "justification in the use of force."[120] However, these statements were in direct conflict with the evidence in the record:

- You told DOJ-OIG Individual made no motion or indication he had even heard you, so there is not conclusive evidence he was noncompliant rather than oblivious (evidence such as him looking at you and then going back to his task – as you told the PD, or yelling something back at you, etc. would indicate noncompliance).

- Your written response stated Individual "looked up" at you but this is untrue according to your sworn statement to DOJ-OIG: you stated Individual had not moved or looked up at you, or in any way acknowledgd your presence, and that it was when he started to turn as if to look at you that his left hand dropped towards his waist and you shot him. By your own testimony, you acknowledged Individual had not looked at you before this.[121]

- As for the "furtive movement," in your DOJ-OIG interview, you clarified Individual's left hand dropped towards his waist area as he began to turn towards you. To use the classic phrase "furtive movement" towards his "waistband" after claiming Individual looked up at you when he had not yet done so is to paint a different picture than your sworn testimony to DOJ-OIG that indicated Individual may have been making a natural movement as he began to turn to acknowledge your presence – the very thing you told DOJ-OIG you wanted him to do.

- While Individual was engaged in criminal activity of a property crime and there was a history of property crime in your neighborhood, you did not provide any evidence of an awareness of previous violent crime or shootings in your neighborhood. Nor were you aware at the time you chose to shoot Individual of other people involved in the criminal activity other than Individual.

[121] During your oral presentation, you and your counsel maintained one of the factors in your belief that deadly force was reasonable was Individual had looked at you and had seen you holding your weapon but still did not comply. This directly contradicts your testimony during your sworn statement to DOJ-OIG.

ANALYSIS

A. Misuse of Weapon – Intentional Discharge

According to FBI Offense Code 5.15, employees are prohibited from "[p]urposefully or willfully discharging a weapon in violation of the deadly force policy.

The DOJ Deadly Force Policy states in relevant part:

> Law enforcement officers of the Department of Justice may use deadly force only when necessary, that is, when the officer has a reasonable belief[122] that the subject of such force poses an imminent danger of death or serious physical injury to the officer or to another person.
> A. Deadly force may not be used solely to prevent the escape of a fleeing suspect.
> B. Firearms may not be fired solely to disable moving vehicles.
> C. If feasible and to do so would not increase the danger to the officer or others,
> D. A verbal warning to submit to the authority of the officer shall be given prior to the use of deadly force.
> E. Warning shots are not permitted.
> F. Officers will be trained in alternative methods and tactics for handling resisting subjects which must be used when the use of deadly force is not authorized by this policy.

In the written response, your counsel argued the evidence and applicable test under Graham v. O'Connor (the analysis used by SIRT and DOJ to determine whether the DOJ deadly force policy was violated), indicates your action fell within DOJ guidelines. Your counsel provided an example of the application of the "objectively reasonable" standard of Pittman v. Nelms. Again, you rely on a case that is not on point. In Pittman, while conducting a traffic stop, an officer reached into the vehicle and the vehicle began to flee, entangling the officer's arm in the vehicle and dragging him with it for 25 – 30 feet before the officer was thrown free of the vehicle. After being freed from the vehicle, the officer's partner fired, striking the passenger. The court determined the shooting officer did not use excessive force. Your counsel erroneously stated that these facts of Pittman justify your response in your situation with Individual.[123] Pittman is not the correct measure for analysis in your case because it dealt with the actual use of deadly force by the subject in close proximity to the officer, actually entangling the officer with the vehicle and subjecting him to the actual risk of serious bodily injury or death. The officer's partner's use of deadly force was in reaction to the subject's use of deadly force of utilizing the vehicle to inflict serious bodily injury upon the officer. I am at a loss as to how you believe this case to be applicable to your situation when you were on the second story of your house rather than close proximity to Individual, and Individual had not just demonstrated – as in Pittman – the complete disregard for human life by the use of a vehicle in such an intentionally unsafe manner.

[122] DIOG Appendix F defines "reasonable belief" as being synonymous with probable cause and to be determined "by the totality of the facts and circumstances known to agents at the time, and the logical inferences that may be drawn from them."

[123] Written response, pages 9 – 10.

Both SIRG and DOJ-OIG reviewed the investigation findings and both concluded you violated the DOJ Deadly Force Policy when you shot Individual.[124] You had not been compelled to speak to DOJ-OIG at the time of SIRG's decision and, therefore, SIRG had only your version you told to PD/DA to rely upon for understanding your perspective on the matter.[125] Of the two versions of events you told, the one you told PD/DA, if anything, would have provided more reason for SIRG to find the possibility that probable cause existed that Individual posed an imminent danger of death or serious physical injury to you or your family. This is because you told PD/DA that you retrieved your weapon from under your bed in response to Individual making a furtive movement to his waistband with his left hand.[126] You told PD that you fired your weapon when Individual had already moved his hand to his waistband, turned to you, and then started to make a threatening gesture with the hand at his waistband by bringing it towards you.[127] Even with this misinformation in your favor, SIRG's review of the totality of the circumstances revealed that your use of deadly force was not objectively reasonable and they unanimously decided you violated the deadly force policy.[128]

Specifically, SIRG did not find it objectively reasonable that Individual, who was involved in a relatively minor property crime on the street in front of your residence, posed a risk of imminent death or serious bodily injury to you or your family on the second floor of the residence. They also considered the facts that you and your family were in a solid structure and you had time to move from your window, retrieve your firearm, and re-engage Individual. SIRG noted you did not give any commands consistent with the training all FBI agents receive that reflect a clear effort to address a threat posed by a subject such as "FBI, don't move" and to keep one's hands visible and raised. To the contrary, your commands reflected your concern for your property rather than a belief of imminent threat of death or serious injury to yourself or your family, as your shouts consisted of telling Individual to get away from the POV.

In your compelled DOJ-OIG interview, you admitted you retrieved your weapon specifically because Individual was committing a property crime and you wanted to get him away from your POV. FBI agents are trained to always keep their weapons pointed in a safe direction and to not point it at someone unless justified. Human safety is the justification to point a weapon at someone, not a property crime. This is a significant change from your statement to PD about retrieving your weapon because, you told them, Individual looked at you and put his hand to his waist. However, you acknowledged in your compelled DOJ-OIG interview that you were not retrieving your weapon and pointing it at Individual for safety [124] See the SIRG report and the DOJ-OIG ROI for their analyses.

[125] As previously noted, SIRG gave you another opportunity prior to its final ruling (and after criminal prosecution was declined) to provide a voluntary statement. You refused.

[126] You acknowledged to DOJ-OIG that Individual made no movement or in any way acknowledged you the first few times you yelled at Individual. Because Individual made no movement or acknowledgement of you, you retrieved your weapon. This information indicates you had even less of an objectively reasonable belief that Individual posed an imminent threat than in the version of events you gave DA/PD.

[127] This is contrary to your DOJ-OIG compelled interview, where you said you shot Individual as his hand "dropped" to his waist as he began to turn (he had not yet looked up at your, nor had he already put his hand to his waistband, nor was there a second movement of his hand toward you).

reasons, you were pointing your deadly weapon, in the "low ready" position at Individual for a property crime happening outside of your house on the ground floor, across the porch, steps, walkway, and sidewalk while you were inside on the second floor.

Your counsel, in the oral presentation, attempted to claim that the FBI was simply arguing over tactics and that which tactics you did or did not use were irrelevant to evaluating whether you were justified in shooting Individual. I disagree and I accept SIRG's reliance on these factors as part of the analysis of the totality of the circumstances. Rather than being meant as a critique of tactics, the mention of how agents are trained to respond versus how you responded is relevant to determining whether a law enforcement officer in your situation would have reasonably believed the totality of the circumstances warranted the use of deadly force. Your actions and/or inactions aid in determining whether you reasonably feared for your life, even though you were on the second story inside your house. Raising the blinds, turning on the light, and actually trying to be seen by Individual as clearly as possible and wanting Individual to turn around and look at you (as you state in your DOJ-OIG interview) would make you an easy target, rather than shouting safety commands (to raise his hands, etc.) and instinctively seeking cover/concealment even if you decided not to retreat.[129] SIRG and DOJ-OIG considered these circumstances along with the other factors, and concluded not only was your behavior not that of someone who reasonably believed Individual posed an imminent danger of death or serious physical injury to himself or those near him, but that the totality of the circumstances did not warrant such a belief and therefore the use of deadly force was not necessary .

DOJ-OIG likewise found your use of deadly force to be unreasonable and a violation of policy. Unlike in your PD/DA interview, you admitted to DOJ-OIG in your compelled interview that you retrieved your weapon from under your bed because Individual was unresponsive to your shouts to get away from the POV and it was still your goal to get Individual away from the POV. You stood in the window with your weapon in the low ready and the blinds pulled all the way up because you "wanted to be seen" and "wanted to be heard." Only this second time did you announce yourself as law enforcement by shouting "police"[130] and, even then, still commanded Individual to get away from the POV – rather than to not move or to raise his hands above his head, etc.[131]

In arriving at its finding of violation of the deadly force policy, DOJ-OIG took into consideration the facts as articulated by you, the relevant background information known to you before the shooting, your perception of events preceding your decision to employ deadly force, the tactics you employed during the encounter, and the account you provided of your actions during your compelled interview. DOJ-OIG concluded it was not reasonable to assume the property crime in which Individual was involved carried a presumption of violence similar to [129] In both the written response and the oral presentation, your counsel equates the government's observation that you could have stepped aside with an implied duty to retreat. Again, your counsel is inaccurate. As you are aware from your FBI training, seeking cover and concealment is not at all the equivalent of retreating.

[130] In the PD/DA interview, you maintained that you identified yourself as "police" from the outset of your shouting to Individual to get away from the POV.
[131] This supports your admission that your goal was to get Individual to flee from the POV, rather than your later statements, often at the interviewing agent's prompting, that you feared for your and your family's safety, your concern about ricochet, and/or concern that an accomplice of Individual may have entered the residence downstairs.

that of armed robbery or narcotics trafficking, as you claimed.[132] DOJ-OIG also noted that you never stated you observed Individual in any clothing you knew to be indicative of a local street gang.[133]

DOJ-OIG found your statements about believing your position in the window offered insufficient and limited cover from Individual, should Individual (who had not yet even shown indication he heard you) fire upon you; about there being no safe location inside your residence to which you and your family could seek safety because you did not know if Individual had an accomplice who had broken into the residence; and because the structure was constructed in a way that would put you and your family in danger of a ricochet, to all be objectively unreasonable and unsupported by evidence. I likewise find your claims to lack credibility. When first asked why you went for your weapon rather than remove [redacted] from the situation, you replied, "Because I just wanted him [Individual] to get away from the car." In fact, when originally asked directly if you feared for your safety because Individual did not give any indication of acknowledging you, you instead said that now you were dealing with a noncompliant person and you at least wanted Individual to look your way and that you were "looking for any kind of movement at all at that point, too." However, when Individual did just that – start to turn and look in your direction, you shot Individual. b6 -2 b7C -2

DOJ-OIG notes, and I concur, that your decision to leave the window to retrieve your firearm and then return to the window is evidence that you were able to go to a position of safety prior to the moment that you claimed you believed Individual made a "furtive gesture" with his left arm toward his waistband. Additionally, as DOJ-OIG observed, if you actually believed your own statements about a possible accomplice breaking into the residence downstairs, it was not objectively reasonable for you to return to the window to continue shouting warnings to an oblivious Individual about the POV rather than to address the potential threat of an intruder.

Without considering the mischaracterizations of your written response and oral presentation (when you and counsel also stated you believed Individual could see you holding your weapon), the circumstance with which we are left is some sort of movement of Individual's left hand near his waist as he began to turn towards you in response to your shouts when he was committing a property crime some distance away from you and a floor below you. While this is a factor a reasonable law enforcement officer would take into consideration, it is the only factor and, even according to your counsel's cited case of Benjamin, is not in and of itself – especially given your distance from Individual – sufficient justification for the use of force.[134]

I agree with SIRG's and DOJ-OIG's questioning of your judgment in your decision to confront Individual with your weapon over a property crime. A deadly weapon is not within the [132] I agree, especially in light of your answer to DOJ-OIG's suggestion that it could have been in retaliation, and in light of the fact you never provided any evidence of violent crimes or use of weapons in your neighborhood.

[133] In your written response, it stated it was unknown that it was a requirement of gang members to display certain colors at all times or whether the observation of a certain color is dispostive of gang affiliation. I note that, if you had observed some sort of indication of gang affiliation, it would have been another factor DOJ-OIG would have weighed when evaluating the totality of the circumstances.

realm of the permissible use of physical force in a property crime as you attempted to argue. I also agree with DOJ-OIG's questioning of your veracity regarding whether you actually feared for your or your family's safety rather than shooting Individual over a property crime, especially given the totality of the circumstances. You admitted multiple times in your compelled DOJ-OIG interview that your goal was to stop Individual from breaking into the POV. Your actions support this as your motive rather than self-defense, especially making sure the blinds were all the way up, the window open, and that your presence with your weapon in full view in the window would be visible to Individual.[135] Given these circumstances, the factor in favor of your action being that of a reasonable law enforcement officer – the hand dropping towards the waist – is not in and of itself significant reason to use deadly force.[136]

Furthermore, after shooting Individual, your actions contradict your claim that you were concerned Individual was a noncompliant armed criminal reaching for a weapon to use against you: you rushed outside and went straight to the POV to assess it for damage and theft. You did not secure your residence, or even notice Individual nearby until Individual cried out. Rather than issuing commands to the man you thought was armed and ready to shoot you, you stood silently by and allowed Individual and Individual's [redacted] to continue their actions unimpeded, thus leaving control of the situation in their hands. As DOJ-OIG concluded, your actions were not indicative of a law enforcement officer's reaction to dealing with armed and dangerous subjects. b6 -7 b7C -7

Likewise, [redacted] call to 911 indicates no concern for the safety of herself, [redacted] or you. In the recording of her 911 call, [redacted] is heard yelling to you to shoot the car (presumably the car that picked up the [redacted] after the shooting). Although she told the operator that [redacted] fired one round and there may be an injured person, [redacted] seemed more focused on the POV, reporting the subjects had broken into the POV, [redacted] was outside looking at the POV, and "they" stole the radio. This does not indicate concern, present or immediately prior to the call, of imminent physical harm. b6 -1,2,7 b7C -1,2,7

In your written response, you stated there was "insufficient evidence to refute [your] claim that [you] fired [your] weapon in order to counter what [you] believed to be a threat to [yourself] and [you] [redacted]"[137] The only evidence you presented that contributes to a reasonable belief of imminent danger of death or serious bodily injury appears to be the movement of Individual dropping his left hand as he began to turn in response to your shouts. As Benjamin explains, the case cited in your written response, the movement of the hands towards the waistband alone is not sufficient for a law enforcement officer to justify taking safety measures to protect himself. If that one action alone is not enough for an officer to pat down someone, it certainly is not enough for an officer to use deadly force against someone. b6 -2 b7C -2

All FBI agents are extensively trained on the DOJ Deadly Force Policy, both at their initial training at Quantico and then regularly in their assigned field office. You acknowledged that you received training in the deadly force policy "at least quarterly." You also noted that the policy was reviewed in the briefings for every arrest and/or search warrant execution operation. Your division confirmed you attended the legal training in which the policy was covered in December 2011. I assess you were very familiar with the DOJ Deadly Force Policy at the time of this incident.

[135] Such actions are the opposite of what a reasonable person in fear for his and his family's safety would do, which would include seeking cover and concealment and issuing commands to stop and keep one's hands in view, rather than framing oneself in an open window for a possible shooter to have a clear shot.

In addition to the DOJ Deadly Force Policy, agents are also routinely trained in the "cardinal rules of safety" of firearms. These rules include keeping one's finger off the trigger of the weapon until one is ready to shoot and not pointing one's weapon at anything one is not prepared to shoot. I note that you had your weapon pointed at Individual, in the "low ready" position, for a property crime.[138]

When asked in your compelled interview whether you were comfortable that your actions in this shooting incident were within policy, you maintained that you were. You claimed you did not shoot Individual solely to prevent a property crime involving your POV but because you felt your life and the lives of those around you were in imminent danger.

During your oral presentation, after discussing with you the multiple factors and totality of the circumstances surrounding this shooting incident, I asked you to state for me why you believed Individual, who was on the street, was a threat to you when you were inside on the second floor of your house, to the point you felt it was necessary to shoot him in the back. You responded, "Because I'm a law enforcement officer and that's what I signed up to do."

Despite the preceeding discussion of the totality of the circumstances, your counsel stated you did not understand my question. He clarified for you that I was asking why you believed at the moment you pulled the trigger why Individual was a threat to you. You responded, "Because people who are reaching for their waist are reaching for guns. And he had an intent to shoot me."

When I asked you to explain your concern in relation to the fact that you were on the second floor of your locked house while Individual was a distance away on the street, your counsel interrupted and claimed I was supposed to isolate the exact moment of when you decided to pull the trigger from all the other factors.[139] That is incorrect. I believe you are attempting to parse out the totality of the circumstances because when considered as a whole, you were not justified in shooting Individual.

However, even examining only your thoughts at that exact moment, the result is the same, that you were unjustified in shooting Individual: You stated you shot Individual because, at that moment, his hand was dropping to his waist and "Because people who are reaching for their waist are reaching for guns. And he had an intent to shoot me." To consider only these thoughts at just that moment would be to conclude that anyone whose hand went near his waistband had a gun and intended to shoot you. Obviously, this is preposterous.[140]

[138] Although the record does not indicate one way or the other whether you had your finger on the trigger, the timing of events – that you shot Individual in the back before Individual could finish turning to face you – indicates this is a likely possibility.

[139] Specifically, your counsel said I was broadening the various factors that could have been considered but not necessarily were considered and that asking you to consider your distance from Individual on the second floor and other factors at the time Individual's hand moved towards his waist was a problem. Your counsel also stated such other factors may never have crossed your mind at the moment you shot Individual. That is exactly the issue here: a reasonable law enforcement officer has to decide under the totality of the circumstances at the time, whether he is in imminent danger of death or serious bodily injury.

I join DOJ-OIG in questioning your judgment in this very serious violation of the DOJ Deadly Force Policy. I also have grave concern about your lack of either ability or willingness to acknowledge your mistake and learn from it. The ability to exercise good judgment under pressure and to acknowledge when one does make a mistake is vital to an FBI Special Agent. Armed agents are frequently placed in situations where they must make critical decisions in a split second. It is understandable that occasionally mistakes will be made. When that happens, it is essential the agent be willing and able to accept the consequences and learn from the mistake so that it may not be repeated in the future. Your compelled DOJ-OIG interview, wherein you contradicted your own story and still maintained you were within policy, occurred almost two years after you shot Individual while Individual was committing a property crime.

I note Counsel's statement in your compelled interview that the DOJ Deadly Force Policy does not impose a duty to retreat and that the issue to retreat would only come up "concurrently with the movement of this individual to his waist, because that's when his behavior rose to the level of imminence to justify the shooting. . .we're not suggesting that he, that sense of imminence existed prior to that movement to the waist—."[141] Both the SIRG decision and the DOJ-OIG conclusion take into account all the factors that led to the conclusion that – contrary to Counsel's assertion – there was not a level of imminence at any stage in the incident to justify the shooting.[142] Furthermore, while the policy does not impose a duty to retreat, neither does it permit an FBI agent to himself create the deadly force situation over a property crime.[143]

Based on a preponderance of the evidence, I conclude you violated Offense Code 5.15.

B. Lack of Candor/Lying – No Oath

According to FBI Offense Code 2.5, employees are prohibited from "[k]nowingly providing false information when making a verbal or written statement, not under oath, to a supervisor, another Bureau employee in an authoritative position, or another governmental agency, when the employee is questioned about his conduct or the conduct of another person.

[140] Under this belief, leaving out the totality of the circumstances as you suggest I do, you would be justified in shooting anyone whose hand goes towards his waist, including all of your fellow agents who reach for their Bureau issued cell phones worn on their waists.

[142] As part of their deliberations on this incident, SIRG reviewed Graham v. Connor, 490 U.S. 386 (1989) regarding the test of "reasonableness" under the 4th Amendment. In reviewing all of the facts and factors in this case to arrive at their final decision, SIRG applied Graham. Graham states that "proper application requires careful attention to the facts and circumstances of each particular case, including the severity of the crime at issue, whether the suspect poses an immediate threat to the safety of the officers or others, and whether he is actively resisting arrest or attempting to evade arrest by flight." Id. "[Reasonableness] must be judged from the perspective of a reasonable officer on the scene, rather than with the 20/20 vision of hindsight. . .[the] calculus of reasonableness must embody allowance for the fact that police officers are often forced to make split-second judgments in circumstances that are tense, uncertain, and rapidly evolving about the amount of force that is necessary in a particular situation." [143] I observe the prohibition on using deadly force to address a property crime is covered in the first year of law school.

'False information' includes false statements, misrepresentations, the failure to be fully forthright, or the concealment or omission of a material fact/information."

Some of your statements to PD/DA, when compared to your compelled DOJ-OIG interview, are at best misleading.[144] While it is not unusual for minor details to be recalled differently two years after a stressful event[145] from when originally recounted shortly after the event (the PD/DA interview), a change from some of your statements to PD/DA are significant, two statements in particular. You told PD/DA that you retrieved your weapon because Individual made a movement with his left hand towards his waistband. You also stated you shot Individual when Individual made a motion of his left hand coming towards you from the waistband area. However, in the compelled DOJ-OIG interview, you admitted you retrieved your weapon precisely because Individual made no movement or indication that he heard you. In the DOJ-OIG compelled interview, you said you shot Individual when Individual dropped his left arm towards his waist – rather than your claim to PD/DA that the left hand was already at his waist (the reason, you originally said, you went for your gun) and from there made a motion as if to bring the left hand towards you.

These are serious material misstatements to PD/DA as they go to the heart of your perception of the circumstances that led to your decision to first get your gun and then your decision to shoot Individual. As your counsel explained in the oral presentation, your lack of cooperation in the FBI investigation was, at least in part, for the purpose of having one statement to be used by all investigating agencies. You therefore knew the PD report of your statement would be provided to the FBI by DA. You also refused to cooperate with FBI and DOJ-OIG, not only for an interview (you had to be compelled even after your counsel was informed there would be no criminal prosecution), but you also refused to provide a re-enactment or access to your home for the FBI to gather the needed information for complete forensic analysis.[146] Therefore, the evidence indicates you made misrepresentations in an attempt to still paint yourself in the best light possible for the federal investigation and obstructed all investigative activity that could provide greater and/or contradictory information than what you chose to provide to the PD.[147] This calls into question your judgment and character as an FBI employee.

Your counsel, in the written response and oral hearing, attempted to cast doubt on the accuracy of the PD report. He noted the date of interview on the report, July 19, 2012, was inaccurate because you and he did not meet with the PD and DA until July 31, 2012. Therefore, the draft date for the report was also incorrect. As discussed in the oral presentation, the PD was conducting multiple interviews and tasks related to investigating this matter during that timeframe and it was believed the author of the report had simply mixed up the dates. However, beyond correcting the date of interview, neither you nor your counsel could point to anything else in the report that was inaccurate. Therefore, aside from the date of the interview and report, I credit the PD report as accurate.[148]

Your counsel also attempted to argue at your oral presentation that even though your statements to the PD and DOJ-OIG were different, the threat was the same. He stated the threat was that Individual was "noncompliant," he turned towards you, and his hand went towards his waist.[149] Therefore, you and your counsel would have me conclude, you made no material false statement and I should not find that you lacked candor. I disagree, not only regarding the materiality of your false statements to PD, but also that any lack of materiality should nullify your lack of candor.

I note that Individual's "noncompliance" in your PD interview could possibly be interpreted as noncompliance, as in that scenario he looked up at you, thereby acknowledging your presence, only then moved his hand to his waistband, and then returned to his task. After you retrieved your weapon in that scenario, Individual then made a movement towards you with the hand that had already been at his waist. This is significantly different from the perceived threat you described in your compelled DOJ-OIG interview. In the compelled interview, Individual was not "noncompliant" but, rather, unresponsive. Individual had never acknowledged even hearing you and his hand did not make a movement towards you, nor was the movement that of reaching or grabbing for something at his waistband. Rather, you explained under oath that his hand "dropped" toward the waist as Individual began to turn in direction of your shouts. In no way are these two threats the same, as you and your counsel argued.

You also called your close friend on your squad (Friend), rather than Supervisor, to report the shooting.[150] In your compelled DOJ-OIG interview, you claimed Friend was your supervisor. While Friend was the team leader of your group at the time, this is not a supervisory position. Friend even asked you multiple times whether you were going to contact Supervisor. When Friend did not get a response from you, Friend told you he would go ahead and contact Supervisor.

I find your statement to the PD and the claims regarding contacting your supervisor to be incredulous and lacking in candor.

Based on a preponderance of the evidence, I conclude you violated Offense Code 2.5.

[148] Your counsel implied the fact the PD report was a summary of your interview, rather than a verbatim account, brought into question its accuracy. As both you and your counsel are aware, summaries of interviews (including FBI FD-302s) are the accepted legal standard, even in criminal court where the burden of proof is much higher than it is here (proof beyond a reasonable doubt rather than a preponderance of evidence).

[149] Your counsel would have me exclude the other factors involved in this situation, arguing that "totality of the circumstances" is not the appropriate analysis. It is indeed the appropriate analysis, even according to Benjamin, the case upon which you rely in your written response, and something I presume you understood as well because you otherwise would not have felt the need to lie to the PD about these particular details in the hopes of better justifying the shooting.

[150] It is not clear from the documentation whether this phone call to Friend was even meant to serve, in your mind, as the notification to a supervisor.

PENALTY DETERMINATION

When determining an appropriate penalty, I considered the 12 Douglas Factors, including, but not limited to, consistency with precedent, the FBI's Penalty Guidelines, prior disciplinary history, and aggravating/mitigating factors.

The investigation establishes you violated FBI Offense Code 5.15 (Misuse of Weapon – Intentional Discharge). The standard penalty is a 30-day suspension. Mitigating factors warrant a five-day to 14-day suspension, and aggravating factors warrant a 45-day suspension to dismissal.

I have considered all mitigating factors supported by the record, including, but not limited to, your "successful" and "excellent" performance ratings, the fact you were awakened from sleep at the beginning of this incident, and the stress a law enforcement officer feels at the prospect of himself being subject of a criminal investigation as well as a potential civil lawsuit by the Individual. A shooting incident is an extremely stressful time for an agent and an agent may need time to mentally process what happened.

Notwithstanding all relevant mitigating factors, I find aggravation is appropriate because you still refuse to accept responsibility for your actions over two years later and at all times remained completely uncooperative with all federal entities investigating this matter, including FBI and DOJ-OIG. Your refusal to cooperate continued even after you were informed there would be no criminal prosecution and you therefore no longer had a Fifth Amendment concern about cooperating in the administrative proceeding.[151] Furthermore, you received a three-day suspension for a loss of weapon violation after the incident in question when, about a year later, you left Bureau issued weapons in the trunk of your vehicle parked in your same neighborhood as the shooting incident and the vehicle was stolen. This clearly shows that you still have not learned appropriate weapon handling and safety.

If you could not by the time of the compelled DOJ-OIG interview, after it was confirmed for you that you were no longer facing the possibility of any criminal prosecution, admit that your actions in this situation were objectively unreasonable, I believe you will never be able to candidly examine your actions and acknowledge mistakes when you make them. This is a significant risk to the FBI for multiple reasons, two of which are: the same mistake or poor judgment may be made again; and when a mistake is made that could impact an investigation and the employee is not willing to admit it (for example, accidental evidence mishandling), it could lead to negatively impacting an FBI case and preventing justice from being done.

I am also extremely concerned about your inability to appropriately apply the DOJ Deadly Force Policy, given not only the events of this case but your reliance on your military tactical training as part of your reasoning for believing certain factors contributed to thinking that deadly force was appropriate (such as bullet ricochets as you experienced in small Middle Eastern villages), and your extensive use of deadly force under a non-DOJ policy during your military career ("in excess of 20 times"). From the evidence presented, you applied a different standard for using deadly force than what is acceptable for an FBI agent and the FBI's mission. While the military's standard is appropriate for its soldiers' roles in combat zones, New York is not a combat zone, nor is it a small Middle Eastern village. You are now an FBI agent in the United States and it is FBI and DOJ policies by which you must abide. You must also abide by the law, which includes refraining from using deadly force outside the scope of DOJ's deadly force policy. The FBI employs numerous military veterans who have provided many significant contributions to the FBI and the FBI appreciates the breadth of experience and dedication they bring to their positions in the FBI. Most of these employees have transitioned well from their military mission to the FBI mission. However, because you are either unrepentant and/or incapable of acknowledging the severity of your actions in this situation, I am concerned you will continue to justify the use of deadly force under a standard not appropriate for the FBI and an FBI Special Agent.

Your conduct of refusing to testify in a grand jury and refusing to cooperate with the FBI and DOJ-OIG was entirely unacceptable and reprehensible for an FBI employee.[152] Furthering this disgrace and dishonor was the fact your refusal to testify against Individual and [redacted] b6 -7 b7C -7 effectively destroyed DA's ability to bring a case against them; hence, you obstructed justice, conduct that seriously calls into question your judgment and character, especially given your employment as an FBI Special Agent. Should you have to testify in any FBI cases in the future, the fact that you refused to testify and cooperate with this administrative process may have to be disclosed. This will not only impeach your credibility, and therefore negatively impact FBI cases, but it will also embarrass the FBI and undermine its standing with the public.

Based on the circumstances in this case, I am dismissing you from the rolls of the FBI for your 5.15 offense.

B. Lack of Candor/Lying – No Oath

The investigation establishes you violated FBI Offense Code 2.5 (Lack of Candor/Lying – No Oath). The standard penalty is a seven-day suspension. Mitigating factors warrant an oral reprimand to a five-day suspension, and aggravating factors warrant a 10-day suspension to dismissal.

I have considered all mitigating factors supported by the record, including, but not limited to, your "successful" and "excellent" performance ratings, the fact you were awakened from sleep at the beginning of this incident, and the stress a law enforcement officer feels at the prospect of himself being subject of a criminal investigation as well as a potential civil lawsuit by the Individual. A shooting incident is an extremely stressful time for an agent and an agent may need time to mentally process what happened.

Notwithstanding all relevant mitigating factors, I find aggravation is appropriate because you still refuse to be forthcoming about the differences in your statements to PD and DOJ-OIG and to accept responsibility for your actions over two years later. Additionally, you at all times

[152] I again note that failure to participate in an administrative proceeding and obstructing justice are both violations of the FBI Offense Code. Rather than charging you with those separate violations, I am considering your conduct as an aggravating factor.

remained completely uncooperative with all federal entities investigating this matter, including FBI and DOJ-OIG. Your refusal to cooperate continued even after you were informed there would be no criminal prosecution and you therefore no longer had a Fifth Amendment concern about cooperating in the administrative proceeding.[153]

Your misrepresentations to the PD/DA were material and go to the heart of your articulation of why you believed, however still unreasonably, you were justified to use deadly force against Individual. These misrepresentations painted a more favorable picture for your decision to shoot Individual than what you acknowledged the circumstances to be to DOJ-OIG once the possibility of criminal prosecution was gone. Furthermore, candor is essential for an FBI agent for the integrity of FBI investigations.

You have refused to accept responsibility for your violations of the DOJ Deadly Force Policy and you lacked candor in claiming you complied with the requirement to notify your supervisor when you called Friend rather than Supervisor.

Based on the circumstances in this case, I am dismissing you from the rolls of the FBI for your 2.5 offense.

CONCLUSION

In sum, a preponderance of the evidence substantiates that you violated Offense Codes 5.15 and 2.5. Violations of Offense Codes 5.15 and 2.5 both warrant dismissal. As a result, the penalty of dismissal is appropriate. Your conduct, as set forth herein, represents a willful and intentional violation of Bureau rules and regulations. As a result, I am dismissing you from the rolls of the FBI. This action is necessary and warranted to promote the efficiency of the FBI.[154]

APPEAL RIGHTS

If you wish to appeal, within ten (10) calendar days following notification of OPR's final decision, you must forward a brief statement that you intend to appeal to the Assistant Director, Human Resources Division, Room 10903, Federal Bureau of Investigation, J. Edgar Hoover Building, 935 Pennsylvania Avenue, Northwest, Washington, D.C. 20535-0001. You may also fax your notice of appeal to HRD's Appellate Unit at 202-324-9312. You will then be provided an opportunity to review the file and submit a brief based on a deadline set by HRD. Your division head must be notified at the time you file an appeal. If an appeal is filed for any action other than a dismissal, the OPR disciplinary penalty will be held in abeyance pending the appellate decision.

[153] Refusal to cooperate in an administrative proceeding is itself a violation of the FBI Offense Code and is punishable only by dismissal.

[154] You are admonished not to discuss this matter with anyone other than the Inspection Division's Internal Investigations Section (IIS), OPR, the Human Resources Division's Appellate Unit (APU), the Security Division, the FBI's Employee Assistance Program, the FBI's Ombudsman, or an attorney who has signed the appropriate Nondisclosure Agreement. Neither you, your attorney, nor anyone acting on your behalf should contact any witness or potential witness about this inquiry without first obtaining approval from IIS, OPR, or APU. In addition, you are admonished that any redacted materials or other FBI documents you review in connection with this inquiry are the property of the FBI, and you are prohibited from photocopying or removing such documents from FBI space. You may take notes concerning the content of such material, but those notes may be used only to facilitate your participation in this disciplinary inquiry and for no other purpose.

If you are appealing a suspension of fourteen (14) calendar days or less, the AD, HRD, will decide the appeal. If you are appealing a suspension of more than fourteen (14) calendar days, demotion, or dismissal, the Disciplinary Review Board (DRB) will decide the appeal. The standard of review on appeal in examining OPR's factual findings and penalty is the substantial evidence standard of review. The penalty set by OPR cannot be increased on appeal by either the AD, HRD, or the DRB. In the rare instance that the AD, HRD, or the DRB identifies factors that require additional investigation and/or adjudication, the case will be remanded to the Inspection Division and/or OPR for additional action.

Should you wish to retain an attorney to assist you in your appeal, you must ensure that the enclosed forms are completed prior to disclosing any Bureau information to the attorney handling your appeal. If you and the attorney who will assist you have already completed and provided these disclosure forms to the Bureau in connection with this case, you do not have to re-submit them. You are referred to Corporate Policy Directive 0235D (Disciplinary Appeals Process) for additional details pertaining to appeals.

As a preference-eligible veteran, appeal to the AD, HRD, does not abrogate your right to petition the Merit Systems Protection Board (MSPB), in matters of suspension for more than fourteen days, dismissal, or demotion, in accordance with the instructions contained in 5 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), Part 1201. An appeal to MSPB may be filed on line or by mail, facsimile, commercial overnight delivery, or personal delivery to the MSPB Regional Office covering your geographic area, as specified in Appendix II of 5 CFR 1201. The facsimile number listed is TDD capable; however, calls will be answered by voice before being connected to the TDD. Appeals must be filed no later than thirty calendar days from the effective date of this action or thirty days after the date of receipt of this decision, whichever is later. Enclosed for your assistance is a copy of the MSPB appeal form. For further information regarding the MSPB appeal process, please visit their website at http://www.mspb.gov.

REFERRAL TO OTHER DIVISIONS

In accordance with established policy, the results of this administrative inquiry will be shared with other divisions, as appropriate. Thus, a copy of this communication is being provided to the Security Division as it may be relevant to your retention of a Top Secret security clearance.

NOTICE TO SEPARATED EMPLOYEE REGARDING FEDERAL EMPLOYEES HEALTH BENEFITS COVERAGE

Your Federal Employees Health Benefit (FEHB) coverage will automatically continue at no cost to you for 31 days after your separation.

Under authority of 5 U.S.C. § 8905a and 5 C.F.R. § 890.1112, the Benefits Unit, Human Resources Division, has determined that this separation is for "gross misconduct" as defined by 5

Mr. [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

C.F.R. § 890.1102. As a result, the Bureau intends to deny you Temporary Continuation of Coverage eligibility. This means your FEHB coverage will end 31 days after your separation and you would not be allowed to enroll for continued Federal Employees Health Benefits coverage. You may appeal this determination to the Personnel Officer, HRD, FBI Headquarters, Room 10903, and a final decision on this matter will be issued in writing. An appeal must be filed within ten calendar days following notification of your separation from the Bureau.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Report of a shooting incident which occurred on 05/22/2013 involving Ibragim Abdulbakiyevich Todashev (Todashev) and FBI Boston (BS) Field Office Agent [redacted] Massachusetts State Police (MSP) Troopers [redacted] and [redacted] and FBI Tampa (TP) Task Force Officer (TFO) [redacted] of the Orlando Police Department (OPD). b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Details:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 04/21/2013, after the Boston Marathon bombing, the TP Orlando Resident Agency (ORA) received an immediate lead regarding Todashev. The lead referenced telephonic contact between Todashev and Boston Marathon bombing suspect Tamerlan Tsarnaev. TP ORA TFO [redacted] along with another TP ORA FBI Agent conducted an interview of Todashev on 04/21/2013. The interview was initially conducted at Todashev's residence and then was moved to the OPD. The purpose of this interview was to identify the nature of the relationship between Todashev and Tsarnaev. During the interview, Todashev stated he had trained as a Mixed Martial Arts (MMA) fighter with Tsarnaev in Boston. Todashev voluntarily provided his DNA and signed consent to search forms for his computer and five cellular telephones. On 04/23/2013, TP ORA initiated a Full Investigation (FI) on Todashev. b6 -4 b7C -4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Todashev was a certified MMA fighter in both Florida and Massachusetts with a prior history of assault which was known to TP, Agent [redacted] and the MSP Troopers. He held a Florida State Boxing Commission license, number FED#: 129-225 with an expiration date of 08/08/2017, and a State of Florida, Department of Business and Professional Regulation, b6 -1 b7C -1

MMA Participant, license number PART4184, with an expiration date of 12/31/2012. In addition, Todashev held a Massachusetts – Department of Public Safety State Athletic Commission MMA Amateur License, number: A3105, with an expiration date of 07/18/2012. Information obtained from local law enforcement reports and a National Crime Information Center (NCIC) report documented Todashev's prior alleged involvement in violent interactions. Specifically, in a Boston Police Department (PD) report of an incident on 02/11/2010, Todashev was charged with Disorderly Person, Resisting Arrest, Reckless Driving, and Weaving. In an Osceola County Sheriff's Office (SO) statement dated 07/07/2012, Todashev was mentioned as a participant with another individual, [redacted] in a Simple Battery incident involving the attack on an employee of the Ali Baba Hookah Café. Todashev was not arrested or charged in this incident. Most recently, an Orange County SO Incident Report of an incident on 05/04/2013, stated Todashev was arrested for Aggravated Battery (causing bodily harm or disability to another), a Second Degree Felony. In addition, MMA fights involving Todashev were posted on YouTube and had been observed by TP, Agent [redacted] and the MSP Troopers.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Through BS's investigation, additional information was obtained indicating Todashev's possible involvement in a triple homicide in Waltham, Massachusetts on 09/11/2011. Based on this information, BS requested a second interview which was conducted by TFO [redacted] along with another TP ORA FBI Agent. Agent [redacted] and Trooper [redacted] observed the interview which was conducted at the OPD on 05/16/2013. The interview strategy focused on establishing Todashev's timeline in the Boston area in September 2011 and his association with Tsarnaev. During the interview, Todashev provided information which indicated his presence in the Boston area on about 09/10/2011, as well as further clarification on his contacts. Todashev also mentioned a tentative plan to leave the country, however no date was provided.

(U//~~FOUO~~) It was during this interview that TP contacted Citizenship and Immigration Services (CIS) regarding [redacted] as Todashev was being interviewed. [redacted] This action by CIS was not well received by Todashev and Todashev blamed the FBI for [redacted]

(U//~~FOUO~~) After the interview, TP obtained information indicating Todashev had tentative travel plans to return to Russia on 05/24/2013. Due to Todashev's possible departure from the U.S., CTD requested another interview for the purpose of solidifying Todashev's timeline in the Boston area in September 2011 and to subsequently confront Todashev with forensic evidence associated with the homicides. On 05/21/2013, TFO [redacted] arranged an interview with Todashev for later that evening at OPD. While preparing for the interview, Agent [redacted] and Troopers [redacted] and [redacted] learned Todashev did not want to meet at the OPD due to [redacted] during his prior interview with the FBI. However, Todashev agreed to meet at his apartment. Todashev's residence was an apartment with a standalone address of 6022 Peregrine Avenue, Orlando, Florida. Agent [redacted]'s supervisor had been briefed the interview would take place at OPD. TFO [redacted]'s supervisor was also briefed the interview would take place at OPD; however, was subsequently informed the interview location changed to Todashev's residence.

b6 -1,2,4

NYT-66

(U//~~FOUO~~) For the 05/21/2013 Todashev interview, no operational or arrest plan was documented and there was no plan in place to arrest Todashev. In addition, no communications plan was established to provide operational updates to the appropriate FBI personnel on the progress of the interview.

(U//~~FOUO~~) While making arrangements for the interview and due to the change in venue, Troopers [redacted] briefly discussed recording Todashev's interview. Both Troopers mentioned the recording devices they both possessed. On the way to the interview, the MSP Troopers, Agent [redacted] and TFO [redacted] briefly discussed whether Florida was a one or two party consent state. No decision was made to record the interview. SIRT later determined Florida is a two party consent state with a law enforcement exception. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/21/2013, at approximately 7:35 p.m., TFO [redacted] Agent [redacted] and Troopers [redacted] met in the parking lot of Todashev's residence with Todashev and his friend [redacted] Todashev led the MSP Troopers and Agent [redacted] into his apartment while TFO [redacted] who had no involvement in the Waltham homicide investigations, remained outside of the apartment with Todashev's friend [redacted] Prior to entering Todashev's apartment, the law enforcement officer's observed an image of an AK-47 at the top of Todashev's front door. TFO [redacted] provided perimeter security for the duration of the interview. b6 -1,2,4 b7C -1,2,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) TP had surveillance coverage on Todashev on the evening of 05/21/2013, from 4 p.m. to midnight. The surveillance team was in the vicinity of Todashev's residence throughout the evening and spot checked Todashev's parking lot for a specific vehicle associated with Todashev. At approximately 7:45 p.m., two unknown males (TFO [redacted]) were observed in Todashev's parking lot near said vehicle. At approximately 11 p.m., the vehicle departed the parking lot and traveled to a gas station before returning to the same parking lot. Surveillance was terminated at midnight. b6 -4 b7C -4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Todashev's residence was a two-level apartment with a separate entrance. The ground floor consisted of two rooms, a living room and a kitchen separated by a counter which permitted viewing from one room into the other. A small hallway next to the kitchen connected the apartment entrance to the living room. A sliding glass door was located at the rear of the living room which provided access to a common area behind the residence. A single stairway in the living room led to the upstairs loft and bathroom. Hanging on the stairwell wall in the living room was a metal sword. The approximate overall inner dimensions for the ground floor were 14'5" by 32'2".

(U//~~FOUO~~) Upon entering the apartment, Agent [redacted] took a seat, on the second stair step which led up to the loft. Trooper [redacted] sat in a folding chair in the living room and Trooper [redacted] stood against the stairwell wall, also in the living room. Todashev sat on the floor next to a bed located in the corner of the living room, adjacent to the sliding glass door. This was directly across from Trooper [redacted] and to Agent [redacted] 's front left. Trooper [redacted] conducted the interview with occasional support from Trooper [redacted] and Agent [redacted] b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 (U//~~FOUO~~) Shortly after entering Todashev's apartment, unbeknownst to the others, Trooper [redacted] turned on his small portable MSP audio recording device concealed in his left breast pocket. The interview began almost immediately and Todashev was described as calm, articulate, and not excited or agitated. Approximately 20 minutes into the interview, Trooper [redacted] remembered he had a personal JVC digital recorder in his bag. He decided to turn it on and placed it on the table after he deleted some of his family videos to make room to record the interview. This was also done unbeknownst to the others. As Todashev talked, Trooper [redacted] continued to check the recorder and had to delete additional family videos on two occasions to make more room to record. The first portion of the interview was also deleted in order to ensure there was enough room to record once the conversation focused on the Waltham murders.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Throughout the duration of the interview, Todashev was free to move around his apartment and allowed to smoke cigarettes, open and close the sliding glass door for ventilation, and take both water and restroom breaks. Approximately two hours into the interview, the questioning transitioned from Todashev's timeline in Boston and his contacts to his involvement with the triple homicide.

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] It was at this point, at approximately 10:25 p.m., when Trooper [redacted] provided Todashev with his Miranda warning. Trooper [redacted] verbally provided the warning to Todashev and had him sign the Miranda warning form (FD-395). This was captured via Trooper [redacted]'s personal JVC digital recorder. Todashev waved his rights and continued to answer questions. At approximately the same time, Todashev's friend, [redacted] provided TFO [redacted] with Todashev's cellular telephone and wallet and left the area. TFO [redacted] texted the MSP Troopers he had possession of Todashev's property. Trooper [redacted] exited the residence to retrieve the property from TFO [redacted] and then returned to the interview.

(U//~~FOUO~~) During the interview, Trooper [redacted] provided updates to Middlesex Assistant District Attorney (ADA) [redacted] At approximately 10:30 p.m., ADA [redacted] headed into his office in anticipation of drafting an indictment based on the information provided by Trooper [redacted]

(U//~~FOUO~~) A short time after Todashev signed the Miranda warning, the JVC battery failed and Trooper [redacted] used his personal cellular telephone to continue recording the interview. [redacted] Todashev noticed Trooper [redacted] recording with his cellular telephone and requested it be turned off. Trooper [redacted] complied. A short time later, Trooper [redacted] placed his personal cellular telephone on the dining room table and resumed recording.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The recordings, both via Trooper [redacted]'s personal JVC digital recorder and his personal cellular telephone, captured Todashev's description of both Tsarnaev's and Todashev's participation in the triple homicide. In summary, [redacted]

(U//~~FOUO~~) Once the questioning focused on his presence in the Boston area during the time of the Waltham homicides Todashev's demeanor changed. Todashev began to chain smoke, repeatedly glanced around the room, appeared fidgety, and looked as if he was stretching his arms and legs as he spoke. b7A -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) With the sliding glass door open in the room, Todashev sat on the bed and At approximately 11:55 p.m., Trooper informed Trooper and Agent he was going to step outside for a few minutes. Trooper then stepped outside in order to call the Boston ADA and provide an update. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 b7A -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) As Todashev Agent moved from his position on the stairs to Trooper 's seat on the folding chair in front of the white table, approximately six to seven feet from Todashev. Trooper stayed standing in his original location next to the stairwell wall. As seen on Trooper 's cellular telephone video recording, Todashev began to smoke and drink water as he scanned the room. Todashev asked for more cigarettes even though a nearly full pack was on the table in front of him. Trooper believed Todashev was attempting to get him to leave the room. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 b7A -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) While Todashev Trooper turned off his personal cell phone recording device in order to use his phone and review his messages. Trooper heard Todashev ask Agent Agent responded stating, Shortly afterward, Todashev asked to go to the restroom. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 b7A -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) For safety purposes, just like prior trips to the restroom, Trooper and Agent accompanied Todashev upstairs to the restroom. Agent was at the top of the stairs and Trooper was standing on the stairs about halfway up where he could maintain visual contact. Both were alert due to Todashev's deliberate behavior as Todashev was moving extremely slow, looking around, and did not appear to have to use the bathroom. Trooper and Agent made eye contact and gestured to one another to be aware of the threat Todashev posed. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) When Todashev finished in the restroom, Trooper proceeded down the stairs first, followed by Todashev, and then by Agent Due to Todashev's b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 noticeable change in behavior, Trooper [redacted] became concerned Todashev might try to flee or attack them. Trooper [redacted] previously observed Todashev looking around at the metal sword and described Todashev as moving extremely slowly as if he was calculating in his mind. As Trooper [redacted] turned toward the main room, he grabbed the sword which was hanging on the wall, and as a safety precaution, quickly placed the sword behind a shoe rack next to the kitchen entrance. Although Todashev was still on the stairs, Trooper [redacted] believed Todashev saw him hide the sword due to his reflection in a large mirror positioned at the bottom of the stairway. This mirror appeared to be strategically placed to view the hallway leading to the front door from the stairs. Based on Trooper [redacted]'s training and experience, he was alert and felt the need to remove the sword hanging on the apartment wall as Todashev's demeanor had changed.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Todashev returned to his position sitting on the bed [redacted] Agent [redacted] returned to sit in the folding chair directly in front of the white table and Todashev. Trooper [redacted] changed position and sat on the stairs, while Trooper [redacted] remained outside.

b6 -1,4
b7A -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Due to Todashev's continued methodical behavior, Trooper [redacted] sent a text message at 12:03 a.m. on 05/22/2013 to Agent [redacted] and Trooper [redacted] which read: "Be on guard. He is in vulnerable position to do something bad. Be on guard now. I see him looking around at times." Trooper [redacted] was on his cell phone at the time and was unaware of the incoming text message. Trooper [redacted] waited for Agent [redacted]'s BlackBerry to "ding" to signify the receipt of the text message. After about a minute, Trooper [redacted] still did not hear the "ding" so he looked down to check his cell phone to make sure the text went through.

b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Almost immediately at 12:04 a.m., Todashev was in the process of [redacted] while Agent [redacted] was reading his notepad and Trooper [redacted] was looking at his phone for the text message. Suddenly, Agent [redacted] heard a loud noise and felt a blow to the back of his head. Trooper [redacted] was looking at his personal cell phone when he heard what he described as a roaring noise and looked up to see the table between Todashev and Agent [redacted] flying toward Agent [redacted] Todashev had flipped the table he was writing on, and Trooper [redacted] believed it had struck Agent [redacted] in the head. Trooper [redacted] immediately yelled "[redacted]" (Trooper [redacted]) to alert Trooper [redacted] there was trouble inside the residence. Agent [redacted] who was knocked partially off his chair, saw Todashev run past him towards the kitchen and tried to grab Todashev's legs but missed. Agent [redacted] then stood up, drew his weapon, and gave verbal commands more than once to Todashev, to include, "show me your hands!" Agent [redacted] observed Trooper [redacted] to his left but was focused on Todashev and not aware if Trooper [redacted] had drawn his weapon.

b6 -1,4
b7A -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Agent [redacted] stood in the middle of the living room and saw Todashev in the kitchen and described what he heard as the sound of metal banging together like knives in a hurried fashion. Agent [redacted] continued to give verbal commands for Todashev to show his hands, but Todashev did not comply. Agent [redacted] believed Todashev had retrieved some type of weapon. Trooper [redacted] then observed Todashev run toward the front door near the kitchen area and began quickly scanning left to right as if looking for something. Trooper [redacted] thought Todashev was trying to flee and stepped towards him. As Todashev reached the front door he grabbed a red pole, approximately five-feet long, which was leaning against the wall near the front door. Trooper described Todashev's movements as incredibly quick, "like something in a movie." As he grabbed the pole, Todashev turned quickly, ran at full speed from the entryway directly toward Trooper and Agent Agent saw Todashev's left shoulder drop as he came through the entryway toward the living room where he and Trooper were standing. Again knowing of Todashev's prior arrests and status as a MMA fighter, Agent noted that it was obvious to him that Todashev was in an attack posture. Trooper saw Todashev raise the pole above his head with both hands in a fighting position, and charge toward Trooper Trooper raised his arms in front of his face to protect himself and stated he believed Todashev was, "going to impale me with the pole." b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) In the split second available to assess the threat posed by Todashev, Agent was in fear for his life and the life of Trooper In order to stop this threat, Agent shot Todashev with two volleys of three to four shots per volley. Trooper heard the shots fired from the first volley off to his right and saw Todashev make two twisting movements with his torso which indicated he had been impacted by the shots. Both Trooper and Agent observed Todashev fall and almost immediately re-establish his footing, suddenly lunging towards them at an angle. Still in fear for his and the MSP Trooper's life, Agent shot Todashev with a second volley of three or four shots in order to stop the threat. Trooper heard the shots and saw Todashev fall to the ground, face first. At that time, both Agent and Trooper believed the threat had been eliminated. Agent fired seven shots in total using his Bureau issued Glock 23, all of which hit Todashev with the fatal shots entering his head and heart. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Immediately after the second volley of shots, Trooper heard Agent yell "call 911." Trooper turned to look toward Agent and saw he was bleeding profusely from his head. Trooper applied pressure to a large laceration near the back of Agent 's head. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Trooper who was still outside on his cell phone with ADA heard noise coming from inside the residence followed by several gunshots. Trooper did not notice anyone else outside, dropped his notes, and drew his weapon. Trooper followed by TFO announced himself, and came through the front door of the apartment which was not locked. When Trooper entered the apartment, he saw Todashev lying on the floor. It was apparent to Trooper due to the multiple gunshots and lack of movement, that Todashev was dead. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Immediately after entry into the apartment, Trooper saw Agent bleeding from the head profusely. Trooper applied pressure to Agent 's wound while Trooper checked Todashev. Trooper used a rubber medical glove and checked Todashev for a carotid and ulnar pulse. Trooper was unable to locate a pulse at either location and Todashev's eyes were open and unblinking. Trooper believed Todashev was deceased and did not move his body further to keep from disturbing the scene. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) After entry, TFO [redacted] stepped back out of the doorway and called Emergency Medical Services at approximately 12:07 a.m. The Orlando Fire Department responded and after arriving on-scene pronounced Todashev dead. Agent [redacted] and Trooper [redacted] were taken to the hospital where Agent [redacted] was treated for a large gash on his head which required nine staples. Trooper [redacted] sustained no injuries other than a temporary hearing impairment in his right ear due to the sound produced by the gunshots. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) The SIRT was initially not aware of the audio and video recordings taken during the interview of Todashev on 05/21/2013. On 06/05/2013, Agent [redacted] advised the SIRT of the existence of the recordings obtained by the MSP Troopers during the interview of Todashev. On 06/06/2013, the SIRT obtained the Todashev audio and video interview recordings from the MSP. Three recording devices were used by the MSP Troopers at various times during the interview. In total, the devices captured four recorded video segments, three with audio, and one without. The recordings captured various portions of the interview and confession of Todashev; however, none captured the shooting incident. Florida is a two-party consent state with a law enforcement exception. Therefore, the MSP Troopers, as law enforcement officers, were within authority to record Todashev without his consent. The Department of Justice (DOJ), Civil Rights Division concurs with this analysis and reviewed the audio and video recordings. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 06/13/2013, the SIRT re-interviewed Troopers [redacted] regarding the use of the recording devices. b6 -4 b7C -4

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 07/24/2013, FBI Chief Inspector Robert Shields, Jr., Inspector Dena Choucair, Assistant Inspector [redacted] and DOJ Civil Rights Attorney [redacted] travelled to Orlando and met with Chief Medical Examiner Dr. [redacted] and Medical Examiner (ME) Dr. [redacted] to discuss the Autopsy Report of Todashev. Todashev was shot seven times and the entry and exit points of each bullet and angles of impact were fully discussed. Most importantly, the shots to Todashev's body were angled indicating a twisting, bending, or turning of the body at the time of entry. The shots included three to the left upper side of Todashev's torso, two to the middle right side of his back, one to the top left shoulder, and one to the left side of the crown of his head. Based on the wounds and the internal path of the bullets, it is likely Todashev was moving throughout the incident. Dr. [redacted] advised the trajectory of the bullets through the body indicated the shooter was to the left of Todashev. In addition, the results of the autopsy were consistent with Todashev falling forward toward the shooter with head down. Dr. [redacted] and Dr. [redacted] also indicated the shot to the head was likely one of the final shots as it was incapacitating. b6 -1,3,4 b7C -1,3,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Dr. [redacted] advised the trajectory of the head and shoulder wounds, the combination of the seven entrance wounds to include the paths of the bullets, were inconsistent with other possible scenarios. First, due to the extreme downward trajectory of the wounds to the head ("A") and upper shoulder ("B"), these wounds were inconsistent with the shooter being behind Todashev as if Todashev was running away. Rather, those extreme downward trajectories could have occurred when Todashev had his back to the shooter, only if: 1.) Todashev leaned backwards at a severe angle toward the shooter; or 2.) Todashev was standing b6 -4 b7C -4 below a shooter who was above him; or 3.) Todashev was shot while both he and the shooter were prone on the floor.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 07/25/2013, a meeting was held with A/USA [redacted], Ninth Judicial Circuit of Florida, State Attorney Jeffrey Ashton, and the State Attorney's Office Investigator [redacted] A full briefing of the shooting incident was provided by Inspector Choucair and disks/binders of the SIRT investigation were provided. The State Attorney expressed concern about backlash from the public once the ME Report was released, as it described shots to Todashev's back and advised he would conduct an independent review of the shooting. The State Attorney requested to re-interview the MSP Troopers and audio record those interviews. b6 -3,4 b7C -3,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) The MSP Troopers were re-interviewed on 09/06/2013 by the State Attorney Investigator [redacted] These re-interviews did not provide any new substantive information. Observers to the interview included: MSP Command Staff, DOJ Civil Rights Division Attorney [redacted] FBI Inspector Choucair, and Assistant Inspector [redacted] b6 -1,3,4 b7C -1,3,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) At the time of the SIRT, based on information provided by OPD, a decision was made by Inspector Choucair not to conduct a neighborhood canvass. Upon further discussion and review by FBIHQ Inspection Division, DOJ Civil Rights Division, and the State Attorney, a decision was made to conduct interviews despite the time period that had lapsed. On 12/04/2013, Assistant Inspector [redacted] with the assistance of a TP ORA Agent conducted a neighborhood canvass of the residences surrounding 6022 Peregrine Avenue, Orlando, Florida, 32819. Seventeen residences were approached, of which occupants of three residences described hearing shots fired around midnight. Of the three, one resident observed the lights on, the sliding glass door blinds open, and several males inside Todashev's residence. The resident thought this was odd, because the blinds were never open. At approximately 12:00 a.m. on 05/22/2013, this resident heard four loud pops, followed by three additional pops. Although he/she could not see where the noise came from, he/she believed the individuals across the lake were doing construction, and looked out the window and observed several individuals "hovering" over something on the ground. This resident advised he/she did not call the police to report what was heard because he/she thought the noise was attributed to construction. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) FBI Laboratory Shooting Reconstruction Team (LSRT) Personnel:

Photographer [redacted] – Operational Projects Unit, Photographic Operations and Field Photography Programs b7C -1
Visual Information Specialist [redacted] – Operational Projects Unit, Digital Mapping and Documentation

B. (U//~~FOUO~~) Shooting Incident Review Protocol:

(U) All members of the SIRT reviewed the FBI produced video entitled, "The Rain After the Storm – Shooting Incident Investigations" and the Inspection Division Shooting Review Protocol.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/22/2013, IIC Choucair spoke with TP ORA ASAC Robert C. Geeslin who was acting on behalf of A/SAC [redacted] to arrange logistics prior to arriving in TP ORA. On 05/22/2013, the SIRT traveled to TP ORA and upon arriving, IIC Choucair and the SIRT members went directly to the scene of the incident, 6022 Peregrine Avenue, Orlando, Florida. Upon arriving, the SIRT was greeted by ASAC Robert C. Geeslin, TP ERT Coordinator [redacted] BS SSA [redacted] and MSP Detective Lieutenant [redacted] The SIRT was briefed by ASAC Geeslin and TP ERT Coordinator [redacted] The SIRT observed the scene through the front and rear door of the Todashev's residence as TP ERT described the scene.

b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/23/2013, IIC Choucair met with Agent [redacted] TFO [redacted] the two MSP Troopers, their respective attorneys, and management personnel to explain the review process and protocols.

b6 -1,4
b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Four Signed Sworn Statement (SSS) were taken, two from the Agent directly involved in the shooting, Agent [redacted] and two from the MSP Trooper who witnessed the shooting, Trooper [redacted] Other interviews, events, and observations were documented via FD-302s. Trooper [redacted] TFO [redacted] ASAC Geeslin, and SSA [redacted] were allowed to read their FD-302s to confirm the accuracy of the information provided. Neither the FD-644 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information on a Voluntary Basis) nor FD-645 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Required to Provide Information) were utilized. The SSSs and interviews of witnesses were conducted voluntarily.

b7C -1,4

(U) An FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident) was executed by Agent [redacted] for his SSS.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/24/2013, IIC Choucair, ASAC Geeslin, and TL [redacted] held a conference call with the United States Attorney's Office (USAO) Chief [redacted] of the Middle District of Florida, and provided a briefing of the Agent-involved shooting. USAO Chief [redacted] provided a verbal declination of prosecution to IIC Choucair regarding the Agent-involved shooting incident which occurred on 05/22/2013.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/24/2013, IIC Choucair, ASAC Geeslin, and TL [redacted] held a conference call with the Ninth Judicial Circuit of Florida State Attorney Jeffrey Ashton. State Attorney Ashton requested the documentation of the facts from the Shooting Incident Response Review. State Attorney Ashton verbally advised the actions taken by the FBI on 05/22/2013, to include use of deadly force, were justified based on the verbal briefing provided by IIC Choucair. State Attorney Ashton wanted the opportunity to review the documentation before providing the letter of declination and concluded with a verbal declination of prosecution. He advised a formal declination letter would be issued once all the facts are reviewed.

(U) On 05/24/2013, IIC Choucair telephonically contacted Attorney [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division and provided an update on the investigation.

b6 -3
b7C -3

(U) On 05/24/2013, IIC Choucair conducted an out brief with ASAC Geeslin and explained the ensuing steps of the SIRT process. IIC Choucair also provided an out brief to Agent [redacted] and the MSP Troopers to explain the ensuing steps of the SIRT process. b6 -1 b7C -1

C. (U//~~FOUO~~) Personnel Involved in the Shooting:

1. BS SA [redacted] (fired weapon) b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4
2. MSP Trooper [redacted]
3. MSP Trooper [redacted]
4. TP TFO and Orlando PD, Master Police Officer [redacted]

D. (U//~~FOUO~~) Firearms Training:

(U//~~FOUO~~) The BS Field Office provided qualification records for Agent [redacted]. A review indicated he was current on his firearms qualification certification. b6 -1 b7C -1

E. (U//~~FOUO~~) Deadly Force Training:

(U//~~FOUO~~) FBI Deadly Force Policy Training was conducted on 10/23/2012 during legal training provided to the BS personnel. BS SSA [redacted] Chief Division Counsel, advised SSA [redacted] or SSA [redacted] Associate Division Counsel were the presenters of this training, which was memorialized via Electronic Communication dated 01/17/2013. A review of the attendance records conducted by SSA [redacted] indicated Agent [redacted] was present for the training conducted on 10/23/2012. b6 -1 b7C -1

F. (U//~~FOUO~~) Use Of Body Armor and Law Enforcement Identifiers:

(U//~~FOUO~~) As the Agent and MSP Troopers were conducting an interview of Todashev and not participating in a planned law enforcement action, none of them were wearing identifiable ballistic body armor, nor were FBI or law enforcement identifiers displayed. However, all personnel verbally identified themselves as FBI and law enforcement officers to Todashev upon their initial arrival at his residence for the interview.

G. (U//~~FOUO~~) Criminal History:

(U//~~FOUO~~) The NCIC criminal history check contained two entries for Todashev which documented two arrests for offenses including aggravated battery, disorderly conduct, and resisting arrest. At the time of the NCIC query on 05/23/2013, no active arrest warrants were located for Todashev.

(U//~~FOUO~~) In addition, three police reports were obtained for Todashev. A Boston PD incident report on Todashev referenced a traffic altercation on 02/11/2010 in which Todashev was charged with Disorderly Person, Resisting Arrest, Reckless Driving, and Weaving. An Osceola County SO incident report on Todashev referenced an assault at the Ali Baba Hookah Bar on 07/07/2012. Although not arrested or charged by the SO, Todashev was associated with another individual, [redacted], who was charged and arrested for Tampering with a b6 -2 b7C -2

Victim by Threat regarding this incident. An Orange County SO incident report on Todashev dated 05/04/2013 indicated Todashev was arrested for Aggravated Battery (causing bodily harm or disability to another), a Second Degree Felony, for an incident involving two other individuals over a parking space.

H. (U//~~FOUO~~) Laboratory Division Reports:

(U//~~FOUO~~) The scene of the shooting was secured and processed by the TP Field Office ERT and the Laboratory Shooting Reconstruction Team (LRST) to include use of Total Station.

(U//~~FOUO~~) TP ERT collected seven shell casings in the vicinity of where Agent [redacted] fired his weapon. Six projectiles were recovered from the body of Todashev during the medical examination. One projectile was recovered from the scene. This projectile was believed to have fallen out of the body of Todashev with bodily fluids as the body was being turned over by those assisting the Medical Examiner. FBI TP Total Station and FBI Laboratory Laser Scanning and Spherical Photography were completed at the shooting scene. No Trajectory Analysis was completed as all projectiles entered the body of Todashev and had no other impact points. b6 -1 b7C -1

Firearms/Toolmarks Unit Analysis

1B7 - One expended .40 Smith & Wesson caliber cartridge casing
1B8 - One expended .40 Smith & Wesson caliber cartridge casing
1B9 - One expended .40 Smith & Wesson caliber cartridge casing
1B10 - One expended .40 Smith & Wesson caliber cartridge casing
1B11- One expended .40 Smith & Wesson caliber cartridge casing
1B12 - One expended .40 Smith & Wesson caliber cartridge casing
1B13- One expended .40 Smith & Wesson caliber cartridge casing
1B1- One projectile, .40/10mm caliber copper jacketed hollow point bullet
1B23- Six projectiles, .40/10mm caliber copper jacketed hollow point bullets
1B22 - Smith & Wesson .40 caliber Glock pistol, Model 23, Serial Number NMS622 b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Two laboratory reports, dated 07/07/2013 and 09/30/2013, stated the seven projectiles and seven cartridge cases were identified as having been fired from the barrel of the Glock #23, Serial NMS622. This was the bureau issued weapon of Agent [redacted]

Latent Fingerprint Unit Analysis

1B2 - Notebook
1B14 - Broom stick

(U//~~FOUO~~) One laboratory report, dated 10/24/2013, stated one latent fingerprint of value was detected on the sword and was not a fingerprint of Todashev, Agent [redacted] or either of the MSP Troopers. No latent prints of value were detected on the broom stick. Due to the many factors involved in the deposition of a friction ridge print, neither the absence of a friction ridge b6 -1 b7C -1 print on evidence nor the exclusion of a friction ridge print with a given source disassociate that source from having touched the evidence. One laboratory report, dated 11/13/2013, stated six latent fingerprints and two latent palm prints of value were detected on the notebook containing the handwritten statement of Todashev. The latent fingerprints and a latent palm print were identified as fingerprints and a palm print of Todashev. The remaining latent palm print was not a palm print of Todashev. No other major case prints were provided for analysis.

Nuclear DNA Unit Analysis

1B4 - Suit coat (Trooper [redacted]) b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 1B32 - White table
1B33 - Shelf from white table
1B15 - Dark pants (Agent [redacted])
1B16 - Dark coat (Agent [redacted])
1B18 - White dress shirt (Agent [redacted])

(U//~~FOUO~~) One laboratory report, dated 09/18/2013, stated blood was identified on the suit coat (Trooper [redacted]'s), the white table, and the shelf from the white table. The typing results were positive for male DNA on all three items and Todashev was excluded as a potential contributor. The laboratory obtained Agent [redacted]'s DNA for comparison from the bloodied suit Agent [redacted] was wearing during the incident. A second laboratory report, dated 10/28/2013, stated Agent [redacted] was the major contributor and source of the DNA obtained from the suit coat (Trooper [redacted]'s), the white table, and the shelf from the white table. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

Operational Projects Unit

(U//~~FOUO~~) Additionally, the Operational Projects Unit provided demonstrative imagery and graphics of the scene.

I. (U//~~FOUO~~) Medical Report:

FBI Agent Involved in the Shooting: SA [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/22/2013, Agent [redacted] was transported to Florida Hospital South, 601 East Rollins Street, Orlando, Florida to receive treatment from an injury to the head which he sustained in an Agent involved shooting incident. Agent [redacted] was examined and received nine staples to close the wound slightly left of center on the rear of his head. Agent [redacted] was treated and released from the hospital.

Subject: Ibragim Todashev

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/22/2013 at 12:05 a.m., the Orlando Fire Department received notification via TFO [redacted] who requested police and Emergency Medical Services (EMS) assistance. TFO [redacted] stated an FBI Agent (Agent [redacted]) had been struck in the head with a blunt object and a subject (Todashev) had been shot multiple times and was down. At 12:07 a.m., a 911 operator directed several responding police and EMS responders to the scene. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 (U//~~FOUO~~) The Orlando Fire Department Ambulance arrived at the scene and described Todashev as dead at the scene.

J. (U//~~FOUO~~) Coroner's Report:

(U//~~FOUO~~) A copy of the Medical Examiner's report to include the investigative and autopsy report for Case number: ME13-00623, on Ibragim Todashev was obtained from the Ninth Circuit Medical Examiner's Office via TP on 07/09/2013. On 07/24/2013, the SIRT along with [redacted] DOJ Civil Rights Division, met with ME Dr. [redacted] M.D., and the Deputy Chief ME [redacted] M.D. to obtain clarification on the ME's report. b6 -3,4 b7C -3,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) A review determined the cause of Todashev's death was "multiple gunshot wounds." Gunshot wound "A" to the head was almost straight down and probably incapacitating, meaning no purposeful movement after sustaining the injury. Gunshot wound "B" to the back torso (upper shoulder, left of spine) was at a similar angle to the head shot and hit the spine. This shot could have caused Todashev to drop, but was not incapacitating. The ME stated, during these shots Todashev was diagonal to the shooter and would have been bent forward. Gunshot wounds "A" and "B" likely occurred as Todashev was falling down. The ME stated Gunshot wound "C" to the back torso (upper right shoulder) was not incapacitating. The ME stated the bullet traveled left to right, back to front and downward. Gunshot wound "D" to the back torso (lower right shoulder) was consistent with Gunshot wound "C," however it was at a sharper angle and was not incapacitating. The ME stated the bullet traveled left to right, back to front and downward. Gunshot wounds "C" and "D" likely occurred as Todashev was twisting his body. Gunshot wounds "E," "F," and "G" in the left side torso and left arm were likely grouped, consistent with the shooter being at an angle to Todashev. These three shots made seven holes; two hit Todashev's heart and would have been incapacitating, although not immediately. The ME stated the results of the autopsy were consistent with Todashev falling forward toward the shooter with his head down. There was no evidence of close range firing in any of the gunshot wounds, no stipulating and no close contact shots.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Todashev sustained seven gunshot wounds. Five projectiles were recovered in the torso, and one was recovered in the head. One projectile exited the body and was recovered at the scene. Toxicology results revealed a presence of nicotine and caffeine. A full copy of the ME's report is included in the appendix section.

K. (U//~~FOUO~~) Civil Rights Division:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/31/2013, IIC Choucair contacted [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, DOJ and briefed him on the shooting incident. Since the initial briefing, the SIRT has continued to provide information as requested by [redacted] On 10/01/2013, [redacted] advised DOJ has agreed to issue a report on their decision which is being drafted. As of the date of this report, a prosecutive opinion for the DOJ, Civil Rights Division, was pending. b6 -1,3 b7C -1,3

L. (U//~~FOUO~~) Local Prosecutive Opinion:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/24/2013, IIC Choucair telephonically contacted State Attorney Jeffrey Ashton, Ninth Judicial Circuit of Florida, to brief him on the details of the shooting incident. Since the initial briefing, the SIRT has continued to provide information as requested by State Attorney Ashton. As of the date of this report, a written prosecutive opinion from Ninth Judicial Circuit of Florida State Attorney Ashton was pending.

M. (U//~~FOUO~~) Inspector's Observations:

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observations with Recommendations/Instructions:

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 1: There was no documentation of SAC or designee approval for travel into another field office's area of responsibility for operational activity.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 1: Manual of Investigative Operations and Guidelines (MIOG) Part 2, Section 23-3.1 stated, "Investigative information from another field office is to be obtained by that office unless extraordinary haste requires direct communication. When the exigencies of a case, emergencies, or economy and common sense dictate, an employee, if authorized by his/her SAC, may enter the territory of another field office. The concurrence of the SAC of the entered office is to be obtained prior to the travel."

(U//~~FOUO~~) CTD held a Video Teleconference (VTC) with BS and TP to discuss the interview of Todashev tentatively scheduled for 05/21/2013. Although all parties were involved in the VTC, SAC or designee approval for inter-divisional travel concurrence was not documented.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 1: SAC, Boston will ensure SAC or designee approval is appropriately documented prior to operational travel into another field office's area of responsibility.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 2: No operational plan was drafted or approved for contact with an individual with a known proclivity towards violence and in which an arrest could have been reasonably anticipated.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2a: DIOG, Section 19.2.3 stated, "The SAC is responsible for ensuring that arrests are carefully and thoroughly planned. Proper planning and preparation for arrest situations can greatly enhance the safety and effectiveness of Agents and officers during these high-risk situations. Whenever possible, written arrest plans must be prepared prior to conducting law enforcement activities that may result in the arrest of a potentially dangerous subject. Arrest plans must address five topics: Situation, Mission, Execution, Administration and Equipment, and Control and Communications. [redacted] must be utilized whenever possible... Exigent circumstances may necessitate an oral briefing in lieu of a written plan, but the oral briefings must address the five topics required to be included in written plans... All arrest plans must be approved by ASACs or their designees..." b7E -5

(U) DIOG, Section 19.2.4 stated, "An SSA may authorize a joint arrest with state and local authorities, United States Marshal's Service (USMS), or other federal law enforcement agencies. In circumstances of joint arrests, the SAC remains responsible to ensure that there is a well-considered arrest plan."

(U//~~FOUO~~) Todashev was a certified MMA fighter in both Florida and Massachusetts with a prior history of assault which was known to TP, Agent [redacted] and the MSP Troopers. Information provided by the State Attorney's Office showed Todashev held a Florida State Boxing Commission license number FED#: 129-225 with an expiration date of 08/08/2017, and a State of Florida, Department of Business and Professional Regulation MMA Participant license number PART4184 with an expiration date of 12/31/2012. In addition, Todashev held a Massachusetts – Department of Public Safety State Athletic Commission MMA Amateur License number: A3105 with an expiration date of 07/18/2012. Information obtained from local law enforcement reports and a National Crime Information Center (NCIC) report documented Todashev's prior alleged involvement in three violent interactions. Specifically, in a Boston Police Department (PD) report of an incident on 02/11/2010, Todashev was charged with Disorderly Person, Resisting Arrest, Reckless Driving, and Weaving. In an Osceola County Sheriff's Office (SO) statement, dated 07/07/2012, Todashev was mentioned as a participant with another individual, [redacted] in a Simple Battery incident involving the attack on an employee of the Ali Baba Hookah Café. Todashev was not arrested or charged in this incident. Most recently, an Orange County SO Incident Report of an incident on 05/04/2013, stated Todashev was arrested for Aggravated Battery (causing bodily harm or disability to another), a Second Degree Felony. In addition, MMA fights involving Todashev were posted on YouTube and had been observed by TP, Agent [redacted] and the MSP Troopers.

b7C -1,9

(U//~~FOUO~~) Prior to Todashev's scheduled departure from the U.S., CTD held a Video Teleconference (VTC) with BS and TP to discuss the interview of Todashev. The strategy of the interview as stated by Trooper [redacted] was to solidify Todashev's travel timeline in the Boston area in September 2011 and to subsequently confront Todashev with forensic evidence associated with the triple homicide. During the preparation for the interview, neither BS nor TP drafted an operational plan.

b7C -4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2b: TP had surveillance coverage on Todashev on the evening of 05/21/2013, from 4 p.m. to midnight. The surveillance team was in the vicinity of Todashev's residence throughout the evening and spot checked Todashev's parking lot for a specific vehicle associated with Todashev. At approximately 7:45 p.m., two unknown males (TFO [redacted] and [redacted]) were observed in Todashev's parking lot near said vehicle. Surveillance was terminated at midnight. TFO [redacted] provided perimeter security for the duration of the interview while Agent [redacted] and the MSP Troopers conducted the interview.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The SIRT determined although surveillance coverage was utilized they appeared to be unaware of the interview being conducted. TP could have more effectively utilized resources by ensuring coordination between the surveillance and interview teams given the nature of the interview of an individual with a known proclivity towards violence.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2c: FBI Executive Management was not kept abreast to the details of the progress of the interview of Todashev. The interview was originally scheduled to be conducted at the OPD; however, Todashev refused to be interviewed at the OPD and requested the interview be conducted at his residence. The interview began at approximately 7:30 p.m. on 05/22/2013.

(U//~~FOUO~~) During the interview, Trooper [redacted] provided updates to Middlesex ADA [redacted] Todashev described how [redacted] It was at this point, at approximately 10:25 p.m., when Trooper [redacted] provided Todashev with his Miranda warning. Trooper [redacted] verbally provided the warning to Todashev and had him sign the Miranda warning form (FD-395). At approximately 10:30 p.m., ADA [redacted] headed into his office in anticipation of drafting an indictment based on the information provided by Trooper [redacted] At approximately 10:45 p.m., TFO [redacted] provided the last update to SSA [redacted] which stated, all was going well and the interview was ongoing. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 b7A -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] Approximately one hour later, Trooper [redacted] asked Todashev sat on the bed [redacted] At approximately 11:55 p.m., Trooper [redacted] informed Trooper [redacted] and Agent [redacted] he was going to step outside for a few minutes. Trooper [redacted] then stepped outside in order to call the ADA [redacted] and provide an update. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 b7A -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) The limited updates to SSA [redacted] were not detailed and did not convey the significance of the situation. At no time during the course of this interview were any updates provided to BS Executive Management. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 2a: SAC, Boston will ensure operational plans are drafted and approved for contact with individuals who have a known proclivity towards violence and where an arrest is or could be reasonably anticipated.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2b: SAC, Boston should ensure appropriate resources are provided to support high risk interviews.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2c: SAC, Tampa and SAC, Boston should ensure effective coordination and communication prior to and during potential high risk operations.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2d: SAC, Tampa and SAC, Boston should ensure Supervisors recognize their responsibility to provide clear leadership and direct approval for action when warranted.

(U//~~FOUO~~) TP ERT conducted the evidence recovery at Todashev's residence on 05/22/2013. The items collected were seized as a result of the shooting and placed in the BS investigation, rather than the TP - Assault on a Federal Officer investigation.

(U//~~FOUO~~) TP ERT failed to recognize the item (white table) believed to be used by Todashev to inflict injury to the Agent could have trace evidence of the Agent's blood. The white table had visible red smudges and droplets which appeared to be blood; however no presumptive tests were conducted. TP ERT failed to collect the white table which was later determined to be pertinent to the Assault on a Federal Officer investigation. The white table was subsequently seized pursuant to a search warrant for a BS investigation. This required the SIRT to request the transfer of this item of evidence to the assault investigation for analysis.

(U//~~FOUO~~) While processing Todashev's residence, TP ERT took several photographs; however, the photos departed from the established protocol. Not all photographs clearly depicted the progression of overall, medium, and close-up views of the scene and the items of evidence. The use of a scale for size determination was not utilized in all photographs containing evidence, to include blood spatter. The photos lacked clarity, were out of focus, and the scene was not thoroughly documented. In addition, there were no photographs to show the overall position of the evidence with evidence markers within the scene.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Photographs obtained by the ME's office included a photo of a stack of evidence markers located outside Todashev's front door giving the appearance of evidence being outside the residence.

(U//~~FOUO~~) TP ERT should ensure if the field office's photographer was unavailable, backup personnel were trained in accordance with Evidence Response Team Unit (ERTU) standards for photography. In addition, TP ERT personnel should be provided annual training on ERTU standards for photography and familiarization training with photography equipment.

(U//~~FOUO~~) MIOG Part 1, Section 308-11.2.9 stated, [redacted] b7E -5

(U//~~FOUO~~) TP ERT utilized Total Station to document the scene. Upon SIRT's review of the Total Station sketches in comparison with the TP ERT photographs, there was a discrepancy with the location of item number 15. SIRT determined from TP ERT, the Total Station operator utilized the ERT sketch for a reference point for the location of the evidence. TP ERT advised the ERT sketch erroneously marked item number 15 closer to the middle of the living room. TP ERT also advised the ERT photographs accurately depicted the location of item number 15. The utilization of the sketch rather than the exact location of the items of evidence for the Total Station documentation resulted in an inaccurate depiction of the scene.

(U//~~FOUO~~) TP ERT personnel should be provided annual training on ERTU standards for documentation of evidence through sketches and the use of Total Station.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 3a: SAC, Tampa should ensure Tampa ERT personnel are provided annual training regarding the established protocols for collection and standards for documentation of evidence (to include photography, sketching, and utilization of Total Station).

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 4: No Domestic Police Cooperation investigation was initiated prior to the incident.

(U) Analysis 4: DIOG, Section 12.3.2.3(B) stated, "The FBI may provide investigative assistance to state, local, or tribal agencies: in the investigation of matters that may involve federal crimes or threats to national security, or for such other purposes as may be legally authorized."

(U) DIOG, Section 12.3.2.3.3 stated, "Investigative assistance using an investigative method, other than those authorized in assessments, must be documented with the FD-999, filed and uploaded to an appropriate file..."

(U) DIOG, Section 12.7.2(D) stated, "The FD-999 must be uploaded to a domestic police cooperation file – 343 Classification."

(U//~~FOUO~~) According to Agent [redacted]s initial signed sworn statement dated 05/28/2013, approximately one week after the 04/15/2013 Boston Marathon Bombing, he was assigned and began to work with the MSP. The request was to assist the MSP with their investigation of a triple homicide in which Todashev was a suspect. INSD determined from a review of Sentinel, the BS domestic police cooperation investigation was not initiated until 06/07/2013, approximately 45 days after the assistance began. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 4a: SAC, Boston will ensure 343, Domestic Police Cooperation investigations are opened in a timely manner in accordance with DIOG.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 4b: AD, RPO should consider modifying DIOG to provide detailed guidance regarding 343, Domestic Police Cooperation investigations.

Synopsis: (U//~~FOUO~~) This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) with respect to the captioned shooting following the SIRG meeting held on 03/25/2013.

Administrative Notes: (U//~~FOUO~~) This communication summarizes the Inspection Division's (INSD) Shooting Incident Report dated 03/18/2014 by former Inspector Dena E. Choucair. A copy of the complete INSD Shooting Incident Report is electronically attached to this communication.

Details:

On 03/25/2014, the SIRG convened to review a shooting incident which occurred on 05/22/2013, involving FBI Boston (BS) Field Office Agent [redacted] On 05/21/2013, BS Agent [redacted] and two MSP Troopers conducted the interview of Ibragim Todashev at his residence. The purpose of the interview was to solidify Todashev's timeline in the Boston area in September 2011 and to confront Todashev with forensic b6 -1 b7C -1 evidence associated with the Waltham homicides. After Todashev was confronted regarding his involvement in the triple homicide, he signed an Advice of Rights form and agreed to provide his statement. The MSP Troopers recorded the interview which captured [redacted] b7A -1

[redacted] Due to Todashev's continued deliberate behavior, one MSP Trooper sent a text to BS Agent [redacted] and the other MSP Trooper to inform them of the threat posed by Todashev. Almost immediately, BS Agent [redacted] heard a loud noise and felt a blow to the back of his head. Todashev ran past BS Agent [redacted] and the MSP Trooper and armed himself with a red metal pole. In the split second available to assess the threat posed by Todashev, BS Agent [redacted] was in fear for his life and the life of the MSP Trooper. In order to stop this threat, BS Agent [redacted] shot a volley of three or four shots at Todashev. Todashev fell and almost immediately re-established his footing, and lunged towards them at an angle. Still in fear for his and the MSP Trooper's life, BS Agent [redacted] shot Todashev with a second volley of three or four shots in order to stop the threat. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/25/2014, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. (U//~~FOUO~~) Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by BS Agent [redacted] on 05/22/2013 was in compliance with the Department of Justice's deadly force policy. b6 -1 b7C -1

2. (U//~~FOUO~~) Provide the Director with an evaluative analyses, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions concerning operational planning and execution, training, and/or safety issues. The SIRG made the following operational observations.

Title: (U) Shooting Incident Tampa Field Office 05/22/2013
Re: 297-HQ-A1271966-D, 06/04/2014

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 1: There was no documentation of SAC or designee approval for travel into another field office's area of responsibility for operational activity.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 1: Manual of Investigative Operations and Guidelines (MIOG) Part 2, Section 23-3.1 stated, "Investigative information from another field office is to be obtained by that office unless extraordinary haste requires direct communication. The concurrence of the SAC of the entered office is to be obtained prior to the travel."

(U//~~FOUO~~) CTD held a Video Teleconference (VTC) with BS and TP to discuss the interview of Todashev tentatively scheduled for 05/21/2013. Although all parties were involved in the VTC, SAC or designee approval for inter-divisional travel concurrence was not documented.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 1: SAC, Boston will ensure SAC or designee approval is appropriately documented prior to operational travel into another field office's area of responsibility.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 2: No operational plan was approved for contact with an individual in which an arrest could have been reasonably anticipated.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2a: DIOG, Section 19.2.3 stated, "*The SAC is responsible for ensuring that arrests are carefully and thoroughly planned. (U//~~FOUO~~) Prior to Todashev's scheduled departure from the U.S., CTD held a Video Teleconference (VTC) with BS and TP to discuss the interview of Todashev. The strategy of the interview as stated by the main MSP Trooper was to solidify Todashev's travel timeline in the Boston area in September 2011 and to subsequently confront Todashev with forensic evidence associated with the triple homicide. During the preparation for the interview, neither BS nor TP drafted or briefed an operational plan which included an arrest scenario.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2b: TP had surveillance coverage on Todashev on the evening of 05/21/2013, from 4 p.m. to midnight. The surveillance team was in the vicinity of Todashev's residence throughout the evening and spot checked Todashev's parking lot for a specific vehicle associated with Todashev. At approximately 7:45 p.m., two unknown males (TP TFO and Todashev's friend [redacted] were observed in Todashev's parking lot near said vehicle. Surveillance was terminated at midnight. The TP TFO provided perimeter security for the duration of the interview while BS Agent [redacted] and the MSP Troopers conducted the interview. b6 -2 b7C -2

(U//~~FOUO~~) The SIRT determined although surveillance coverage was utilized they appeared to be unaware of the interview being conducted. TP could have more effectively utilized resources by ensuring coordination between the surveillance and interview teams given the nature of the interview of an individual with a known proclivity towards violence.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2c: FBI Executive Management was not kept abreast to the details of the progress of the interview of Todashev. The interview was originally scheduled to be conducted at the OPD;

however, Todashev refused to be interviewed at the OPD and requested the interview be conducted at his residence. The interview began at approximately 7:30 p.m. on 05/21/2013.

(U//~~FOUO~~) During the interview, the main MSP Trooper provided updates to Middlesex Assistant District Attorney (ADA). Todashev [redacted] b7A -1

[redacted] It was at this point, at approximately 10:25 p.m., when the main MSP Trooper provided Todashev with his Miranda warning. The main MSP Trooper verbally provided the warning to Todashev and had him sign the Miranda warning form (FD-395). At approximately 10:30 p.m., the Middlesex ADA headed into his office in anticipation of drafting an indictment based on the information provided by the main MSP Trooper. At approximately 10:45 p.m., the TP TFO provided the last update to the TP CT SSA which stated, all was going well and the interview was ongoing.

Approximately one hour later, the main MSP Trooper asked [redacted] Todashev sat on the bed [redacted] At approximately 11:55 p.m., the main MSP Trooper informed the other MSP Trooper and BS Agent [redacted] he was going to step outside for a few minutes. The main MSP Trooper then stepped outside in order to call the Middlesex ADA and provide an update. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) The limited updates to the TP CT SSA were not detailed and did not convey the significance of the situation. At no time during the course of this interview were any updates provided to BS Executive Management.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 2a: SAC, Boston will ensure either oral or documented operational plans are approved for contact with individuals where an arrest is or could be reasonably anticipated.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2b: SAC, Boston should ensure appropriate resources are provided to support high risk interviews.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2c: SAC, Tampa and SAC, Boston should ensure effective coordination and communication prior to and during potential high risk operations.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2d: SAC, Tampa and SAC, Boston should ensure Supervisors recognize their responsibility to provide clear leadership and direct approval for action when warranted.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 3: No Domestic Police Cooperation investigation was initiated prior to the incident.

(U) Analysis 3: DIOG, Section 12.3.2.3(B) stated, "The FBI may provide investigative assistance to state, local, or tribal agencies: in the investigation of matters that may involve federal crimes or threats to national security, or for such other purposes as may be legally authorized."

(U) DIOG, Section 12.3.2.3.3 stated, "Investigative assistance using an investigative method, other than those authorized in assessments, must be documented with the FD-999, filed and uploaded to an appropriate file…"

(U) DIOG, Section 12.7.2(D) stated, "The FD-999 must be uploaded to a domestic police cooperation file – 343 Classification."

(U//~~FOUO~~) According to Agent [redacted]'s initial signed sworn statement dated 05/28/2013, approximately one week after the 04/15/2013 Boston Marathon Bombing, he was assigned and began to work with the MSP. The request was to assist the MSP with their investigation of a triple homicide in which Todashev was a suspect. INSD determined from a review of Sentinel, the BS domestic police cooperation investigation was not initiated until 06/07/2013, approximately 45 days after the assistance began.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 3a: SAC, Boston will ensure 343, Domestic Police Cooperation investigations are opened in a timely manner in accordance with DIOG.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 3b: AD, RPO, in coordination with the Criminal Investigative Division, should consider modifying DIOG to provide detailed guidance regarding the opening, administrative/investigative, and closing requirements for 343, Domestic Police Cooperation investigations.

(U//~~FOUO~~) TP ERT conducted the evidence recovery at Todashev's residence on 05/22/2013. The items collected were seized as a result of the shooting and placed in the BS investigation, rather than the TP - Assault on a Federal Officer investigation.

(U//~~FOUO~~) TP ERT failed to recognize the item (white table) believed to be used by Todashev to inflict injury to the Agent could have trace evidence of the Agent's blood. The white table had visible red smudges and droplets which appeared to be blood; however no presumptive tests were conducted. TP ERT failed to collect the white table which was later determined to be pertinent to the Assault on a Federal Officer investigation. The white table was subsequently seized pursuant to a search warrant for a BS investigation. This required the SIRT to request the transfer of this item of evidence to the assault investigation for analysis.

(U//~~FOUO~~) While processing Todashev's residence, TP ERT took several photographs; however, the photos departed from the established protocol. Not all photographs clearly depicted the progression of overall, medium, and close-up views of the scene and the items of evidence. The use of a scale for size determination was not utilized in all photographs containing evidence, to include blood spatter. The photos lacked clarity, were out of focus, and the scene was not thoroughly documented. In addition, there were no photographs to show the overall position of the evidence with evidence markers within the scene.

(U//~~FOUO~~) TP ERT should ensure if the field office's photographer was unavailable, backup personnel were trained in accordance with Evidence Response Team Unit (ERTU) standards for photography. In addition, TP ERT personnel should be provided annual training on ERTU standards for photography and familiarization training with photography equipment.

(U//~~FOUO~~) TP ERT utilized Total Station to document the scene. Upon SIRT's review of the Total Station sketches in comparison with the TP ERT photographs, there was a discrepancy with the location of item number 15. SIRT determined from TP ERT, the Total Station operator utilized the ERT sketch for a reference point for the location of the evidence. TP ERT advised the ERT sketch erroneously marked item number 15 closer to the middle of the living room. TP ERT also advised the ERT photographs accurately depicted the location of item number 15. The utilization of the sketch rather than the exact location of the items of evidence for the Total Station documentation resulted in an inaccurate depiction of the scene.

(U//~~FOUO~~) TP ERT personnel should be provided annual training on ERTU standards for documentation of evidence through sketches and the use of Total Station.

REPORT ON THE DEATH OF IBRAGIM TODASHEV
CIVIL RIGHTS DIVISION
UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
MARCH 25, 2014

I. Summation

The United States Department of Justice has determined that the evidence does not reveal a violation of the applicable federal criminal civil rights statutes or warrant further federal criminal investigation of the May 22, 2013 death of Ibragim Todashev, who was shot in an Orlando, Florida apartment by an FBI Agent during the investigation of Todashev's role in a 2011 Waltham, Massachusetts triple homicide.

From the evening of May 21, 2013 into the early morning hours of May 22, a Massachusetts homicide investigative team - a Boston FBI Special Agent ("the Agent") and two Massachusetts State Police homicide investigation troopers ("the Lead Trooper" and "the Assisting Trooper") - interviewed Todashev on the ground floor of Todashev's residence, an Orlando apartment. During the interview, Todashev confessed his complicity in the murder of three men in Waltham, Massachusetts in 2011. At the time of the interview, the Massachusetts Investigative Team knew Todashev to be a skilled mixed martial arts fighter with a recent arrest history for violent behavior. As Todashev began to write a statement detailing his role in the murder, he suddenly struck the FBI Agent with the coffee table he was writing on and ran to the kitchen area. The Agent, who sustained a serious head wound, drew his handgun. Todashev ignored commands to show his hands, armed himself with an approximately five-foot long, hollow, metal utility pole, and charged back toward the Assisting Trooper and the Agent. Other available evidence is consistent with the eye-witness law enforcement officers' accounts that, fearing that Todashev intended to seriously injure or kill someone, the Agent fired two volleys, striking Todashev with seven shots causing Todashev's death.

A thorough inquiry and review into the shooting has been conducted by experienced prosecutors from the Civil Rights Division and the United States Attorney's Office for the Middle District of Florida ("USAO"), and by agents with the FBI Inspection Division. The inquiry included reviewing all witness accounts, physical evidence and the results of forensic analyses, audio/video recordings and electronic communications, other reports generated by the FBI, the Office of the State Attorney for the Ninth Judicial Circuit of Florida, and the District Nine Medical Examiner's Office. A senior Civil Rights Division prosecutor participated in the interview of critical witnesses and consulted with the forensic experts and prosecuting authorities in Florida and Massachusetts, as well as the attorneys representing Todashev's family. After reviewing all available evidence, the Civil Rights Division and the USAO have concluded that the evidence does not reveal a violation of federal criminal civil rights statutes or warrant further federal criminal investigation.

To establish a violation of 18 U.S.C., Section 241 and 242, the applicable federal criminal civil rights statutes, the government must prove, beyond a reasonable doubt, that an official, acting under color of law, willfully deprived a person of a right protected by the Constitution or laws of the United States or conspired to do so. In prosecuting a violation of Section 241 or 242, the government must show that the official conspired to use or used unnecessary and unreasonable force that was not warranted. The government must also prove, beyond a reasonable doubt, that the official acted willfully, that is, with the specific intent to do something the law forbids. This requirement is the highest standard of criminal intent imposed by the law. As this requirement has been interpreted by the courts, evidence that an agent may have acted out of fear, mistake, panic, misperception, or even poor judgment cannot establish the high level of intent required under Section 241 or 242.

The Department has concluded the evidence does not reveal a prosecutable violation of those federal criminal statutes and that further inquiry would not change this conclusion.

II. Background

Three men were robbed and murdered, and left with their throats slit, in Waltham, Massachusetts on September 11, 2011. Todashev had been a resident of the Boston area in 2011. He was a mixed martial arts enthusiast and had participated in fighting competitions, some of which were posted on YouTube. Todashev and deceased Boston Marathon bombing suspect Tamerlan Tsarnev were acquainted during this time period. Both shared an interest in the mixed martial arts. Both men were suspected to have been involved in the Waltham murder.

In May 2013, the Massachusetts Investigative Team traveled to Orlando where Todashev was then living. A local law enforcement Task Force Officer ("the Task Force Officer") assisted by initially interviewing Todashev for the Massachusetts Investigative Team. That interview revealed further information to bolster the suspicion that Todashev had been involved in the triple homicide. The Massachusetts Investigative Team returned to Massachusetts. Soon thereafter, they learned that Todashev had booked a flight to Russia scheduled to depart on May 24. The Massachusetts Investigative Team decided to return to Orlando to interview Todashev personally about the homicides before he left the country.

Todashev had an arrest record for assaultive behavior. In 2010, he was arrested in Boston for disorderly person and resisting arrest. In 2012, Todashev was accused of assaulting another man in an Osceola County, Florida bar. On May 4, 2013, he was arrested in Orlando for aggravated battery. In this latter incident, Todashev allegedly fought two men, knocking one unconscious. The Massachusetts Investigative Team was aware of Todashev's arrests for assaultive conduct, knew from his gym associates that he was known as a tenacious martial arts fighter, had viewed the YouTube postings of his mixed martial arts competitions, and strongly suspected his involvement in the brutal 2011 triple homicide.

On May 21, the Massachusetts Investigative Team had their local law enforcement contact, the Task Force Officer, to ask Todashev to provide a further interview. Todashev refused to go to a police station for the interview but agreed to meet at the Orlando apartment in which he lived. It was decided that all three members of the Massachusetts Investigative Team should be present during the interview while the Task Force Officer remained outside.

Todashev, accompanied by a friend, met the investigators at about 7:30 p.m. on May 21 in front of the two-story apartment. The Task Force Officer introduced Todashev to the others and Todashev agreed to speak with the Massachusetts Investigative Team inside the apartment. Todashev's friend waited with the Task Force Officer at first, but then left the area well before midnight and did not return. The Task Force Officer remained outside the apartment while Todashev and the three investigators spoke inside for approximately four hours.

III. Summary of May 21-22 Evidence

At the time of the shooting, only the Agent and the Assisting Trooper were inside the apartment with Todashev. The Task Force Officer and Lead Trooper, who were outside the apartment when the shooting occurred, entered immediately after the shooting. Additionally, three neighbors witnessed some corroborative conduct at the time of the shooting. While there are audio/video recordings of the interview of Todashev earlier that evening, there are no recordings of the shooting. All witness accounts are consistent with each other and are corroborated by the physical and forensic evidence. And, no physical or forensic evidence contradicts the witness accounts.

The Agent and the two troopers engaged Todashev in conversation inside the apartment for approximately four hours. The Massachusetts Investigative Team members' accounts of the interview are consistent with audio/video recordings made contemporaneously by the troopers. Todashev was polite, calm, articulate, and, at the same time, reticent. He never asked the investigators to leave or to discontinue the interview.

Balancing between the competing factors of developing an amicable rapport conducive to gaining information and the potential risk presented by a murder suspect in the freedom of his own residence, the Massachusetts Investigative Team did not initially search Todashev's person or the apartment for weapons.

A. Witness Accounts, Text Messages and Video

The first floor consisted of two rooms: a living room and a kitchen between which there was a counter, permitting viewing from one room into the other (see Attachment A, a diagram of the first floor and items present after the shooting). A small hallway, accessing the front outside door, ran from the living room next to the kitchen with an entryway between the hallway and the kitchen. At the other end of the apartment was a sliding glass door that led directly outside. A stairway led to the upstairs bedroom and bathroom. Significantly, the investigative team was aware that an approximately four-foot long sharp metal-bladed sword was hanging on the stairwell post in the living room.

The interview was conducted in the living room while Todashev stood or sat on a bed mattress in front of the sliding door in the back of the room. During the lengthy interview, the investigators permitted Todashev to move around the apartment, drink water, smoke cigarettes, and take bathroom breaks upstairs. While Todashev smoked, he opened and closed the unlocked sliding door to the outside to ventilate the room.

Initially, Todashev was not completely forthcoming. As the conversation developed, he proffered that he had direct knowledge of the 2011 triple homicide. At 10:25 p.m., Todashev verbally "waived his rights" and signed a Miranda form acknowledging his understanding of his right to be represented by an attorney and willingness to speak at that time without an attorney. In response to continuing questioning, he hesitantly, but indisputably, admitted complicity in the murders. The verbal confession was recorded on the troopers' recording devices.[1]

More than one recording device was activated at different times by the troopers as either the memory capacity or the battery power of a particular recording device diminished during the course of the interview. Also, one trooper was using his cell phone both to record parts of the interview and to send text messages to other law enforcement officials.

As midnight approached, Todashev agreed to write a statement to memorialize his verbal confession and to provide extenuating and mitigating facts that he felt explained his conduct. Because the interview discontinued when Todashev began to write his statement, the Assisting Trooper shut off the recording device on his cell phone and was sending a text message to other law enforcement officers. Thus, no recorder was activated at the time of the shooting.

The last segment of video recording depicts Todashev sitting on the mattress (see Attachment A) next to the outside sliding glass doors. He is beginning to write on a paper tablet, using a coffee table as a writing surface. The coffee table is positioned next to the mattress between it and the kitchen. The Lead Trooper is sitting on a folding chair between Todashev , who is sitting behind the coffee table, and the kitchen. As the recording ends, the Assisting Trooper is moving toward the recording device and shutting it off.

During the evening, the troopers had been updating a Middlesex County, Massachusetts, Assistant District Attorney ("the ADA") on the progress of the interview by cell phone and text message. The ADA was waiting at his office in Massachusetts to prepare an arrest warrant if necessary. When the Assisting Trooper shut down his recording, he noticed that, while he had been recording with that cell phone, the ADA had texted the troopers a message: "Don't put him in custody until we get a warrant." The Lead Trooper went outside to consult with the ADA by cell phone. Accordingly, only two law enforcement officers were watching Todashev at this point in time.

As Todashev wrote his statement, the Agent and the Assisting Trooper noticed a change in Todashev's behavior. Todashev nervously looked around and became more deliberate in his speech and movement. Todashev again asked to go to the bathroom. The Agent/Assisting Trooper patted Todashev down. The Agent accompanied Todashev to the upstairs bathroom.

[1] Because the investigation of the triple murder continues, the Middlesex County, Massachusetts District Attorney has requested that the details provided in Todashev's confession not be made public at this time. To preserve the integrity of that continuing homicide investigation, we honor that request.

The Assisting Trooper watched from the staircase. The Agent and Assisting Trooper observed that Todashev did not need to urinate or otherwise use the bathroom. According to them, Todashev washed his hands in a slow, methodical manner, appearing preoccupied. As Todashev began to walk back downstairs, he slowed his pace on occasion almost to a stop. The Agent and Assisting Trooper were concerned about the changed behavior.

As Todashev started back down the stairs with the Agent, the Assisting Trooper moved quickly to remove the sword that was hanging on a post at the bottom of the stairwell. He hid it behind a three-foot tall shoe rack in the hallway between the living room and kitchen. A mirror situated at the foot of the stairs permitted someone on or at the top of the stairs to see into the hallway. The Assisting Trooper suspected that Todashev had seen the Assisting Trooper moving the sword toward the hallway and kitchen, by looking in the mirror as Todashev descended the stairs.

After the bathroom break, the Agent sat in the folding chair facing the coffee table and the mattress on which Todashev was seated. The Assisting Trooper was at the stairway. Behind Todashev on the other side of the mattress was the sliding glass door, the closest avenue of potential escape.

As Todashev resumed writing the statement, the Assisting Trooper texted a message transmitted from his cell phone at 12:03 a.m. to the other investigators. It read, "Be on guard. He is in vulnerable position to do something bad. Be on guard now, I see him looking around." The Assisting Trooper looked down at his cell phone to watch for the electronic queue that the text message had been communicated. The Agent was sitting on the folding chair reading his notes. At that instant, the Agent and Assisting Trooper were momentarily distracted.

The Assisting Trooper heard a loud noise, which he later assumed to be a yell by Todashev. The Assisting Trooper saw Todashev spring up from the mattress and push the coffee table into the air. He was uncertain whether the table struck the Agent. Todashev ran toward the hallway. The Assisting Trooper yelled for his partner, the Lead Trooper, who was outside. The Assisting Trooper saw Todashev quickly move toward the kitchen, making no effort to open the front door to escape. The Assisting Trooper believed Todashev had seen him remove the sword from where it was hanging and that he was looking for the sword or another weapon in the kitchen.

The Agent felt something strike him in the backside of the head. He was knocked from the chair. He saw Todashev run past him toward the hallway. The Agent drew his handgun. The Agent was dazed from being hit by the table and suffered a severe head laceration which later required nine staples to close. He saw Todashev through the opening above the kitchen counter and heard metal banging as if Todashev was searching for something.

According to both the Agent and the Assisting Trooper, Todashev refused to comply with commands to show his hands. The Assisting Trooper saw Todashev grab a metal utility pole from the corner next to the front door. While the Assisting Trooper attempted unsuccessfully to draw his handgun, Todashev raised the pole over his head, holding it with both hands in "a trained fighting position" as he charged at the Assisting Trooper. The Assisting Trooper raised his arms up in front of his face to block an impending blow. According to the Assisting Trooper, he expected to be "impaled" by the pole.

The Assisting Trooper heard a volley of gunfire from his right. He saw the gunfire strike Todashev and Todashev fall to, or partially to, the floor, then quickly regain his footing and lunge toward the Assisting Trooper. The Assisting Trooper estimated that Todashev's body was coming back at them at a 45 degree angle from the floor. He heard a second volley of gunfire. The Assisting Trooper saw the impact of the bullets twist Todashev's body back and forth. He thought he heard three or four shots in each volley. The Assisting Trooper further declared that, had he been able to draw his handgun in time, he "absolutely" would have shot Todashev because the Assisting Trooper feared for his own life.

Just before the shooting, the Agent was standing a few feet to the right of the Assisting Trooper on the kitchen side of the living room. He saw Todashev quickly turn the corner between the kitchen and hallway and come rapidly toward the Agent and Assisting Trooper. The Agent did not know whether the Assisting Trooper had his gun out. But, having heard the sound of metal banging as Todashev appeared to search for something in the kitchen, the Agent assumed that Todashev was armed with something.

The Agent stated that, as Todashev moved toward them to "attack," the Agent fired a volley of gunshots. The Agent saw Todashev fall backwards when he was struck by the gunfire, but quickly regain his footing and lunge forward toward them. The Agent fired a second volley. The Agent said that he shot Todashev because he feared for the Assisting Trooper's and his own life.

The Lead Trooper and the Task Force Officer heard a commotion inside the apartment and then two gunshot volleys, one quickly after the other. The Lead Trooper heard his partner's call for help, unintelligible yelling, and what he thought were three or four shots in each volley. The Task Force Officer, an experienced firearms and SWAT officer, reported "distinctly" hearing three shots in the first volley and four shots in the second volley. The ADA said that he and the Lead Trooper were talking around midnight when the Lead Trooper abruptly terminated the call.

Neighbors in three nearby apartments were home on the evening of May 21-22 and witnessed relevant conduct. One neighbor came home from work about 10:30 p.m. and noticed lights on inside Todashev's apartment and that the blinds on the sliding glass door were open, which was unusual. He further reported that he saw several males inside at that time. That neighbor was later watching television at about midnight when he heard four loud "pops," followed by three loud "pops." He then saw several individuals hovering over "something" on the floor. The neighbor believed the noise was attributable, however, to construction across the lake from their apartment complex.

Two other neighbors heard what they thought were gunshots about midnight. One neighbor thought she heard two shots and loud banging. When she looked outside, she saw a man talking on a cell phone. The third neighbor heard a noise "like a gunshot" about midnight but did not know the location of the noise or observe anything unusual.

The Lead Trooper and the Task Force Officer immediately entered the apartment through the front door after they heard the gunshots. They saw Todashev's body lying stomach-down on the hallway floor with his head pointed toward the living room. A red metal utility pole was partially underneath Todashev's body, extending out in front of Todashev's head. They believed Todashev was dead. The Assisting Trooper immediately confirmed that Todashev had no pulse. Less than five minutes after the Assisting Trooper sent his "be on guard" text message, the Task Force Officer called 911 to report the shooting.

B. Physical Evidence

The FBI Evidence Recovery Team and Florida's District Nine Medical Examiner's Office investigators processed the scene, took photographs, and collected physical evidence in the apartment after the shooting. This evidence corroborates much of the information in witness accounts. None of the physical evidence contradicts the witness accounts.

The paper tablet with Todashev's incomplete written statement lay on the floor of the living room (Attachment A, Item 1) between the mattress on which Todashev had been sitting and the chair in which the agent had been sitting. It consisted of a half page of handwritten information that corroborated some of what Todashev admitted in the audio/video recordings regarding the triple homicide. The last sentence that Todashev wrote on the tablet of paper specifically related conduct by him that acknowledged complicity in the crime.[2]

The lower shelf of the broken coffee table (see Attachment A, table shelf) was located near the chair in which the Agent had been seated. That shelf was disconnected from the rest of the coffee table (see Attachment A, table base) that was on the floor beyond the chair and closer toward the kitchen. Blood stains were on both parts of the coffee table.

Todashev's body was stretched out on his stomach at the intersection of the hallway and the living room with both feet oriented toward the front door (see Attachment A). After the body was moved for preparation for transport to the medical examiner for autopsy, a single bullet projectile was discovered on the floor in a puddle of blood in the living room in the vicinity where the body had been later moved. The projectile was not present prior to the body having been moved there.

An approximately five-foot long, red, hollow metal pole (see Attachment A, pole) was partially underneath the body, extending out from the body next to the head into the living room. It was oriented parallel to the length of the body. The metal of the hollow pole was bent and compressed near both of its ends. The sword (see Attachment A, sword) was jammed between a shoe rack and the wall of the hallway near the body. Seven spent cartridge casings (see [2] The Massachusetts District Attorney has asked that we not relate the statement's contents because of her continuing investigation of the triple homicide.

Attachment A, Items 2 through 8) were in the living room on the kitchen side between the chair and the kitchen.

Accordingly, the physical evidence corroborates certain critical facts from the witness accounts:

First, the table was broken into two parts, with blood stains on each separated part. It was found at a location consistent with the Assisting Trooper's contention that he saw the coffee table propelled in the direction of the Agent. Additionally, its blood-stained condition was consistent with the fact that it had struck and cut the Agent in the head.

Second, Todashev's body was located in a place on the floor and in a position and alignment that was consistent with the account of both the Agent and the Assisting Trooper that Todashev was moving toward them and then fell forward after being shot.

Third, the pole was found beneath the body generally aligned with the length of the body. Additionally, the hollow pole was bent and compressed at both ends, several inches away from each end, in a pattern as though it had been squeezed by an adult's hands. The location of the pole under the body and the placement of the two bend marks are consistent with the Assisting Trooper's account that Todashev charged holding the pole with both hands and fell on the pole after being shot.

Fourth, the spent casings were found in a location that is consistent with the Agent's and the Assisting Trooper's accounts of the Agent's position in the living room when the Agent fired at Todashev. And, the seven spent casings are consistent with the witness accounts that estimate two volleys of three to four shots.

Finally, the sword was not hanging on the empty screw-like hangers. Rather, it was jammed in between the shoe rack and the wall in the hallway and not readily visible. These facts are consistent with the Assisting Trooper's statement that the Assisting Trooper moved the sword there in order to hide it from Todashev.

C. FBI Lab Analyses

The FBI Lab conducted forensic analyses on several relevant items of physical evidence: the Agent's handgun, bullet projectiles, spent shell casings, the metal pole, the sword, the broken coffee table, the Agent's shirt and jacket, and the paper tablet on which Todashev wrote. The results of the forensic analyses were consistent with facts related in the witness accounts.

The seven projectiles (six removed from Todashev's body during the autopsy and one recovered at the scene) were all fired by the Agent's handgun. The seven spent shell casings were ejected by that same weapon. This is consistent with the Agent's and the Assisting Trooper's accounts that only the Agent fired at Todashev.

No latent fingerprints viable for comparison were found on the metal pole. One viable latent print was found on the blade of the sword. That latent print did not match the known prints of either Todashev or any of the Massachusetts Investigative Team and it did not have sufficient points of comparison to compare it to any known fingerprint data base.

However, fingerprints and a palm print were found on the tablet of paper on which Todashev wrote his incomplete statement. All prints matched Todashev's known prints. This forensic evidence, in conjunction with the video recording depicting Todashev writing on a tablet on the coffee table, corroborates that Todashev authored the written confession.

DNA was extracted from blood on the coffee table and its detached shelf and from the Agent's shirt and jacket, upon which the Agent bled profusely from his head wound. The DNA from the blood on the Agent's shirt and jacket matched the DNA from the blood on both sections of the coffee table. At the same time, Todashev's DNA was excluded as a contributor to any of this DNA. This forensic result is consistent with the Agent being struck in the head by the coffee table or bleeding on it later.

D. Autopsy Report and Medical Examiners' Interviews

Florida's District Nine Medical Examiner's Office conducted an autopsy on May 22, 2013. The Chief Medical Examiner and the Deputy Chief Medical Examiner, who conducted the autopsy, later discussed their findings with FBI Inspectors and a Civil Rights Division attorney. The medical examiners provided certain conclusions to a scientific certainty. They also proffered relevant observations. When considered in conjunction with all available evidence, these conclusions and observations support reasonable inferences that are consistent with the witness accounts of the shooting.

According to the medical examiners, Todashev died as a result of multiple gunshot wounds. The results of the autopsy were consistent with Todashev falling forward toward the shooter with his head down. The shooter was neither standing over Todashev nor behind him when the shots were fired.

Todashev suffered gunshot wounds from seven bullets.[3] None of the seven entrance wounds showed soot or stippling. Thus, there was no evidence of a contact or close to contact gunshot. Rather, as the autopsy report reported, the wounds were fired from an "indeterminate range." The order in which the seven initial entrance wounds were inflicted cannot be determined to a scientific certainty. Those seven entrance wounds did, however, separate into groupings or patterns that suggest how and when they may have been inflicted.

The first grouping consists of three entrance wounds that struck Todashev on the left front upper side of his body. The bullets that caused those wounds all followed a slightly left to right and a front to back trajectory through and across the front of the body. One bullet in this grouping entered the upper left side of the chest. The other two bullets in this grouping entered the outside of the upper left arm, exited at the inside of that arm, and then reentered the body again in the upper left side of the chest near the first described wound.

Four other entrance wounds formed into different and separate patterns. Two of these entrance wounds struck the top of Todashev's body, one into the crown of the left side of his head and the other into the top of his left shoulder. The other two entrance wounds struck Todashev in the middle right side of his back, with one exiting through the front. All four of these bullets also followed a lateral trajectory through the body consistent with the trajectory direction of the bullets in the first grouping.

The bullets in these other two patterns also followed an up-to-down and back-to-front trajectory through the body. Significantly, the bullet that entered the crown of the left side of the head and the bullet that entered the top of the left shoulder both followed an extreme downward trajectory through the body (from the head and shoulder almost directly toward the legs). The two bullets that entered the back, however, followed a back-to-front trajectory with a much less extreme downward trajectory.

The medical examiners' observations about the location of the seven entry wounds and the trajectory of the associated seven bullets through the body support two important conclusions. First, the trajectory of all the bullets through the body indicates that all seven shots were fired from the direction that the Agent and the Assisting Trooper claim that the Agent was positioned in relation to Todashev when he fired at him. Second, the shots were fired at an indeterminate range, not at contact or close to contact range. Thus, these two conclusions, when considered together and with all the other relevant evidence (particularly the location of the body on the floor and the observation that Todashev fell forward toward the shooter, who was not over him or behind him) are consistent with the two eyewitness accounts that the Agent fired from the living room while he was in front of and to the kitchen-side of the living room as Todashev advanced toward the law enforcement officers from the hallway.

The medical examiners' observations about the location of the seven entry wounds and the trajectory of the bullets through the body support other significant reasonable inferences:

First, the separate grouping and patterns of entrance wounds are consistent with the account of all the witnesses, the two eye witnesses, the two witnesses outside and the one neighbor, who heard two separate volleys.

Second, the wounds and trajectory of the first grouping – entry wounds to the left upper chest and left upper arm area – are consistent with the first volley, that the Assisting Trooper reported was fired as Todashev charged with the metal utility pole held over his head. Moreover, these three entry wounds would have been inflicted by the Agent shooting from the kitchen side of the living room as he claimed.

Third, two of the wounds that form the second pattern, one to the crown of the left side of the head and the other to the top of the left shoulder – both with an extreme downward trajectory – are consistent with the Assisting Trooper's account that Todashev was shot with a second volley, after he had fallen down, regained his footing, and lunged at the trooper at an approximately 45 degree angle. The medical examiners further supported this inference by their observation that those two wounds could "likely" have occurred when Todashev was "falling." It is a fair inference that a body could be at a 45 degree angle to the ground both when it is falling as well as when rising.

Finally, the two entry wounds to the back – with a much less extreme downward trajectory angle – are consistent with the Assisting Trooper's observation that Todashev's body was twisting around as he was shot and fell, thus striking him in the back. The medical examiners further observed that those two wounds could "likely" have occurred as Todashev was twisting his body.

These observations, particularly the trajectory of the head and shoulder wounds considered along with the combination of seven entrance wounds and associated bullet trajectories, are inconsistent other possible scenarios. First, the three wounds to front chest area could not have been inflicted while Todashev had his back to the shooter. Second, the extreme downward trajectory of the wounds to the crown of the head and the top of the shoulder are inconsistent with the shots being fired when Todashev had his back to the shooter or was running away. Significantly, the medical examiners observed that the results of the autopsy were consistent with Todashev falling forward toward the shooter with his head down. Again, it is a fair inference that Todashev could have been falling or rising with his head down.

Other conjectured scenarios are not plausible enough to raise doubts about the mutually consistent accounts of the witnesses and the physical evidence that corroborates the witness accounts.

In sum, the existing wounds and associated bullet trajectories, when taken as a whole and considered in conjunction with all the other available evidence, are consistent with the only eyewitness accounts, those of the Assisting Trooper and the Agent. Further, nothing about the medical opinions and observations contradicts those eyewitness accounts.

B. Information Provided by Todashev's Family Attorneys, his Father, and CAIR

1. Conversation with his Father, Alibi and Physical Capacity

Attorneys representing Todashev's family asked the Department to consider three potentially relevant facts. First, Todashev called his father, who was in Russia, and told his father that he planned to speak with law enforcement investigators because he had nothing incriminating to hide from them. Second, there is purportedly information that constitutes an alibi for the September 11, 2011 Waltham triple homicide. Third, knee surgery that Todashev had on March 13, 2013, rendered him physically unable to pose a threat on May 22, 2013.

If Todashev told his father that he was cooperating with law enforcement investigators, he related accurate information. He voluntarily met with investigators in Orlando earlier in May and then again with the Massachusetts Investigative Team on May 21. On the other hand, it is not surprising that Todashev did not admit complicity in a triple homicide to a parent, especially during a telephone conversation.

The attorneys for the Todashev family elected not to share the purported alibi information with the government. They advised that the witness who had the information was afraid to come forward to federal authorities. Regardless of what such a witness might offer, Todashev's confession belies whatever information might suggest the existence of an alibi. Finally, available information contradicts the contention that Todashev was so physically impaired by a prior unrelated injury to constitute a threat on May 22, 2013. Rather, the evidence suggests that he was capable of the physical activity reportedly observed by the eyewitnesses. Hospital records indicate that Todashev, an otherwise healthy 27 year-old, underwent surgery to repair cartilage and ligament damage to his right knee on March 13, 2013. The surgical repair was successful and the "prognosis was excellent." The family attorneys did not provide any medical records to reflect the progress of his recovery or his physical condition as of May 21-22, two months after the successful surgical repair of his knee.

On the other hand, we have the May 21, 2013 recording of the video confession. It depicts Todashev moving without any visible restriction. Further, on May 4, two and a half weeks before the May 22 shooting, Todashev was involved in a physical altercation in an Orlando parking lot. That incident was captured on video surveillance. It depicts that, although outnumbered, Todashev successfully fought off the two men and without any sign of physical infirmity knocked one of them unconscious, and then left in his car. The police officers, who arrested him later that day, found that Todashev appeared physically fit enough to have prevailed in the altercation – although he did caution them, when ordered to get to the ground, that he had a "hurt knee." Given Todashev's martial arts skills and general physical fitness, as indicated by his fight with two men two weeks earlier, the evidence indicates that Todashev was, and would have believed that he was, physically capable on May 22 of overpowering the Agent and the Assisting Trooper.

2. Todashev's Associates

Todashev's father wrote a letter to the President in December 2013, raising another issue that had been previously alleged by a representative of The Council on American-Islamic Relations (CAIR). Todashev's father and CAIR claim that the FBI has harassed Todashev's friends in the Orlando area, suggesting that this alleged behavior is relevant to the Todashev shooting.

As indicated previously, Todashev had a relationship with the deceased Boston Marathon bomber and, according to Todashev's uncontroverted confession, Todashev was complicit in the triple homicide. The recorded confession confirms that the law enforcement focus on Todashev was warranted. Accordingly, Todashev's associates were also the subjects of federal and state law enforcement interest. Some of those associates were questioned. Some were incarcerated for matters unrelated to the May 22 shooting and deported pursuant to issues related to their immigration status. Speculation that these persons were deported to conceal information is unfounded. We learned nothing to suggest that law enforcement interaction with Todashev's associates is relevant to the May 22 shooting or that any of those persons deported had any further relevant information to offer.

IV. Legal Analysis

In order to establish a violation of 18 United States Code § 242, the government must prove beyond a reasonable doubt that a subject was acting under color of law and used excessive force when he shot or otherwise injured a victim, and that the subject did so willfully. We also considered 18 United States Code § 241 and whether there was sufficient evidence of any conspiracy to violate Todashev's rights. No other federal criminal statutes could reasonably be applied to this incident.

There is no question that the Agent was acting under color of law, as an on-duty FBI agent, at the time of the shooting.

Whether a subject used excessive force, in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 242, is determined under the Fourth Amendment's "objective reasonableness" standard. Graham v. Connor, 490 U.S. 386, 388 (1989). "The 'reasonableness' of a particular use of force must be judged from the perspective of a reasonable officer on the scene, rather than with the 20/20 vision of hindsight." Id. at 396. Thus, "[t]he calculus of reasonableness must embody allowance for the fact that police officers are often forced to make split-second judgments—in circumstances that are tense, uncertain, and rapidly evolving—about the amount of force that is necessary in a particular situation." Id. at 396-97.

Additionally, even if a subject's use of force could be shown to have been objectively unreasonable under the circumstances, the government must further prove that the subject acted willfully. An act is done willfully if the act is "committed voluntarily and purposely with the specific intent to do something the law forbids, that is to say, with a bad purpose either to disobey or to disregard the law." In order to show a violation of Section 242, a law enforcement officer's actions are willful only if he intends to do something that he knows is unlawful. Screws v. United States, 325 U.S. 91, 103-04 (1945).

The evidence is insufficient to conclude that the May 22, 2013 shooting of Ibragim Todashev was either unreasonable or a willful violation of the federal criminal civil rights statutes. Rather, considering all the surrounding circumstances, the evidence establishes that the FBI Agent fired his weapon with reason to believe that deadly force was necessary.

The materially consistent witness accounts and physical and forensic evidence corroborate the Agent's contention that he legitimately feared that Todashev intended to cause death or significant injury to the Assisting Trooper or the Agent himself. Much of the physical and forensic evidence directly supports the witness accounts of what occurred. And, there is no physical and forensic evidence that contradicts the witness accounts.

The evidence shows that Todashev was an experienced mixed martial arts fighter capable of violent conduct. Having just confessed to complicity in a triple murder, he had a motive to engage in the desperate act described by the Agent and Assisting Trooper. Thus, the Agent was understandably fearful when Todashev struck him with a coffee table and then, rather than attempting to escape, found a weapon, the metal pole, and aggressively charged the Assisting Trooper with it.

Accordingly, it was reasonable for the injured Agent to believe that it was necessary to shoot in order to halt the immediate threat of death or serious bodily harm posed by Todashev's charge. Further, it was reasonable to believe that, after a wounded Todashev regained his footing and resumed the charge, it was again necessary to shoot a second volley.

V. Conclusion

There is insufficient evidence to support any prosecutable violation of the potentially applicable federal criminal civil rights statutes, 18 U.S.C. §§ 242 or 241. Based upon all the evidence gathered so far, there is nothing to suggest that any further inquiry would change this conclusion. As with all matters, however, in the event that additional relevant facts should become available, the Civil Rights Division and USAO would review them and determine whether they support a re-evaluation of this conclusion.

#5.) F.S.S. 776.06. Deadly force.

(1) The term "deadly force" means force that is likely to cause death or great bodily harm and includes, but is not limited to:

(a) The firing of a firearm in the direction of the person to be arrested, even though no intent exists to kill or inflict great bodily harm; and

(b) The firing of a firearm at a vehicle in which the person to be arrested is riding.

Summary

During the course of Federal and State investigative efforts surrounding Boston Marathon bombing suspect Tamerlan Tsarnaev, Ibragim Todashev became a person of interest in a triple homicide which occurred in Waltham, Massachusetts on September 11, 2011. On May 21, 2013, Federal and State Law Enforcement Officers from Massachusetts and Florida made contact with Mr. Todashev in Orlando, Florida. Prior to contact being made on this date, each of the officers involved was aware Mr. Todashev was a skilled Mixed Martial Arts (MMA) fighter. During the course of a non-custodial, consensual interview, which occurred in the confined space of Mr. Todashev's apartment, Mr. Todashev spontaneously attacked and struck the FBI Agent with a coffee table, causing a laceration to the back of the FBI Agent's head. Mr. Todashev then ran past both officers towards the kitchen area of the apartment. As Mr. Todashev armed himself with a broomstick type pole, he aggressively charged back towards Trooper One and the FBI Agent in a manner they both perceived as being life threatening.

Based on the actions of Mr. Todashev, the FBI Agent responded to the imminent threat by discharging his firearm at Mr. Todashev. During the initial volley of gunfire, Mr. Todashev twisted his upper torso twice as he was being struck by the projectiles. This caused Mr. Todashev to pause during his attack. As Mr. Todashev regained his footing and made a headlong lunge towards the officers, the FBI Agent continued to engage the threat by discharging a second volley of gunfire at Mr. Todashev. The FBI Agent fired his issued handgun a total of seven (7) times in an effort to eliminate the threat posed by Mr. Todashev.

Given the totality of the circumstances at the time of this incident, in my opinion, the use of deadly force by the FBI Agent on May 22, 2013, was reasonable and justified, and therefore, lawful.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On April 11, 2014, at approximately 4:40 p.m., surveillance units observed [redacted] leaving the Wal-Mart parking lot by way of an access road leading to Reisterstown Road. Surveillance units then observed Harrison's vehicle follow the same route a short distance behind [redacted]. Fearing an effective vehicle stop could not be conducted at the time, SA [redacted] transmitted over the radio words to the effect, "We're not taking him here, we're going to follow him." Harrison proceeded to make a left hand turn onto the access road and towards Reisterstown Road, followed by surveillance units. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) Moments later, SA [redacted] transmitted over the radio words to the effect "The [redacted] is gone." SA [redacted] who was in charge of the surveillance operation, understood this to mean [redacted] was out of the area. SA [redacted] then transmitted over the radio words to the effect, "He [Harrison] is here in the right lane, we can take him right here." SA [redacted] understood this to mean Harrison was in a good position to conduct the vehicle stop. Based on the series of events, SA [redacted] transmitted the order to effect the vehicle stop of Harrison. This occurred on the access road just prior to the Reisterstown Road traffic light. The BCPD marked police cruiser had yet to arrive on the scene. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) While civilian traffic was stopped on the access road at the Reisterstown Road traffic light, Detective [redacted] positioned his [redacted] at the front driver-side corner of Harrison's vehicle. SA [redacted] positioned his [redacted] immediately adjacent to Harrison's driver's-side, followed by SA [redacted]. Civilian vehicles were stopped in front and behind Harrison's vehicle. Once the law enforcement vehicles moved into position, SA [redacted] activated his emergency lights and Agents exited their vehicles and approached Harrison's vehicle. All law enforcement officials were wearing body armor, with four of the five officials displaying the word "POLICE" on the front and back panels of the armor. Law enforcement officials were positioned as follows: 1) SA [redacted] at the driver's side door, 2) Detective [redacted] at the front driver's side corner, 3) SA [redacted] at the front driver's side corner, 4) SA [redacted] in front of the vehicle, 5) SA [redacted] at the passenger side of the vehicle. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 b7E -6

(U//~~FOUO~~) Law enforcement officials identified themselves as "Police" and gave Harrison instructions to raise his hands. Harrison initially complied with instructions and raised his hands in the air. Moments later, however, Harrison began to slowly look around then lowered his hands from sight against lawful commands to keep his hands in the air. SA [redacted] attempted to open the driver's side door, but was unsuccessful because the door was locked. SA [redacted] then attempted to breach the driver's side door window by hitting the window with the butt of his handgun. Again, he was unsuccessful. As law enforcement officials continued to yell commands at Harrison to put his hands in the air, Harrison's vehicle began to move forward slightly. Harrison then switched gears and began moving in reverse in an apparent attempt to flee. Harrison's vehicle struck the civilian car behind him. Fearing for the life and safety of b6 -1 b7C -1

civilians in the area, as well as enforcement officers attempting to apprehend Harrison, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his handgun into the driver's side front tire in an attempt to immobilize the vehicle. While doing so, SA [redacted] yelled words to the effect "I'm shooting the tire, I'm shooting the tire." Harrison's vehicle continued to move backwards, at which point SA [redacted] was unable to advance further because he was wedged between Harrison's vehicle and one of the FBI vehicles. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) After colliding with the first vehicle, Harrison continued to back his vehicle toward other civilian vehicles and to disregard official commands to "Stop." SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] then fired their handguns multiple times at Harrison, striking Harrison six times in the head, neck, and left shoulder. Both Agents stated they feared for the life and safety of innocent civilians in the area, as well law enforcement officers on foot in the area, causing them to utilize deadly force. Harrison's vehicle finally stopped after colliding with another vehicle. As Agents approached the vehicle, Harrison appeared motionless and unresponsive. Detective [redacted] shattered the window and SA [redacted] reached in, unlocked and opened the driver's side door. SA [redacted] an Emergency Medical Technician (EMT), assessed Harrison's condition and determined he had serious arterial bleeding. Harrison succumbed to his wounds at the scene. All witness accounts were consistent regarding details of the shooting. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Baltimore County Fire Department Medic 19 responded to the area of 9750 Reisterstown Road, Owings Mills, Maryland. Upon arrival, Medic 19 observed Harrison in the driver seat of the vehicle. The vehicle was "on and still in gear with the patient's foot still on the accelerator." Medic 19 personnel turned the vehicle off. Medic 19 examined Harrison, determined he sustained multiple gunshot wounds, and was deceased. Per normal protocol, Harrison was left in place until the Forensic Examiner of the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner (OCME) responded to the scene. Following forensic examination, the body of Harrison was transported to the OCME in Baltimore, Maryland, for autopsy.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Baltimore Field Office Evidence Response Team (ERT), along with members of the FBI Laboratory Shooting Reconstruction Team (LSRT), processed the shooting scene at the 9750 Reisterstown Road, Owings Mills, Maryland. Members of the BCPD Homicide Unit responded to the scene as part of a joint investigation with the FBI.

(U//~~FOUO~~) A neighborhood canvass revealed a local business located in close proximity of the shooting scene recorded portions of the shooting. A copy of the video recording was obtained and sent to the Forensic Audio, Video and Image Analysis Unit (FAVIAU) for enhancement.

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] b3 -2

(U//~~FOUO~~) SSSs of the four Agents involved in the shooting, as well as an interview of the BCPD Detective involved, were consistent and corroborated the factual accounting of the shooting. No other law enforcement officers fired their weapons and none were injured.

g. Accounting of Shots Fired

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] fired eight rounds from his Glock 22 .40 caliber handgun. Seven rounds were recovered in his weapon (one in the chamber, six in the 15 round capacity magazine). Three additional magazines were recovered from SA [redacted]. Two 15 round capacity magazines contained 15 rounds each and one 15 round capacity magazine contained 14 rounds (magazine recovered from vest). b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] fired nine rounds from his Springfield Armory 1911 .45 caliber handgun. Eight rounds were recovered in his weapon (one in the chamber, seven in the eight round capacity magazine). Two additional magazines were recovered from SA [redacted]. One 10 round capacity magazine contained 10 rounds and one eight round capacity magazine was empty.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his Glock 22 .40 caliber handgun. Fourteen rounds were recovered in his weapon (one in the chamber, 13 in the 15 round capacity magazine). One additional magazine was recovered from SA [redacted]. This 15 round capacity magazine contained 15 rounds. b6 -1 b7C -1

j. Forensic Summary

(U//~~FOUO~~) On April 11, 2014, the Baltimore Evidence Response Team (ERT) and the FBI Laboratory Shooting Reconstruction Team (LSRT) deployed to 9750 Reisterstown Road, Owings Mills, Maryland, the scene of the Agent-Involved Shooting. At 6:15 p.m., ERT began processing the scene. The LSRT arrived at 10:55 p.m. and assisted ERT through use of Total Station and Spherical Photography. Items recovered included ten .40 caliber shell casings and nine .45 caliber shell casings, as well as the weapons, magazines, and ammunition carried by the involved Agents. Evidence collected from the deceased subject included $1,880.00 in US currency and two bags of an unknown white substance. A total of 56 items were collected. At 2:40 a.m. on April 12, 2014, the Infiniti FX37 used by the subject was towed from 9750 Reisterstown Road to the Baltimore Field Office and processing of the scene was concluded.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On April 13, 2014, pursuant to a Federal search warrant, ERT and LSRT processed the vehicle at the Baltimore Field Office. Among items recovered from the vehicle were an Oxycodone prescription bottle with three pills, six cellular telephones, and 15 bullet fragments. LSRT identified 35 holes, ten impacts, and 13 trajectories on the hood and windshield of the vehicle. All trajectories appeared to come from the front of the vehicle. LSRT determined one projectile struck the left-front tire and one struck the rim and rotor of the left-front wheel. Projectile fragments were recovered from several points in the vehicle, including inside the left-front tire, engine compartment, dashboard, and passenger cabin.

k. Medical Summary

FBI Agents involved in the shooting:

(U//~~FOUO~~) No injuries.

Subject:

(U//~~FOUO~~) Baltimore County Fire Department Medic 19, with Paramedic [redacted] and EMT [redacted], responded to 9750 Reisterstown Road, Owings Mills, Maryland. Medic 19 was dispatched at 4:43 p.m. and arrived on the scene at 4:45 p.m. Medic 19 found the subject, Jameel Harrison, in the driver seat of the vehicle. Medic 19 observed Harrison sustained multiple gunshot wounds and displayed no signs of life. Paramedic [redacted] confirmed the subject was deceased and returned to service at 5:00 p.m.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Harrison was transported to the OCME for the State of Maryland and assigned case number 14-3355. On April 12, 2014 at 9:00 a.m., Assistant Medical Examiner [redacted], MD, performed the autopsy of Harrison. The OCME opinion was as follows:

"This 34 year old, African American male, JAMEEL KAREEN OFORUM HARRISON, died of MULTIPLE (6) GUNSHOT WOUNDS of the head (3), neck (3), and left shoulder (1). Two of the gunshot wounds of the head (A and B) injured the skull and brain. A bullet was recovered in association with each of these gunshot wounds. One of the gunshot wounds of the neck (D) injured the carotid arteries on either side of the neck. This was a through-and-through gunshot wound with no bullet recovery. A bullet jacket was recovered in association with the other gunshot wound of the neck (E). A bullet jacket was recovered in association with the gunshot wound of the left shoulder (F). By report, the decedent was shot by law enforcement while he was in his car. The manner of death is HOMICIDE."

(U//~~FOUO~~) Toxicology results associated with the autopsy revealed high levels of Oxycodone as follows: 1) Blood Heart: Oxycodone 0.7 mg/L; 2) Blood Femoral: Oxycodone 0.5 mg/L; 3) Urine: Oxycodone Positive.

IV. Shooting Incident Review Protocol

(U//~~FOUO~~) On April 11, 2014, Baltimore SAC Stephen E. Vogt spoke with Assistant Director Nancy McNamara to report the Agent-Involved Shooting. Inspector Paul D Delacourt spoke with Baltimore Field office ASAC [redacted] to arrange logistics prior to arriving in Baltimore, Maryland.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On April 11, 2014, the SIRT traveled to Baltimore and reviewed the Inspection Division shooting review protocol. Inspector Delacourt, Inspector Shawn W. Stroud, and the SIRT members met with Baltimore Field Office EM and ERT personnel. The SIRT also viewed the shooting scene, which occurred in the vicinity of 9750 Reisterstown Road, Owings Mills, Maryland.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On April 12, 2014, Inspector Delacourt and Inspector Stroud met SAC Vogt to explain the SIRT process and protocols. Inspector Delacourt and Inspector Stroud met with the BCPD Chief of Police, Jim Johnson, who stated his department had opened a homicide investigation and agreed to work in coordination with the FBI. Inspector Delacourt and Inspector Stroud also met with Deputy State's Attorney [redacted] to explain the SIRT process and protocols. b6 -4 b7C -4

(U//~~FOUO~~) On April 14, 2014, the Baltimore Field office submitted a FD-1015, Executive Situation Report to the Director. Inspector Delacourt and Inspector Stroud met with the involved FBI Agents and management personnel to explain the SIRT process and protocols.

(U//~~FOUO~~) In total, 12 FBI interviews were conducted of Baltimore Field Office personnel. Eight interviews were documented via FD-302. SSSs were obtained from SAs [redacted] The SSSs and interviews of witnesses were conducted voluntarily. The Agents interviewed via SSS signed a FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident). Additionally, SIRT members interviewed one BCPD Detective and six civilians. BCPD conducted four videotaped interviews of witnesses, which were provided to the SIRT. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On April 14, 2014, the Baltimore Field Office provided the SIRT with a copy of a video recording recovered from a surveillance camera of a business located near the area of the shooting. Review of the video recording revealed portions of the Agent-Involved Shooting were captured on the video.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Pursuant to the shooting review, SIRT members obtained [redacted] b3 -2

(U//~~FOUO~~) On April 16, 2014, Inspector Delacourt provided an exit brief to SAC Vogt and furnished SAC Vogt with a copy of the SIRT Report.

V. Administrative

a. Firearms Training

(U//~~FOUO~~) Firearms qualifications records for SAs [redacted] were provided to the SIRT through the FIRST qualification database. SA [redacted] last qualified with his service weapon on February 20, 2014, and was in compliance with the firearms qualifications requirements. SA [redacted] last qualified with his service weapon on February 28, 2014, and was in compliance with the firearms qualifications requirements. SA [redacted] last qualified with his service weapon on December 18, 2013, and was in compliance with the firearms qualifications requirements. b6 -1 b7C -1

b. Deadly Force Training

(U//~~FOUO~~) Deadly Force Policy training was provided to SAs [redacted] on October 29, 2013, during Baltimore Field Office SWAT's First Quarter Firearms Training Session. This training was documented in the FBI Special Operations Unit (SOU) Training Resources Management System (TRMS) database. A review of the TRMS further revealed SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] Baltimore Field Office SWAT Team Leader SA [redacted] confirmed the Deadly Force Policy was briefed twice before each SWAT operation. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -8

(U//~~FOUO~~) Deadly Force Policy training was provided to SA [redacted] on October 18, 2013, at the Washington Field Office. Assistant Division Counsel (ADC) [redacted] presented the training. SA [redacted] registered for the training in Virtual Academy and signed an attendance form at the training. b6 -1 b7C -1

c. DOJ Civil Rights Division Prosecutorial Decision

(U//~~FOUO~~) On May 7, 2014, [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Department of Justice (DOJ), Civil Rights Division, provided a prosecutorial declination for FBI Agents involved in the AIS on April 11, 2014. The declination was provided to Inspector Trent Teyema via E-mail dated May 7, 2014. In the E-mail, Special Legal Counsel [redacted] advised, upon review of the Inspection Division Shooting Incident Report, DOJ concluded the facts did not warrant a federal criminal civil rights investigation. b6 -3 b7C -3

d. Local Prosecutorial Decision

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] Deputy State's Attorney for Baltimore County, Maryland, provided a letter to the Inspection Division, dated April 21, 2014. The letter stated, based upon the nature of the investigation and the Defendant's gang affiliation, the Agents were justified in their belief the suspect could be violent and a danger. The suspect disregarded the commands made by the Agents to get out of the car and to show his hands. Instead, he put the car in reverse, striking two civilian's car in an effort to escape. This created a grave threat to civilians and Agents alike, and the use of deadly force was justified. Accordingly, no action will be taken by the State's Attorney's Office for Baltimore County. b6 -4 b7C -4

VI. Inspector's Draft Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 1: SA [redacted] discharged his firearm solely to disable a moving vehicle, in violation of the DOJ Deadly Force Policy. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 1: The DOJ Deadly Force Policy stated, "Law enforcement officers of the Department of Justice may use deadly force only when necessary, that is, when the officer has a reasonable belief that the subject of such force poses an imminent danger of death or serious physical injury to the officer or to another person.

A. Deadly force may not be used solely to prevent the escape of a fleeing suspect.
B. Firearms may not be fired solely to disable moving vehicles.
C. If feasible and to do so would not increase the danger to the officer or others, a verbal warning to submit to the authority of the officer shall be given prior to the use of deadly force.
D. Warning shots are not permitted.
E. Officers will be trained in alternative methods and tactics for handling resisting subjects which must be used when the use of deadly force is not authorized by this policy."

(U//~~FOUO~~) On April 11, 2014, SA [redacted] was involved in an AIS in the vicinity of 9750 Reisterstown Road, Owings Mills, Maryland. Following the incident, SA [redacted] provided a detailed account to SIRT members of the events leading up to the shooting. Within his account, SA [redacted] advised the following: b6 -1 b7C -1

> "As Harrison's vehicle continued to accelerate backwards, my gun was pointed at Harrison through his driver-side window. His vehicle continued to apply force on the civilian vehicles behind him. In the split second I had available to me to assess the deadly threat to civilians and my colleagues, posed by Harrison, and my belief his vehicle, as operated by him, was a dangerous instrument which could imminently cause grave bodily harm, I fired two rounds into Harrison's driver-side front tire in an attempt to immobilize the vehicle and neutralize the threat. I was within one foot of the tire at the time I fired these two rounds."

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 1a: SAC, Baltimore Field Office, will ensure SA [redacted] receives remedial training regarding the DOJ Deadly Force Policy. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 1b: SAC, Baltimore Field Office, will ensure all Baltimore Field Office personnel are appropriately trained regarding the DOJ Deadly Force Policy.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 2: Agents improperly utilized civilian vehicles as a blocking mechanism during a high-risk traffic stop.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2: On April 11, 2014, at approximately 4:40 p.m., FBI and BCPD surveillance personnel initiated a traffic stop of a vehicle operated by Harrison, a subject of a suspected narcotics transaction. Harrison was operating a gray 2013 Infinity FX37, bearing New York license plate: GAK2131. The enforcement action occurred on an access road from a Wal-Mart parking lot in the area of 9750 Reisterstown Road, Owings Mills, Maryland. At the time of the initial enforcement action, Harrison's vehicle was stopped on the access road and behind civilian vehicles at a traffic light. A civilian vehicle was immediately behind Harrison's vehicle. To effect the traffic stop, Detective [redacted] positioned his unmarked [redacted] at the front driver-side corner of Harrison's vehicle. SA [redacted] positioned his unmarked [redacted] immediately adjacent to Harrison's driver's-side, followed by SA [redacted]'s unmarked [redacted] Once the law enforcement vehicles moved into position, SA [redacted] activated his emergency lights and Agents exited their vehicles and approached Harrison's vehicle. All law enforcement officials were wearing body armor, with four of the five officials displaying the word "POLICE" on the front and back panels of the armor. Law enforcement officials were positioned as follows: 1) SA [redacted] at the driver's side door, 2) Detective [redacted] at the front driver's side corner, 3) SA [redacted] at the front driver's side corner, 4) SA [redacted] in front of the vehicle, 5) SA [redacted] at the passenger side of the vehicle.

b7E -6

(U//~~FOUO~~) Law enforcement officials identified themselves as "Police" and gave Harrison instructions to raise his hands. Harrison initially complied with instructions and raised his hands in the air. Moments later, however, Harrison began to slowly look around then lowered his hands from sight against lawful commands to keep his hands in the air. Harrison then switched gears and began moving in reverse in an apparent attempt to flee. Harrison's vehicle struck the civilian car behind him. Fearing for the life and safety of civilians in the area, as well as enforcement officers attempting to apprehend Harrison, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his handgun into the driver's side front tire in an attempt to immobilize the vehicle. After colliding with the first vehicle, Harrison continued to back his vehicle toward other civilian vehicles and to disregard official commands to "Stop." SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] then fired their handguns multiple times at Harrison, striking Harrison six times in the head, neck, and left shoulder. Both Agents stated they feared for the life and safety of innocent civilians in the area, as well law enforcement officers on foot in the area, causing them to utilize deadly force. Harrison's vehicle finally stopped after colliding with another vehicle.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Practical Applications Unit (PAU) at the FBI Academy in Quantico, Virginia conducts training sessions for all New Agent Trainees in the proper methods of conducting motor vehicle stops. Agents are instructed to seek optimal tactical advantage in conducting traffic stops, while minimizing risks to innocent bystanders, law enforcement personnel, and subjects of the vehicle stop. Absent exigent circumstances, Agents should not expose innocent bystanders to dangers associated with high-risk enforcement actions. In the scenario described above, law enforcement personnel utilized civilian vehicles as a blocking mechanism to effect a high-risk traffic stop. This placed the occupants of the vehicles at risk of being introduced into the enforcement action, placing them in danger. Furthermore, the use of civilian vehicles as a blocking mechanism failed to ensure a proper blockade, which would have minimized dangers associated with a non-compliant subject.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2: SAC, Baltimore Field Office, should ensure all Baltimore Field Office Agents are trained in the proper methods of conducting traffic stops.

Details:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 10/21/2014, the SIRG reviewed an Agent-involved shooting incident that occurred on 04/11/2014, involving Special Agents (SAs) [redacted], and Detective (Det.) [redacted] Baltimore County Police Department (BCPD). Agents and Det. [redacted] were supporting a [redacted] investigation of [redacted]. Pursuant to a Court-authorized Title-III wiretap, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) [redacted]. While monitoring the Title-III, investigators learned [redacted] Agents and Det. [redacted] briefed the A/SSA, and SAC they intended to establish surveillance of [redacted]

(U//~~FOUO~~) During the planned surveillance, Agents observed [redacted] Harrison drove along an access road leading to Reisterstown Road. Agents and Det. [redacted] driving three separate vehicles, followed Harrison. At the Reisterstown Road stop light, Harrison was positioned in the right turn lane. Prior to the arrival of a marked unit, Agents decided to conduct a traffic stop and effect an arrest of Harrison. Agents and Det. [redacted] positioned their vehicles in the adjacent lane, along Harrison's driver's side, with Det. [redacted]'s vehicle angled slightly in front of Harrison's vehicle. Agents and Det. [redacted] approached Harrison's vehicle, identified themselves as police, issued verbal commands, and ordered Harrison to exit the vehicle. Harrison ignored commands and drove his SUV in reverse, striking a civilian [redacted] positioned behind him.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Harrison succumbed to his wounds at the scene. Emergency Medical Services responded immediately and pronounced Harrison dead within five minutes of the initial call of shots fired. No civilians or law enforcement personnel were injured.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SAs [redacted] fired their weapons. SA [redacted] and Det. [redacted] did not fire their weapons. BCPD identified and interviewed four civilian witnesses to the shooting incident. Baltimore Agents investigating the Assault on a Federal Officer case identified and interviewed others. One local surveillance camera captured a portion of the incident at a distance. The shooting scene was processed by FBI BA ERT, the Laboratory Division's Shooting Reconstruction Team, and BCPD. Signed Sworn Statements of the Agents and an interview of Det. [redacted] presented consistent recollections of the events.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Harrison was transported to the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner (OCME) for the State of Maryland and assigned case number 14-3355. On 04/12/2014 at 9:00 a.m., Assistant Medical Examiner [redacted], MD, performed the autopsy of Harrison. The OCME opinion was as follows:

"This 34 year old, African American male, JAMEEL KAREEN OFORUM HARRISON, died of MULTIPLE (6) GUNSHOT WOUNDS of the head (3), neck (3), and left shoulder (1). Two of the gunshot wounds of the head (A and B) injured the skull and brain. A bullet was recovered in association with each of these gunshot wounds. One of the gunshot wounds of the neck (D) injured the carotid arteries on either side of the neck. This was a through-and-through gunshot wound with no bullet recovery. A bullet jacket was recovered in association with the other gunshot wound of the neck (E). A bullet jacket was recovered in association with the gunshot wound of the left shoulder (F). By report, the decedent was shot by law enforcement while he was in his car. The manner of death is HOMICIDE."

(U//~~FOUO~~) Laboratory examination of items recovered from the person of Jameel Harrison revealed the following: 1) 136.41 grams of a hard white substance was determined to be heroin; 2) 57.79 grams of a hard white substance was determined to be heroin.

SIRG Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 10/21/2014, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force.

a. The SIRG voted unanimously the application of deadly force by SA [redacted] by discharging his firearm solely to disable a moving vehicle was out of compliance with the Department of Justice (DOJ) Deadly Force Policy. b6 -1 b7C -1

b. The SIRG voted ten to one the application of deadly force by SAs [redacted] on 04/11/2014, was in compliance with the DOJ Deadly Force Policy.

2. Provide the Director with evaluative analyses, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions concerning operational planning and execution, training, and/or safety issues.

Title: (U//~~FOUO~~) Shooting Incident Review Group
Re: 297I-HQ-A4717273, 11/24/2014

a. The SIRG determined SA [redacted] discharged his firearm solely to disable a moving vehicle, in violation of the DOJ Deadly Force policy. Therefore, the SIRG proposed an observation with recommendations for corrective actions. b6 -1 b7C -1

b. The SIRG determined SAs [redacted] took appropriate actions to protect themselves and others from the imminent threat posed by Jameel Harrison. The SIRG noted, however, Agents improperly utilized civilian vehicles as a blocking mechanism during a high-risk traffic stop and proposed an observation with recommendations for corrective actions.

"As Harrison's vehicle continued to accelerate backwards, my gun was pointed at Harrison through his driver-side window. His vehicle continued to apply force on the civilian vehicles behind him. In the split second I had available to me to assess the deadly threat to civilians and my colleagues, posed by Harrison, and my belief his vehicle, as operated by him, was a dangerous instrument which could imminently cause grave bodily harm, I fired two rounds into Harrison's driver-side front tire in an attempt to immobilize the vehicle and neutralize the threat. I was within one foot of the tire at the time I fired these two rounds."

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2a: On 04/11/2014, at approximately 4:40 p.m., Baltimore FBI Agents and a BCPD TFO initiated a traffic stop of a vehicle operated by Jameel Harrison, a subject of a suspected narcotics transaction. Harrison was operating a gray 2013 Infinity. The enforcement action occurred on an access road adjacent to a Wal-Mart parking lot in the area of 9750 Reisterstown Road, Owings Mills, Maryland. At the time of the initial enforcement action, Harrison's vehicle was stopped on the access road and behind civilian vehicles at a traffic light. A civilian vehicle was immediately behind Harrison's vehicle. To effect the traffic stop, Detective [redacted] positioned his unmarked [redacted] at the front driver side corner of Harrison's vehicle. SA [redacted] positioned his unmarked [redacted] immediately adjacent to Harrison's driver's side, followed by SA [redacted]'s unmarked [redacted] Once the law enforcement vehicles moved into position, SA [redacted] activated his emergency lights and Agents and the TFO exited their vehicles and approached Harrison's vehicle. All law enforcement officials were wearing body armor, with four of the five officials displaying the word "POLICE" on the front and back panels of the armor. Law enforcement officials were positioned as follows: 1) SA [redacted] at the driver's side door, 2) Detective [redacted] at the front driver's side corner, 3) SA [redacted] at the front driver's side corner, 4) SA [redacted] in front of the vehicle, 5) SA [redacted] at the passenger side of the vehicle.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Law enforcement officials identified themselves as "Police" and gave Harrison instructions to raise his hands. Harrison initially complied and raised his hands in the air. Moments later, however, Harrison began to slowly look around then lowered his hands from sight against lawful commands to keep his hands in the air. Harrison's vehicle then began moving in reverse in an apparent attempt to flee. Harrison's vehicle struck the civilian car behind him. Fearing for the life and safety of civilians in the area, as well as enforcement officers attempting to apprehend Harrison, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his handgun into the driver's side front tire in an attempt to immobilize the vehicle. After colliding with the first vehicle, Harrison continued to back his vehicle toward other civilian vehicles and to disregard official commands to "Stop." SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] then fired their handguns multiple times at Harrison, striking Harrison six times in the head, neck, and left shoulder. Both Agents stated they feared for the life and safety of innocent civilians in the area, as well law enforcement officers on foot in the area, causing them to utilize deadly force. Harrison's vehicle finally stopped after colliding with another vehicle.

Quantico, Virginia conducts training sessions for all New Agent Trainees (NATs) in the proper methods of conducting motor vehicle stops. Agents are instructed to seek optimal tactical advantage in conducting traffic stops, while minimizing risks to innocent bystanders, law enforcement personnel, and subjects of the vehicle stops. Absent exigent circumstances, Agents should not expose innocent bystanders to dangers associated with high-risk enforcement actions. In the scenario described herein, law enforcement personnel utilized civilian vehicles as a blocking mechanism to effect a high-risk traffic stop. This placed the occupants of the vehicles at risk of being introduced into the enforcement action, placing them in danger. Furthermore, the use of civilian vehicles as a blocking mechanism failed to ensure a proper blockade, which would have minimized dangers associated with a non-compliant subject.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2b: In consultation with TTU, INSD assessed NATs received minimal tactical training regarding the proper execution of high-risk vehicle stops. New Agents training consists of 20 weeks (approximately 100 days) of training, with nine days allocated to TTU. Of the time allotted to tactical training, NATs receive approximately two hours of instruction on compliant vehicle stops and vehicle blocking techniques. An additional five hours are spent utilizing vehicle stops in scenario-based training.

(U//~~FOUO~~) INSD has reviewed multiple Agent-involved shootings associated with vehicle stops. INSD review and Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) discussion evaluated the circumstances leading to, and tactical execution of, the individual vehicle stops. INSD has not reviewed TD curriculum. SIRG discussion advised and INSD recommends the Training Division (TD) review the current curriculum regarding high-risk vehicle stops and re-evaluate the sufficiency of the existing training curriculum to adequately prepare Agents for the heightened dangers associated with high-risk vehicle enforcement actions.

address the continuing development of tactical skills in arrest scenarios for tenured Agents and Task Force Officers (TFOs) on operational squads, who were more likely to be involved in adversarial actions as a result of SSTF, VCTF, JTTF or other investigations. TTU advised LETSS was the only advanced FBI tactical training available to Agents and TFOs. TTU advised no current funding is allocated for LETSS in FY 2015.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2a: SAC, Baltimore Field Office, should ensure all Baltimore Field Office Agents are trained in the proper methods of conducting traffic stops.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2b: AD, TD should review and assess the sufficiency of existing New Agent training curriculum for high-risk vehicle stops.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2c: AD, TD should assess the feasibility of funding FY 2015 Law Enforcement Training for Safety and Survival courses to facilitate the continuing development of tactical skills in arrest scenarios for Agents and TFOs.

Re: Assaults on Federal Agents

Dear Lt. [redacted]

I have reviewed the shooting of Jameel Harrison. Based upon the nature of the investigation and the Defendant's gang affiliation, the agents were justified in their belief that the suspect could be violent and a danger.

The suspect disregarded the commands made by the agents to get out of the car and to show his hands. Instead he put the car in reverse, striking two civilian's cars in an effort to escape. This created a grave threat to civilians and agents alike, and the use of deadly force was justified. Accordingly, no action will be taken by this office.

Very truly yours,

Subject: Baltimore FBI Shooting

Inspector Trent Teyema Inspection Division
FBI

On the afternoon of April 11, 2014, two FBI agents, who were assigned to a [redacted] Task Force, shot and fatally wounded Jameel Harrison, a known b7E -3 member of a violent street gang, while attempting to conduct a vehicle stop and arrest following a drug sale. The subject had a history of violent armed activity about which the task force members, including the shooter agents, were aware. The subject was attempting to escape arrest in his vehicle, endangering the law enforcement officers who were on foot, as well as the civilian drivers in vehicles with which his vehicle collided or was about to collide. Based upon a review of the Inspection Division Shooting Incident Report, we have concluded that the facts do not warrant a federal criminal civil rights investigation. The USAO concurs with our decision. The State's Attorney for Baltimore County, Maryland, determined the deadly force was justified.

The two agents and several other task force members blocked the subject's vehicle with their own vehicles on an access road near a shopping center while the subject's car was hemmed in between a line of civilian vehicles in a turning lane. Emergency lights were activated and the four agents and one Baltimore police detective surrounded the subject's car on foot -- in front, behind and alongside it. They wore vests marked police, verbally identified themselves as "Police," and ordered the subject to "Put the car in park! Unlock the doors! Get out of the car!" Initially, the subject raised his hands. He then lowered his hands to the gear shift and appeared to be considering his escape. [redacted] b3 -2

The subject jerked his car forward. He then backed up, colliding with a civilian woman's car behind him. As his car began to clear those vehicles to his rear, he began to accelerate in reverse. One of the agent's yelled "Don't do it! " Another agent yelled, "I'm shooting the tire!" and did so. That agent also saw a woman on foot running near the subject's car.

At this point the two agents fired at the subject through the windshield striking him. Both agents stated that they feared for the safety and life of the other agents on foot, as well as the civilians in the nearby cars, because of the subject's dangerous driving and thus they used deadly force. The subject's car then rolled to a stop and he expired from multiple gunshot wounds.

The other three law enforcement officers present claimed that they had the same fear for their own safety and the safety of others and would have fired their weapons had they had a good line of fire. The civilian witnesses corroborated that the subject drove as he did, colliding with the civilian cars as they tried to clear out of his way. They also corroborated that the law enforcement officers wore vests marked Police and yelled the warnings that were reported. One woman related that she had exited her car and was on foot in the street as the events unfolded.

Under the totality of the circumstances, the evidence does not support a conclusion that the agents willfully used force that they knew to be unreasonable or unnecessary, the intent element required for a violation of the applicable federal criminal civil rights statute. A federal criminal civil rights investigation of the shooting is not warranted. We appreciate the agents' voluntary statements, facilitating a fully informed decision. Please complete your administrative review.

Federal Bureau of Investigation
Baltimore, MD

Dear Mr. [redacted]

I have completed my review of an administrative inquiry regarding an allegation that you disregarded the Department of Justice (DOJ) deadly force policy when you discharged your weapon at a tire of a moving vehicle during a deadly force incident, in violation of Offense Code 1.8 (Investigative Deficiency – Violation of Operational Guidelines/Policy).[1] Based on a preponderance of the evidence, I conclude the allegation is substantiated. Based on the circumstances of this case, and considering the 12 Douglas Factors, including, but not limited to, consistency with precedent, the Penalty Guidelines, prior disciplinary history, and aggravating/mitigating factors, I am suspending you from duty, without pay, for one calendar day.

DISCUSSION

On April 11, 2014, around 4:40 p.m., you, Specal Agent 1 (SA1), Special Agent 2 (SA2), and Special Agent 3 (SA3), and local police department Task Force Officer (TFO) were involved in a shooting incident. You, agents and TFO (collectively, law enforcement officials, or LEOs) were supporting a [redacted] investigation of a [redacted] b7A -1 b7E -1,6 [redacted]. LEOs, driving three separate vehicles, followed Subject. Prior to the arrival of a marked unit, LEOs decided to conduct a traffic stop and affect an arrest of Subject. The LEOs approached Subject's vehicle, identified yourselves as police, issued verbal commands, and ordered Subject to exit the vehicle. Subject ignored commands and drove his vehicle in reverse, striking a civilian vehicle positioned behind him.

[1] You were also alleged to have violated Offense Code 5.15 (Misuse of Weapon – Intentional Discharge). However, this allegation is predicated on the same conduct forming the basis of the allegation that you violated Offense Code 1.8. According to the Penalty Guidelines, "OPR will exercise care in assessing multiple penalties where the substantiated are essentially restatements of the same act of misconduct." Therefore, I will limit my discussion to Offense Code1.8.

Subject, still in reverse, maneuvered his vehicle between the bucar of the agent in the rear and the civilian vehicle. Fearing for the safety of civilians and fellow LEOs, you shot the tire of Subject's vehicle and SA1 and SA2 fired their weapons at Subject.[2] Subject's vehicle struck and came to rest against a second civilian vehicle that was positioned two vehicles behind the first civilian vehicle.

Emergency Medical Services responded immediately and pronounced Subject dead within five minutes of the initial call of shots fired. No civilians or law enforcement personnel were injured.

The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) concurred and ruled that the use of deadly force in this incident was justified.

Shooting Incident Details

On April 11, 2014, at approximately 4:40 p.m., your surveillance team observed Supplier's [redacted] leaving the parking lot by way of an access road leading to a road (Road). Surveillance units then observed Subject's vehicle follow the same route a short distance behind Supplier. Fearing an effective vehicle stop could not be conducted at the time, due to Supplier's proximity to Subject, you transmitted over the radio words to the effect of, "We're not taking him here, we're going to follow him." Subject proceeded to make a left hand turn onto the access road and towards Road, followed by the surveillance team. b6 -7 b7C -7

Moments later, SA1 transmitted over the radio words to the effect of, [redacted] is gone." You, who were in charge of the surveillance operation, understood this to mean Supplier's [redacted] was out of the area. SA1 then transmitted over the radio something to the effect of, "He [Subject] is here in the right lane, we can take him right here." You understood this to mean Subject was in a good position to conduct the vehicle stop. Based on this series of events, you transmitted the order to affect the vehicle stop of Subject. The marked police unit had yet to arrive on the scene. b6 -7 b7C -7

While traffic was stopped on the access road at the traffic light for Road, TFO positioned his vehicle at the front driver-side corner of Subject's vehicle. You positioned your bucar immediately adjacent to Subject's driver's side, followed by SA1's bucar. Civilian vehicles were stopped in front of and behind Subject's.[6] Once the surveillance team's vehicles moved into position, SA1 activated his emergency lights and all LEOs exited your vehicles and approached Subject's vehicle. All LEOs were wearing body armor, with four of the five displaying the word "POLICE" on the front and back panels of the armor. The LEOs were positioned as follows: 1) you at the driver's side door, 2) TFO at the front driver's side corner; 3) SA3 at the front driver's side corner; 4) SA1 in front of the vehicle; 5) SA2 at the passenger side of the vehicle.

LEOs identified yourselves as "police" and gave Subject instructions to raise his hands. Subject initially complied with instructions and raised his hands in the air. Moments later, however, Subject began to slowly look around and then lowered his hands from sight against the LEOs' commands to keep his hands in the air. You attempted to open the driver's side door, but it was locked. You then tried to breach the driver's side window by hitting the window with the butt of your handgun. Again, you were unsuccessful. As the LEOs continued to yell commands at Subject to put his hands in the air, Subject's vehicle began to move forward slightly. Subject then switched gears and began moving in reverse in an apparent attempt to flee.[7] Subject's vehicle struck the civilian car behind him. Fearing for the life and safety of civilians in the area, as well as your fellow LEOs, you fired two rounds from your handgun into the driver's side front tire in an attempt to immobilize the vehicle. While doing so, you yelled words to the effect of, "I'm shooting the tire, I'm shooting the tire." Subject's vehicle continued to move backwards, at which point you were unable to advance further because you were wedged between Subject's vehicle and one of the bucars.

After colliding with the first vehicle, Subject continued to back his vehicle toward other civilian vehicles and to disregard official commands to stop. SA1 and SA2 then fired their handguns multiple times at Subject, striking Subject six times in the head, neck, and left shoulder. Both agents used deadly force because they feared for the life and safety of innocent civilians in the area as well as the LEOs. Subject's vehicle finally stopped after colliding with another vehicle. As LEOs approached the vehicle, Subject appeared motionless and unresponsive. TFO shattered the window and you reached in, unlocked and opened the driver's side door. SA2, an Emergency Medical Technician (EMT), assessed Subject's condition and determined he had serious arterial bleeding. Subject died on site. All witness accounts were consistent regarding the details of the shooting.

The county fire department medic unit responded to the scene and, upon arrival, observed Subject in the driver seat of the vehicle. The vehicle was still on and in gear, with Subject's foot still on the accelerator. Medic personnel turned off the vehicle, examined Subject, determined he sustained multiple gunshot wounds, and was deceased. Per normal protocol, Subject's body was left in place until the forensic examiner of the medical examiner's office responded to the scene.

[7] While SA2's and TFO's statements do not mention whether the vehicle first moved forward a small distance, the other three (you, SA1 and SA3) recall Subject's vehicle first moving or lurching forward a short distance, before Subject shifted gears and began driving in reverse.

Following forensic examination, Subject's body was transported to the medical examiner's office for autopsy.

That same day, your division's ERT and FBI's Laboratory Shooting Reconstruction Team (LSRT) processed the shooting scene. Members of the police department also responded to the scene as part of a joint investigation with the FBI. Evidence gathered from Subject's body at the scene included $1880 in cash and two bags of a white substance later determined to be heroin. On April 13, 2014[8], further evidence recovered from Subject's vehicle included an Oxycodone prescription bottle with three pills and six cellular telephones.

Also on the same day as the shooting, your division notified FBIHQ and the Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) process was started. Over the course of the next few days, SIRT conducted its investigation, which included FBI interviews and interviews of non-FBI individuals (TFO and civilians).[9] The police department conducted videotaped interviews of witnesses, which it provided to SIRT. SIRT also obtained video recording recovered from a surveillance camera of a business near the shooting location, [redacted] b3 -2 and agents' firearms training and deadly force policy training history.

On April 12, 2014, the medical examiner's office performed the autopsy of Subject. They concluded Subject died of multiple gunshot wounds: Three in the head, three in the neck, and one in the left shoulder. Two of the gunshot wounds to the head injured the skull and brain. One of the gunshot wounds of the neck injured the carotid arteries on either side of the neck.[10] Toxicology results revealed high levels of Oxycodone in Subject's system.

Accounting of Shots Fired

On April 11, 2014, SA2 fired eight rounds from his Glock 22 .40 caliber handgun. SA1 fired nine rounds from his Springfield Armory 1911 .45 caliber handgun. Both SA2 and SA1 directed their shots at Subject. You fired two rounds from your Glock 22 .40 caliber handgun. You directed both of your shots at the front driver's side tire of Subject's vehicle.

Firearms and Deadly Force Training

You and the other agents involved in the shooting were found to be properly trained and within compliance with the firearms qualifications requirements at the time of the shooting incident.[11]

You and SA1, who were both on your division's SWAT team at the time of the incident, received deadly force policy training on October 29, 2013, during SWAT's first quarter firearms

[8] After the initial ERT scene processing on April 11, 2014, Subject's vehicle was towed to your division in the early morning hours of April 12, 2014 for later processing.
[9] All FBI interviews were voluntary, including yours and the other three agents involved in the shooting. SIRT report page 13. The Signed Sworn Statements of the agents and an interview of TFO presented a consistent recollection of the events.

training session.[12] Both you and SA1 also each participated in over 20 SWAT operations within the year preceding the shooting incident. The SWAT Team Leader confirmed the deadly force policy was briefed twice before each SWAT operation.

The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) voted 10 to one that SA2 and SA1 were in compliance with DOJ Deadly Force Policy when they discharged their weapons at Subject. SIRG voted unanimously that you were out of compliance with DOJ Deadly Force policy when you discharged your weapon solely to disable a moving vehicle.

Declinations to Prosecute

In a letter dated April 21, 2014, the Deputy State's Attorney for the county provided a letter to the Inspection Division that stated that based upon the nature of the investigation and Subject's gang affiliation, agents were justified in their belief that Subject could be violent and a danger. Subject disregarded commands made by the agents and, instead, put the car in reverse and stuck two civilians' cars in an effort to escape. This created a grave threat to civilians and agents alike and therefore the use of deadly force was justified. Accordingly, the letter advised that no action would be taken against the agents by the State's Attorney's Office.

On May 7, 2014, Special Legal Counsel, Department of Justice Civil Rights Division (DOJ-CRD), declined prosecution of the agents involved in this shooting incident. DOJ-CRD concluded the facts did not warrant a federal criminal civil rights investigation.

ANALYSIS

According to FBI Offense Code 1.8, employees are prohibited from "[k]nowingly or recklessly failing to enforce or comply with an FBI or DOJ operational guideline or policy not specifically delineated in any of the other "Investigative Deficiency" offense codes provided herein."

The DOJ deadly force policy states:

> Law enforcement officers of the Department of Justice may use deadly force only when necessary, that is, when the officer has a reasonable belief that the subject of such force poses an imminent danger of death or serious physical injury to the officer or to another person.
>
> A. Deadly force may not be used solely to prevent the escape of a fleeing suspect.
> B. Firearms may not be fired solely to disable moving vehicles.
> C. If feasible and to do so would not increase the danger to the officer or others, a verbal warning to submit to the authority of the officer shall be given prior to the use of deadly force.
> D. Officers will be trained in alternative methods and tactics for handling resisting subjects which must be used when the use of deadly force is not authorized by this policy.

[12] This training was documented in the FBI training database. SIRT report, page 14. SA2 received deadly force policy training on 10/18/2013, when he was assigned to a different division. Id.

SIRG concluded, as did the State's Attorney's Office, that the use of deadly force against Subject was justified. Therefore, you and the other agents were reasonable in your belief that Subject posed an imminent danger of death or serious physical injury to themselves or others when he failed to comply with their commands and began moving his vehicle without regard to the safety of LEOs and civilians around him. In this aspect, you were within the scope of the deadly force policy when you decided to intentionally discharge your weapon. At issue is the target you chose, a vehicle tire versus a human being, for your application of deadly force.

The deadly force policy permits the use of deadly force on a human being when necessary to protect oneself or others from imminent serious bodily injury or death. Even when deadly force is authorized, however, the policy expressly prohibits its use to be directed at a moving vehicle solely for the purpose of disabling the vehicle.[13]

In your signed sworn statement, you acknowledged that you fired two rounds into Subject's driver's side front tire "in an attempt to immobilize the vehicle and neutralize the threat." All FBI agents are trained on the deadly force policy, including the section that firearms may not be fired solely to disable moving vehicles. Additionally, agents review the deadly force policy in all ops plans. While no ops plan was written for the subject incident, you were an experienced agent who had been on many arrests and searches where ops plans would have been required. Furthermore, as a SWAT operator, you were briefed on the deadly force policy before each SWAT op.

While the desire to disable a moving vehicle without having to shoot the human subject inside of it is understandable, the deadly force policy's prohibition on such actions is for good reason: as was seen in this incident, shooting the tires of a vehicle does not stop the vehicle – and therefore does not eliminate the threat – and gives the driver more time to potentially cause greater harm to those around him.

Based on a preponderance of the evidence, I conclude you violated Offense Code 1.8 when you shot the tire of Subject's vehicle.

PENALTY DETERMINATION

The investigation establishes you violated FBI Offense Code 1.8 (Investigative Deficiency – Violation of Operational Guidelines and Policies, Other). The standard penalty is a five-day suspension. Mitigating factors warrant an oral reprimand to a three-day suspension. Aggravating factors warrant a seven- to 30 day suspension. When determining an appropriate penalty, I considered the 12 Douglas Factors, including, but not limited to, consistency with precedent, the FBI's Penalty Guidelines, prior disciplinary history, and aggravating/mitigating factors.

In mitigation, you have seven years of FBI service, a positive performance record, the support of your division, and no prior disciplinary actions. In further mitigation, the rapidly unfolding events were extremely stressful, even for agents with the depth of experience and SWAT training as yours, and called for split second decisions by all LEOs involved. It is a very weighty decision to discharge one's weapon in a real-life and real-time environment, as opposed to a training environment, and potentially take the life of another human being, even when justified by the deadly force policy. You were attempting to eliminate the threat presented by the moving vehicle to civilians and your colleagues, and your violation of the policy was to apply force to the vehicle instead of the human driver.[14] The shots to the tires did not cause harm to any surrounding LEOs or civilians. Additionally, you were under a tremendous amount of stress even before the incident, given your lengthy commute over a long period of time and overseeing a complex significant case with rapid developments and numerous dangerous operations over an extended time. Based on the circumstances in this case, I am suspending you from duty, without pay, for one calendar day for your 1.8 offense.

CONCLUSION

In sum, I am suspending you from duty, without pay, for one calendar day. The FBI must hold employees accountable for violations of its standards of conduct, rules, regulations, and policies. This disciplinary penalty is intended to convey the seriousness with which the FBI views your actions. Progressive discipline is applied, where appropriate. Thus, you can expect to receive a more severe disciplinary penalty in the future for a similar disciplinary offense.[15]

APPEAL RIGHTS

If you wish to appeal, within ten (10) calendar days following notification of OPR's final decision, you must forward a brief statement that you intend to appeal to the Assistant Director, Human Resources Division, Room 10903, Federal Bureau of Investigation, J. Edgar Hoover Building, 935 Pennsylvania Avenue, Northwest, Washington, D.C. 20535-0001. You may also fax your notice of appeal to HRD's Appellate Unit at 202-324-9312. You will then be provided an opportunity to review the file and submit a brief based on a deadline set by HRD. Your division head must be notified at the time you file an appeal. If an appeal is filed for any action other than a dismissal, the OPR disciplinary penalty will be held in abeyance pending the appellate decision.

If you are appealing a suspension of fourteen (14) calendar days or less, the AD, HRD, will decide the appeal. If you are appealing a suspension of more than fourteen (14) calendar days, demotion, or dismissal, the Disciplinary Review Board (DRB) will decide the appeal. The standard of review on appeal in examining OPR's factual findings and penalty is the substantial evidence standard of review. The penalty set by OPR cannot be increased on appeal by either [14] As opposed to a scenario where an agent applies deadly force in a non-lethal situation and is therefore in violation of policy entirely.

[15] You are admonished not to discuss this matter with anyone other than the Inspection Division's Internal Investigations Section (IIS), OPR, the Human Resources Division's Appellate Unit (APU), the Security Division, the FBI's Employee Assistance Program, the FBI's Ombudsman, or an attorney who has signed the appropriate Nondisclosure Agreement. Neither you, your attorney, nor anyone acting on your behalf should contact any witness or potential witness about this inquiry without first obtaining approval from IIS, OPR, or APU. In addition, you are admonished that any redacted materials or other FBI documents you review in connection with this inquiry are the property of the FBI, and you are prohibited from photocopying or removing such documents from FBI space. You may take notes concerning the content of such material, but those notes may be used only to facilitate your participation in this disciplinary inquiry and for no other purpose.

the AD, HRD, or the DRB. In the rare instance that the AD, HRD, or the DRB identifies factors that require additional investigation and/or adjudication, the case will be remanded to the Inspection Division and/or OPR for additional action.

Should you wish to retain an attorney to assist you in your appeal, you must ensure that the enclosed forms are completed prior to disclosing any Bureau information to the attorney handling your appeal. If you and the attorney who will assist you have already completed and provided these disclosure forms to the Bureau in connection with this case, you do not have to re-submit them. You are referred to Corporate Policy Notice #0235N (Disciplinary Appeals Process) for additional details pertaining to appeals.

REFERRAL TO OTHER DIVISIONS

In accordance with established policy, the results of this administrative inquiry will be shared with other divisions, as appropriate. Thus, a copy of this communication is being provided to the Security Division as it may be relevant to your retention of a Top Secret security clearance.

Information regarding this inquiry will also be provided to the Special Agent Mid-Level Management Selection Board and/or the Director for their consideration on any future promotion or other action requiring their recommendation.

Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT REVIEW
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT;
SAN ANTONIO FIELD OFFICE;
AUSTIN RESIDENT AGENCY;
09/08/2014

Investigative Period: 09/09/2014 – 05/15/2015

I. Executive Summary

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 09/08/2014, Agents and Task Force Officers (TFOs) from the San Antonio Field Office, Austin Resident Agency (ARA), were involved in a shooting incident while attempting to apprehend Tyler Matthew Caraway on a federal arrest warrant. Caraway was injured and later died due to the severity of his injuries. The Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) reported to ARA's territory on 09/09/2014.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 09/08/2014, Acting Supervisory Special Agent (A/SSA) [redacted] obtained an arrest warrant for Caraway and a search warrant for his residence. Caraway was responsible for the armed bank robbery of the Austin Chase Bank on 08/06/2014. In anticipation of executing an arrest and search warrant, Agents and TFOs from ARA's Central Texas Violent Crimes Task Force (CTVCTF) discussed and planned an arrest and search operation to be conducted later in the afternoon on 09/08/2014. SA [redacted] prepared an operations plan, which was approved by A/SSA [redacted] and Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) [redacted]. In addition, on 09/08/2014, an operations briefing was conducted at approximately 5:00 p.m. During this briefing, A/SSA [redacted] went over the plan and also briefed the FBI's Deadly Force Policy. [redacted] Since Caraway used a pistol during the bank robbery, A/SSA [redacted] wanted to arrest Caraway [redacted] Although discussed, the CTVCTF arrest team agreed [redacted] The CTVCTF arrest team believed [redacted]

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 09/08/2014, at approximately 6:40 p.m., Caraway left the residence in a white Toyota 4Runner and was followed by two unmarked FBI vehicles. SA [redacted] TFO [redacted] and TFO [redacted] were in the first vehicle while A/SSA [redacted] SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] were in the second vehicle. Caraway drove to a nearby commercial parking lot where he picked up a female adult, later identified as [redacted] sat in the front passenger's seat of Caraway's vehicle. Caraway then

While Caraway was in the drive-thru, A/SSA [redacted] discussed the possible arrest scenarios and contingencies with the CTVCTF arrest team in the event [redacted] Based on their discussion, A/SSA [redacted] made the decision to arrest Caraway if he [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Caraway left the McDonald's drive thru and drove to his residence. As Caraway turned on his street he began to drive very slowly. This led the arrest team to believe Caraway had identified them as law enforcement officers. TFO [redacted], TFO [redacted], and SA [redacted] then [redacted] As soon as Caraway's vehicle stopped, TFO [redacted] TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] exited the first vehicle, and identified themselves as the FBI and police. Caraway immediately opened his car door and pointed a pistol in the direction of TFO [redacted] TFO [redacted] observed Caraway pointing a pistol in his direction and yelled "gun." Caraway then fired shots at TFO [redacted] TFO [redacted] immediately returned fire at Caraway. Agents and TFO [redacted] exited the second vehicle to provide cover to the TFO's taking fire. As TFO [redacted] exchanged gunfire with Caraway, TFO [redacted] approached the vehicle on the passenger side. When TFO [redacted] had a clear shot, and [redacted] was not in the line of fire, he fired one round which struck Caraway in the head behind his right ear. Caraway was immediately incapacitated. TFO [redacted] fired one round over Caraway's vehicle which embedded itself into the residence. No Agents fired their weapons as they were moving to a position of tactical advantage. Caraway's vehicle then rolled forward and came to rest once it hit his residence. Caraway was removed from his vehicle and restrained. Agent [redacted], a SWAT medic, immediately began to render aid to Caraway until the Travis County Fire Department and Emergency Medical Services (EMS) arrived on the scene. Caraway was transported by EMS to a nearby hospital where he died as the result of his injuries. No injuries were sustained by [redacted] or to any of the Agents and TFOs who participated in the arrest operation. b6 -1,2,4 b7C -1,2,4 b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) At the scene, [redacted], thanked SA [redacted] for not shooting her and stated she was glad the Agents would be going home safe. [redacted] also stated Caraway told her he thought they were being followed by undercover cops. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

(U//~~FOUO~~) Agents and TFOs were not wearing ballistic armor at the time of the arrest. Agents and TFOs did not display any markings to identify them as FBI or law enforcement. [redacted] b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) TFO [redacted] and TFO [redacted] were both from the Austin Police Department (APD) while TFO [redacted] was from the Round Rock Police Department (RRPD). After the shooting incident occurred, Executive Management (EM) from the FBI, APD, and RRPD responded to the scene. Because the shooting scene was located in unincorporated Travis County, Texas, EM from all three agencies collectively decided the Travis County Sheriff's Office (TCSO) would process the shooting scene. The SIRT investigation was conducted jointly by the FBI and TCSO. The Travis County District Attorney's Office expected to present the matter before a state grand jury pending the results of the shooting investigation and the report of the medical examiner. b6 -4 b7C -4

c. Case Review and Operational Briefings

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/06/2014 at approximately 11:13 a.m., a bank robbery occurred at the Chase Bank located at 11800 Domain Drive, Austin, Texas. During the robbery, an unknown white male entered the bank, ran to the teller station, jumped over the counter, and verbally demanded money from one of the tellers. The male, who displayed a semi-automatic handgun, told the teller, "It's okay, just give me the money." Because the teller was in fear for her life, she complied with the robber's demands and gave him cash from her teller drawer. The robber then took additional money from an adjacent teller drawer before saying, "I'm sorry." The robber then jumped back over the counter and left the bank with approximately $20,000.00 in U.S. currency.

(U//~~FOUO~~) After the robbery occurred, APD and FBI responded to the scene to conduct a joint investigation. On the "teller side" of the counter, a Camel brand cigarette package was found on the floor. Agents and Officers reviewed the bank surveillance video and determined the pack of cigarettes fell from the robber's right breast pocket during the course of the robbery. The package of cigarettes was collected as evidence.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/26/2014, the package of cigarettes recovered from the Chase Bank was processed by an APD Crime Scene Specialist. A latent print on the cellophane wrapper was recovered. On 09/03/2014, an Automated Fingerprint Identification System (AFIS) search of the latent print identified Tyler Matthew Caraway, date of birth 10/05/1989. The recovered latent print matched Caraway's right thumb. Based on the physical description provided by witnesses, as compared with Caraway's physical description, SA [redacted] believed Caraway to be the bank robber. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 09/04/2014, SA [redacted] conducted surveillance at Caraway's last known address, 13712 Maye Place, Austin, Texas. Parked at the residence on this date was a white Toyota 4Runner which was registered to Caraway. In addition, SA [redacted] determined Caraway had an account with Chase Bank, and his debit card was used on 08/06/2014 to purchase a pack of Camel cigarettes. This purchase was made approximately 34 minutes before the bank robbery occurred. This purchase was made at the Shell gas station approximately two miles from the victim bank. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Prior to obtaining an arrest warrant, SA [redacted] obtained a court order [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] used this information to identify the most strategic time and location for Caraway's arrest. A review of an APD police report, dated 05/23/2014, revealed Caraway owned two handguns which were registered to his 13712 Maye Place residence. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

d. Events Leading Up to the Shooting

(U//~~FOUO~~) On the morning of Monday, 09/08/2014, SA [redacted] A/SSA [redacted] SA [redacted] TFO [redacted] and TFO [redacted] met as a team to discuss the case and formulate an arrest plan. Among the options discussed, Agents and TFOs considered [redacted] Later the same afternoon, A/SSA [redacted] obtained a federal arrest warrant for Caraway and a federal search warrant for his residence. SA [redacted] then drafted an Operations Arrest Plan which was reviewed and approved by ASAC [redacted] b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 b7E -1

Policy. The TFOs were advised to follow their respective department's deadly force policy as indicated in the Operations Order.

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 6:00 p.m., SA [redacted], A/SSA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] drove by Caraway's residence in TFO [redacted] At this time, Caraway's Toyota 4Runner was in the driveway, so TFO [redacted] parked his vehicle down the street in order to maintain a visual surveillance of the residence and vehicle. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 6:33 p.m., a white male matching Caraway's description exited the residence and entered the Toyota 4Runner. As the 4Runner pulled out of the driveway, Agents and TFOs began to follow vehicle. A/SSA [redacted] positively identified Caraway as the driver of 4Runner. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] TFO [redacted], and TFO [redacted] were in the first FBI vehicle while A/SSA [redacted] SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] were in the second FBI vehicle. Caraway drove to a nearby commercial parking lot where he picked up [redacted] sat in the front passenger's seat of the vehicle. Caraway then drove to a nearby McDonald's restaurant drive-thru and placed an order for food. While Caraway was in drive-thru, A/SSA [redacted] discussed possible arrest scenarios with the CTVCTF arrest team. Based on their discussion, A/SSA [redacted] made the decision [redacted] This decision was consistent with the previous Operations Order Contingency Plan which stated [redacted] However, notification was not made to the ASAC to advise of the change in the plan. b6 -1,2,4 b7C -1,2,4 b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Caraway left the McDonald's drive thru and returned to his residence. As Caraway turned on his street he began to drive very slowly. Agents would be going home safe. [redacted] also stated Caraway told her he thought undercover police officers were following him as they turned into the driveway on Maye Place. No injuries were sustained by [redacted] or to any of the Agents and TFOs who participated in the arrest operation. b6 -2 b7C -2

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted], a SWAT Medic, began to render medical aid to Caraway's injuries. TFO [redacted], TFO [redacted], and TFO [redacted] then cleared the residence while A/SSA [redacted] called 911 and requested assistance. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) TCSO and the Travis County Fire Department / EMS responded to the shooting incident scene. Due to the severity of his injuries, Caraway was immediately transported to Saint David's Hospital in Round Rock, Texas. Caraway was pronounced dead at 8:44 p.m. as the result of multiple gun shots. Caraway was later transported to the Travis County Medical Examiner's Office for an autopsy. The autopsy was conducted the following day on 09/09/2014.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Law Enforcement representatives from the APD, RRPD, FBI ARA, and the TCSO responded to the scene. ASAC [redacted] met with executives from these agencies on the scene to coordinate the shooting incident response. Since the actual shooting incident occurred in unincorporated Travis County, Texas and there were no TCSO employees involved in the shooting incident, ASAC [redacted] requested TCSO's assistance to process the shooting incident scene. It was decided the FBI and the TCSO would jointly conduct the shooting incident review. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) SSSs of the three Agents as well as statements by the three TFOs were consistent with the physical evidence at the shooting incident scene. All three TFOs fired their weapons during this incident. No Agents fired their weapons during this incident.

(U//~~FOUO~~) TFO [redacted] fired nine rounds from his Smith and Wesson M&P .40 caliber handgun. During the shooting incident, TFO [redacted]'s weapon malfunctioned, so he cleared his weapon and reloaded with a fresh magazine. Once reloaded, TFO [redacted] did not fire any additional rounds. In his weapon at the time it was collected, TFO [redacted] had one round in the chamber, and 14 rounds in his 15 round capacity magazine. TCSO recovered TFO [redacted]'s first magazine which contained seven rounds. b6 -4 b7C -4

(U//~~FOUO~~) TFO [redacted] fired one round from his Smith and Wesson M&P .40 caliber handgun. In his weapon, at the time it was collected, TFO [redacted] had one round in the chamber, and 14 rounds in his 15 round capacity magazine. b6 -4 b7C -4

(U//~~FOUO~~) TFO [redacted] fired one round from his Glock 27 .40 caliber handgun over the vehicle and into the house. TFO [redacted] had one round in the chamber of his weapon and eight rounds in his nine round capacity magazine at the time the weapon was collected.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Caraway fired 13 rounds from his Glock 22 .40 caliber handgun. In his weapon at the time it was collected Caraway had one round in the chamber and two rounds in the 15 round capacity magazine. All of the casings from the rounds discharged from Caraway's weapon were recovered however no bullets or fragments were recovered at the scene.

(U//~~FOUO~~) A total of 23 rounds were fired, and all the shell casings were accounted for at the scene. No other weapons were fired.

Dear friends and family, if you are reading this, then I'm most likely in jail or dead. I'm sorry but life has been quite a Bitch to me, I've done my best to play the hand I've been dealt, but I got a shitty hand. No reason to blame anyone, it's no body's fault. It's just a REALLY FUCKED UP WORLD we live in and I'm just so tired of all the bullshit. I've attempted suicide 7 times in my life (mostly cries for help) and after the last one, I've decided that I'm not going out the easy way. If I'm going to die, it's going to be for something, for a purpose. The GREATER GOOD, Not with a whimper....but with a BANG. I love each and every one DEARLY, beyond Words. I love y'all with everything I am. I would not have made it this long; if it wasn't for my family and all of you Crazy motherfuckers I call friends. So my final words to you are, live each day like it's your last, do what makes you happy. Fuck anyone who doubts you; Find your DESTINY & Become what you were meant to be.

AIIP [redacted] (AT)

b. The FBI Laboratory Shooting Reconstruction Team (LSRT) Personnel:

FBI LSRT personnel did not respond to the scene.

IV. Shooting Incident Review Protocol

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 09/08/2014, San Antonio Acting SAC [redacted] spoke with INSD Assistant Director Nancy McNamara to report the Agent-Involved Shooting. IIC Teyema spoke with San Antonio Field Office, Austin RA, ASAC [redacted] to arrange logistics to support the SIRT arrival in Austin, Texas. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 09/09/2014, the SIRT traveled to Austin, TX and reviewed the Inspection Division shooting review protocol with all team members. IIC Teyema and the SIRT members met with Austin RA EM and supervisory personnel. The SIRT also viewed the shooting scene, which occurred in the driveway located at 13712 Maye Place, Austin, Texas. IIC Teyema met with the Travis County Sheriff Greg Hamilton and Travis County Assistant District Attorney [redacted] and discussed the FBI's SIRT process. b6 -4 b7C -4

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 09/10/2014, IIC Teyema met with the APD Chief of Police Art Acevedo to discuss the FBI's SIRT process.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 09/11/2014, the San Antonio Field Office submitted a FD-1015, Executive Situation Report to the Director. IIC Teyema met with Round Rock Police Department Chief Allen Banks and discussed the FBI's SIRT process. While on the scene, IIC Teyema also met with San Antonio SAC Christopher H. Combs, ASAC [redacted] and ASAC [redacted] and briefed them on the findings of the SIRT. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 09/12/2014, IIC Teyema met with the FBI Agents and TFOs involved in the shooting incident and explained the SIRT process and protocols.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The SIRT obtained three SSS from SAs [redacted]. The SSSs were obtained voluntarily in the presence of their attorney. The Agents signed a FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident). The FBI SIRT participated in a joint interview with TCSO for TFO [redacted]. A copy of TFO [redacted]'s audio recorded interview was provided to TL [redacted]. Both TFO [redacted] and TFO [redacted] participated in a video recorded interviews and a walk-through at the crime scene. A copy of the video for both TFO [redacted] and TFO [redacted] was provided to TL [redacted]. The SIRT did not conduct SSS of the TFOs as their department's regulation compelled a written or video recorded statement from the officers. In addition, the Travis County District Attorney's Office compelled a video recorded walk through of the shooting scene by the officers. The TFOs were represented by an attorney for their statements and commentary during the video recorded walk through. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

a. Firearms Training

(U//~~FOUO~~) Firearms qualifications records for TFOs [redacted] were provided to the SIRT from their respective agencies. According to APD, both TFO [redacted] and TFO [redacted] last qualified on 02/28/2014. RRPD records indicated TFO [redacted] last qualified on 02/14/2013. TFO [redacted] were current with their department's firearms qualification policy, TFO [redacted] was not current with his department's firearms policy which required yearly qualification. b6 -4 b7C -4

(U//~~FOUO~~) San Antonio's Chief Division Counsel (CDC) [redacted] provided FBI Deadly Force Policy Training to the ARA on 12/03/2013 and again on 12/06/2013. A review of the attendance training records verified both Agents [redacted] were present for the training. The records did not reflect SA [redacted] attending any of the training sessions in 2013: According to CDC [redacted], the training was provided on multiple other dates during the year, so it was possible SA [redacted] attended on a different occasion and failed to sign in. The last recorded Deadly Force Training attended by SA [redacted] was on 11/09/2012. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 09/08/2014, SA [redacted] briefed the FBI Deadly Force Policy to the CTVCTF arrest team during the operations briefing. SAs [redacted], TFOs [redacted] were present for the briefing. SA [redacted] also reminded the TFOs they were to follow their respective department's deadly force policy. (U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2: SAC, San Antonio should ensure Agents and TFOs involved in a high risk arrest utilize emergency lights or equipment to identify themselves as law enforcement officers.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 3: Agents and TFOs did not wear any visible FBI, police, or law enforcement identifiers at the time of the shooting incident.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 3: When Agents and TFOs from the CTVCTF exited their vehicles to arrest Tyler Matthew Caraway at his residence, 13712 Maye Place, Austin, Texas, they were not wearing any FBI, police, or law enforcement identifiers on their clothing. Although when interviewed both the Agents and TFOs stated they had their badges displayed on their belts, their un-tucked shirts obscured the area around their waistline. This restricted the ability of the public to see their badges and identify them as law enforcement.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 3: SAC, San Antonio should ensure Agents and TFOs wear visible FBI or law enforcement identifiers when involved in a high risk arrest.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 4: Agents did not consult and obtain ASAC concurrence once the arrest plan was changed.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 4: The arrest of Caraway was to take place [redacted] Caraway did not travel to [redacted] and instead picked up a female passenger and drove to a McDonald's Restaurant before returning to his residence. Once Caraway picked up the female passenger, the operational ASAC should have been notified of the significant change in events. b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 4: SAC, San Antonio should ensure Agents notify the operational ASAC when events dictate a deviation from the original Operations Order.

Synopsis: (U//~~FOUO~~) This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) with respect to the captioned shooting following the SIRG meeting held on 07/01/2015.

Administrative Notes: (U//~~FOUO~~) On 09/09/2014, a Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) traveled to Austin, Texas to investigate a 09/08/2014 shooting incident. On 09/11/2014, San Antonio submitted an FD-1015, Executive Situation Report to the Directors Office.

Details:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 07/01/2015, the SIRG reviewed a TFO Shooting incident which occurred on 09/08/2014, in Austin, Texas involving Task Force Officers (TFOs) [redacted] Austin Police Department, and [redacted] Round Rock Police Department. TFO [redacted] fired nine rounds from his Smith and Wesson M&P .40 caliber handgun at Tyler Matthew Caraway, striking Caraway three times. TFO [redacted] fired one round from his Smith and Wesson M&P .40 caliber handgun at Caraway striking him in the head. TFO [redacted] fired one round from his Glock 27 b6 -4 b7C -4

.40 caliber handgun which struck Caraway's residence. The shooting took place as Agents and TFOs from the Austin Resident Agency (ARA) attempted to execute a federal arrest warrant issued for Caraway by United States Magistrate Judge Andrew W. Austin, Western District Of Texas, for a bank robbery which occurred in Austin, TX, 08/06/2014.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 09/08/2014, Acting Supervisory Special Agent (A/SSA) [redacted] obtained an arrest warrant for Caraway and a search warrant for his residence at 13712 Maye Place, Austin, TX. In anticipation of executing an arrest and search warrant, Agents and TFOs from ARA's Central Texas Violent Crimes Task Force (CTVCTF) discussed and planned an arrest and search operation to be conducted later in the afternoon on 09/08/2014. SA [redacted] prepared an operations plan, which was approved by A/SSA [redacted] and Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) [redacted] An operations briefing was conducted at approximately 5:00 p.m. and A/SSA [redacted] went over the plan and briefed the FBI's Deadly Force Policy. The overall plan called for Agents and TFOs [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Following receipt of his order, Caraway left the McDonald's drive thru and drove to his residence. As Caraway turned on to his street, he began to drive very slowly. This led the arrest team to believe Caraway had identified them as law enforcement officers. TFO [redacted] TFO [redacted], and SA [redacted]. As soon as Caraway's vehicle stopped, TFO [redacted], TFO [redacted], and SA [redacted] exited the first vehicle, and identified themselves as the FBI and police. Caraway immediately opened his car door and pointed a pistol in the direction of TFO [redacted] TFO [redacted] observed Caraway pointing a pistol in his direction and yelled "gun." Caraway then fired shots at TFO [redacted]. TFO [redacted] immediately returned fire striking Caraway. Agents and TFO [redacted] exited the second vehicle to provide cover to the TFOs and the SA taking fire. As TFO [redacted] exchanged gunfire with Caraway, TFO [redacted] approached the vehicle on the passenger side. When TFO [redacted] had a clear shot, and [redacted] was not in the line of fire, he fired one round which struck Caraway in the head behind his right ear. Caraway was immediately incapacitated. TFO [redacted] fired one round over Caraway's vehicle which embedded itself into the residence. No Agents fired their weapons as they were moving to a position of tactical advantage. Caraway's vehicle then rolled forward and came to rest once it hit his residence. Caraway was removed from his vehicle and restrained. Agent [redacted] a SWAT medic, immediately began to render aid to Caraway until the Travis County Fire Department and Emergency Medical Services (EMS) arrived on the scene. Caraway was transported by EMS to a nearby hospital where he died as the result of his injuries. No injuries were sustained by [redacted] or to any of the Agents and TFOs who participated in the operation.

Wanted to give you an update about the questions you had for us regarding the TFO involved shooting. I spoke with our First Assistant and asked if he'd heard about whether we'd be presenting this case to a state GJ. He's talked to our Elected DA but a final decision has not be made yet. She's out of the office today but will be back tomorrow when he and I will talk to her about this.

Sorry I don't have a firm answer for you but didn't want to let today pass without at least some response from me. I'll let you know as soon as I know something.

Thanks again for taking the time out of your day to speak with me about this issue. It was a real pleasure getting to know you better! I look forward to building a strong friendship as we work together.

I was hoping you could help me with the following questions from my management: 1) will the Travis County DA's Office be taking this case to Grand Jury? 2) If so, when do you expect this case to be presented? Both my EM and FBI HQ/DOJ are requesting this information from me by COB Monday. Your assistance would be greatly appreciated.

I will run down the answer for your question involving TFO's off/on duty on Monday.

I'm looking forward to meeting in person! Please reach out to me in the meantime if I can be of assistance.

Thanks for your dedicated service to the community!

This is to confirm in writing an earlier decision that the June 4, 2013 shooting in Albuquerque by an FBI Agent at a suspect's car does not warrant a criminal civil rights investigation. The suspect was driving toward other agents who were attempting to arrest him when the shooter fire three shots; two missing the vehicle and one striking it. None of the shots fired struck the suspect or anyone else. The suspect then ran from the car and was ultimately arrested at another location.

Because the use of force did not constitute a seizure under the 4th Amendment and there is no information to suggest a willful 5th Amendment due process violation, no federally protected right was violated and the matter does not warrant criminal investigation. Please complete the administrative inquiry.

Good Morning [redacted]

Last September (2014), we sent a Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) to Austin, Texas to review a TFO involved shooting. Since that time, we have completed our investigative review and obtained a local prosecutive declination from Texas authorities. On March 16, Team Leader [redacted] provided a binder containing the reporting related to our review to your office. As this was a TFO involved shooting, we don't always present the findings to the SIRG for TFO shootings as their own agency's deadly force policies are the standard to which they must adhere. That said, we do present TFO involved shoots to the SIRG if we see operational or training issues which might spark discussion by the SIRG. We are always trying to consider ways to improve operational performance during these encounters.

The only piece we are missing prior to going to the SIRG is the result of your office's review of the shooting. As we hadn't heard back (TL [redacted] left a follow-up message on March 30), I wanted to check to see if you need further information, are able to provide a declination relative to the TFO shoot, or you believe no prosecutive opinion is necessary in this matter.

Inspector Trent Teyema had lead in this SIRT and TL [redacted] was the lead Team Leader. We would like to have another SIRG in the next 30 - 45 days and would like to include this on our agenda if we can put this final piece into the report. It's our longest pending shooting review so naturally we would like to close this one out.

Let me, Trent, or [redacted] know if you have any questions about the SIRT review.

Thank you.

New York - June 2014

Synopsis: (U) To report results of a review of an animal shooting incident involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] which occurred 06/10/2014. b6 -1 b7C -1

Package Copy: (U) The following original documents are being placed in FD-340 envelopes and mailed to the Inspection Division:

1) Original Signed Sworn Statement (SSS) of SA [redacted] dated 07/07/2014. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2
2) Original FD-927 signed by SA [redacted] dated 06/20/2014.
3) FD-340s containing original interview notes and shooting records.
4) Original FD-927 signed by SA [redacted] dated 08/01/2014.
5) Original Amended SSS of SA [redacted] dated 08/01/2014.
6) Five photographs of [redacted] New York.
7) One spent .40 caliber shell casing.

Details:

(U) On 06/10/2014, SA [redacted] discharged two rounds from his Personally Owned Weapon (POW) Glock 27, serial [redacted] at a groundhog which appeared rabid based on the actions of the animal. The shooting incident review was delegated to the New York Field Office by the Chief Inspector on 06/13/2014. Following are the results of the shooting incident review, which included a SSS from SA [redacted]: b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) On 06/10/2014, at approximately 8:30 p.m., SA [redacted] received a phone call from his neighbor, [redacted] expressing concern she had about a rabid groundhog in her yard. SA [redacted] proceeded to her home across the street from his residence soon after the call. SA [redacted] observed the groundhog at the bottom of the porch area of [redacted]'s home in a crouched position, baring red eyes and foaming at the mouth. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

(U) SA [redacted] directed [redacted] to contact the local New York State Police (NYSP) to request dispatch of a Trooper. While awaiting a Trooper, SA [redacted] proceeded back to his home to gather a baseball bat and tarp with which to trap the groundhog. SA [redacted] realized the animal relocated to bushes against the porch when he returned to [redacted]'s home and the Trooper had not responded. SA [redacted] used the baseball bat to strike at the area where the groundhog relocated to see how the animal would react. The groundhog did not move, which would not reflect a normal reaction. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

(U) [redacted] placed a follow-up phone call to the NYSP at approximately 9:30 p.m. since no Trooper responded. The Trooper, whose name [redacted] did not know, advised the responding Trooper was diverted to another location. [redacted] informed the duty Trooper of SA [redacted]'s presence and his position as a SA. The Trooper recommended SA [redacted] shoot the animal if the concern with the groundhog continued. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

(U) SA [redacted] was standing on [redacted]'s porch which was elevated from the ground. SA [redacted] observed the groundhog moving around in a circular motion in the flowerbed area adjacent to the porch, still appearing aggressive and foaming at the mouth. SA [redacted] drew his POW from a leather waist band holster, secured a two-handed grip, and discharged one round, striking the groundhog in the chest area. As there was limited visibility, SA [redacted] shone his light in the area to assess the animal's condition as he walked down the steps to the ground level. After realizing the groundhog was still alive, SA [redacted] drew b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

his POW again, assumed a two-handed grip and discharged one more round which struck the groundhog in the neck area. The second shot from SA [redacted] killed the groundhog. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

(U) SA [redacted] gathered a disposable shovel from his garage to remove the groundhog. He scooped the animal and all surrounding soil, and placed them into a cardboard box [redacted] supplied. Unsure of proper disposal, he placed the box inside his garage overnight.

(U) On 06/11/2014, SA [redacted] attended firearms training at the West Point Firing Range, West Point, New York. At approximately 12:00 p.m. at the conclusion of firearms training, he placed a call and left a voicemail message on Principal Firearms Instructor (PFI) [redacted] [redacted]'s mobile phone. After leaving the voicemail message, SA [redacted] placed a call to the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC), Region 3, New Paltz, New York. SA [redacted] was advised by the Wildlife Technician, whose name he did not acquire, to double bag the carcass in plastic and bury it two feet deep. SA [redacted] was also informed DEC only responds to potential rabies situations if they involved a pet or someone was bitten. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) At approximately 1:30 p.m., SA [redacted] received a call from PFI [redacted] He informed PFI [redacted] of the animal shooting which took place on 06/10/2014. PFI [redacted] advised SA [redacted] to complete a FD-1085 within 48 hours of the incident. During this time, SA [redacted] informed his supervisor, Acting Supervisory Special Agent (A/SSA) [redacted] [redacted] of the shooting and the requirement for completing the FD-1085. SA [redacted] and A/SSA [redacted] completed the FD-1085 on 06/12/2014. A/SSA [redacted] subsequently notified her supervisor, Acting Assistant Special Agent-in-Charge (A/ASAC) [redacted] SA [redacted]'s weapon was not taken from him. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) The following reports and applicable FD-302s were completed and uploaded via Sentinel to the captioned file. The original notes and records for all interviews were packaged in FD-340 envelopes and sent to INSD.

Re: 297L-HQ-A5057795, 09/04/2014

1. FD-1085, Shooting Incident Report, electronically submitted 06/12/2014.

2. FD-302s for interviews of [redacted] Wildlife Technician [redacted] and Trooper [redacted] written by SSA [redacted]

3. FD-302 regarding firearms/training records for SA [redacted] for the 18 month period before the shooting incident.

b6 -1,2,3,4
b7C -1,2,3,4

(U) New York's review of the shooting incident involving SA [redacted] found no discrepancies between SA [redacted]'s account of the shooting and the information obtained from witness interviews. The results of the investigation have been coordinated with Assistant Inspector [redacted].

Drafted By: [redacted]

Case ID #: 297L-HQ-A5057795 (U) Animal Shooting New York - June 2014

Synopsis: (U//~~FOUO~~) This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) with respect to the captioned animal shooting following a SIRG meeting held on 10/21/2014.

Administrative Notes: (U//~~FOUO~~) The shooting incident review was delegated to the New York Field Office (NYFO) by the Chief Inspector on 06/13/2014. The Shooting Incident Report, dated 09/04/2014, was approved and submitted electronically by NYFO SAC Leo Taddeo.

Details:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 10/21/2014, the SIRG reviewed an animal shooting incident which occurred on 06/10/2014, involving NYFO Special Agent (SA) [redacted] [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 06/10/2014, SA [redacted] was contacted by his neighbor requesting his assistance to address a rabid groundhog. An attempt was made to get the New York State Police to respond, but the dispatcher advised there were no Troopers available. At approximately 9:30 p.m., SA [redacted] discharged two rounds from his personally-owned weapon (POW), a Glock 27, serial number [redacted] at the groundhog which appeared rabid based on the actions of the animal. SA [redacted] recovered one of two shell casings and did not take photographs or conduct any other form of basic shooting scene processing. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] went to firearms training at the West Point Firing Range, West Point, New York on 06/11/2014. SA [redacted] reported the shooting incident to a firearms instructor who advised SA [redacted] to contact his supervisor and complete an FD-1085. SA [redacted] did as he was instructed and also contacted the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC), Region 3, New Paltz, New York to determine how he should properly handle the animal remains. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) The shooting incident review was delegated to the NYFO on 06/13/2014. Investigation determined SA [redacted] killed the animal since it posed a persistent threat to the family of a nearby neighbor. SA [redacted] was qualified and trained to use his POW in accordance with FBI policy. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 10/21/2014, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by SA [redacted] on 06/10/2014 was in compliance with the Department of Justice's Deadly Force policy. b6 -1 b7C -1

2. Provide the Director with evaluative analyses, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions concerning operational planning and execution, training, and/or safety issues. The SIRG made three observations regarding this shooting incident:

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 1: The Agent involved in an animal shooting failed to notify NYFO management of the shooting incident in a timely manner.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 1: SA [redacted] discharged his POW at approximately 9:30 p.m., on 06/10/2014. SA [redacted] did not notify his supervisor of the shooting until approximately 1:30 p.m., on 06/11/2014. The INSD Shooting Incident Guide stated,"Following a shooting incident, an Agent who discharges a weapon should ensure the field office operations center and your immediate supervisor, or the next available member of your chain of command, is contacted." b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 1: ADIC, NY will ensure Agents involved in a shooting incident notify management in a timely manner in accordance with INSD's Shooting Incident Guide.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 2: NYFO did not notify INSD of the Agent-involved shooting incident in a timely manner.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2: The shooting incident was reported to NYFO EM on 06/11/2014. The incident was not reported to INSD until 06/13/2014. As specified in the INSD Shooting Incident Guide for animal shootings, "The SAC or designee will immediately notify the Chief Inspector, Inspection Division."

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 2: ADIC, NY will ensure INSD is promptly notified of all Agent-involved shooting incidents, to include animal shootings, in accordance with INSD's Shooting Incident Guide.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 3: NYFO did not have an ERT process the scene following an Agent-involved shooting.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 3: Following the incident, there was no ERT deployed to the scene. NY EM stated there was no ERT available due to the location of the Agent-involved shooting being in a remote RA location. Subsequently, SA [redacted] did not take photographs, b6 -1 b7C -1 immediately recover the shell casings, or conduct any other basic shooting scene processing. SA [redacted]'s neighbor recovered one of two shell casings on 06/11/2014. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 3: ADIC, NY will ensure the scene of an Agent-involved shooting is processed by an ERT in accordance with INSD Shooting Guide, whenever possible. If an ERT is not available, then an Agent should conduct basic shooting scene processing.

3. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. The SIRG recommended no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 -1,3 b7C -1,3

(U//~~FOUO~~) Acting Deputy Assistant Director David Paul Gelios, INSD, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting Board Member. The following Board Members were in attendance: Acting Chief Inspector Shawn W. Procedures for Responding to the Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) ADIC, NY, is responsible for ensuring each Inspection Instruction is satisfactorily resolved. The inspection process is not complete until the Instructions are addressed by the field office. The Inspector-in-Charge (IIC) will review the field office's response to determine if the Instruction has been resolved or requires further action. Resolution is based upon specific actions taken and not a recitation of the actions the division has under consideration or plans to implement.

(U//~~FOUO~~) ADIC, NY, is required to provide a written response, via EC, detailing the actions taken by the field office to resolve each Instruction. Follow up EC responses must be directed to Unit Chief [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), INSD. Once the EC is serialized, please e-mail the Sentinel link to MPA [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

Details:

On 05/20/2014, during the execution of a search warrant, SA [redacted] discharged nine rounds from his personally owned Glock 21 at a raccoon which had just severely bitten a member of Philadelphia's Evidence Response Team (ERT). The shooting incident review was delegated to the Philadelphia Field Office by Chief Inspector David Paul Gelios on 05/20/2014. Following are the results of the shooting incident review, which included a SSS from SA [redacted] as well as from all other FBI personnel who witnessed the shooting, ERT processing the b6 -1 b7C -1 scene, and FD-302s documenting interviews of Pennsylvania State Police (PSP) and Lehigh County Coroner's Office personnel.

On 05/20/2014, the Philadelphia ERT was assisting the Lehigh County Homicide Task Force regarding a cold case homicide investigation. Evidence developed by the task force resulted in the issuance of a search warrant. At approximately 8:00 am, the search team was preparing to begin their search of a privately owned, heavily wooded area when SA [redacted] a member of the ERT, was severely bitten by a raccoon which bit and latched onto her lower leg. SA [redacted] began to swing her leg and kick at the raccoon in an attempt to get it off her. SA [redacted] also began to scream for help at which point other members of the search team began to run in her direction. b6 -1 b7C -1

Shortly before other personnel got to SA [redacted] the raccoon let go and ran down an embankment adjacent to the road. SA [redacted] of the Allentown Resident Agency (ARA) alerted personnel about the raccoon stating words to the effect it needed to be killed and captured so it could be tested for rabies. b6 -1 b7C -1

PSP Trooper [redacted] and Deputy Coroner [redacted] fired at the raccoon. The raccoon was struck, but continued to move downhill, parallel to the road and adjacent to a stream. Once Trooper [redacted] and Deputy Coroner [redacted] shot at the raccoon, SA [redacted] saw the raccoon and fired nine shots at it. The raccoon stopped moving and soon died. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

Once the raccoon was dead, SA [redacted] helped place it in a body bag provided by the Lehigh Coroner (who was on scene as part of the homicide investigation) before carrying it to a PSP vehicle. The PSP made arrangements for the raccoon to be rapidly tested for rabies. b6 -1 b7C -1

SA [redacted] was treated with first aid and then transported by ambulance to the Reading Hospital where she was treated. Subsequent testing of the raccoon showed it was infected with rabies and SA [redacted] was treated with a series of rabies vaccinations. b6 -1 b7C -1

Once SA [redacted] had received first aid, and was on the way to the hospital, Supervisory Senior Resident Agent [redacted] of the ARA, who was on scene, notified Assistant Special Agent in Charge [redacted] of the shooting and injuries to SA [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

The ERT processed the shooting scene and were able to recover six .45 caliber shell casings by raking the underbrush. The remaining shell casings could not be located.

Per guidance received from Chief Inspector Gelios, via an E-mail sent to Philadelphia on 05/20/2014, INSD did not require the Agent surrender his weapon for submission to the FBI laboratory for a function check.

Due to her injuries, SA [redacted] was on sick leave for approximately one week which delayed the preparation of her SSS. b6 -1 b7C -1

The following reports and applicable FD-302s were completed and uploaded via Sentinel to the captioned file. Original notes and records for all interviews were packaged in FD-340 envelopes and sent to INSD:

1. FD-1085, Shooting Incident Report, electronically submitted on 05/21/2014.
2. FD-302 of PFI [redacted] regarding firearms/training records for SA [redacted] for the 15-month period before the shooting incident. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4
3. FD-302 of ACDC [redacted] regarding Deadly Force Policy Training.
4. FD-302s for interviews of Trooper [redacted] and Deputy Coroner [redacted]

Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT REVIEW
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
PHILADELPHIA FIELD OFFICE (DELEGATED)
05/20/2014

Investigative Period: 05/20/2014 – 06/04/2014

Reference: E-mail on 05/20/2014 from ASAC [redacted] to Chief Inspector David Paul Gelios. b6 -1 b7C -1

I. Executive Summary

On 05/20/2014, during the execution of a search warrant, Special Agent (SA) [redacted] discharged nine rounds from his personally owned Glock 21 at a raccoon which had just severely bitten a member of Philadelphia's Evidence Response Team (ERT). The shooting incident review was delegated to the Philadelphia Field Office by Chief Inspector David Gelios. b6 -1 b7C -1

II. Incident Details

On 05/20/2014, the Philadelphia ERT was assisting the Lehigh County Homicide Task Force regarding a cold case homicide investigation. Evidence developed by the task force resulted in the issuance of a search warrant. At approximately 8:00 am, the search team was preparing to begin their search of a privately owned, heavily wooded area when SA [redacted] a member of the ERT, was severely bitten by a raccoon which bit and latched onto her lower leg. SA [redacted] began to swing her leg and kick at the raccoon in an attempt to get it off her. SA [redacted] also screamed for help at which point other members of the search team began to run in her direction. b6 -1 b7C -1

Shortly before other personnel got to SA [redacted] the raccoon let go and ran down an embankment adjacent to the road. SA [redacted] of the Allentown Resident Agency (ARA) alerted personnel about the raccoon stating words to the effect it needed to be killed and captured so it could be tested for rabies. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

Pennsylvania State Police (PSP) Trooper [redacted] and Deputy Coroner [redacted] fired at the raccoon. The raccoon was struck, but continued to move downhill, parallel to the road and adjacent to a stream. Once Trooper [redacted] and Deputy Coroner [redacted] shot at the raccoon, SA [redacted] saw the raccoon and fired nine shots at it. The raccoon stopped moving and soon died. Thereafter, SA [redacted] helped place the raccoon in a body bag provided by the Lehigh Coroner (who was on scene as part of the homicide investigation) before carrying it to a PSP vehicle. The PSP made arrangements for the raccoon to be rapidly tested for rabies.

b6 -1,4
b7C -1,4

SA [redacted] was provided first aid and then transported by ambulance to the Reading Hospital where she was treated. Subsequent testing of the raccoon showed it was infected with rabies and SA [redacted] was treated with a series of rabies vaccinations.

Once SA [redacted] received first aid, and was on the way to the hospital, Supervisory Senior Resident Agent (SSRA) [redacted] of the ARA, who was on scene, notified Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) [redacted] of the shooting and injuries to SA [redacted]

The ERT processed the shooting scene and was able to recover six .45 caliber shell casings by raking the underbrush. The remaining shell casings could not be located.

a. Substantive Case File and Background Information

Prior to the shooting incident, the following [redacted] case was opened. No case was opened as a result of this investigation.

c. Case Review and Operational Briefings

FBI Philadelphia assisted the Lehigh County Homicide Task Force with a cold case homicide investigation. A briefing of the search was conducted by the ERT Team Leader at a staging area prior to the search.

d. Accounting of Shots Fired

SA [redacted] fired nine .45 caliber rounds from his personally owned Glock model 21. Six shell casings were recovered at the scene—due to the heavy underbrush the ERT was unable to locate the remaining shells. After counting the remaining rounds in the gun's magazine the following day, SA [redacted] verified the number of rounds fired was nine. b6 -1 b7C -1

e. Forensic Summary

SA [redacted] the ERT Team Leader, immediately processed the shooting scene, to include the preparation of a sketch, photography, and recovery of shell casings which were subsequently placed into evidence. No further Laboratory analysis was conducted related to this animal shooting incident. b6 -1 b7C -1

An inventory of all recovered evidentiary items follows:

|---|---|
| 1B1 | One .45 caliber cartridge casing |
| 1B2 | One .45 caliber cartridge casing |
| 1B3 | One .45 caliber cartridge casing |
| 1B4 | One .45 caliber cartridge casing |
| 1B5 | One .45 caliber cartridge casing |
| 1B6 | One .45 caliber cartridge casing |

f. Medical Summary

SA [redacted] was severely bitten by the raccoon. In addition to receiving stitches, SA [redacted] was treated for possible rabies infection. She was cleared for duty one week after the incident. b6 -1 b7C -1

III. Shooting Incident Review Team Details

The Shooting Incident Review Team comprised the following personnel:

SSA [redacted]
SSA [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

IV. Shooting Incident Review Protocol

The Shooting Incident Review was delegated to Philadelphia by Chief Inspector Gelios on 05/20/2014.

On 05/20/2014, SSA [redacted] briefed SAC [redacted] and ASAC [redacted] regarding shooting investigation protocols. After the briefing, ASAC [redacted] and SSAs [redacted] drove to the shooting scene which was approximately 70 miles from Philadelphia. b6 -1 b7C -1

On 05/21/2014, SSAs [redacted] met with SA [redacted] and explained the review process and protocols. SA [redacted] was represented by [redacted] Esq., who joined the meeting by telephone conference. Thereafter SA [redacted] provided his Signed Sworn Statement (SSS). In total, ten SSS were taken from FBI personnel who were involved in, or witnessed, the shooting. Two FD-302s documented interviews of other Law Enforcement Personnel who discharged their weapons. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

A FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident) was executed by all interviewed FBI personnel. Neither the FD-644 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information on a Voluntary Basis) nor FD-645 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Required to Provide Information) were utilized.

a. Firearms Training

Firearms qualifications records for SA [redacted] were provided to the SIRT by FBI PFI [redacted] A review of the training records reflected SA [redacted] s most recent qualification with his personally owned Glock 21 was on 03/05/2014 and he was in compliance with firearms qualifications requirements. b6 -1 b7C -1

b. Deadly Force Training

Assistant CDC [redacted] advised FBI Deadly Force Policy Training was conducted on 09/17/2013 at a firearms training session, which was memorialized via Electronic Communication (EC). b6 -1 b7C -1

VI. Inspector's Draft Observations

No Observations.

which attacked him while he was retrieving his mail near his residence. The shooting incident review was delegated to the Dallas Field Office by the Chief Inspector on November 23, 2013. Following are the results of the shooting incident review, which included SSS from SA [redacted] and coordination with Arlington Police Department (APD). b6 -1 b7C -1

On November 22, 2013, SA [redacted] arrived home from work at about 6:00 p.m. SA [redacted] got out of his car and walked to his mailbox, which is a community mailbox about one house to the north of his residence. After retrieving his mail, SA [redacted] started to walk back to his car when he felt something at his side. SA [redacted] saw a large, white, muscular dog, which was trying to bite him. SA [redacted] jumped back about 10 feet from the dog and yelled at the dog to stop or back down. The dog was growling and appeared ready to attack. SA [redacted] was without cover and, believing the dog was about to spring at him, pulled out his Glock 27 and fired two rounds into the animal. b6 -1 b7C -1

The dog stood and stared at SA [redacted] for about 30 seconds, then turned and limped across the street and lay down in a neighbor's driveway. SA [redacted] had never seen this dog in his neighborhood. There was no one on the street at the time of the shooting.

SA [redacted] immediately called 911 and reported the shooting incident. He then called the Dallas Field Office switchboard and told the operator to inform Dallas Executive Management he had been involved in an animal shooting. b6 -1 b7C -1

APD officers [redacted] arrived on the scene. SA [redacted] identified himself to the officers as an FBI SA. APD Patrol Officer [redacted] took the lead and conducted the majority of the on-scene investigation. Animal Control also came to the scene. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

APD officers conducted a thorough search of the area and found two shell casings where SA [redacted] shot the dog. There were seven rounds left in the weapon. APD crime scene investigators took pictures of SA [redacted] and his clothing, which one APD officer pointed out was dirty where SA [redacted] said he first felt the dog attack him. b6 -1 b7C -1

APD Officer [redacted] reported the animal was at large in the neighborhood, was not wearing a collar, and was not registered. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

The owners of the dog took the injured animal to an animal hospital in Mansfield, Texas. APD Officer [redacted] who was also present at the animal hospital, said the owners declined to pay to heal the injured animal and instead opted to have it euthanized.

On Monday, November 25, 2013, SA [redacted] collected the Glock 27 used by SA [redacted] In a phone conversation with UC [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, on December 11, 2013, UC [redacted] indicated there was no need to send the Glock 27 to DSU for a serviceability check as long as there were no questions surrounding the gun's performance. Inasmuch as the gun performed properly in the shooting, the Glock 27 remains secured in the Dallas gun vault. b6 -1 b7C -1

During a telephonic conversation with APD Detective [redacted] on Friday December 13, 2013 and a subsequent meeting at the FBI Dallas Field Office on December 18, Detective [redacted] told SSA [redacted] the animal shooting incident was not going to be presented to the state attorney for prosecution. b6 -1 b7C -1

The following reports and applicable FD-302s were completed and uploaded via Sentinel to the captioned file. The original notes and records for all interviews were packaged in FD-340 envelopes and sent to INSD.

SSA [redacted] obtained APD Incident Report 13-63880 on December 31, 2013. Detective [redacted] was assigned to the case and spoke with the dog's owner, [redacted] on December 17, 2013. [redacted] told [redacted] her dog must have gotten loose through an open gate. [redacted] described her dog as a protector and territorial. b6 -1,2,4 b7C -1,2,4

At the conclusion of his report, Detective [redacted] indicated the case would be cleared administratively.

Dallas' review of the animal shooting incident involving SA [redacted] found no discrepancies between SA [redacted]s account of the shooting and the information obtained from APD officers. The results of the investigation have been coordinated with CDC [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) Pursuant to their assignment, SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] exited the SWAT van and moved by foot to their assigned position near the corner of the residence. Both were equipped with standard SWAT gear including AR-15s, handguns, and FBI-issued protective gear including ballistic vests and helmets. SA [redacted] was also carrying his medical bag pursuant to his collateral SWAT assignments as one of the medics. As SA [redacted] entered the yard, he saw a pit bull aggressively advancing toward him from the northwest side of the yard. SA [redacted] moved his rifle's muzzle to confront the advancing dog and saw that the dog was suddenly stopped as it was attached to a restraint such as a chain or heavy rope. As the dog no longer appeared to be a threat at this point, SA [redacted] warned SA [redacted] of the dog's presence and they both continued to move to their assigned position. b6 -1 b7C -1 assigned, SA [redacted] SA [redacted] noticed the pit bull had retreated to an area near a dog house. As SA [redacted] was focused on a window and covering agents in the process of breaching the door, he heard SA [redacted] scream. He turned his attention to him and saw that the pit bull had attacked SA [redacted] and was biting the upper right rear thigh of SA [redacted] SA [redacted] also observed the pit bull's restraint had become wrapped around SA [redacted] s legs. Recognizing that SA [redacted] he could fall to the ground at any instant and potentially be attacked in a vital area, SA [redacted] elected to employ deadly force. An opportunity presented itself when the pit bull's hindquarters were outstretched from SA [redacted] s body, allowing SA [redacted] to fire with minimal danger to SA [redacted] After the first shot, the dog released the bite and SA [redacted] continued to fire a total of seven rounds until the dog's legs stiffened and no longer presented a threat to either agent.

Details:

On August 28, 2013, SA [redacted] discharged three rounds from his FBI-issued Colt M4, at a pit bull breed dog which came charging at him and his team during the execution of an arrest warrant. The shooting incident review was delegated to the San Juan Field Office (SJ) with the assistance of the Newark Field Office (NK).

b7C -1

In June 2013, the Newark Field Office (NK) was contacted by the SWAT Operations Unit (SOU) requesting support for the August 28, 2013, mission in Puerto Rico for the San Juan Field Office (SJ). NK executive management offer two twelve member SWAT teams [redacted] for the operation. From mid-July through mid-August NK received several communications from SOU with guidance about the SJ operation. The communications included information about required equipment, team assignments, and descriptions of the area of assignment. The SJ operation was major takedown of approximately 100 targets of a large scale drug enterprise. The drug organization was known to employ violence and to employ the use of lookout towers in the planned arrest area, [redacted] Information about the operation was distributed to the NK SWAT operators by email and during weekly training sessions. The NK SWAT team conducted a firearms qualification shortly before travelling to SJ for the operation.

On Saturday, August 24, 2013, the NK SWAT team met at Fort Dix, New Jersey to caravan to the Washington, DC area. On Sunday the team traveled by plane from Andrews Air Force Base to San Juan. The team reported to Fort Buchanan on Monday for an "All Hands" briefing. The

"All Hands" briefing consisted of a full briefing of the mission. The FBI Deadly Force Policy was briefed. It was clear and understandable. Contingencies were addressed. On Tuesday the NK SWAT team reported again to Fort Buchanan for breakout briefings with SWAT teams in specific sectors. Each SWAT team leader was required to provide a brief back.

On Wednesday, August 23, 2013, the NK SWAT team reported to Fort Buchanan to gather their gear and convoy with other SWAT teams to the arrest locations. Both NK SWAT's [redacted] had two arrest missions that morning. [redacted] SA [redacted] led the [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

[redacted] entered its second assigned location to clear a house and execute a subject arrest. While clearing the interior of the house SA [redacted] proceeded through a door from the kitchen to an exterior stairwell. The stairwell led to an alley. SA [redacted] followed SA [redacted] and he held a position on the stair to protect fellow SWAT members from a potential threat posed by several dogs perched on an adjacent structure. SA [redacted] followed SA [redacted] down the stairwell to clear the alley below. SA [redacted] planned to clear the area to the right while SA [redacted] cleared the area to the left. As soon as SA [redacted] got to the bottom of the stairwell, a large, light-brown, pit bull breed dog began charging at him. SA [redacted] immediately recognized that the dog was attacking. Fearing for his safety and the safety of his fellow SWAT operators, SA [redacted] fired his weapon at the charging dog. After firing three rounds at the charging dog, it retreated into a crawl space under the house. As soon as the dog retreated from view, SA [redacted] announced on the radio that shots had been fired, a canine had been struck, there were no operators or civilians injured, and there was no additional assistance required at that time. NK SWAT Senior Team Leader, SA [redacted], advised the Tactical Operations Center (TOC) of the shooting. b6 -1 b7C -1

Synopsis: (U//~~FOUO~~) The final EC is forwarded following investigative activities examining the agent involved shooting on February 3, 2015. No corrective observations were noted as a result of the aforementioned investigation.

Details:

Investigative Period: 02/03/2015 - 03/09/2015

I. Executive Summary

On 02/02/2015, Agents with the Atlanta Field Office (AT) SWAT Team were involved in a shooting incident while attempting to apprehend [redacted] on a federal arrest warrant issued from the Dallas Field Office of the FBI. Neither [redacted] nor any FBI personnel were injured as a result of the incident. [redacted] was arrested pursuant to the charges filed in Texas. However, Assault on a Federal Officer (AFO) charges are under consideration. The Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) was delegated to the Atlanta Division for investigation on 02/02/2015.

On 02/02/2015, at approximately 6:00 a.m., the AT SWAT team moved to [redacted]' apartment. SA [redacted] performed a knock and announce several times. With each knock, [redacted] announced their official presence and legal authority to enter the residence. While at the door, a camera above the door was identified and called out by SWAT Operators because of the compromise potential and related safety issues. After the third knock without a response, SA [redacted] moved forward and breached the door. With a positive breach, SAs [redacted] moved into the apartment and cleared the living room to the immediate left of the front entrance. SAs [redacted] moved forward and to the right to clear the dining room and kitchen area. SAs [redacted] moved straight ahead to hold the hallway and provide cover for the first two shield teams. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] moved in last and posted behind SAs [redacted] Each operator announced "FBI" as they crossed the threshold into the apartment.

b7C -1,7

From his vantage point posting on the hallway, SA [redacted] called out doorways for safety and search points to the SWAT Operators. As he called out the doorways, [redacted] stuck his head out of the doorway on the left side of the hallway with what appeared to be a black semi-automatic pistol raised to eye level and pointed at the SWAT Operators. [redacted] fired one round from his Bureau issued Glock 22 pistol striking the wall near [redacted] and yelled, "He's got a gun, he's got a gun."

b7C -1,7

From his vantage point, SA [redacted] could see an arm and black semi-automatic pistol raised and pointing down the hallway. SA [redacted] viewed what appeared to be a black semi-automatic pistol in the doorway, but could not see who or how the weapon was being held. [redacted] retreated back into the room and SA's [redacted] moved up beside [redacted] Numerous SWAT Agents then began shouting commands for [redacted] to come out with his hands up. [redacted] subsequently came out of another room and surrendered. [redacted] replied "it's not a real gun." However, when he did not comply with the many commands to come out of the room, SA [redacted] Soon thereafter, [redacted] came out of the room and surrendered. There were no physical injuries resulting from the entry and arrest.

SAs [redacted] were assigned outside perimeter and transport Agent duties subsequent to arrest. From their vantage point during the arrest operation they could see and hear the knock and announcement. When [redacted] failed to open the door, they witnessed SWAT Operators breached the door and entered the apartment. They could hear SWAT commands for [redacted] to get his hands up. Shortly thereafter, a gunshot was heard and Agents shouting "he's got a gun!" and "drop the gun!" They then heard [redacted] Following his arrest, [redacted] was afforded medical care due to statements made relative to ingesting a controlled substance (Oxycotin). b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7 b7E -1

SA [redacted] advised [redacted] of his Advice of Rights with SA [redacted] present during the transport by ambulance to [redacted] Medical Center in [redacted] Georgia. [redacted] told them he was in the living room and heard the knock and announce by the SWAT Operators. [redacted] ran back into the office on the left side of the hallway to look at the computer which was connected to a camera outside the front door. Recognizing law enforcement was at the door, he told [redacted] "it was over." He retrieved a box with his drugs, a "plastic" pistol, and an "anonymous" mask. [redacted] stated he was shot at while he was in the hallway. When he did not come out of the room as commanded by the SWAT Operators a [redacted] told SA [redacted] he "probably deserved to be shot at." [redacted] told SAs [redacted] "hypothetically speaking, if I were a cop, I would have shot myself." Following the medical examination, [redacted] was transported and processed into the Atlanta Detention Center, without further event. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7 b7E -1 cleared of criminal liability by both state and federal prosecutors.

warrants issued in Georgia and Alabama. Atlanta Case Agent [redacted] identified and confirmed [redacted] residence to be [redacted] apartment [redacted] Georgia [redacted] SA [redacted] requested SWAT assistance based upon [redacted] criminal history. SA [redacted] submitted and received proper approvals of his Operation Plan from his supervisor, SSA [redacted] CY-1; ASAC-Criminal [redacted] and SAC J. Britt Johnson. The designated On-Scene Commander was ASAC [redacted]

On 02/02/2015, SA [redacted] conducted an operational plan briefing. In b6 -1,7 doing so he covered all aspects of the arrest plan to include: suspect b7C -1,7 information, case, background, location medical, communication, and FBI Deadly Force Policy. As part of the operation plan, SA [redacted] provide photos with identifying information for both [redacted] He further briefed [redacted] to be considered Armed and Dangerous. SA [redacted] provided a SWAT brief immediately afterwards. The SWAT plan consisted of four (4) two man shield teams for entry into [redacted] apartment with a SWAT medic and two additional SWAT Operators performing perimeter security.

d. Events Leading Up to the Shooting

On Thursday, 01/29/2015, SSA [redacted] received telephonic notification b6 -1,7 from the Dallas Field Office of an incoming priority lead to arrest b7C -1,7 [redacted] During the notification SSA [redacted] learned [redacted] indictment contained a charge of "Swatting." Swatting occurs when an individual contacts a law enforcement agency to falsely report an extremely violent crime has occurred at a residence. Criminals frequently use this technique against law enforcement officers who prosecute or investigate their crimes. SSA [redacted] stated this type of crime puts officers at greater danger since it increases the risk of a blue-on-blue confrontation. b6 -1 b7C -1

Due to the nature of the Swatting charges, SSA [redacted] immediately decided he would request the Atlanta Field Office SWAT Team to conduct the arrest of [redacted] A review of the case file also determined the subject's NCIC report contained Armed and Dangerous warnings. SSA [redacted] assigned the lead to SA [redacted] knowing his experience as a former SWAT Supervisor and current SWAT Operator best suited him for the operation. SA [redacted] located the subject, and obtained [redacted] on Friday, 01/30/2015. Using [redacted] SA [redacted] presented a draft operations plan to SSA [redacted] by the close of business, with a tentative plan to conduct the arrest Tuesday, 02/03/2015. SA [redacted] did additional work on the plan Saturday morning and sent an updated copy to SSA [redacted] SSA [redacted] approved of the draft, and forwarded them to ASAC [redacted] on Saturday for further review. SSA [redacted] anticipated the final discussion and approval would occur on Monday, 02/02/2015, in the office. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7 b7E -1

However, SA [redacted] called SSA [redacted] on Sunday, 02/01/2015, at approximately 10:00 p.m. The Dallas Field Office Case Agent called SA [redacted] with information indicating [redacted] intended to leave town as early as Monday afternoon or Tuesday morning. SSA [redacted] determined he needed approval to move the operation to the next morning. SSA [redacted] did not receive a response from email, text and voicemails left for ASAC [redacted] by 10:30 p.m. Therefore, SSA [redacted] contacted SWAT ASAC [redacted] at 10:30 p.m. SSA [redacted] briefed ASAC [redacted] and forwarded him a copy of the Operations Plan. ASAC [redacted] approved the Operations Plan and sent it to Special Agent-in-Charge J. Britt Johnson for final approval. When SSA [redacted] received approval from ASAC [redacted] he relayed the approval to SA [redacted] SA [redacted] already had the arrest team assembled and notified SSA [redacted] several substitutions of personnel occurred due to the date change. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

SSA [redacted] arrived at the staging area near a [redacted] store in [redacted] Georgia at approximately 5:00 a.m. on 02/02/2015. SA [redacted] and ASAC [redacted] conducted the operations order briefing at 5:20 a.m. SSA [redacted] did not attend the briefing as he conducted a spot check of the subject's residence during the briefing. Visibility was clear, but the only light SSA [redacted] noted was a porch light at the apartment door. After returning from the spot check, SA [redacted] informed SSA [redacted] local deputies would drive with the convoy. The deputies also provided an ambulance on standby in the area during the arrest. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

The arrest team departed the staging area at 5:55 a.m. and proceeded to the subject's residence. At approximately 6:00 a.m. the AT SWAT team moved to [redacted] apartment to execute the arrest warrant. b6 -7 b7C -7

e. Incident Shooting Details

SA [redacted] performed a knock and announce several times. With each knock, [redacted] announced "FBI" with an arrest warrant. SA [redacted] moved forward and breached the door. With a positive breach, SAs [redacted] moved into the apartment and cleared the living room to the immediate left of the front entrance. SAs [redacted] moved forward and to the right to clear the dining room and kitchen area. SAs [redacted] moved straight ahead to hold the hallway and to provide cover for the first two shield teams. SAs [redacted] moved in last and posted behind SAs [redacted] Each operator announced "FBI" as they crossed the threshold into the apartment. b6 -1 b7C -1

Inside the apartment, SA [redacted] called out open doorways for safety and search points to the SWAT Operators. As he called out the doorways, [redacted] stuck his head out of the doorway on the left side of the hallway with what appeared to be a black semi-automatic pistol raised to eye level and pointed at the SWAT Agents. [redacted] fired one round from his Bureau issued Glock 22 pistol striking the wall near [redacted] and yelled, "He's got a gun, he's got a gun." From his vantage point, SA [redacted] could see an arm and black semi-automatic pistol raised and b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7 pointing down the hallway. SA [redacted] viewed what appeared to be a black semi-automatic pistol in the doorway, but could not see who or how the weapon was being held. [redacted] retreated back into the room and SA's [redacted] moved up beside [redacted] Numerous SWAT Agents then began shouting commands for [redacted] to come out with his hands up. [redacted] subsequently came out of another room and surrendered. [redacted] replied "it's not a real gun." However, when he did not comply with the many commands to come out of the room, SA [redacted] Soon thereafter, [redacted] came out of the room and surrendered. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7 b7E -1

f. Post Shooting Details

There were no physical injuries resulting from the entry and arrest. However, [redacted] told the arresting agents he ingested an unknown amount of Oxycotin prior to the FBI entry into the apartment. The SWAT Team Medic, SA [redacted] performed an initial assessment and request local EMS, staged nearby, to provide a full assessment. Based upon [redacted] verbal responses, it was determined he should be transported to the [redacted] Medical Center, [redacted] Georgia [redacted] Following the medical examination, [redacted] was transported and processed into the Atlanta Detention Center, 254 Peachtree Street, SW, Atlanta, Georgia, without further event. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

After the shooting incident occurred, FBI Agents secured the scene, obtained a search warrant, and processed the apartment to collect evidence. Seized items of evidence listed included a Crossman Phantom air pistol (1B5) recovered from the left room in which [redacted] exited as he surrendered to the FBI. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

CDC [redacted] received notification of the shooting after 6:00 a.m. on 02/02/2015, and proceeded to the scene of the Agent Involved Shooting. CDC [redacted] arrived at approximately 7:30 a.m. CDC [redacted] provided the Agent Shooter, Special Agent [redacted] advice about the post shooting process, and gave him an opportunity to ask questions about the process. CDC [redacted] also asked inquired of his physical and mental health. CDC [redacted] departed the scene at approximately 8:30 a.m. b6 -1 b7C -1

Signed Sworn Statements (SSS) of nine Agents and interviews of 11 others were documented to account the facts and circumstances of the shooting. The statements, interviews, and utterances of [redacted] are substantially consistent. Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) [redacted] [redacted] intends to indict [redacted] for AFO on 04/21/2015. b6 -3,7 b7C -3,7

On December 3, 2014, at approximately 2:00 p.m., United States Magistrate Judge Michael J. Newman, from the United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio, issued a search warrant to case agent SA [redacted] for the purpose of searching the property at [redacted] Ohio, including any garages, sheds, vehicles, or outbuildings on the property, for heroin and any other illegally controlled substances or related paraphernalia. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

The search warrant was requested following a thorough investigation conducted by the Southern Ohio Safe Streets Task Force, the Bureau of Alcohol Tobacco and Firearms (ATF), and the Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA). This investigation identified [redacted] as a large scale narcotics dealer supplying several individuals in the [redacted] area with fentanyl-laced heroin from North Carolina (NC). b6 -7 b7C -7

Since late 2013, the [redacted] of Ohio experienced a significant increase in fentanyl-laced heroin overdose deaths. During a proffer, a subject of a joint [redacted] case identified Charlotte, NC, as the potential source for the deadly fentanyl-laced heroin. The same subject identified [redacted] as the main recipients and re-sellers of the fentanyl-laced heroin in [redacted] Ohio. b6 -7,8 b7C -7,8 b7D -1

The investigation identified several additional narcotic dealers in the [redacted] area being supplied by [redacted] including: [redacted] b6 -7 b7C -7

The investigation identified several residences being utilized by [redacted] and his associates to store, process, and distribute both heroin and cocaine. The addresses of [redacted] were identified as two of these residences. Additional intelligence identified the individuals associated with these residences. [redacted] and [redacted] were identified as running [redacted] and [redacted] were identified as running [redacted] b6 -7 b7C -7

On December 9, 2014, the Cincinnati SWAT Team assembled at 7:45 a.m. at [redacted] Ohio, to execute two federal search warrants in [redacted] Ohio. One warrant was issued for [redacted] and a second warrant was issued for [redacted] The SWAT Senior Team Leader (STL) SA [redacted] briefed the teams assigned to both locations on the operation orders associated with each target location. The briefing included an overview of the FBI's Deadly Force Policy along with the team's line-up. SA [redacted] also covered individual operator assignments, specific areas of responsibility, and the assignment of specialty equipment. Following the briefing, SA [redacted] supervised the team as they conducted gear checks and mission rehearsals. At approximately 9:45 a.m., the team was given the execution order and SA [redacted] joined the team assigned to execute the search warrant at [redacted] Ohio. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

The team assigned to execute the warrant at [redacted] included the following agents, with their designated assignments: b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

The SWAT Team set the perimeter and SA [redacted] noticed the outer windows and door were both barred. The SWAT breached the outer door of the residence between 10:05 a.m. and 10:10 a.m. After breaching the first outer door, the SWAT Team moved into a porch area and then encountered a second hardened door leading into the residence. After breaching the second door, the SWAT Team entered the main residence. SA [redacted] ordered SA [redacted] to hold on the stairs going up to the second floor, while the remainder of the team cleared the first floor and ended up in the kitchen. SA [redacted] thought someone was in the house because the television was on and there was a bowl of cereal on a table in the kitchen. b6 -1 b7C -1

The SWAT Team encountered two doors in the kitchen. The first door was identified as going downstairs to a basement. SA [redacted] ordered SA [redacted] The second door led to the garage. SAs [redacted] positioned themselves to enter the garage [redacted] The agents encountered two doors leading to the garage, a solid door and a screen door, both of which were locked. SA [redacted] unlocked both doors and pinned the solid door open. The garage was dark. SA [redacted] looked into the garage with his flashlight and determined it was a two-car garage with no cars present. SA [redacted] instructed the other two operators to find the button to activate the garage door. The operators announced twice, "FBI, come out with your hands up." After receiving no response, SA [redacted] SA [redacted] entered the garage, followed by SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

After entering the garage, SA [redacted] raised the automatic garage door by pressing the button located at the top of the stairs. Once the door was opened, the operators could clearly see the contents of the garage. The operators saw some dog cages, a heroin press, and some small child b6 -1 b7C -1 quad runners inside the garage. The operators also saw a 40 - 50 pound dark brown Pit Bull exit of the garage and run circles in the driveway.

SA [redacted] exited the garage and notified SA [redacted] who was providing perimeter security along the fence line adjacent to the search property. SA [redacted] wanted to close the garage door to keep the dog outside. SA [redacted] informed SA [redacted] there was a second dog outside, a large pit bull, with a chain around its neck, but he was not sure if the dog was secure. b6 -1 b7C -1

SA [redacted] returned to the garage and asked SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] if it was "cool" to "drop" the garage door. SA [redacted] returned to the stairs to close the garage door, but was unable to get the automatic door to close. SA [redacted] moved to the stairs to assist SA [redacted] SA [redacted] walked back toward the center of the garage and noticed SAs [redacted] were both on the stairs leading back into the kitchen trying to activate the garage door. SA [redacted] turned back to check on the dog and saw the dog's ears pinned back as he charged toward SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] on the stairs. SA [redacted] was concerned the dog would cause serious injury to SAs [redacted] SA [redacted] yelled "dog" and said "no, no, no." The dog was not barking and made no audible noise to alert the operators to his movement. SA [redacted] engaged the dog with four shots from his M4 rifle, from a range of approximately five feet. SA [redacted] fired the first three shots in rapid succession, then paused and fired a fourth shot. The dog skidded to a stop at the bottom of the stairs only a few inches from where SA [redacted] was standing on the stairs. b6 -1 b7C -1

After the shooting, SA [redacted] checked with the operators in the garage and announced on the radio, "shots fired, all operators ok." SA [redacted] went outside the garage to verify SAs [redacted] were ok. SA [redacted] asked SA [redacted] to check the side of the house to look for any obvious bullet exit sites. SA [redacted] found one hole, but could not confirm it was a bullet hole. SAs [redacted] then assisted the SWAT team in clearing the remainder of the house. b6 -1 b7C -1

The Shooting Incident Report, dated 12/23/2014, was submitted electronically by Supervisory Special Agent [redacted] Cincinnati Field Office. b6 -1 b7C -1

Details:

On 03/17/2015, the SIRG reviewed an Animal Shooting incident which occurred on 12/09/2014, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] Cincinnati Field Office. SA [redacted] discharged four rounds from his Bureau-issued M4 rifle into a pit bull breed dog. The shooting took b6 -1 b7C -1 place as the Cincinnati Field Office SWAT Team executed a search warrant, issued by the United States District Court, Southern District Of Ohio, on a residence located at [redacted] Ohio. The purpose of the warrant was to search the property for heroin and any other illegally controlled substances and related paraphernalia. b6 -7 b7C -7

On 12/09/2015, at approximately 10:05 a.m., the search warrant was executed at [redacted] and after breaching several doors, the SWAT Team made entry into the residence. SA [redacted] along with SAs [redacted] were in the kitchen of the residence and located a door leading to a garage. SA [redacted] looked into the garage with a flashlight and could not determine if anyone was present. SA [redacted] stated, "FBI, come out with your hands up." After no response, SA [redacted] b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7 b7E -1

SAs [redacted] entered the garage. SA [redacted] pushed an automatic garage door button located at the top of the stairs which opened the garage door. As the door opened, SAs [redacted] observed a pit bull dog run out of the garage and onto the driveway. SA [redacted] walked out of the garage and advised a SWAT Team member assigned to the perimeter of the residence that he was going to close the garage door to keep the pit bull out of the garage while they conducted a search. b6 -1 b7C -1

SAs [redacted] went back to the stairway and attempted to close the garage door using the garage door button, however the garage door would not close. SA [redacted] standing in the center of the garage, observed the pit bull run back into the garage. The Pit bull's ears were pinned back and the dog did not make any noise as it ran toward SAs [redacted] who were on the stairs. SA [redacted] stated, "dog," and "no, no, no." SA [redacted] feared the dog could cause serious bodily harm to SAs [redacted] and as the dog closed to within five feet of the Agents, SA [redacted] four rounds from his M4 rifle b6 -1 b7C -1 into the pit bull. The dog stopped at the foot of the stairs and expired.

SIRG OBSERVATIONS

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/17/2015, the SIRG reviewed the Animal Shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG determined the application of deadly force towards the pit bull breed dog was justified under the DOJ Deadly Force Policy.

2. Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions concerning operational planning and execution, training and/or safety issues. The SIRG determined there were no safety issues and operational plans were followed in accordance with Bureau policy.

Synopsis: (U) This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) with respect to the captioned shooting following the SIRG meeting held on 12/15/2014.

Administrative Notes: (U) The shooting incident review was delegated to the Detroit Field Office by the Acting Chief Inspector on 10/15/2014. The Shooting Incident Report, dated 11/06/2014, was submitted electronically by Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] [redacted] Detroit Field Office. b6 -1 b7C -1

Details:

On 12/15/2014, the SIRG reviewed an Animal Shooting incident involving SA [redacted] Detroit Field Office, on 10/15/2014. SA [redacted] discharged one round from his Bureau-issued M4A1 rifle at a pit bull breed dog. The shooting took place as the Detroit Field Office, Violent Crimes Task Force, consisting of Squad C-7 Special Agents and Task Force Officers (TFOs) from the Detroit Police Department, executed a search warrant, issued by the State of Michigan, District Court, on a residence located at [redacted] Detroit, Michigan. The purpose of the search warrant was to arrest a fugitive wanted in West Virginia for a violent home invasion and enhance an ongoing violent gang investigation. The fugitive was suspected of being a member of the Dirty Dogs street gang investigated by the Detroit Field Office, but not listed as a subject or reference in the case. The Dirty Dogs street gang was involved in multiple robberies and shootings in Detroit and West Virginia. Detroit executed the state warrant in an attempt to garner more information about the gang and the subject. The Detroit Field Office did not initiate a separate fugitive investigation nor was a federal Unlawful Flight to Avoid Prosecution (UFAP) warrant obtained. b6 -7 b7C -7

On October 15, 2014, at approximately 2:15 p.m., Squad C-7 Agents and TFOs approached the front door of the residence located on [redacted] Detroit, Michigan, while other TFOs and uniformed police maintained a perimeter around the residence. Agents and TFOs knocked loudly on the door and announced their presence. After approximately one minute and a lack of response, Agents and TFOs breached a steel gate located approximately three feet in front of the main door threshold. Agents and TFOs subsequently breached the wooden front door to gain access to the residence. Immediately upon opening the door, a pit bull dog lunged aggressively towards the entry team barking and growling. Fearing the dog was going to attack the entry team, SA [redacted] fired one round from his FBI-issued M4A1 rifle at the dog striking it on the neck area. The dog fell to the ground but immediately got up and continued charging towards the entry team. A TFO then fired three rounds from his DPD-issued Smith & Wesson .40 caliber handgun at the dog striking it at least once in the face. The dog stopped charging and ran away towards the street. The pit bull dog was recovered several blocks away by the Detroit Animal Control Department and subsequently euthanized. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

Title: (U) Animal Shooting Detroit Field Office
Re: 297L-HQ-A5637323, 01/08/2015

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 12/15/2014, the SIRG reviewed the Animal Shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG determined the application of deadly force towards a pit bull breed dog was justified under the DOJ Deadly Force Policy.

2. Provide the Director with evaluative analyses, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions concerning operational planning and execution, training, and/or safety issues.

Observation 1: Detroit did not properly follow requirements for Unlawful Flight to Avoid Prosecution (UFAP) investigations.

Analysis 1: Criminal Investigative Division, Fugitive Policy Implementation Guide, 0404PG, Section 3.4.2 indicated requirements to initiate fugitive investigations. The Fugitive Policy Implementation Guide (FPIG) requires local authorities to have a warrant for a subject's arrest and agree to extradite and prosecute upon apprehension. A request for assistance must have been received by the local FBI Field Office and the United States Attorney's Office (USAO) must authorize the filing of a complaint. Per the FPIG, there "must be sufficiently articulated facts to show with reasonable certainty that the subject fled interstate for the purpose of avoiding prosecution."

Field Offices have the option of initiating an 88 classification Preliminary Investigation (PI) "to ascertain if an articulable factual basis of interstate flight exists or to establish probable cause of interstate flight for obtaining a UFAP warrant."

Detroit did not receive a request for assistance from local authorities for the arrest of the fugitive and did not seek U.S. Attorney's Office concurrence for a UFAP warrant. Detroit obtained a state of Michigan search warrant to locate the fugitive and effect a West Virginia arrest warrant.

The Detroit Field Office did not follow the requirements stated within Section 3.4.2 of the Criminal Investigative Division, Fugitive Policy Implementation Guide, 0404PG.

Instruction 1: SAC, Detroit will ensure fugitive investigations follow the requirements listed under section 3.4.2 of the Fugitive Policy Implementation Guide, 0404PG.

3. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. The SIRG found this Animal Shooting to be justified under the DOJ Deadly Force Policy and did not recommend any administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] b6 -1,3 b7C -1,3

Synopsis: (U) To report the results of a review of an animal shooting incident involving MW Division SA [redacted] which occurred on October 24, 2013 b6 -1 b7C -1

Details:

On Thursday, October 24, 2013, SA [redacted] discharged five rounds from his FBI approved, personally owned Glock 27, at an injured deer. The shooting incident review was delegated to the Milwaukee Field Office by Chief Inspector Gregory T. Bretzing on October 25, 2013. The following are the results of the shooting incident review, which included a SSS from SA [redacted] and reports obtained from the Marquette County (WI) Sheriff's Office: b6 -1 b7C -1

On October 24, 2013 at approximately 9:20 am, Milwaukee Division SA [redacted] was driving his Bureau vehicle from Wausau (WI) to the Madison (WI) Resident Agency. While traveling southbound on Interstate 39, near miler marker 100, just south of Highway 23 and the Endeavor on ramp, SA [redacted] observed a disoriented and injured deer on the left shoulder of the interstate, adjacent to the median that separated north and southbound traffic. Interstate 39 is a four-lane divided highway separated by a downward sloping natural median. The deer was b6 -1 b7C -1 struggling to stand on the roadway's shoulder, moving towards the far left lane of southbound traffic. The deer's movement caused at least one southbound vehicle to swerve out of the left lane into the right lane causing a second vehicle to drive onto the far right shoulder. As SA [redacted]s vehicle passed the deer, he observed the deer was continuing to struggle to move between the median and left shoulder. As a result, SA [redacted] believed the deer posed a threat to the safety of passing motorists and returned to the scene. He subsequently activated his emergency lights, exited his vehicle and approached the deer to better assess the situation. b6 -1 b7C -1

SA [redacted] observed the deer appeared panicked and continued to struggle to stand. SA [redacted] believed the deer had been struck by a passing vehicle and suffered significant injuries to its rear legs and/or back area. He believed the deer not only posed a threat to passing motorist, but was also likely in severe pain and suffering from its injuries. As a result, SA [redacted] believed it was in the best interest of both the public and the deer to humanely use his bureau approved handgun to euthanize the animal. b6 -1 b7C -1

The deer was located in the center, downward sloping, grassy median moving away from SA [redacted] SA [redacted] waited until there was no northbound traffic. He subsequently drew his bureau approved, personally owned weapon, a Glock 27 (serial number [redacted] handgun and from of distance of approximately 15 yards, fired four (4) rounds. All four rounds were fired downward into the median from an elevated position and struck the deer in the back. As a result, the deer collapsed. However, it was still alive and moving. SA [redacted] approached the deer and fired one additional round, striking the deer in the neck causing its death. All five rounds are believed to have struck the deer and were accounted for. However, due to the deer's body position, SA [redacted] was unable to examine its entire body. There were no injuries to SA [redacted] or anyone else. b6 -1 b7C -1

SA [redacted] returned to his Bureau vehicle and notified Supervisory Senior Resident Agent (SSRA) [redacted] of the incident. SA b6 -1 b7C -1

[redacted] then contacted the Marquette County (WI) Sheriff's Department to report the incident. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

On Thursday, October 24, 2013 at approximately 9:43 am, MCSD, Squad 244, Deputy Sheriff [redacted] arrived at the scene. Deputy [redacted] spoke with SA [redacted] and confirmed that the deer had injuries to its rear hind quarter that were consistent with being struck by a vehicle. Deputy [redacted] also observed a visible bullet wound to the deer's neck. Deputy [redacted] cleared the scene at 9:50 am. He subsequently filed Incident Report # 13-S03439.

On Friday, October 25, 2013, SA [redacted] obtained a copy of the referenced incident report. On Tuesday, October 29, 2013, SA [redacted] provided MW SSA [redacted] a copy of the referenced MCSD report, as well as a narrative report he drafted describing the incident. A review of the report indicated it supported SA [redacted]'s account of the incident. b6 -1 b7C -1

On October 29, 2013, SSA [redacted] attempted follow-up with MCSD Deputy [redacted] However, Deputy [redacted] was on vacation/annual leave and unavailable until after November 20, 2013. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

On Tuesday, November 5, 2013, SSA [redacted] and SSA [redacted] interviewed SA [redacted] regarding the referenced shooting incident. SSA [redacted] read SA [redacted] the FD-927 "Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested To Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident." SA [redacted] voluntarily provided a statement, which was memorialized in a Signed Sworn Statement (SSS).. b6 -1 b7C -1

The following reports and applicable FD-302s were completed and uploaded via Sentinel to the captioned file. The original notes and records for all interviews were packaged in FD-340 envelopes and sent to INSD.

d. Events Leading Up to the Shooting

On Wednesday, July 30, 2014, SA [redacted] arrived home from work and changed into exercise attire in preparation to go to the gym. Prior to departing for the gym, SA [redacted] reminded him they needed to retrieve their second personally-owned vehicle from a car dealership in Woodland Hills, California. Instead of going to the gym, SA [redacted] drove [redacted] to the dealership to retrieve their second vehicle. SA [redacted] remained dress in his exercise attire. Prior to leaving his residence, SA [redacted] retrieved his FBI credentials, his personally-owned, FBI-approved, Glock 27, his handcuffs, and his personal and bureau mobile telephones. The Glock 27 was loaded with one nine-round magazine. There was not a round in the chamber of the weapon at the time SA [redacted] left his residence.

b7C -1,2

At some point, SA [redacted] decided that they would have dinner at Chipotle Restaurant located on De Soto Avenue north of Nordhoff Street in Chatsworth, California after retrieving their second vehicle. Now driving their second personally-owned vehicle, SA [redacted] followed [redacted] to the Chipotle Restaurant. Upon arriving at the restaurant, SA [redacted] was unable to locate parking in the lot for the restaurant so he drove south in an alleyway to a large parking lot where he found a spot in the northwest corner of the lot. SA [redacted] later learned this was the parking lot for the LA Fitness Gym located at 9143 De Soto Avenue, Chatsworth, California.

While SA [redacted] and his family were traveling to the Chipotle Restaurant, [redacted] born [redacted] (hereinafter referred to as "the Victim") was driving to the LA Fitness Gym located at 9143 De Soto Avenue [redacted] The Victim's [redacted] born [redacted] (hereinafter referred to as "the Subject") knew this and was lying in wait for her to arrive in the parking lot. In

b6 -1,5,7

the Subject's possession was a Glock 35, .40 caliber S&W, and a bag containing, among other things, five (5) 36-inch zip ties and pepper spray.

As of July 30, 2014, the Victim had a Civil Restraining Order and a Criminal Protective Order, against the Subject. The Subject was prohibited from purchasing and/or possession a firearm, as well as contacting or being within 100 yards of the Victim. During the March 22, 2014, felony-level domestic violence incident that resulted in the Subject's arrest and issuance of the Criminal Protective Order, the Subject told the Victim "I'm going to buy a gun and I'm going to finish you."

When the Victim stepped out of her [redacted] in the parking lot of the LA Fitness Gym, the Subject approached the Victim and stated "I have a gun, just get in the car." The Victim attempted to flee, but the Subject grabbed her by the hair and would not let her go. The Subject took the keys to her [redacted] and continued to struggle with the Victim. SA [redacted] had no knowledge these events were taking place. b6 -1,5 b7C -1,5

While switching to his second personally-owned vehicle in Woodland Hills, California, SA [redacted] realized that the shortness of his exercise shirt failed to properly conceal his Glock 27, resulting exposure of his weapon in public. Not wanting to expose his weapon while in the Chipotle Restaurant, SA [redacted] decided to secure his Glock 27 by locking it in the glove box of his personally-owned vehicle. SA [redacted] took with him his telephones, FBI credentials, handcuffs, and keys, all of which were placed in his pockets. SA [redacted] then secured his vehicle and began walking east towards De Soto Avenue. b6 -1 b7C -1

After a few steps, SA [redacted] heard a ruckus consisting of several loud voices. Having his view blocked by a large vehicle, SA [redacted] continued walking east and cleared the vehicle blocking his view. SA [redacted] then observed the Subject and the Victim arguing near a [redacted] SA [redacted] observed the Victim screaming and the Subject b6 -1,5 b7C -1,5 attempting to force the Victim into the driver's seat of the [redacted] by pushing her head, pulling her hair, and shoving her body. The Victim was resisting the Subject's efforts. b6 -5 b7C -5

SA [redacted] approached the Subject and the Victim in a casual manner and asked in a low, non-aggressive voice something to the effect of "Hey guys, what's going on?" The Subject was bladed at a 45° angle to SA [redacted] as he approached. Upon hearing SA [redacted]'s voice, the Subject pulled out a black semi-automatic handgun with his right hand from his midsection and pointed it directly at SA [redacted] The Subject continued to hold onto the Victim with his left hand. At the same time as the Subject produced the handgun, the Victim began yelling "Help!" "Help!" to SA [redacted] SA [redacted] immediately recognized the handgun was authentic and not a toy or replica gun. b6 -1 b7C -1

SA [redacted] put both hands in the air, tilted his head down, and began backing away from the Subject while stating something to the effect of "This is your business, not my business." Maintaining a visual on the Subject and the handgun, SA [redacted] observed the Subject move the muzzle of the handgun away from him and point it directly at the Victim's head as he continued to try to force the Victim into the car. The Victim continued her cries for help. b6 -1 b7C -1

Upon reaching the cover of the large vehicle, SA [redacted] fearing for the safety of the Victim, ran to his vehicle to retrieve his Glock 27. SA [redacted] believed the Subject was about to seriously injure, kidnap, and/or kill the Victim. SA [redacted] retrieved his Glock 27, chambered a round by racking the slide, placed his mobile telephones and handcuffs on the car seat, and retrieved his FBI credentials from his pocket. SA [redacted] then returned to the large vehicle where he peered around the vehicle while using it for cover. b6 -1 b7C -1

At this time, SA [redacted] observed the Victim in the driver's seat of the [redacted] and the Subject entering the front passenger seat. The Victim attempted to flee the vehicle through the driver's door but the Subject b6 -1,5 b7C -1,5 grabbed the Victim from the passenger side of the vehicle and pulled her back into the vehicle. The Victim continued her screams for help.

SA [redacted] then ducked down and low-walked east to the vehicle parked directly in front of the [redacted] While behind cover, SA [redacted] opened up his FBI credentials and held them in his left hand so anyone facing him could clearly see his picture, name and title on his FBI credentials. SA [redacted] held his Glock 27 in his right hand. As SA [redacted] stood up and faced the Subject, he raised his FBI credentials above his head, pointed his weapon at the Subject and stated repeatedly in a loud and authoritative voice, "Police! Drop the weapon! Show me your hands!" The Subject was still seated in the passenger seat of the [redacted] with the passenger door closed. The Subject heard SA [redacted] 's commands, looked at SA [redacted] and immediately pointed his handgun at SA [redacted] through the front windshield. b6 -1,5 b7C -1,5

SA [redacted] immediately ducked behind the cover vehicle fearing that the Subject was about to fire his handgun at him through the windshield. Due to the Subject willingness to point his handgun at an armed and identified law enforcement officer, as well as point it at the Victim, SA [redacted] determined in the split second available to him to assess the threat that the Subject was an imminent threat to himself and the Victim. SA [redacted] feared the Subject would shoot him, the Victim, or both. b6 -1 b7C -1

As SA [redacted] ducked down, he placed his FBI credentials on the cover vehicle and assumed a two-handed grip to reduce the chance of injury to the Victim. He then immediately stood up and used a two-handed shooting grip to engage the Subject. This motion took approximately one second and SA [redacted] continued to identify himself as police and ordered the Subject to drop his weapon. SA [redacted] fired his weapon into the front passenger area where the Subject was seated. SA [redacted] shot the nine rounds in his weapon resulting in the weapon locking back on an empty chamber. The Subject fired at least one round from inside the vehicle at SA [redacted] During the exchange of gunfire, a bullet fragment struck the Subject handgun head-on and became logged in the recoil b6 -1 b7C -1 spring housing located directly under the barrel. This fragment caused the slide to become dislodged and partially separated from the frame of the weapon.

During the engagement with SA [redacted] the Victim, while leaning to her left in the vehicle towards the open driver's door window, observed the Subject having trouble with his handgun. The Victim observed the Subject pulling the slide of the magazine back and tapping the bottom of the magazine repeatedly. During this time, the Subject also told the Victim to drive away but the Victim could not because the Subject retained possession of her keys. After giving her the keys, the Victim began driving the car while the Subject pointed the handgun at her head and neck. The Subject told her to drive south on De Soto Avenue, west on Nordhoff Street, and then south on Owensmouth Avenue. While in the car, the Subject repeatedly struck the Victim in her head with the handgun. b6 -1 b7C -1

f. Post Shooting Details

As the [redacted] departed the LA Fitness Gym parking lot, SA [redacted] followed the vehicle on foot through the parking lot using parked vehicles for cover. SA [redacted] sprinted after the vehicle and was able to reach the strip mall parking lot on the northwest corner of De Soto Avenue and Nordhoff Street as the [redacted] drove westbound on Nordhoff. Realizing he could not maintain visual of the vehicle, SA [redacted] sprinted back to the scene of the shooting to secure the scene and any witnesses. As SA [redacted] initially ran south and then back north through the parking lots, he continued to display his credentials above his head and identified himself as law enforcement. Once he returned to the scene of the shooting, SA [redacted] was able to speak with a 911 operator using a witness's mobile telephone. SA [redacted] gave a description of himself, the [redacted] the direction of travel of the [redacted] and the fact the Subject was bleeding. b6 -1,5 b7C -1,5

Shortly thereafter, the initial LAPD units arrived and assisted SA [redacted] in securing the scene. At that time SA [redacted] attempted to notify his supervisor, SSA [redacted] but only reach his voice mail as b6 -1 b7C -1

SSA [redacted] was in a plane returning to Los Angeles. SA [redacted] then called and spoke with ASAC [redacted] who made appropriate notifications and started the FBI response to the scene. b6 -1 b7C -1

As the Victim continued to drive away from the scene following the Subject's orders, she observed LAPD squad cars responding to the shooting. As the Victim drove south on Owensmouth Avenue, the Subject ordered her to turn on to Schoenborn Street, a smaller side street. Knowing she was near LAPD's Topanga Area Station and not wanting to go down the side street, the Victim used the time it took to make the turn to jump from the [redacted] and flee on foot. The Victim was able to flag down a bystander who drove her towards LAPD's Topanga Station. On the way to the station, they flagged down a LAPD squad car and obtained assistance. The Victim was eventually taken to Northridge Hospital where she was treated for a laceration to her right ear. b6 -5 b7C -5

After the Victim fled from the [redacted] the Subject drove the [redacted] from the area and parked along the curb on Woodlake Avenue just north of Ventura Boulevard and the entrance to the westbound 101 Freeway. While parked there, California Highway Patrol ("CHP") Officer [redacted] who was driving westbound on Ventura Boulevard looking for the [redacted] heard an airship broadcast the location of the [redacted] Officer [redacted] responded to the area with lights and sirens. As he turned north on Woodlake Avenue from westbound Ventura Boulevard, he observed the [redacted] Officer [redacted] stopped his car on Woodlake Avenue just north of Ventura Boulevard but south of the [redacted] and exited his vehicle standing behind the driver's door with his .40 caliber Smith and Wesson service weapon unholstered. b6 -4,5 b7C -4,5

Seeing Officer [redacted] the Subject accelerated south on Woodlake Boulevard toward Ventura Boulevard driving past Officer [redacted] Officer [redacted] observed the Subject point a black semi-automatic handgun at him as he drove south on Woodlake Boulevard. Fearing for his life and believing the Subject was about to shoot him, Officer b6 -4 b7C -4

[redacted] fired eight rounds at the Subject as he drove south on Woodlake Boulevard. The Subject fled the area by driving onto the westbound 101 Freeway. b6 -4 b7C -4

The Subject proceeded to lead several local law enforcement agencies on a high-speed pursuit west on the 101 and south on Malibu Canyon Road ending at Malibu Bluffs Park, in Malibu, California, approximately 21.3 miles from the scene of the AIS. As the Subject exited the vehicle in Malibu Bluffs Park, he pointed a handgun at an LAPD Officer. Fearing for that officer's safety and believing the Subject was about to shoot that officer, another LAPD officer fired one round at the Subject.

The Subject fled on foot through the park, dropping a bag but maintaining possession of the handgun. He ran down a steep cliff, falling through bushes and cactus. The Subject eventually discarded the handgun on the hillside. The Subject was taken into custody by LAPD SWAT approximately two hours after the initial AIS occurred in Chatsworth, California.

g. Accounts of Shots Fired

SA [redacted] fired nine (9) FBI .40 caliber S&W Winchester 180-grain, hollow-point service rounds from his personally owned Glock 27. Nine discharged .40 caliber S&W cases with the head stamp marking "Winchester 40 S&W" were recovered at the scene. Eight of SA [redacted] s fired rounds have currently been accounted. Three (3) fired copper bullets, unknown caliber with brass disks at their base, were recovered from the cinder block wall directly behind the area where the [redacted] was parked in the LA Fitness Gym parking lot. One (1) fired copper bullet, unknown caliber with brass disks at its base, was recovered from the front right floorboard of the [redacted] One (1) bullet fragment, unknown caliber, was recovered from the right rear passenger seat of the [redacted] One (1) fired copper bullet with a brass disk at its base was recovered in the right shoulder area of the shirt the Subject was wearing at the time of the shooting. One (1) fired copper bullet with a brass disk at its base was found in the right-side hood-area of b6 1,5 b7C 1,5 the hooded sweatshirt the Subject was wearing at the time of the shooting. One (1) bullet fragment was found logged in the recoil spring housing, located directly under the barrel, of the Subject's Glock 35. Additional fired bullets and bullet fragments were located in the [redacted] but LAPD's Scientific Investigation Division ("SID") reports regarding these bullets and fragments are still pending at the time of this writing. A preliminary review of photographs of the recovery suggest these rounds are similar to the other fired copper bullets of unknown caliber with brass disks at their base. b6 -5 b7C -5

i. Use of Body Armor and Law Enforcement Identifiers

At the time of the Agent-Involved-Shooting, SA [redacted] was off-duty, dressed in exercise attire, going to meet his family for dinner, after having driven his personally-owned vehicle. As such, SA [redacted] was not wearing, nor did he have immediate access to, his bureau-issued body b6 -1 b7C -1 armor or raid jacket. Using what was available to him, SA [redacted] displayed his FBI credentials in a prominent and continuous manner such that [redacted] and all interviewed witnesses stated that they either saw SA [redacted]'s FBI credentials, heard him identify himself as a law enforcement officer, or both. b6 -1,5,7 b7C -1,5,7

j. Forensic Summary

On July 30, 2014, at approximately 7:30 p.m., ASAC [redacted] collected SA [redacted]'s Glock 27, .40 caliber S&W, S/N [redacted] and one nine-round magazine, from SA [redacted] at the incident scene, 9143 De Soto Avenue, Chatsworth, California. At the time it was collected, the Glock 27 and the nine-round magazine did not contain any ammunition. The firearm was entered into FBI LA Evidence after being cleared by a certified firearms instructor. b6 -1 b7C -1

Due to the nature of the events and the State of California criminal charges to be filed, FBI, LAPD, and CHP agreed LAPD would be the lead investigative agency and would take possession of and conduct all analysis of any evidence found and collected.

On July 30, 2014, at approximately 8:52 p.m. FBI LA ERT arrived at 9143 De Soto Avenue, Chatsworth, California and began processing the Agent-Involved-Shooting ("AIS") scene. Items recovered included nine discharged .40 caliber S&W cartridge cases with the head stamp marking "Winchester 40 S&W," three (3) fired copper bullets, unknown caliber with brass disks at their base, the smashed passenger-side window of the [redacted] and one [redacted] water bottle. FBI ERT's request of the Operational Projects Unit to process ERT survey data and complete crime scene diagrams is still pending. b6 -5 b7C -5

CHP conducted the crime scene investigation of the CHP Officer-Involved-Shooting ("OIS") scene located at the intersection of Woodlake Avenue and Ventura Boulevard. Items recovered included eight discharged .40 caliber S&W cases with the head stamp marking "Win 40 S&W."

Re: 297J-HQ-A5319916, 09/11/2014

LAPD SID conducted the crime scene investigation of the LAPD OIS scene located in the Malibu Bluffs Park, Malibu, California. LAPD SID also conducted the crime scene investigation of the Victim's [redacted] and [redacted] s rental car which was located one block east of the Agent-Involved-Shooting scene. b6 -5,7 b7C -5,7

LAPD SID's examination of the Victim's [redacted] found six bullet holes in the passenger-side of the front windshield. Preliminary findings indicate that five bullet holes were entrance holes from shots fired outside the vehicle going into the vehicle. The sixth bullet hole appears to be an exit hole from a shot fired inside the vehicle going out of the vehicle toward the front of the vehicle. One fired copper bullet, unknown caliber with brass disks at its base, was recovered from the front right floorboard of the [redacted] A bullet fragment, unknown caliber, was recovered from the right rear passenger seat of the [redacted] Preliminary information from LAPD SID's examination showed at least one additional fired bullet and one additional bullet fragment were located in the right, rear passenger-seat area of [redacted] as well as blood found on the console between the driver's seat and the front passenger seat. SID reports containing their official findings are pending at the time of this writing. b6 -5 b7C -5

LAPD SID's examination of the Subject's rented Chrysler 200 found five (5) zip ties and a hand written note stating "My car broke down [sic] Will come back tomorrow to take it [sic] Please Please dont [sic] tow !!"

LAPD SID's examination of the Subject's weapon revealed it was a Glock 35, .40 caliber S&W, S/N [redacted] At the time it was recovered, the weapon had one discharged .40 caliber S&W cartridge case, with the head stamp of "WIN 40 S&W," in the chamber. A ten-round magazine loaded with five live rounds, all .40 caliber S&W with the head stamp "WIN 40 S&W," was seated in the magazine well of the handgun. A bullet fragment was found logged in the recoil spring housing located directly under the barrel. This fragment caused the slide to become dislodged b6 -7 b7C -7 and partially separated from the frame of the weapon. A visual inspection of the exterior of the metal recoil spring housing revealed little to no damage indicating the fragment entered from the front of the housing and not the side.

LAPD SID conducted a function test of SA [redacted]s Glock 27 and obtained ballistic samples using FBI-issued Winchester .40 caliber S&W, 180-grain, hollow-point service ammunition. The Glock 27 was found to be properly functioning at the time of the testing. LAPD SID noted to writer on the day of testing that the ballistic samples of the FBI service ammunition revealed that the FBI service round is a copper bullet with a brass disk in its base. b6 -1 b7C -1

A partial inventory of all documented items in possession of LAPD as of this writing, which is currently 109 items, is in contained in serials 23, 35 and 37 of captioned case file. In addition, FBI Los Angeles is in possession of and analyzing at RHD request two mobile telephones and a laptop computer.

k. Medical Summary

FBI Agent involved in shooting:

No injuries

Subject:

After Subject's arrest by LAPD SWAT, an initial assessment of the Subject indicated he received one through-and-through gunshot wound to his shoulder and one through-and-through gunshot wound to his right cheek. He was airlifted from Malibu, California to UCLA Ronald Reagan Emergency Department, in Los Angeles, California. Doctors determined the wounds were superficial and released the Subject to LAPD for booking that evening.

Victim:

After fleeing from the Subject and getting assistance from LAPD, the Victim was treated by Los Angeles Fire Department paramedics for lacerations to her right ear and transported to Northridge Hospital where she was treated for a ½ inch laceration to her right ear, which also had a piece missing. The medical report indicated the injury was the result of the Subject striking the Victim with his handgun and/or flying glass debris. The Victim was released later that evening.

III. Shooting Incident Review Team Details

On July 31, 2014, the shooting incident review was delegated to Los Angeles Field Office, Violent Crimes/Major Offender Squad, C-1, by the Chief Inspector. The review team consisted of the following personnel:

IV. Shooting Incident Review Protocol

On July 30, 2014, FBI Los Angeles contacted SIOC and Inspection Division to advise them of the Agent-Involved Shooting. FBI Los Angeles, through the Operations Communications Center, submitted FD-1015 Executive Situation Report. FBI Los Angeles coordinated investigative efforts with LAPD and CHP.

On July 31, 2014, FBI Los Angeles was advised that the Chief Inspector had delegated the shooting incident review to Los Angeles Field Office. Los Angeles Field Office submitted FD-1085, Shooting Incident Report. FBI Los Angeles continues to document investigative activity to the substantive 89B file as well as the 297J administrative investigation file.

To date, one voluntary SSS was taken of FBI SA [redacted] who read and signed an FD-927. SA [redacted]'s attorney was present during his SSS. Interviews of witness present during the AIS were conducted jointly by FBI Los Angeles and LAPD RHD, with the interviews being recorded per LAPD policy. Three crime scenes and two vehicles were processed for evidence. One State of California search warrant was executed, jointly by FBI Los Angeles and LAPD RHD, on the Subject's residence. Processing of evidence continues with reports being generated when completed. b6 -1 b7C -1

a. Firearms Training

Firearms qualifications records for SA [redacted] were provided by Los Angeles PFI [redacted] A review of the training records revealed that SA [redacted] is current on his firearms training attendance. SA [redacted] last shot his Glock 27 during the Second Quarter 2013 Firearms Training earning a score of 59 out of 60. On September 5, 2014, during FBI Los Angeles' ongoing Fourth Quarter 2014 Firearms Training, SA [redacted] qualified with his Glock 27, obtaining a score of 57 out of 60. SA [redacted] is in compliance with firearms qualifications requirements as established in MIOG Part 2 Section 12. b6 -1 b7C -1

Administrative Notes: (U//~~FOUO~~) Reference Shooting Incident Report submitted electronically by Special Agent (SA) [redacted] dated 09/11/2014. b6 -1 b7C -1

Details:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 07/30/2014, at approximately 6:45 p.m., SA [redacted] from the Los Angeles Field Office was involved in a shooting incident in Chatsworth, California. On 07/30/2014, SA [redacted] arrived home from work sometime after 5 p.m. SA [redacted] drove their personally owned vehicle (POV) to a car dealership to pick up their second POV. SA [redacted] then drove his second POV to Chipotle restaurant in Chatsworth to get dinner. SA [redacted] was dressed in gym clothes. Prior to exiting his vehicle, SA [redacted] locked his personally b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2 owned weapon (POW), a Glock 27 .40 caliber handgun, in the glove box of his vehicle. Earlier, he loaded the POW by inserting a nine-round magazine in the slide, but did not put a round in the chamber. SA [redacted] was current on his POW qualification. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] parked his POV in the parking lot and exited his vehicle carrying his mobile phones, FBI credentials, handcuffs, and car keys. After exiting his vehicle, SA [redacted] heard several loud voices arguing in the parking lot. SA [redacted] saw a male ([redacted] and female ([redacted]) arguing near a [redacted] was screaming and [redacted] attempted to shove [redacted] into the driver's seat of the [redacted] pushed [redacted]'s head, pulled her hair, and shoved her body in an attempt to get her into the [redacted] SA [redacted] approached [redacted] and asked what was going on. [redacted] pulled a black semi-automatic handgun from his midsection and pointed it at SA [redacted] SA [redacted] immediately put his hands up and his head down to minimize any impression he posed a threat. He stated something to the effect of, "This is your business, not my business," and backed away with his hands in the air. As SA [redacted] backed away, [redacted] pointed his weapon directly at the head of [redacted] and continued to try to get her into the [redacted] b6 -1,5,7 b7C -1,5,7

stated in a loud authoritative voice, "Police! Drop the weapon! Show me your hands!" [redacted], who was seated in the front passenger seat with the door closed, looked at SA [redacted] and pointed his weapon at SA [redacted] through the windshield. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) Fearing for his life and the life of [redacted] SA [redacted] immediately ducked down behind cover for a split second to secure a two handed grip, stood up, and fired nine rounds. [redacted] fired at least one round at SA [redacted] During the exchange of gunfire and unknown to law enforcement at the time, a bullet fragment struck the front of [redacted]'s handgun and became lodged in the recoil spring housing. This caused the slide to become dislodged and partially separated from the frame, and made the handgun inoperable. b6 -1,5,7 b7C -1,5,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] forced [redacted] to drive the car out of the parking lot and into the street. SA [redacted] kept his credentials above his head and continued to verbally identify himself as "police." SA [redacted] used parked cars as cover and chased the [redacted] in order to assess whether he could successfully rescue [redacted] and also so he could gather information for responding law enforcement. The [redacted] accelerated and SA [redacted] was unable to keep up. SA [redacted] returned to the parking lot, continued to display his credentials, identified himself as "police," and used a bystander's telephone to provide a description of the events to a 911 operator. Approximately one minute later, a Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) vehicle responded and gave chase. b6 -1,5,7 b7C -1,5,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] was able to escape from the [redacted] when she made a turn onto a side street. [redacted] flagged down a bystander who assisted her in getting to the LAPD. [redacted] now driving [redacted]'s [redacted] continued to flee from police. At an intersection, [redacted] pointed his handgun at a California Highway Patrol Officer. The officer, fearing for his safety and believing [redacted] was about to fire his handgun at him, fired eight rounds at [redacted] as he drove by. b6 -5,7 b7C -5,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) After a lengthy high-speed pursuit involving several local law enforcement agencies on Los Angeles freeways and mountain roads, [redacted] stopped [redacted] at the Malibu Bluffs Park in Malibu, b6 -5,7 b7C -5,7

California, approximately 21.3 miles from the scene of the Agent Involved Shooting (AIS). As he fled on foot from the [redacted] pointed his handgun at a responding LAPD officer. Fearing for the officer's safety and believing [redacted] was about to fire his handgun at the officer, another LAPD officer fired one round at [redacted] then ran down a steep cliff and eventually discarded the handgun in a bush. Approximately two hours after the initial shooting, [redacted] was taken into custody by LAPD SWAT on the hillside below Malibu Bluffs Park. b6 -5,7 b7C -5,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] was taken to UCLA medical hospital where he was treated for what was erroneously believed to be a superficial gunshot wound to the chin, but was later determined to be a cut sustained during a fall while he fled on foot from the police. He was released into LAPD custody after several hours. [redacted] was treated by Los Angeles Fire Department paramedics and transported to Northridge Hospital, where she was treated for a half-inch laceration to her right ear. The medical report indicated the injury was the result of [redacted] striking her with his handgun or was caused by flying glass debris. [redacted] was released later that evening. b6 -5,7 b7C -5,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 07/30/2014, at approximately 8:52 p.m., FBI LA ERT arrived at the AIS scene. Items recovered included nine discharged Winchester S&W .40 caliber cartridge cases, three fired copper bullets of unknown caliber with brass disks at their base, the smashed passenger-side window of the [redacted] and one '[redacted]' water bottle. b6 -7 b7C -7

(U//~~FOUO~~) LAPD Robbery Homicide Division conducted an investigation and filed a 12-count complaint in Los Angeles Superior Court which charged [redacted] with two counts each of Attempted Murder and Assault with a Firearm (Victims [redacted] and SA [redacted]), one count each of Kidnapping (Victim [redacted]), Carjacking (Victim [redacted], Criminal Threats (Victim [redacted], Stalking (Victim [redacted], Disobeying a Domestic Relations Court Order (Victim [redacted]), Injuring a Spouse After a Prior Conviction (Victim [redacted], Possession of Firearm by a Felon, and Evading an Officer. b6 -1,5,7 b7C -1,5,7

Title: (U//~~FOUO~~) Los Angeles Shooting Incident
Re: 297J-HQ-A5319916, 01/05/2015

SIRG Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 12/15/2014, the SIRG reviewed the AIS incident with the intent to:

1. (U//~~FOUO~~) Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by SA [redacted] on 07/30/2014 was in compliance with the Department of Justice's deadly force policy. b6 -1 b7C -1

2. (U//~~FOUO~~) Provide the Director with evaluative analyses, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational planning and execution, training, and safety perspective.

The SIRG made the following observations:

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 1: Los Angeles Field Office failed to provide INSD with updated, accurate information on the subject's medical condition.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 1:

(U//~~FOUO~~) The shooting took place on 07/30/2014. Initial reporting indicated [redacted] received one through-and-through gunshot wound to his shoulder and one through-and-through gunshot wound to his right cheek. On 08/20/2014, INSD requested [redacted]'s booking photo. Upon receipt of the photo, INSD observed [redacted] did not have a gunshot wound through the cheek, but instead had a band-aid on his chin. INSD followed up with Los Angeles Field Office (LAFO) to confirm injuries. On 08/26/2014, LAFO uploaded a medical report (serial 36), dated 07/31/2014, which revealed [redacted]'s wounds were superficial. LAFO either had not followed up to determine whether [redacted] in fact sustained gunshot wounds through the cheek and shoulder, or was aware but failed to notify INSD. In either case, this resulted in inaccurate information which was relayed to FBIHQ senior executive management. It was LAFO's responsibility to properly update INSD on [redacted]'s medical condition as the investigation progressed. b6 -7 b7C -7

Title: (U//~~FOUO~~) Los Angeles Shooting Incident
Re: 297J-HQ-A5319916, 01/05/2015

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 1: ADIC, Los Angeles, should ensure INSD is advised of significant investigative developments when handling a delegated AIS.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 2: Los Angeles Field Office failed to immediately send SA [redacted]'s weapon to the Defensive Systems Unit (DSU). b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2:

(U//~~FOUO~~) LAFO collected SA [redacted]'s firearm immediately after the AIS and turned it over to the LAPD so it could be processed consistently with the remaining evidence to be used in the state criminal case against [redacted] On 08/15/2014, INSD sent en email to LAFO which reminded them of the need to send SA [redacted]'s firearm to DSU as quickly as possible. Instead of doing so, it was returned to SA [redacted] who qualified on it and then sent it to DSU on 09/08/2014. b6 -1,5 b7C -1,5

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2: ADIC, Los Angeles, should ensure immediate coordination with DSU after collection of weapons from an AIS.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 3: SA [redacted]'s POW was not in the proper on-duty carrying configuration. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 3:

(U//~~FOUO~~) MIOG Section 12-2.2,"CARRYING OF WEAPONS," paragraph 6 stated, "When SAs are armed, handguns must be fully loaded." Although not further defined in the MIOG, DSU indicated "fully loaded", based upon common industry language and consistent with entry level and recurring firearms training provided by the FBI, required a round in the chamber and the magazine filled to either the manufacturer's stated capacity or an alternative capacity set forth by DSU for a particular weapon. In the case of a Glock .27, "fully loaded" required a round in the chamber and a full magazine. Although formally superseded by Corporate Policy Directive (CPD) 0634D, MIOG Section 12-2.2 is still incorporated by reference on the Training Division, Firearms Training

Unit (FTU) website and the guidance to always carry a "fully loaded" firearm is still taught by the FTU. (Despite the supersession, CPD 0634D does not address carry configuration).

(U//~~FOUO~~) After the initial confrontation with [redacted] SA [redacted] ran to his POV, retrieved his handgun, and chambered a round by racking the slide. As noted above, FTU guidance was for all handguns to be fully loaded. Accordingly, SA [redacted] should have already had a round chambered. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

Inspections Division, FBI

Based upon a review of materials from your shooting inquiry, we have determined, there is insufficient evidence to warrant a federal criminal civil rights investigation into a shooting by two FBI agents near Indianapolis, Indiana, on May 10, 2013, that resulted in the death of William McKnight, an escaping armed bank robber who pointed a handgun at one of the agents and refused commands to drop the gun. The evidence establishes that the agents both shot McKnight based upon a reasonable expectation that the use of deadly force was necessary because of the threat posed. The local District Attorney has also declined prosecution. The USAO is prosecuting the accomplices for the bank robbery.

The evidence indicates that the FBI agents were part of a task force conducting surveillance on McKnight and his accomplices, another man and a woman driver, suspected of bank robberies in the Indianapolis area. Pursuant to a warrant [redacted] b7E -6
[redacted]
During surveillance of the vehicle's travels, two masked men were observed leaving the State Bank of Lizton, Plainfield, Indiana. Later, video confirmed that they had just robbed the bank at gunpoint.

Two FBI agents led the pursuit of the escaping gang of three bank robbers, who fled in the tracked vehicle. After a chase, the vehicle stopped in a residential area. The first FBI agent took cover behind his car with his weapon drawn, after he saw McKnight bail out of the vehicle with a handgun. The second agent stopped his car behind the first; and, when he saw McKnight armed with a handgun pointed at the first agent, he also drew his weapon to provide cover. McKnight ignored commands to drop the gun and instead continued to point it at the first agent. Both agents fired their weapons. McKnight died from gunshot wounds. The other two bank robbers ran in a different direction and were arrested nearby without incident. The agents' accounts corroborate each other and radio traffic confirms their knowledge that McKnight was armed. There is no evidence to contradict the accounts.

McKnight was attempting to escape from an armed bank robbery and refused to drop a gun pointed at an armed agent. There is insufficient evidence to support a conclusion that either agent willfully violated the 4th Amendment's requirement of reasonable seizure and thus 18 USC 242, the applicable federal criminal civil rights statute. Both agents had a reasonable expectation that deadly force was necessary to eliminate the risk posed by McKnight's refusal to drop his gun and potential intent to fire it.

A federal criminal civil rights investigation of the agent's action is unwarranted. We appreciate the agents' voluntary statements that permitted a fully informed resolution of this matter. Please continue your administrative review and action.

Details

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 11/15/2012, at approximately 6:05 A.M., the Baltimore SWAT team executed two search warrants in support of Operation [redacted] a Washington Field Office SSTF investigation. The case was predicated on information that [redacted] were operating significant drug networks throughout the D.C. Metro area. These individuals were indicted by a Federal Grand Jury in the District of Columbia and search warrants were obtained for nine locations utilized by members of the criminal organization throughout the metro Washington D.C. area. Two of these search warrants were for single family residences in Maryland and would be executed by Baltimore SWAT, NOC, and TOC

On 11/13/2012, at approximately 1:00 P.M., Baltimore SWAT Senior Team Leader (STL) [redacted] conducted an operations brief. On 11/15/2012, at approximately 5:00 A.M., Baltimore SWAT, along with the Tactical Operations Center (TOC) and Negotiation Operations Center (NOC) personnel met at the designated staging area and conducted an operations and safety brief. Upon completion, all members moved to their assigned stations. TOC and NOC were located in the TOC vehicle, while the On-Scene Commander, ASAC [redacted] and SWAT Supervisor, SSA [redacted] positioned themselves in ASAC [redacted]' vehicle. Both Blue and Gold teams proceeded to the residences utilizing one vehicle arriving at approximately 6:00 A.M. Once there, both teams proceeded to their assignments. Blue Team, assigned to 6709, was comprised of the following members in entry order and assignment: b6 -1 b7C -1

1. SA [redacted] – Entry

At approximately 6:05 A.M., Blue Team was positioned at the front door to [redacted] where STL [redacted] initiated the operation. SA [redacted] conducted a knock and announce by yelling, "FBI, search warrant. Come to the door!" SA [redacted] repeated this sequence, after which STL [redacted] counted aloud to 20. No indications of movement were observed in the house at the b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1 completion of STL [redacted]'s count. SA [redacted] was directed by STL [redacted] to forcibly breach the door. After SA [redacted] breached the door, SA [redacted] inside the house. Almost immediately after [redacted], SA [redacted] prematurely entered the residence before [redacted] and stood in the living room, approximately five feet from the threshold. He faced east and scanned left to right. SA [redacted] saw a female, later identified as [redacted] crouched approximately 20 feet away in an archway inside an alcove which separated the living room from the bedrooms located in the rear of the residence. As SA [redacted] made eye contact with [redacted] he saw a flash of light, heard a loud bang, and felt a strong movement of air on his right side which he perceived to be from a shotgun blast fired at him by [redacted]

SA [redacted] initially fired two shots toward [redacted] from his M-4 and both shots missed her. One embedded in the wall of an unoccupied bedroom in the southeast corner of the home. The other hit the corner of the living room wall, immediately adjacent to the arch. SA [redacted] adjusted his point of aim from right to left, as [redacted] ran back into her bedroom in the northeast corner of the residence. SA [redacted] perceived that [redacted] moved into a stairwell rising to the second floor. The stairwell was between the living room where SA [redacted] was standing, and [redacted]'s bedroom, and actually descended into the basement. According to SA [redacted], he believed [redacted] would use the stairwell as a position of cover and fire at him and his fellow team members again. SA [redacted] fired three additional shots at the wall separating the living room from the stairwell. SA [redacted] adjusted his aim from right to left as he fired these three shots. The third through fifth shots impacted the living room wall and passed through the stairwell, hitting the opposing wall. One of the rounds also impacted a closet door in the hall area, adjacent to [redacted]'s bedroom door.

While in this position, SA [redacted] was aware of individuals being called out and taken outside by other SWAT members. Five individuals were cleared from the house. They were:

Inspector Dena Choucair
FBI Inspection Division

Based upon the information provided in your Shooting Incident Report, we have determined that an FBI agent shooting during the execution of an arrest in Dayton, Ohio on 4/04/13, resulting in the death of Jermaine Coleman and wounding of another subject, does not warrant federal criminal investigation. There is insufficient evidence to support an investigation to determine whether the federal criminal civil rights statutes were violated.

Four FBI agents were attempting to locate two [redacted] wanted on local warrants for vehicular assault and possession of heroin in the vicinity of a Dayton, Ohio mall believed to be where their drug transactions occurred. The two subjects were located conducting drug deals out of an automobile, which was being driven by a third unidentified male. The agents followed the subjects' vehicle to a drive-thru beverage store window with only one entrance and one exit. Based on the observed felony drug transactions and the arrest warrants, they decided to affect an arrest on the occupants of the vehicle. b6 -7 b7C -7 b7A -1

On prior occasions, law enforcement agents had attempted to stop vehicles with these two subjects of the warrants. They refused to stop and escaped. There is a "no chase" law enforcement policy in the state of Ohio, which is commonly known by criminals and has heightened their attempts to escape, knowing law enforcement will not follow.

The agents drove two cars with two agents in each car into the beverage drive-thru, locking the subject vehicle in the enclosed area by blocking both the entrance and exit. As the passenger agents of each FBI car exited to effect the arrest in the enclosed area, the driver of the suspects' car made an attempt to escape by violently crashing that vehicle into both FBI vehicles. The car first struck the rear FBI vehicle, which forced the passenger door to strike that agent as he exited, then violently crashed into the front FBI vehicle almost striking the other passenger agent who also exited the car.

That agent in front car fired four times from outside his car at the driver to stop another deliberate collision. The driver, Coleman, was wounded twice and died en-route to the hospital. It was later determined that Coleman was wanted on a local warrant for improperly discharging a firearm. One of the surviving subjects, who was shot once and suffered non-life threatening wounds, admitted that they all had been selling narcotics. The other passenger was uninjured. No weapons were found in the vehicle or on the subjects.

The shooter agent saw the subjects' car smash into the FBI car to its rear impacting it so as to cause him to fear that those agents had been injured. His car was then struck and he was almost struck himself. When he fired, he saw the driver looking to his rear as if he intended to re-collide with the FBI car to his rear. The shooter agent claims he fired to stop the car from injuring other agents. The other agents provide generally consistent accounts. The forensic evidence is consistent with the agents' accounts. The shooter agent and two medically trained other agents attempted to render aid to the mortally wounded driver.

The two surviving subjects were federally charged by the Southern District of Ohio for narcotics distribution and assault on a federal officer. Based upon the information provided, the local DA's office declined to conduct a criminal review of the shooting.

Under the totality of the circumstances, there is insufficient evidence to contradict the agent's expressed claim of why he fired his weapon. Accordingly, there is insufficient evidence to establish that the agent used more force than was reasonably necessary and that he believed was reasonably necessary to prevent death or grievous bodily harm to himself and others.

IV. Shooting Incident Review Protocol

On 08/28/2013, at approximately 12:30 p.m., SAC Brooks was notified by A/SAC [redacted] and A/ASAC [redacted] of a shooting incident involving FBI Agents in Westchester County New York. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] Squad C-26, were deployed with the Westchester County Safe Streets Task Force when SA [redacted] discharged his weapon. There were no injuries. SAC Brooks directed A/SAC [redacted] and A/ASAC [redacted] to advise SSA [redacted] to take possession of SA [redacted] s weapon. b6 -1 b7C -1

Immediately thereafter, SAC Brooks notified the NYFO ADIC, and SIOC. SSA [redacted] NYFO Operations Center, distributed the FD-1015 to SIOC via E-mail. SAC Brooks then contacted AD Nancy McNamara, INSD, by telephone to report the incident. AD McNamara delegated the inspection to the NYFO due to the fact there were no injuries and only one Agent discharged a weapon.

While en route to the scene, SAC Brooks directed SSA [redacted] to take SA [redacted] to the hospital for a post-traumatic physical examination. At approximately 2:45 p.m., SAC Brooks arrived at the incident scene. A/ASAC [redacted] On-Scene Commander, provided SAC Brooks a short brief on the circumstances of the incident and described the scene. NYFO personnel from the ERT, Squad C-19 and OPA were on scene as were personnel from the WCDAO. SAC Brooks spoke with WCDAO Chief Investigator [redacted] and WCDAO Deputy Chief Investigator [redacted] SAC Brooks checked on the condition of SA [redacted] offered support, and directed him to leave the scene and return to the WPRA. SAC Brooks was advised the FBI was in possession of SA [redacted] s firearm. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

At approximately 3:25 p.m., SAC Brooks contacted First Deputy District Attorney (FDDA) [redacted] WCDAO who put SAC Brooks in contact with FDDA [redacted] FDDA [redacted] would serve as the WCDAO point of contact on the Assault on a Federal Officer (AFO) investigation. The WCDAO would not open an investigation into the shooting, and did not request participation in the shooting incident interview process. The MVPD never responded to the scene and did not open an investigation into the shooting. b6 -4 b7C -4

At approximately 4:20 p.m., SAC Brooks contacted Acting Chief Inspector Howard Marshall, INSD, to determine who from INSD was overseeing the matter. Inspector Shawn W. Stroud was assigned as the Inspector in Charge. ASAC [redacted] NYFO, was assigned the Delegated Shooting. b6 -1 b7C -1

In total, two Signed Sworn Statements (SSS) were taken from the FBI Agents directly involved in the shooting. Other interviews, events, and observations were documented via FD-302s. The SSSs and interviews of witnesses were conducted voluntarily. A FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident) was signed by the Agents interviewed via SSS.

On 10/21/2013, SAC Brooks, and ASAC [redacted] met with WCDAO FDDA [redacted] and Second Deputy District Attorney (SDDA) [redacted] in the WPRA to brief them on the findings of the Delegated Shooting Team (DST). FDDA [redacted] confirmed she would like a copy of the DST report to assist her office in making a prosecutorial decision. On 12/3/2013, ASAC [redacted] met with SDDA [redacted] at the WCDAO Office and provided the DST report to him. On 12/20/2013, SDDA [redacted] telephonically advise ASAC [redacted] the WCDAO had declined to prosecute the case. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

VI. Inspector's Observations

Observation 1: A thorough arrest plan was not produced prior to an arrest operation.

Analysis 1: DIOG Section 19.2.3 provided policy regarding arrest plans:

"The SAC is responsible for ensuring that arrests are carefully and thoroughly planned....Whenever possible, written arrest plans must be prepared prior to conducting law enforcement activities that may result in the arrest of a potentially dangerous subject. Arrest plans must address five topics: Situation, Mission, Execution, Administration and Equipment, and Control and Communications."

In addition, DIOG Section 19.2.4 provided policy guidance regarding joint arrests:

"An SSA may authorize a joint arrest with state and local authorities, United States Marshal's Service (USMS), or other federal law enforcement agencies. In circumstances of joint arrests, the SAC remains responsible to ensure that there is a well-considered arrest plan."

SAs [redacted] participated in the surveillance to locate and arrest [redacted] An arrest plan was not prepared nor did either Agent participate in an arrest briefing before they were involved in the surveillance and arrest of [redacted] b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

Instruction 1: ADIC, New York will ensure joint arrest plans in support of other law enforcement agencies are well-considered in accordance with DIOG Section 19.2.3 and DIOG Section 19.2.4.

Observation 2: Agents did not participate in an arrest operations briefing prior to participating in the arrest of a violent subject.

Analysis 2: DIOG Section 19.2.3 provided policy regarding arrest plans

"When briefing the arrest plan, the briefing Agent should stress to the participants of the operation that any arrest has the potential to become dangerous. Exigent circumstances may necessitate an oral briefing in lieu of a written plan, but the oral briefings must address the five topics required to be included in written plans. The planning and execution of arrests, raids, and searches should be assigned to experienced Agents. All arrest plans must be approved by ASACs or their designees."

SAs [redacted] participated in the surveillance to locate and arrest [redacted] An arrest plan was not prepared nor did either Agent participate in an arrest briefing before they were involved in the surveillance and arrest of [redacted] b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

Instruction 2: ADIC, New York will ensure Agents participate in an operations briefing prior to participating in the arrest of a subject in accordance with DIOG Section 19.2.3.

Observation 3: SA [redacted] NYFO, did not have his handgun immediately accessible during the arrest of [redacted] b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

Analysis 3: The MIOG, Section 12-2.2 provided policy regarding a handgun being secured:

"SAs must be armed at all times when on official duty. Handguns must be secured to the Agent's person in a holster, handbag or waist (fanny/butt) pack. Immediate access to the handgun and its security are paramount. SAs should consult with the PFI concerning the use of holsters other than their Bureau-issued holster."

SA [redacted] had his Glock 27 handgun holstered on his ankle during the arrest of [redacted] An ankle holster did not afford the Agent immediate access to his handgun should a quick-reaction draw been necessary. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

Recommendation 3: ADIC, New York should ensure all personnel wear their pistol in a holster readily accessible during planned activity which can be reasonably expected to culminate in an arrest or when entering a potentially hostile environment where a quick-reaction weapon draw might be necessary.

Synopsis

(U//~~FOUO~~) Report of a shooting incident which occurred on 02/19/2013, involving a fugitive subject Javier Reyes, and the FBI Las Vegas Criminal Apprehension Team (CAT) composed of FBI and Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department (LVMPD) personnel.

Details

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 02/04/2013, the LVMPD requested the assistance of FBI Las Vegas to assist in locating and apprehending fugitive Javier Salomon Reyes, wanted out of Las Vegas for Robbery Enhancement Deadly Weapon, Assault with a Deadly Weapon, and other misdemeanor charges. Reyes had a lengthy criminal history and was known to be armed and dangerous. Based on the request received from LVMPD, FBI Las Vegas opened a 343G investigation to assist with locating Reyes.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 02/07/2013, a joint FBI and LVMPD CAT received information from a CHS regarding a potential location for Reyes. After the CAT received the information, plans were made to arrest Reyes. Reyes utilized an associate as a decoy to draw Law Enforcement (LE) surveillance away from a house where he was located. Reyes then exited the house and fled in the opposite direction of LE. A CAT TFO conducting surveillance observed Reyes leaving and pursued him. The TFO saw Reyes turn a corner as he fled. The TFO used the quick peak technique to check around the corner before proceeding and Reyes was waiting in ambush, holding a handgun just 15 feet from the corner. Reyes successfully eluded LE by entering a home of an elderly couple, confronting them, and then stealing their car.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 02/19/2013, the Las Vegas CAT, comprised of FBI SAs, LVMPD TFOs, and a Henderson PD officer, identified a house where Reyes was believed to be staying. The CAT established surveillance and requested a tactical team, K-9 units and air support. However, before assistance could arrive, Reyes exited the rear of the house and began walking away on a utility easement. As Reyes neared two Agents and a TFO, he began running. The SAs and TFO became separated as they pursued Reyes into a neighborhood. As the search for Reyes continued, FBI SA [redacted] pursued Reyes into a section of backyards through the neighborhood.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] located Reyes in the backyard of [redacted] Las Vegas, NV, standing near a tree and breathing heavily. SA [redacted] proceeded to give Reyes verbal commands to stop; however upon hearing SA [redacted] Reyes started to run again. SA [redacted] believed Reyes ran toward [redacted] and attempted to parallel Reyes' movements from the neighboring yard located at [redacted] While SA [redacted] was in the yard of [redacted] Reyes fired a .40 caliber shot at SA [redacted] from the adjoining backyard of [redacted] At this time, SA [redacted] was unaware the gunshot was directed at him and believed the gunshot resulted from Reyes' interaction with fellow CAT members. Shortly thereafter, Reyes repositioned himself in the backyard of [redacted] and fired four additional shots at SA [redacted] SA [redacted] did not know exactly from where the shots were coming. After SA [redacted] recalled hearing the first shot, a second shot passed by his head and showered debris upon his face from its impact with a nearby house. SA [redacted] turned to face the threat and was immediately shot center mass in his ballistic vest, approximately 4-5 inches below his throat. SA [redacted] turned and retreated from the threat and was hit again in the lower back portion of his ballistic vest, approximately one-quarter inch above the bottom of his vest. This shot removed a section of flesh from his back.

b7C -1,2

(U//~~FOUO~~) The shots towards SA [redacted] stopped for a "reasonable" period of time, so SA [redacted] began to search again for Reyes. As SA [redacted] slowly moved through the backyard of [redacted] he observed Reyes standing on the roof of [redacted] moving back and forth behind an air-conditioning unit. Reyes appeared to be crouched over with his elbows bent along the waist straining his neck to look over the side of the roof, down toward [redacted] SA [redacted] believed Reyes was scanning the area for law enforcement officers to engage, which [redacted] believed posed a threat to the CAT below due to Reyes' tactical advantage from the roof. Knowing Reyes already used deadly force, and Reyes disregarded officers' commands to stop, SA [redacted] fired his weapon at Reyes striking him three times, with Reyes falling down on the third shot. SA [redacted] ceased firing, but provided cover until he saw Reyes was under the control of fellow LE officers. SA [redacted] then sought medical attention. He was treated for his injuries at a local hospital and released.

b6 -1,2

(U//~~FOUO~~) While on the roof, Reyes was restrained by approaching LE personnel. During a search of Reyes, a Smith and Wesson .40 caliber pistol hand gun and an empty magazine in the gun was found in his possession.

(U//~~FOUO~~) During the pursuit, CAT members located a black pistol lying on the ground in one of the areas Reyes previously ran through. Also, found was a baseball cap, believed to be worn by Reyes during the pursuit. The pistol found on the ground was later determined to be a replica toy pistol. This replica toy gun was consistent with information gathered during the investigation which indicated Reyes was known to sometimes carry two guns.

SHOOTING INCIDENT REVIEW PROTOCOL:

(U) All members of the SIRT reviewed the Inspection Division Shooting Review Protocol.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 02/19/2013, IIC Ravenelle spoke with Las Vegas A/SAC [redacted] to arrange logistics prior to arriving in Las Vegas. On 02/20/2013, the SIRT traveled to Las Vegas. Upon arriving, IIC Ravenelle and the SIRT members met with Las Vegas EM and SSA personnel before traveling to the shooting scene which occurred in the [redacted] block between [redacted] Las Vegas, Nevada. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 02/20/2013, IIC Ravenelle met with the involved FBI SA, TFO, and management personnel to explain the review process and protocols.

> " My supervisor has ordered me to submit this statement. I give this statement at his order, as a condition of my employment because I have no alternative but to give this statement or face discipline or termination. I am giving this information based on the understanding that this statement, and any information derived from this statement, cannot be used against me in a criminal proceeding. I hereby reserve my right to remain silent under the U.S. Constitution and any other rights prescribed by law. I rely specifically upon the protection afforded me under the doctrine set forth in Garrity v. New Jersey, 385 U.S. 493 (1967) should this statement be used for any other purpose."

(U) An FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident) was executed by all FBI personnel interviewed.

(U) On 02/23/2013, IIC Ravenelle conducted an out brief with SA [redacted] and explained the ensuing steps of the SIRT process. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U) On 02/25/2013, IIC Ravenelle met with Clark County District Attorney (DA) Steven Wolfson and Clark County Assistant DA [redacted] to brief them on the details of the shooting incident.

(U) On 02/25/2013, an exit brief was provided by IIC Ravenelle to A/SAC [redacted] IIC Ravenelle also conducted an out brief with SA [redacted] and explained the ensuing steps of the SIRT process.

USE OF BODY ARMOR AND LAW ENFORCEMENT IDENTIFIERS:

(U//~~FOUO~~) All SA and TFO personnel involved in the operation wore ballistic body armor. FBI or law enforcement identifiers were worn, and personnel verbally identified themselves to the subject prior to engaging subject in the shooting.

CRIMINAL HISTORY:

(U//~~FOUO~~) FBI SA [redacted] conducted an immigration records check for Reyes which determined he was a Nicaraguan national previously removed from the U.S. by Immigration and Customs Enforcement on 10/25/2007, for an Aggravated Felony charge. Additionally, a National Crime Information Center (NCIC) warrant and arrest record check was run on Javier Reyes, born 10/21/1980, which indicated the following active arrest warrants as the time of the incident: b6 -1 b7C -1

Robbery with a Deadly Weapon
Felony Assault with a Deadly Weapon
Felony Domestic Battery by Strangulation
Misdemeanor Battery Domestic Violence 2nd
Misdemeanor Battery
Misdemeanor Battery 1st
Misdemeanor Domestic Battery 1st

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 02/23/2013, an additional NCIC arrest warrant and records check for Javier Reyes, born 10/21/1980, was conducted, and determined the arrest warrants for Reyes had been administratively cleared when Reyes was taken in to custody and transported to the hospital on 02/19/2013.

LABORATORY DIVISION REPORTS:

(U//~~FOUO~~) The scene of the shooting was secured and processed by LV ERT, LA ERT, and the Laboratory Shooting Reconstruction Team to include use of total station.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recovered evidence items requiring laboratory testing were as follows:

Firearms/Toolmarks Testing

1B4 - Smith & Wesson .40 caliber hand gun S/N: PBR0543
1B5 - Magazine from a Smith & Wesson .40 caliber hand gun

1B16 - Ballistic vest green in color

Latent Fingerprint Testing

1B6 - Replica toy pistol black in color

DNA Testing

1B7 - Royal blue baseball cap with a white size 7 ¼

(U//~~FOUO~~) Additionally, the Laboratory Division, Firearms-Toolmarks Unit was requested to generate a shooting incident reconstruction report. The Operational Projects Unit was requested to prepare supporting demonstrative imagery and graphics of the scene.

MEDICAL REPORT:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 02/19/2013, SA [redacted] arrived at the [redacted] Medical Center [redacted] to receive treatment from an injury he sustained in an Agent-involved shooting incident. SA [redacted] was examined after being shot in the upper chest, and lower back area of the ballistic vest he was wearing while pursuing Javier Reyes. Examination determined SA [redacted] sustained a small shallow soft tissue injury to his chest, and a "thoracolumbar" deep muscle abrasive wound with apparent burns to the left side of his lower back. SA [redacted] was treated and released from the hospital the same day.

Subject : Javier Reyes

(U//~~FOUO~~) FBI SA [redacted] responded to the UMC Trauma Center/Intensive Care Unit (ICU) at 1800 West Charleston Boulevard, Las Vegas, Nevada, to transfer custody of the body of Javier Reyes, born 10/21/1980, to the Clark County Coroner's Office. Reyes died of injuries sustained during an Agent-involved shooting incident on 02/19/2013. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 02/19/2013, at approximately 11:45 p.m., SA [redacted] was notified by SSA [redacted] that Reyes had been pronounced dead at the hospital. At approximately 1:05 a.m., on 02/20/2013, SA [redacted] spoke to Coroner Investigator [redacted] and arranged to meet her at the hospital.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] arrived at the hospital at approximately 1:27 a.m., and found Reyes' body in Room #810 in the UMC Trauma ICU. Reyes' body was being guarded by a LVMPD Corrections Officer at that time. Indicators of medical/surgical intervention were evident in the room and on the hospital bed. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Investigator [redacted] and LVMPD Crime Scene Analyst Supervisor (CSA) [redacted] arrived at Room 810 at approximately 1:45 a.m. Investigator [redacted] began her external examination of Reyes' body. This process was photographed by CSA [redacted] At approximately 2:10 a.m., personnel from Valley Mortuary arrived to transport Reyes' body from the hospital to the Clark County Coroner's Office. Reyes' body was wrapped in a new sheet and placed in a new body bag which was sealed with Coroner's seal number 049476.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Investigator [redacted] noted that the hospital's medical records revealed Reyes was pronounced dead at 10:27 p.m., on 02/19/2013, by Doctor [redacted]. Per UMC medical record #0030002274, he suffered a liver laceration, T11 fracture, right arm fracture and was status post exploratory laparotomy, ligation right hepatic artery, right thoracotomy and resection of his right lower lobe. Medical history prior to this event was unknown. Investigator [redacted] indicated the associated Coroner's Office case number was 13-1808. b6 -2,4 b7C -2,4

CIVIL RIGHTS DIVISION:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 02/24/2013, IIC Ravenelle contacted [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, DOJ and briefed him on the shooting incident. On 02/25/2013, Mr. [redacted] E-mailed IIC Ravenelle to document the receipt of the E-mail and inquire as to the name of the local AUSA with whom he needed to coordinate. b6 -3 b7C -3

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 04/22/2014, Mr. [redacted] was provided a copy of the Clark County DA's final shooting report.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/06/2014, Inspector Shawn W. Stroud received an E-mail from Mr. [redacted] to document the prosecutorial opinion for the Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division. In this E-mail, Mr. [redacted] noted "A federal criminal civil rights investigation of the shooting and its aftermath is not warranted."

LOCAL PROSECUTIVE OPINION:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 02/25/2013, IIC Ravenelle met with Clark County DA Steven Wolfson and Clark County Assistant DA (ADA) [redacted] to brief them on the details of the shooting incident. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 04/22/2014, ADA [redacted] provided the DA's final shooting report to INSD. The DA's report concluded the actions of SA [redacted] were reasonable and legally justified.

INSPECTOR'S OBSERVATIONS:

(U//~~FOUO~~) The SIRT did not identify any issues or observations.

Weapon. Reyes had a lengthy criminal history and was known to be armed and dangerous.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 02/19/2013, the Las Vegas Criminal Apprehension Team (CAT), comprised of FBI SAs, LVMPD TFOs, and a Henderson PD officer, identified a house where Reyes was believed to be staying. The CAT established surveillance and requested K-9 units and air support. However, before assistance could arrive, Reyes exited the rear of the house and began walking away on a utility easement. As Reyes neared two Agents and a TFO, he began running. The SAs and TFO became separated as they pursued Reyes into a neighborhood. As the search for Reyes continued, FBI SA [redacted] pursued Reyes into a section of backyards through the neighborhood. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] followed Reyes through various backyards and over cinder block walls that defined each property line. After crossing through six backyards, SA [redacted] observed Reyes standing near a tree, breathing heavily. He gave verbal commands to initiate an arrest, but Reyes immediately ran south between two houses and toward the street. SA [redacted] attempted to parallel Reyes' movements from the neighboring yard, but before SA [redacted] could exit the backyard, Reyes apparently turned and fired a .40 caliber bullet at SA [redacted] from the adjoining yard. The bullet struck the top most cinder block of the wall separating the two yards. SA [redacted] believed the gunshot resulted from Reyes' interaction with fellow CAT members and did not realize he had been targeted. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Reyes quickly moved to another yard, behind the yard where SA [redacted] was standing, and fired four shots at SA [redacted] Reyes' first shot passed by SA [redacted] head, impacted a house, and showered debris from the house onto [redacted] face. SA [redacted] quickly realized the shot came from behind and turned to address the threat. SA [redacted] was immediately shot in the center of his ballistic vest, approximately 4" below the top of the vest. The bullet lodged in his vest. SA [redacted] turned and retreated from the threat, but was hit near the bottom center of his ballistic vest, approximately b6 -1 b7C -1

one-quarter inch from the bottom of the vest. This bullet lodged in the vest; however, the bullet's impact with the vest caused a section of flesh to be removed from SA [redacted] back. An additional .40 caliber shell casing was recovered, but the bullet could not be located, despite extensive searching. SA [redacted] never saw Reyes shoot at him, so he did not return fire. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] stated when the shooting stopped for a "reasonable" period of time, he began to search again for Reyes. SA [redacted] observed Reyes standing on the roof of a house which was two properties away from his location. Reyes was behind a roof air-conditioning unit and was straining his neck to look over the side of the roof. SA [redacted] believed Reyes was scanning the area for law enforcement officers to engage. SA [redacted] believed Reyes posed a threat to CAT members below due to Reyes' position of tactical advantage, so SA [redacted] fired three shots at Reyes and struck him in the right shoulder, forearm, and chest. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Subsequently, SA [redacted] provided cover from his location until Reyes was under the control of law enforcement. An empty Smith and Wesson .40 caliber pistol was found in Reyes' possession. Reyes was transported by emergency medical services to a local hospital where he later succumbed to his wounds.

SIRG Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/21/2014, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by SA [redacted] on 02/19/2013 was in compliance with the Department of Justice's Deadly Force Policy. b6 -1 b7C -1

2. Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective action from an operational standpoint. The SIRG made no recommendations or

REPORT ON USE OF FORCE

Legal Analysis Surrounding the Death of Javier Reyes on February 19, 2013

Introduction

On February 19, 2013, the Las Vegas Criminal Apprehension Team (CAT), comprised of FBI Special Agents (SAs), Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department Task Force Officers (TFOs), and a Henderson Police Department officer, identified a house where Javier Reyes (Decedent), a felon known to be in possession of firearms, could be living.

After surveillance was in place, officers requested a tactical team, K-9 Units, and air support. Before that assistance was in place, Decedent exited the residence and began running from officers.

CAT team officers followed Decedent on foot. SA I[1] pursued Decedent through a series of residential backyards. When SA I got within 15 feet of Decedent, he instructed Decedent to stop and show SA I his hands. Instead of complying, Decedent fled. SA I attempted to parallel the route of Decedent. Before SA I could exit a neighboring yard, Decedent shot at SA I from an adjoining yard. Decedent fired at least three shots at SA I—one bullet passing by his head, two hitting him in the chest and back.

Initially, SA I could not tell the location from which Decedent was shooting. SA I took cover and observed Decedent on a roof of a residence. Decedent was looking down from over the roof. Believing that Decedent was looking for other officers to harm, SA I fired at Decedent, striking him three times. After the third shot, Decedent fell. SA I ceased firing and was transported for medical treatment.

The District Attorney's Office has completed its review of the February 19, 2013, death of Decedent. It was determined that, based on the evidence currently available and subject to the discovery of any new or additional evidence, the actions of the Special Agent were not criminal in nature. This review was based on all of the evidence currently available.

This report explains why criminal charges will not be forthcoming against the Special Agent involved. It is not intended to recount every detail, answer every question or resolve every factual conflict regarding this law enforcement encounter. This report is intended solely for the purpose of explaining why, based upon the facts known at this time, the conduct of the Special Agent was not criminal.

This decision, premised upon criminal-law standards, is not meant to limit any administrative action or to suggest the existence or non-existence of civil actions by any person where less stringent laws and burdens of proof apply.

A Police Fatality Public Fact-finding Review was not conducted in this case. Clark County Code 2.14 mandates such a review when a police-involved death occurs, and the prosecutor preliminarily determines that no criminal prosecution of the officer is appropriate. The definition of "officer" is limited by NRS Chapter 289 to state and local law enforcement personnel. In the instant case, SA I was acting in his capacity as a federal law enforcement agent; therefore, he was not an "officer" for purposes of Clark County Code 2.14.

The Events at Alpaca Circle and Starridge Lane, Las Vegas, Nevada, on February 19, 2013

Task Force Officer A

TFO A has been a Metro police officer since 2003. In November or December of 2012, a LVMPD Public Information Official asked TFO A if he could post her contact information for any tips regarding the whereabouts of Decedent. TFO A agreed, but ultimately no usable information came from that effort.

TFO A investigated Decedent's background. She learned that Decedent was involved in a home invasion at the residence of his ex-girlfriend. He got into a fight with two males present in the residence at the time. During the fight, Decedent retrieved a knife and cut the shirt off a female in the residence. He also pointed a gun at the sister of his ex-girlfriend. TFO A interviewed the ex-girlfriend's sister. The sister related another incident where Decedent got into a fight with her father, pulled out a handgun and discharged a round into the ground. This was not reported to police.

On February 7, 2013, TFO A received a call from a confidential source reporting that Decedent was inside an apartment in the Las Vegas area and would be departing shortly. TFO A contacted Repeat Offender Program teams, K9 units, and an air unit and asked them to respond to the apartment until she and her team could arrive. Approximately 15 minutes after her arrival, a subject in dark clothing ran from the apartment and toward a vehicle.

TFO F observed a person believed to be Decedent moving away from police. TFO A determined a subject in dark clothing who ran toward a vehicle was not the target, Decedent, and directed officers to the area of TFO F. TFO F got into a foot chase with Decedent, but lost sight of him. TFO A later learned Decedent scaled a second floor balcony, entered an apartment and held the elderly occupants hostage, while holding a pistol in each hand. He took their keys and drove their car out of their garage through the police perimeter undetected. After Decedent departed, the residents called 911.

The air unit observed the stolen vehicle and alerted the ground team. TFO A located the vehicle. TFO A engaged in a vehicle pursuit where Decedent was driving in excess of 100 mph. He escaped.

TFO A conducted additional investigation and learned of a possible location for Decedent at 1272 Pleasant Brooks Street.

On February 19, 2013, the CAT team targeted Decedent. TFO A conducted the in-person briefing for officers. She emphasized his likely possession of firearms. Officers then attempted to locate Decedent.

When TFO A exited her vehicle in a parking lot near the location of the incident, she heard a CAT team member radio that an individual resembling Decedent had gone over a wall and was walking southbound.

TFO A drove to Eastbrook Drive where she saw SA II, SA I, and TFO F. They waived her away, indicating the area was covered, so she proceeded to South Christy Lane. TFO A heard radio traffic advising that Decedent was seen running south. TFO A drove south, trying to parallel the foot chase. She heard, "[h]e's on the roof!" and "[e]astbound" over the radio.

TFO A parked on Starridge Way. She heard a male commanding, "[l]et me see your hands!" and "[g]et on the ground!" Immediately after, she heard one or two gunshots from between the houses and a yell. She and other officers moved toward the sound of the gunshots. As she proceeded, she saw Decedent on a roof while officers shouted commands at him. She saw Decedent roll from one side of the roof to another, where more commands were issued. She then heard gunshots and saw Decedent drop down to the roof.

TFO F began yelling for information on SA I, who was unaccounted for, and TFO A, TFO D, and SA II began running down Eastwick Circle looking for him. They found him walking out from between two houses. SA I advised them that he had been shot and needed to go to the hospital.

TFO A ran to her vehicle. SA I walked up to the vehicle and TFO A and TFO D loaded him into the vehicle and transported him to the hospital. En route, SA I stated, "I shot him. I hit him."

Special Agent I

SA I is assigned to the Criminal Apprehension Team (CAT). He became aware of the investigation involving Decedent in mid-January 2013.

It was his understanding that TFO A was looking for Decedent as he was wanted for robbery. On February 7, 2013, TFO A told SA I that she received confidential information regarding a potential location of Decedent. SA I was not part of the operation, but he learned that CAT team members went to that location to apprehend Decedent. During that encounter, Decedent pointed a weapon at TFO F, but no shots were fired by either the CAT team or Decedent.

On February 16, 2013, SA III updated SA I on the search for Decedent. On February 19, 2013, the CAT team had a potential location for Decedent and the officers made plans to attempt to locate him.

SA I arrived at the staging area for the operation at 1:30 p.m. The location was near Sahara and Nellis. TFO A briefed other officers. She discussed Decedent's propensity for violence, history of running from law enforcement, and that he was known to carry two guns. At the time, Decedent had pending charges for robbery, narcotics offenses, domestic violence, home invasion and robbery with a weapon.

As is customary, TFO A reviewed the deadly force policy with officers. SA I reviewed FBI deadly force policy as well.

The objective of the operation was to confirm the location of Decedent. The confirmation would later be used in a search warrant to be executed by a tactical team. TFO A advised that K-9 and air units would be en route. Other Metro officers had established a perimeter.

Supervisors assigned SA I to identify the residence and conduct perimeter support. Due to safety concerns, SA I understood that the surveillance team would pursue Decedent if he fled.

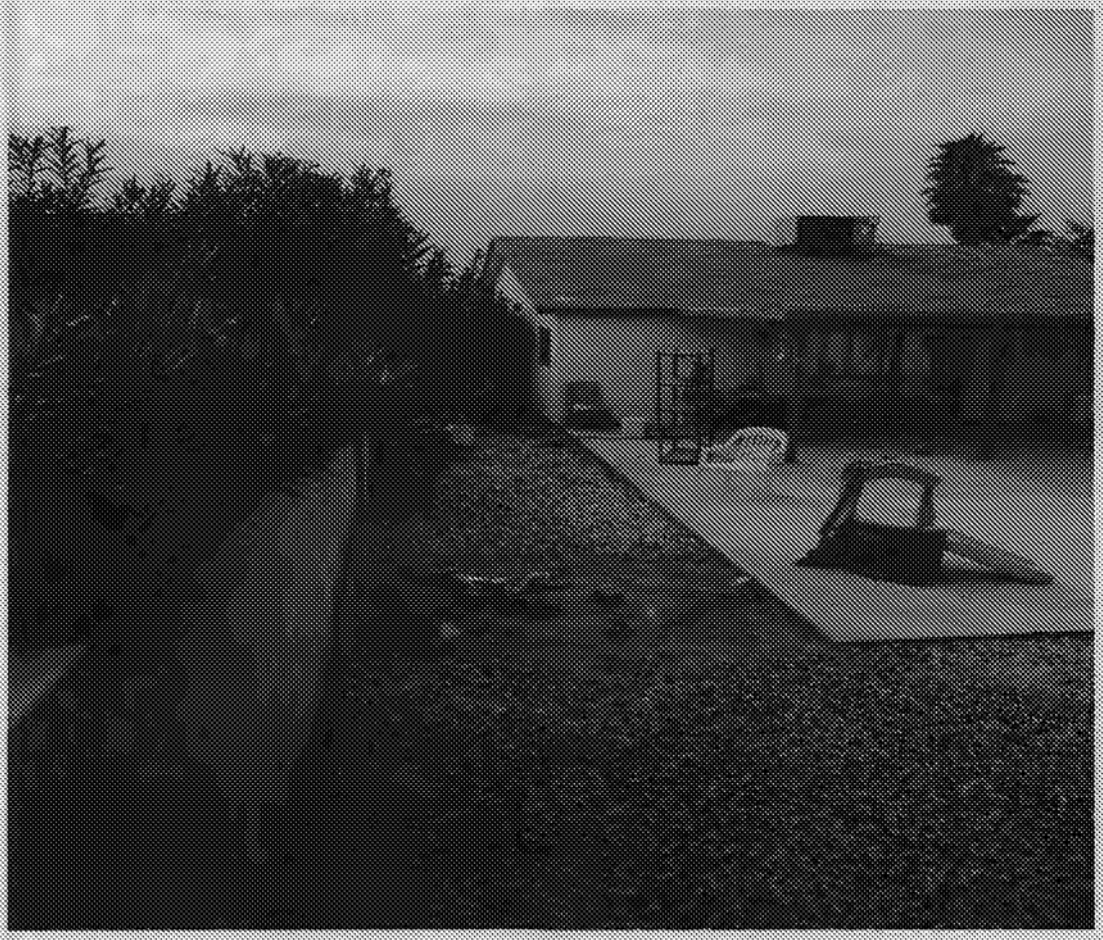
SA I put on a protective vest with word POLICE printed on the front. He carried his SWAT-issued, .45 caliber Springfield 1911 handgun. The magazine held 8 rounds and the weapon had one round in the chamber. SA I wore a maintenance shirt over the top of the vest to conduct covert surveillance.

After leaving the staging area, SA I received a description of Decedent's clothing. SA I was with SA II. Once at his assigned location, SA I saw Decedent. Decedent looked directly at SAs I and II. Decedent immediately fled with his hands going into his waistband. SA I and SA II pursued.

The agents followed Decedent along an easement and into a cul-de-sac. SA I saw SA II draw his weapon. SA I did not have his weapon drawn at that point. SA II issued verbal commands to Decedent, which Decedent ignored.

As the agents pursued Decedent, SA I lost sight of SA II. Eventually, SA I made visual contact with Decedent along the roofline of a house, 5415 Alpaca Circle. SA I was on the east side of the house and Decedent was on the roof. With his weapon drawn, SA I instructed Decedent, "[p]olice! Stop! Show me your hands!" Decedent did not comply. Decedent jumped from a high roof to a lower patio roof and over a wall. SA I lost sight of him. SA I radioed other officers that Decedent was headed east.

SA I continued looking for Decedent. He jumped into the backyard of a house southeast of 5433 Alpaca Circle and approached a cinderblock wall. He saw Decedent near a tree in the backyard of a house. Decedent appeared out of breath.



SA I was 10 to 15 yards from Decedent and issued commands. Decedent again ignored the commands and ran along a wall on the east side of 5438 Eastwick. SA I radioed, "[s]outh." SA I described the ensuing encounter as follows:

> I moved south from this location in an attempt to exit the rear yard. At this point, I heard a gunshot (shot 1), which was extremely loud. When I heard this gunshot, I was approximately midway along the length of the side wall in the rear yard of 5438 Eastwick Circle. I believed officers were engaging Reyes along Eastwick, so I turned my attention south in that yard in an attempt to assist my fellow CAT team members. I then felt a second shot (shot 2) near and past my head and felt particles hitting the left side of my face.

The second shot (shot 2) seemed to come from the north and I turned to engage. As I faced north, I was struck by a gunshot (shot 3) in the front center of my ballistic vest. I immediately turned and moved to the far southeast corner of the rear yard, away from the direction of the gunfire. As I faced south, I was struck by a gunshot (shot 4) in my back.

I could not exit the yard due to a wall and a very large and overgrown oleander tree, blocking the narrow space between the two houses. I assumed a low profile tactical position in the southeast corner of the rear yard and scanned the area in an attempt to relocate Reyes. I reached around and felt blood on my back.

After the gunshots ceased, I slowly and methodically proceeded north, while attempting to maintain cover behind the wall. I spotted Reyes standing on the roof of a home, which I later learned was at the intersection of Alpaca Circle and Starridge Way. Reyes was standing and moving back and forth behind the air conditioning unit with his elbows bent and hands along his waistband. Reyes was craning his neck to look over the side of the roof down to the street.

I believed Reyes was scanning for officers on the ground to shoot. I knew Reyes had shot at me three times and was highly willing to use deadly force against law enforcement officers. I was also aware of Reyes' recent history of violence, his continued disregard of officers' commands, and other CAT members were well within Reyes' shooting range at the time. Reyes posed an imminent threat of death or serious bodily injury to my fellow CAT team members.

I took a stable firing position, utilizing the top of the cinderblock wall to support my hand and stabilize my weapon. I also used the bushes as concealment. Due to my prior tactical training, I knew I could shoot through the bushes and I fired at Reyes. I could tell by Reyes' movements the shot hit him; however, Reyes remained on his feet and still moving. As he continued to pose a threat, I fired two more shots at Reyes. I could tell by Reyes' movements the shots hit him. After the third shot, Reyes went to his knees and then down on his back.

At this point, I concluded that Reyes was no longer an imminent threat. I maintained cover with my weapon on Reyes until I saw [TFO G] take control of Reyes on the roof. At that point, I believed there was no longer a threat from Reyes. I called over the radio I was shot, and sought medical help.

SA I saw TFO D on Eastwick and told him he had been shot. TFO D took SA I's arm and quickly moved from Eastwick to Starridge. SA I removed his vest to check for wounds. TFO D noticed a bullet hole in SA I's back. SA I relinquished his radio and weapon to TFO D.

TFO A drove TFO D and SA I to UMC hospital. UMC released SA I later that evening.

Special Agent II

On February 19, 2013, SA II and SA I set up for surveillance on Eastbrook Drive.

Over the radio, a TFO announced that he saw a male coming out of the target location and described his clothing. SAs II and I got out of their vehicle. SA I wore a maintenance shirt over his ballistic vest and pretended to work on the vehicle. SA II took a position across the street from SA I.

After Decedent walked past their location, he started running. SAs II and I commanded Decedent to stop. He did not comply and appeared to be reaching for a weapon in his waistband. SA II drew his weapon.

Initially, SA II had a shirt over his ballistic vest, but once the foot pursuit began, SA II took off the shirt to reveal his vest with POLICE written on it.

SA II saw Decedent climb over a wall between houses. SA II holstered his weapon and climbed the wall and drew his weapon again. At this point, SAs II and I were side by side walking on top of concrete walls. Decedent was ahead of them, scaling walls. SA II lost sight of Decedent and re-holstered his weapon.

SA II came upon a shed and thought Decedent may be hiding in it. SA II cleared the shed, but lost sight of Decedent and SA I. He could hear SA I issuing commands to Decedent.

By radio communication, SA II ascertained that Decedent and SA I were traveling eastbound. In order to meet up with them, SA II got inside another agent's vehicle and was driven to Starridge Way. Other agents were present, but he did not see SA I. SA II asked, "[w]here is [SA I]?"

SA II jumped on a residential wall and did not see anyone. He heard one shot and then two to four shots. SA II was concerned a team member had been shot. He could not assess the location of the shots because the area echoed. SA II began yelling for SA I and eventually saw Decedent on the roof of a house. SA II then heard three shots and saw Decedent fall to the ground.

SA II then overheard that a CAT team member had been shot.

Special Agent III

SA III was at the scene. Once another officer announced over the radio that he had seen Decedent, SA III drove from his surveillance location to Eastbrook Drive and then to Alpaca Circle where he picked up SA II who was running east.

SA III exited his vehicle with SA II. He heard four to six possible gun shots and saw Decedent jump onto the roof of the residence at the corner of Alpaca Circle and Starridge Way. SA III saw Decedent move to south of the roof and heard him yell, "[f]uck you pigs!" and other expletives. SA III heard another three possible gunshots, heard Decedent yell, "[f]uck!" and saw him fall to the ground.

Some team members responded to the roof to apprehend Decedent. SA III and TFO D went to Eastwick Circle where they encountered SA I who explained he had been shot.

SA III remained at the scene after SA I was transported to the hospital.

Task Force Officer B

TFO B is detective with the Henderson Police Department. TFO B was part of the surveillance team.

He heard the radio call indicating another member had seen Decedent. TFO B got out of his vehicle and attempted to block Decedent into an area. Decedent ran from the area. TFO B saw two law enforcement officers chasing him. TFO B chased as well.

He met up with other team members and saw SA II standing on a wall. TFO B went in that direction and both he and SA II jumped over walls in an effort to follow Decedent. In the path, TFO B saw a blue baseball cap and the receiver of a Glock handgun on the ground. He did not stop to pick up these items.

Eventually, TFO B ended up on Alpaca Circle. He heard multiple gunshots. TFO B took a tactical position behind a pillar. He saw a head on the other side of the wall. TFO B moved locations and the individual came over the wall and was 15 feet from TFO B. TFO B pointed his weapon and commanded, "[g]ive me your hands!" The individual did not respond, but, because he did not see the person's face, TFO B did not shoot as he was concerned the person may be a fellow law enforcement officer. The individual then climbed a wall and TFO B saw a silver object in his hand, but then lost sight of him.

Next, TFO B saw the individual on the roof of 5441 Alpaca. TFO B lost sight of the individual when he moved to the south side of the roof of 5441 Alpaca. TFO B heard SA I call, "[m]edical, medical!" over the radio. TFO B next heard someone call out, "[s]uspect down."

Task Force Officer C

TFO C was involved with the investigation involving Decedent on February 7, 2013.

On February 19, 2013, TFO C's responsibilities were logistics and placement of CAT members at various locations.

TFO C heard over the radio that another team member had seen Decedent. TFO C then heard a team member say, "[h]e's running southbound." TFO C proceeded southbound. While en route, TFO C heard SA I announce "[e]astbound" over the radio. From SA I's breathing, TFO C believed he was running. TFO C then heard SA I say, "[s]hots fired!" followed by a keying of the radio with no voice and then SA I saying, "I'm hit!" TFO C radioed back to SA I, "[w]here are you?" SA I responded, "[i]n a backyard," but SA I was unclear as to which backyard.

TFO C then proceeded on Eastbrook Drive. Over the radio, he heard, "[h]e's up on a roof." Once it appeared Decedent was confined on a roof, TFO C went looking for SA I. Next, he heard TFO D radio, "[w]e have [SA I] and WF8. Will transport."

Task Force Officer D

TFO D was involved in contact with Decedent on February 7, 2013. During that incident, TFO D saw Decedent and drew his weapon on him. Decedent looked at TFO D and clutched his waistband area and ran. TFO D lost sight of Decedent.

TFO D was involved on February 19, 2013, as well. He was at the corner of Eastwick and Starridge when he heard, "[l]et me see your hands." About five seconds later, he saw the oleander shrubs moving and he called out, "[p]lants moving." Thereafter, he heard one shot, a short pause, and then two to three more shots, all of which sounded familiar.

At that point, multiple people were using the radio causing interference. TFO D saw Decedent on the roof moving around. He was yelling expletives at law enforcement officers and walking from side to side. TFO D heard a shot and saw Decedent stumble, but stay upright. TFO D heard two more shots and Decedent fell to his back.

TFO D saw SA I emerge from between two houses clutching his chest, saying he had been hit. SA I said he needed to get to a hospital. TFO D removed SA I's vest and saw blood on his back, three or four inches above the beltline to the left of the spine. TFO D did not think the wound looked like a normal bullet wound because the edges were jagged. He thought it was possibly an exit wound. TFO D checked SA I for other injuries.

SA I said he had none, but he took a round to the chest which was stopped by his vest. He said his back burned.

Upon arrival to UMC, TFO D took SA I's duty weapon and magazines which he later gave to the FBI SWAT Team Leader.

Task Force Officer E

TFO E was aware of the contact with Decedent on February 7, 2013, but did not participate in the operation.

On February 19, 2013, TFO E was in a surveillance position on Charleston Boulevard. He did not hear the shots fired by Decedent, but he did hear "[n]eed medical" and "I'm hit" and believed it to be SA I's voice.

Task Force Officer F

TFO F was involved in the attempt to apprehend Decedent on February 7, 2013. During that incident, while TFO F pursued Decedent, he lost sight of him. He came upon a corner and, as he cleared it, he observed Decedent pointing a weapon at him. TFO F retreated and lost visual contact.

On February 19, 2013, TFO F heard radio broadcast that a team member had seen Decedent and the direction in which he was moving. He and SAs II and SA I were advised that they had approximately 30 seconds before Decedent would reach them. Once Decedent ran to their area, SA II told Decedent, "[c]ome here." Decedent fled south.

SAs I and II pursued on foot, over a fence. TFO F drove his vehicle south to intercept. TFO F heard yelling, "[l]et me see your hands" and observed people coming out of their homes. He instructed civilians to get inside.

TFO F saw SA I briefly between two houses and SA I said, "[s]till east." TFO F said, "[h]ow far?" and SA I responded, "[g]o east."

TFO F ran down Alpaca Circle to see if he could locate Decedent. He went back to his vehicle and drove with his car door propped open. He heard a gunshot. He retrieved his rifle and heard a second gunshot. He joined the group of officers moving toward the sound of gunfire. TFO F heard numerous gunshots.

TFO F saw officers on the corner of Alpaca Circle and Starridge Way. He heard yelling. He walked around the residence until he had a visual on Decedent. He saw him on a roof, crouched down. TFO F issued commands to Decedent to show his hands. TFOs G and H moved toward Decedent. TFO F believed the scene was contained and focused on finding SA I. He encountered other officers who reported that SA I had been transported.

Task Force Officer G

Decedent came to the attention of TFO G in November 2012. TFO G received information that Decedent had committed robberies and car jackings and was wanted for domestic violence. LVMPD also received information that Decedent said he would kill a police officer if necessary.

On February 7, 2013, while working the Christopher Dorner-Los Angeles matter, TFO G was informed about a possible location of Decedent. TFO G could not leave Dorner's Las Vegas residence as a search warrant was about to be served. He was later informed of the encounter with Decedent.

On February 19, 2013, TFO G was assigned to start surveillance in a church parking lot. TFO G eventually radioed seeing an individual scaling a wall behind the target residence. TFO soon lost visual contact but he relayed the activity. The target apparently saw officers and ran south. TFO G called out the activity, rammed his truck through the gate of an easement and drove. He saw Decedent jump a wall and head east. TFO G exited his truck and drew his gun on Decedent, giving Decedent commands. Decedent backed up saying, "[d]on't kill me." TFO G heard other officers issuing commands. Decedent continued backing up and suddenly dove onto the other side of the roof, out of view of TFO G.

TFO G holstered his handgun and retrieved his shotgun from his truck. TFO G saw SA I pursuing Decedent. TFO G ran east on Eastwick and encountered other officers yelling that Decedent had started running in the opposite direction. TFO G ran back and saw Decedent in the backyard of a residence. TFO G saw Decedent pull a gun from his waistband. TFO G yelled, "[g]un!" three or four times and ran west. He tried to access a backyard, but got stuck in oleander bushes. While trying to get through, he heard three to four shots, but the location of the shooting was unknown. TFO G looked into backyards, but saw nothing.

TFO G ran back onto Eastwick and to Starridge. At that location, he saw law enforcement officers commanding Decedent. TFO G heard Decedent yell, "[f]uck you cops" from a roof. TFO G continued toward Alpaca when he heard two shots. He heard Decedent say, "[a]w fuck," and saw him drop down.

TFO G climbed the roof to Decedent's location with other officers. When they approached Decedent, he said, "[f]uck you." TFO G grabbed Decedent's right hand to handcuff him. Decedent resisted and another officer struck him in the back until he stopped resisting.

TFO H frisked Decedent and found a gun magazine on Decedent's right side and a handgun in Decedent's front waistband. The handgun was a semi-automatic.

TFO G heard other officers ask, "[w]here's [SA I]?" A few moments later, TFO G saw SA I walking toward Starridge.

Minutes later, paramedics arrived for Decedent. TFO G saw a bullet hole on Decedent's torso on the right side.

Task Force Officer H

On February 19, after hearing TFO G announce seeing Decedent, TFO H saw him walking south. Hearing radio traffic of a foot pursuit, TFO H drove his vehicle to Alpaca Circle and Starridge Way. He heard six to seven possible gunshots.

Fifteen seconds after hearing possible gunshots, TFO H saw Decedent jump onto a roof of a residence on Alpaca Circle. TFO H and other officers yelled to Decedent to stop moving and get to the ground. Decedent told them to, "[f]uck off," among other expletives. TFO H heard another three possible gunshots, heard Decedent grunt, and saw him fall. TFO H and other officers responded to the roof.

Decedent resisted being handcuffed. TFO H struck Decedent and kneed him to free his left hand. TFO H searched Decedent and pulled a gun with a black receiver and sliver slide from Decedent's waistband—as well as a wallet, cash, pills, gloves, and a green leafy substance.

Medical personnel arrived to treat Decedent and remove him from the area.

OTHER OFFICERS AT THE SCENE

Officer I

LVMPD Officer I was present at scene, heard gunshots and a radio request for medical assistance, but did not see either shooting.

Officer J

LVMPD Officer J was taking an auto burglary report on East Charleston when he heard over the radio that a fugitive was running through the nearby golf course. Officer J, who was in full uniform, drove to the location. The radio reported "[s]hots fired!" Officer J got out of his vehicle and saw Decedent running on the roof of a residence. Officer J saw TFO G with a shotgun. Officer J drew his weapon and pointed it at the subject on the roof, commanding Decedent to "[g]et down! Get down on your stomach!"

Someone advised that they should not shoot over rooftops and Decedent ran again. Officer J was on the east side of a house when he heard three gunshots. He saw Decedent sit, and then go to his back.

With TFO G, Officer J and other officers climbed the fence, wall, and up onto the roof. Officer J took possession of Decedent's money, marijuana, and a pink substance in a plastic bag. Decedent's gun was not taken by Officer J.

Officer J heard Decedent say he was thirsty, but nothing else. Officer J put Decedent's property into a rubber glove by Decedent's gun. Officer J saw the fire department transport Decedent.

Officer K

LVMPD Officer K is assigned to the Repeat Offender Program. On February 19, he was assigned to surveillance. When he arrived at the incident location, he heard reports via radio indicating the subject was fleeing the area. Officer K drove to Alpaca based on radio information. He heard two to three gunshots from two different guns. The radio requested medical. When Officer K arrived, he saw a subject face down on the roof and officers with their weapons drawn.

Officer L

LVMPD Officer L also is assigned to the Repeat Offender Program. When he arrived at the incident location, he heard over the radio that the subject was running toward Alpaca Circle. Officer L proceeded to that location and exited his vehicle. He heard three to four gunshots, possibly from two different guns. Another officer pointed to a house. Officer L proceeded to that location and saw TFO G on the roof with Decedent handcuffed.

Sergeant M

LVMPD Sgt. M met TFO A on February 19, 2013, to be briefed. Sergeant M heard via radio that the subject had gone over a wall and was heading east. He then heard four to five gunshots. The radio still indicated that the subject was fleeing eastbound. Sergeant M heard five to six gunshots. Sergeant M could see officers on a roof giving commands to a subject. He saw the subject collapse and officers go to the roof to apprehend the subject.

Officer N

LVMPD Officer N responded to the incident location and was assigned to an apartment complex north of Charleston. Over the radio, he heard TFO G advise that the subject had jumped over a wall and was in a wash area. Officer N moved his car to the corner of Alpaca Circle and Starridge when he saw Decedent on the roof. Officer N got his shotgun from his vehicle and took a cover position since Decedent had a tactical advance. Officer N heard other officers yell, "[l]et me see your hands." He heard Decedent repeatedly say, "[f]uck you" to the officers. He heard three to six gunshots followed by another three or more shots. Someone called out not to shoot over the roof so Officer N maintained his position. When Decedent came into view, Officer N instructed, "[l]et me see your hands, Metro police." Decedent rolled back to the other side of the roof and Officer N heard two more shots. The next person Officer N saw on the roof was TFO G.

Officer O

LVMPD Officer O was working on February 7, 2013, when officers attempted to arrest Decedent. On February 19, 2013, Officer O was set up on Christy and Starridge. He heard five gunshots in the distance, a break, and then more shots. By the time he moved closer, the subject was in custody.

Officer P

LVMPD Officer P responded to the incident location as directed. Once at the location, he heard over the radio that the subject was fleeing the area and headed toward Eastbrook Drive. Officer P drove to that area. He saw TFOs F and B and SA II on foot. Officer P could hear officers shouting, "[p]olice! Stop!" and "[g]et on the ground." Officer P proceeded to Alpaca Circle. Once there, he heard two shots. He could see Decedent. He heard officers announce to Decedent to get on the ground or they would shoot. He saw Decedent drop to the ground and roll out of sight.

While he was chasing the subject, Officer P saw a possible gun between the block wall and a small shed. A different officer was assigned to keep an eye on the item.

Officer Q

LVMPD Officer Q worked on February 7, 2013, in the effort to apprehend Decedent; thus, Officer Q was aware of Decedent's past actions. On February 19, 2013, Officer Q was in his vehicle when he heard over the radio that a subject was fleeing the area. Officer Q stopped his vehicle in front of the residence where the Decedent was on the roof. He heard officers announce they were the police. He went on the roof with TFO G to handcuff Decedent. While on the roof, Decedent called the officers "motherfuckers" and said, "[s]uck my dick" multiple times. He also said, "I want to die."

FBI AGENTS NOT AT THE SCENE AT THE TIME OF THE INCIDENT

Supervisory Special Agent IV

SSA IV was the Acting Assistant Special Agent in Charge on February 19, 2013, because the Assistant Special Agent in Charge was on leave at the time. SSA IV reviewed and approved the operation plan.

Before approving the plan, SSA IV spoke to SSA V, who supervises Squad 5 and the Criminal Apprehension Team. SSA IV told SSA V that the plan seemed "kind of skimpy" but, after SSA V explained the usual and customary plans utilized by CAT, SSA IV understood why an abbreviated plan was used.

Later, SSA V informed SSA IV that an agent was involved in a shooting. SSA IV drove to the scene of the incident and notified Acting Special Agent in Charge VI and Acting Special Agent in Charge VII of the situation. SSA IV also called the FBI Las Vegas Chief Division Counsel. SSA IV asked FBI Las Vegas Division Chief Counsel to ensure the FBI Strategic Information and Operations Center was notified. SSA IV was in contact with LVMPD Captain R who was the on-scene commander for Metro.

SSA IV spoke to SA III who informed him that SA I was the officer who fired his weapon.

Because it was an FBI agent who fired, the FBI took over the scene. Metro crime scene analysts assisted in gathering evidence.

Supervisory Special Agent V

SSA V approved some of the investigation done on Decedent prior to the incident. SSA V approved the Operational Plan to locate Decedent. She emailed the plan to SSA IV. Once SSA IV approved the plan, SSA V informed SA III of the approval.

During the operation, SA III briefed SSA V electronically. Just before 3:00 pm, SA III informed SSA V that SA I had been shot, that Decedent had been shot, and that both had been transported to the hospital.

SSA V notified SSA IV and others and went to the hospital. SSA V spoke with SA I.

TFO D told SSA V that he had SA I's gun. SSA V designated a room at the hospital for collection of evidence and the gun was placed there.

PARAMEDICS

The Clark County Fire Department Battalion Three Chief responded to the scene. He went onto the roof with other CCFD members to treat Decedent. He did not recall any conversation.

EMT 1 responded to the scene. He was the first medical responder on the roof. He noted Decedent was awake but refused to answer EMT 1's medical questions. Decedent said, "I hate you people" and "fuck." EMT 1 cut Decedent's sweatshirt and identified two wounds. He loaded Decedent onto a backboard.

EMT 2 responded to the scene and was on the roof as well. During the ride to the hospital, Decedent told EMT 2 to "[f]uck off" several times.

Fire Fighter responded to the roof as well. He did not recall Decedent saying anything.

Firefighter/Paramedic responded to the roof. He noted Decedent was conscious and trying to talk, but he was unsure what he was trying to say.

CIVILIANS

Witnesses 1, 2, and 3 were all in the same residence. Witness 1 is the boyfriend of Witness 3. Witness 2 is the father of Witness 3.

Witness 1

Witness 1 was talking to his mother on the phone when he heard what he thought were firecrackers outside his house. His girlfriend called him to the front door and told him that police officers were in the street. As he approached the door, he heard two to three gunshots. He activated his phone recorder and recorded a man on a roof of a house. He could hear police officers shouting at the man, but could not hear what they said or if the man was shouting back. He then saw officers get on the roof and take the man into custody.

Witness 1 took the video from his phone and downloaded it to a computer, removing the audio of him making comments about the actions of police. He did not want that broadcast online. His opinion was that the use of force by police was excessive. He uploaded the video to YouTube. He also gave a copy of the video to investigators. The video does not depict either shooting.

Witness 2

Witness 2, a male in his sixties, was home when he heard eight to ten gunshots. He walked to the front door of his residence with his daughter and looked out. He saw multiple police officers on the street pointing their guns at a roof. He saw a male standing on a roof. He saw a police officer fire two shots, striking the man on the roof. The second shot caused the man to collapse. Other police climbed the roof to handcuff the man. Witness 2 said there was a struggle to handcuff the man and officers used force on the male.

Witness 3

Witness 3, a woman in her twenties, was at home on her laptop when she heard police sirens.

Witness 2 informed Witness 3 that her brother was trying to call the house. When Witness 3 got on the phone with her brother, the brother told her that there were gunshots and police activity at his nearby house.

Witness 3 went to her front door, opened it and looked outside. She saw two to four officers pointing their guns at the roof. She saw a male standing on the roof. She heard the officers yelling at the man, but could not recall what they said or if the man said anything.

She heard a single gunshot fired from an officer in front of her house, but she was unsure which one. She thought this shot struck the man in the leg. Police officers continued to yell at the man on the roof who was still moving around. She then heard a second shot. She looked away. When she looked back, the man was lying prone on the roof. She saw officers climb the roof and said the officers were hitting the male on the roof.

Witness 4

Witness 4 is a woman in her thirties. She was home on February 19, 2013, when she heard people shouting, "[f]ire, fire!" She also heard banging on her home. She ran outside and found a law enforcement officer who directed her to get back inside. She complied.

She heard an officer yell, "[s]top, police!" and "[f]reeze, get down!" It was clear to her that the officers were identifying themselves as law enforcement. She heard multiple gunshots. She saw an agent on the side of her house firing shots and then climbing over a wall.

She heard additional gunshots from "all over the place." She said she heard at least 15 gunshots, possibly more. She said she heard three bursts of gunfire. The first on the side of her home, consisting of four or five shots, the second being four to five shots from her backyard, and the third being two to three shots from a rooftop in the back of her home.

Witness 5

Witness 5, a man in his thirties, was at home on February 19, 2013. His home had been burglarized two months prior. As he was working in this garage that afternoon, his dogs became agitated. He thought someone might be burglarizing his house again. He ran to his backyard and saw a male running. Witness 5 chased after the man until the man identified himself as law enforcement. At that point, Witness 5 could see that the man was chasing someone. Another officer told Witness 5 to go back inside his house. Witness 5 saw another male on top of a roof. Once inside his house, he heard 6-7 gunshots. He looked out a window and saw the man who was running from police on a roof.

Witness 6

Witness 6, a twenty year old man, was visiting his cousin the afternoon of February 19, 2013. He went to the backyard to smoke a cigarette and saw a person jump out of the neighbor's yard into another yard. Immediately after, he saw "detectives" chasing the man with guns drawn. One of the "detectives" was wearing a vest which said "FBI."

Witness 6 heard the officers yell, "[i]t's the police!" and "[s]tay in the house!" He heard 4-5 gunshots followed by 3-4 gunshots about a minute later. Witness 6 went to the front of his cousin's house and saw officers standing in a ditch.

Witness 7

Witness 7 is a man in his thirties. He was at home when he noticed several law enforcement officers getting out of their cars. At least one had "FBI" on a jacket. He saw officers focus on a house across the street. He heard officers yell, "[g]et down!" and what he thought was 12 gunshots. Then he saw paramedics take a man down from the roof on a backboard.

Witness 8

Witness 8 is a nineteen year old woman. She was at home in her parents' residence when she heard a male tell someone to put their dog away. She looked out a window and saw a man with a police radio talking over the fence to her neighbor. Soon this man jumped over the fence of her residence and walk through other yards. A minute later, she heard 4-6 gunshots, but she did not see who fired. She heard a neighbor yell, "[h]e ran that way!"

Witness 9

Witness 9 is a man in his fifties. He was home when he heard male voices yelling. He looked out a back window and saw a man standing in a neighbor's side yard requesting that Witness 9 put his dog in the house. The dog is a pit bull. Witness 9 complied.

Witness 9 saw another male wearing a green vest standing in a neighbor's yard. He saw this man point his gun and yell, "[d]rop the gun! Drop the gun!"

Witness 9 moved to a different section of his house. He heard two rounds of gunfire and then a male voice saying, "[d]oes anyone hear me?" Witness 9 then heard one more round of gunfire.

After a few minutes, officers arrived in Witness 9's backyard and the officers identified themselves and said they were looking for evidence. One of the men had "FBI" on his jacket.

Witness 10

Witness 10 is a male in his twenties. He received a call from his friend in the neighborhood telling him that the police were in front of his house. Witness 10 opened his garage and saw officers. Witness 10 saw a man on a roof and told officers what he saw.

Witness 10 heard the officers tell the man on the roof to get down. Witness 10 ran to his aunt's house. He heard gunshots and the man on the roof fell down and was yelling. Witness 10 recorded some of the events on his phone. He gave the recording to investigators.

Witness 11

Witness 11 is a male in his seventies. He had just returned home with his son when saw law enforcement officers chasing a man. One officer instructed Witness 11 to go inside his house, which he did.

As Witness 11 made his way back inside his house, he saw the man who was running from police on his roof. He heard gunshots, but did not see the shooting.

OTHER CIVILIAN WITNESSES

Agents interviewed other lay witnesses. None of these witnesses saw either shooting. In addition, agents canvassed 10 other residences in the area and received no answer. Finally, Metro officers collected two voluntary statements from individuals and provided them to the investigating agents. Those witnesses also did not see either shooting.

EVIDENCE AT THE SCENE

A Smith & Wesson .40 caliber handgun was recovered from the scene. This was the gun in Decedent's possession. The gun was reported stolen from California in 2009.

A total of five .40 caliber casings were recovered from the scene. One casing was recovered from 5438 Eastwick and four were recovered from 5433 Alpaca Circle. FBI ballistics testing indicated that all five casings were fired from the .40 S&W pistol.

Investigators found three .45 Auto caliber cartridge casings. Two were located at 5434 Eastwick and one was found at 5438 Eastwick. Ballistics testing indicated that all three were fired from SA I's .45 Auto caliber Springfield Armory pistol.

SA I'S WEAPON

TFO D took possession of SA I's loaded Springfield 1911A1 with holster, a magazine pouch containing 2 magazines, and handcuffs.

The weapon was ultimately transported to the FBI and found to have one round in the chamber and five rounds in the magazine. The two additional magazines had 8 rounds each.

AUTOPSY OF DECEDENT

The Clark County Medical Examiners Office performed the autopsy on Decedent. The pathologist concluded that Decedent died from three gunshot wounds.

A blood sample taken at time of autopsy indicated that Decedent was under the influence of marijuana at the time of this incident.

SEARCH OF DECEDENT'S RESIDENCE

On February 19, 2013, Metro officers executed a search warrant at Decedent's residence. This occurred after the shootings. Decedent had been renting a room from an individual. The warrant was for only Decedent's room.

The following was recovered:

1. black jacket
2. black beanie
3. 100 baggies, scale, crystal substance
4. photos of two female juveniles
5. additional plastic baggies
6. 16 9mm cartridges
7. 10 .40 caliber Smith & Wesson cartridges
8. 6 .44 caliber cartridges retrieved from a .44 Magnum revolver
9. .44 Magnum revolver, Smith & Wesson
10. Smith & Wesson 32 Magnum revolver
11. camouflage back pack
12. 3 9mm cartridges

13. 4 .22 cartridges
14. baggie of white crystal substance, small
15. large baggie of white crystal substance
16. 2 .44 caliber cartridges

DECEDENT'S CRIMINAL HISTORY

Decedent had been removed from the United States for an aggravated felony. There is no record of a legal re-entry.

On February 12, 2013, Decedent had active warrants for Robbery with Use of a Deadly Weapon, Felony Assault with Use of a Deadly Weapon, Felony Domestic Violence, Misdemeanor Domestic Violence 2d, Misdemeanor Battery (2), and Misdemeanor Domestic Violence.

Legal Analysis

The District Attorney's Office is tasked with assessing the conduct of officers involved in any killing which occurred during the course of their duties. That assessment includes determining whether any criminality on the part of the officers existed at the time of the killing. As this case has been deemed a homicide by the coroner, the actions of these officers will be analyzed under the State's jurisprudence pertaining to homicides.

In Nevada, there are a variety of statutes that define the various types of justifiable homicide (NRS §200.120 – Justifiable homicide defined; NRS §200.140 – Justifiable homicide by a public officer; NRS §200.160 – Additional cases of justifiable homicide). The shooting of Decedent was justifiable under two theories: (1) The killing of a human being in self-defense/defense of others; and (2) justifiable homicide by a public officer. Both of these theories will be discussed below.

A. The Use of Deadly Force in Defense of Another

The authority to kill another in defense of others is contained in NRS §§200.120 and 200.160. "Justifiable homicide is the killing of a human being in necessary self-defense, or in defense of ... person, against one who manifestly intends or endeavors, by violence or surprise, to commit a felony ..." against the other person. NRS §200.120(1). Homicide is also lawful when committed:

[i]n the lawful defense of the slayer, ... or of any other person in his or her presence or company, when there is reasonable ground to apprehend a design on the part of the person slain to commit a felony or to do some great personal injury to the slayer or to any such person, and there is imminent danger of such design being accomplished ....

NRS §200.160(1).

The Nevada Supreme Court has refined the analysis of self-defense and, by implication, defense of others, in Runion v. State, 116 Nev. 1041 (2000). The relevant jury instructions as articulated in Runion and modified for defense of others are as follows:

The killing of [a] person in [defense of another] is justified and not unlawful when the person who does the killing actually and reasonably believes:

1. That there is imminent danger that the assailant will either kill [the other person] or cause [the other person] great bodily injury; and

2. That it is absolutely necessary under the circumstances for him to use in [defense of another] force or means that might cause the death of the other person, for the purpose of avoiding death or great bodily injury to [the person being defended].

A bare fear of death or great bodily injury is not sufficient to justify a killing. To justify taking the life of another in [defense of another], the circumstances must be sufficient to excite the fears of a reasonable person placed in a similar situation. The person killing must act under the influence of those fears alone and not in revenge.

Actual danger is not necessary to justify a killing in [defense of another]. A person has a right to defend from apparent danger to the same extent as he would from actual danger. The person killing is justified if:

1. He is confronted by the appearance of imminent danger which arouses in his mind an honest belief and fear that [the other person] is about to be killed or suffer great bodily injury; and

2. He acts solely upon these appearances and his fear and actual beliefs; and

3. A reasonable person in a similar situation would believe [the other person] to be in like danger.

The killing is justified even if it develops afterward that the person killing was mistaken about the extent of the danger.

If evidence [that a killing was in defense of another exists], the State must prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant did not act in [defense of another].

Id. at 1051-52.

In this case, Decedent posed an objectively reasonable imminent danger to SA I and other CAT Team officers as well as citizens in the area. Decedent had refused commands by officers multiple times and shot at SA I, striking him twice and nearly hitting him in the head. At the time he fired, SA I had an objectively reasonable belief that Decedent posed an imminent danger, which created an honest belief that either he or another team member were about to be killed or suffer serious bodily injury. Accordingly, SA I was justified in acting upon those appearances, fears and actual beliefs.

B. Justifiable Homicide by a Public Officer

"Homicide is justifiable when committed by a public officer ... [w]hen necessary to overcome actual resistance to the execution of the legal process, mandate or order of a court or officer, or in the discharge of a legal duty." NRS §200.140(2). This statutory provision has been interpreted as limiting a police officer's use of deadly force to situations when the officer has probable cause to believe that the suspect poses a threat of serious physical harm to either the officer or another. See 1985 Nev. Op. Att'y Gen. 47 (1985).

In this case, SA I had probable cause to believe that Decedent posed a threat of serious physical harm either to himself or other persons. Decedent had failed to comply with CAT team members' directives and engaged in a foot chase. At one point, Decedent shot at SA I at least three times, striking him in the upper chest and back. Decedent's failure to comply with CAT team members' directives and attempts to kill SA I, were all circumstances which created probable cause in SA I's mind that Decedent posed a threat of serious physical harm either to himself or others.

In light of all the evidence reviewed to date, the State would be unable to prove that the actions of SA I were in fact unjustified "in the discharge of a legal duty." Decedent's actions leading up to the shooting led SA I to reasonably believe that Decedent was in possession of a weapon and would use it again.

C. FBI Deadly Force Policy

Law enforcement officers may use deadly force only when necessary, that is, when the officer has a reasonable belief that the subject of such force poses an imminent danger of death or serious physical injury to the officer or another person.

A. Deadly force may not be used to prevent the escape of a fleeing subject (must be able to articulate a threat outlined in the bolded core principle above).

B. Firearms may not be fired solely to disable moving vehicles (must be able to articulate a threat outlined in the bolded core principle above).

C. If feasible and if to do so would not increase the danger to the officer or others, a verbal warning to submit to authority of the officer shall be given prior to the use of deadly force.

D. Warning shots are not permitted outside the prison context.

SA I's actions complied with this policy as well.

Conclusion

Based on the review of the available materials and application of Nevada law to the known facts and circumstances, it has been determined that the actions of SA I were reasonable and legally justified. The law in Nevada clearly states that homicides which are justifiable or excusable are not punishable. (NRS §200.190). A homicide which is determined to be justifiable shall be "fully acquitted and discharged." (NRS §200.190).

As there is no factual or legal basis upon which to charge the agent, and unless new circumstances come to light which contradict the factual foundation upon which this decision is made, no charges will be forthcoming.

Subject: Las Vegas Feb 2013 shooting

Inspector Shawn Stroud

On the afternoon of February 19, 2013, an FBI agent shot and fatally wounded Javier Reyes, the subject of a law enforcement task force arrest warrant, after a foot chase through an occupied residential area and after the subject, who was believed to be, and in fact was, armed and dangerous, shot and wounded the agent. Based upon a review of the Inspection Division Shooting Incident Report and a Clark County, Las Vegas District Attorney Report on Use of Force, we have concluded that the facts do not warrant a federal criminal civil rights investigation. The USAO concurs with our decision. The Clark County District Attorney declined prosecution.

The agent was part of a federal/local task force assembled to attempt to capture and arrest a reportedly armed subject for whom an arrest warrant had been issued and who had a history of violent armed activity about which the task force members, including the shooter agent, were briefed. During surveillance on a residence where the subject was believed to be, he left the residence. When confronted outside, the subject refused to obey repeated commands by several law enforcement officers to stop and to show his hands. Instead, he ran, attempting to elude arrest. There was a foot chase through a residential area in which some civilians were also outside their homes.

Two FBI agents confronted the subject and he continued to flee with his hands at his waistband. One of the agents re-encountered the subject. The subject again refused to obey commands and ran. The agent was continuing his search for the subject when he was shot from an unknown position. The agent was hit in the front of his vest and, after he turned, he was struck in the back by a bullet that penetrated the vest. The agent crawled into bushes for concealment and then visibly located the subject on a nearby rooftop. The agent stated that the subject had his hands at his waistband and appeared to be looking for other law enforcement officers to shoot. The agent fired one shot and; after the subject did not initial fall, he fired two more shots. The subject was struck by bullets in the arm, shoulder and chest. The agent did not continue to shoot after the subject fell down on the roof.

The three wounds to the subject were fired by the agent's handgun. A handgun was found in the subject's waistband and a magazine nearby on the rooftop. The subject's weapon had fired five rounds, including the one that struck the agent.
Other law enforcement officers climbed to the rooftop and handcuffed the subject. He was evacuated and treated by EMTs but succumb to his wounds, dying at the hospital.

There are several law enforcement and civilian eyewitnesses to parts of the chase and the shooting. Accounts vary, but both law enforcement and civilian observations consistently indicated that the subject was running, law enforcement officers were pursuing him, and he was not obeying police commands. Some law enforcement officers saw the subject with a gun in his hand before he was shot.

Two civilian witnesses observed the handcuffing. One witness claimed that law enforcement officers hit the subject and another civilian witness opined that the force was "excessive." The latter witness provided a video recording from his cell phone of agents handcuffing the subject on the roof. The recording does not depict use force that appears excessive. However, the task force officers who handcuffed the wounded subject stated that he was resisting the handcuffing. And, one task force officer admitted that he struck the subject in the back to gain compliance during handcuffing.

The evidence supports a conclusion that the agent who shot the subject reasonably believed the subject had just shot him and was preparing to shoot other law enforcement personnel as they were closing on his rooftop vantage point. The ballistics evidence confirmed that the subject shot the agent. Law enforcement officers were searching for the subject and civilians were in potential jeopardy outside their homes in the residential area when the agent fired. The evidence does not support a conclusion that the agent willfully used force that he knew to be unreasonable or unnecessary, the intent element required for a violation of the applicable federal criminal civil rights statute.

Further, the task force officer admits striking the resisting subject in the back while handcuffing him. The video does not appear to depict an excessive use of force under circumstances of handcuffing of a subject who was armed and involved in a shooting. Again, the evidence could not support a conclusion that the task force officer willfully used force that he knew to be unreasonable or unnecessary.

A federal criminal civil rights investigation of the shooting and its aftermath is not warranted. We appreciate the agent's voluntary statement, facilitating a fully informed decision. Please complete your administrative review.

Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT REVIEW
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT
LAS VEGAS FIELD OFFICE
08/02/2012

Investigative Period: 08/03/2012 – 08/09/2012

Reference: (U//~~FOUO~~) Telephone call on 08/02/2012, from Acting Chief Inspector Eric S. Birnbaum and Inspector Christopher W. Davis. Las Vegas Urgent Report to Director, dated 08/02/2012.

Synopsis

(U//~~FOUO~~) On August 02, 2012, Special Agents (SA) [redacted] and [redacted] of the Las Vegas Field Office (LV) shot Joshua Burchell while attempting to effect his arrest. Burchell brandished a handgun and failed to yield to agent commands to stop and drop the weapon. The arrest of Burchell was a coordinated effort with the Las Vegas Safe Streets Violent Crimes Task Force (LVSSTF) also known as the Criminal Apprehension Team (CAT) and LV SWAT. b6 -1 b7C -1

Details

(U//~~FOUO~~) On August 02, 2012, at approximately 2:51 pm, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were involved in a shooting in Las Vegas, Nevada. The shooting occurred when the LV SWAT and LVSSTF members attempted to arrest Joshua Burchell at Arizona Charlie's Hotel and Casino pursuant to a request from the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department (LVMPD) and Henderson Police Department (HPD)[1]. Burchell was a convicted felon with an extensive criminal history dating back to 1996. Burchell was wanted by the LVMPD on two separate arrest warrants for Robbery with a Deadly Weapon and Burglary with a Deadly Weapon. b6 -1 b7C -1

[1] Both LVMPD and HPD are members of the LVSSTF. SA [redacted] was a member of LV SWAT and SA [redacted] was a member of LV SWAT and the LVSSTF. b6 -1 b7C -1

NYT-366

(U//~~FOUO~~) On July 26, 2012, pursuant to the request from the LVMPD, an Unlawful Flight To Avoid Prosecution (UFAP) [redacted] was opened on Burchell by the LVSSTF (Squad LV-5). Extensive efforts to locate Burchell by LVMPD were unsuccessful and it was believed Burchell had left the state of Nevada for California. However, baseline checks were done on Burchell which revealed a California driver's license bearing a Glendora, California address. LVSSTF intended to obtain a UFAP warrant for the arrest of Burchell; however the shooting incident occurred before this warrant was issued. b7A -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On July 30, 2012, the LVSSTF obtained [redacted] through the District Court of Clark County, Nevada. The investigation identified an associate of Burchell, whom law enforcement could leverage for cooperation. b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On August 1, 2012, the associate was interviewed by LV agents and ultimately agreed to be a Cooperating Witness (CW). The CW advised [redacted] b6 -8 b7C -8 b7D -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) TFO members of the LVSSTF requested the use of the LV SWAT to arrest Burchell due to the fluidity of the operation.[2] At approximately 10:15 pm, SA [redacted] called SWAT Team Leader (STL) [redacted] to request SWAT to conduct the arrest on 08/02/2012. SA [redacted] briefed STL [redacted] on the investigation to locate Burchell. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) The plan called for [redacted] b6 -8 b7C -8 b7D -1 b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) The plan was verbally presented to SSA [redacted] SSA [redacted] Las Vegas SWAT Coordinator and ASAC [redacted] The plan was verbally approved on 08/02/2012 by ASAC [redacted] and SSA [redacted] was designated as the On-Scene Commander (OSC). SSA [redacted] coordinated with SWAT STL [redacted] to finalize the arrest plan. SWAT STL [redacted] was in charge of the SWAT operation and conducted a site survey prior to the arrest plan being finalized. b6 -1 b7C -1

[2] Efforts to utilize the Henderson Police Department SWAT Team met with negative results due to the short notice provided prior to the planned operation.

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] The operational plan was briefed to the SWAT and PST team members by SWAT STL [redacted]. The briefing included a discussion of the arrest plan and contingencies. The Arrest Team also conducted a walk-through of the second room, where the arrest was to take place.

b6 -1,8
b7D -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) After the briefing, the SWAT and PST Team performed rehearsals, supervised by SWAT STL [redacted]. The Deadly Force Policy (DFP) was reviewed during the briefing. The SWAT STL began writing an Operations Order at 8:00 am on 08/02/2012, prior to leaving the office for the site survey, but it was never completed or approved by LV management.

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] This information was relayed on the radio to arrest personnel. At approximately 2:50 pm, Burchell exited the room, at which time SWAT STL [redacted] issued the command to execute the arrest.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The SWAT Team exited the hotel room to arrest Burchell. Burchell ignored repeated commands and ran towards agents positioned outside the hotel room with his pistol drawn. SA [redacted] fired three rounds from a Bureau issued Colt M16A1; SA [redacted] fired four rounds from a Bureau issued .45 caliber Springfield 1911 handgun at which time Burchell fell to the ground. SWAT Team personnel approached Burchell behind the cover of a shield and handcuffed him. SA [redacted] SA [redacted] Paramedic, MedicWest Ambulance then approached the subject to provide emergency medical treatment. Burchell was transported to Sunrise Hospital and Medical Center by MedicWest Ambulance, where he underwent emergency surgery.

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 3:00 pm, ASAC [redacted] received a call at his desk from SSA [redacted] who advised him of the shooting incident. ASAC [redacted] was told Burchell was hit and all personnel on scene were safe. ASAC [redacted] immediately informed SAC Kevin Favreau of the incident and proceeded to the scene. While en route to the scene, at approximately 3:20 pm, ASAC [redacted] sent a text message to the U.S. Attorney and the First Assistant to advise them of the incident. Within minutes, ASAC [redacted] was copied on an E-mail message sent by SAC Favreau to DD Sean Joyce and AD Keith Bennett, INSD, to report the shooting incident.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Upon arriving at the scene, ASAC [redacted] was met by SSA [redacted] and SWAT STL [redacted] LVMPD had already taped off the area and offered to provide assistance to the FBI, noting this was an "FBI scene." ASAC [redacted] and LVMPD Deputy Chief [redacted] had a conversation and the crime scene was released to LVMPD for processing. ASAC [redacted] met with SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] and determined they were not injured. ASAC [redacted] offered them the services of the Employee Assistance Program although they declined the offer.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/02/2012, IIC Davis spoke with Las Vegas Field Office SAC Kevin Favreau, to arrange logistics prior to arriving in Las Vegas. SAC Favreau assigned SSA [redacted] to serve as the point of contact for the SIRT during the investigation period. Members of the SIRT traveled to Las Vegas on 08/03/2012. On 08/03/2012, IIC Davis and members of the SIRT viewed the shooting scene, 4575 South Boulder Highway, Las Vegas, Nevada. The location was the parking lot of Arizona Charlie's Hotel and Casino. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/04/2012, the SIRT met with all involved managers and agents to explain the shooting review protocols.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Two Signed Sworn Statements (SSS) were taken from the two FBI Agents who fired their weapons. SA [redacted] who was represented by [redacted] (FBIAA) and [redacted] (FLEOA), Esq. and SA [redacted] who was represented by [redacted] (FLEOA). Six other SSS were taken from agents who witnessed the shooting. Other interviews, events, and observations were documented via FD-302s. All FBI personnel were allowed to read the FD-302 summarizing their interview to confirm the accuracy of the information provided. The SSS and interviews of witnesses were conducted voluntarily. A FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident) was executed by all those interviewed. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/07/2012, IIC Davis met with the Clark County District Attorney (DA), Steven Wolfson who advised he would review the FBI's Shooting Incident Review Report upon its completion, at which point Mr. Wolfson would then issue a prosecutive opinion.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/09/2012, an Exit Brief was provided by IIC Davis to SAC Favreau.

I. Medical Report

FBI Agents Involved in the Shooting:

(U//~~FOUO~~) No injuries.

Subject:

(U//~~FOUO~~) Burchell was shot at Arizona Charlie's Hotel and Casino and transported to Sunrise Hospital and Medical Center via ambulance. All life saving measures were met with negative results. Burchell was pronounced dead at 7:24 p.m.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Preliminary Autopsy Report, Case Number: 12-07009, dated 08/03/12, stated the cause of Burchell's death as multiple gunshot wounds. A total of six rounds were accounted for from the autopsy results. One gunshot wound was not accounted for at the autopsy because the projectile was removed during surgery and the entry wound was most likely obscured during the surgery. Of the five remaining gunshot wounds one was penetrating and four were perforating. In addition, there was a graze wound on the left forearm and fragment on the left buttock.

J. Declination by the Civil Rights Division

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Civil Rights Section, DOJ, was notified of the shooting by INSD. [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, DOJ was briefed on 08/03/2012. On 10/25/2013, [redacted] declined a criminal civil rights investigation against the Agents involved in this shooting incident.

The Agents shot Joshua Burchell while attempting to effect his arrest. Burchell brandished a handgun and failed to yield to Agents' commands to stop and drop the weapon. The arrest of Burchell was a coordinated effort with the Las Vegas Safe Streets Violent Crimes Task Force (LVSSTF) also known as the Criminal Apprehension Team (CAT) and LV SWAT.

SIRG Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 02/21/2014, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] on 08/02/2012 was in compliance with the Department of Justice's Deadly Force Policy. b6 -1 b7C -1

2. Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective action from an operational standpoint. The SIRG board reviewed the four observations for this shooting incident. After review, the board removed three of the found observations. The board found the efforts to effect the arrest of Joshua Burchell on 08/02/2012 by the FBI LV SWAT team required the designation of an On-Scene Commander (OSC) in accordance with SWAT Policy. The OSC for the SWAT operation was SSA [redacted], the SSA over LV-5. The SIRG made the following observation regarding the assignment of an OSC on 08/02/2012: b6 -1 b7C -1

Observation 1: LV failed to assign an appropriate On-Scene Commander for the SWAT Operation.

Analysis 1: The Special Weapons and Tactics Policy Implementation Guide, Section 2.2.2 stated:

The Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) determined the SAC was never briefed on the details regarding the operation leading up to the shooting incident. Also, the SIRT found ASAC [redacted] delegated the OSC role to SSA [redacted]; however, SSA [redacted] is not the LV SWAT coordinator. While the formal Operations Order was not finished, it was verbally briefed by SWAT Senior Team Leader, which made it evident the arrest was a SWAT operation. As such, an appropriate OSC should have been designated. b6 -1 b7C -1

Instruction 1: SAC, LV will ensure an appropriate On-Scene Commander is assigned for all SWAT operations.

3. Provide recommendations concerning training and or/safety issues. The SIRG made no recommendations or observations requesting additional training for the Agents involved in this shooting incident.

4. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. The SIRG recommended no administrative action be taken against SAs [redacted] as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident. b6 -1 b7C -1

REPORT ON USE OF FORCE

Legal Analysis Surrounding the Death of Joshua Oscar Burchell on August 2, 2012

INTRODUCTION

On August 2, 2012, the FBI task force, known as the Criminal Apprehension Team (CAT), located a murder suspect by the name of Joshua Oscar Burchell. The members of the CAT task force included FBI agents, as well as officers from the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department and the Henderson Police Department. The CAT task force requested the assistance of SWAT in arresting and taking into custody the murder suspect.

A plan was created to take the murder suspect into custody who was staying at the Arizona Charlie's Hotel/Casino located at 4575 Boulder Highway in Las Vegas. Three adjacent rooms at the hotel were utilized by SWAT and the CAT task force to set up and effectuate the arrest. Surveillance equipment was placed in the room the suspect was in to allow the police to verify that the suspect was in fact armed, which he was. In fact, the murder suspect was armed with a firearm that had previously been stolen from a corrections officer.

The plan was to arrest the murder suspect in his room. However, the murder suspect left his room and an order was then given to the team to effectuate the arrest. The members of the SWAT and CAT task force exited the adjoining room, announced their presence as FBI agents, and issued commands to the murder suspect to not move. The murder suspect did not comply and ran away from the SWAT and CAT task force to the parking lot of the hotel/casino. Once in the parking lot, the murder suspect pulled a firearm from his waist area and pointed it at police. Special Agents fired at the murder suspect and he fell to the ground as he was hit by the gunshots. Medical aid was administered quickly at the scene and the murder suspect was taken to the hospital where he was later pronounced dead.

The Decedent was a suspect in a murder that occurred in late July of 2012. The Decedent shot a man he knew in the head and stole a painting from the murder victim. The Decedent later made admissions about killing the victim. Decedent also had an outstanding warrant from Clark County for Robbery with Use of a Deadly Weapon and another warrant out of California for Burglary.

The District Attorney's Office has completed its review of the August 2, 2012, death of Joshua Oscar Burchell, (Decedent). It was determined that, based on the evidence currently available and subject to the discovery of any new or additional evidence, the actions of the Special Agents were not criminal in nature. This review was based on all the evidence currently available.

This letter explains why criminal charges will not be forthcoming against the Special Agents involved. It is not intended to recount every detail, answer every question or resolve every factual conflict regarding this police encounter. This letter is intended solely for the purpose of explaining why, based upon the facts known at this time, the conduct of the Special Agents was not criminal.

This decision, premised upon criminal-law standards, is not meant to limit any administrative action by the FBI, LVMPD, or HPD or to suggest the existence or non-existence of civil actions by any person where less stringent laws and burdens of proof apply.

A Police Fatality Public Fact-finding Review was not conducted in this case. Clark County Code 2.14 mandates such a review when a police-involved death occurs, and the prosecutor preliminarily determines that no criminal prosecution of the officer is appropriate. The definition of "officer" is limited by NRS Chapter 289 to state and local law enforcement personnel. In the instant case, the Special Agents involved were acting in their capacity as federal law enforcement agents; therefore, they were not "officers" for purposes of Clark County Code 2.14.

THE EVENTS AT ARIZONA CHARLIE'S

LAY WITNESSES

Housekeeper

On August 2, 2012, Housekeeper was working at the Arizona Charlie's Hotel/Casino when she was moving from one room to another between cleanings. Housekeeper saw a tall man run past her towards the parking lot. The man was being chased by other men who had guns drawn and who Housekeeper perceived were police officers. As the man in front was running, Housekeeper saw him stop, turn around, and pull a black object from his right side but she could not tell what the object was. Immediately after seeing this motion, Housekeeper heard 2 to 3 shots and she dropped to the ground and got behind her cleaning cart.

Patron # 1

On August 2, 2012, Patron # 1, who lives out of state, was in Las Vegas with her husband of 50 years, as well as their grandson. They were staying at Arizona Charlie's as they were bringing their grandson to Las Vegas so he could catch a flight at McCarran International Airport. Patron # 1, her husband, and her grandson had checked into the hotel and were in the process of going to their room. In fact, Patron # 1 was in the parking lot waiting for her husband and grandson to bring the car around. As she was waiting, a man with a badge ran directly towards her telling her he was with the FBI and that she needed to leave the area. Patron # 1 next saw a man she described as a white male with grey hair wearing shorts come out of a room and run towards her direction. The man was followed by several men who were wearing jackets with the letters FBI on them who were yelling repeatedly at the man with the grey hair telling him to stop. The man with the grey hair, however, did not stop and kept running in her direction. Patron # 1 said she then heard a single shot but she could not tell who had shot. She immediately got on the ground but she could see the FBI men were trying to render aid to the man with the grey hair who was down on the ground.

Patron # 2

On August 2, 2012, Patron # 2, who lives out of state, was in Las Vegas with his wife, Patron # 1, as well as their grandson. Patron # 2 and his grandson were in the process of driving their car around to the back of the hotel/casino when they were met by an officer in plain clothes with a badge who told them they would have to go around a different way. As Patron # 2 drove around the parking lot, he saw a male running and heard someone shouting but he could not tell what they were saying. Patron # 2 then heard more than one gun shot and saw someone on the ground but he did not see who did the shooting. Patron # 2 then backed his car out of the area and checked on his wife.

Patron # 3

On August 2, 2012, Patron # 3, who lives out of state, was in Las Vegas with his Grandmother (Patron # 1) and Grandfather (Patron # 2) so he could catch a flight back to his home state. Patron # 3 was with his Grandfather as they drove from the front of the hotel to the back after checking in. As they were driving towards the back, a law enforcement officer told them they needed to turn around. Grandfather then drove in a different direction. As they were driving, Patron # 3 saw a man running in the parking lot followed by 4 to 5 men who were following behind dressed in clothes with FBI insignia. The 4 to 5 men chasing the one man were yelling to the man to get down and to put his hands up. Patron # 3 then heard what he thought was 1 or 2 gunshots. Later Patron # 3 saw the man that had been running lying on the ground and the police personnel attempting to render aid.

POLICE WITNESSES

Special Agent # 1[1]

On August 2, 2012, Special Agent (SA) # 1 was working as a part of the SWAT team tasked with taking the Decedent into custody. Specifically, SA # 1 was to be the first officer in the stack of SWAT officers that would enter the Decedent's room and take him into custody. The SWAT team rehearsed the plan and subsequently took position in the accompanying room to where the Decedent was located. The SWAT team prepared to take the Decedent into custody in his room. However, the Decedent exited the room before the SWAT team could make entry to the room. As such, the order to effectuate the arrest was given and the SWAT team exited their room and SA # 1 shouted, "FBI, don't move." The Decedent immediately ran away from SA # 1 and his team through the parking lot. SA # 1, however, did not pursue, which was consistent with the standard operating procedures and instructions he had been given previously.

As the Decedent ran away from SA # 1 and the members of the SWAT team, SA # 1 observed the Decedent pull a gun from his waist. SA # 1 yelled out, "Gun" and saw the Decedent then turn slightly to his left. Next, SA # 1 heard gunshots from his left and he saw the Decedent fall to the ground. The Decedent was handcuffed and medics came and rendered aid. SA # 1 also noted an unfamiliar older female on the ground in the area of the shooting, which was Patron # 1.

Special Agent # 2

On August 2, 2012, SA # 2 was working as a part of the SWAT team tasked with taking the Decedent into custody. Specifically, SA # 2 was to be the second officer in the stack of SWAT officers that would enter the Decedent's room and his responsibility was to cover SA # 1 as they took the Decedent into custody. As they observed the surveillance inside the Decedent's room before he exited, SA # 2 saw that the Decedent had a gun in his hand. As the SWAT team exited their room they encountered the Decedent. SA # 2 and SA # 1 both announced who they were and ordered the Decedent not to move and to put his hands up.

The Decedent, however, took off running through the parking lot. SA # 2, per prior instructions, did not pursue the Decedent. SA # 2 saw the Decedent pull a gun out as he ran through the parking lot. SA # 2 observed the Decedent aim the gun in SA # 2's direction. Based on being confronted with lethal force by the Decedent, SA # 2 fired his handgun one time at the Decedent. The Decedent did not react to the shot so SA # 2 fired another round, but the Decedent continued to run. Consequently, SA # 2 fired a third time, after which the Decedent fell to the ground.

Special Agent # 3

On August 2, 2012, SA # 3 was working as a part of the SWAT team tasked with taking the Decedent into custody. SA # 3's responsibility, along with SA # 6, was to set up to the east of the parking lot against a wall opposite the hotel in the event of a "runner" scenario. SA # 3 received information from his investigation that the Decedent was armed with a gun, which SA # 3 relayed to the other police personnel. SA # 3 then saw the Decedent running in the parking lot towards him and SA # 6. SA # 3 ran towards the Decedent and saw the Decedent pull a gun from his waistband and point it directly at him. At the same time, SA # 3 heard other agents yelling to the Decedent to drop the gun. SA # 3 then retrieved his weapon and pointed it at the Decedent but realized that there were crossfire concerns based on the position of the other agents and officers who were behind the Decedent.

Because of concerns crossfire shots could hurt one of the other officers, and due to concerns for his own safety, SA # 3 found cover in the parking lot behind a car. As he did so, SA # 3 heard gunshots and looked to see the Decedent fall to the ground. After the Decedent fell, SA # 3 observed SWAT team personnel handcuff the Decedent. Medical aid was then rendered to the Decedent.

Special Agent # 4

On August 2, 2012, SA # 4 was working as a part of the SWAT team tasked with taking the Decedent into custody. SA # 4 was the third in the stack and as such his responsibility was to breach the room with a room key and handcuff the Decedent. When the command to go was given, SA # 4 saw the Decedent just outside his room. Commands were given to the Decedent, but he ran away from the police towards the parking lot. As the Decedent was running, SA # 4 heard two or three shots, which had different sounds. After the shots, SA # 4 saw a dark object fly out from the Decedent's body as the Decedent stumbled and fell to the ground. SA # 4 then approached the Decedent and put him in handcuffs. The medical team then took over and rendered aid. SA # 4 remained with the Decedent as he was transported to the hospital and while he was in the hospital.

Special Agent # 5

On August 2, 2012, SA # 5 was working as a part of the Las Vegas Field Office's Perimeter Support Team (PST) tasked with taking the Decedent into custody. Specifically, SA # 5 monitored the video surveillance. Additionally, SA # 5 was to exit the adjoining room upon implementation of the plan and post there with a shield. When the command to effectuate the arrest was given, SA # 5 exited his room and observed the Decedent running away from the building in the parking lot. SA # 5 yelled that he was with the FBI and told the Decedent not to move. The Decedent, however, did not relent and continued to run. SA # 5 heard someone yell, "Gun, gun, gun" and saw the Decedent drop some sunglasses. Next, SA # 5 heard 4 to 5 gunshots and saw the Decedent fall to the ground. Someone pointed to the Decedent's gun on the ground so SA # 5 stood next to the gun until he was later called away. SA # 5 also observed medical personnel administer aid to the Decedent.

Special Agent # 6

On August 2, 2012, SA # 6 was working as a member of CAT tasked with taking the Decedent into custody. SA # 6 was positioned with SA # 3 in the parking lot. SA # 6 saw an elderly woman in the parking lot as well. SA # 6 went to the woman and identified himself and told her to get back. As he was doing this, SA # 6 heard SWAT members repeatedly yell, "FBI, get down." As SA # 6 turned back he saw the Decedent running towards him and saw the Decedent pull out a handgun and point it at him. SA # 6 yelled "gun" and took cover behind an electric box.

From the vantage point behind the electric box, SA # 6 saw the Decedent turn back towards the SWAT members running behind him and point his gun. Because the Decedent posed a threat to SA # 6, SA # 3, the SWAT team members, and the elderly woman in the parking lot, SA # 6 fired his weapon at the Decedent. The Decedent did not stop running towards SA # 6, SA # 3, and the elderly woman, and his gun was pointed at them again. As such, SA # 6 aimed his weapon again and, as he did, he heard a gunshot. SA # 6 then fired three times at the Decedent who then fell. The Decedent appeared to push himself up with his hands so SA # 6 aimed at him again. However, the Decedent no longer appeared to be armed so SA # 6 did not fire again. SWAT then handcuffed the Decedent and medical personnel worked on him.

Special Agent # 7

On August 2, 2012, SA # 7 was working as a part of the Las Vegas Field Office's Perimeter Support Team tasked with taking the Decedent into custody. SA # 7 was positioned together with SA # 5 in the room next to where the Decedent was staying the hotel. SA # 7 and SA # 5 were to use their shield and block the Decedent opposite the SWAT team in a pincer movement.

When the order to effectuate the arrest was given, SA # 5 opened the door to their room and SA # 7 observed the members of the SWAT team in the stack running towards the parking lot. SA # 5 then followed after the SWAT team and SA # 7 followed SA # 5. When SA # 7 got to the parking lot he was able to see that the Decedent had a gun. SA # 7 heard people yelling, "Gun, gun, gun" as well as, "Stop running. FBI, stop moving." SA # 7 then heard shots and saw the Decedent drop to the ground. Medical staff attended to the Decedent and the area was searched for the Decedent's gun. When the Decedent's gun was found, agents took turns guarding it until it was collected as evidence.

Special Agent # 8

On August 2, 2012, SA # 8 was working as a part of the SWAT team tasked with taking the Decedent into custody. SA # 8 was the fourth person in the stack behind SA # 4 who had the key to the room and was tasked with opening the door. Information was obtained that the Decedent was exiting the room so the order to go was given. Upon getting out of the room, SA # 8 saw the Decedent and yelled to him, "FBI, get your hands up. Don't move." The Decedent did not listen and instead ran away to the parking lot. SA # 8 observed that the Decedent had a gun in his hand as he ran off. SA # 8 heard someone yell, "gun, gun, gun" and then heard three shots fired from the direction to his left. SA # 8 then saw the Decedent fall to the ground. SA # 8 and SA # 1 then approached the Decedent and put him in handcuffs. Medical staff then rendered aid.

THE REVIEW OF THE WEAPONS

SA # 2 carried a Colt M16A1. The magazine removed from the Colt M16A1 contained 28 rounds. A review of SA # 2's weapon indicated that it was fired 3 times during the incident. SA # 6 carried a Springfield 1911. The magazine removed from the Springfield 1911 contained 5 rounds. There were two additional magazines for the Springfield that contained 8 rounds. A review of SA # 6's weapon indicated that it was fired 4 times during the incident. The stolen weapon the Decedent was in possession of was a Glock model 19, 9mm, which had a 15 round magazine with 14 rounds in the magazine and there was one round in the firing chamber at the time the weapon was recovered. The Glock was operational.

THE AUTOPSY OF DECEDENT

On August 3, 2012, an autopsy was performed by Deputy Medical Examiner Doctor Gary Telgenhoff on the body of the Decedent at the Clark County Coroner's Office. It was determined Decedent died as a result of multiple gunshot wounds. A total of 6 gunshot wounds were found on the Decedent's body. One of the gunshot wounds was not as visible due to surgical intervention. The five remaining gunshots wounds consisted of one penetrating and four perforating. A graze wound was also noted to the Decedent's left forearm. Additionally, toxicology tests were performed from liver samples which revealed that the Decedent had the presence of Amphetamine, a metabolite of methamphetamine, in his system at a rate of 810 nanograms per gram. He also had Methamphetamine in his system at a rate of 3900 nanograms per gram. Violent and irrational behavior has been associated with high levels of methamphetamine.

LEGAL ANALYSIS

The District Attorney's Office is tasked with assessing the conduct of officers involved in any killing which occurred during the course of their duties. That assessment includes determining whether any criminality on the part of the officers existed at the time of the killing. As this case has been deemed a homicide by the coroner, the actions of these officers will be analyzed under the State's jurisprudence pertaining to homicides.

In Nevada, there are a variety of statutes that define the various types of justifiable homicide (NRS §200.120 – Justifiable homicide defined; NRS §200.140 – Justifiable homicide by a public officer; NRS §200.160 – Additional cases of justifiable homicide). The shooting of Decedent was justifiable under two theories: (1) The killing of a human being in self defense/defense of others; and (2) justifiable homicide by a public officer. Both of these theories will be discussed below.

A. The Use of Deadly Force in Defense of Another

The authority to kill another in defense of others is contained in NRS §§200.120 and 200.160. "Justifiable homicide is the killing of a human being in necessary self-defense, or in defense of ... person, against one who manifestly intends or endeavors, by violence or surprise, to commit a felony ..." against the other person. NRS §200.120(1). Homicide is also lawful when committed:

> [i]n the lawful defense of the slayer, ... or of any other person in his or her presence or company, when there is > reasonable ground to apprehend a design on the part of the person slain to commit a felony or to do some great personal injury to the slayer or to any such person, and there is imminent danger of such design being accomplished ....

NRS §200.160(1).

The Nevada Supreme Court has refined the analysis of self defense and, by implication, defense of others, in Runion v. State, 116 Nev. 1041 (2000). The relevant jury instructions as articulated in Runion and modified for defense of others are as follows:

> The killing of [a] person in [defense of another] is justified and not unlawful when the person who does the killing actually and reasonably believes:
> 1. That there is imminent danger that the assailant will either kill [the other person] or cause [the other person] great bodily injury; and
> 2. That it is absolutely necessary under the circumstances for him to use in [defense of another] force or means that might cause the death of the other person, for the purpose of avoiding death or great bodily injury to [the person being defended].
>
> A bare fear of death or great bodily injury is not sufficient to justify a killing. To justify taking the life of another in [defense of another], the circumstances must be sufficient to excite the fears of a reasonable person placed in a similar situation. The person killing must act under the influence of those fears alone and not in revenge.
>
> ....
>
> Actual danger is not necessary to justify a killing in [defense of another]. A person has a right to defend from apparent danger to the same extent as he would from actual danger. The person killing is justified if:
> 1. He is confronted by the appearance of imminent danger which arouses in his mind an honest belief and fear that [the other person] is about to be killed or suffer great bodily injury; and

2. He acts solely upon these appearances and his fear and actual beliefs; and

3. A reasonable person in a similar situation would believe [the other person] to be in like danger.

The killing is justified even if it develops afterward that the person killing was mistaken about the extent of the danger.

If evidence [that a killing was in defense of another exists], the State must prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant did not act in [defense of another].

Id. at 1051-52.

In this case, the Decedent posed an imminent danger to the SWAT and CAT police personnel involved in the efforts to take the Decedent into custody, as well as the patrons of the Arizona Charlie's Hotel/Casino. The Decedent, while armed with a 9mm handgun, ran from police into the parking lot area of the hotel. The police repeatedly announced themselves and ordered the Decedent to stop. As this happened, the Decedent ignored the police orders and instead pulled out his 9mm handgun and pointed it at the police. In fact, as he ran away from the police following him, he ran directly at other police who had set up a perimeter. The Decedent's actions posed an imminent danger to the officers and others, including Patron # 1. Thus, the police personnel were confronted by the appearance of imminent danger which created in their minds an honest belief and fear that they, or others, were about to be killed or suffer great bodily injury. Accordingly, the officers were justified in acting upon those appearances, fears and actual beliefs.

B. Justifiable Homicide by a Public Officer

"Homicide is justifiable when committed by a public officer ... [w]hen necessary to overcome actual resistance to the execution of the legal process, mandate or order of a court or officer, or in the discharge of a legal duty." NRS §200.140(2). This statutory provision has been interpreted as limiting a police officer's use of deadly force to situations when the officer has probable cause to believe that the suspect poses a threat of serious physical harm to either the officer or another. See 1985 Nev. Op. Att'y Gen. 47 (1985).

In this case, the Special Agents who fired at Decedent had probable cause to believe that Decedent posed a threat of serious physical harm either to the themselves or other persons. Decedent, while ignoring commands to stop, pointed his handgun toward police personnel as they tried to take him into custody. These circumstances created probable cause in the officers' minds that the Decedent posed a threat of serious physical harm either to the officers or others. In light of all the evidence reviewed to date, the State would be unable to prove that the actions of the officers were in fact unjustified "in the discharge of a legal duty."

CONCLUSION

Based on the review of the available materials and application of Nevada law to the known facts and circumstances, it has been determined that the actions of law enforcement involved in the efforts to take the Decedent into custody were reasonable and legally justified. The law in Nevada clearly states that homicides which are justifiable or excusable are not punishable. (NRS §200.190). A homicide which is determined to be justifiable shall be "fully acquitted and discharged." (NRS §200.190).

As there is no factual or legal basis upon which to charge the officers, and unless new circumstances come to light which contradict the factual foundation upon which this decision is made, no charges will be forthcoming.

Assistant Inspector[redacted]
Inspection Division, FBI

Based upon a review of materials from the Inspection Division shooting inquiry, as well as information from the Clark County, Nevada District Attorney, we have determine that the facts do not warrant a federal criminal civil rights investigation into a shooting by two FBI SWAT agents that resulted in the death of Joshua Burchell in Las Vegas on August 2, 2012. Rather, the facts reveal that, as he ran from an FBI SWAT arrest team, Burchell posed an imminent threat by pointing a loaded handgun at agents and civilian bystanders. Thus, both agents who fired their weapons had legitimate reason to believe that deadly force was necessary to prevent the death or serious bodily harm. The Clark County District Attorney also declined prosecution.

FBI SWAT deployed to arrest Burchell at a hotel where he was lodging. Burchell was suspected in a recent murder, had outstanding arrest warrants for crimes of violence, and was known to be armed at the time with a handgun. Alerted to the presence of the arrest team, Burchell ran from his hotel room into the hotel parking lot. The arrest SWAT team, dressed in jackets displaying "FBI," pursued him as he ran toward a SWAT blocking perimeter.

The FBI shooter agents' accounts are consistent with the accounts of other FBI agent witnesses and civilian patrons of the hotel who were in the parking lot, as well as the forensic evidence. As he ran, Burchell ignored commands to "stop" yelled by several agents who identified themselves as "FBI." Instead, Burchell pulled a handgun. Several agents repeatedly yelled "gun." Burchell pointed the gun in the direction of the FBI agents and civilians. Burchell's gun was loaded with a round in the chamber.

The first shooter agent, who was in pursuit, saw the gun aimed in his direction and fired twice as Burchell continued to run. Then he fired a third time after which Burchell fell. The other shooter agent saw Burchell running toward him in the blocking perimeter, ignoring commands. He saw Burchell point the gun at pursuing agents and then in his own direction. An elderly woman was near the second shooter agent. He too fired three shots.

SWAT medical personnel attempted unsuccessfully to revive Burchell after he was down. He was struck six times and died from multiple gunshot wounds. The autopsy results also revealed methamphetamine in his blood, at a high level associated with violent and irrational behavior.

There is no evidence that FBI agents willfully violated the 4th Amendment's requirement of reasonable seizure when they fired at an armed and dangerous man who was pointing a loaded weapon at agents and civilians. A federal criminal civil rights investigation is unwarranted. We appreciate the agents' voluntary statements that helped us make a fully informed prosecution decision. Please continue your administrative review and action.

Title: SHOOTING INCIDENT REVIEW;
REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT;
ST. LOUIS FIELD OFFICE;
11/26/2014

I. Executive Summary

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 11/26/2014, the St. Louis Field Office SWAT team was involved in an Agent-involved shooting while attempting to apprehend Major Earl Washington in St. Louis, Missouri. Washington was a suspect in the 11/24/2014 homicide of his mother, as well as the non-fatal shooting of a responding University City Police Department (UCPD) officer. After firing from concealment during a SWAT clearing operation, striking a SWAT operator in the shoulder, Washington was shot multiple times by FBI SWAT operators, and died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound to the head. In the exchange of gunfire, a second FBI SWAT operator sustained a gunshot wound to the leg from what was later assessed to be friendly fire. The Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) arrived in St. Louis on 11/27/2014.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The St. Louis FBI SWAT team was deployed in response to a request by the St. Louis County Police Department (SLCPD), which had been contacted by UCPD for assistance in apprehending Washington after receiving information regarding his whereabouts. SLCPD's tactical team was occupied with the ongoing violent protests in Ferguson, Missouri. At the request of SLCPD, and after consulting with the St. Louis CDC and OGC, SAC William P. Woods directed SWAT and other tactical assets to assist UCPD.

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 9:00 p.m. on 11/25/2014, FBI tactical elements arrived at a staging area near [redacted] a single-family residence in St. Louis where UCPD had determined Washington was located. FBI ASAC [redacted] was the On-Scene Commander (OSC). SAC Woods monitored the operation from the CP at the field office. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

(U//~~FOUO~~) Over the next several hours, St. Louis SWAT and Crisis Negotiators (CNs) made numerous attempts to establish contact with Washington utilizing a loudspeaker, a throw phone, and a third-party intermediary. [redacted] b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 12:30 a.m. on 11/26/2014, a St. Louis County and City (SLCC) Bomb and Arson Unit [redacted] was utilized to clear most of the interior first floor of the house and visually inspect a portion of the basement through two ground-level windows. [redacted] SAC Woods decided against [redacted] because the DEA SWAT team providing perimeter security was not equipped with [redacted] b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) After all attempts to confirm Washington's presence in the residence were unsuccessful, SAC Woods authorized an FBI SWAT tactical entry of the residence, to include [redacted] At approximately 2:53 a.m. on 11/26/2014, the SWAT team made entry into the residence, cleared the ground floor, and visually inspected the attic. At approximately 3:02 a.m., a UCPD K-9 was released into the basement in an attempt to determine Washington's location. The K-9 returned to the handler without alerting to the presence of an individual in the basement. b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 3:07 a.m., the SWAT team, consisting of the Senior Team Leader (STL) and 10 operators, descended the stairs from the first floor and began clearing the basement. At approximately 3:10 a.m., SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] approached a large, portable wardrobe in the northwest quadrant of the basement. As SA [redacted] pulled the zipper to open the wardrobe, Washington fired a Glock 22 .40 caliber pistol from a seated position of concealment inside, striking SA [redacted] in the left shoulder. SA [redacted] fell to the floor and returned fire with his M4 carbine from a seated position. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Responding to the threat from a standing position beside the wardrobe, SA [redacted] also fired his M4 carbine at Washington. The remaining nine operators heard gunshots but inititally struggled to pinpoint the source of the hostile gunfire. Three operators [redacted] while attempting to identify Washington's location. Ultimately, eight of the 11 operators in the basement, including SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] fired their M4 carbines to eliminate the threat from Washington. The exchange of gunfire consisted of multiple volleys as operators worked to identify, locate, and neutralize the threat. In the course of the gunfire exchange, SA [redacted] received a gunshot wound to the left leg, which shattered his tibia. Through forensic examination, a bullet jacket fragment recovered from SA [redacted] s leg was determined to have characteristics similar to the .223 caliber ammunition used in the SWAT operators' M4 carbines. It could not be conclusively determined whether the bullet was fired from one of the SWAT operators' carbines; however, Washington was not equipped with a .223 caliber firearm. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 3:12 a.m., SA [redacted] was assisted to evacuate from the basement under his own power. As the remaining operators continued to address the threat from Washington and render aid to SA [redacted] they observed a fire had started in the northwest quadrant of the basement. Observing Washington appeared to be deceased from multiple gunshot wounds, SA [redacted] removed a black, .40 caliber Glock 22 pistol which was lying on top of Washington's body and placed it on a nearby clothes dryer. The rapidly intensifying fire forced the SWAT team to evacuate the basement with haste and prevented them from removing Washington's body. Operators dragged and carried SA [redacted] up the stairs as the basement filled with smoke. By 3:17 a.m., all operators had escaped the burning residence, with b6 -1 b7C -1

[redacted] The two wounded Agents were transported to Barnes-Jewish Hospital for treatment. SAC Woods responded to the scene upon notification of shots fired and assumed on-scene command. b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) The 11/27/2014 autopsy report of the St. Louis County Medical Examiner concluded Washington's manner of death was suicide, and the immediate cause of death was a self-inflicted gunshot wound to the head. The entry wound, on the right side of Washington's head, exhibited characteristics of a contact wound, to include a muzzle abrasion and stippling. FBI LD Firearms/Toolmarks Unit (FTU) concluded a bullet fragment removed from Washington's brain was fired from a polygonally rifled barrel, indicative of a firearm manufactured by Glock.

(U//~~FOUO~~) In addition to the self-inflicted gunshot wound, the autopsy identified 16 additional gunshot wounds sustained during the exchange of gunfire with the SWAT team, as well as post-mortem thermal injuries from the fire. Several bullets and fragments associated with prior injuries of unknown origin were also recovered during the autopsy.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Ten of the 11 SWAT operators who were present in the basement provided voluntary Signed Sworn Statements (SSS) during the SIRT on-site. SA [redacted]'s SSS was delayed until 2/05/2015 due to his medical status and his request to provide a compelled SSS. No outside law enforcement agency representative discharged a weapon or sustained an injury during the incident. A Laboratory Shooting Reconstruction Team (LSRT) collected and submitted evidence retrieved from the crime scene, which was extensively contaminated from fire and water damage. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) The SLCC Bomb and Arson Unit conducted an investigation into the cause of the fire within the house, and concluded the cause of the fire was undetermined. The SLCC investigation noted the presence of combustible materials in the northwest corner of the basement, where the fire began, and concluded [redacted] could not be eliminated as a cause of the fire. b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/06/2015, Richard G. Callahan, the United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Missouri, declined to issue charges against the Agents involved in the shooting incident. On 10/28/2015, Robert C. McCulloch, St. Louis County Prosecuting Attorney, issued a written declination of prosecution in the death of Major Washington.

II. Incident Details

a. Substantive Case Files and Background Information

(U//~~FOUO~~) Because the St. Louis SWAT team was providing immediate assistance to a local enforcement agency, there was no pending FBI investigative file at the time of the shooting incident. As a result of the Agent-Involved Shooting, the St. Louis Field Office opened an Assault on a Federal Officer investigation:

c. Case Review and Operational Briefings

(U//~~FOUO~~) After receiving a request for assistance from SLCPD at approximately 7:00 p.m. on 11/25/2014, St. Louis SWAT and tactical elements deployed to a staging area near [redacted] St. Louis, Missouri. At approximately 9:00 p.m., an operational briefing was delivered by STL [redacted] to all assembled FBI and DEA personnel; to include SWAT, TOC, SABTs, and CNs. STL [redacted] utilized an FBI SWAT Operations Unit (SOU)-issued Situation, Mission, Execution, Action, Control (SMEAC) card as a template. The card contained the FBI Deadly Force Policy, which STL [redacted] read verbatim. STL [redacted] explained the overall strategy, the delivery plan for movement into a danger area, the areas of responsibility for FBI and DEA personnel, the order of movement, and individual responsibilities. Assembled FBI and DEA personnel were informed Washington was a suspect in the 11/24/2014 homicide of his mother and the shooting of a responding UCPD officer, and was considered armed and dangerous. Additionally, personnel were informed the legal resident of [redacted] an associate of Washington named [redacted] also known as "[redacted]" said Washington was inside the house with a gun and had expressed his intent to commit suicide by cop. SWAT operators were briefed the objective was to determine whether Washington was in the house, establish communications with him, and negotiate his surrender. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

d. Events Leading Up to the Shooting

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 11/25/2014, UCPD requested the assistance of SLCPD to apprehend Washington after receiving information he was located inside a residence at [redacted] b6 -2 b7C -2 Due to the ongoing violent protests in nearby Ferguson, Missouri, the SLCPD tactical team, which ordinarily would have provided support to UCPD, was unavailable.

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 7:00 p.m. on 11/25/2014, SLCPD Chief Jon M. Belmar contacted SAC Woods and requested the FBI to assist the UCPD. After consulting with his CDC and OGC, SAC Woods determined FBI SWAT assistance was appropriate and agreed to deploy SWAT assets to assist UCPD. In addition, SAC Woods requested DEA tactical resources to augment the effort. SAC Woods had previously arranged for Title 18 deputation for the St. Louis DEA SWAT team in anticipation of joint operations.

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 9:00 p.m. on 11/25/2014, FBI tactical elements, including SWAT, TOC, SABTs, and CNs, arrived at a staging area near [redacted] FBI assets included a [redacted] FBI, DEA, UCPD, and SLCPD assets were present at the scene, with ASAC [redacted] as the On-Scene Commander (OSC). SAC Woods monitored the operation from the CP at the field office. UCPD maintained a perimeter around the residence until FBI SWAT arrived. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2 b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) The OSC approved an oral OPORDER to determine whether Washington was in the house, establish communications with him, and negotiate his surrender, with a SWAT tactical entry as the last resort. [redacted] provided consent to law enforcement to search the residence. b6 -2 b7C -2

(U//~~FOUO~~) Over the next several hours, St. Louis SWAT and CNs made numerous attempts to establish contact with Washington inside the house, utilizing a loudspeaker, a throw phone, and, as a third-party intermediary, [redacted]

e. Shooting Incident Details

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 2:53 a.m. on 11/26/2014, SWAT made entry into the residence, [redacted] SWAT cleared the ground floor of the residence [redacted] According to the approved plan, at approximately 3:02 a.m. [redacted] b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 3:07 a.m., the SWAT STL [redacted] down the basement stairs, [redacted] at the base of the stairs, in the southwest corner of the basement. The STL and 10 SWAT operators then descended the stairs, announced their presence, and began to clear the basement. The basement was extremely cluttered with furniture, storage units, and large volumes of clothing which was piled on the floor and stored in hanging and upright wardrobe bags. Operators were forced to navigate through narrow pathways carved through the clutter in the basement, slowing the pace of the clearing operation. Operators split into teams to clear sectors of the basement. At approximately 3:10 a.m., SA [redacted] working his way north along the western wall of the basement, approached a large, portable wardrobe closet standing upright near the washer and dryer on the northwest side of the basement. At the same time, SA [redacted] approached the upright wardrobe from the north. With SA [redacted] providing cover, SA [redacted] began to open the zipper on the front of the wardrobe. Observing motion inside, SA [redacted] recoiled, and was struck in the left clavicle by a round fired from inside the wardrobe. He fell to the floor, crawled to a position of cover, and returned fire with his M4 from a seated position. The round which struck SA [redacted] fractured his clavicle and lodged in his shoulder strap armor insert. b7E -1 b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) In response to the threat, SA [redacted] fired his M4 into the wardrobe from a standing position beside it. Other operators initially had difficulty pinpointing the source of the hostile gunfire; however, upon identifying the wardrobe as the source of the hostile gunfire, SA [redacted] SA [redacted] STL [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] discharged their weapons to eliminate the threat. In all, eight of the 11 operators fired M4 carbines during the course of the exchange of gunfire. Additionally, SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] [redacted] The exchange of gunfire consisted of multiple volleys as operators worked to identify, locate, and neutralized the threat. In the course of the exchange of gunfire, SA [redacted] received a gunshot wound to his left leg, which shattered his tibia. It was later determined through forensic and visual examinations performed by LD, FTU, and TD, Ballistics Research Facility (BRF), the bullet which struck SA [redacted] had characteristics similar to ammunition fired from .223 caliber carbines, such as those carried by FBI SWAT operators. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 3:12 a.m., SA [redacted] evacuated the residence with the assistance of SA [redacted] and Deputy U.S. Marshal (DUSM) [redacted] who was assigned to the DEA TF. As operators remaining in the basement continued to address the threat from Washington and render aid to SA [redacted] they observed a fire had started in the northwest area b6 -1,3 b7C -1,3 of the basement. By approximately 3:15 a.m., [redacted] which was beginning to spread throughout the structure. SWAT operators determined Washington appeared to be deceased from multiple gunshot wounds. SA [redacted] removed a black, Glock 22 .40 caliber pistol from Washington's chest and placed it atop a nearby clothes dryer. Operators evacuated the residence at approximately 3:15 a.m. as the basement filled with smoke. Several operators reported they were at the point of losing consciousness from smoke inhalation while ascending the basement stairs; however, operators did not seek medical treatment for smoke inhalation and did not report lingering effects from exposure to smoke. All operators evacuated the residence by 3:17 a.m, at which time smoke was clearly visible [redacted] emanating from the chimney as well as ground floor windows. The urgency of the evacuation from the basement precluded the removal of Washington's body. Agents [redacted] were transported to Barnes-Jewish Hospital for treatment of gunshot wounds to the left clavicle and left leg, respectively.

f. Post Shooting Details

(U//~~FOUO~~) Upon the notification of shots fired, SAC Woods immediately responded to the scene and coordinated the response with UCPD and SLCPD. SAC Woods made notification of the shooting to the Deputy Director and CID AD Joseph S. Campbell.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Washington's body was recovered after the fire was extinguished and the scene was secured. Washington was pronounced dead at 10:32 a.m. on 11/26/2014 by St. Louis County Medicolegal Examiner [redacted] Washington's body was later transported to the St. Louis County Medical Examiner's facility for an autopsy. The autopsy was conducted on 11/27/2014.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Signed Sworn Statements of 11 SWAT operators and interviews of over 40 FBI Agents, DEA Agents, DEA TFOs, and local police officers were documented. The statements corroborated the accounting of the shooting made by the SWAT operators, and were consistent with the physical evidence. No other law enforcement officers outside of the FBI fired their weapons or were injured.

g. Accounting of Shots Fired

(U//~~FOUO~~) The LD FTU examined 69 .223 cartridge casings from SWAT operator weapons recovered at the scene. Of the 69 cartridge casings, 64 were attributed to specific weapons. The remaining five cartridge casings lacked sufficient microscopic marks of value to be attributed to specific weapons. Although eight SWAT operators stated they fired their weapons, cartridge casings could be attributed to only seven weapons. Because five cartridge casings could not be associated with a specific weapon and because some operators were unable to report exactly how many rounds were loaded in their magazines, complete attribution of rounds fired to SWAT weapons could not be achieved.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Subject Weapon

(U//~~FOUO~~) Washington fired at least three rounds from a Glock 22, .40 caliber pistol, Serial # [redacted] based on three recovered shell casings. The Glock 22 was recovered from on top of the dryer where SA [redacted] placed it prior to evacuating the basement. The Glock 22 was recovered in an unloaded condition with the slide open, along with an empty .40 caliber Glock magazine and two unspent .40 caliber cartridges. LD, FTU determined rounds fired from the Glock 22 included the bullet recovered from SA [redacted] s shoulder strap armor insert, the bullet fragments recovered from Washington's brain, and an additional bullet jacket as well as bullet jacket fragments. Due to the high degree of scene contamination from fire and water, as well as the fragmentation of recovered items, it was not possible to conclusively determine the total number of rounds fired from Washington's weapon. The Glock 22 functioned normally when tested with the magazine seized with the pistol. No DNA or latent prints of value were recovered from the weapon.

(U//~~FOUO~~) A query of the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) database for a Glock 22, serial number [redacted] was performed but no record was located. An FBI Trace Summary Report revealed the weapon was purchased legally from a Shooters Shack in Poplar Bluff, Missouri on 03/12/2013 by an individual residing in [redacted], Missouri. The original buyer re-sold the weapon privately to a buyer in [redacted] Missouri, in approximately June 2013. The second owner re-sold the weapon privately in early 2014 to an individual residing in [redacted], Missouri. The third owner reported the weapon stolen to the St. Louis Metropolitan Police Department on 09/27/2014; however, the victim did not provide the serial number at the time of the theft. The owner reported the weapon stolen from his vehicle while parked at the City Museum in St. Louis.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/26/2015, the UCPD took possession from the FBI of Washington's weapon in furtherance of the ongoing investigation into the homicide of Washington's mother.

(U//~~FOUO~~) An NCIC criminal history record included arrests for possession of controlled substances, burglary, assault of a law enforcement officer, and resisting arrest. A review of Missouri Department of Corrections records revealed Washington was incarcerated from 06/14/2006 through 10/12/2006 and 04/22/2011 through 01/05/2014. As a result of the 11/22/2015 and 11/24/2015 incidents at his mother's residence, the UCPD issued a "wanted" notification in the Regional Justice Information Service (REJIS) for Washington pending formal charges, which had not been issued at the time of Washington's death.

i. Body Armor and Law Enforcement Identifiers

(U//~~FOUO~~) All members of the St. Louis FBI SWAT team wore ballistic helmets and [redacted] body armor with FBI flaps displayed in the front and back. b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) TD, Defensive Systems Unit (DSU) inspected the armor kit worn by SA [redacted] during the incident. The body armor was manufactured by [redacted] was Model [redacted] In addition, SA [redacted] wore an [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

[redacted]

(U//~~FOUO~~) DSU examination indicated no damage to the front or rear armor panels of SA [redacted]'s armor kit; however, SA [redacted]'s left shoulder strap insert sustained severe damage from the bullet fired by Washington, which was encapsulated in the ballistic shoulder strap insert. DSU asserted without the augmentation of the shoulder armor inserts, SA [redacted] would have sustained a penetration in the area of his left clavicle. DSU assessed the [redacted] shoulder strap armor inserts performed as designed. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

j. Forensic Summary

(U//~~FOUO~~) St. Louis Field Office ERT processed the scene. Items recovered included 69 .223 caliber cartridge casings, a Glock 22 (.40 caliber) pistol, three .40 caliber cartridge casings, and numerous bullets, bullet jackets, and bullet jacket fragments. Additionally, ERT seized bullets, bullet jackets, and bullet fragments recovered from Washington's body subsequent to his autopsy. All of this evidence was examined by LD.

(U//~~FOUO~~) During the exchange of gunfire with Washington, SA [redacted] sustained a gunshot wound to his left leg. No photographs of the gunshot wound were obtained because the severity of the injury necessitated emergency surgery. INSD subsequently obtained medical records relating to the treatment of the gunshot wound at Barnes-Jewish Hospital. Surgical records indicated the bullet entered SA [redacted]'s left leg at mid-calf, transited the leg, inflicting a comminuted fracture of the left tibia, and exited on the right side of the calf. The round shattered on impact, producing shrapnel which lodged in the soft tissue of SA [redacted]'s leg. A quantity of small shrapnel was visually and radioscopically observed but was not removed, with the exception of a single bullet jacket fragment which was removed from SA [redacted]'s leg and processed by LD, FTU. FTU determined the bullet jacket fragment was from a barrel rifled with lands and grooves with a right twist, consistent with FBI-issued .223 carbines. Due to a lack of corresponding microscopic marks of value, no conclusion could be reached as to whether the bullet jacket fragment was fired from a SWAT operator's weapon; however, the rifling was similar to the rifling produced by the SWAT operators' weapons.

(U//~~FOUO~~) In order to determine the caliber of the bullet jacket fragment, DSU's Ballistic Research Facility (BRF) test fired .223 and .40 caliber rounds into clothing similar to that worn by SA [redacted] on 11/26/2014. BRF utilized a Glock 22 pistol and a current FBI issue .223 carbine to conduct the test. All shots were fired at a distance of 10 feet. BRF conducted a visual comparison of the bullet holes in the clothing worn by SA [redacted] and the bullet holes test-fired into similar clothing. BRF concluded the holes in SA [redacted]'s clothing were similar in appearance to the .223 test shots. The .40 caliber test shots were noticeably larger in diameter than the holes in SA [redacted]'s clothing. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) BRF examined the the bullet holes test-fired into clothing similar to that worn by SA [redacted] which resulted from direct fire, and observed they were round, symmetrical, and clean-edged in appearance, consistent with the bullet holes in SA [redacted]'s trousers and thermal undergarments. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) LD, FTU conducted a visual inspection of the bullet holes in the clothing worn by SA [redacted] on 11/26/2014. SA [redacted]'s tactical trousers and thermal undergarment both contained two small, round, symmetrical bullet holes on either side of the left leg at mid-calf, consistent with the track of the bullet as described in the medical records. The trousers and undergarments were microscopically examined and chemically processed for gunshot residues. A muzzle-to-target distance could not be determined based upon the available forensic evidence.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Based upon available forensic evidence and examination by LD and BRF, the SIRT investigation concluded SA [redacted] was likely shot by direct fire from a .223 firearm and hence, through elimination, by a SWAT operator's M4 carbine. The bullet jacket fragment recovered from SA [redacted]'s leg lacked sufficient lands and grooves to forensically b6 -1 b7C -1 associate it with an identified operator weapon. Although it was not possible through firearm/toolmark or trajectory analysis to correlate the fragment recovered from SA [redacted] with an individual operator's weapon, SA [redacted]'s account of the incident suggested he was shot early in the exchange of gunfire, before most operators had returned fire. Additionally, several operators were aware SA [redacted] had been shot prior to discharging their own weapons. b6 -1 b7C

(U//~~FOUO~~) Major Washington Injuries and Cause of Death:

(U//~~FOUO~~) A .223 caliber copper jacketed bullet was removed from Washington's right shoulder. This bullet was forensically determined to have been fired from SA [redacted]'s weapon. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Two .223 caliber copper jacketed bullets were removed from Washington's left buttock and Washington's lower spine, respectively. These two bullets were forensically determined to have been fired from SA [redacted]'s weapon.

(U//~~FOUO~~) A .38 caliber/9mm copper jacketed bullet was removed from Washington's right arm. A check of the FBI Laboratory's General Rifling Characteristics (GRC) database produced a list of firearms with GRCs like those present on this bullet, including pistols and revolvers marketed by Colt, Davis Industries, and Smith and Wesson. The autopsy report characterized the bullet as an "old bullet fragment."

(U//~~FOUO~~) A copper jacket bullet fragment fired from a polygonally rifled barrel (indicative of a firearm manufactured by Glock) and several lead fragments were removed from Washington's brain. The associated gunshot wound of the right temporal scalp had a muzzle abrasion and stippling, indicatative of a contact wound. There was a corresponding exit wound on the left temporal scalp. The autopsy report indicated the wound was fatal.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The autopsy of Washington was conducted on 11/27/2014 by St. Louis County Assistant Medical Examiner [redacted] MD. The autopsy determined the manner of death was suicide, and the immediate cause of death was a self-inflicted gunshot wound to the head. The autopsy identified 17 total gunshot wounds, to include the self-inflicted gunshot wound to the head and 16 additional gunshot wounds. In addition, the autopsy identified several bullets and bullet fragments in Washington's back, liver, and right arm which the autopsy report characterized as "old bullet fragments." The toxicology report revealed the presence of cannabinoids in Washington's system at the time of his autopsy. b6 -4 b7C -4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Cartridge Casings

(U//~~FOUO~~) Sixty-nine .223 cartridge casings were recovered subsequent to the incident. Due to a lack of sufficient corresponding microscopic marks of value, no conclusion could be reached to attribute five of the .223 cartridge casings to specific weapons. The remaining 64 .223 cartridge casings were attributed to the SWAT operators as identified in the Accounting of Shots Fired section of this report.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Three .40 caliber cartridge casings recovered at the scene were identified as having been fired from Washington's pistol.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] M4 Carbine b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/13/2015, DSU conducted an inpection and testing of all SWAT weapons involved in the St. Louis AIS on 11/26/2014. Colt M4A1, serial number [redacted] assigned to SA [redacted] was inspected and while the selector/safety was present, DSU determined it was not fully functional. Specifically, there was no positive detent engagement to maintain the selector position in the safe, semi auto, or full automatic position. DSU determined there was an indication the grip was removed and re-installed improperly, causing the spring to be bent and the detent to fail. The spring for the detent was observed bent over and trapped between the grip and the lower receiver. Given this condition, while shooting in the semi-automatic mode, it was possible for the selector to move to fully automatic.

(U//~~FOUO~~) LD's forensic examination of recovered rounds identified four rounds fired from SA [redacted]'s weapon, including one recovered from Major Washington's body. In his SSS, SA [redacted] reported having fired 15 rounds during the exchange of gunfire. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 10/30/2015, SA [redacted] was interviewed by INSD. He acknowledged having removed the grip of his assigned M4 carbine the evening of 11/25/2014 in order to replace the standard-issue grip with an approved Hogue rubber grip he acquired while assigned to Atlanta several years earlier. SA [redacted] had long intended to replace the standard grip, which had a slick texture, with the rubber Hogue grip. The Hogue grip did not come with any instructions, and SA [redacted] was not aware replacing the grip could impair the function of the firearm. He was not aware Bureau policy required all alterations to assigned firearms be performed by FBI gunsmiths. SA [redacted] confirmed his M4 carbine functioned normally in semi-automatic mode on 11/26/2014, and he did not experience any malfunctions with the weapon.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Firearms Policy Directive and Policy Guide stated, "FBI gunsmiths must conduct alterations to, repairs to, and refinishing of assigned firearms; no other FBI personnel are authorized to alter FBI firearms or Bureau-approved POWs.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Investigation into the fire at [redacted] b6 -2 b7C -2

(U//~~FOUO~~) The SLCC Bomb and Arson Unit conducted an investigation into the cause of the fire which started in the basement. The area of origin of the fire was identified as the southeast corner of quadrant H-4 (the northwest quadrant of the basement), in the area of two mattresses adjacent to a futon. Fire investigators noted the area of origin contained a very large amount of combustible materials including clothing, mattresses, corrugated boxes, and ignitable liquids which could have been easily ignited by a competent ignition source. Fire investigators determined the fire originated above ground level in the basement, based on a lack of fire damage to combustible materials at or near ground level, even in the area of origin.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SLCC fire investigators noted [redacted] b7E -1

[redacted] fire investigators determined no research could be found regarding [redacted] as a competent ignition source of fire and how they could contribute to fire spread.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Fire investigators concluded all accidental causative factors could not be eliminated because of the significant alteration of the fire scene prior to the arrival of the fire investigators, and because the lack of competent research on [redacted] as a source of ignition. Based on the fire scene examination and the information available at the time of their investigation, it was the combined opinion of the participating fire investigators the cause of the fire was undetermined; however, fire investigators concluded [redacted] in the direction of Washington may have provided a competent ignition source for the combustible materials and ignitable liquids located in the area of origin and could not be eliminated as a cause of the fire. b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] The Barnes-Jewish Hospital Emergency Room summary report indicated a comminuted fracture of SA [redacted]'s tibia and the presence of a large bullet fragment. SA [redacted] was discharged from the hospital on 11/30/2014, although his medical treatment continued. Subsequent to the incident, SA [redacted] was placed in the following administrative status with the FBI, where he remained: Leave Without Pay – Office of Workers' Compensation Programs. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] The Barnes-Jewish Hospital Emergency Room summary report indicated a fracture of SA [redacted]'s left clavicle and the presence of a bullet fragment inside the wound. There was no evidence bullet fragments traveled beyond SA [redacted]s clavicle. SA [redacted] was discharged from the hospital on 11/27/2014 . Subsequent to the incident, SA [redacted] was placed in the following administrative status with the FBI, where he remained: Leave Without Pay – Office of Workers' Compensation Programs. b6 -1 b7C -1

IV. Shooting Incident Review Protocol

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 11/26/2014, Chief Inspector David Paul Gelios notified IIC Kathryn Peterson and Inspector Trent R. Teyema of a shooting incident at [redacted] in St. Louis, Missouri. IIC Peterson and the other Inspection Team members arranged logistics for travel to St. Louis.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 11/27/2014, the SIRT traveled to St. Louis and reviewed the Inspection Division shooting review protocol. One member of the SIRT observed the autopsy of Washington while the remainder of the SIRT viewed the crime scene.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 11/28/2014, IIC Peterson, Inspector Teyema, and the SIRT members met with St. Louis EM. IIC Peterson and Inspector Teyema also met with the Agents involved in the shooting along with the management to explain the SIRT process and its protocols. The UCPD and SLCPD Chiefs indicated there would be no investigation of the FBI Agent Involved Shooting by their respective agencies.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 11/28/2014, IIC Peterson and Inspector Teyema met with the US Attorney's Office and DEA EM.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Eleven SSSs were taken from the FBI Agents involved in the shooting incident. One SSS was compelled at the request of SA [redacted] who executed an FD-645 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Required to Provide Information). Approval to compel SA [redacted] s statement was received from DOJ, CRD on 01/15/2014. An FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Request to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident) was executed by the 10 Agents who provided voluntary SSSs. Other interviews, events, and observations were documented via FD-302s. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 12/01/2014, an EAP crisis team led by UC [redacted] arrived to support St. Louis personnel as a result of the shooting incident. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 12/02/2014, IIC Peterson provided an exit brief to SAC Woods, the US Attorney's Office, St. Louis County District Attorney's Office, UCPD, SLCPD, DEA, and the U.S. Marshals Service.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 12/02/2014, IIC Peterson and Inspector Teyema updated the DOJ, Civil Rights Division (CRD) on the outcome of the SIRT investigation.

a. Firearms Training

(U//~~FOUO~~) St. Louis Principal Firearms Instructor [redacted] provided firearms qualifications records from the Firearms Information and Registration and Shooter Tracking (FIRST) system for Agents [redacted] The rifle and pistol qualification scores of the SWAT operators for the period of 01/22/2013 to 09/04/2014 were provided to the SIRT. All members of the St. Louis SWAT team were in compliance with FBI firearms requirements. b6 -1 b7C -1

b. Deadly Force Training

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] St. Louis CDC, provided annual Deadly Force Policy briefing to all Agents within the field office. This was typically done at one of the quarterly firearms training sessions. All SWAT operators involved in the AIS received Deadly Force Policy training in 2014, as detailed below: b6 -1 b7C -1

| Date of Training | Presenter | EC | Attendees |
| 02/13/2014 | CDC [redacted] | 1Z-SL-C192793-LEGAL; Serial 385 | SAs [redacted] |

c. United States Attorney's Office Prosecutorial Decision

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/06/2015, Richard G. Callahan, the United States Attorney (USA) for the Eastern District of Missouri, provided a prosecutorial declination for Agents involved in the 11/26/2014 AIS incident. The declination was provided via letterhead to IIC Kathryn Peterson advising upon his review of the investigation conducted by INSD, USA Callahan determined the circumstances justified the involved Agents' use of deadly force.

d. Local Prosecutorial Decision

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 10/28/2015, Robert C. McCulloch, St. Louis County Prosecuting Attorney, provided a written declination of prosecution in the death of Major Washington.

e. DOJ Civil Rights Division Prosecutorial Decision

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 11/04 /2015, Deputy Chief [redacted] DOJ CRD, advised DOJ CRD concurred with declining the matter for prosecution. b6 -3 b7C -3

VI. Inspector's Draft Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 1: SWAT operators were unaware of the number of rounds loaded in their weapons and extra magazines.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 1: SAC, St. Louis, should ensure all SWAT operators have knowledge of the weapon status at all times.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 2: An unauthorized alteration was performed on a SWAT Colt M4A1, serial [redacted], assigned to SA [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

(//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 2: SAC, St. Louis, will ensure alterations to, repairs to, and refinishing of assigned firearms are conducted in accordance with the Firearms Policy Directive and Policy Guide 0741DPG.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 3: SWAT operators carried a mixture of authorized service ammunition and non-authorized ammunition, to include training rounds.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 3: SAC, St. Louis, will ensure Agents carry only authorized service ammunition while in duty status, in accordance with the Firearms Policy Directive and Policy Guide 0741DPG.

Synopsis: (U) This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) with respect to the captioned shooting following the SIRG meeting held on 11/16/2015.

Details:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 11/16/2015, the SIRG reviewed an 11/26/2014 Agent-involved Shooting (AIS) that occurred in the St. Louis Field Office AOR.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 11/26/2014, the St. Louis Field Office SWAT team was involved in an AIS while attempting to apprehend Major Earl Washington in St. Louis, Missouri. Washington was a suspect in the 11/24/2014 homicide of his mother, as well as the non-fatal shooting of a responding University City Police Department (UCPD) officer. After firing from concealment during a SWAT clearing operation, striking a SWAT operator in the shoulder, Washington was shot multiple times by FBI SWAT operators, and died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound to the head. In the exchange of gunfire, a second FBI SWAT operator sustained a gunshot wound to the leg from what was later assessed to be friendly fire. The Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) arrived in St. Louis on 11/27/2014.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The St. Louis FBI SWAT team was deployed in response to a request by the St. Louis County Police Department (SLCPD), which had been contacted by UCPD for assistance in apprehending Washington after receiving information regarding his whereabouts. SLCPD's tactical team was occupied with the ongoing violent protests in Ferguson, Missouri. At the request of SLCPD, and after consulting with the St. Louis CDC and OGC, SAC William P. Woods directed SWAT and other tactical assets to assist UCPD.

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 9:00 p.m. on 11/25/2014, FBI tactical elements arrived at a staging area near [redacted] a single-family residence in St. Louis where UCPD had determined Washington was located. FBI ASAC [redacted] was the On-Scene Commander (OSC). SAC Woods monitored the operation from the CP at the field office. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

(U//~~FOUO~~) Over the next several hours, St. Louis SWAT and Crisis Negotiators (CNs) made numerous attempts to establish contact with Washington utilizing a loudspeaker, a throw phone, and a third-party intermediary. [redacted] b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 12:30 a.m. on 11/26/2014, a St. Louis County and City (SLCC) Bomb and Arson Unit [redacted] was utilized to clear most of the interior first floor of the house and visually inspect a portion of the basement through two ground-level windows. [redacted] SAC Woods decided against [redacted] because the DEA SWAT team providing perimeter security was not equipped with [redacted] b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) After all attempts to confirm Washington's presence in the residence were unsuccessful, SAC Woods authorized an FBI SWAT tactical entry of the residence, to include [redacted] b7E -1 [redacted] At approximately 2:53 a.m. on 11/26/2014, the SWAT team made entry into the residence, cleared the ground floor, and visually inspected the attic. At approximately 3:02 a.m., a UCPD K-9 was released into the basement in an attempt to determine Washington's location. The K-9 returned to the handler without alerting to the presence of an individual in the basement.

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 3:07 a.m., the SWAT team, consisting of the Senior Team Leader (STL) and 10 operators, descended the stairs from the first floor and began clearing the basement. At approximately 3:10 a.m., SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] approached a large, portable wardrobe in the northwest quadrant of the basement. As SA [redacted] pulled the zipper to open the wardrobe, Washington fired a Glock 22 .40 caliber pistol from a seated position of concealment inside, striking SA [redacted] in the left shoulder. SA [redacted] fell to the floor and returned fire with his M4 carbine from a seated position. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Responding to the threat from a standing position beside the wardrobe, SA [redacted] also fired his M4 carbine at Washington. The remaining nine operators heard gunshots but initially struggled to pinpoint the source of the hostile gunfire. Three operators [redacted] while attempting to identify Washington's location. Ultimately, eight of the 11 operators in the basement, including SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] fired their M4 carbines to eliminate the threat from Washington. The exchange of gunfire consisted of multiple volleys as operators worked to identify, locate, and neutralize the threat. In the course of the gunfire exchange, SA [redacted] received a gunshot wound to the left leg, which shattered his tibia. Through forensic examination, a bullet jacket fragment recovered from SA [redacted]'s leg was determined to have characteristics similar to the .223 caliber ammunition used in the SWAT operators' M4 carbines. It could not be forensically determined whether the bullet was fired from one of the SWAT operators' carbines; however, Washington was not equipped with a .223 caliber firearm. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

Title: (U) St. Louis 11/26/2014 Agent-Involved Shooting

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 3:12 a.m., SA [redacted] was assisted to evacuate from the basement under his own power. As the remaining operators continued to address the threat from Washington and render aid to SA [redacted], they observed a fire had started in the northwest quadrant of the basement. Observing Washington appeared to be deceased from multiple gunshot wounds, SA [redacted] removed a black, .40 caliber Glock 22 pistol which was lying on top of Washington's body and placed it on a nearby clothes dryer. The rapidly intensifying fire forced the SWAT team to evacuate the basement with haste and prevented them from removing Washington's body. Operators dragged and carried SA [redacted] up the stairs as the basement filled with smoke. By 3:17 a.m., all operators had escaped the burning residence, with heat signatures and smoke clearly visible [redacted] The two wounded Agents were transported to Barnes-Jewish Hospital for treatment. SAC Woods responded to the scene upon notification of shots fired and assumed on-scene command.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The 11/27/2014 autopsy report of the St. Louis County Medical Examiner concluded Washington's manner of death was suicide, and the immediate cause of death was a self-inflicted gunshot wound to the head. The entry wound, on the right side of Washington's head, exhibited characteristics of a contact wound, to include a muzzle abrasion and stippling. FBI LD Firearms/Toolmarks Unit (FTU) concluded a bullet fragment removed from Washington's brain was fired from a polygonally rifled barrel, indicative of a firearm manufactured by Glock.

(U//~~FOUO~~) In addition to the self-inflicted gunshot wound, the autopsy identified 16 additional gunshot wounds sustained during the exchange of gunfire with the SWAT team, as well as post-mortem thermal injuries from the fire. Several bullets and fragments associated with prior injuries of unknown origin were also recovered during the autopsy.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Ten of the 11 SWAT operators who were present in the basement provided voluntary Signed Sworn Statements (SSS) during the SIRT on-site. SA [redacted]'s SSS was delayed until 2/05/2015 due to his medical status and his request to provide a compelled SSS. No outside law enforcement agency representative discharged a weapon or sustained an injury during the incident. A Laboratory Shooting Reconstruction Team (LSRT) collected and submitted evidence retrieved from the crime scene, which was extensively contaminated from fire and water damage.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The SLCC Bomb and Arson Unit conducted an investigation into the cause of the fire within the house, and concluded the cause of the fire was undetermined. The SLCC investigation noted the presence of combustible materials in the northwest corner of the basement, where the fire began, and concluded [redacted] could not be eliminated as a cause of the fire. b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/06/2015, Richard G. Callahan, the United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Missouri, declined to issue charges against the Agents involved in the shooting incident. On 10/28/2015, Robert C. McCulloch, St. Louis County Prosecuting Attorney, issued a written declination of prosecution in the death of Major Washington.

SIRG Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 11/16/2015, the SIRG reviewed the St. Louis AIS with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The SIRG determined the application of deadly force by each of the SWAT operators who discharged their weapons was justified under the DOJ Deadly Force Policy.

2. Provide the Director with evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions concerning operational planning and execution, training, and/or safety issues.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 1: St. Louis SWAT operators were unaware of the number of rounds loaded in their weapons and extra magazines.

Title: (U) St. Louis 11/26/2014 Agent-Involved Shooting

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 1a: Signed Sworn Statements of St. Louis SWAT operators revealed some were unaware of the number of rounds loaded in their weapons and extra magazines.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 1b: The Firearms Policy Directive and Policy Guide 0741DPG Section 4.1.1 stated, "All SAs are responsible for knowing the loaded condition (total number of rounds) of their pistols and/or shoulder weapons and must be prepared to report that number in connection with any post-incident debriefings, reviews, or investigations."

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 1: SAC, St. Louis, will ensure all Agents have knowledge of the total number of rounds contained in their weapon(s) and extra magazines in accordance with the Firearms Policy Directive and Policy Guide 0741DPG.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 2: An unauthorized alteration was performed on a SWAT Colt M4A1, serial [redacted], assigned to SA [redacted]. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2a: Colt M4A1, serial [redacted] was tested and inspected by DSU gunsmiths on 08/13/2015. While the selector/safety wa s present on this rifle, it was not fully functional. There was no positive detent engagement to maintain the selector position in safe, semi automatic, or full automatic positions. This was an indication the grip was removed and re-installed improperly causing the spring to be bent and the detent to fail.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2b: SA [redacted] was interviewed by INSD on 10/30/2015. SA [redacted] acknowledged he unilaterally replaced the grip on Colt M4A1, serial [redacted]. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2c: The Firearms Policy Directive and Policy Guide 0741DPG Section 4.10 stated, "FBI gunsmiths must conduct alterations to, repairs to, and refinishing of assigned firearms; no other FBI personnel are authorized to alter FBI firearms or Bureau-approved POWs."

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 2: SAC, St. Louis, will ensure alterations to, repairs to, and refinishing of assigned firearms are conducted in accordance with the Firearms Policy Directive and Policy Guide 0741DPG.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 3: SWAT operators carried a mixture of authorized service ammunition and training ammunition.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 3a: LD examined the unspent .223 caliber cartridges collected from all magazines carried by SWAT operators involved in the shooting incident. TD's Ballistic Research Facility and Defensive Systems Units also examined the collected unspent .223 caliber cartridges. The collective examination identified the presence of training ammunition within magazines carried by some SWAT operators involved in the shooting incident.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 3b: The Firearms Policy Directive and Policy Guide 0741DPG Section 4.9 stated, "SAs must only load their Bureau-approved firearms with ammunition provided or authorized by the FBI. Only authorized service ammunition may be used for duty carry."

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 3: SAC, St. Louis, will ensure Agents carry only authorized service ammunition while in duty status, in accordance with the Firearms Policy Directive and Policy Guide 0741DPG.

3. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The SIRG found the actions of the SWAT operators who discharged their weapons to be justified under the DOJ Deadly Force Policy and did not recommend any administrative action be taken against any of them.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Deputy Assistant Director Ronald Twersky, INSD, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting Board Member. The following Board Members were in attendance: Chief Inspector Timothy M. Feeney, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; Deputy Chief [redacted] Civil Rights

Case ID #: 297-HQ-A1271801-D (U) SHOOTING INCIDENTS

Synopsis: (U) This report is an overall review of investigations, interviews and evidence collection regarding the shooting incident injuring SA [redacted] during OCD SWAT training on 1/10/2013. b6 -1 b7C -1

Details:

This report will address an incident during Oklahoma City SWAT firearms training which was conducted at the Edmond Oklahoma Police Department Firearms range and shoot house. The scheduled training took place on 1/10/2013. The event involved SWAT team member SA [redacted] firing a round that ultimately struck SWAT Team member SA [redacted] in the upper leg. Appropriate Headquarters entities, including Inspection Division, were notified of the situation and the shooting inquiry was delegated to Oklahoma City Division (OCD). b6 -1 b7C -1

The Oklahoma City SWAT Team Leader SA [redacted] scheduled training for 1/10/2013, which included instruction and training regarding the use of flash bang devices and conducting close quarter battle (CQB) training. SA [redacted] was appointed SWAT Team Leader in 2008. The group was to initially gather at OCD training room and then training would be moved to the Edmond PD range on East Danforth b6 -1 b7C -1

(Information in this report is based on a collection of accounts supplied through interviews of the above listed participants, collection of documents, ERT reports, medical records, and various external interviews, as well as on site observations. This investigation was supervised by ASAC [redacted] and coordinated by SSAs [redacted] Interviews were conducted by OCD SSAs including: SSA [redacted] SSA [redacted], SSA [redacted], SSA [redacted], SSA [redacted], SSA [redacted], SSA [redacted], SSA [redacted], SSA [redacted] and SSA [redacted])

On 1/10/13, SWAT Team members met as directed at 8:15 AM in the second floor (smaller) training room at OCD HQ office. SA [redacted] provided information regarding future expected operations and training. He also provided a Power Point presentation on the use and deployment of flash bangs. Accounts vary regarding the exact time of completion but sometime between 9:30 AM and 10:30 AM the team departed for the Edmond PD firearms range (hereafter "the range"). It was noted there would be live flash bang training and live fire CQB exercises at the range.

Once at the range, members parked in the area designated near the shoot house. SA [redacted] conducted demonstrations of the proper handling and deployment of flash bangs in the open range area. Several of the operators with less experience using flash bangs were instructed and allowed to throw live flash bangs in this setting. b6 -1 b7C -1

[redacted] Sergeant, Edmond PD [redacted] provided a briefing on use of the shoot house. Members recalled this briefing occurred after the flash bang training and immediately before breaking for lunch or occurred immediately after lunch but before any shoot house training was initiated. In this briefing, [redacted] conducted a verbal brief and walk through of at least a portion of the shoot house. Within this brief, [redacted] noted numerous issues. Primary among them was past damage done to the shoot house by another law enforcement agency during misuse of the facility. Some members recalled this misuse involved repeatedly shooting inappropriate walls and support posts of the shoot house. The interior shoot house rooms were shown to team members and descriptions of which walls should not be shot were provided. It was also noted shots above a specified height should not be made due to the trajectory of the bullet and the height of the earth berm which acts as the backstop for rounds fired. b6 -4 b7C -4

An examination of the Edmond shoot house shows it to be a rectangular fully covered single story structure with a metal roof. The outside dimensions of the shoot house are 60 ft. by 36 ft. The structure has telephone type poles as primary supports. Interior walls are constructed using panels of approximately one quarter inch plywood. The exterior walls of the house are made of fiberboard and 2x4s. Wall supports throughout the shoot house are predominately 2x4s. The floor of the facility is asphalt. The height of the roof, at its peak is approximately 20 ft., with a gap at the top to allow outside light into the house. In the scenario involving this shooting, the house was configured with 16 rooms. Some interior walls of the shoot house have the ability to be moved, reconfiguring the interior layout of the facility. Some walls have doorway gaps in them for "room entry" abilities. The house is surrounded by earth berms on three sides which serve as the backstop for bullets fired within the house. The berms height is estimated to be approximately 12 to 13 ft. tall. The fourth side of the house is open to the parking lot and is where the initial entry door is positioned. When using simunitions, 360 degree target placement was allowed inside the shoot house. Photographs of the shoot house, exterior and interior, were taken by OCD ERT following the shooting incident in question. In addition, ERT drafted a diagram depicting the shoot house as it was configured at the time of the shooting event in question. This diagram was used by SSAs during interviews of the SWAT Team. The alpha labeling of the rooms on the diagram was done by ERT members.

Interviews with the SWAT Team members varied on the exact comments made by [redacted] in his brief regarding which walls were allowed to be fired at during live fire exercises. Some members recall hearing only exterior walls were allowed to be used for target placement and shooting in live fire exercises. Others do not recall such a specific statement. Experience levels of the SWAT Team operators varied but all had been to the Edmond PD Range in the past and all had used the Edmond PD shoot house in the past. However, there were some operators who used the shoot house only for simunitions training. For these operators, it was the first participation in live fire exercises in Edmond PD's shoot house. Many of the operators noted they had been involved in training in other shoot houses at other ranges, some of which involved live fire exercises. Live fire exercises, by most accounts of those interviewed, required shooting at only exterior walls. SA [redacted] in his statement, noted he had been to the Edmond PD range "several times" and he had used the Edmond PD shoot house "multiple times." SA [redacted] also explained he had participated in LETTS training at the Edmond PD range in May of 2012, which involved the use of the shoot house. This training lasted a week. SA [redacted] also stated he had used both handgun simunitions and "bluebolt M-4 ammunition" in the shoot house. b6 -1 b7C -1

[redacted] was interviewed as part of this investigation and noted in his interview that OCD SWAT Team members, particularly SA [redacted], SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] (former OCD SWAT Team member) had extensive training and experience in use of the shoot house and were considered (by Edmond PD) qualified to operate the shoot house without the presence of any Edmond PD training personnel. (It should be noted, neither SA [redacted] nor SA [redacted] were present during the shooting incident. OCD has an MOU with Edmond PD regarding use of the range.) Following [redacted]'s brief, he relinquished control of the shoot house to SA [redacted] and departed the shoot house area of the range. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

There were small variances and degrees of recollection regarding specific instructions and the briefing SA [redacted] provided prior to initiation of the CQB training in the shoot house. All noted SA [redacted] stated team members were guests, use of the facility was important, the team was to be aware of past misuse of the facility by other organizations and avoid similar use and damage to the facilities. Most recall being told the standard "QIT" or "Q" target was the target being used in the exercises during the training day. Through the interviews it was noted only SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] stated they were not aware Q targets were the targets being shot during this training. SA [redacted] noted this would be a live fire exercise and weapon discipline was very important. No members recall any specific brief or training this day regarding contingencies for any medical problems. It was noted each operator carries a medical trauma kit on their tactical vests and each carries the telephone number for mediflight air ambulance in their tactical helmet. b6 -1 b7C -1

SA [redacted] was responsible for running the training exercises. SA [redacted] was in charge of the entry team and directing b6 -1 b7C -1 tactical response to the situations which SA [redacted] constructed in the shoot house. Both SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] noted exercises would be room entry and clearing with the use of law enforcement, slow and deliberate entries (or "clears") as well as faster dynamic entries. SA [redacted] would make the determination as to the type of entry to be conducted and direct team responses both outside and inside the shoot house. Not all of the shoot house would be used for each exercise. SA [redacted] would set up and designate which rooms were not part of the exercise. The team would enter the shoot house without being supplied a blue print of the current layout or configuration of rooms within the house. Through the various scenarios, there were instances where breaching was a component of the exercise as well as the use of flash bangs. Execution of these specific elements was directed by SA [redacted] or SA [redacted] Not all exercises utilized breaching and flash bangs. b6 -1 b7C -1

There were five (5) to seven (7) specific scenarios made in the house leading to the final run of the day, which involved the shooting of SA [redacted] Each scenario used all eleven (11) operators at the training that day, with SA [redacted] overseeing the training. All briefings were conducted orally prior to entry. In order for all operators to get varied training experience, the positions of each operator was altered on each run. If a specific operator had been the number one man on a previous run, they would move to a position further back in the stack. b6 -1 b7C -1

During the various exercises in the shoot house, there was a limited placement of targets within each scenario. Several operators noted they had not engaged any or more than one or two targets through the entire training day. Protocol for entries was described by all interviewed as standard operating procedures. This entailed the weapon (shoulder weapon for these scenarios) having the safety on, the operator's finger off the trigger and outside the trigger guard. It also involved muzzle control. Once a target was identified, the weapon was brought on target, the safety disengaged and shot(s) fired into the target. Once this was completed, the weapon was returned to safe and the finger placed outside the trigger guard.

Interviews revealed, on one earlier run, possibly the first one, a question of not shooting a target was mentioned. SA [redacted] noted he entered a room where a Q target was positioned partially behind a piece of furniture. He chose not to fire as he felt the amount of the target exposed did not allow him to account for the subject's hands. He chose to hold his aim on the target and call them out to show their hands or give up. Following the termination of this exercise, SA [redacted] explained to the operators for this day's exercises all Q targets were to be considered threats which should be engaged. SA [redacted] confirmed this account of events during his interview. b6 -1 b7C -1

Regarding the final exercise of the day, the following general issues were determined in the interviews: 1) the entry started from outside the shoot house, 2) rooms labeled as E and G were being used and many felt those rooms had not been used prior to this exercise and 3) SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were in the middle to back of the original lineup (stack) as they entered the shooting house. b6 -1 b7C -1

On this exercise, team members at the front of the stack entered and secured room A on the diagram. Members moved up to secured areas to stage for their next assignment on a clearing team. Room B was then cleared and secured. At this point, SA [redacted] called for the clearing of room E and G. SA [redacted] related he deployed a flash bang and SA [redacted] confirmed the flash bang was deployed in room E. It is clear that SA [redacted] entered room E and immediately engaged a Q target with two shots. This target was on the exterior wall directly across from the entry doorway. SA [redacted] after firing turned to the right, cleared the corner and moved to that corner to complete securing of the room. Following SA [redacted] SA [redacted] entered and secured the left side of the room. SA [redacted] entered and filled the middle of the room. b6 -1 b7C -1

Slightly behind, but moving simultaneously to this entry, a group of three operators were moving to enter and secure room G. SA [redacted] entered the room and secured the left side of the room upon entry. SA [redacted] entered behind him and moved to the right to secure the corner. SA [redacted] entered behind [redacted] to secure the b6 -1 b7C -1 middle of Room G. SA [redacted] upon checking the right corner, observed a target stand with a target attached. The target was not a "Q" target but rather a character target depicting a man holding a handgun. SA [redacted] took the safety off his weapon (his assigned M-4), fired one shot at the target, then engaged the safety of his weapon and moved to complete the securing of Room G. SA [redacted] stated he shot the target only once because he "felt it was sufficient." No other Agent in room G fired a shot. b6 -1 b7C -1

At this time, SA [redacted] (in room E) stated that something hit him. A "Code RED" real world emergency was called out. SA [redacted] began examining SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] entered to determine what had occurred. A call for a medic was made. SAs [redacted] (both team EMTs) responded immediately and began applying first aid. After this was initiated, SA [redacted] called out "who shot?" SA [redacted] stated that he had. SA [redacted] called 911 and for a helicopter to transport SA [redacted]. SA [redacted] went to SA [redacted]'s vehicle to get [redacted]'s trauma EMT kit and brought them to Room E to assist with first aid. SA [redacted] was directed to advise Edmond PD officials at the range of the incident, which he did. Edmond PD personnel responded to the shoot house. Emergency personnel from Edmond Fire Department also responded. At the same time, OCD SWAT team members began preparing an area for the helicopter to arrive for transport of SA [redacted]. b6 -1 b7C -1

During the time initial first aid was being provided to SA [redacted] SA [redacted] was approached in Room G by SA [redacted]. According to SA [redacted], he told SA [redacted] he shot the target. SA [redacted] stated SA [redacted] told him it was an accident and wasn't his fault. SA [redacted] talked with SA [redacted] prior to this and noted he (SA [redacted]) had shot. Both SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] agreed that SA [redacted] told SA [redacted] to "Calm down" and SA [redacted] noted he ([redacted]) was "highly emotional right now." SA [redacted] moved outside following his discussion with SA [redacted]. SA [redacted] secured SA [redacted]'s weapon and made it safe. ERT accounted for collection of the weapon and magazine and 24 .223 rounds. SA [redacted] has advised b6 -2 b7C -2 operators when filling their M-4 magazines, not to fill them completely (30 rounds) as it could "jam" the magazine and cause a failure to properly load rounds in the weapon. Rather, he recommends that by loading 25 rounds the operator would have a significantly full magazine and a clear recollection of the number of rounds loaded. SA [redacted] did not give these directions on this training day but has made these recommendations in past training. b6 -1 b7C -1

While the EMTs were providing first aid and the helicopter was enroute, SWAT team members and Edmond PD members began pulling down walls within the shoot house to allow medical personnel entry and exit with the stretcher which would be used to transport SA [redacted]. (Note: The ERT diagram was made after the walls in the shoot house were reconstructed, by Edmond PD Officers, as they existed prior to team members removing them for extraction of SA [redacted].) SA [redacted] was stabilized and the helicopter arrived. SA [redacted] was loaded in the helicopter and transported to Oklahoma University Trauma Center, Oklahoma City. Medical records obtained regarding treatment of SA [redacted] noted, "The patient is a [redacted]-year-old male status post gunshot wound to the right groin. The patient was taken to the operating room for exploration of wound, found to have no vascular or major nerve damage. Wound was irrigated and closed with staples. Two JP drains were placed. The patient was noted to have a graze wound to his right side of his scrotum which was Dermabonded." (Official Medical records have been acquired from OU Medical Center regarding SA [redacted]'s injuries and treatment, which have been uploaded to this file.) b6 -1 b7C -1

The remainder of the OCD SWAT team moved to the Edmond PD Range training room. They were met by SA [redacted] (OCD CDC) and ASAC [redacted] They discussed the review process which would be in place and no one had to give a statement at that time. Members were told SSA [redacted] and the OCD Squad 5 Agents, along with OCD ERT, would be conducting an investigation at the scene. b6 -1 b7C -1 all represented by FLEOA. FLEOA Attorney [redacted] arrived in Oklahoma City on Monday 1/14/2013. Interviews with assigned OCD SSAs began on 1/14/13, following their consultation with OCD SWAT Team members. [redacted] or one of his associates sat in on the interviews either live or via teleconference. Once completed, the FD-302s and the signed sworn statement were reviewed by the SWAT Team member interviewed and [redacted] before the reports were finalized. b6 -2 b7C -2

In his interview, SA [redacted] stated he felt the target he saw upon entering room G was an imminent threat. He stated it was not immediately apparent to him the target was not on an exterior wall. He did not recall any specification or demonstration during the day that any specific target was to be used that day. SA [redacted] explained, based on his positioning on the entry team for each exercise, he had not taken a shot at any target prior to taking this shot. (It should be noted SA [redacted] commented he started out using only two Q targets per exercise and part way through the various exercises went to only one target per exercise.) SA [redacted] stated he was aware the exterior wall was made of a different material than the interior walls but due to the speed with which this event occurred, he was focused on the threat and not the wall. He also stated he felt the target was on an exterior wall as this would be the only wall a target was to be placed on during live fire. He felt upon entering, the target was approximately 5 to 6 feet away, in a stand and sat a bit shorter than most people. SA [redacted] stated he only fired once at the target as he felt it was sufficient. He stated he has normally trained to shoot each target 2 or 3 times. b6 -1 b7C -1

SA [redacted] noted in his interview, he was solely responsible for setting up each scenario and any targets involved. He arranged the room configuration and placed targets for each exercise. He would provide SA [redacted] with the background for each exercise. SA [redacted] was to act as the team leader for the operators entering the shoot house to deal with the described threat(s). SA [redacted] did not walk through the shoot house prior to any scenario, and did not assist in moving walls within the shoot house. SA [redacted] started out using two b6 -1 b7C -1

"Q" targets per exercise. Later in the day, he reduced it to one "Q" target per exercise. For the training scenario in which SA [redacted]'s injury occurred, SA [redacted] positioned only one target and placed it on an exterior wall in room E. SA [redacted] added that prior to this exercise rooms E and G had not been used in any scenarios. SA [redacted] had done the reconfiguration to use E and G. SA [redacted] entered room G, past the entry threshold. He looked around the room and did not see any targets during this inspection. He noted he did not place a target in room G but also recalled that there was some furniture in that room. SA [redacted] noted that at the time of this last scenario the lighting in the shoot house was becoming dim. SA [redacted] moved out of the area and began watching this exercise. All accounts indicate no one else made entry to the shoot house from this point until the SWAT Team made entry. [redacted] recounted direction by SA [redacted] to have teams move up to clear both rooms E and G. SA [redacted] noted room E was flash banged and two teams moved into the rooms. He heard shots fired in room E and a shot from some other room. b6 -1 b7C -1

SA [redacted] saw SA [redacted] down on the floor in room E. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] responded to provide medical aid to SA [redacted]. SA [redacted] then moved to room G. Once there, he spoke with SA [redacted] and asked what happened. SA [redacted] pointed to a target stand in the extreme right corner with a paper character target attached. SA [redacted] stated he had not previously seen the target or target stand and immediately discerned that he had overlooked the target stand in his walk through of the shoot house prior to the CQB scenario. SA [redacted] described the target as the profile of a man from the rear where the target is pointing a weapon away from whoever faces the target. SA [redacted] stated he had never seen this target before. He described it as an old Edmond PD target. He also noted he used character targets in some past SWAT training exercises but never this specific target. SA [redacted] had not used any character targets in SWAT training for over 6 months. b6 -1 b7C -1

OCD ERT processed the shoot house and collected both the firearm used by SA [redacted] and later the bullet removed from SA [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1 [redacted]'s leg. These items were placed into evidence and sent to the FBI Laboratory for processing. Extensive photographs and a diagram of the scene were completed and are available for review in this file. In discussion with SA [redacted] (Team Leader for OCD ERT), he explained that ERT efforts would not allow for an exact trajectory of the bullet which impacted SA [redacted]'s leg. This is due to the fact there exists only one point of consideration on the bullets path and two points are required for such evaluation. SA [redacted] explained there was one hole in the interior plywood wall that could be associated with the bullet. The target shot by SA [redacted] was dangling from the target stand in room G upon their arrival and the backing on the stand had numerous holes in it. Most of those holes appeared to be larger handgun rounds but there was at least one smaller hole that could possibly be associated with the M-4 round fired from SA [redacted]'s weapon. It was located in what was estimated to be a lower center mass area, if the target had been held properly against the backing. For both SA [redacted] (initiation point) and [redacted] (termination point), their exact positioning at the time of the event could only be estimated. Thus, given the evidence available at the time ERT processed the scene, the bullet's specific trajectory could not be determined. Even with these observations, the height of the bullet hole in the plywood wall was consistent with the path to SA [redacted]'s leg.

SA [redacted] has been an OCD SWAT team member since late 2011. Records of his SWAT training were acquired and were uploaded to this file. It was noted by SA [redacted] he completed Basic SWAT training at Quantico. Additionally, SA [redacted]'s firearms records for the last two years were acquired and uploaded to this file. SA [redacted]'s records reflect he is current on qualifications and has passed all sessions.

b7C -1

SA [redacted] was interviewed regarding his recollections of events. He stated he had entered room E with SAs [redacted] SA [redacted] did not shoot and the room was secured. This was called out by each operator in room E. SA [redacted] stated while the three of them stood inside of the door to room E, he saw a flash and felt a concussion blast hit his mid-section. He believed a flash bang had exploded and he was hit by the blast. The concussion pushed his groin protector into his groin causing pain. As he assessed the situation, he started feeling intense pain in his leg. He believes he yelled "it burns" as he collapsed to the floor and rolled onto his back. His recollections beyond this are fragmented.

There was initial media coverage of this training accident. This involved coverage by local television stations, including helicopter video coverage of the range and some team members. There was additional coverage in place at the hospital where SA [redacted] was treated. It also involved a media statement given on scene by the OCD Media Representative, authorized by OCD SAC. Following the initial coverage on the day of occurrence there was no follow up coverage of note. b6 -1 b7C -1

Conclusions

SA [redacted] organized and oversaw SWAT training in the shoot house. He was aware Edmond PD personnel provided safety briefings which directed live fire to be done only on exterior walls. SA [redacted] stated that only Q targets were to be used for this training and all Q targets were to be considered a threat. On the last exercise, he placed one Q target in room E of the shoot house. He entered room G but did not observe a target stand or older character target in room G prior to the scenario in question. b6 -1 b7C -1

SA [redacted] participated in training and prior to the last exercise had not engaged any target. He was aware he was only to shoot on exterior walls. He did not recall being told only Q targets were being used. He did recall being told any target was a threat. He entered room G, identified a character target and shot it one time. He did not identify the target was on an interior wall. b6 -1 b7C -1 a SWAT training live fire scenario. SA [redacted] was in room E of the shoot house. He was struck by a round fired by SA [redacted] from his M-4 while in room G. This shot was fired by SA [redacted] once he entered the room and saw a stand and target in that room. The target in room G had been inadvertently missed for removal or moving by SA [redacted] during his pre-scenario inspection. This target was not a Q target but an older Edmond PD character target. This target was placed on an interior wall. SA [redacted] was provided first aid on scene, transported to a trauma center and is expected to fully recover. b6 -1 b7C -1

Synopsis: (U) The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 06/28/2012, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Cincinnati Division. During the execution of a search warrant, SA [redacted] responded to threat presented by subject Fallacy M. Myers, and fired three rounds from his Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol, fatally wounding the subject. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. Two Observations and associated Recommendations were adopted by the SIRG for the Cincinnati Division. b6 -1 b7C -1

Administrative Notes: (U) Reference report of Inspector Ronald Twersky, dated 10/22/2012.

Details:

This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 06/26/2012, a case was opened regarding alleged criminal activities of Fallacy M. Myers. Investigation revealed Myers may have been engaged in activities including transportation, coercion, and enticement of a minor; money laundering; tax evasion; distribution of controlled substances; and possession of a firearm by a prohibited person.

Pending the issuance of a search warrant for Myers' residence, an operational plan was completed and approved by Cincinnati Division Executive Management on 06/27/2012.

At approximately 7:00 a.m., on 06/28/2012, FBI Agents and Dayton Police Department (DPD) personnel met for an operational briefing. SA [redacted] led the briefing and reviewed the operational plan, including the FBI Deadly Force Policy. Following the briefing, FBI personnel, accompanied by a uniformed DPD officer in a marked cruiser, drove to the subject's residence. b6 -1 b7C -1

At approximately 7:30 a.m., SA [redacted] knocked and announced the presence of law enforcement personnel. After receiving no response from the occupants of the residence, SA [redacted] attempted to breach the door with a ram. Following ram attempts, which did not breach the door, Myers opened the front door. He stepped onto the front porch, where he was handcuffed and patted-down for weapons by SA [redacted] Myers remained with SA [redacted] outside the house while other Agents conducted a protective sweep of the residence. Myers requested to use the bathroom, and was escorted inside by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] SA [redacted] conducted a more detailed protective sweep of the bathroom and removed a lockbox. SA [redacted] removed Myers' handcuffs and Myers was allowed to use the restroom with the door open. After Myers used the restroom, he was again handcuffed by SA [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

Myers was escorted through the house to the backyard under the control of SAs [redacted] SA [redacted] decided to remove Myers' handcuffs and advised him he was not under arrest and was free to leave if he so chose. SAs [redacted] escorted Myers further away from the residence to an area in the backyard. Myers was compliant and cooperative and agreed to be voluntarily interviewed. b6 -1 b7C -1

During the search, Myers was taken inside the residence, where he assisted Agents in identifying personal property. He was then escorted to the kitchen by SAs [redacted] where the interview continued. During the interview, SA [redacted] remained in the kitchen with Myers, who was not handcuffed. b6 -1 b7C -1

Four handguns were recovered during the search, and SA [redacted] in coordination with Acting Supervisory Senior Resident Agent (A/SSRA) [redacted] and Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) [redacted] determined a probable cause arrest of Myers was warranted for possession of a firearm by a prohibited person. b6 -1,3 b7C -1,3

After the decision was made to arrest Myers, SAs [redacted] offered him the chance to get dressed. Myers was seated, without handcuffs, in the kitchen when he was advised by SA [redacted] that he was going to be taken into custody by the DPD and transported to the Montgomery County Jail. As SA [redacted] began to escort Myers to the bedroom to obtain clothing, Myers ducked around SA [redacted] and moved to the kitchen table. Although Myers' back was to SA [redacted] he observed Myers' shoulders and arms moving in a motion consistent with someone loading a firearm magazine. SA [redacted] drew his handgun and yelled for Myers to stop what he was doing. Myers raised his hands to show SA [redacted] he was slashing his wrists with a knife. SA [redacted] ordered Myers to drop the knife and subsequently called out for a Taser from the DPD officer located outside the residence. b6 -1 b7C -1

Myers slowly walked backwards toward SA [redacted] who continued telling Myers to drop the knife. Myers turned around, faced SA [redacted] and Myers feigned as if he was going to move quickly toward SA [redacted] Myers dropped the knife in compliance with SA [redacted] s commands. Myers then grabbed a larger knife from a knife rack, turned away from SA [redacted] and retreated further into the kitchen. Myers stood with his back to SA [redacted] and continued cutting himself, inflicting lacerations to both wrists and his neck. SA [redacted] continued yelling for Myers to drop the knife. Hearing the initial commotion, SA [redacted] joined SA [redacted] in the doorframe area between the kitchen and the living room. b6 -1 b7C -1

SAs [redacted] were searching a vehicle outside the residence when they heard shouting. They ran to the front door and SA [redacted] proceeded toward SAs [redacted] Because no one responded to SA [redacted]'s calls for a Taser, SA [redacted] advised SA [redacted] to take his place so he could go to the front door to locate the DPD officer. Myers was still facing away from the Agents, so SA [redacted] stepped back and SA [redacted] stepped to the left of SA [redacted] in the doorframe area. Both SAs [redacted] had their weapons pointed at Myers. b6 -1 b7C -1

SA [redacted] stepped into the kitchen in an effort to de-escalate the situation with Myers. She then observed Myers pivot toward her with the blade of the knife facing her and SA [redacted] Myers started to step around the kitchen table toward the Agents. SA [redacted] feared for her life and the safety of SA [redacted] and retreated backwards to the kitchen doorway and started to pull the trigger on her Bureau-issued service pistol. Simultaneously, SA [redacted]'s arm appeared in SA [redacted]'s line of fire, and as she began to drop to one knee to avoid friendly fire, she stumbled. As SA [redacted] regained her balance, she heard multiple gunshots. b6 -1 b7C -1

SA [redacted] was positioned in the living room during the confrontation and moved in front of the bedroom doorway. She observed Myers holding a knife at sternum height, with the blade pointed out toward the Agents, who were staggered along the kitchen doorframe. SA [redacted] saw Myers make a movement toward the Agents prior to hearing shots. b6 -1 b7C -1

SA [redacted] instructed Myers to stop and drop the knife. SA [redacted] then observed Myers pivot to the right with the knife in his right hand. SA [redacted] believed Myers presented an imminent threat of death or grave bodily harm to SA [redacted] who had moved within approximately six feet of Myers. As Myers continued the pivoting motion and stepped toward SA [redacted] SA [redacted] provided a final command for him to stop and drop the knife to no avail. At that point SA [redacted] fired three shots at Myers. b6 -1 b7C -1

Myers collapsed on his back to the floor and was subsequently pronounced dead at the scene by responding paramedics from the Dayton Fire Department. Throughout the confrontation, Myers did not say anything to the Agents or respond verbally to their commands.

Immediately following the shooting, DPD Officer [redacted] who was positioned outside the residence at the time of the shooting, entered the house and immediately called for a paramedic. SA [redacted] made the first telephonic notification of the Agent-involved shooting to A/SSRA [redacted] at 11:48 a.m. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

SA [redacted] directed SAs [redacted] to move away from the kitchen doorway, and they went into the living room. Officer [redacted] and SA [redacted] took positions in the kitchen doorway to maintain the integrity of the scene.

Prosecution of the law enforcement officers involved in the shooting was declined by [redacted] First Assistant, Prosecuting Attorney, Montgomery County Prosecutor's Office, on 07/13/2012. b6 -4 b7C -4

On 07/16/2012, [redacted], Civil Rights Division, United States Department of Justice (USDOJ), advised the shooting did not "establish sufficient evidence of willful conduct to warrant a federal criminal civil rights investigation of this matter." b6 -3 b7C -3

On 05/23/2013, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Acting Assistant Director Robert J. Shields, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Acting Chief Inspector Howard S. Marshall, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, United States Department of Justice (USDOJ); [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) SC Gregory D. Cox, Global Section, Counterintelligence Division; Special Agent (SA) [redacted] Squad CR-2, Washington Field Office; SSA [redacted], Practical Applications Unit, Training Division (TD); SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel; SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team, Laboratory Division; SSA [redacted] b6 -1,3 b7C -1,3

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in the shooting of Fallacy M. Myers. The shooting was deemed in policy and the use of deadly force was determined to be justified under the circumstances.

SIRG members unanimously adopted the following observations and recommendations of the SIRT:

Title: (U) SHOOTING INCIDENT CINCINNATI DIVISION 06/28/2012
Re: 297-HQ-A1271286-D, 08/01/2013

Inspector's Observations:

Observation 1: Agents did not maintain positive control of the subject, Fallacy Myers, throughout the search operation.

Analysis 1: Agents planned and briefed the search warrant operation, and demonstrated positive control of the subject upon their initial encounter with him. Myers was handcuffed, searched, and detained outside the residence, while other Agents conducted a protective sweep of the house. Myers was subsequently allowed to use the restroom, re-handcuffed, and escorted through the residence to the backyard. This was consistent with guidance from the Legal Handbook for Special Agents, Section 5-2.2.5, Controlling the Premises, which reads in part:

After having made entry, Agents should take whatever reasonable steps are necessary to protect themselves. They may control the movements of persons found inside the premises and may conduct a limited search of people for weapons if the Agent has a reasonable suspicion that they are armed. While executing a search warrant on premises, Agents have authority to detain occupants while the search is being conducted. Agents may conduct a limited search of persons for weapons only if Agents have a reasonable suspicion that the person searched is armed. Restraining devices may only be used when to do so is reasonable under the circumstances.

Agents were permitted to detain Myers for limited purposes, as referenced in the Legal Handbook for Special Agents, Section 4-2.4, Site of Detention, which reads in part:

As a general rule, Agents have the authority to detain anyone present at a location, be it a private residence or business establishment open to the public. The primary purpose for this detention is to ensure the Agents' safety during the execution of the warrant. A second reason is to ensure the presence of the occupants to whom possession of evidence or contraband found during the search may be attributed.

Although he was the subject of a sexual exploitation of children investigation, Myers was not under arrest at the start of the search. Once Myers was in the backyard, he was under the control of SAs [redacted] and [redacted] SA [redacted] decided to remove Myers' handcuffs and told him he was free to leave if he so chose. The Agents asked Myers to submit to an interview, and read him his Miranda rights to ensure there was no question concerning the voluntariness of Myers' statements. Myers consented to the interview and signed the Miranda waiver. Myers was isolated with the Agents in the rear of the backyard at that time. b6 -1 b7C -1

Agents [redacted] interviewed Myers intermittently for more than three hours. SA [redacted] was consistently left to maintain control of Myers. SA [redacted] moved between the interview with Myers and the search activity. Myers was 6'4" and 270 pounds, and he did not display physical limitations. During the time the Agent(s) remained with Myers in the backyard, the distance between the location of the interview and the residence largely mitigated the threat to other searching personnel. At some point, a decision was made to move Myers closer to the residence, and later inside the residence. It was noted the temperature during the search rose to the upper 80s, and Myers was moved in part to get relief from the increasing late morning heat. b6 -1 b7C -1

While in the backyard, SA [redacted] observed Myers looking at his service weapon, which was secured in a tactical holster. SA [redacted] was made uncomfortable by Myers' gaze, so he moved his chair from the shade into the sun to distance himself from Myers. Myers also made multiple statements to SA [redacted] along the lines of "Buddy, if I was in your shoes, I wouldn't believe my fucking lies." b6 -1 b7C -1

The decision to arrest Myers had not been finalized when Agents moved Myers into the kitchen. Searching personnel advised SA [redacted] the kitchen had been "searched," and the Agents moved with Myers into the kitchen. Myers was also permitted to enter his bedroom, under escort and while not handcuffed, in order to point out items of the bedroom b6 -1 b7C -1 which belonged to him. During the search, Agents recovered four firearms from the residence, and Myers was queried about the recoveries by SA [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

Upon consultation with the USAO, a decision was made to arrest Myers for possession of the recovered weapons by a prohibited person. After Myers was advised he would be arrested and booked into the local county jail, he was told he could obtain a change of clothing from the bedroom. SA [redacted] announced Myers would be escorted through the residence to the bedroom because several Agents and unarmed Professional Support employees were involved in search-related activities in the residence. As Myers began to be escorted to the bedroom, with SA [redacted] following behind, Myers suddenly turned and ducked around SA [redacted] and obtained the first of two knives he would utilize to inflict injury to himself and prompt the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

Proper Arrest Plans and Techniques were detailed in SAC Memorandum 27-20 01, dated December 28, 2001, which was codified in MIOG, Part 2, Section 11. MIOG, Part 2, Section 11 was later superseded by DIOG, Section 19. Relevant sections of the DIOG and the MIOG (prior controlling policy) are cited as follows:

MIOG, PART 2, SECTION 11. TECHNIQUES AND MECHANICS OF ARREST

11-1 ARREST TECHNIQUES

11-1.1 General

(2) A person who is being placed under arrest may do one of several things: submit peacefully, attempt to flee, attempt to injure or kill the arresting person(s), affect a rescue by confederates, or commit suicide. The arrest team should consist of enough Agents/officers, whenever possible, to cope properly with those or other situations which may arise. [redacted] b7E -5

[redacted] b7E -5

11-1.2 Initial Approach

(3) When a person is arrested, he/she should not be permitted to move about; however, if movement is necessary, the subject(s) should be accompanied by Agents/officers. If it is necessary to obtain clothing for the subject(s) the Agents/officers should locate the clothing and search it thoroughly before giving it to the subject(s). ...

11-1.3 Search of the Person

11-1.3.1 High-Risk Search/Full-Body Search/Handcuffing

[redacted] b7E -5

(2) Agents are responsible for the welfare and condition of a person

once he or she is placed under arrest, and it is required that all arrested persons be handcuffed with hands behind the back, back-to-back, and double-locked. If circumstances necessitate handcuffing with the hands to the front, then the hands must be back to back, and the cuffs must be belted down and double locked. Agents are reminded that handcuffs and other restraining devices are only temporary controls and Agents must maintain a close guard over subjects at all times, preventing any attempts at self-injury and/or suicide, until they are released to another authority.

DIOG, Section 19, reads in part:

DIOG, Section 19.5.3. RESTRAINING DEVICES

Temporary restraining devices, such as handcuffs, shackles and/or belts may be used to secure an arrestee. Use of such devices is lawful and proper, and Agents are expected to employ reasonable judgment under the circumstances in the use of these devices and to resolve any doubt in favor of their use.

Recommendation 1: SAC, Cincinnati should effect training to ensure Agents maintain positive control when handling subjects during search and arrest operations.

Observation 2: SAs [redacted], both of whom were involved in the confrontation with subject Myers, remained at the scene over four hours after the shooting. b6 -1 b7C -1

Analysis 2: The field office responded quickly to the shooting incident. Cincinnati management promptly removed SA [redacted] from the scene and provided him support and appropriate counsel from the Associate Division Counsel. However, SAs [redacted] both of whom were also involved in the critical incident, remained at the scene for over four hours after the shooting. The delay in removing SAs [redacted] and [redacted] from the scene may have exposed them to additional trauma, presented opportunities for them to be prematurely questioned by responding investigators, or exposed them to circumstances which could affect their independent recollection of the shooting incident.

In order to ensure an effective response, the Critical Incident Handbook, 2011 Edition, was available as a guide field offices can use to establish localized shooting response plans. The handbook provides a checklist from the June 2003 publication "Shooting Incidents: Issues and Explanations for FBI Agents and Managers." Included in the checklist is the instruction to "separate and remove involved Agents(s) from the scene."

Recommendation 2: SAC, Cincinnati should ensure Agents involved in a shooting incident are removed from the scene as soon as possible.

PROCEDURES FOR RESPONDING TO THE INSTRUCTIONS/RECOMMENDATIONS

The Inspection Division (INSD), Inspection Management Unit (IMU) is responsible for ensuring that each Inspection Instruction/Recommendation is satisfactorily resolved. IMU maintains an Inspection Instructions/Recommendations database and provides the INSD Assistant Director (AD) a quarterly report reflecting all outstanding Instructions/Recommendations. The inspection process is not complete until all Instructions/Recommendations have been satisfactorily resolved.

IMU will provide all responses to the Inspector-in-Charge (IIC), who will determine if each Recommendation has been resolved or requires further action. Resolution will be based upon specific actions taken rather than a recitation of what actions the division has under consideration or plans to take in the future. If the IIC determines an Instruction/Recommendation has not been resolved, an EC will be forwarded requesting further action or clarification. Upon resolution, all Instructions/Recommendations will be appropriately noted in the database.

SAC, Cincinnati is required to provide detailed responses addressing the Recommendations in this EC, pages 6 through 12, including corrective actions taken and/or intended actions with time frames for completion. Each Observation which results in an Instruction/Recommendation must be responded to in a one-page, stand alone response. The Observation and related Recommendation is to be recited verbatim from the inspection EC, followed by the division's detailed response (it is not necessary to repeat the analysis section of the Observation in the response). If supporting documentation is available, it should be enclosed with each response.

All initial and follow-up responses must be sent to the IMU on plain bond paper as enclosures to a transmittal EC, directed to Unit Chief [redacted] Inspection Division, Inspection Management Unit, Room [redacted] In addition, after the EC is serialized with the attached responses, please e-mail the Sentinel link to MPA [redacted]

Synopsis

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/13/2013, Kurt R. Myers, of 32 South Washington Street, Apt. #3, Mohawk, NY 13407, shot six people, killing four of the victims, in a Herkimer County, NY shooting spree. After the shootings, Myers hid in an abandoned building located at 248 Main Street, Herkimer, NY.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/14/2013, after being located by FBI and New York State Police (NYSP), Myers fired several rounds from his shotgun at law enforcement. One of the rounds fatally struck an Hostage Rescue Team (HRT) K-9, named "APE." HRT Special Agents returned gun fire striking Myers several times causing his death.

Details

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/13/2013, subject Kurt Myers shot six people, killing four of the victims, in a Herkimer County, NY shooting spree. During the shooting spree, Myers utilized a Mossberg pistol grip 12 gauge shotgun. After the shootings, Myers hid in an abandoned building located at 248 Main Street, Herkimer, NY. Upon being located and surrounded by law enforcement, he fired four shots at them. A Deputy U.S. Marshal unsuccessfully returned fire at Myers.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/13/2013, the NYSP Special Operations Response Team (SORT) requested assistance from the FBI Albany Field Office SWAT Team and the HRT. On 03/14/2013, HRT members arrived with a complement of nine operators, one medic, two mobility specialists, and two K-9 operator/handlers. [redacted] b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 8:00 a.m., on 03/14/2013, the designated teams entered the building and utilized a slow, methodical "law enforcement" clear technique to search for Myers. HRT SAs [redacted] were members of the first team, and they proceeded to clear the right side of the building. After SAs [redacted] entered one of the rooms, they were fired upon from an adjacent rear room by an individual later identified as Myers. HRT SAs [redacted] returned fire and re-traced their steps with SA [redacted] to regain a tactical position of cover. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Agents called for Ape and his handler to come forward and provide support. The Agents [redacted] in anticipation of releasing Ape into the room from where the gunshots emanated. Ape was released and Agents followed Ape's path toward the room where the subject was located. As Ape entered the room, Myers fired a rifled slug and struck Ape, knocking him down. Ape immediately got up and again went after Myers. The subject fired his shotgun again, striking Ape in the side. As Myers continued to shoot, SA [redacted] immediately engaged Myers through the doorway, continuing to shoot at Myers until he emptied his magazine. He called out that his magazine was empty and "rolled" out of the room. SA [redacted] believed Myers was still a threat, so he fired six or seven times into the room. SA [redacted] stopped firing before another operator called out the subject was down. During the exchange of gunfire, SA [redacted] also fired in the direction of Myers through the wall, at a point opposite from where he believed Myers was located. HRT and NYSP SORT operators entered the room, discovered Myers lying on the floor and restrained him using flex cuffs. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) HRT medical personnel provided first aid to Ape; however, he succumbed to his injuries. APE had been training with his handler, SA [redacted] for a year and was placed into action only a month before this encounter. Myers fired five rounds of rifled slug at Ape and the Agents. Four Agents fired a total of 39 .223 caliber rounds at Myers. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) The four deceased victims of the shooting spree were identified as:

- Thomas Steka, employee at Gaffey's Lube
- Michael Renshaw, a customer at Gaffey's Lube
- Michael Rancier, barbershop customer
- Harry Montgomery, barbershop customer

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/14/2013, IIC Ravenelle spoke with Albany SAC Andrew W. Vale to arrange logistics prior to arriving in Albany. On 03/14/2013, the SIRT traveled to the Albany Field Office. Upon arriving, IIC Ravenelle and the SIRT members met with Albany EM and SSA personnel before traveling to the shooting scene, which occurred at an abandoned building located at 248 Main Street, Herkimer, NY.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/14/2013, IIC Ravenelle met with the involved HRT, SWAT SAs, New York State Police, and management personnel to explain the review process and protocols.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Five Signed Sworn Statements (SSS) were taken from the HRT Agents involved in the shooting. Other interviews, events, and observations were documented via FD-302s. All FBI and TFO personnel were allowed to read their FD-302 to confirm the accuracy of the information provided. Neither the FD-644 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information on a Voluntary Basis) nor FD-645 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Required to Provide Information) were utilized. The SSSs and interviews of witnesses were conducted voluntarily.

(U//~~FOUO~~) An FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident) was executed by all FBI personnel interviewed.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/21/2013, IIC Ravenelle conducted an out brief with SAC Vale and ASAC [redacted] and explained the ensuing steps of the SIRT process. b6 -4 b7C -4

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/20/2013, IIC Ravenelle met with District Attorney (DA) Jeffrey S. Carpenter and NYSP Senior Investigator [redacted] to brief them on the details of the shooting incident.

USE OF BODY ARMOR AND LAW ENFORCEMENT IDENTIFIERS:

(U//~~FOUO~~) All SSA, SA, and NYSP personnel involved in the operation wore ballistic body armor. FBI or law enforcement identifiers were worn, and personnel verbally identified themselves as law enforcement to the subject.

CRIMINAL HISTORY:

(U//~~FOUO~~) Senior Investigator [redacted] NYSP Troop D, Major Crimes Division, voluntarily provided the FBI Lead Worksheet Number 168 containing the results of the Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms (ATF) Trace for a Mossberg Model 590 12 gauge pump action shot gun bearing serial number, L804944. The trace form indicated the weapon was originally sold on b6 -4 b7C -4

09/26/1995, at the Gun Brokerage, 2120 Whitesboro Street, Utica, New York. The original purchaser was identified as [redacted] NY. b6 -2 b7C -2

(U//~~FOUO~~) NYSP Investigator [redacted] and NYSP Investigator [redacted] interviewed [redacted] of Frank's Guns, 9103 River Road, Marcy, NY. [redacted] provided investigators a records check conducted at Frank's Guns which indicated the suspect's shotgun, a Mossberg 12 gauge, Model 590, serial number, L804944, was listed as "received" on 11/10/1995, from [redacted] NY. The records further indicated the same shotgun was later purchased from Frank's Guns on 04/27/1996, by Kurt Myers, date of birth 10/28/1948, driver's license number 363-174-534, address 9408 Main Street, Holland Patent, NY. b6 -2,4,6 b7C -2,4,6

(U//~~FOUO~~) A National Criminal Information Center (NCIC) inquiry for Kurt R. Myers, born 10/28/1948, determined he was arrested on 05/27/1973, for Operating a Motor Vehicle while intoxicated. On 06/09/1973, Myers pled guilty to the lesser charge of misdemeanor Operating a Motor Vehicle While Under The Influence of Alcohol or Drugs.

LABORATORY DIVISION REPORTS:

(U//~~FOUO~~) The scene of the shooting was secured and processed by Albany ERT, New York State Police Evidence Recovery Unit, and the Laboratory Shooting Reconstruction Team to include use of total station.

(U//~~FOUO~~) An inventory of all recovered evidentiary items is included within this report in Tab XIV – Shooting Scene. As of the date of this report, New York State and FBI Laboratory testing results were still pending.

Firearms/Toolmarks Testing

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Laboratory Division (LD), Firearms-Toolmarks Unit was requested to generate a shooting incident reconstruction report, and the Operational Projects Unit was requested to prepare supporting demonstrative imagery and graphics of the scene. As of the date of this report, the LD products were pending. They will be included within this report in Tab XIV – Shooting Scene.

MEDICAL REPORT:

(U//~~FOUO~~) FBI ERT Team Leader SA [redacted] requested SA [redacted] travel to Cornell University (CU) and attend the necropsy of the HRT K-9 killed in the line of duty, named "Ape." "Ape" was shot by Kurt Myers on 03/14/2013, while accompanying HRT as they attempted to arrest Myers in an abandoned building located at 248 North Main Street, Herkimer, NY. SA [redacted] met HRT Operator SA [redacted] and an unidentified NYSP Officer as they arrived at CU with Ape's body. Ape's necropsy was conducted by Dr. [redacted] at the CU Necrology Lab, located at 240 Farrier Road, Ithaca, NY. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

(U//~~FOUO~~) During the necropsy, Dr. [redacted] found four unnatural holes in Ape's body, indicating Ape was hit by two projectiles. Dr. [redacted] retrieved two large metal fragments which SA [redacted] secured as evidence. Additionally, SA [redacted] took multiple photographs during the b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

necropsy which he safeguarded at the FBI Binghamton RA. Upon completion of drafting the final necropsy report, Dr. [redacted] forwarded the report to Dr. [redacted] from Herkimer Vet Services. b6 -2 b7C -2

CIVIL RIGHTS DIVISION:

Details:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 07/31/2014, the SIRG convened to review a shooting incident which occurred on 03/14/2013, involving Hostage Rescue Team (HRT) Special Agents (SAs) [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1 [redacted] On 03/13/2013, subject Kurt Myers shot six people with a 12-Gauge shotgun, killing four of the victims in a Herkimer County, NY killing spree. Myers barricaded himself in an abandoned building located at 248 Main Street, Herkimer, NY, and fired at law enforcement officers, including an exchange with a Deputy U.S. Marshal. The New York State Police (NYSP) Special Operations Response Team (SORT) requested assistance from the FBI Albany Field Office SWAT Team and HRT. On 03/14/2013, HRT members arrived with a complement of nine operators, one medic, two mobility specialists, and two K-9 operators/handlers. FBI HRT, FBI Albany SWAT and NYSP SORT members [redacted] At approximately 8:00 a.m., on 03/14/2013, the team entered the building and utilized a slow methodical "law enforcement" clear technique to search for Myers. FBI HRT SAs [redacted] proceeded to clear the right side of the building. After SAs [redacted] entered one of the rooms, they were fired upon from an adjacent rear room by an individual later identified as Myers. SAs [redacted] returned fire and re-traced their steps with SA [redacted] to regain a tactical position of cover. The Agents called for a K-9 to come forward, and subsequently [redacted] in anticipation of releasing the K-9 into the room where the gun shots had emanated. K-9 Ape was released and Agents followed Ape's path toward the room where the subject was located. As Ape entered the room, Myers fired. One shotgun slug struck Ape knocking him down. Ape got up and again went after the subject. The subject fired his shotgun again striking Ape in the side. SAs [redacted] immediately engaged the subject through the doorway, continuing to shoot at Myers until they believed he was no longer a threat. SA [redacted] also fired in the direction of Myers through the wall, at a point opposite from where he believed Myers was located. Subsequently, HRT and NYSP SORT operators entered the room, discovered Myers lying on the floor and restrained him using flex cuffs.

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by SAs [redacted] on 03/14/2013 was in compliance with the Department of Justice's Deadly Force policy. b6 -1 b7C -1

2. Provide the Director with evaluative analyses, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions concerning operational planning and execution, training, and/or safety issues. The SIRG made the following observation concerning the handling of weapons utilized in the shooting incident:

Observation 1: HRT operators removed accessories from firearms used in a shooting incident prior to surrendering them as evidence.

Analysis 1: Field Evidence Management and Operations Policy Implementation Guide (PG) Section 4.8 required seized firearms to include all accessories, parts, ammunition and associated items, including but not limited to sites, holsters, bayonets, cases, scopes, flash suppressors, magazines, muzzle attachments, and flashlights/laser sighting devices that are designed or meant to be used in conjunction with a firearm, and are to be classified and stored as a firearm and categorized and entered into the FBI's central record keeping system/collected items as a "Firearms/Other."

HRT SC Cornelius and UC [redacted] stated HRT had a limited number of [redacted] for their weapons. In an effort to maintain "mission status," HRT operators removed [redacted] grips, and other accessories from the firearms used during the shooting incident prior to surrendering them to the Albany Principal Firearms Instructor. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

Instruction 1: AD, CIRG will ensure compliance with Field Evidence Management and Operations PG, Section 4.8.

3. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. The SIRG recommended no administrative action be taken against SAs [redacted] as a result of their b6 -1 b7C -1 involvement in this shooting incident.

RE: Investigation – Kurt R. Myers Shooting
March 13-14, 2013
D.A. File #6241

Gentlemen:

I have thoroughly reviewed, in its entirety, the investigation into the fatal shooting of Kurt R. Myers on March 14, 2013, by federal law enforcement officers which consisted of the investigation by the New York State Police, crime scene photos, ballistic analysis and reports, witness statements, statements by law enforcement officers involved in the incident and the autopsy of Kurt Myers. To better understand my conclusion, I will briefly set out the factual background of the case, as follows:

Background:

March 13, 2013:

At approximately 9:30 a.m., an individual, now identified as Kurt R. Myers (d/o/b 10/28/1948), set fire to an occupied multiple housing unit at 32 South Washington Street, Mohawk, New York. Myers then proceeded to John's Barber Shop located at 17 Main Street, Mohawk, New York whereby he entered and discharged a 12-gauge shotgun fatally wounding Harry M. Montgomery and Michael Ransear and critically wounding [redacted]

b6 -5

Myers then proceeded to Gaffey's Fast Lube, 320 Mohawk Street, Herkimer, New York whereby he entered and discharged a 12-gauge shotgun fatally wounding Michael S. Renshaw and Thomas Stefka.

Myers then immediately fled the shooting at 320 Mohawk Street, Herkimer, New York in a 2007 Jeep Wrangler bearing NY Registration FRC-9144. It is now known that Myers proceeded to a vacant multi-level, multiple-unit building located at 248 North Main Street, Herkimer, New York wherein he remained surrounded by local, state and federal law enforcement units until March 14, 2013.

At approximately 1:30 p.m., Myers fired upon law enforcement who returned fire into the building. It has been determined that the Deputy United States Marshall, who returned fire, did not strike Myers.

That, on March 13, 2013 and continuing to March 14, 2013, multiple attempts were made, to no avail, to negotiate the surrender of Myers to law enforcement together with the deployment of non-lethal devices including [redacted] b7E -1

Given the nature of this incident, together with its location, a decision was made to request the assistance of the Hostage Rescue Team (HRT) of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI).

March 14, 2013:

At approximately 5:00 a.m., the HRT team arrived in Herkimer and staged at [redacted] b7E -1 Herkimer, New York, hereinafter the "command post".

At approximately 7:30 a.m., a briefing was held at the command post wherein it was disclosed that multiple teams, consisting of members from the HRT team, the FBI Albany SWAT team and the New York State Police Special Operations Response Team (SORT) would be deployed to 248 North Main Street, Herkimer, New York to search for and apprehend Kurt R. Myers. At this briefing, all members were instructed on the FBI's Deadly Force Policy as well as the applicable New York State Penal Law Article 35-Defense of Justification (inclusive of use of physical force and use of deadly physical force). Additionally, HRT K-9 units were included in this operation.

Thereafter, the above-referenced teams were deployed to 248 North Main Street, Herkimer, New York.

Upon entry into 248 North Main Street, each team began to perform their respective assignments in an effort to slowly and methodically search for suspect Kurt R. Myers. As the search was ongoing, the suspect fired upon law enforcement members. HRT team members [redacted] b7E -1 returned fire. HRT K-9 "APE" was also deployed into the area where the suspect was located wherein he and members of the HRT team were fired upon. K-9 "APE" sustained fatal gun-shot wounds. HRT team members returned fire upon the suspect, Kurt R. Myers, wherein he sustained fatal gun-shot wounds.

Upon entry into the room where the suspect was located, he was restrained as is standard operating procedure, and K-9 "APE" was removed to an awaiting law enforcement vehicle for transportation to a pre-determined veterinary care facility.

All law enforcement personnel involved then returned to the command post wherein they began the debriefing process. Law enforcement members who discharged their firearms surrendered their weapons for processing and further analysis.

The scene at 248 North Main Street, Herkimer, New York was secured by the New York State Police for processing and further analysis.

A thorough analysis was performed on the weapons that were discharged by law enforcement personnel for comparison with the projectiles located at the scene as well as those removed from the person of Kurt R. Myers. It has been determined that Kurt R. Myers died as a result of multiple gunshot wounds to his person that, based upon the physical evidence as well as the statements by law enforcement, were the direct result of the return fire by members of the HRT team.

Conclusion:

That, based upon the above, the Office of the Herkimer County District Attorney believes that the shooting of Kurt R. Myers by federal law enforcement officers was justified pursuant to New York Penal Law Article 35 and, as such, will not initiate any criminal prosecution of those law enforcement officers involved. Specifically, the Office of the Herkimer County District Attorney is declining to prosecute

Investigator [redacted] U.S. Marshals Service; Special Agent [redacted] Federal Bureau of Investigation; Special Agent [redacted] Federal Bureau of Investigation; Special Agent [redacted] Federal Bureau of Investigation; and Special Agent [redacted] Federal Bureau of Investigation for their involvement in the shooting of Kurt R. Myers. If you require anything further, please do not hesitate to contact me. b6 -1,3 b7C -1,3

Subject: Albany FBI HRT Shooting

Inspector [redacted]

On the morning of March 13, 2013, in Herkimer, New York, FBI HRT operators encountered and exchanged gunfire with Kurt Meyers resulting in Meyers' death. The day before, Meyers had shot six civilians, killing four of them. Thereafter, he exchanged gunfire with a U.S. Marshall and barricaded himself inside an abandoned building. A four man HRT team, supported by a canine, encountered Meyers while searching for him in the building. Meyers fired his shotgun at the HRT operators as they approached. The four HRT operators returned his gunfire. During the ensuing gunfight, the canine was shot and killed by Meyers and Meyers was struck by HRT return gunfire and subdued. He died on the scene from multiple gunshot wounds.

Based upon a review of materials from the FBI Inspection Division Shooting Incident Report, we have concluded that the facts do not warrant a federal criminal civil rights investigation. The evidence gathered during the shooting incident review establishes that the operators who fired their weapons did not acted "willfully," intending to violate the law. Rather, they returned the gunfire of a desperate man who had had recently murdered others and who demonstrated to law enforcement that the HRT operators were facing an imminent deadly risk that warranted their use of deadly force.

Based upon these pertinent facts shared with the United States Attorney's Office for the Northern District of New York, that office concurs with our prosecutive assessment. Further, the Office of the Herkimer County District Attorney also reviewed the matter and determined that Meyers' death was the direct result of return gunfire by the HRT operators and thus declined prosecution under its statutes.

We appreciate the voluntary statements provided by the HRT operators which enabled a fully informed decision by prosecution authorities. The Inspection Division should thus conclude its administrative review of this matter.

This vehicle, driven by SA [redacted] also transported SA [redacted] After SA [redacted], the five SWAT vehicles, including a Humvee, surrounded the house and turned on the police emergency lights. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

Separately, a SWAT van transported the SWAT Gold team, including the entry team, from [redacted] to the residence. Approximately 200 yards from the residence, the entry team, which consisted of SAs [redacted] and [redacted] exited the van and transferred to the Humvee, which was driven by SA [redacted] and transported ASAC [redacted] in the front passenger seat and SA [redacted] in the rear passenger compartment. SAs [redacted] mounted the driver-side rails of the Humvee and SAs [redacted] mounted the passenger-side rails. SA [redacted] exited the van, mounted the back of the Humvee, and covered the entry team with his sniper rifle as it approached the residence. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

After SA [redacted] stopped the Humvee near the Southeast corner of the house, the entry team disembarked and approached the front door of the residence, which was located inside a screened-in porch. As the entry team approached, SA [redacted] continued to provide cover while SA [redacted] exited and covered the entry team with his M-4 from the front of the Humvee. ASAC [redacted] and SA [redacted] remained in the Humvee. b6 -1 b7C -1

SAs [redacted] "stacked" on the right side of the door while SA [redacted] positioned himself on the left side of the door. At 6:06 a.m., SA [redacted] breached the front door with a battering ram. After the breach, SA [redacted] gave a procedural warning to the entry team and [redacted] approximately one foot inside the door. While SA [redacted] other members of the entry team continued to announce words to the effect, "FBI. We have a search warrant. Come to front door." As this announcement was made, [redacted] appeared and walked toward the front door. While she walked, she confirmed the presence of [redacted] inside the residence. At 6:07 a.m., [redacted] complied with instructions provided to her by SA [redacted] and exited the residence. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2 b7E -1

SA [redacted] whose primary responsibility was to provide cover for shield team #2 and handle prisoners, escorted [redacted] to the rear of the van. While doing so, she told [redacted] the subjects were inside the house, were in possession of a lot of guns, including handguns and an AK-47 rifle, and the subjects would fight it out with law enforcement and "go out with a bang." SA [redacted] turned [redacted] over to STL [redacted] and SA b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2 after which she made similar statements, which SA reported over the radio. b6 -1 b7C -1

Members of entry team continued to announce the FBI's presence until SA made the radio announcement, at which time they retreated to positions of cover behind the Humvee.

b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

After ASAC authorized its use, STL gave the order over the radio between 6:15 a.m. and 6:26 a.m.

On the Northwest side of the residence, after receiving the order from STL SA gave the order to SA SA retrieved from the vehicle. SA identified two West side windows, which he described from left to right as A1 and A2, in which SA then SA heard SA ask STL via radio whether In preparation, SA retrieved eight additional from the vehicle, which he subsequently b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

Upon arrival, SA drove an SUV to the Northeast side of the residence. SA was the passenger. Both were on the SWAT Blue team. In accordance with the operations order, SA turned on the vehicle's police lights after SAs covered the windows and door on the North side of the residence. Several minutes after exited the residence, SA received an order from STL SA retrieved his from the back seat of the vehicle, and over the course of approximately three minutes. which did not hit its' target, was fired at the easternmost window on the North side of the residence (North A1). at the North A2 window and again at the North A1 window. At STL [redacted] s request, SAs [redacted] returned to the van and used the bullhorn to continue to call out the subjects. Shortly thereafter, STL [redacted] advised the call outs were not loud enough. SA [redacted] attempted to use the van's PA system without success. STL [redacted] and SA [redacted] then walked to the van and asked SA [redacted] to move it approximately 20 yards closer to the house. Again, SA [redacted] utilized the bull horn to continue announcing the FBI's presence. At this time, [redacted] and the subjects had not yet made verbal contact with the SWAT team or negotiators. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

Shots Fired

[redacted] Fired Two Shots - West Side: b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7 b7E -1

At 6:29 a.m., as SA [redacted] was either [redacted] or after he began [redacted] he heard, and both SAs [redacted] observed, the muzzle flash of two gun shots fired in rapid succession coming from the West A2 window.

[redacted] Fired One Shot - South Side:

A few minutes after the beginning of [redacted] SA [redacted] moved the Humvee to the front of the residence to provide cover from an angle at which SWAT operators had a better view of the open front door and interior of the residence. ASAC [redacted] and SA [redacted] remained in the Humvee. At STL [redacted] s direction, SA [redacted] positioned the Humvee with the passenger side facing the front door. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7 b7E -1

At 6:30 a.m., after the vehicle was in its new position, while looking through the front passenger-side window at the front door, SA [redacted] observed a man wearing a white shirt, standing in the front doorway, raise a chrome firearm and fire one round through the front door toward the Humvee. SA [redacted] observed the same individual point a gun toward the Humvee, heard a gunshot come from this individual's direction, and heard a subsequent round fired back. b6 -1 b7C -1

After SA [redacted] moved the Humvee, SA [redacted] rotated through a tactical position at the rear of the Humvee with a direct view of the front door. During one of his rotations, he used the TRL-3 laser/flashlight mounted on his Colt M-4 .223 rifle to illuminate the residence. He switched the laser on in order to discourage aggressive action by the subjects. Using the flashlight, SA [redacted] could see into the residence, including what appeared to be a back wall.

At 6:30 a.m., SA [redacted] saw a person with disheveled hair, wearing a white shirt, emerge from behind a piece of unidentified furniture near what appeared to be a back wall. SA [redacted] saw this person moving and repeatedly shouted for this person to show his hands. SA [redacted] observed a muzzle flash come from this person. SA [redacted]'s immediate thought he was being fired upon. Out of concern for his safety and the safety of others, SA [redacted] took his Colt M-4 rifle off safe mode and using the weapon's [redacted] discharged one .223 caliber round. After SA [redacted] fired, the subject immediately dropped out of his sight.

After the gun shots, SA [redacted] opened SA [redacted]'s door and directed SA [redacted] SA [redacted], and ASAC [redacted] to exit the Humvee on the side facing away from the front door and to get on the ground. SA [redacted] then used a ballistic shield to protect them.

SA [redacted] realizing SA [redacted] fired his weapon, asked him to describe what he saw. SA [redacted] said he observed a man inside the residence discharge a gun, but was unsure whether his return fire struck him.

Just after SA [redacted] heard over the radio shots were fired, SA [redacted] advised via radio [redacted]'s cellular telephone was in the residence. At 6:35 a.m., after SA [redacted] called it five times to no avail, [redacted] called SA [redacted]'s cellular telephone. Over approximately the next hour and twenty-five minutes, SA [redacted] spoke several times. During these phone calls, [redacted] told SA [redacted] he had been shot.

b7C -7

While examining and bandaging his gunshot wound, [redacted] made several unsolicited remarks, including he had shot out the back and front of the residence.

At 8:26 a.m., Dallas SWAT cleared the residence.

At 8:28 a.m., [redacted] was transported to Hunt County Jail. b6 -7 b7C -7

At 8:33 a.m., [redacted] was transported to [redacted] Medical Center.

POST-SWAT OPERATION

ASAC [redacted] notified SAC Rodriguez via Blackberry E-mail shots had been fired. Upon learning this, SAC Rodriguez requested ASAC [redacted] to notify SIOC. SAC Rodriquez subsequently notified DAD Cory B. Nelson, INSD, and ADD Kevin L. Perkins. While driving to the scene, SAC Rodriguez contacted [redacted] Chief Division Counsel, Dallas Field Office. b6 -1 b7C -1

SAC Rodriguez arrived at the scene just prior to the surrender of the subjects, which he observed from his vantage point. He learned the basic facts from STL [redacted] including SA [redacted] had fired his weapon, and his weapon and magazines had been secured by ERT. He observed SWAT enter and clear the location. b6 -1 b7C -1

SAC Rodriquez spoke with SA [redacted] and determined he was okay, then separated personnel directly involved in the operation to determine how they were, and to advise them of what the administrative process would be over the next several days. b6 -1 b7C -1

SAC Rodriquez ensured the crime scene was secure before it was turned over to ERT. At approximately 8:30 a.m., a search was initiated by the Dallas ERT at [redacted] Texas. b6 -7 b7C -7

Post-incident interviews revealed a neighbor, [redacted] date of birth [redacted] witnessed the incident. At 6:00 a.m., after [redacted] by the Dallas SWAT team, [redacted] who lived at [redacted] approximately 50 yards Southwest of the [redacted] residence, exited his residence and observed a long line of cars with red and blue lights flashing parked along [redacted] heard a loudspeaker repeating [redacted] please come out." [redacted] observed a Humvee parked in front of the [redacted] s house. At some point, [redacted] heard a shot, which sounded as if it had come from the house. Immediately following this, [redacted] observed someone standing behind the Humvee fire a shot from a long gun into the house. [redacted] heard no more shooting after this. b6 -7,8 b7C -7,8 b7E -1

ACCOUNTING OF SHOTS FIRED

The FBI Laboratory has received several Dallas examination requests, to include SA [redacted]'s Colt M4A1 Carbine, four magazines, 111 rounds of .223 ammunition, and one spent casing. Also pending is the analysis of ammunition and a .357 Smith and Wesson revolver recovered [redacted] address. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

MEDICAL RECORDS

A full copy of [redacted]'s medical records was obtained from [redacted] Medical Center. A review of these records indicated [redacted] was hospitalized and examined on 08/02/2012, and released on the same date. The report stated [redacted] had a single puncture wound and laceration with controlled bleeding located in the rear of his right shoulder. An X-Ray showed a bullet traveled over the right posterior shoulder region. Areas of shrapnel were noted in the deltoid region as well as a second area of shrapnel within the right trapezius. There was also a fracture of the right shoulder bone. b6 -7 b7C -7

A full copy of [redacted] medical records will be retained by INSD. b6 -7 b7C -7

Administrative Notes: (U) Reference report of Inspector Robert J. Shields, Jr., dated 01/29/2013.

Details:

This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 05/24/2012, the Dallas Division opened an investigation regarding the 05/18/2012 armed robbery of a Bank of America branch in

Forney, Texas. The Dallas Bank Robbery Coordinator, SA [redacted] connected the two unidentified subjects in that robbery to four other recent bank robberies. In June 2012, a source connected [redacted] to the five bank robberies, and provided information corroborated by witness statements. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

In mid-June 2012, Acting Supervisory Special Agent (A/SSA) [redacted] advised Special Weapons and Tactic (SWAT), Senior Team Leader (STL) [redacted] of the case and the potential need for SWAT assistance. STL [redacted] subsequently planned the operation and wrote the operations order. On 07/26/2012, a Search Warrant was obtained for [redacted] Texas. On 07/31/2012, STL [redacted] briefed the operations order including the FBI Deadly Force Policy to SWAT team members. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

On 08/01/2012, STL [redacted] met with SAC Diego G. Rodriquez, ASAC [redacted] ASAC [redacted] and SSA [redacted] and obtained SAC approval for the operations order. During the meeting, SAC Rodriquez approved the use of [redacted] and delegated authority to [redacted] to ASAC [redacted] the On-Scene Commander (OSC). b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

On 08/02/2012, participants were E-mailed a copy of the final operations order. At approximately 5:40 a.m., at [redacted] in [redacted] TX, STL [redacted] briefed the operations order to all personnel directly involved with the operation. After STL [redacted]'s briefing, the SWAT Blue and Gold Team Leaders, SAs [redacted] conducted brief-backs with their respective teams. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

At 5:56 a.m., the SWAT team and other law enforcement personnel departed [redacted] and proceeded to the [redacted] address in six vehicles and arrived at 6:05 a.m. At 6:06 a.m., SA [redacted] on the Northwest side of the house. After SA [redacted] the five SWAT vehicles, including a Humvee, surrounded the house and activated their police emergency lights. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7 b7E -1

Approximately 200 yards from the residence, the entry team, which consisted of SAs [redacted] and b6 -1 b7C -1

[redacted] exited their van and transferred to the Humvee, which was driven by SA [redacted]. Also in the Humvee was ASAC [redacted] in the front passenger seat and SA [redacted] in the rear passenger compartment. SAs [redacted] mounted the driver-side rails of the Humvee and SAs [redacted] mounted the passenger-side rails. SA [redacted] mounted the back of the Humvee, and covered the entry team with his sniper rifle as they approached the residence. b6 -1 b7C -1

After SA [redacted] stopped the Humvee near the Southeast corner of the house, the entry team disembarked and approached the front door of the residence. As the entry team approached, SA [redacted] continued to provide cover from the rear of the Humvee, while SA [redacted] covered the entry team from the front of the Humvee. ASAC [redacted] and SA [redacted] remained in the Humvee. b6 -1 b7C -1

SAs [redacted] "stacked" on the right side of the door while SA [redacted] positioned himself on the left side of the door. At 6:06 a.m., SA [redacted] breached the front door with a battering ram. SA [redacted] escorted [redacted] to the rear of a SWAT van. She told [redacted] the subjects were inside the house, were in possession of a lot of guns, including handguns and an AK-47 rifle, and the subjects would fight it out with law enforcement and "go out with a bang." SA [redacted] turned [redacted] over to STL [redacted] and SA [redacted] after which she made similar statements which were reported over the radio by SA [redacted]. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

until SA [redacted] made the radio announcement, at which time they retreated to positions of cover behind the Humvee. b6 -1 b7C -1

After ASAC [redacted] authorized its use, STL [redacted] radioed the order to [redacted] After receiving the order to [redacted] from STL [redacted] SA [redacted] gave the order to SA [redacted] SA [redacted] into two west side windows identified by SA [redacted] SA [redacted] subsequently [redacted] into the residence. SAs [redacted] covered the windows and door on the North side of the residence. Several minutes after [redacted] exited the residence, SA [redacted] received an order from STL [redacted] to [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] heard SA [redacted] announce over the radio shots had been fired. Approximately five to ten minutes later, at STL [redacted]'s request, SA [redacted] into the window. [redacted] were subsequently [redacted] between 6:15 a.m. and 6:26 a.m. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2 b7E -1

After the entry team members took positions behind the Humvee, the FBI Crisis Negotiators, SAs [redacted] used a bullhorn to announce the FBI had a search warrant and for [redacted] to exit the residence. SAs [redacted] did not carry a "throw" phone or a "rescue" phone to the operation because there was no room in the van, which was overcrowded with SWAT personnel. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

At STL [redacted]'s request, SAs [redacted] returned to the van and used the bullhorn to continue to call out the subjects. Shortly thereafter, STL [redacted] advised the call outs were not loud enough. SA [redacted] attempted to use the van's PA system without success. STL [redacted] and SA [redacted] then walked to the van and asked SA [redacted] to move it approximately 20 yards closer to the house. Again, SA [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1 and [redacted] utilized the bullhorn to continue announcing the FBI's presence. At this time, [redacted] and the subjects had not yet made verbal contact with the SWAT team or negotiators. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

At 6:29 a.m., SA [redacted] heard, and both SAs [redacted] and [redacted] observed, the muzzle flash of two gun shots fired in rapid succession coming from a window. b6 -1 b7C -1

A few minutes after the beginning of [redacted] SA [redacted] moved the Humvee to the front of the residence to provide cover from an angle at which SWAT operators had a better view of the open front door and interior of the residence. ASAC [redacted] and SA [redacted] remained in the Humvee. At STL [redacted]'s direction, SA [redacted] positioned the Humvee with the passenger side facing the front door. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

At 6:30 a.m., while looking through the front passenger-side window at the front door, SA [redacted] observed a man wearing a white shirt, standing in the front doorway, raise a chrome firearm and fire one round through the front door toward the Humvee. SA [redacted] also observed the same individual point the gun toward the Humvee, heard a gunshot come from this individual's direction, and heard a subsequent round fired back. b6 -1 b7C -1

From his position SA [redacted] saw a person with disheveled hair, wearing a white shirt, emerge from behind a piece of furniture near what appeared to be a back wall. SA [redacted] saw this person moving and repeatedly shouted for him to show his hands. SA [redacted] observed a muzzle flash come from the person and immediately thought he was being fired upon. Concerned for his safety as well as the safety of others, SA [redacted] discharged one round. The subject immediately dropped out of sight. b6 -1 b7C -1

After the gun shots, SA [redacted] opened SA [redacted]'s door and directed SA [redacted], SA [redacted] and ASAC [redacted] to exit the Humvee on the side facing away from the front door and to get on the ground. SA [redacted] then used a ballistic shield to protect them. b6 -1 b7C -1

Just after SA [redacted] heard over the radio shots were fired, SA [redacted] advised via radio [redacted]'s cellular telephone was inside the residence. At 6:35 a.m., after SA [redacted] called it five times to no avail, [redacted] called SA [redacted]'s cellular telephone. Over approximately the next hour and twenty-five minutes, SA [redacted] spoke several times. During these phone calls, [redacted] told SA [redacted] he had been shot. b6 -1,2,7 b7C -1,2,7

At 8:09 a.m., [redacted] exited the house and surrendered. One minute later, [redacted] exited the front door of the house and surrendered. Immediate medical assistance was provided to [redacted] He was transported by ambulance to the [redacted] Medical and released the same day. b6 -7 b7C -7

On 05/23/2013, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Acting Assistant Director Robert J. Shields, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Acting Chief Inspector Howard S. ## Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action, if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force employed by the Agent was justified and in conformance with the FBI's Deadly Force Policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. SIRG members unanimously adopted the following observations and recommendations of the SIRT: b6 -1 b7C -1

INSPECTOR'S OBSERVATIONS

Observation #1: The OSC improperly placed himself in a tactical position.

Analysis: According to the Special Weapons and Tactics Policy Implementation Guide (PIG), Section 2.2.2 (02/29/2012, revised 04/25/2012), the "..[redacted]". ASAC [redacted] took a position in the Humvee, which transported the entry team to the target location, and was positioned approximately seven to ten yards from the front door to the residence. When the operation b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -5 escalated, he was not in the optimal location to assess the situation and make critical decisions.

Recommendation #1: SAC, Dallas should ensure OSC's are knowledgeable of their role and responsibilities during SWAT operations.

Observation #2: TOC personnel were assigned non-TOC functions.

Analysis: TOC SA [redacted] drove the Humvee transporting the entry team to the residence and positioned it approximately 15 yards from the front door. SA [redacted] subsequently repositioned the Humvee approximately seven to ten yards from the front door. SA [redacted] then exited and took a tactical position at the front of the Humvee, covering the entry team with his M-4. SA [redacted] a medic, as well as ASAC [redacted] the OSC, both non-tactical personnel, were also in the Humvee. Because of their proximity and position relative to the front door of the residence, these individuals were unnecessarily exposed to potential harm. In addition, due to their proximity and position, SAs [redacted] witnessed the subject discharge his weapon. b6 -1 b7C -1

Recommendation #2: SAC, Dallas should ensure all personnel participating in SWAT tactical operations are qualified, properly trained, and appropriately utilized.

Observation #3: Participants either did not possess or utilize the proper protective equipment.

PROCEDURES FOR RESPONDING TO THE INSTRUCTIONS/RECOMMENDATIONS

The Inspection Division (INSD), Inspection Management Unit (IMU) is responsible for ensuring that each Inspection Instruction/ Recommendation is satisfactorily resolved. IMU maintains an Inspection Instructions/Recommendations database and provides the INSD Assistant Director (AD) a quarterly report reflecting all outstanding Instructions/Recommendations. The inspection process is not complete until all Instructions/Recommendations have been satisfactorily resolved.

IMU will provide all responses to the Inspector-in-Charge (IIC), who will determine if each Instruction/Recommendation has been resolved or requires further action. Resolution will be based upon specific actions taken rather than a recitation of what actions the division has under consideration or plans to take in the future. If the IIC determines an Instruction/Recommendation has not been resolved, an EC will be forwarded requesting further action or clarification. Upon resolution, all Instructions/Recommendations will be appropriately noted in the database.

SAC, Dallas is required to provide detailed responses addressing the Recommendations in this EC, pages 7, 8 and 9, including corrective actions taken and/or intended actions with time frames for completion. Each Observation which results in an Instruction/Recommendation must be responded to in a one-page, stand-alone response. The Observation and related Instruction/Recommendation is to be recited verbatim from the inspection EC, followed by the field office's detailed response. If supporting documentation is available, it should be enclosed with each response.

All initial and follow-up responses must be sent to the IMU on plain bond paper as enclosures to a transmittal EC, directed to Unit Chief [redacted] Inspection Division, Inspection Management Unit, Room [redacted] In addition, after the EC is serialized with the attached responses, please E-mail the Sentinel link to MPA [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

Subject: Dallas FBI Agent Involved Shooting on 08/02/2012

Inspector Robert Shields:

Based upon a review of materials that you provided from your Shooting Inquiry, we have determined that the shooting and wounding of [redacted] on October 14, 2010, in [redacted] TX by Special Agent [redacted] during the execution of a search warrant does not warrant a criminal investigation. [redacted] were heavily armed inside their home and [redacted] had fired shots at agents from inside the house. Once [redacted] was extracted from the house, [redacted] advised that [redacted] were heavily armed and would not surrender. The SWAT team then surrounded [redacted] the house. Watching through the front door about a half an hour later, SA [redacted] saw [redacted] ordered him to show his hands, saw a muzzle flash from [redacted]'s position, and fired a single shot wounding [redacted] in the shoulder. Another agent corroborated SA [redacted]'s account and [redacted] later complemented the agent for "a good shot." Both men surrendered within minutes after [redacted] was wounded. b6 -1,2,7 b7C -1,2,7 b7E -1

There is no evidence that contradicts the voluntary statement provided by SA [redacted] that he fired under the above describe conditions and that he feared for his safety and the safety of others. The totality of the evidence supports a conclusion that there was no violation of the federal criminal civil rights statutes. Hunt County DA [redacted] reviewed the Shooting Inquiry documents and complemented their completeness and quality, expressing a desire to share the reports with his own officers as an example of a model investigation. He further advised that no local investigation would be conducted. The USAO is prosecuting [redacted] for assault on a federal officer. We appreciate the agent's willingness to provide a voluntary statement to enable a fully informed decision in this matter. b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7

Please complete your administrative review of this matter. Additionally, please provide AUSA [redacted] [redacted] Criminal Chief, ND of TX, with all documents generated by the Inspection Division, including the final report, for his review to insure his office fulfills its discovery obligations in the AFO criminal prosecution. b6 -3 b7C -3

Synopsis: (U) The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 03/15/2012, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the Springfield Division. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of her involvement in the shooting incident. Three Observations and associated Recommendations were adopted by the SIRG for the Springfield Division. b6 -1 b7C -1

Administrative Notes: (U) Reference report of Inspector Ronald Twersky, dated 11/06/2012.

Details:

On 03/15/2015, SA [redacted] assigned to the Springfield Division's Fairview Heights R.A., was involved in a shooting incident following a traffic stop of a vehicle in East St. Louis, Illinois. Participating in the traffic stop with SA [redacted] was Illinois State Police (ISP) Sergeant (Sgt.) [redacted] and SA [redacted] a City of O'Fallon (Illinois) Police Officer assigned as an SA to the ISP's Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southern Illinois (MEGSI). The three law enforcement officers were part of the Working Against Violent Elements (WAVE) detail, a multi-agency initiative which b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 included vehicle patrols to establish an enhanced law enforcement presence in the East St. Louis area.

On 03/15/2012, at approximately 4 p.m., a WAVE detail briefing was held at the ISP Headquarters in Collinsville, Illinois. FBI SA [redacted] and Sgt. [redacted] led the briefing, which included a review of recent intelligence regarding violence in the Metro East. Steven Holmes, a local "shooter" wanted by the ISP, was shot and killed on 03/11/2012. Holmes' murder triggered a "war" between those loyal to Holmes and a rival violent group believed to be responsible for Holmes' death. Also discussed was the recovery of two assault weapons and another killing which occurred during the previous WAVE operation on 03/14/2012. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

Vehicle stops were discussed and participants were reminded to ensure members were backing each other up, calling out the location of the stop, and [redacted] of the stop. SA [redacted] stressed the importance of the detail's goal of "slowing down" the shootings and violence. Attendees were reminded shootings tend to happen in "groups and bunches," and caution was needed. SA [redacted] also advised the ISP's SWAT team was assisting the WAVE later that evening. The FBI's deadly force policy was not discussed during the briefing. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

Later in the evening, Sgt. [redacted] (driver), SA [redacted] (front-seat passenger), and SA [redacted] (rear-seat passenger) stopped a car occupied by [redacted] (driver) and [redacted] (passenger). Sgt. [redacted] approached the driver's side of the vehicle and engaged the occupants in conversation while SAs [redacted] and [redacted] positioned themselves on the passenger side. SA [redacted] observed a semi-automatic handgun on the driver's side floorboard of the vehicle, which was accessible to the occupants. SA [redacted] moved to the front of the vehicle with his weapon drawn and ordered the driver to open his door. The driver of the vehicle subsequently accelerated and lunged the vehicle forward, striking SA [redacted] s right leg. As the car moved forward SA [redacted] observed the passenger b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7 of the vehicle lean towards the middle of the seat, as if he was reaching for the firearm. At approximately the same time, SA [redacted] heard a muffled gunshot. Fearing for his life, SA [redacted] fired seven rounds at the passenger. b6 -1 b7C -1

When the car initially accelerated forward, SA [redacted] heard a gunshot. Realizing the vehicle posed an imminent threat to SA [redacted] she fired two or three rounds at the driver to stop the threat. As the vehicle continued moving forward, SA [redacted] fired one additional round, stopping when she observed SA [redacted] clear of the vehicle. b6 -1 b7C -1

The vehicle came to a stop after travelling approximately 55 to 65 feet. Both subjects exited the vehicle and were taken into custody. None of the law enforcement officers were injured by gunfire. SA [redacted] who was struck by the vehicle, was taken to a hospital with a minor injury. b6 -1 b7C -1

The driver ([redacted]) was slightly injured with an abrasion to the side, and he complained of back pain. He was treated and taken to the St. Clair County jail. The passenger [redacted] was shot multiple times in the torso area. He was treated at the scene by two members of the ISP, Special Weapons and Tactic team, and subsequently transported to the St. Louis University Hospital, where he was released approximately one week later. b6 -7 b7C -7

On 03/20/2012, St. Clair County First Assistant State's Attorney (FASA) [redacted] advised Inspector Twersky his office did not anticipate receiving a case from the ISP regarding FBI SA [redacted] or MEGSI SA [redacted] related to the 03/15/2012 incident. ISP Master Sergeant [redacted] Division of Internal Investigation, who was present at the meeting, concurred no such case was being pursued by the ISP. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

On 05/07/2012, Mr. [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, U.S. Department of Justice, advised the circumstances of the officer-involved shooting did not "establish sufficient evidence b6 -3 b7C -3 of willful conduct to warrant a federal criminal civil rights investigation of this matter."

On 05/23/2013, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Acting Assistant Director Robert J. Shields, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Acting Chief Inspector Howard S. Marshall, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, United States Department of Justice (USDOJ); [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) SC Gregory D. Cox, Global Section, Counterintelligence Division; Special Agent (SA) [redacted] Squad CR-2, Washington Field Office; SSA [redacted], Practical Applications Unit, Training Division (TD); SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel; SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team, Laboratory Division; SSA [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group (CIRG); SSA [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, TD; and SSA [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: Inspectors Gregory T. Bretzing, Christopher W. Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and 4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of her involvement in the shooting incident. The SIRG determined the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and within policy. b6 -1 b7C -1

SIRG members unanimously adopted the following observations and recommendations of the SIRT:

INSPECTOR'S OBSERVATIONS

Observation 1: Members of the Working Against Violent Elements (WAVE) detail did not conduct periodic tactical training as a unit, particularly with respect to vehicle stops, in the period preceding the 03/15/2012 shooting incident.

Analysis 1: The WAVE was a multi-agency detail comprised of law enforcement officers from local, state, and federal agencies. The WAVE consisted of a core group of ISP and FBI full-time members, who were augmented on a regular basis by members of various ISP units, to include the MEGSI and the ISP SWAT team, and other law enforcement agency members. FBI Agents participating in the WAVE detail were routinely assigned to patrol with their state and local counterparts during operations. The WAVE detail routinely engaged in car stops based on identified traffic violations. WAVE members trained with their respective agencies, and detailed briefings were conducted prior to WAVE operations. Also, a Springfield EC dated 01/05/2011, documenting additional requirements and guidance to the WAVE "Standing Operations Order/Plan," included procedures on felony car stops. However, the WAVE detail did not conduct periodic tactical training, particularly with respect to car stops, as a cohesive unit.

Recommendation 1: SAC, Springfield should ensure members of an FBI-involved detail or task force conduct periodic training on tactical scenarios reasonably expected to be encountered during operations, to include car stops.

Observation 2: Deficiencies were noted in the post-shooting office response.

Analysis 2: Springfield responded quickly to the 03/15/2012 Agent-Involved Shooting (AIS). However, the office did not utilize or have a formal AIS response plan. In order to ensure an effective response to an AIS, the Critical Incident Handbook, 2011 Edition, relating to AIS incidents, was available as a guide field offices can use to establish localized shooting response plans. The handbook was applicable in light of the following:

The Springfield CDC was notified of the shooting and coordinated with Springfield EM; however the CDC did not respond to the scene in order to provide counsel. CDCs are trained to obtain emergency representation for Agents involved in a shooting. In addition, it is good practice for the CDC to meet with those involved in a shooting incident to provide any legal information, most often the legal distinction between a voluntary and compelled interview. The CDC can provide routine legal information and answer basic legal questions, particularly issues relevant to shooters and non-shooters.

A Springfield Agent participating in the WAVE detail questioned the involved Agent about the shooting, beyond a public safety inquiry, shortly after the incident while both were still at the scene. While the Agent was concerned about the well-being of the involved agent, it is standard practice for post-shooting inquiries to be conducted by FBI personnel not directly or indirectly involved in the AIS.

Recommendation 2: SAC, Springfield should consider establishing a formal AIS response plan and office procedures regarding AIS incidents.

Observation 3: Springfield did not document all law enforcement contacts initiated as part of WAVE detail operations.

Analysis 3: The WAVE Initiative Strategy (EC dated 09/20/2011) employed concentrated enforcement actions, such as warrant sweeps, probable cause traffic stops, knock and talks, and controlled drug purchases to further investigative objectives.

FBI reports of traffic stops, knock and talks, and other WAVE detail law enforcement actions involving FBI Agents were completed if the law enforcement activity yielded firearms, drugs, "actionable intelligence," or intelligence deemed of value. Reports were not routinely completed to document negative law enforcement contacts or operations, such as traffic stops which did not yield actionable intelligence. It is prudent to memorialize enforcement-related contact with members of the public, to include traffic stops resulting in temporary detentions. A negative contact report or log can be utilized to summarize the identity of persons stopped, the time/date of the stop or contact, and the duration. Such documentation can be used for reference purposes should the stop or contact be the basis of a complaint or civil action at some future date.

Recommendation 3: SAC, Springfield should ensure FBI law enforcement contacts or actions, whether positive or negative, are documented to an appropriate file.

PROCEDURES FOR RESPONDING TO THE INSTRUCTIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The Inspection Division (INSD), Inspection Management Unit (IMU) is responsible for ensuring that each Inspection Instruction/ Recommendation is satisfactorily resolved. IMU maintains an Instructions/Recommendations database and provides the INSD Assistant Director (AD) a quarterly report reflecting all outstanding Instructions/Recommendations. The inspection process is not complete until all Instructions/Recommendations have been satisfactorily resolved.

IMU will provide all responses to the Inspector-in-Charge (IIC), who will determine if each Recommendation has been resolved or requires further action. Resolution will be based upon specific actions taken rather than a recitation of what actions the division has under consideration or plans to take in the future. If the IIC determines an Instruction/Recommendation has not been resolved, an EC will be forwarded requesting further action or clarification. Upon resolution, all Instructions/Recommendations will be appropriately noted in the database.

SAC, Springfield is required to provide detailed responses addressing the Recommendations in this EC, pages 5, 6, and 7, including corrective actions taken and/or intended actions with time frames for completion. Each Observation which results in an Recommendation must be responded to in a one-page, stand alone response. The Observation and related Recommendation is to be recited verbatim from the inspection EC, followed by the division's detailed response (it is not necessary to repeat the analysis section of the Observation in the response). If supporting documentation is available, it should be enclosed with each response.

During the execution of a federal arrest warrant, SA [redacted] fired one round from her Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol, injuring an aggressive pitbull dog. SIRG members unanimously recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of her involvement in this shooting incident. Administrative Notes: (U) Reference Electronic Communication (EC) of SA [redacted] dated 11/29/2012. b6 -1 b7C -1

Details:

This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 09/11/2012, Squad CE-5 was executing a federal arrest warrant for [redacted] at his residence located at [redacted] b6 -7 b7C -7

[redacted] California. The operations plan included information regarding the presence of dogs at the location which resulted in one team member being equipped with a fire extinguisher to repel any aggressive dog, if necessary. b6 -7 b7C -7

At approximately 6:00 a.m., the arrest team lined up to the left of the front door of the residence and knocked and announced the presence of law enforcement personnel. SA [redacted] was assigned to provide cover for SA [redacted] who was covering a window to the right of the front door. During the knock and announce, the front door opened from the force of the knock and an aggressive dog exited the apartment and charged at the arrest team. The Agent holding the fire extinguisher discharged it at the dog, driving the dog away from team members. The dog charged toward SAs [redacted] SA [redacted] waited for the dog to cross past the open door, indicating the dog was not going back inside the residence. When the dog was approximately one foot away from SA [redacted] SA [redacted] fired one round striking the dog in the leg. The injured dog retreated inside the apartment and the subject was taken into custody. b6 -1 b7C -1

On 05/23/2013, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Acting Assistant Director Robert J. Shields, Jr., Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Acting Chief Inspector Howard S. Marshall, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, United States Department of Justice (USDOJ); [redacted], Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) SC Gregory D. Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force employed by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the FBI's Deadly Force Policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of her involvement in this shooting incident. b6 -1 b7C -1

SIRG members adopted the following observation and recommendation of the Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT):

INSPECTOR'S OBSERVATION

Observation 1: Policy regarding the use of fire extinguishers during enforcement operations does not exist.

Analysis 1: Prior to the execution of a federal arrest warrant, an approved operations plan noted the presence of a dog at the arrest location. As a safety precaution, one Agent was equipped with a fire extinguisher for use against the dog if necessary. During the execution of the search and arrest warrants, Agents encountered a Pit Bull dog which exited the apartment while Agents knocked and announced. While still outside of the apartment, one of the entry team Agents utilized a fire extinguisher against the dog with minimal effect. Almost simultaneously, a second Agent discharged her weapon at the dog. One round struck the dog, after which the dog re-entered the apartment.

Recommendation 1: AD CIRG, AD TD, and AD FLSD should establish policy on the use of fire extinguishers during enforcement operations.

conducted an investigation into [redacted] b7A -1

On 05/10/2012, New Haven Division Executive Management and the United States Attorney arranged for a meeting between the United States Attorney's Office and BRA SSTF personnel to receive an updated briefing and discuss the future investigative plan.

During the meeting on 05/15/2012, an Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) summarized [redacted] b7A -1

An operations plan was drafted consisting of the execution of search and arrest warrants on 05/24/2012. A Command Post and a Tactical Operations Center were established to facilitate and coordinate the operational activity. Night time "no knock" arrest warrants and one search warrant were authorized as a result of the subjects' violence.

On 05/24/2012, at approximately 4:30 a.m., the warrants were executed. As a result of the subjects being nomadic, a pre-operation briefing was held the day before the execution of the warrants in order to discuss alternate locations where the subjects may be located. Another briefing of the teams was held on the morning of the takedown at approximately 3:00 a.m. During this briefing, the DOJ/FBI Deadly Force Policy was briefed to participating law enforcement personnel.

No personal injuries were incurred as a result of the shots fired by SA [redacted]. Two rounds were recovered from the subject's vehicle and the third skipped across the hood of a parked car, struck the wall of a nearby house, and landed on a coffee table inside a residence. b6 -1 b7C -1

It should be noted that investigators recovered digital video of the shooting incident recorded by a school bus which was passing near the scene. SIRG members opined that the presence of the school bus could have created a serious safety issue if an exchange of gun fire has ensured.

On 08/14/2013, the SIRG met to discuss the above-captioned shooting incident. Acting Assistant Director Robert J. Shields, Jr., Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: [redacted], Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, United States Department of Justice (USDOJ); [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Jayne L. Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and

(4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and in conformance with the deadly force policy. SIRG members adopted the following observations and instruction/recommendations. b6 -1 b7C -1

Observation 1: SA [redacted] did not activate his police lights or sirens, nor did he use the public address (PA) system to relay any commands during the attempted car stop and arrest of subject [redacted] b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

Analysis: The Ground Surveillance Policy Implementation Guide, Section 4.7 stated, "FBI vehicles responding to emergency or pursuit situations must utilize an adequate warning system such as a siren, flashing lights, or other device required by local statutes where use of such equipment will not compromise the discreet surveillance requirement."

The Training Division Vehicle Stops Lesson plan version 2.0 published by the Practical Applications Unit, last updated and approved on 06/26/2012 consisted of three primary learning objectives. Enabling Learning Objective (ELO) #2 elaborated on the considerations for determining and selecting an apprehension/vehicle stop location. The training detailed the need by law enforcement personnel to utilize a Radio/PA system during a vehicle stop. Emphasis was added regarding issuing commands over the PA system.

In an attempt to apprehend and arrest the subject a car stop was executed. The subject's vehicle was positioned behind an unoccupied vehicle along the side of the road. SA [redacted] pulled his vehicle alongside the subject's vehicle thereby preventing the car from pulling away from the curb at an angle. While the second law enforcement vehicle driven by TFOs [redacted] pulled in behind the subject's vehicle. Neither car activated their police lights or sirens, nor were any verbal commands given over the PA system. While it cannot be assumed the subject would have complied with commands, all b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 possible attempts should be made to ensure police safety and subject compliance.

Recommendation 1: SAC, New Haven, will ensure all personnel utilize the bureau vehicle lights/sirens and PA systems during vehicle stop operations.

Observation 2: The car stop and attempted arrest were conducted within the immediate vicinity of a school bus occupied by children.

Analysis: The Ground Surveillance Policy Implementation Guide, Section 4.12.2 stated, "The following guidelines are supplemental to DIOG Secti on 19 and Appendix F. SAs are encouraged to review and become familiar with both sections prior to executing an arrest in conjunction with surveillance operations. SAs must be cognizant of the following in conducting arrests: Prior and continuous training, good judgment, proper planning, and adherence to basic law enforcement principles all contribute toward enhancing the maximum level of safety and effectiveness during these high risk arrests."

Video surveillance cameras installed in both the front and rear of the school bus captured the two arresting vehicles on an oblique angle illustrating the Agents and TFOs were approximately 20 feet from a school bus full of children.

SA [redacted] fired three rounds at the subject, who was in his vehicle. One of the three rounds SA [redacted] fired skipped off the hood of a nearby parked car, struck the wall of a house, and landed on a coffee table inside the residence. Had an exchange of gun fire ensued, the school bus would have been in the direct line of return fire to law enforcement positions. b6 -1 b7C -1

Recommendation 2: SAC, New Haven, will ensure all personnel critically evaluate their surroundings and the overall safety of innocent bystanders prior to executing a car stop or arrest.

Observation 3: SA [redacted] carried his personally owned Glock 27 as b6 -1 b7C -1 his primary weapon system in lieu of his higher capacity FBI-issued Glock 22.

Analysis: The MIOG section 12-3 stated, "FBI SAs are authorized to carry and utilize only issued or Bureau-approved personally owned weapons (POWs) regardless of on or off-duty status." This section further stated, "Small-framed handguns (i.e., Smith and Wesson revolver Models 36, 49, 60; Glock 26 and 27 pistols, etc.) are most useful when concealability is important and should not be considered as a primary firearm in most situations."

On the morning of 05/24/2012SA [redacted] carried his personally owned Glock 27 as his primary weapon system during the planned arrest of subject [redacted] When it was discovered the subject was not her residence, SA [redacted] began the subsequent surveillance which led up to the shooting. While Agents routinely carry their personally owned weapons on and off-duty, during a planned arrest scenario, the higher capacity FBI-issued handgun is the preferred option. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

Recommendation 3: SAC, New Haven, will ensure all personnel carry their FBI-issued weapon system during planned arrest situations, in lieu of their lower capacity small-framed handguns.

Observation 4: SSA [redacted] exited the vehicle after it was positioned alongside the subject's vehicle to "pin in" the subject. This created increased risk to himself and a heightened likelihood of an Agent involved shooting. b6 -1 b7C -1

Analysis: The Training Division Vehicle Stops Lesson plan ELO #3 described the recommended positioning of the vehicles during the vehicle stop and the activities of each member of the team. The occupants of the two forward vehicles are recommended to open their doors in a position of cover, yet keep their feet inside of vehicle in the event the subject vehicle becomes "mobile" or is "used as a weapon."

In his attempt to pin the subject vehicle, SA [redacted] pulled his b6 -1 b7C -1 vehicle so close alongside the subject vehicle, SSA [redacted] was not able to open his door. The second vehicle driven by TFO [redacted] did not close the gap in time and afforded the opportunity for the subject to put his vehicle in reverse and strike TFO [redacted]'s vehicle. Once the subject's vehicle backed up, SSA [redacted] opted to get out of his vehicle and unnecessarily put himself in the forward driving path of the subject vehicle. Since there were only two vehicles utilized to conduct the car stop, the team was not able to effectively cover the danger areas. Additionally, with SSA [redacted] in the driving path, SA [redacted] felt compelled to fire his weapon as SSA [redacted] was in imminent danger of being struck by the subject's vehicle.

b6 -1,4

Recommendation 4: SAC, New Haven, will ensure all personnel who participate in high risk vehicle stops are trained in the proper vehicle placement and Agent positioning.

Observation 5: SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were not wearing FBI issued Ballistic Protective Undergarments (BPU) during the arrest operation.

b7C -1

Analysis 5: MIOG, Part 2, Section 12-13.1(1) states: [redacted]

b7E -5

It was determined through interviews SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were not wearing body armor at the time of the shooting incident. Both men were traveling to the Bridgeport Police Department Mobile Operations Center located at the [redacted] apartment complex. Their intent was to put on their vests and raid jackets prior to approaching Apartment [redacted] in search of another subject. While driving en route to the apartment complex they spotted someone they thought to be one of the fugitives and executed a car stop and attempted arrest without putting on their BPUs.

b6 -1,7

This operation contained multiple subjects requiring SWAT arrest teams, so there was every indication arrests associated with this operation could involve a violent altercation. Under such circumstances, it is imperative participants wear appropriate protective gear and BPUs during the operation.

Instruction 5: SAC, New Haven, will ensure all Agents comply with the MIOG requirement to wear BPUs during operational activity.

PROCEDURES FOR RESPONDING TO THE INSTRUCTIONS/RECOMMENDATIONS

The Inspection Division (INSD), Inspection Management Unit (IMU) is responsible for ensuring that each Inspection Instruction/ Recommendation is satisfactorily resolved. IMU maintains an Inspection Instructions/Recommendations database and provides the INSD Assistant Director (AD) a quarterly report reflecting all outstanding Instructions/ Recommendations. The inspection process is not complete until all Instructions/Recommendations have been satisfactorily resolved.

IMU will provide all responses to the Inspector-in-Charge (IIC), who will determine if each Instruction/Recommendation has been resolved or requires further action. Resolution will be based upon specific actions taken rather than a recitation of what actions the division has under consideration or plans to take in the future. If the IIC determines an Instruction/Recommendation has not been resolved, an EC will be forwarded requesting further action or clarification. Upon resolution, all Instructions/Recommendations will be appropriately noted in the database.

SAC, New Haven is required to provide detailed responses addressing the Instruction/Recommendations in this EC, pages 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10, including corrective actions taken and/or intended actions with time frames for completion. Each Observation which results in an Instruction/Recommendation must be responded to in a one-page, stand-alone response. The Observation and related Instruction/Recommendation is to be recited verbatim from the inspection EC, followed by the field office's detailed response. If supporting documentation is available, it should be enclosed with each response.

On June 26, 2015, SA [redacted] discharged six rounds from his FBI-issued Springfield 1911,.45 caliber handgun, at a pit bull mix dog which had just attacked and bitten a fellow SWAT team member during the execution of an arrest warrant. The shooting review was delegated to the Miami Division by Chief Inspector David Gelios on June 26, 2015. The following are the results of the shooting incident review, which included a SSS from SA [redacted] other witnesses at the scene, and the Miami ERT processing of the scene. b6 -1 b7C -1

On June 4,.2015, Case Agent [redacted] Squad C-6, obtained a federal arrest warrant for the arrest of [redacted] in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 922(d)(1) to wit: Knowingly transfering a firearm to a convicted felon, who was known to reside at [redacted] Florida. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

In order to safely effect the arrest of [redacted] the Miami SWAT team was assigned to serve the arrest warrant. The team consisted of 27 operators, four Crisis Negotiators, two Assistant Special Agents in Charge, three Tactical Operation Command (TOC) Specialists and the SWAT coordinator. A team briefing was held at 4:15 a.m. on June 26, 2015, attended by all participants in the operation. The briefing was led by Senior Team leader (STL) [redacted] STL [redacted] discussed all aspects of the operations order, including the FBI Deadly Force Policy. Team members were provided copies of the Operations Order. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

On June 26, 2015, at approximately 6:16 a.m., Miami SWAT arrived at the target location. It was previously known that dogs were present at this location. The house was surrounded by SWAT operators. Miami SA's and task force officers were positioned on the outer perimeter. The plan was for Miami SWAT to knock and announce their presence and call residents out of the house. Verbal commands were given to the residents, later determined to be eight, including [redacted] The residents were non-compliant from the beginning by refusing to open the door. Upon calling the residents out, one resident ran away from the front door into the interior of the residence. Ultimately, the subjects who were removed from the residence were yelling and screaming at the b6 -7 b7C -7

SWAT operators as the situation continued to be resolved. Due to the non-compliance of the residents, STL [redacted] ordered that an alternate breach be commenced at the back door of the residence. Attempts were also being made to place subjects under arrest on the front side of the residence where a breach had been made as subjects were non-compliant. One subject was observed attempting to carry a dog in his arms out of the house. STL [redacted] gave him radio commands to stop fearing the subject would throw the dog, described as a pit bull mix, at SWAT operators at the front door threshold. The subject then handed the dog off to a black female in a white shirt. While subjects were being taken into custody in the front yard, the aforementioned pit bull mix became loose and exited the house. The owners did not have control of the animal when it exited the residence and it was running around the front yard, going from person to person. STL [redacted] gave verbal and radio commands for a resident to take control of the dog.

b6 -1,7

At this point, SWAT operator SA [redacted] went to the threshold of the front door, handcuffed a female resident and walked her away from the house. The dog darted across the yard and jumped up at SA [redacted] The dog jumped up a second time and bit SA [redacted] s right arm. After seeing SA [redacted] get bitten, STL [redacted] went across the yard to the dog and observed SA [redacted] separate from the handcuffed subject. Fearing that SA [redacted] would sustain serious physical injuries if the dog latched on, and that he could possibly be bitten himself, STL [redacted] drew his Bureau issued pistol and fired rounds at the dog. The dog did not collapse at the first volley of approximately two shots, but did so at the front door after the last volley of approximately three to four shots. STL [redacted] was within approximately five feet of the dog and had to avoid the legs of SA [redacted] because the dog was spinning around while continuously trying to bite SA [redacted] STL [redacted] stopped shooting when the dog separated from SA [redacted] and he perceived the immediate threat was over. STL [redacted] tracked the dog with his weapon and observed him run to the front door (where SWAT members were positioned) and collapse at the threshold, where he eventually died.

STL [redacted] was wearing standard SWAT issued gear on this mission. After the shooting of the dog, STL [redacted] ensured everyone on the team was checked and inspected by the SWAT medics to confirm no one else had sustained injuries. Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) [redacted] and ASAC [redacted] were present on scene during the operation. Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] of the Miami A-3 squad was notified and responded. SSA [redacted] of the C-18 squad, Miami Shooting Response Team leader, was also notified and responded to the scene, as did SSA [redacted] of the C-15 squad. Miami's Evidence Response Team (ERT) was notified and responded to the scene. ERT took photographs, created a sketch of the scene and collected three (3) shell casings.

The weapon used by STL [redacted] was collected by Assistant Principal Firearms Instructor (APFI) [redacted] who was present as a SWAT team operator. A replacement weapon, magazines and ammunition were issued to STL [redacted] A physical check of the Springfield 1911 was conducted and a round count indicated six rounds had been fired. The dog was transported from the scene and examined by Animal Control Officer [redacted] Dr. [redacted] of the Miami Dade Animal Services conducted a necropsy and determined the cause of death to be from multiple gunshot wounds which affected the liver, stomach and left lung.

On July 23, 2015, SSA [redacted] and Assistant State Attorney (ASA) [redacted] discussed the matter and the facts were presented for a prosecutorial decision. As a result, ASA [redacted] declined formal presentation of the incident for prosecutorial consideration.
The following reports and applicable FD-302s were completed and uploaded via Sentinel to the captioned file. The original notes and records for all interviews were packaged in FD-340 envelopes and sent to INSD.

Synopsis

(U//~~FOUO~~) On June 4, 2013, AQ SA [redacted] and Task Force Officer (TFO) [redacted] participated in a drug buy/walk operation. The plan called for the buy/walk to occur at about 4:00 p.m., followed by a traffic stop conducted by a marked police unit to identify the subjects. FBI and TFO surveillance units were assisted by Albuquerque Police Department (APD) [redacted] and were positioned to monitor the buy/walk. The buy was made from [redacted] an associate of the subject later identified as [redacted] The transaction was executed from inside a [redacted] The plan called for a traffic stop to identify the subject; however surveillance lost the [redacted] AQ personnel ran the [redacted] license plate information and obtained an address associated with a female subject, [redacted] who was identified as associated with [redacted] and the buy. At approximately 5:45 p.m., SA [redacted] exited the vehicle with his MP5 and took position near his vehicle. SA [redacted] fired his weapon three times toward the driver, [redacted] as [redacted] vehicle approached. SA [redacted] feared [redacted] was attempting to drive his vehicle into their vehicle with the intent to cause death or serious bodily injury. Two shots fired impacted houses and one hit the subject's vehicle. [redacted] fled in his vehicle and was arrested shortly thereafter by APD officers. No injuries resulted from the shooting.

Details

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 06/04/2012, Special Agents assigned to Albuquerque (AQ) SQ-4, members of the Albuquerque Safe Streets Task Force (SSTF) and other local law enforcement personnel executed a buy and walk operation in southwest Albuquerque, New Mexico. The plan called for an undercover (UC) task force officer (TFO) to make contact with a subject known to [redacted] b6 -7 b7C -7 b7D -1 b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] case Agent and UC handling Agent, prepared an operations order for the proposed buy/walk operation. The operations order was signed on 06/03/2013 by SSA [redacted] the Squad 5 SSA, and by SSA [redacted] the Squad 4 SSA who was the Acting ASAC. At approximately 2:00 p.m., on 06/04/2013, SA [redacted] conducted an operational briefing at the FBI Albuquerque Field Office for all personnel involved in the operation. In attendance at this operational briefing were Squad 4 FBI Agents and Task Force Officers (TFOs), Las Cruces Police Department TFOs, and Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Gang Unit members. APD [redacted] supported the operation, but did not attend the operational briefing. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1,6

(U//~~FOUO~~) At the briefing, the planned undercover drug purchase followed by a traffic stop by marked APD units to identify the subjects was briefed by SA [redacted] The operation was planned for approximately 3:00 pm the same day. The FBI's Deadly Force Policy was read by SA [redacted] SA [redacted] instructed TFOs to follow their own deadly force policy. All personnel participating in the operation knew their roles and responsibilities. Questions were solicited, but no questions were asked. The operations order did not direct the execution of an arrest of [redacted]' nor was such approval sought. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) When the briefing concluded, SA [redacted] and the team members left the FBI office to set up surveillance of the operation. At approximately 3:00 p.m., surveillance was established in the area of a [redacted] Albuquerque. As a member of SQ-4, SA [redacted] was supporting the drug buy/walk surveillance operation. The plan called for the buy/walk to occur at [redacted] Albuquerque, New Mexico, however, was changed to the vicinity of the [redacted] in Albuquerque, New Mexico. This change was at the request of the subject, who wanted the buy to occur in that area of the city. FBI, TFO surveillance units, and Albuquerque Police Department (APD) [redacted] positioned near the address and monitored conversations between a task force UC and the subject who was later identified as [redacted] aka: "[redacted]" b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7 b7E -1,6

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] who was in telephonic contact with the UC, altered the buy location from [redacted] to inside the [redacted] and finally outside in the [redacted] parking lot. [redacted] altered the meeting location, based upon his concern that law enforcement was possibly in the area. After numerous telephonic conversations between the undercover and [redacted] the drug transaction was executed by an individual later identified as [redacted] an associate of [redacted] After some rudimentary counter-surveillance, [redacted] conducted the transaction from inside a [redacted] with the undercover who approached the vehicle on foot. b6 -7 b7C -7

[redacted] exchanged a clear plastic bag containing a white rock like substance, which appeared to be crack-cocaine, with the UC for [redacted] dollars in cash. b6 -7 b7C -7 b7E -12

(U//~~FOUO~~) The plan called for APD marked units to conduct a traffic stop upon completion of the purchase in order to identify the subject. However, surveillance personnel lost the [redacted] before a traffic stop could be executed. ## B. Shooting Incident Review Protocol

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 06/05/2013, IIC Ortiz spoke with AQ ASAC [redacted] to arrange logistics prior to arriving in Albuquerque. On 06/05/2013, the SIRT traveled to Albuquerque. On the morning of 06/05/2013, IIC Ortiz and the SIRT members met with AQ EM and SSA personnel before traveling to the shooting scene which occurred in the vicinity of [redacted] in southwest Albuquerque, New Mexico. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

(U//~~FOUO~~) All members of the SIRT reviewed the FBI produced video entitled, "The Rain After the Storm – Shooting Incident Investigations," and the Inspection Division Shooting Review Protocol.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 06/05/2013, IIC Ortiz met with the involved FBI SAs and management personnel to explain the review process and protocols.

(U//~~FOUO~~) One Signed Sworn Statement (SSS) was taken from the FBI Agent directly involved in the shooting. Other interviews, events and observations were documented via FD-302s. Neither the FD-644 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information on a Voluntary Basis) nor the FD-645 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Required to Provide Information) were utilized. The SSS and interviews of witnesses were conducted voluntarily. An FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident) was executed by all FBI personnel interviewed via SSS.

(U) On 06/11/2013, IIC Ortiz communicated via email with Chief Deputy District Attorney [redacted] of the Bernalillo County District Attorney's Office. [redacted] requested and received a copy of the Shooting Incident Review results. [redacted] stated his office would b6 -4 b7C -4 review the Shooting Incident Review and provide a decision regarding a declination recommendation. The decision would be communicated to the appropriate Inspection Division personnel, as well as the Albuquerque Field Office, to include SAC Lee.

(U) On 06/11/2013, IIC Ortiz and AIIP [redacted] met with AUSA [redacted] for the District of New Mexico, to provide an update on the investigation. AUSA [redacted] indicated his office would allow another District to review the shooting and render an opinion. This action was based on the decision to prosecute the subject, and the possibility that a declination from the District of New Mexico would show bias against the subject. b6 -1,3 b7C -1,3 (U) On 06/11/2013, IIC Ortiz provided an exit brief to SAC Lee and her CDC.

D. Firearms Training

(U//~~FOUO~~) FBI Albuquerque provided qualification records for SA [redacted] A review of the office training records for SA [redacted] who discharged his weapon, revealed he was in compliance with the firearms qualifications requirements for his bureau issued Glock 22 handgun, however he had not qualified with his bureau issued H&K MP-5 in the last year. The training records for the previous five quarters reflected the following: b6 -1 b7C -1

E. Deadly Force Training

(U//~~FOUO~~) As a SWAT team member and SQ-4 Agent, SA [redacted] participated in multiple operations, which included controlled drug buys, arrests, and surveillances. Almost all occasions included the presentation of the Deadly Force Policy. CDC [redacted] advised FBI Deadly Force Policy Training was conducted on March 19, 2013 at the Albuquerque Field Office as part of Surveillance and Tactical Training provided to Albuquerque Squads Four and 17 as well as Task Force Officers (TFO) associated with the SSTF. CDC [redacted] provided the training. All members of Squad Four to include SA [redacted] were present for the training. In addition, on 06/04/2013, the day of the shooting, SA [redacted] conducted an operational briefing at the FBI Albuquerque Field Office for all personnel involved in the operation. In attendance was SA [redacted] The FBI Deadly Force Policy was briefed at that meeting.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The scene of the shooting was secured and processed by AQ ERT. New Mexico State Police conducted a virtual shooting reconstruction to include the utilization of a

Leica scanner. The AQ ERT collected 3 spent cartridge casings in the vicinity of where SA [redacted] fired his weapon. Two projectiles were recovered from residences in the area of the shooting. One projectile was recovered at [redacted] and the other projectile at [redacted] b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

(U//~~FOUO~~) Pursuant to a New Mexico State search warrant, APD conducted a review of the [redacted] driven by subject [redacted] There was one apparent bullet hole in the front bumper of the vehicle. Probable bullet residue was located on the vehicle. This residue was tested by APD with positive results. The bullet itself could not be located. The bullet trajectory seemed to be from the driver's side to the passenger side of the vehicle. b6 -7 b7C -7

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recovered evidence items requiring laboratory testing were as follows:

Firearms/Toolmarks Testing

J. Declination by the Civil Rights Division

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 12/04/2013, [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, U.S. Department of Justice, completed his review and opined the use of force did not constitute a seizure under the 4th Amendment and there was no information to suggest a willful 5th Amendment due process violation. Therefore, no federally protected right was violated and the matter did not warrant criminal investigation. b6 -3 b7C -3

K. Local Prosecution Opinion

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 11/26/2013, [redacted] Chief Deputy District Attorney for Bernalillo County Districts Attorney's Office completed her review of DA File # 2913-93671-1, involving Special Agent [redacted] and TFO [redacted] She concluded SA [redacted] fired his weapon in an attempt to protect the life and safety of Officer [redacted] which was justified by law in terms of any criminal charges. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

L. INSPECTOR'S PROPOSED OBSERVATION:

INSPECTOR'S PROPOSED OBSERVATION:

PROPOSED OBSERVATION 1: The case Agent lacked an exigent circumstance to justify a warrantless arrest.

ANALYSIS 1: The DIOG, Section 19.6.4 stated, "If an Agent has a reasonable belief that the subject will flee before a warrant can be obtained, or there is a substantial likelihood that the subject will dispose of evidence before a warrant can be obtained or there is increased danger to Agents or others if entry is delayed to obtain a warrant, exigent circumstances exist which may justify entry into premises to make a warrantless arrest or entry into third party premises without a search warrant to make an arrest."

SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] decided to stop and arrest the subjects because the subjects had sold fake drugs (soap) to the undercover, and had demonstrated they were not likely to deal with the same undercover again. The decision was made to apprehend after the association of at least one subject with a home address and vehicle registration had been determined. While the subjects could have disposed of evidence, they had already been lost several times, and entered a residence once during the course of surveillance. At any one of these points, some portion of evidence, namely the cash from the buy-walk, could have been disposed of or otherwise hidden. The decision to arrest did not have any consequence to the preservation of evidence. b6 -1 b7C -1

While there was indication of intent to evade surveillance on the part of the subjects, there is no articulation of any law enforcement announcement, or any indication the subjects had any specific indication they were being followed by the police or the FBI.

There was no indication or suggestion the subjects posed a physical threat to Agents, Task Force Officers, or the Public. To the extent evasive efforts to cross through red lights and stop signs posed a threat to the general public, it was also the result of aggressive surveillance which failed to announce a law enforcement purpose.

PROPOSED INSTRUCTION 1a: SAC, Albuquerque, will ensure all Special Agent personnel have a reasonable basis for the exercise of warrantless arrests based upon exigency.

PROPOSED INSTRUCTION 1b: [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1 b5 -1,2

PROPOSED OBSERVATION 2: Executive Management was not notified of a high risk operation, nor was an appropriate arrest plan formulated before the attempted arrest.

ANALYSIS 2: DIOG Section 19.3.1 stated, "Whenever possible, SAC and USAO authority must be obtained before making a warrantless arrest. Agents are authorized to make warrantless arrests for any federal crime (felony or misdemeanor) committed in their presence. Agents also have authority to make warrantless felony arrests for a crime not committed in the presence of the Agent if there is probable cause to believe the person to be arrested committed a federal felony. A warrantless arrest must only be made when sound judgment indicates obtaining a warrant would unduly burden the investigation or substantially increase the potential for danger or escape."

DIOG, Section 19.2.3 also states in part, "The [redacted] must be utilized whenever possible....Exigent circumstances may necessitate an oral briefing in lieu of a written plan, but the oral briefings must address the five topics required to be included in written plans. The planning and execution of arrests, raids, and searches should be assigned to experienced Agents. All arrest plans must be approved by ASACs or their designees...." b7E -5

DIOG, Section 19.2.4 states in part, "An SSA may authorize a joint arrest with state and local authorities, United States Marshal's Service (USMS), or other federal law enforcement agencies. In circumstances of joint arrests, the SAC remains responsible to ensure that there is a well-considered arrest plan."

SA [redacted] probationary agent, Albuquerque Field Office, made an operational decision to stop and arrest the subjects. While there was some discussion requesting the engagement of marked police units, there was no discussion with participating Special Agents and Task Force Officers (TFOs) of a substantive arrest plan. SA [redacted] did not speak with his supervisor, SSA [redacted] to offer or discuss a "well considered arrest plan." Further, the law enforcement unit that eventually attempted to make the car stop was not equipped with emergency lights or siren [redacted] b7E -6 b6 -1 b7C -1

express direction as well as the training he provided in March 2013. SSA [redacted] did not articulate an operational arrest plan through oral briefing either over the air, or in person, and remained silent throughout the effort to arrest. SSA [redacted] stated that he would have supported the decision, and ultimately acquiesced to the announcement. [redacted] b5 -1,2 b6 -1 b7C -1

Additionally, should the limited articulation of the decision to arrest be considered "the briefing of a plan," neither SSA [redacted], nor SA [redacted] communicated such plan to either ASAC. Further, no effort was made by either SSA [redacted] or SA [redacted] to obtain verbal approval or consultation from anyone prior to the announced decision. SSA [redacted] might reasonably permit tactical decisions to be subject to his after the fact authorization, but there is a critical distinction between making a decision to arrest and having a plan. b6 -1 b7C -1

When SSA [redacted] heard the decision to arrest, he elected not to address the issue with the SAC or USAO. SA [redacted] did not disclose the reason for the arrest, so SSA [redacted]'s decision was not supported by the same information. As the warrantless arrest progressed, SSA [redacted] had time to call and reconcile the ongoing operational effort with the chain of command but failed to do so. b6 -1 b7C -1

PROPOSED INSTRUCTION 2a: SAC, Albuquerque should ensure executive management notification and authority is obtained prior to potential high risk operations.

PROPOSED INSTRUCTION 2b: SAC, Albuquerque should ensure an FBI Arrest Plan Form, or oral briefing which addresses the five topics required to be included in written plans, be utilized whenever possible prior to an arrest.

PROPOSED RECOMMENDATION 2c: [redacted] b5 -1,2

PROPOSED RECOMMENDATION 2d: SAC, Albuquerque should ensure Supervisors recognize their responsibility to provide unambiguous leadership and clear approval for action when warranted.

PROPOSED OBSERVATION 3: SA [redacted] failed to qualify [redacted] on the weapon used in the operation. b5 -1,2 b6 -1 b7C -1

ANALYSIS 3: The MIOG, Section 12-10.2.4 stated, "SAs must qualify with each assigned shoulder weapon at least once per year. Agents are encouraged to train with weapons they regularly carry at every training session. SAs with assigned shoulder weapons MUST use those specific weapons when qualifying. Agents not assigned a specific shoulder weapon must, at a minimum, demonstrate proficiency with the shotgun and MP5 at least once per year on an approved qualification course or combat course as specified in the Annual Field Firearms Program."

NYT-533

[redacted] The date of the shooting incident was June 4, 2013. b5 -1,2

PROPOSED INSTRUCTION 3: SAC, Albuquerque will ensure all Special Agent personnel qualify at least once per year with each assigned shoulder weapon.

PROPOSED OBSERVATION 4: All participants in the operation did not attend the pre-operational briefing.

ANALYSIS 4: DIOG, Section 19.2.3 states in part, [redacted] must be utilized whenever possible....Exigent circumstances may necessitate an oral briefing in lieu of a written plan, but the oral briefings must address the five topics required to be included in written plans. The planning and execution of arrests, raids, and searches should be assigned to experienced Agents. All arrest plans must be approved by ASACs or their designees...." b7E -5

APD [redacted] supported the operation, but did not attend the pre-operational briefing. b7E -1,6

PROPOSED RECOMMENATION 4: SAC, Albuquerque will ensure all personnel involved in operational activity participate in all pre-operational briefings.

Office (AFO) Special Agent (SA) [redacted] and Task Force Officer (TFO) [redacted] TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] were involved in a drug buy/walk operation and a subsequent attempted traffic stop of a vehicle driven by subject [redacted]. The original plan called for the buy/walk to occur at about 4:00 p.m., followed by a traffic stop to identify the individual(s) who AFO anticipated would sell drugs to an Undercover TFO. The plan did not call for an arrest. Surveillance team members were given specific assignments. Both SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] were tasked to conduct surveillance only. An additional unmarked surveillance unit with lights and siren capabilities was assigned as the traffic stop unit. b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) FBI, TFO surveillance units and Albuquerque Police Department (APD) [redacted] were positioned to monitor the buy. The buy was executed by [redacted] an associate of another subject later identified as [redacted] After [redacted] instructed an undercover officer from APD to meet [redacted] at a [redacted]'s parking lot, the transaction occurred inside [redacted] parked at this location. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7 b7E -1,6

Title: (U//~~FOUO~~) SHOOTING INCIDENT ALBUQUERQUE FIELD OFFICE 06/04/2013
Re: 297-HQ-A1270914-D, 06/12/2014

[redacted] TFO [redacted] drove his task force vehicle with SA [redacted] in the passenger seat to this location. TFO [redacted] momentarily stopped his vehicle when confronted by the [redacted] driving toward them at a high rate of speed. At approximately 5:45 p.m., SA [redacted] exited the vehicle with his MP5 and took position near his vehicle. SA [redacted] fired his weapon three times toward the driver, [redacted] as [redacted]'s vehicle approached. SA [redacted] feared [redacted] was attempting to drive his vehicle into their vehicle with the intent to cause death or serious bodily injury. Two shots fired impacted neighboring homes, and one struck the subject's vehicle. [redacted] fled the scene in his vehicle and was arrested shortly thereafter by APD officers. [redacted] fled the area without being captured by police. No injuries were suffered by SA [redacted] TFO [redacted] subject [redacted] or civilians.

SIRG Deliberations:

(U//~~FOUO~~) A presentation of the known facts of the Agent-involved shooting, as detailed above, was made to the SIRG by INSD Team Leader (TL) [redacted] via a Power Point presentation. The Power Point included photographs of the scene, an ERT diagram of the scene, a diagram of the firearm trajectory as it related to the shooting scene, and statements made by those participating in the operation.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The DOJ Deadly Force Policy provides a core principle that Agents "may use deadly force only when necessary, that is, when the officer has a reasonable belief that the subject of such force poses an imminent danger of death or serious physical injury to the officer or to another person."

(U//~~FOUO~~) The SIRG voted regarding the application of deadly force. Ten of 12 voting members determined the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was in compliance with the DOJ Deadly Force Policy. The majority determined SA [redacted] could have reasonably believed the use of deadly force was necessary because the subject made no effort to slow down or avoid striking the vehicle TFO [redacted] was sitting in.

b6 -1,4
b7C -1,4

b6 -1,4
b7C -1,4

The subject did not deviate from his course until SA [redacted] fired three rounds. In his statement, SA [redacted] said, "I believed that the subject utilizing his vehicle posed an imminent danger of serious bodily harm or death to TFO [redacted]." Even though the vehicle swerved slightly to avoid a head on collision, the subject's vehicle still struck the driver's side door of the vehicle TFO [redacted] was sitting in.

(U//~~FOUO~~) One of the voting members abstained from voting on this particular shooting incident. Another voting member, DOJ Attorney #1, dissented, expressing the belief the application of deadly force in this instance was not in compliance with the DOJ's Deadly Force Policy. The dissenting member requested and was provided the opportunity to document the factors for his belief the application of DOJ's Deadly Force Policy was violated.

(U//~~FOUO~~) DOJ Attorney #1 documented his dissenting opinion via an E-mail sent to Deputy Assistant Director (DAD) Mark A. Morgan on 05/20/2014. In this document, DOJ Attorney #1 outlined why he believed there was no exigent circumstance or immediate threat in this shooting incident which would justify the Agent using deadly force without identification or warning. DOJ Attorney #1 concluded:

"As there were no exigent circumstances which at that point justified the Agent's immediate threat of deadly force without identification and warning, in my view the Agent's subsequent use of deadly force violated the Department's Deadly Force Policy. That the Agent's failure to adequately warn of his authority and intent to use deadly force was not reasonable under these circumstances is also reflected in the subject calling 911, staying on the phone for several minutes, expressing fear that he was being shot at and then relief when his car came to a stop and AQ police intervened. In reaching this conclusion I understand that others conclude that the only relevant time period is the instant before the Agent fired his weapon. I respectfully disagree here, because here the Agent training his weapon on the subject car without reasonably identifying his authority and purpose in a manner that could reasonably be expected to be understood by the subject precipitated the subject accelerating, ducking behind the dashboard and attempting to drive around the vehicle in which the Agent was riding."

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRG Office of General Counsel (OGC) voting member, concurred the use of deadly force by SA [redacted], in this incident was in compliance with the DOJ Deadly Force Policy. OGC's opinion on this decision is outline below:

(U//~~FOUO~~) The DOJ Deadly Force Policy provides a core principle that Agents "may use deadly force only when necessary, that is, when the officer has a reasonable belief that the subject of such force poses an imminent danger of death or serious physical injury to the officer or to another person."

(U//~~FOUO~~) The United States Supreme Court has explained that "the test of reasonableness under the Fourth Amendment is not capable of precise definition or mechanical application." Graham v. Connor, 490 U.S.390, 396 (1989). The Court advised that "proper application requires careful attention to the facts and circumstances of each particular case, including the severity of the crime at issue, whether the suspect poses an immediate threat to the safety of the officers or others, and whether he is actively resisting arrest or attempting to evade arrest by flight." Id. The Court also stated that reasonableness "must be judged from the perspective of a reasonable officer on the scene, rather than with the 20/20 vision of hindsight" and that the "calculus of reasonableness must embody allowance for the fact that police officers are often forced to make split-second judgments-in circumstances that are tense, uncertain, and rapidly evolving-about the amount of force that is necessary in a particular situation." Id. at 396-97. The ultimate question is "whether the officers' actions are 'objectively reasonable' in light of the facts and circumstances confronting them, without regard to their underlying intent or motivation." Id. at 397.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted]'s belief that the subject posed an imminent danger of death or serious physical injury to Task Force Officer (TFO) [redacted] was reasonable based upon the facts in the record. In his signed sworn statement, SA [redacted] advised that he and TFO [redacted] were conducting surveillance on the subject's vehicle(s) after SA [redacted] had heard over the radio that the drug transaction had occurred and the subject's vehicle had left the parking lot. While conducting surveillance, SA [redacted] advised that he put on his vest to "clearly mark me as a law enforcement officer." He advised that the ballistic vest had "POLICE" written in large white letters on the front and back of the vest.

b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] stated the decision was then made to detain the subject and not let him walk, as had been planned previously. SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] determined that they could safely conduct the traffic stop of the subject's vehicle if they both exited their vehicle on either side. SA [redacted]'s description of the events of the shooting incident as he perceived them was as follows:

b6 -1,4
b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) "I was expecting TFO [redacted] to exit the vehicle at the same time I did but he seemed to be having difficulty. At this point I saw and heard the driver of the [redacted] gun his vehicle and head straight for our vehicle at a high rate of speed. As he approached our vehicle, I quickly scanned the street and saw no one outside. In addition, I saw an unoccupied car parked on the east side of the street just south from our vehicle which could act as a backstop for any rounds that I shot. I saw the vehicle speeding toward us. I also saw the male driver duck down behind his steering wheel and aim his vehicle directly at us, continuing at a high rate of speed."

b6 -1,7
b7C -1,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) "TFO [redacted] had still not exited the vehicle and appeared to have his left leg on the ground outside of the vehicle with the back door open. I found out later that he had not removed his seat belt. I believed that the subject utilizing his vehicle posed an imminent danger of serious bodily harm or death to TFO [redacted] I disengaged

b6 -4

my weapon's safety moving the selector to the semi-automatic fire position and fired two shots in quick succession at the driver's side door followed by a third round at the driver as the vehicle passed our vehicle. I was attempting to stop the driver, thus stopping the car and ending the threat to TFO [redacted] I did not fire any more rounds because I was concerned about cross fire with my partner. I knew the 10 mm rounds would penetrate the body panels of the vehicle and hit the driver. I fired at the driver because I believed deadly force was necessary because the subject in his vehicle speeding towards us posed an imminent threat of death or serious physical injury to my partner TFO [redacted] ." b6 -4 b7C -4

(U//~~FOUO~~) "At the last moment, TFO [redacted] was able to pull his leg back into our vehicle and escaped serious injury. The subject vehicle hit both our vehicle as well as the parked car as it sped by us. The vehicle continued down [redacted] at a high rate of speed and fled the scene." b6 -2,4 b7C -2,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) TFO [redacted]'s statement corroborates SA [redacted]'s version of the facts. TFO [redacted] advised that he attempted to exit the vehicle but was restrained by his seat belt and had one foot out the door. He observed SA [redacted] exit the vehicle and "heard the [redacted] engine being revved." He then observed the [redacted] accelerating. He and SA [redacted] were attempting to exit their vehicle to execute the arrest of the subject because "they could no longer safely back-up or evade." TFO [redacted] observed the subject duck down behind the vehicle console and continue "straight toward front center" of their vehicle. His statement also indicated that "[t]he rapid approach of the [redacted] forced TFO [redacted] to pull his foot back into the car, and draw his frame as tightly as possible, bracing for impact." TFO [redacted] could not see the driver of the [redacted] until it was within one or two car lengths in front of their vehicle. He heard shots fired and observed the [redacted] swerve right "immedi ately before directly colliding with the front center of [their vehicle]." TFO [redacted] stated he "feared for his life as the b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7 subject's [redacted] moved directly toward his position, and [he] could not exit the vehicle or otherwise take action to remove himself from the impending [redacted] s path." He stated that he only managed to further pull his body toward the center console of his vehicle "just prior to impact," and that the [redacted] struck the vehicle's door, forcing it closed, and drove TFO [redacted] s body "up onto the center console inside [their vehicle]." TFO [redacted] stated that the [redacted] continued down the street without appearing to slow down. b6 -4,7 b7C -4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) The subject was also interviewed, and his statement corroborates the facts of the incident as described by both SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] The subject advised that he saw the Agents' vehicle blocking the street with both front doors open and observed the muzzles of two rifles coming out of the vehicle. The subject did not realize, however, that they were law enforcement officers and instead believed that they were persons who the subject had just ripped off in the drug deal who were coming to kill him because the subject gave them fake drugs. The subject called 911 to advise that his life was in danger. The subject stated he then ducked behind the steering wheel and attempted to escape. Although he stated that he was not trying to hit the Agents' vehicle, he confirmed that he was accelerating towards their general position and estimated his speed to be between 40-50 mph as he attempted to pass by the other vehicle. He heard the shots fired at him and continued to flee in his vehicle. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Based upon the facts related by all individuals involved in the incident, including the subject, it is undisputed that the subject gunned his engine and accelerated his vehicle towards the law enforcement officers at a speed of 40-50mph while trying to flee. TFO [redacted] was trapped partially outside the vehicle due to his seat belt and managed to pull his body inside the vehicle only just prior to impact by the subject's vehicle, which struck TFO [redacted] s vehicle door and drove his body up onto the center console of the officers' vehicle. TFO [redacted] heard the shots fired as he was trying to pull b6 -4 b7C -4 his body away when the subject's vehicle was within one to two car lengths away. SA [redacted] confirms that the three shots were fired at the subject as the subject's vehicle was passing their vehicle in an attempt to stop the threat to TFO [redacted]. These undisputed facts amply support a reasonable belief by SA [redacted] that the subject posed an imminent threat of serious physical injury or death to TFO [redacted].

(U//~~FOUO~~) DOJ Attorney #1 argues that because the vehicle in which the Agent was riding did not have emergency equipment (i.e., flashing lights) and the Agent assumed a shooting stance with a long gun that would presumably conceal his vest's law enforcement lettering, that the DOJ Deadly Force Policy was violated because there was not a reasonable announcement of authority and purpose to the driver of the oncoming car that the failure to comply would be met with the use of deadly force. The fundamental flaw in this argument is that it examines the facts from the perspective of the subject and not from the perspective of the reasonable Agent, who believed that he was effecting an arrest, that he was wearing a ballistic vest that identified himself as a law enforcement officer, and that the subject who was attempting to flee posed an imminent danger of death or serious physical injury to his partner, who was trapped halfway out of a car that was directly in the path of the subject's rapidly approaching vehicle. DOJ Attorney #1 is essentially arguing that the Agent who was faced with this split-second decision in a highly tense and rapidly evolving situation should have been thinking about whether the subject could read the letters on his vest and not whether the subject posed an imminent danger to himself or his partner such that he should use deadly force.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The DOJ Deadly Force Policy provides that a verbal warning to submit to the authority of the officer must be given prior to the use of deadly force "[i]f feasible and if to do so would not increase the danger to the officer or others." DOJ Attorney #1 suggests that because the subject's car was "approximately two football fields away" that there was plenty of time to give a warning in addition to the markings on the ballistic vest that may not have been adequately visible to the subject. Even assuming that the initial approximate distance of two football fields away when the subject gunned his engine and accelerated towards the Agents was correct, that would amount to only 240 yards/720 feet, which a vehicle being driven at a speed of 40-50mph would have completed in approximately 9.8 to 12 seconds. DOJ Attorney #1 opines that the Agent could have safely "stood in the middle of the street, displaying the law enforcement lettering on his vest, and perhaps his badge, raised his hand and indicated his authority and intent to have the vehicle stop." In so opining, DOJ Attorney #1 disregarded the collective opinion of the experienced law enforcement officers on the SIRG that this would not have been a safe option for the Agent under the circumstances of a vehicle approaching at a high rate of speed and the danger to his partner, whose body was partially exposed outside their vehicle. The undisputed record adequately demonstrates that the use of additional verbal warnings was not feasible and would likely have increased the danger to TFO [redacted] and possibly even SA [redacted] if he assumed a position in front of the rapidly approaching vehicle with his hand extended and his weapon lowered, which DOJ Attorney #1 suggests was a reasonable option. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) DOJ Attorney #1 also argues that another safe option would have been to simply let the subject's car pass by and wait for a marked unit to assist with the arrest. In theory, it would always be a safe option to simply not try to arrest a subject if a marked unit is unavailable to flash lights at the subject. From a law enforcement perspective, this argument is not practical as marked units are not always available, nor does the DOJ Deadly Force Policy require that law enforcement officers not execute arrests in the absence of a marked unit. This also does not present a safe alternative for an Agent who has already started to execute the arrest believing that the Agent's law enforcement markings on his vest were sufficient identifiers, and the situation escalated in seconds because the subject was attempting to flee.

(U//~~FOUO~~) DOJ Attorney #1 also argues that the DOJ Deadly Force Policy was violated because the street was lined by houses that were relatively close to each other and to the street and that two of the Agent's bullets struck the homes, which DOJ Attorney #1 believed "effectively served as backstops for any stray rounds." SA [redacted] did, however, consider the risks to the public, as he advised in his statement that he "quickly scanned the street and saw no one outside" a nd that he "saw an unoccupied car parked on the east side of the street just south from our vehicle which could act as a backstop for any rounds that I shot." While SA [redacted] missed his target on two shots and had also failed to qualify recently on the gun that he was carrying, those facts speak to his marksmanship and the importance of attending training in accordance with Bureau policy, which can be adequately addressed through observations and recommendations in the SIRG's findings. These facts do not reflect that SA [redacted] failed to consider the risks to the public and that those risks so outweighed the use of deadly force to protect his partner, who was in imminent danger of serious physical injury or death, that the DOJ Deadly Force Policy itself was violated.

SIRG Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/21/2014, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG voted regarding the application of deadly force. Ten of 12 voting members determined the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was in compliance with the DOJ Deadly Force Policy. The majority determined SA [redacted] could have reasonably believed the use of deadly force was necessary and the vehicle presented an imminent danger to TFO [redacted] when SA [redacted] fired the shots. As a majority opinion, it was determined SA [redacted] was in compliance with the DOJ Deadly Force Policy.

b6 -1,4

One of the voting members abstained from voting. Another voting member dissented, expressing the belief the application of deadly force in this instance was not in compliance with the DOJ's Deadly Force Policy. The dissenting member requested and was provided the opportunity to document the factors for his belief the application of DOJ's Deadly Force Policy was violated.

2. Provide the Director with evaluative analyses, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions concerning operational planning and execution, training, and/or safety issues.

Observation 1: The Case Agent lacked an exigent circumstance to justify a warrantless arrest.

Analysis 1: The DIOG, Section 19.3.1 stated, "Whenever possible, SAC and USAO authority must be obtained before making a warrantless arrest. Agents are authorized to make a warrantless arrests for any federal crime (felony or misdemeanor) committed in their presence. Agents also have authority to make warrantless felony arrests for a crime not committed in the presence of the Agent if there is probable cause to believe the person to be arrested committed a federal felony. A warrantless arrest must only be made when sound judgment indicates obtaining a warrant would unduly burden the investigation or substantially increase the potential for danger or escape."

SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] decided to stop and arrest the subjects because the subjects had sold fake drugs (soap) to the undercover and had demonstrated they were not likely to deal with the same undercover again. The decision was made to apprehend after the association of at least one subject with a home address and vehicle registration had been determined. While the subjects could have disposed of evidence, they had already been lost several times and entered a residence once during the course of surveillance. At any one of these points, some portion of evidence, namely the cash from the buy-walk, could have been disposed of or otherwise hidden. Given the aforementioned, there was no exigent preservation of evidence issue which would have necessitated an exigent arrest. Further, APD [redacted] had re-established visual contact with the subject vehicle precluding any exigent justification to arrest prior to the arrival of appropriately equipped marked units.

While there was indication of intent to evade surveillance on the part of the subjects, there was no articulation of any law enforcement announcement, or any indication the subjects had any specific indication they were being followed by the Police or the FBI.

There was no indication or suggestion the subjects posed a physical threat to Agents, Task Force Officers, or the Public. To the extent evasive efforts to drive through red lights and stop signs posed a threat to the general public, it was also the result of aggressive surveillance which failed to announce the law enforcement purpose.

Instruction 1: SAC, Albuquerque will ensure all Special Agent personnel have a reasonable basis for the exercise of warrantless arrests based upon exigency.

Observation 2: Executive Management was not notified of a high-risk operation, nor was an appropriate arrest plan formulated before the attempted arrest.

Analysis 2: DIOG Section 19.3.1 stated, " Whenever possible, SAC and USAO authority must be obtained before making a warrantless arrest."

DIOG, Section 19.2.3 also stated in part, "The [redacted] Form must be utilized whenever possible.…Exigent circumstances may necessitate an oral briefing in lieu of a written plan, but the oral briefings must address the five topics required to be included in written plans. The planning and execution of arrests, raids, and searches should be assigned to experienced Agents. All arrest plans must be approved by ASACs or their designees…." b7E -5

DIOG, Section 19.2.4 stated in part, "An SSA may authorize a joint arrest with state and local authorities, United States Marshal's Service (USMS), or other federal law enforcement agencies. In circumstances of joint arrests, the SAC remains responsible to ensure that there is a well-considered arrest plan."

SA [redacted] a Probationary Agent, Albuquerque Field Office, made b6 -1 b7C -1 an operational decision to stop and arrest the subjects. While there was some discussion requesting the engagement of marked police units, there was no discussion with participating Special Agents and Task Force Officers (TFOs) of a substantive arrest plan. SA [redacted] did not speak with his supervisor, SSA [redacted] to offer or discuss a "well considered arrest plan." Absent any direction from SA [redacted] or SSA [redacted] and lacking any specific contingency planning that could have been included in a well considered arrest plan, SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] attempted to make this arrest with a vehicle not equipped with emergency lights or siren. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

SSA [redacted] stated he supported the decision through his silence. While he did not make any statement on the radio during the surveillance, he believed all members of the surveillance would reasonably infer his support for the arrest decision based upon his previous expressed direction as well as the training he provided in March 2013. SSA [redacted] did not articulate an operational arrest plan through oral briefing either over the air, or in person, and remained silent throughout the effort to arrest. SSA [redacted] stated he would have supported the decision, and ultimately acquiesced to the announcement. b6 -1 b7C -1

Additionally, should the limited articulation of the decision to arrest be considered "the briefing of a plan," neither SSA [redacted] nor SA [redacted] communicated such a plan to either the SAC or ASAC. INSD assessed since there was no exigency (see Observation #1) for a warrantless arrest, SSA [redacted] could have notified the ASAC and SA [redacted] could have communicated the circumstances of the situation to the USAO and sought authority for a probable cause arrest. No effort was made by either SSA [redacted] or SA [redacted] to obtain verbal approval or consultation from anyone prior to the announced decision. SSA [redacted] might reasonably permit tactical decisions to be subject to his after the fact authorization, but there was a critical distinction between making a decision to arrest and having a plan. b6 -1 b7C -1

When SSA [redacted] heard the decision to arrest he elected not to b6 -1 b7C -1

address the issue with the SAC or USAO. SA [redacted] did not disclose the reason for the arrest, so SSA [redacted]'s decision was not supported by the same information. As the warrantless arrest progressed, SSA [redacted] had time to call and reconcile the ongoing operational effort with the chain of command but failed to do so. b6 -1 b7C -1

Instruction 2a: SAC, Albuquerque will ensure executive management notification and authority is obtained prior to potential high-risk operations.

Instruction 2b: SAC, Albuquerque will ensure an FBI Arrest Plan Form, or oral briefing which addresses the five topics required to be included in written plans, be utilized whenever possible prior to an arrest.

Recommendation 2: SAC, Albuquerque should ensure Supervisors recognize their responsibility to provide unambiguous leadership and clear approval for action when warranted.

Observation 3: SA [redacted] failed to qualify with the weapon used in the operation. b6 -1 b7C -1

Analysis 3: The MIOG, Section 12-10.2.4 stated, "SAs must qualify with each assigned shoulder weapon at least once per year. Agents are encouraged to train with weapons they regularly carry at every training session. SAs with assigned shoulder weapons MUST use those specific weapons when qualifying. Agents not assigned a specific shoulder weapon must, at a minimum, demonstrate proficiency with the shotgun and MP5 at least once per year on an approved qualification course or combat course as specified in the Annual Field Firearms Program."

SA [redacted] was issued the MP5 rifle he used in the shooting incident on 06/13/2012. SA [redacted]'s first documented qualification score on this weapon was not until 10/13/2013. The date of the shooting incident was 06/04/2013. b6 -1 b7C -1 at least once per year with each assigned shoulder weapon.

Observation 4: All participants in the operation did not attend the pre-operational briefing.

Analysis 4: SA [redacted] Case Agent and UC-handling Agent, prepared an operations order for the proposed buy/walk operation. The operations order was signed on 06/03/2013 by SSA [redacted], the Squad 5 SSA, and by SSA [redacted], the Squad 4 SSA who was the Acting ASAC. At approximately 2:00 p.m., on 06/04/2013, SA [redacted] conducted an operational briefing at the FBI Albuquerque Field Office for all personnel involved in the operation. In attendance at this operational briefing were Squad 4 FBI Agents and Task Force Officers (TFOs), Las Cruces Police Department TFOs, and Albuquerque Police Department (APD) Gang Unit members. APD [redacted] supported the operation, but did not attend the operational briefing. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1,6

(U//~~FOUO~~) At the briefing, the planned undercover drug purchase followed by a traffic stop to identify the subjects was briefed by SA [redacted] The operation was planned for approximately 3:00 pm the same day. The FBI's Deadly Force Policy was read by SA [redacted] SA [redacted] instructed TFOs to follow their own deadly force policy. All personnel participating in the operation knew their roles and responsibilities. Questions were solicited, but no questions were asked. b6 -1 b7C -1

Recommendation 4: SAC, Albuquerque should ensure all individuals expected to participate in a scheduled operation attends the operational briefing.

3. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. The SIRG recommended no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Deputy Assistant Director Mark Alan Morgan, Inspection Division (INSD), chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector David P. Gelios, Office of Inspections (OI), (INSD); [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Robert E. Hughes, Violent Criminal Threats Section, Criminal Investigative Division; SC Roger A. Coe, East Asia Section, Counterintelligence Division; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] FTU, TD; Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Squad CR-2, Washington Field Office; SSA [redacted] Practical Applications Unit, Training Division (TD); SSA [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel; SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team (ERT), Laboratory Division (LD); SSA [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group (CIRG). In addition to the voting members in attendance, DOJ SIRG member [redacted] was unable to attend but reviewed the Shooting Incident Review Team report and provided his vote in writing prior to the SIRG. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: [redacted] Office of Inspector General, USDOJ; Inspectors Trent R. Teyema, Shawn W. Stroud, Paul D. Delacourt, and R. Procedures for Responding to the Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) SAC, Albuquerque is responsible for ensuring each Inspection Instruction/Recommendation is satisfactorily resolved. The inspection process is not complete until the Instruction/Recommendation is addressed by the field office. The Inspector-in-Charge (IIC) will review the field office's response to determine if the Instruction/Recommendation has been resolved or requires further action. Resolution is based upon specific actions taken and not a recitation of the actions the division has under consideration or plans to implement.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SAC, Albuquerque is required to provide a written response, via EC, detailing the actions taken by the field office to resolve each Instruction/Recommendation. Follow-up EC responses must be directed to Unit Chief [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), INSD. Once the EC is serialized, please e-mail the Sentinel link to MAPA [redacted]

Dear Agent [redacted]

I have completed my review of DA File # 2013-03671-1, involving Special Agent [redacted] and TFO [redacted] at [redacted] which occurred on June 4, 2013. As you are aware, I examined this case strictly for any criminal violations which might have been committed by SA [redacted] when he discharged his weapon three times towards the suspect's vehicle which was being driven in an assaultive manner towards SA [redacted] and his partner TFO [redacted] At the time when SA [redacted] fired his weapon his partner, TFO [redacted] was stuck inside their vehicle and Agent [redacted] stated that he was fearful for Officer [redacted]'s life and safety under these circumstances. These circumstances were confirmed in TFO [redacted]'s statement to investigators. The vehicle occupied by TFO [redacted] was hit by the suspect's vehicle along with another, unrelated nearby vehicle. Although there was some property damage from these shots, it is very fortunate that no one, including any innocent third parties, were injured. b6 -1,2,4 b7C -1,2,4

I have concluded that SA [redacted] fired his weapon in an attempt to protect the life and safety of another, namely Officer [redacted] which is justified by law in terms of any criminal charges in this case. I will yet review my conclusion with the District Attorney within the next week or so. If she agrees with my recommendation, I will send you a formal letter and close this case without further action. If she wishes to me conduct any further investigation of this matter I will let you know right away. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

If you have any additional questions please contact me at [redacted] b6 -4 b7C -4

Sincerely yours,

Re: 297-HQ-A1270955-D, 08/13/2013

On the morning of 06/29/2012 Supervisory Senior Resident Agent (SSRA) went to the Springfield Resident Agency (SRA) to address administrative issues. Upon arriving at the SRA, Special Federal Officer (SFO), Lieutenant (Lt.) approached SSRA to discuss details of the operation which was scheduled to occur later that afternoon. SSRA was advised the HPD planned After being briefed on the proposed operation, SSRA approved SA and other members of the WMGTF to participate in the operation and arrest. SSRA advised the purpose of providing support to this investigation was to enhance intelligence collection and develop sources in furtherance of the WMGTF's mission. SSRA advised he did not request a written operations order knowing the HPD was the lead agency. He was aware of the HPD policy which did not require written operations orders, only verbal briefings.

Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and 4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

The discussion of this incident resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in the shooting incident. The SIRG determined the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was justified and within policy. b6 -1 b7C -1

INSPECTOR'S OBSERVATION:

Observation 1: SA [redacted] was not wearing his FBI issued Ballistic Protective Undergarment (BPU) during the arrest operation. b6 -1 b7C -1

Analysis 1: SA [redacted] was not wearing ballistic protection during this operation. SA [redacted] was briefed the details of the operational plan hours prior to the operation, yet failed to wear any ballistic protection during the operation. According to FBI policy found in the Manual of Investigative Operations and Guidelines (MIOG) Part 2, Sections 12-13.1 and 12-13.2, the [redacted] b7E -5

[redacted] b7E -5

[redacted] Every indication was that this arrest could "reasonably" involve a violent altercation. Under such circumstances, it is imperative Executive Managers and SSAs in the Boston Field Office ensure all personnel wear BPUs in accordance with the MIOG.

Instruction 1: SAC, Boston will ensure all Special Agents are issued FBI approved BPUs, and utilize said protective devices during all planned arrest operations.

PROCEDURES FOR RESPONDING TO THE INSTRUCTIONS/RECOMMENDATIONS

The Inspection Division (INSD), Inspection Management Unit (IMU) is responsible for ensuring that each Inspection Instruction/ Recommendation is satisfactorily resolved. IMU maintains an Inspection Instructions/Recommendations database and provides the INSD Assistant Director (AD) a quarterly report reflecting all outstanding Instructions/Recommendations. The review process is not complete until all Instructions/Recommendations have been satisfactorily resolved.

IMU will provide all responses to the Inspector-in-Charge (IIC), who will determine if the Instruction has been resolved or requires further action. Resolution will be based upon specific actions taken rather than a recitation of what actions the division has under consideration or plans to take in the future. If the IIC determines an Instruction/Recommendation has not been resolved, an EC will be forwarded requesting further action or clarification. Upon resolution, all Instructions/Recommendations will be appropriately noted in the database.

SAC, Boston is required to provide detailed responses addressing the Instruction in this EC, pages 6 and 7, including corrective actions taken and/or intended actions with time frames for completion. Each Observation which results in an Instruction/Recommendation must be responded to in a one-page, stand alone response. The Observation and related Instruction is to be recited verbatim from the inspection EC, followed by the division's detailed response (it is not necessary to repeat the analysis section of the Observation in the response). If supporting documentation is available, it should be enclosed with each response.

All initial and follow-up responses must be sent to the IMU on plain bond paper as enclosures to a transmittal EC, directed to Unit Chief [redacted] Inspection Division, Inspection Management Unit, Room [redacted] In addition, after the EC is serialized with the attached responses, please e-mail the Sentinel link to MPA [redacted]

I. Executive Summary

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/08/2015, at 4:15 p.m., Denver FBI SWAT and members of the Denver Field Office Rocky Mountain Safe Streets Task Force (RMSSTF) were involved in a shooting incident while attempting to apprehend Jesus Emmanuel Avila. [redacted] b7A -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] b7E -4 b3 -1 b7A -1

On 05/06/2015, RMSSTF investigators utilized the collected items and the [redacted] to draft affidavits for a federal arrest warrant for Avila, as well as a federal court order for a [redacted] and a federal search warrant to initiate [redacted] Additionally, a SWAT Operations Order was prepared and a SWAT Warning Order was issued. On [redacted] the aforementioned federal warrants and order were signed. The SWAT Operations Order was approved contingent upon the successful location and positive identification of Avila.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/08/2015 [redacted] the RMSSTF established surveillance at the Essex House Motel, 5390 Santa Fe Drive, Littleton, Colorado based on [redacted] visual confirmation of Avila at the motel. Upon deployment to the area of the Essex House Motel, Denver SWAT b7E -4 determined a primary and secondary tactical plan. The primary plan was to call Avila out and the secondary plan was to breach and hold. When Denver SWAT operators were in place, a call was placed to Avila's motel room. Avila answered the telephone and was advised there was a warrant for his arrest. Avila was also instructed to exit the room and to follow the instructions of law enforcement personnel. Avila agreed, but after a period of time, did not exit the room. Additional unsuccessful attempts were made to telephonically contact Avila. Thereafter, Denver SWAT operators began shouting commands for Avila to exit the room. Denver SWAT operators then observed movement in the window area of Avila's room. Shortly thereafter, the on-scene commander authorized the SWAT team to breach and hold. Along with six Denver SWAT operators, SA [redacted] maneuvered into position and executed the breach. Upon doing so, two shots were fired by Avila and a third shot followed seconds later. SA [redacted] was struck in the lower left knee area by one of the first two shots fired and was evacuated from the scene. Inasmuch as the door shut immediately after the breach, Denver SWAT operators retreated, without returning fire, to areas of cover and awaited further instruction. After approximately 90 minutes with no movement in the room or contact with Avila, [redacted] into Avila's room. [redacted] it was determined Avila was incapacitated from an apparent self-inflicted gunshot wound. As a precaution, a K-9 was released into the room to assess a response from Avila. After observing no response, Denver SWAT entered the room, and secured the area and Avila. No Denver Field Office personnel or other law enforcement personnel fired a weapon during this incident. SA [redacted] was transported to the hospital with a non-life threatening bullet wound below his left knee and was expected to make a full recovery after approximately four to six months of physical therapy.

e. Shooting Incident Details

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/08/2015, at approximately 3:50 p.m., TFO [redacted] a certified FBI Hostage Negotiator, proceeded to the manager's office of the Essex House Motel. The office manger connected TFO [redacted] to room 235. Avila answered the room telephone and TFO [redacted] identified himself as law enforcement and advised Avila there was a warrant for his arrest. TFO [redacted] also advised Avila the motel was surrounded by law enforcement and to come out of the room and surrender to them. Avila responded in English, "ok, I am coming out." Avila did not hang up the room telephone and TFO [redacted] overheard Avila talking to someone in English, presumably on his cellular telephone. TFO [redacted] hung up the office telephone and advised the team, via the RMSSTF radio channel, Avila had agreed to come out of the room. After approximately 10 minutes, Avila did not exit the room. TFO made additional unsuccessful attempts to call Avila on his room and cellular telephone numbers. At approximately 4:10 p.m., Denver SWAT operators, positioned outside of Avila's room, attempted to verbally call Avila out of the room for approximately five minutes. During the call out, SA Denver SWAT operator, observed the curtain move in the window area of Avila's room and saw who he believed to be Avila. At approximately 4:15 p.m., STL gave the order to "breach and hold" the room. SA Denver SWAT operator, moved into position and executed the breach. As the door swung open, SA observed Avila standing directly in front of him. Avila immediately fired two shots; one struck SA below the left knee area and the other, the ceiling inside the room, in the vicinity of the door frame. SA did not return fire and was evacuated to the Casualty Collection Point by SAs A third shot was heard from the room seconds later. Due to the force of the breach, the door bounced off the interior concrete wall and shut almost immediately after the breach. Denver SWAT operators retreated without returning fire, entered vacant and occupied hotel rooms on opposite sides of room 235 for cover, and awaited further instructions.

b6 -4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Shorty after the shooting, A/SAC assumed On-Scene Command. At approximately 5:00 p.m., the LPD established an Incident Command Post. After approximately 90 minutes with no movement in the room or contact with Avila, a plan was briefed by FBI Denver and LPD SWAT into Avila's room to assess his condition. At approximately 5:52 p.m., it was determined Avila was incapacitated from an apparent self-inflicted gunshot wound to the head. At approximately 6:28 p.m., an LPD K-9 was introduced into Avila's room. The K-9 dragged Avila out of the chair and onto the floor. Avila was unresponsive and the K-9 was called out of the room by its handler. Denver SWAT entered and cleared the room. No other occupants were in the room. A loaded handgun was observed approximately six inches from Avila's body. SA kicked the handgun away from Avila's body, under a chair, and Avila was secured. SA Denver SWAT Operational Medic, entered the room and observed Avila and his injuries. SA determined Avila was deceased.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The autopsy of Avila was conducted on 05/11/2015 by Coroner [redacted] [redacted] M.D., Arapahoe County Office of the Coroner. It was determined Avila sustained a perforating gunshot wound to the front forehead at contact range. The manner of death was classified as a suicide. b6 -4 b7C -4

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/08/2015, at approximately 7:30 p.m., SA [redacted] obtained a cellular telephone from Detective [redacted] LPD. The cellular telephone belonged to [redacted] who witnessed the shooting incident from the hotel parking lot, videotaped the incident on his cellular telephone. Detective [redacted] obtained the cellular telephone from [redacted] at approximately 5:30 p.m. on 05/08/2015. The telephone number, serial number, and IMEI for the Samsung Galaxy III cellular telephone [redacted] provided to Detective [redacted] were: [redacted] and [redacted] respectively. b6 -1,4,8 b7C -1,4,8

(U//~~FOUO~~) During the SIRT investigation, 10 Signed Sworn Statements and 24 external and internal interviews were conducted. Interview results were consistent and corroborated the factual accounting of the shooting incident as well as the cellular telephone camera footage. On 05/13/2015, SA [redacted] was released from the hospital and was expected to make a full recovery following four to six months of physical therapy. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) No Denver Field Office personnel or other law enforcement personnel fired a weapon during this incident.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Denver ERT recovered three 9mm shell casings from the shooting scene. One shell casing was located inside room 235 on the floor next to the front door. A second shell casing was located inside room 235 on the floor next to the 9mm Luger Kel-Tec Pistol. The final shell casing was located inside room 235 on a television shelf.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Denver ERT recovered two 9mm bullets. One was recovered in the South ceiling area of room 235, which was consistent with where Avila was believed to have been sitting when he initiated the self-inflicted gunshot. Another was recovered in the North ceiling area of room 235, which was consistent with one of the two shots Avila fired as SA [redacted] executed the breach. The final bullet was never recovered. The bullet entered SA [redacted]'s lower left knee area and exited through his calf. Denver ERT conducted a search North of the immediate area for the bullet impact, but the bullet or evidence of the bullet's impact was not located or observed. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Avila's criminal history included arrests for felony burglary, felony damage to property, misdemeanor assault, and misdemeanor resisting arrest.

(U//~~FOUO~~) At the time of the NCIC query, there was an active warrant for Avila. The warrant was issued by the Honorable Michale E. Hegarty, U.S. Magistrate Judge for the District of Colorado on 05/07/2015, for Bank Robbery.

i. Use of Body Armor and Law Enforcement Identifiers

(U//~~FOUO~~) All seven members of the Denver SWAT tactical team were wearing their FBI-issued ballistic helmet as well as their standard issue Level IV SWAT body armor with trauma plates and FBI identification emblazoned on the front and back of the vest.

j. Forensic Summary

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/08/2015, at approximately 7:00 p.m., the Denver ERT began processing the scene of the AIS incident at the Essex House Motel, 5390 South Santa Fe Drive, Littleton, Colorado. SA [redacted] ERT TL, provided a Forensic Summary Casebook of the shooting incident. Items recovered from room 235 included three 9mm shell casings, a loaded Kel-Tec, PF-9, 9mm Luger Pistol, two 9mm bullets, a Sprint LG cellular telephone, and $266 in US currency. A total of 26 items were collected. Denver ERT concluded processing the scene at approximately 1:50 a.m. on 05/09/2015. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/08/2015, the Denver ERT conducted 360 spherical imaging of room 235 at the Essex House Motel, 5390 South Santa Fe Drive, Littleton, Colorado. Denver ERT identified two holes, two impacts and two trajectories. The trajectories appeared to come from the location where Avila was believed to have been standing when room 235 was breached and where Avila was believed to have been sitting when he initiated the self-inflicted gunshot.

(U//~~FOUO~~) An inventory of all evidentiary items recovered from the scene and the vehicle were as follows:

IV. Shooting Incident Review Protocol

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/08/2015, INSD Assistant Director Nancy McNamara was notified via the FBI's Strategic Information and Operations Center of the AIS. Inspector Vadim D. Thomas spoke with Denver Field Office ASAC [redacted] to arrange logistics prior to the SIRT's arrival in Denver. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/09/2015, the SIRT traveled to Denver. Upon arrival, Inspectors Thomas and Kathryn Peterson met with Denver EM, A/SAC [redacted] as well as ASACs [redacted]

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/10/2015, Inspectors Thomas and Peterson met A/SAC [redacted] and ASACs [redacted] to formerly explain the SIRT process and protocols. During the meeting, the Denver Field Office showed the SIRT a cellular telephone video of the incident. The video was taken by [redacted] a private citizen. Inspector Thomas also met with the involved FBI b6 -1,8 b7C -1,8

Agents to explain the SIRT process and protocols. The Denver Field Office submitted a FD-1015, Executive Situation Report.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/11/2015, the SIRT viewed the shooting scene at the Essex House Motel, 5390 South Santa Fe Drive, Littleton, Colorado. Additionally, Inspector Thomas spoke with [redacted] First Assistant, United States Attorney (FAUSA), United States Attorney's Office (USAO), Denver, Colorado. FAUSA [redacted] advised the USAO was aware of the circumstances surrounding the 05/08/2015 AIS and declined any prosecution. b6 -3 b7C -3

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/12/2015, Inspector Thomas spoke with Chief Doug Stevens of the Littleton Police Department (LPD). Chief Stevens advised the LPD would assist the FBI should the FBI request assistance, but LPD had no investigative interest in the AIS which occurred on 05/08/2015. Additionally, Chief Stevens advised LPD would not seek any prosecution with the 18th Judicial District Attorney's Office. Inspector Thomas also spoke with Chief Deputy District Attorney [redacted] for the 18th Judicial District of Colorado. Chief Deputy [redacted] advised the 18th Judicial District of Colorado had no interest in investigating or prosecuting anyone related to the 05/08/2015 AIS incident. b6 -4 b7C -4

(U//~~FOUO~~) The SIRT conducted 34 interviews, of which twenty-three were of Denver Field Office personnel and nine were of external law enforcement. Ten of the 23 Denver Field Office interviews were Signed Sworn Statements (SSS) obtained from SAs [redacted] The Agents interviewed via SSS signed an FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident). The remaining interviews were documented via FD-302s. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/13/2015, Inspector Thomas provided an exit brief to A/SAC [redacted] ASACs [redacted] as well as Assistant United States Attorney, [redacted] United States Attorney's Office for the District of Colorado, Major Crimes Division. A/SAC [redacted] was also provided with a copy of the SIRT Report. b6 -1,3 b7C -1,3

a. Firearms Training

Title: (U//~~FOUO~~) Shooting Incident Report
Re: 297L-HQ-A5884319, 03/03/2015

(U//~~FOUO~~) On the morning of December 26, 2014, SA [redacted] was walking [redacted]'s miniature schnauzer on a trail near his [redacted]'s residence at [redacted] Maryland [redacted] At approximately 11:15 AM, SA [redacted] and the miniature schnauzer approached a footbridge on the trail, and at the time SA [redacted] noticed a woman, [redacted] with a large dog, a Great Dane, on the bridge walking toward him. [redacted] requested SA [redacted] to wait for her and the Great Dane to exit the bridge before he proceeded any further. SA [redacted] stood to the rightmost part of the path near the entrance to the bridge with the schnauzer on a leash. The leash was held in SA [redacted]'s left hand and looped around his left wrist. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

(U//~~FOUO~~) Before [redacted] could exit the bridge and while she and the Great Dane were approximately 15 feet from where SA [redacted] stood, the Great Dane lunged at the schnauzer and SA [redacted] The Great Dane, which had been on a leash, dragged [redacted] off her feet and broke free from her, causing her to fall and lie on the floor of the bridge. The Great Dane charged towards the schnauzer and SA [redacted] and immediately began attacking the schnauzer by biting it. While the schnauzer was being attacked, it remained on the leash which was still held in SA [redacted]'s left hand and attached to his left wrist. SA [redacted] stepped back off the path onto the grass and turned his body to the left in an attempt to pull the schnauzer away from the attacking dog. The Great Dane continued to attack the schnauzer. The attack lasted a few, short seconds. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

(U//~~FOUO~~) Due to the aggressive and unpredictable nature of the attack, SA [redacted] feared for his safety because he believed any motion on his part, or any attempt to physically stop the attack, would result in the Great Dane turning its attack onto him. SA [redacted] is [redacted] tall and weighs [redacted] lbs. While standing on its four legs, the Great Dane's back was level with SA [redacted]'s hips and it weighed approximately 180 lbs. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Fearing for his safety, SA [redacted] drew his FBI-approved personally owned weapon from an inside the waistband holster and fired two rounds. Using his right hand, SA [redacted] used a single handed grip with the pistol pointed in a downward direction away from the walking path toward the Great Dane which stood approximately one foot from SA [redacted] After SA [redacted] fired two rounds, the Great Dane released its bite of the schnauzer and walked back towards [redacted] who was still lying on the floor of the bridge. SA [redacted] holstered his weapon, retreated backwards onto the walking path and identified himself as a law enforcement officer. b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] called 911 from his FBI-issued mobile phone and identified himself as a FBI Special Agent to the dispatcher while AACPD officers were en route to the scene. At 11:20 AM, AACPD officers arrived on scene and SA [redacted] identified himself. With AACPD officers on scene, SA [redacted] called his acting supervisor, A/SSA [redacted] of the Newark Field Office (NK) to report the incident. Soon thereafter, SA [redacted] received calls from NK Chief Division Counsel [redacted] NK Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) [redacted] and BA ASAC [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) In the presence of AACPD, SA [redacted] removed his magazine from his pistol and counted the ammunition remaining. The round count of 10 confirmed he had fired two rounds of ammunition. Prior to the shooting, the magazine, which had a capacity for 11 rounds, had been full and the weapon had been topped off with a round in the chamber accounting for 12 rounds of ammunition. Upon inspection after the shooting, the magazine contained nine rounds, and the chamber of the weapon contained one round. SA [redacted] surrendered his weapon, magazine, and all ammunition to ASAC [redacted] at the scene, and was issued a replacement weapon, magazine, and ammunition. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Pictures of the scene were taken by AACPD and a sketch was completed by BA ERT. Two spent shell casings were recovered at the scene by BA ERT and no spent rounds were recovered at the scene. A post mortem exam was performed on the Great Dane by a veterinarian from Anne Arundel County Animal Control. The veterinarian report noted the Great Dane had two bullet holes in the skin on the dog's right side approximately mid thorax and one on the left side, also mid thorax. The Great Dane died as a result of "life ending bleeding" from a bullet which entered through the right side of the Great Dane and punctured the vena cava at its entry point into the heart. No bullets were located in the Great Dane's body and a radiographic examination was unavailable.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On December 30, 2014, one spent round which was lodged in the schnauzer was recovered by SSA [redacted] at the Emergency Veterinarian Clinic, 32 Mellor Avenue, Catonsville, Maryland 21228. The weapon, magazine, ammunition, two spent shell casings, and one spent round were delivered to the Defensive Systems Unit by BA SA [redacted] on February 27, 2015. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On January 8, 2015, Detective [redacted] of the AACPD advised the local prosecutor, [redacted] from Maryland's State's Attorney's Office, is not likely to pursue charges against SA [redacted] but is withholding final determination until a review of the SSS which SA [redacted] provided to the FBI is completed. AACPD has closed their investigation of the shooting incident. On January 28, 2015, the SSS was provided to AACPD with a FBI Letterhead Memorandum for nondisclosure of the SSS. On February 4, 2015, BA CDC [redacted] made notification of the Shooting Incident to [redacted] First Assistant U.S. Attorney's Office of Maryland. On February 26, 2015, AACPD Detective [redacted] and Assistant State's Attorney [redacted] met with the owner of the deceased Great Dane and advised the owner no charges are being filed against SA [redacted] for his involvement in the animal shooting. b6 -1,3,4 b7C -1,3,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) The following reports and applicable FD-302s were completed and uploaded via Sentinel to the captioned file. The original notes and records for all interviews were packaged in FD-340 envelopes and sent to Inspection Division.

1. FD-1085, Shooting Incident Report, electronically submitted, scanned and serialized on January 12, 2015.
2. FD-302 of PFI [redacted] regarding firearms/training records b6 -1 b7C -1 for SA [redacted] for the 24-month period before the shooting incident. b6 -1,2,4 b7C -1,2,4

3. FD-302 of NK Assistant Division Counsel [redacted] regarding Deadly Force Policy training.
4. FD-302 for an interview of witness [redacted]
5. FD-1057 Electronic Communication which contained the weather records for [redacted], Maryland on December 26, 2014.
6. FD-302 for contact with AACPD Detective [redacted] who provided the AACPD Report and witness statements of the incident.
7. FD-302 of Public Affairs Specialist [redacted] regarding the media reports of the shooting incident.
8. FD-302 for contact with AACPD Detective [redacted] who provided the Anne Arundel County Animal Control Post Mortem report of the Great Dane.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Baltimore's review of the shooting incident involving SA [redacted] found no substantive discrepancies between SA [redacted]'s account of the shooting, the information obtained from witness interviews, and the AACPD report of the incident. The results of the investigation have been coordinated with BA CDC [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

Details:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 12/26/2014, at approximately 11:15 a.m., SA [redacted] [redacted] from the Newark Field Office was involved in a shooting incident in [redacted] Maryland. SA [redacted] was TDY to Quantico as a Firearms Instructor and visiting family members in Maryland during the federal holiday on Friday, 12/26/2014. Soon after arriving at his [redacted]'s residence, SA [redacted] offered to walk his [redacted]'s Miniature Schnauzer dog. During the course of the walk, a Great Dane dog broke loose from its handler, lunged at SA [redacted] and attacked the Miniature Schnauzer. Fearing for his safety during the attack, SA [redacted] discharged two 9 mm rounds from his personally owned weapon (POW) Glock 26 into a Great Dane dog. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] immediately moved to a position of safety, administered medical assistance to the Schnauzer, offered the dog handler medical assistance to the Great Dane, and called 911 to report the shooting. The Great Dane expired from blood loss shortly after the two shots. SA [redacted] then contacted his chain of command in the Newark Field Office and in coordination with the Inspection Division, the shooting incident was delegated to the Baltimore Field Office on 12/26/2014. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Baltimore's delegated Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) processed the scene of the shooting incident jointly with the Anne Arundel County Police Department. The weapon, magazine, ammunition, shell casings and one projectile were properly passed to Quantico for further analysis. SA [redacted] remained on-site until released upon completion of the local investigation. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Maryland State's Attorney's Office declined prosecution. The USAO advised no federal prosecutive opinion was necessary inasmuch as there was no applicable federal violation

SIRG Observations:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/17/2015, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

Title: (U//~~FOUO~~) Baltimore Animal Shooting Incident 12/26/2014
Re: 297L-HQ-A5884319, 04/09/2015

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by SA [redacted] on 12/26/2014, was in compliance with the Department of Justice's deadly force policy. b6 -1 b7C -1

2. Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint. The SIRG made no observations concerning this shooting incident.

3. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed ne cessary. The SIRG recommended no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 -1 b7C -1

A. SYNOPSIS

(U//~~FOUO~~) On April 4, 2013, at approximately 3:05pm, FBI Special Agents [redacted] SAs [redacted] were conducting a surveillance on a Southern Ohio Safe Streets Task Force (SOSSTF) investigation. [redacted] During the surveillance the Agents observed multiple hand to hand drug deals by the subjects from their vehicle, a [redacted] The Agents followed the subjects' vehicle to a drive-thru beverage store known as the Beverage Palace located at 8980 Kingsridge Drive, Dayton, Ohio. As this was an enclosed area, the Agents felt this would be the safest opportunity to apprehend the subjects [redacted] as Agents [redacted] exited the front vehicle, the subjects attempted to escape by reversing out of the drive-thru and crashing into SA [redacted]'s vehicle. The subjects then accelerated forward ramming SAs [redacted]'s vehicle. SA [redacted] narrowly escaped being hit by the subjects' vehicle and believed his partner at the rear, SA [redacted] had already been struck by the vehicle. SA [redacted] feared for his safety and those around him. As the subjects' vehicle continued to move, SA [redacted] fired four rounds from his FBI SWAT Springfield handgun at the threat. The driver of the subject vehicle, Jermaine Clemente Coleman Jr., was shot and died of multiple gunshot wounds while en-route to the hospital. [redacted] was shot once in the shoulder and [redacted] was uninjured. The scene was processed by Cincinnati ERT, Pittsburgh ERT (total station) and members of the LSRT. Several bags of drug capsules, later identified as heroin, were found inside the vehicle, but no weapons were found in the vehicle or on the subjects.

B. DETAILS

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 04/04/2013, Agents from the Cincinnati Field Office, Dayton RA were participating in a surveillance supporting the SOSSTF. The surveillance targeted [redacted] whose participants were known to distribute heroin in the Dayton, Ohio AOR and who were prone to violence. Law enforcement in Dayton, Ohio is subject to a "no-pursuit" policy. Gang members in the AOR are aware of this policy and exploit it on a regular basis to evade arrest or detention. b7A -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) The surveillance was initiated [redacted] Ohio. Participating in the surveillance were Agents [redacted] (SOSSTF Coordinator), [redacted] and [redacted] Also participating were SOSSTF TFOs, [redacted] and Dayton Police Department Detectives [redacted] The goal of the surveillance was to [redacted] Both were known to have outstanding state arrest warrants for violent crimes. On 4/03/2013, the day before the shooting incident, [redacted] had evaded police as they attempted to arrest him. The morning surveillance on 04/04/2013 was to re-locate [redacted] The surveillance lasted from [redacted] with negative results, so the team members separated to perform other duties. b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7 b7D -6

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 2:30 pm, SAs [redacted] driving a [redacted] with SA [redacted] as his passenger, drove to the area near the Dayton Mall. SA [redacted] driving a [redacted] with SA [redacted] as his passenger, had received intelligence from a CHS, managed by Detective [redacted] indicating [redacted] were selling drugs in the area. Using the intelligence from the CHS, SA [redacted] identified a [redacted] occupied by [redacted] with a third male, subsequently identified as Jermaine Clemente Coleman Jr., driving in the parking lot of the Penn Station Restaurant, 8927 Kingsridge Drive, Dayton, Ohio. SA [redacted] witnessed three hand-to-hand drug transactions occur from the vehicle. At approximately 3:00 pm, the [redacted] departed the parking lot, North on Kingsridge Drive and pulled into the parking lot of the Beverage Palace at 8900 Kingsridge Drive, Dayton, Ohio. The Beverage Palace was a convenience store with drive-thru service whereby vehicles enter at the rear of the building, drive through a garage width tunnel and order requested items from an employee who delivers the items to the vehicle. The vehicle then exits through the front of the store facing Kingsridge Drive. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7 b7E -6

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] drove into the Beverage Palace parking lot to determine if he could witness additional drug transactions and discovered the [redacted] had entered the drive-thru portion of the Beverage Palace. SAs [redacted] had brief radio communication whereby they determined they would [redacted] and effect an arrest. [redacted] As soon as SA [redacted] drove into the drive-thru, Coleman immediately reversed direction and rapidly accelerated into SA [redacted]'s vehicle which had followed the [redacted] into the drive-thru. At the time of impact, SA [redacted] was in the process of exiting the vehicle and was hit in the upper b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7 b7E -1 torso by the door at impact. Coleman then put the [redacted] in drive and rapidly accelerated towards SA [redacted]'s vehicle. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted], while exiting SA [redacted]'s vehicle saw the [redacted] strike SA [redacted]'s vehicle and the door strike SA [redacted]. As the [redacted] drove towards SA [redacted]'s vehicle, SA [redacted] yelled "FBI, FBI, get down!" Thinking SA [redacted] was seriously injured and fearing serious bodily injury to himself and injury to SA [redacted], SA [redacted] fired a shot at the [redacted] which deflected off the door frame. SA [redacted] recognized he may have been engaged in a cross-fire situation with Agents behind the [redacted] and moved closer to the [redacted]. SA [redacted] noticed the passenger ([redacted]) reach under his seat and around the passenger side door and believed he was reaching for a weapon. SA [redacted] then noticed Coleman turn to look over his right shoulder, as if intending to drive backwards toward SA [redacted]'s vehicle again. Fearing the vehicle would cause additional serious bodily injury to SAs [redacted], SA [redacted] fired two rounds through the front windshield of the [redacted]. SA [redacted] observed one of the rounds impact Coleman in the side but it did not stop his actions. SA [redacted] determined the windshield had deflected his rounds and moved towards the open driver side window and fired one round at Coleman through the open window. This round struck Coleman in the back and the vehicle stopped moving. SA [redacted] assessed the immediate threat to be over as [redacted] had stopped moving and the vehicle came to a stop. SA [redacted] fired a total of four rounds during the incident. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] pulled Coleman out of the vehicle and placed him in the prone position behind the vehicle. [redacted] had exited the vehicle and were responding to commands by the other Agents. TFO [redacted] arrived on scene approximately 30 seconds after the shooting incident and assisted in securing the subjects and providing medical assistance to Coleman. [redacted] was handcuffed, searched, and determined to be uninjured. [redacted] was handcuffed, searched, and determined to have been shot in the left shoulder. b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) Approximately three minutes and 20 seconds after the shooting incident SA [redacted] arrived on scene and provided medical attention to [redacted]. SA [redacted] is a trained FBI medic. At about this time, officers from the Miami Township Police Department also arrived on scene. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) Approximately six minutes and 15 seconds after the shooting incident, Emergency Medical Services personnel arrived on scene to treat Coleman and [redacted]. Coleman was transported to the hospital by ambulance approximately eight minutes and 10 seconds after the shooting incident. [redacted] was transported to the hospital by ambulance approximately nine minutes and 45 seconds after the shooting incident. Coleman was declared dead the hospital approximately 36 minutes after the shooting incident. [redacted] was treated for his wound and detained on federal charges of assault on a federal officer and heroin distribution. [redacted] was also detained on federal charges of assault on a federal officer and heroin distribution. b6 -7 b7C -7

D. ENCLOSURES

(U//~~FOUO~~) All enclosures have been made part of this report and are identified in the Appendix.

E. ADMINISTRATIVE

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) was composed of the following personnel:

Inspector-in-Charge (IIC) Dena Elaine Choucair
Inspector-in-Place (IIP) Trent R. Teyema
Assistant Inspector/Team Leader (AI/TL) [redacted] b6 -1
AI/TL [redacted] b7C -1

F. SHOOTING INCIDENT REVIEW PROTOCOL

(U//~~FOUO~~) All members of the SIRT reviewed the FBI produced videotape entitled, "The Rain after the Storm – Shooting Incident Investigations," and the INSD Shooting Review Protocol.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 04/04/2013, IIC Choucair communicated with Cincinnati A/SAC [redacted] b6 -1
[redacted] to arrange logistics for the SIRT. SSRA [redacted] Dayton RA (DRA) served b7C -1 as the point of contact for the SIRT.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 04/05/2013, IIC Choucair, IIP Teyema, AI/TLs [redacted] and AIIP [redacted] flew from Washington, DC to Cincinnati, Ohio where they were met by SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] and transported to the DRA.

(U//~~FOUO~~) IIC Choucair provided a preliminary briefing to A/SAC [redacted], SSRA [redacted] SSA [redacted] and CDC [redacted] to discuss INSD SIRT shooting incident protocol. During this briefing, AIIPs [redacted] arrived at the DRA. After this briefing, SSRA [redacted] briefed the SIRT on the shooting incident of 04/04/2013. There was an opportunity for dialogue between the SIRT and the involved personnel to address concerns, provide clarification, and answer questions prior to the investigation commencing. The SIRT was then taken to the shooting scene where they were met by AIIP [redacted] and viewed the scene while it was being processed by Cincinnati ERT and personnel from the Laboratory Shooting Reconstruction Team (LSRT).

(U//~~FOUO~~) During the SIRT investigation, four Signed Sworn Statements (SSS) were taken from SA [redacted] directly involved in the shooting, and the three Agents present at the shooting, SAs [redacted] All Agents were represented by [redacted] Esq. Other interviews, events, and observations were documented via FD-302s. All interviewed FBI personnel were allowed to read the FD-302 summarizing their interview to confirm the accuracy of the information provided. The SSS and interviews of witnesses were conducted voluntarily. An FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident) was executed by all those interviewed.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 04/08/2013, IIC Choucair and IIP Teyema met with the Assistant U.S. Attorneys [redacted] to brief them on results of the SIRT investigation. IIC Choucair and IIP Teyema had personally informed [redacted] of the Prosecuting Attorney's Office for Montgomery County, Ohio about the shooting incident and spoke with her again telephonically. [redacted] advised her office would not review the shooting incident, and would not pursue any state charges pertaining to the incident. [redacted] only provided a verbal declination but nothing written, as to do so would require presenting the matter to a Grand Jury.

b6 -3,4
b7C -3,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 04/09/2013, an exit brief was provided by IIC Choucair to A/SAC [redacted] SSRA [redacted] SSA [redacted] A/ASAC [redacted] and CDC [redacted]

H. FIREARMS TRAINING

(U//~~FOUO~~) FBI Cincinnati provided qualification records for SA [redacted] A review of the records indicated he was current on his firearms qualification certification. b6 -1 b7C -1

I. DEADLY FORCE TRAINING

(U//~~FOUO~~) Documentation provided by the Cincinnati Field Office indicated SA [redacted] received training on the FBI Deadly Force Policy from the previous CDC, [redacted] on 03/07/2012. During a SIRT interview, current CDC [redacted] indicated the Cincinnati Field Office Principal Firearms Instructor read the deadly force policy to all Agents prior to conducting each firearms session.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] advised in his SSS he last read the FBI Deadly Force training on 03/28/2013 prior to a planned arrest operation in which he participated.

J. USE OF BODY ARMOR AND LAW ENFORCEMENT IDENTIFIERS

(U//~~FOUO~~) The SIRT team determined through interviews, and by viewing the surveillance video of the shooting incident, the four Agents involved were all wearing ballistic body armor, however proper FBI or law enforcement identifiers were not appropriately displayed on the vests.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Agent SSS and witness interviews indicated Agents did identify themselves as FBI prior to engaging the subjects in the shooting.

K. FBI INDICIES AND NATIONAL CRIME INFORMATION CENTER (NCIC)

(U//~~FOUO~~) The SIRT was provided with the results of the National Crime Information Center warrant and arrest record check for Coleman, [redacted] which indicated active state arrest warrants at the time of the incident: b6 -7 b7C -7

1) Jermaine Clemente Coleman Jr. – Improperly discharging a firearm at or into a habitation.

2) [redacted] – Vehicular Assault

3) [redacted] – Possession of Heroin

L. ERT AND LABORATORY DIVISION REPORTS

(U//~~FOUO~~) The scene of the shooting was secured and processed by CI ERT and the LSRT to include the use of total station, 360 degree spherical photography and laser scanning of the site.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recovered evidence items requiring laboratory testing were as follows (evidence was maintained in [redacted]): b6 -1 b7C -1 b7A -1

1B5 - .45 cal Springfield Pistol, S/N [redacted]

1B6 - One Magazine, McCormick Custom LLC, containing three .45cal rounds and one round recovered from chamber
1B16 - One bullet fragment
1B29 - Two bullet fragments
1B65 - Bullet and Foam
1B70 - Shell casing
1B74 - Shell casing
1B83 - Shell casing
1B84 - Shell casing
1B88 – Projectiles recovered from hospital

(U) Operational Projects Unit, Laboratory Division (LD) provided INSD with a compact disk containing three dimensional imaging of the shooting scene as well as embedded spherical photography and video captured from the Beverage Palace security system.

(U) Additionally the Firearms/Toolmark Unit, LD provided INSD with a shooting reconstruction and firearms testing reports which are included in Tab IX of this report.

M. MEDICAL REPORT

(U//~~FOUO~~) On April 5, 2013, FBI SA [redacted] observed an autopsy performed of Jermaine Clemente Coleman Jr. at the Montgomery County Coroner's Office, 361 West Third Street, Dayton, Ohio, 45402. The autopsy was performed by Doctor (Dr.) [redacted] and his assistants. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] arrived and entered the examination room at approximately 8:34 a.m. Coleman was on the table and being assessed by Dr. [redacted] During the course of the autopsy, Dr. [redacted] identified two bullet wounds on Coleman's back and recovered two bullets from inside Coleman's body.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Dr. [redacted] advised one of the bullets entered Coleman's body in the upper center back, just below the neck line. It traveled in a left to right direction and was recovered a few inches to the right of the wound, just below the skin. The other bullet entered Coleman's body in the upper left back, near the left shoulder. It traveled in a left to right direction and was recovered from or near the right pectoral muscle. The bullet traveled through the left upper second rib, left upper lung, and braciocephalic (BC) trunk of the heart. It bruised the right upper lung and stopped between the first and second right ribs. Dr. [redacted] indicated damage sustained to the lungs and BC trunk were the most significant and lead to death. X-rays were taken and did not identify any additional bullets or bullet fragments inside Coleman's body. Fingerprints were taken of Coleman, which positively identified him. Toxicology tests revealed acute marijuana intoxication and the presence of chlorpheniramine and hydrocodone. b6 -4 b7C -4

N. CIVIL RIGHTS DIVISION

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 04/06/2013, IIC Choucair contacted [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, DOJ and briefed him on the shooting incident. b6 -1,3 b7C -1,3

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 04/17/2013, IIC Choucair, AI/TL [redacted] and AI/TL [redacted] briefed [redacted] at his office, 601 D Street, NW, Washington, DC and provided him with a binder containing pertinent documentation identified by the SIRT regarding this incident.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 07/19/2013, [redacted] provided IIC Choucair with an email message indicating no federal criminal investigation would be sought in this matter. b6 -3 b7C -3

O. LOCAL PROSECUTIVE OPINION

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 04/08/2013, IIC Choucair made contact telephonically with Attorney [redacted] of the Prosecuting Attorney's Office for Montgomery County, Ohio who provided a verbal declination and advised her office would not review the shooting incident as the US Attorney's Office had filed charges against [redacted] for Assault on a Federal Officer. b6 -4,7 b7C -4,7

P. INSPECTOR'S OBSERVATIONS

(U//~~FOUO~~) The following observations were noted:

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 1: The arrest scenario resulting in the shooting incident did not have an approved operations plan and participants did not display visible FBI markings.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 1: A review of substantive case [redacted] and Agent interviews determined operations plans associated with arrests for this investigation were used inconsistently. It was further learned through interviews and signed sworn statements not all of the Agents engaged in this incident understood if they were on a surveillance mission or an arrest operation. The Case Agent also failed to obtain executive management authorization to conduct the arrest. b7A -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) DIOG Section 19.3.1 provides policy guidance as it pertains to warrantless arrests for federal crimes:

(U) Whenever possible, SAC and USAO authority must be obtained before making a warrantless arrest. Agents are authorized to make warrantless arrests for any federal crime (felony or misdemeanor) committed in their presence. Agents also have authority to make warrantless felony arrests for a crime not committed in the presence of the Agent if there is probable cause to believe the person to be arrested committed a federal felony. A warrantless arrest must only be made when sound judgment indicates obtaining a warrant would unduly burden the investigation or substantially increase the potential for danger or escape.

(U//~~FOUO~~) From a safety perspective the use of lights and sirens and visible markings on ballistic vests or other outer coverings increases the safety to Agents as it alerts subjects, bystanders or other law enforcement of an ongoing investigation.

(U//~~FOUO~~) A review of video surveillance obtained at the shooting scene indicated two employees of the Beverage Palace were inside the store at the time of the incident. It is incumbent upon FBI Agents to consider the safety of innocent bystanders in any operation. The presence of the store clerks should have warranted additional safety considerations.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 1.1: SAC, Cincinnati should ensure operations plans are written and approved prior to arrests.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 1.2: SAC, Cincinnati should ensure Agents display visible FBI markings on ballistic vests and outer garments.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 2.1: Cincinnati Field Office, Dayton RA, improperly utilized investigation [redacted] to target [redacted] b6 -7 b7C -7 b7A -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 2.2: Cincinnati Field Office executive management did not provide sufficient oversight regarding the [redacted] investigation or its planned operations.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2: Substantive case [redacted] was opened as a predicated [redacted] The investigation of the [redacted] was listed as a subfile under the [redacted] case. The only affiliation between the [redacted] identified in the case file was one serial indicating [redacted] had the phone numbers of [redacted] located in his cell phone. b6 -7 b7C -7 b7A -1

b7A -1 b7E -5

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted]

(U//~~FOUO~~) A review of [redacted] indicated [redacted] had only a tangential connection to the main subjects of the investigation and was an unrelated [redacted] thus a separate [redacted] or criminal investigation should have been opened to investigate this [redacted] b7A -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2.1: [redacted]

b5 -1,2 b7A -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2.2: [redacted]

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 3: Cincinnati Field Office does not have a Shooting Annex incorporated as part of its Critical Incident Response Plan.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 3: A review by the SIRT indicated the Cincinnati Field Office did not have a Shooting Annex as part of its Critical Incident Response Program. This was verified by the CDC and the Critical Incident Response PCOR.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Cincinnati Field Office, to include the Dayton RA, has been involved in three Agent shootings since 2007 and one non-Agent shooting involving a TFO on an FBI task force. For this reason, the Cincinnati Field Office may benefit from a Shooting Annex to its Critical Incident Response Plan to assist the office in the deployment of resources following any subsequent Agent involved shooting incidents.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 3: SAC, Cincinnati should consider preparing a Shooting Annex to the Cincinnati Field Office Critical Incident Response Plan.

SIRG Observations

On 02/21/2014, The SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by SA [redacted] on 04/04/2013 was in compliance with the Department of Justice's Deadly Force Policy. b6 -1 b7C -1

2. Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations,and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint. The SIRG made the following observation and recommendation concerning the operational techniques used by SA [redacted] during this shooting incident. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 1: Agents did not have an approved operations plan.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 1: INSD review determined no operations plan existed for the enforcement action which resulted in the shooting on 04/04/2013. A review of substantive case [redacted] and Agent interviews determined operations plans were used inconsistently for arrests. Agent interviews and signed sworn statements revealed not all Agents engaged in this incident anticipated taking enforcement action during the surveillance. The decision to arrest the subjects was based on observations of suspected drug transactions coupled with the existence of local arrest warrants. No authorization was sought or obtained from the SSRA or Cincinnati EM to take enforcement action. b7A -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) DIOG Section 19.3.1 provides policy guidance as it pertains to warrantless arrests for federal crimes:

Agents also have authority to make warrantless felony arrests for a crime not committed in the presence of the Agent if there is probable cause to believe the person to be arrested committed a federal felony. A warrantless arrest must only be made when sound judgment indicates obtaining a warrant would unduly burden the investigation or substantially increase the potential for danger or escape.*

(U//~~FOUO~~) Review of video surveillance obtained at the shooting scene, as well witnesses interviews, indicated two employees of the Beverage Palace were inside the store at the time of the incident. It is incumbent upon FBI Agents to consider the safety of innocent bystanders in any operation. The presence of the store clerks should have warranted additional safety considerations which would have been addressed if an operations order was completed.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 1: SAC, Cincinnati should ensure arrest operations include a written operations plan when practical and have appropriate management approval prior to execution.

3. Provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues. The SIRG made the following observation regarding safety issues:

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 2: Participants in the arrest operation did not display visible FBI markings.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2: From a safety perspective, the use of lights, sirens, and visible markings on ballistic vests or other outer coverings increases the safety to Agents as it alerts subjects, bystanders, or other law enforcement of an ongoing investigation.

(U//~~FOUO~~) A review of video surveillance and interviews revealed some Agents did not display visible FBI markings on outer garments. The vehicles involved did not activate available emergency lighting. One vehicle involved in the operation was not equipped with any type of emergency lighting package.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2a: SAC, Cincinnati should ensure, when operationally practical, Agents display visible FBI markings on ballistic vests and outer garments during enforcement activity.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2b: SAC, Cincinnati should ensure vehicles involved in enforcement activity are equipped with and display emergency lighting.

4. Provide recommendations for Administrative action if deemed necessary. The SIRG made the following observation regarding Administrative issues:

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 3: Cincinnati Field Office, Dayton RA, improperly utilized investigation [redacted] to target [redacted] [redacted]

b6 -1
b7A -7

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 3: Substantive case [redacted] was opened as a predicated [redacted] investigation on a [redacted] [redacted]. The investigation of the [redacted] was listed as a sub-file under the [redacted] case. The only affiliation between the [redacted] identified in the case file was one serial indicating [redacted] had the phone numbers of [redacted] [redacted] located in his cell phone.

[redacted] b7A -1 b7E -5

(U//~~FOUO~~) A review of [redacted] indicated [redacted] had only a tangential connection to the main subjects of the investigation and was an unrelated [redacted] thus a separate [redacted] (or other appropriate classification), investigation should have been opened to investigate this criminal enterprise.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 3: SAC, Cincinnati should review SOSSTF matters, including [redacted], to ensure proper predication has been established and documented for additional targets not originally identified in the initial investigative matter. b7A -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 4: Cincinnati Field Office does not have a Shooting Incident Annex incorporated as part of its Critical Incident Response Plan (CIRP).

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 4: A review by the SIRT indicated the Cincinnati Field Office did not have a Shooting Incident Annex as part of its Critical Incident Response Program. This was verified by the CDC and the Critical Incident Response PCOR.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Cincinnati Field Office, to include the Dayton RA, has been involved in three Agent shootings since 2007 and one non-Agent shooting involving a TFO on an FBI task force. For this reason, the Cincinnati Field Office would benefit from the preparation of a Shooting Incident Annex to its CIRP to assist the office in the deployment of resources following any subsequent Agent involved shooting incidents.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 4: SAC, Cincinnati should prepare a Shooting Incident Annex to the Cincinnati Field Office CIRP.

Procedures for Responding to the Observation

SAC Cincinnati is responsible for ensuring each Inspection Instruction/Recommendation is satisfactorily resolved. The inspection process is not complete until the Instruction/Recommendation is addressed by the field office. The Inspector-in-Charge (IIC) will review the field office's response to determine if the Instruction/Recommendation has been resolved or requires further action. Resolution is based upon specific actions taken and not a recitation of the actions the division has under consideration or plans to implement. SAC Cincinnati is required to provide a written response, via EC, detailing the actions taken by the field office to resolve each Instruction/Recommendation. Follow up EC responses must be directed to Unit Chief [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), INSD. Once the EC is serialized, please e-mail the Sentinel link to MPA [redacted].

Synopsis

(U) On 05/10/2013, the Indianapolis Safe Streets Task Force (SSTF), via a state-authorized [redacted] was monitoring the activity of a white Chevrolet Monte Carlo owned by William McKnight. The Monte Carlo was identified in a FBI bank robbery investigation (91A-IP-2723197) as potentially used by subjects in a bank robbery which occurred on 04/26/2013. Six FBI Special Agents (SAs) and four Task Force Officers from the Indianapolis Metropolitan Police Department were following the Monte Carlo which contained two males (later identified as William McKnight and [redacted]), and one female (later identified as [redacted]. b6 -7 b7C -7 b7E -6

(U) During the morning, the Monte Carlo made multiple stops at banks throughout the Indianapolis area, with the female entering the banks and returning to the vehicle after approximately three to eleven minutes. At approximately 10:53 am, the two males exited the Monte Carlo and surveillance identified them as they were about to enter the State Bank of Lizton, located in Plainfield, Indiana. They were wearing hooded sweatshirts and gloves. The surveillance team suspected a bank robbery was about to occur, but waited for the suspects to exit the bank to avoid a potential hostage or barricade situation. A few minutes later, the males ran from the bank. One male was seen carrying a handgun as both males entered the Monte Carlo. As the Monte Carlo departed the area, the SSTF called for marked police units to conduct a vehicle stop believing the males had just robbed the bank. Before marked units could arrive, the Monte Carlo appeared to identify the surveillance and drove into a residential area at a high rate of speed. A few minutes later, with SSTF vehicles following, the Monte Carlo stopped and the two males exited the vehicle. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] driving separate vehicles, encountered one of the males, William McKnight, age 43, on Springcrest Street, Plainfield, Indiana. McKnight pointed a gun at SA [redacted] moved towards him, refused to comply b6 -1 b7C -1 with commands, and attempted to secure a tactical advantage behind the engine block of SA [redacted]'s vehicle. Due to the imminent threat and fear for his life, SA [redacted] fired his FBI issued Glock 22 seven times. Due to the imminent threat and fear for his and SA [redacted]'s life, SA [redacted] fired his FBI issued Glock 22 six times. McKnight was struck six times and died at the scene.

(U) The shooting scene was processed by the Indianapolis Evidence Response Team (ERT), Detroit ERT and members of the Laboratory Shooting Reconstruction Team (LSRT). Thirteen .40 caliber shell casings were recovered which were consistent with .40 caliber ammunition used in SA [redacted]s and SA [redacted]s weapons. Nine projectiles were recovered, including four located in McKnight's body. A .45 caliber Hi Point handgun was found next to the body of McKnight; the weapon had not been fired.

Details

(U) On the mornings of 04/24/2013 and 04/26/2013, bank robberies occurred in the Indianapolis, Indiana area. Immediately following the bank robbery on 04/26/3013, a witness at a nearby store identified two suspicious individuals. The individuals got into a white Chevrolet Monte Carlo and the witness identified the license plate number. Investigation determined the vehicle was registered to William McKnight, 1656 N. Livingston Avenue, Indianapolis, Indiana, 46222.

(U) FBI SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] Indianapolis Safe Streets Task Force (SSTF), were assigned the bank robbery investigation (FBI Case Number 91A-IP-2723197). SA [redacted] was the Indianapolis Field Office Bank Robbery Coordinator and TFO [redacted] was the Assistant Bank Robbery Coordinator. On 05/02/2013, TFO [redacted] obtained a state-authorized [redacted] for the white Monte Carlo which was installed [redacted] During the week of [redacted] SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] conducted daily surveillance of McKnight's residence during the morning. The timing of the surveillance was based on the time the 04/24/2013 and 04/26/2013 bank robberies had been committed. Throughout the week, McKnight's movement outside of work had been limited.

b7E -6

(U) On the morning of Friday, 05/10/2013, SA [redacted] was notified via BlackBerry the [redacted] SA [redacted] contacted FBI SOS [redacted] at approximately 8:00 am and directed him to begin tracking the movements of the Monte Carlo in real-time. SA [redacted] then initiated surveillance with other members of the Indianapolis Safe Streets Task Force (SSTF). SA [redacted] considered it unlikely McKnight would engage in a bank robbery that day, as the 04/24/2013 and 04/26/2013 robberies had yielded approximately $30,000. SA [redacted]'s experience was bank robbers did not typically engage in additional robberies in the immediate aftermath of such success.

(U) Throughout the morning, various members of the SSTF joined the surveillance. The Monte Carlo stopped at multiple banks on the southern outskirts of Indianapolis and, later in the morning, in eastern Hendricks County, Indiana. At each bank, a [redacted] female, identified as [redacted] exited the vehicle and entered the bank for a period of three to eleven minutes. Physical surveillance also identified two [redacted] males, later identified as William McKnight and [redacted] in the Monte Carlo. Throughout the surveillance, SA [redacted] directed the team to maintain a very loose surveillance, to allow optimal intelligence to be derived without alerting the subjects. He maintained a surveillance log of the team's observations as he received them over the radio.

(U) At approximately 10:29 am, the Monte Carlo drove through the parking lot of the Huntington Bank at the intersection of Quaker Boulevard and Stafford Road, Plainfield, Indiana. Members of the surveillance team parked at various locations around the area. By this time, the surveillance team included six FBI SAs and four TFOs. The female entered the Huntington Bank and subsequently returned to the Monte Carlo. The Monte Carlo left the area and drove away toward a residential area west of the bank. The surveillance team remained in the area of the Huntington bank to avoid detection by the Monte Carlo in the residential area, allowing the [redacted]

(U) At approximately 10:45 am, SOS [redacted] advised the surveillance team [redacted] the subject vehicle entering Elm Street in a residential area west of the Huntington Bank. SA [redacted] directed teams to stay back from the residential area and allow the [redacted]

(U) At 10:48 am, SOS [redacted] advised by radio the Monte Carlo was heading east on Stafford Road back toward the Huntington Bank and then turned back west toward Elm Street. Shortly thereafter, TFO [redacted] radioed he saw two guys with gloves and hooded sweatshirts walking in the direction of the Huntington Bank, but did not know if they had exited the Monte Carlo, and asked if anyone else saw them. There was no response from surveillance team members. At approximately 10:53 am, the two males entered the State Bank of Lizton, which was located just west of the Huntington Bank, at 2100 Stafford Road. At the same time, SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] each radioed they had witnessed a woman crouching behind a car outside of the State Bank of Lizton. Based on the sequence of events, the surveillance team determined a bank robbery was likely in progress. Team members donned tactical ballistic vests, including SA [redacted] and SA [redacted]

(U) A few minutes later, the males ran from the bank. TFO [redacted] and TFO [redacted] saw one male carrying a handgun as both males entered the Monte Carlo parked at Elm Street. TFO [redacted] and TFO [redacted] each radioed the observation to the other surveillance team members.

b6 -4
b7C -4

(U) SA [redacted] directed all team members to switch their radios to the countywide frequency and requested a dispatcher to monitor the channel to facilitate assistance from Hendricks County and Plainfield Police Departments. SA [redacted] radioed to the surveillance team his plan to have a marked police unit conduct a traffic stop once the Monte Carlo had reached an area away from the bank. As Bank Robbery Coordinator, it was SA [redacted] s standing policy to not engage subjects at or near a bank to avoid potential hostage or barricade situations.

(U) SA [redacted] drove west on Stafford Road from the direction of the State Bank of Lizton. As he approached Elm Street, he saw the Monte Carlo on Elm Street waiting to turn west onto Stafford Road. As he passed Elm Street, the Monte Carlo turned onto Stafford Road immediately behind him. Three other surveillance team vehicles driven by SA [redacted], SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] followed directly behind the Monte Carlo. As the team drove west on Stafford Road, the Monte Carlo appeared to identify the surveillance and accelerated into the center lane, passing SA [redacted] and another vehicle. The Monte Carlo then turned sharply left into a residential area south of Stafford Road on Brookside Lane. The surveillance team followed the Monte Carlo as it traveled through the residential area at high speeds, making sharp turns to avoid pursuit. SA [redacted] radioed the Monte Carlo's location, direction of travel, and cross streets, as the team followed it through the residential area. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] activated their emergency lights. During the pursuit, the surveillance team lost sight of the Monte Carlo and continued through the neighborhood to conduct a search for it and the subjects.

b7C -1,4

(U) As SA [redacted] turned right (east) onto Springcrest Street from Almond Drive, he saw the Monte Carlo parked on the right side of the road, with only the two left tires on the road. SA [redacted] drove towards the vehicle and as he approached, a male, later identified as McKnight, rolled out of the passenger side of the vehicle with some momentum. A handgun also came out of the Monte Carlo and landed on the ground between McKnight and SA [redacted]. McKnight stumbled and fell before regaining his footing and picked up the handgun. SA [redacted] stopped and exited his vehicle, drew his gun and took a position close to his driver-side door, using his vehicle for cover. SA [redacted] arrived and stopped his car directly behind SA [redacted] as the Monte Carlo sped off eastbound on Springcrest Street. SA [redacted] who was driving behind SA [redacted] drove past SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] in pursuit of the Monte Carlo. TFO [redacted] stopped his vehicle directly behind SA [redacted]. SA [redacted] remained focused on the immediate threat posed by McKnight, aimed his weapon at McKnight and issued verbal commands "FBI, drop the gun" several times. McKnight raised the handgun and pointed it in SA [redacted]'s direction. SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] also issued verbal commands for McKnight to drop the gun and show them his hands. McKnight continued moving toward SA [redacted] and his vehicle. SA [redacted] continued repeating the command for McKnight to drop the gun, but recognizing the increasing threat to himself, and believing McKnight was attempting to gain a tactical advantage behind his vehicle engine block, SA [redacted] fired several rounds at McKnight. After SA [redacted]'s first volley, the subject remained on his feet and turned left. SA [redacted] who had exited his vehicle and aimed his handgun at McKnight from the driver side of his vehicle, saw the threat McKnight posed to SA [redacted] and fired six rounds at McKnight. SA [redacted] also fired a second volley of rounds at McKnight, firing a total of seven rounds. McKnight fell to the ground and rolled toward the bottom of the ditch with his head away from SA [redacted] and SA [redacted].

(U) TFO [redacted] ran up to SA [redacted] and took a position to the left of SA [redacted] covering McKnight with his gun. McKnight had rolled into the ditch, coming to rest on his side. McKnight's handgun was separated from him. SA [redacted] approached the subject and saw he was seriously injured and incapacitated. SA [redacted] told McKnight to hold on. No one handcuffed McKnight given McKnight's incapacitated condition. TFO [redacted] radioed "shots fired" and SA [redacted] requested medical assistance while TFO [redacted] covered McKnight with his gun.

b6 -1,4

(U) SA [redacted] went to the corner of Almond Drive and Springcrest Street to determine their location to radio for an ambulance. SA [redacted] radioed over the countywide channel, shots had been fired, a subject was down and an ambulance was needed. He returned to McKnight where TFO [redacted] was encouraging the subject to hold on. Countywide dispatch advised an ambulance was en route. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U) SA [redacted] telephoned the Indianapolis Field Office main switchboard, identified himself, told them he had been involved in a shooting and requested they make appropriate internal FBI notifications. SA [redacted] radioed for the status of the ambulance and was told an ambulance was on the way. The subject was wheezing and his eyes were rolled back in his head. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U) Uniformed officers and TFO [redacted] arrived at the scene and conducted a search for the second subject. The second subject was apprehended one block to the west of the shooting location a short time later.

(U) Two fire medics subsequently arrived with a gurney. The medics rolled McKnight over and checked his pulse. They determined McKnight was dead. McKnight was then covered with a sheet. Shortly thereafter, Acting Supervisory Special Agent [redacted] and later, Assistant Special Agent In-Charge (ASAC) [redacted] arrived and took charge of the scene. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) The Plainfield Police Department maintained security for the shooting scene until 05/11/2013. Indianapolis ERT, Detroit ERT and members of the Laboratory Shooting Reconstruction Team (LSRT) processed the scene. Thirteen .40 caliber shell casings were recovered which were consistent with the .40 caliber ammunition used in SA [redacted] s and SA [redacted] 's weapons. Nine projectiles were recovered, including four located in McKnight's body. A .45 caliber Hi Point handgun was found next to the body of McKnight; the weapon had not been fired. The Hendrick's County Coroner removed McKnight's body and the ERT processed the scene for evidence. The security perimeter was maintained until the scene was released by IP ERT and the LSRT on the evening of 05/11/2013. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) All members of the SIRT reviewed the FBI produced videotape entitled, "The Rain After the Storm - Shooting Incident Investigations".

(U) On 05/10/2013, IIC Choucair communicated with Indianapolis Division Special Agent in Charge (SAC), Robert Allan Jones, to arrange logistics prior to arriving in Indianapolis, Indiana. Members of the SIRT arrived during the evening of 05/10/2013 and the morning of 05/11/2013. On 05/11/2013, IIC Choucair met with all SIRT personnel and outlined SIRT protocols. IIC Choucair then met with SAC Jones, ASAC [redacted] ASAC [redacted] b6 -1 and CDC [redacted] to explain the protocol of the shooting inquiry. SAC Jones assigned b7C -1
ASAC [redacted] and ASAC [redacted] to serve as the Points of Contact for the SIRT during the investigation period. Later that day, IIC Chocair met with FBI personnel and TFOs involved in the shooting incident and explained INSD and SIRT protocols. During each of the meetings there was an opportunity for dialogue regarding concerns, clarification, or questions prior to the investigation commencing. Over the next four days, SIRT went to the scene of the shooting to visually examine the site, and conducted interviews of FBI and TFO personnel. In addition, they reviewed evidence collected by ERT, supporting documentation and audio and video recordings.

(U) Signed Sworn Statements (SSS) were taken from four FBI SAs and one TFO who were directly involved in the shooting or related events. Two of the SAs were represented by counsel. They were:

SA [redacted] represented by [redacted] b6 -1,2
SA [redacted] represented by [redacted] b7C -1,2

Copies of SSSs were provided to those interviewees who requested them. Other interviews, events and observations were documented in FD-302s. The FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting) were executed by all SAs who provided SSSs. All SSSs and interviews of witnesses were conducted voluntarily.

(U) On 05/14/2013, Inspector Choucair and SAC Jones met with Patricia A. Baldwin, Prosecuting Attorney (PA) for the 55th Circuit for the State of Indiana and briefed her on the facts of the shooting incident. PA Baldwin stated her office would issue a letter of declination relative to SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] and their actions during the shooting incident. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) On 05/15/2013, an exit briefing was provided by IIC Choucair to SAC Jones.

C. Personnel Involved in the Shooting

- SA [redacted] (Glock 22 Serial Number [redacted]
- SA [redacted] (Glock 22 Serial Number [redacted]; b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

D. Firearms Training

(U) Indianapolis Division provided qualifications records for SAs [redacted] A review of the records reflected the following: b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) SA [redacted] s most recent qualification with his FBI-issued Glock 22, Serial Number [redacted] was on 03/19/2013.

(U) SA [redacted] 's most recent qualification with his FBI-issued Glock 22, Serial Number [redacted] was on 04/26/2013.

E. Deadly Force Training

(U) The IP CDC provided DOJ/FBI Deadly Force Policy training to members of Squad C-5, including SAs [redacted] on 02/27/2013. The training incorporated Firearms Training Simulator scenarios. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) SA [redacted] also reviewed the FBI Deadly Force Policy during a briefing related to the execution of a search warrant on 04/21/2013 and again on either 04/24/2013 or 04/25/2013.

(U) No operational plan was prepared for the surveillance activities on 05/10/2013.

F. Use of Body Armor and Law Enforcement Identifiers

(U) SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were wearing tactical ballistic vests. SA [redacted] s vest had an FBI placard on the front and back. SA [redacted] had an FBI placard on the back of his vest, but not on the front. SA [redacted] believed it must have come off while putting on his vest in the vehicle during the surveillance. b6 -1 b7C -1

G. FBI Indices and National Crime Information Center (NCIC)

(U) On 05/11/2013, ASAC [redacted] provided National Crime Information Center (NCIC) criminal history reports for William McKnight, [redacted] The criminal history reports included: b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

(U) William McKnight, also known as (aka) Deandre Lewis, aka William Randolph, aka Deandre McKnight, black male, date of birth: 08/14/1969, Social Security Account Number: 324-66-9170, FBI number 714035KA1, address: 1656 N. Livingston Avenue, Indianapolis, Indiana. NCIC print out for William McKnight contained a notation of probation or supervised release and multiple arrest entries to include arrests for multiple burglaries, armed robberies, aggravated robbery, resisting arrest and prison sentences of 13 years in 1994 and seven years in 2008.

(U) [redacted] NCIC print out for [redacted] disclosed a notation of probation or supervised release and an arrest on [redacted] for stolen property, theft, robbery and armed robbery. [redacted] was convicted and sentenced to six years in prison for the [redacted] armed robbery charge. [redacted]'s record also disclosed the arrest on [redacted] for theft and armed robbery. b6 -7 b7C -7

(U) [redacted] NCIC print out for [redacted] disclosed a lifetime personal protection firearms permit. [redacted] record also disclosed the arrest on [redacted] for aiding armed robbery. b6 -7 b7C -7

H. ERT Report

(U) On 06/12/2013, Assistant Inspector [redacted] received via FBI internal mail two compact disks from [redacted] FBI Laboratory Division, Operational Projects Unit, telephone number [redacted] containing an Interactive Diagram related to the Plainfield, Indiana shooting incident on 05/10/2013. The disks contained a diagram of the shooting scene with interactive links to photos of evidence markers and spherical images. b6 -1 b7C -1

I. FBI Lab Report

(U) On 01/06/2014, Assistant Inspector [redacted] received the FBI Laboratory Report for the Plainfield, Indiana shooting incident on 05/10/2013. The report was prepared by [redacted] FBI Laboratory Division, Firearms and Toolmarks Unit, telephone number [redacted] and documented the analysis of the items received on 05/29/2013. The report included the firearm examination and searches of the National Integrated Ballistics Information Network (NIBIN). b6 -1 b7C -1

J. Medical Reports

approximately 200 milliliter left hemothorax. Another bullet caused focal lacerations of the left kidney and partial transection of the spinal cord. The autopsy listed the cause of death as "Multiple Gunshot Wounds."

K. Declination by the Civil Rights Division

(U) On 10/29/2013, Inspector Dena Choucair received via E-mail a declination letter from [redacted] U.S. Department of Justice, Civil Rights Section, Washington, DC. The letter stated there was insufficient evidence to warrant a federal criminal civil rights investigation into a shooting by two FBI agents near Indianapolis, Indiana, on 05/10/2013, that resulted in the death of William McKnight.

Synopsis

On 03/04/2013, a criminal complaint and federal arrest warrant were issued against Scott Edward Evans for Distribution of Child Pornography and Receipt of Child Pornography. A search warrant was also issued for Evans' residence, 2332 Stapleton Road, New Market, Tennessee, in order to obtain evidence related to an ongoing child pornography investigation. Evans had no prior criminal history but did possess a valid handgun permit.

Agents and Task Force Officers (TFOs) assigned to the Knoxville (KX) Johnson City Resident Agency (JCRA), along with other local law enforcement officers, planned to execute the arrest and search warrants on 03/06/2013. At approximately 7:30 AM, the Case Agent, Special Agent (SA) [redacted] met with the search and arrest team to brief the Operations Plan and FBI Deadly Force Policy. Following the briefing, team members drove to Evans' residence in law enforcement vehicles with emergency lights activated. All team members wore clearly identifiable law enforcement clothing and protective equipment. The entry team advanced to the front door of Evans' residence, knocked, and clearly announced the presence of law enforcement. After waiting a reasonable amount of time with no response, Agents forced entry and cleared the residence. While Agents detained [redacted] in the living room, five additional Agents proceeded to a rear bedroom where Evans was located. The Agents observed Evans holding a holstered handgun pointed at his head. Evans ignored repeated demands to drop his weapon, which remained in its holster. Evans unholstered the handgun, exposing the trigger, at which point FBI SA [redacted] fired three .223 rounds from his Colt M4 rifle. All three rounds struck Evans and emergency personnel were summoned. Evans was determined to be deceased at the scene by two paramedics, who responded in less than 10 minutes.

The shooting scene was processed by KX ERT and the Laboratory Division. All on-scene work, total station, and spherical photography were completed. Evans' Ruger handgun, cocked and loaded with six .357 rounds, was recovered from Evans' hand. Dozens of other weapons were located in Evans' residence, to include handguns, rifles and one crossbow. One of the rifles was reported stolen. At the time of the operation, [redacted] were in the residence. They were detained at the scene and released after [redacted] interviewed by FBI KX. b6 -2 b7C -2

On 02/13/2013, Knoxville received a lead from the Violent Crimes Against Children Major Case Coordination Unit (formerly the Innocent Images Operations Unit) entitled "SCOTT EDWARD EVANS, aka jones32100@yahoo.com and jones00115@yahoo.com." An [redacted] revealed Evans had been receiving and distributing child pornography on-line. Knoxville received a digital video disk containing numerous images of child pornography obtained from the search of Evans' Yahoo! Incorporated e-mail account, jones32100@yahoo.com. The United States Attorney's Office, Eastern District of Tennessee, Greeneville, Tennessee, committed to prosecuting captioned matter and a case was subsequently opened. b7D -2

On 03/04/2013, a criminal complaint and federal arrest warrant were issued against Evans for Distribution of Child Pornography and Receipt of Child Pornography. A search warrant was also issued for Evans' residence, 2332 Stapleton Road, New Market, Tennessee, in order to obtain evidence related to the ongoing child pornography investigation. Evans had no prior criminal history but did possess a valid handgun permit.

Agents and TFOs assigned to the JCRA of the Knoxville Field Office, along with other local law enforcement officers, planned to execute the arrest and search warrants on 03/06/2013. An Operations Plan was drafted by the Case Agent, SA [redacted] and approved on 03/04/2013 by Supervisory Senior Resident Agent (SSRA) [redacted] Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) [redacted], and Chief Division Counsel (CDC) [redacted] SA [redacted] thoroughly briefed the Operations Plan, which included the FBI Deadly Force Policy, to the search and arrest team on 03/05/2013. The briefing included [redacted] Although SA [redacted] was a Probationary Agent, she was assisted by multiple senior Agents in the JCRA, to include members of the Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Team, and her Training Agent, SA [redacted] a former ASAC. The tactical portion of the operation briefing was conducted by a senior Agent in the JCRA, SA [redacted] a member of the SWAT Team. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

On the morning of 03/06/2013, the SA [redacted] met with the search and arrest team prior to execution of the warrants to brief the Operations Plan and FBI Deadly Force Policy. In addition to the personnel who were briefed on 03/05/2013, personnel from local agencies were present who had not participated in the briefing the previous day. Following the briefing, team members drove to Evans' residence in law enforcement vehicles with emergency lights b6 -1 b7C -1

Inspector Davis
FBI Inspection Division

Based upon the information in your Shooting Incident Report and consultation with the USAO in Knoxville, we have determined that the incident in which a Knoxville FBI agent was involved in a shooting during the execution of an arrest warrant in New Market, Tn, on 3/6/13, resulting in the death of Scott Evans, does not warrant federal criminal investigation. The district attorney for Sevierville, Tn concluded that there was no violation of Tennessee law. There is no evidence to support an investigation to determine whether the federal criminal civil rights statutes were violated.

Knoxville agents and TFOs were attempting to locate and arrest Evans and search his mobile home residence for evidence relevant to child pornography charges. After their knocking on the door was ignored, the SWAT team breached the front door, encountered and detained [redacted] b6 -2 b7C -2 in a front room, and located Evans in a bedroom. He was naked on a bed holding a .357 handgun in its holster to his head. Several agents surrounded him in a crowded room (the room contained other weapons) and identified themselves. They repeatedly commanded him to "drop the gun." He ignore the commands, moved around in the room, and eventually upholstered the handgun. As Evans removed the handgun from its holster, one of the agents fired three times, striking and mortally wounding him.

Under the circumstances, the expressed perception by the agents who were present in the bedroom that Evans presented a risk of deadly harm was reasonable. The witness accounts are consistent. Additionally, an agent was bitten by a dog during the action.

We are grateful that the shooter agent properly provided a voluntary account of the incident and, accordingly facilitated a fully informed decision. Please complete the administrative review of the matter.

Synopsis

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/21/2013, at approximately 8:45 p.m., FBI Las Vegas Division Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) Team Assistant Team Leader, SA [redacted] and members of the FBI Las Vegas SWAT team participated in an operation in support of case number 88A-LA-2876913, a Los Angeles Field Office fugitive investigation. The operation included the Las Vegas SWAT team executing an arrest warrant for fugitive subject [redacted] As the SWAT team attempted to make entry into [redacted] Las Vegas, Nevada, by striking the door with a breaching ram, [redacted] fired multiple .45 caliber rounds at the SWAT team through the apartment door and wall. After SA [redacted] and the SWAT team announced themselves, [redacted] fired additional rounds at the SWAT team through the door and wall. [redacted] was instructed to exit his apartment and go out onto his balcony. At this point, SA [redacted] saw the front door move and feared [redacted] was preparing to pull the door open and again shoot at the team. SA [redacted] used the trajectory of the rounds to estimate the location of [redacted] inside the apartment. SA [redacted] fired his M-4 carbine nine times at [redacted] Subsequently, [redacted] fired additional rounds through the balcony sliding glass door. Following unsuccessful negotiation efforts, [redacted] was deployed into the apartment and [redacted] shortly thereafter surrendered. [redacted] was uninjured and transported to the Clark County Jail.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] a Las Vegas SWAT team and CAT member, contacted FBI Las Vegas SWAT Assistant Team Leader [redacted] at 11:00 a.m. to notify him of the possible arrest operation. SA [redacted] was informed the subject was known to make threats against law enforcement and had an extensive criminal history. He was further informed the subject was possibly in possession of a firearm. Due to these factors, the seriousness of the charges, and source information suggesting [redacted] barricaded his residence and would not be taken alive, SA [redacted] believed justification for the utilization of SWAT was met. SA [redacted] advised SA [redacted] to discuss SWAT utilization with and obtain concurrence from squad supervisor SSA [redacted]

b7C -1,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 1:00 p.m., members of the CAT were briefed on the Operations Plan (Ops Plan) to arrest [redacted] During the briefing, SA [redacted] told CAT members [redacted] was known to barricade the door when he was in his residence, to be armed and dangerous, to wear disguises, and to change his telephone frequently. SA [redacted] assigned each CAT member their positions. He briefed the DOJ/FBI Deadly Force and the Deadly Force Policy under the Memorandum of Understanding. He also told the members of CAT a goal of their operation was to collect sufficient evidence regarding the location of [redacted] to obtain a state search warrant. The Las Vegas FBI SWAT team would then make the arrest.

(U//~~FOUO~~) At 4:00 p.m., A/ASAC [redacted] 15 SWAT operators, two paramedics, TOC personnel, and an Electronic Technician participating in the operation were briefed using an Operations Order PowerPoint presentation. FBI Las Vegas Senior Team Leader (STL) [redacted] and FBI Las Vegas SWAT operator SA [redacted] were in Reno, Nevada, at the time of the briefing. During the briefing, SA [redacted] covered the DOJ/FBI Deadly Force Policy. SA [redacted] outlined the subject's criminal history, threats against law enforcement, his practice to barricade his door and carry a firearm on him at all times. SA [redacted] showed pictures of the subject, route to the location, and briefed standard equipment to be used in the operation to include weapons, ballistic protection, and radios. Photographs of the location were obtained from SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] and used in the briefing. After the brief, operators went to the field office parking lot and conducted a rehearsal. Following the rehearsal, the operators were released and remained on call until additional information was received from the CAT regarding the location of the subject.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Following discussions and rehearsals at the staging area, all personnel conducted a radio check with the TOC. SWAT operators loaded into their vehicles and A/ASAC [redacted] provided authority to proceed to the suspect's location. At approximately 8:45 p.m., the SWAT team entered into the apartment complex and proceeded to the vehicle drop off point southeast of the suspect's building. The team exited their vehicles and approached the building as planned. Two operators took positions to cover the suspect's balcony. The six operators in the stack approached the stairs. The breaching element remained on the stairs while four operators went up the stairs to the landing and the target door. SA [redacted] carried the ballistic shield and was the first in the stack. SA [redacted] was second in the cover position. SA [redacted] was third and SA [redacted] was fourth. When the operators were in position, SA [redacted] stated "set" over the tactical channel. This was done to initiate [redacted] With the team in position, SA [redacted] gave the order to breach the door over the tactical channel. SA [redacted] approached and struck the suspect's door with the ram. The door opened about one inch and returned to the closed position. SA [redacted] could see the door jamb paint color was different from the trim color, but he could not see inside the suspect's apartment. Around the time SA [redacted] was preparing to strike the door a second time, gunfire started and rounds came through the suspect's door from the inside.

know the Agents were not a rival gang or a criminal element attempting to steal from him. More shots were fired from within the apartment and rounds again came through the door. According to SA [redacted] the trajectory of the second burst of gun fire appeared to come closer to their position. SA [redacted] saw a large round skip across the landing towards the team. SA [redacted] again yelled "Police" and "FBI," and checked on the team. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Wanting [redacted] to exit his apartment, but not feeling it was safe to have him exit via the front door, SA [redacted] instructed [redacted] to exit his apartment and go out onto his balcony, where he would be observed by the cover team. [redacted] was heard saying something from inside the apartment, but it was not comprehendible. [redacted] was also heard moving around inside the apartment. At this point, SA [redacted] saw the front door move. SA [redacted] was concerned [redacted] was preparing to pull the apartment door open, put his arm out the door, and shoot at the team. SA [redacted] felt an imminent threat of death or bodily harm for his team, the neighbors, and himself. SA [redacted] assessed from the trajectory of the rounds that [redacted] was likely located behind the knob side of the door. SA [redacted] placed a burst of nine rounds from his M-4 through knob side of the subject's door. The subject fired a third burst of gunfire, this time out the west-facing balcony sliding glass doors. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] continued to issue commands to [redacted] through the door. [redacted] called out, "I'm hit." SA [redacted] noted his voice was casual. From SA [redacted] s experience, [redacted] s voice did not sound like someone who was injured or bleeding. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) An expandable ladder was placed up against the north end of the landing's east railing. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] climbed over the railing and used the ladder to exit the landing. A second ladder was placed on the south end of the east railing, and a cover team ascended the ladder to cover the apartment door to facilitate the remaining team members' egress. SA [redacted] requested [redacted] FBI SWAT SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] withdrew from the landing via the northern ladder. Though a .45 caliber round struck SA [redacted] s ballistic vest during the suspect's third discharge of rounds, none of the SWAT operators were injured. A barricaded subject situation ensued. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7 b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) FBI and LVMPD negotiators attempted to convince [redacted] to surrender. After initial dialogue, [redacted] stopped communicating with negotiators and [redacted] plan was prepared. Personnel were not mandated to review their FD-302s; however, those personnel who wanted to review their FD-302s were afforded the opportunity. Neither the FD-644 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information on a Voluntary Basis) nor FD-645 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Required to Provide Information) were utilized. The SSSs and interviews of witnesses were conducted voluntarily. The LVMPD made involved personnel available to the SIRT. FD-302s of LVMPD interviews annotated personnel who voluntarily provided statements and personnel who were compelled by their department to provide statements.

(U//~~FOUO~~) An FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident) was executed by all FBI personnel interviewed.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/23/2013, IIC Stroud met with Clark County District Attorney's Office (CCDA) Chief Deputy District Attorney [redacted] and Chief Deputy District Attorney [redacted] to explain the ensuing steps of the SIRT process. On 05/28/2013, IIC Stroud met with CCDA Chief Deputy District Attorney [redacted] to brief him on the results of the shooting incident review.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted]s most recent qualification with his FBI-issued Colt M4A1, Serial Number [redacted] was on 04/03/2013. b6 -1 b7C -1

DEADLY FORCE TRAINING:

(U//~~FOUO~~) The last deadly force training, which was required for all Las Vegas FBI SAs, was provided by CDC [redacted] and SA [redacted] during the 04/12/2013 Shooting Incidents brief at the Las Vegas Field Office All Employee Conference. CDC [redacted] also provided an E-mail dated 03/13/2013, from CDC [redacted] to Las Vegas Agents and TFOs which provided notification of the DOJ/FBI Deadly Force Policy. Webcast training regarding the DOJ/FBI Deadly Force Policy was provided on 12/21/2012, for all Las Vegas Agents and TFOs. An E-mail, dated 12/17/2012, from SA [redacted] to Las Vegas Agents provided notification of changes to the FBI Less-Lethal Device Policy Implementation Guide to all Agents. An E-mail, dated 11/26/2012, from CDC [redacted] to Las Vegas Agents provided notification of mandatory legal training for all Agents and TFOs.

(U//~~FOUO~~) INSD determined SA [redacted] prepared a written Ops Plan on 05/21/2013. The Ops Plan was briefed to A/ASAC [redacted] and all personnel involved in the operation. The DOJ/FBI Deadly Force Policy was written into the plan. b6 -1 b7C -1

USE OF BODY ARMOR AND LAW ENFORCEMENT IDENTIFIERS:

(U//~~FOUO~~) All SA and TFO personnel involved in the operation wore ballistic body armor. FBI or law enforcement identifiers were worn. The operation involved use of the "no-knock" tactic. Documented risk factors justified use of the technique. Personnel verbally identified themselves to the subject prior to firing at the subject; however, [redacted] continued to fire at Agents. b6 -7 b7C -7

J. DECLINATION BY THE CIVIL RIGHTS DIVISION:

(U//~~FOUO~~) Upon completion of the on-site inquiry, IIC Stroud coordinated SIRT investigative findings with [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division. On 05/24/2013, he was provided an incident summary. On 05/28/2013, Mr. [redacted] advised the circumstances of the Agent-involved shooting did not, "warrant a federal criminal investigation of this matter." b6 -3 b7C -3

K. LOCAL PROSECUTIVE OPINION:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/28/2013, IIC Stroud met with CCDA Chief Deputy [redacted] to brief him on the results of the shooting incident review. By letter dated 05/29/2013, the Clark County DA stated the facts of this SIRT did not meet the criteria for formal review and he considered the matter closed. b6 -4 b7C -4

L. INSPECTOR'S OBSERVATIONS:

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Observation 1: Las Vegas Field Office did not have crisis negotiator elements pre-staged.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis: Based upon numerous interviews, it was determined crisis negotiators were not deployed on the 05/21/2013 incident until after SWAT encountered a barricaded subject.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Las Vegas Field Office had no formal policy on the deployment of crisis negotiation staff with SWAT deployments. However, per an all-Agent FBINET E-mail from SSA [redacted] SWAT Coordinator, on 01/24/2013, the following was established: b6 -1 b7C -1

> "As a general rule a crisis negotiation team member WILL NOT stage with SWAT during their operations. The crisis negotiation team will be on standby and aware of the SWAT operation and will deploy if needed. There are circumstances when crisis negotiation team members will stage with SWAT, primarily, when there are articulable facts that indicate they should be present. Some facts include: the subject's involvement in a prior barricade situation; information the subject may be suicidal, has vowed not to be taken alive, or is prepared and waiting for police; intel that the area where the subject is located is heavily fortified; or, any other information that the subject will likely not surrender even when confronted by SWAT."

(U//~~FOUO~~) Intelligence from both the LA Field Office and a Confidential Human Source indicated [redacted] was known to barricade himself in places he was staying, he was known to carry a firearm, he was facing a substantial sentence for murder, and he had made statements he would never be taken alive. b6 -7 b7C -7

(U//~~FOUO~~) When crisis negotiators were requested during the 05/21/2013 incident, there was a substantial delay both in response and in coordination efforts between SWAT, FBI management, and FBI crisis negotiators. Additionally, there was a delay in coordination with the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department (LVMPD) negotiators.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Recommendation 1: A/SAC Las Vegas should ensure assessments of proposed SWAT operations are conducted, and FBI LV negotiators are pre-staged with SWAT.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Observation 2: Approval of the Las Vegas SWAT Operations Order, dated 05/21/2013, was not clearly articulated by the Special Agent in Charge, or his designee.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis: Corporate Policy Directive 0242D, Requirement for Written Operation Order – Field Operations, Section 7.1 requires [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -5 Section 8.2.2.1 states [redacted] Section 11.3.1 states [redacted] The Las Vegas SWAT team utilized the [redacted] for the operations order. SWAT Assistant Team Leader SA [redacted] prepared the operations order. Las Vegas [redacted] page 32, Command and Control, listed SSA [redacted] as the On-Scene Commander. SSA [redacted] was the A/ASAC and the SWAT Coordinator. According to the A/SAC in his INSD interview, he asked A/ASAC [redacted] to be the On-Scene-Commander. Las Vegas [redacted] page 34 was titled Approval/Authority; it did not indicate the plan was approved, or who approved the plan. The Approval/Authority page was never signed by the Special Agent in Charge, or designee, and there was no indication formal approval of the plan was granted.

(U//~~FOUO~~) During his INSD interview, SA [redacted] stated a copy of the final version of the operations order is typically provided to the SWAT Coordinator, who notes approval. SA [redacted] stated A/ASAC [redacted] reviewed a draft paper copy of the operations order and returned it. SA [redacted] stated A/ASAC [redacted] did not sign a copy of the plan, nor did he state he approved the plan. From A/ASAC [redacted] 's presence at the operations order presentation, and lack of negative feedback, SA [redacted] understood the operations order to be approved. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) During his INSD interview, A/ASAC [redacted] stated he gave verbal approval of the operations order after listening to the briefing of SA [redacted] A/ASAC [redacted] stated a written operations order was not provided to him by SA [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Based on Las Vegas personnel interviews, the Shooting Incident Review Team determined there was confusion regarding the procedures for approving the operations order. As observed above, the On-Scene Commander and the SWAT Assistant Team Leader had different recollections of how the operations order was approved. A signed plan would have alleviated any confusion regarding this matter.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Instruction 2: A/SAC Las Vegas will ensure he, or his designee, provides written or electronic approval of all written operations orders for the execution of every Arrest and Search Warrant and any other activity in which the practical application of firearms might be reasonably anticipated. The approval should occur before the operations order is presented to the participants.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Observation 3: Information regarding the 05/21/2013 crisis situation was not communicated to the Las Vegas Field Office Communications Center.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis: It was determined the Las Vegas Field Office Communications Center did not receive a copy of the SWAT Operations Order and was only advised telephonically of a potential SWAT operation on 05/21/2013. During the SWAT operation and subsequent barricade situation, the Communications Center was not given information regarding the initiation of the arrest situation, shots being fired, or a barricaded subject. The Communications Center was also not informed of the possible injury to an Agent. This prevented the Communications Center from being an efficient communications coordination point for the field office in support of the crisis.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Later that same evening, the Communications Center was contacted by Las Vegas Channel 3 News inquiring about the SWAT arrest and shooting incident. Although Communications Center personnel reacted properly, they were caught by surprise by the press inquiry. Previous knowledge of the crisis would have allowed the Communications Center to be better prepared to handle press inquiries and other pertinent communications regarding the incident.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Recommendation 3: A/SAC Las Vegas should ensure pertinent information regarding SWAT operations, to include initiation, completion, and any critical situations stemming from the operation are communicated to the Las Vegas Field Office Communications Center.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Observation 4: A Las Vegas Field Office SWAT operator utilized an unauthorized weapon during [redacted]

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis: Las Vegas Field Office SWAT team member SA [redacted] advised due to low light levels outside the subject's residence, and because his FBI-issued [redacted] did not have a sight system suitable for low light environments, he utilized a [redacted] provided by the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department (LVMPD). The [redacted] provided by LVMPD SWAT contained an EO Tech sight which was better suited for low light environments. SA [redacted] received a familiarization brief from an

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Instruction 4: A/SAC Las Vegas will ensure Las Vegas Field Office SWAT operators, in the absence of exigent circumstances, only use weapons authorized in the Special Weapons and Tactics, Policy Implementation Guide.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Observation 5: Deficiencies were identified in Las Vegas Field Office's Crisis Response Plan.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis: Crisis Management Program Policy Implementation Guide (PG), Section 5.2 states [redacted] The Las Vegas Field Office had a Crisis Response Plan which indicated it was revised on 05/31/2012. It contained an appendix (Appendix D) for Agent-involved shootings, which was dated 06/2009. The Introduction section identified and quoted FBI's policy on the use of deadly force and referenced it as being set forth in MIOG, Part II, Section 12-2.1 and in the Legal Handbook for Special Agents (LHSA), Section 3-6.4. b7E -5

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 05/21/2014, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by SA [redacted] on 05/21/2013, was in compliance with the Department of Justice's Deadly Force Policy.

2. Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective action concerning operational planning and execution, training, and/or safety issues. The SIRG made the following recommendations and observations:

Title: (U) Las Vegas 07/16/2013 SIRG
Re: 297-HQ-A1271699-D, 06/11/2014

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Observation 1: Las Vegas Field Office did not have crisis negotiation elements pre-staged.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis: Based upon numerous interviews, it was determined crisis negotiators were not deployed on the 05/21/2013 incident until after SWAT encountered a barricaded subject.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Las Vegas Field Office had no formal policy on the deployment of crisis negotiation staff with SWAT deployments. However, per an all-Agent FBINET E-mail from SSA [redacted] SWAT Coordinator, on 01/24/2013, the following was established: b6 -1 b7C -1

"As a general rule a crisis negotiation team member WILL NOT stage with SWAT during their operations. The crisis negotiation team will be on standby and aware of the SWAT operation and will deploy if needed. There are circumstances when crisis negotiation team members will stage with SWAT, primarily, when there are articulable facts that indicate they should be present. Some facts include: the subject's involvement in a prior barricade situation; information the subject may be suicidal, has vowed not to be taken alive, or is prepared and waiting for police; intel that the area where the subject is located is heavily fortified; or, any other information that the subject will likely not surrender even when confronted by SWAT."

(U//~~FOUO~~) In addition, the FBI's SWAT Operations Unit (SOU) clearly articulated to all field offices, via communication with the Senior Team Leaders at the annual SOU Conference, their recommendation to deploy FBI Crisis Negotiators to the scene of each FBI SWAT operation.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Intelligence from both LA Field Office and a Confidential Human Source indicated [redacted] was known to barricade himself in places he was staying, he was known carry a firearm, he was facing a substantial sentence for murder, and he had made statements he would never be taken alive. b6 -7 b7C -7

(U//~~FOUO~~) When crisis negotiators were requested during the 05/21/2013 incident, there was a substantial delay both in response and in coordination efforts between SWAT, FBI management, and FBI crisis negotiators. Additionally, there was a delay in coordination with the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department (LVMPD) negotiators.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Recommendation 1: SAC, Las Vegas should ensure assessments of proposed SWAT operations are conducted, and FBI LV negotiators are pre-staged with SWAT.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Observation 2: Confusion existed as to who approved, and at what level approval was necessary, for the Las Vegas SWAT Operations Order, dated 05/21/2013.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis: Corporate Policy Directive 0242D, Requirement for Written Operation Order – Field Operations, Section 7.1 requires the [redacted] Section 8.2.2.1 states [redacted] Section 11.3.1 states [redacted] The Las Vegas SWAT team utilized the [redacted] for the operation order. SWAT Assistant Team Leader SA [redacted] prepared the operations order. Las Vegas [redacted] page 32, Command and Control, listed SSA [redacted] as the On-Scene Commander. SSA [redacted] was the A/ASAC and the SWAT Coordinator. According to the A/SAC in his INSD interview, he asked A/ASAC [redacted] to be On-Scene-Commander. Las Vegas [redacted] page 34 was titled Approval/Authority; it did not indicate the plan was approved, or who approved the plan. The Approval/Authority page was never signed by the Special Agent in Charge, or designee, and there was no indication formal approval of the plan was granted.

b7E -5

(U//~~FOUO~~) During his INSD interview, SA [redacted] stated a copy of the final version of the operations order is typically provided to the SWAT Coordinator, who notes approval. SA [redacted] stated A/ASAC [redacted] reviewed a draft paper copy of the operations order and returned it.

SA [redacted] stated A/ASAC [redacted] did not sign a copy of the plan, nor did he state he approved the plan. From A/ASAC [redacted]'s presence at the operations order presentation, and lack of negative feedback, SA [redacted] understood the operations order to be approved. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) During his INSD interview, A/ASAC [redacted] stated he gave verbal approval of the operations order after listening to the briefing of SA [redacted] A/ASAC [redacted] stated a written operations order was not provided to him by SA [redacted].

(U//~~FOUO~~) Based on Las Vegas personnel interviews, the Shooting Incident Review Team determined there was confusion regarding the procedures for approving the operations order. As observed above, the On-Scene Commander and the SWAT Assistant Team Leader had different recollections of how the operations order was approved. A signed plan would have alleviated any confusion regarding this matter.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Instruction 2: SAC, Las Vegas will ensure she, or her designee, provides written or electronic approval of all written operations orders for the execution of every Arrest and Search Warrant and any other activity in which the practical application of firearms might be reasonably anticipated. The approval should occur before the operations order is presented to the participants.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Observation 3: Information regarding the 05/21/2013 crisis situation was not communicated to the Las Vegas Field Office Communications Center.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis: It was determined the Las Vegas Field Office Communications Center did not receive a copy of the SWAT Operations Order and was only advised telephonically of a potential SWAT operation on 05/21/2013. During the SWAT operation and subsequent barricade situation, the Communications Center was not given information regarding the initiation of the arrest situation, shots being fired, or a barricaded subject. The Communications Center was also not informed of the possible injury to an Agent. This prevented the Communications Center from being an efficient communications coordination point for the field office in support of the crisis.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Later that same evening, the Communications Center was contacted by Las Vegas Channel 3 News inquiring about the SWAT arrest and shooting incident. Although Communications Center personnel reacted properly, they were caught by surprise by the press inquiry. Previous knowledge of the crisis would have allowed the Communications Center to be better prepared to handle press inquiries and other pertinent communications regarding the incident.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Recommendation 3: SAC, Las Vegas should ensure pertinent information regarding SWAT operations, to include initiation, completion, and any critical situations stemming from the operation are communicated to the Las Vegas Field Office Communications Center.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Observation 4: A Las Vegas Field Office SWAT operator utilized a non-FBI-approved weapon during [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis: Las Vegas Field Office SWAT team member SA [redacted] advised due to low light levels outside the subject's residence, and because his FBI-issued [redacted] did not have a sight system suitable for low light environments, he utilized a [redacted] provided by the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department (LVMPD). The [redacted] provided by LVMPD SWAT contained an EO Tech sight which was better suited for low light environments. SA [redacted] received a familiarization brief from an LVMPD SWAT operator prior to using the weapon. (U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Observation 5: Deficiencies were identified in Las Vegas Field Office's Crisis Response Plan.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis: Crisis Management Program Policy Implementation Guide (PG), Section 5.2 states [redacted] b7E -5

[redacted] Las Vegas Field Office's Crisis Response Plan contains an annex for Agent-involved shootings. The Introduction section identifies and quotes FBI's policy on the use of deadly force and references it as being set forth in MIOG, Part II, Section 12-2.1 and in the Legal Handbook for Special Agents (LHSA), Section 3-6.4. b7E -5

(U//~~FOUO~~) MIOG, Part II, Section 12-2.1 was superseded by the Domestic Investigations and Operations Guide (DIOG), Appendix F, Dated 10/15/2011. DIOG, Appendix F, and the referenced LHSA, Section 3-6.4, sets forth the Department of Justice Deadly Force Policy. The Las Vegas Field Office Crisis Response Plan does not cite or set forth the current deadly force policy.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Instruction 5: SAC, Las Vegas will ensure the Las Vegas Field Office Crisis Response plan cites and quotes current FBI policy.

Procedures for Responding to the Instruction

SAC, Las Vegas is responsible for ensuring each Inspection Instruction/Recommendation is satisfactorily resolved. The inspection process is not complete until the Instruction/Recommendation is addressed by the field office. The Inspector-in-Charge (IIC) will review the field office's response to determine if the Instruction/Recommendation has been resolved or requires further action. Resolution is based upon specific actions taken and not a recitation of the actions the division has under consideration or plans to implement.

Details:

On 11/20/2013, the SIRG convened to review a shooting incident which occurred on 03/01/2012, involving Los Angeles Field Office Special Agent (SA) [redacted] On 03/01/2012, at approximately

b7C -1

8:33 a.m., SA [redacted] was participating in a joint FBI and Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) operation to locate and arrest Frank Eric Martinez. Martinez was a fugitive charged with two counts of murder for the November 2011 homicide of two leaders within his gang, the State Street Boys. Investigation, to include court-authorized [redacted] located Martinez at a residence in La Mirada, CA. When FBI Agents and LAPD Officers approached the residence, Martinez fled to the garage roof on the house next door. Despite repeated commands to raise his hands and comply with directions, Martinez refused and continually secreted his right hand inside his pants. Believing Martinez was concealing a weapon, LAPD Officers and FBI Agents told Martinez multiple times in English and Spanish to put his hands up and come down from the roof. As a LAPD Officer came forward with a shotgun and non-lethal bean-bag rounds, Martinez quickly moved the right side of his body in the direction of SA [redacted] After hearing a single gun shot, SA [redacted] fearing for his life, fired his assigned Colt M-4 rifle 22 times at Martinez. Three LAPD Officers also responded to Martinez' actions and fired their service weapons. Martinez was struck multiple times and died at the location. A subsequent investigation determined Martinez was unarmed. Further investigation determined the cellular telephone in the subject's possession at the time of the shooting contained the Android-based telephone application "Russian Roulette," capable of generating simulated gunshot sounds.

Synopsis

On March 1, 2012, at approximately 8:33 a.m., LAFO SA [redacted] was involved in a shooting incident in La Mirada, California. SA [redacted] was participating in a FBI and Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) Fugitive Task Force (FTF) operation to locate and arrest Frank Eric Martinez. Martinez was a fugitive charged with two counts of murder for the November 2011 homicide of two leaders within his gang, the State Street Boys. b6 -1 b7C -1

The investigation, to include court-authorized [redacted] indicated Martinez may be located at a residence in La Mirada, CA, a suburb situated southeast of Los Angeles. The FTF established surveillance of the [redacted] La Mirada residence after a 5:30 a.m. operations briefing on March 1, 2012. Assessing the need for additional personnel to assist in the operation, the FTF requested support from the LAPD, Hollenbeck Division, Career Criminal Detail (CCD) to effect the apprehension of Martinez. A coordinated operations plan called for the FTF to maintain surveillance in advance of the CCD conducting a surround and call-out for Martinez at the residence. b6 -2 b7C -2 b7E -1,6

When the CCD approached the [redacted] residence, Martinez fled to the garage roof of the residence next door [redacted] Despite repeated commands to raise his hands and comply with officers, Martinez refused and continually secreted his right hand inside his pants. LAPD officers and FBI Agents attempting to arrest Martinez believed he may have held a concealed weapon. Martinez was told multiple times by the officers in English and b6 -2 b7C -2

Spanish to put his hands up and come down from the roof. Martinez used his left hand to make a call with his cellular telephone. His right hand remained tucked inside his pants. SA [redacted] heard Martinez on his telephone say, "Hey baby, I'm calling to say goodbye, I'm just calling to say goodbye." SA [redacted] who was positioned at ground level at the [redacted] residence, approximately 19 feet from the elevated Martinez, attempted to engage Martinez in dialogue and told him to come down from the roof and talk. Martinez looked at SA [redacted] and said, "Fuck you, I'm not talking to you." SA [redacted] requested an LAPD officer retrieve a shotgun with non-lethal bean-bag rounds.

Martinez tried to make another telephone call, which SA [redacted] believed was unsuccessful. Martinez appeared agitated and continued to yell profanities at the officers. As the LAPD officer came forward with the shotgun and bean-bag rounds Martinez quickly moved the right side of his body in the direction of SA [redacted] The bulge evident in Martinez' pants, where his right hand was concealed, was thrust toward SA [redacted] Concurrent with this movement by Martinez, SA [redacted] and other officers heard a single shot. SA [redacted] believed Martinez had fired a shot at him and SA [redacted] fearing for his life, fired his assigned Colt M-4 rifle multiple times at Martinez. Three LAPD CCD officers, positioned to the rear of SA [redacted] behind a cinderblock wall, also responded to Martinez' actions and fired their service weapons at Martinez. Martinez was struck multiple times and died at the location. He was subsequently determined to be unarmed.

Details

On November 30, 2011, a double homicide occurred in the city of Los Angeles, CA, in LAPD's Hollenbeck area. During the homicide investigation, LAPD homicide detectives identified one of the suspects as Frank Eric Martinez, a 27-year-old Hispanic male, who was a member of the State Street Boys gang, a violent Hispanic gang in East Los Angeles. The two victims were identified as leaders in the same gang. Martinez was charged with two counts of murder for the double homicide.

At the request of LAPD's Hollenbeck Division, the FBI/LAPD Gang and Narcotics Division FTF attempted to locate Martinez. Utilizing a court ordered [redacted] in the area of [redacted] in La Mirada, a suburb situated southeast of Los Angeles. Further investigation by the FTF determined Martinez had associates at [redacted] On February 29, 2012, the FTF developed a plan to conduct surveillance the following morning to determine if Martinez was hiding at the [redacted] residence.

At approximately 7:00 a.m., the FTF proceeded to the area of [redacted] and commenced surveillance. SA [redacted] was carrying a Springfield 1911, .45-caliber pistol in his holster, and he stowed his Glock 22, .40-caliber pistol next to the driver's seat of his FBI vehicle, a black Sport Utility Vehicle, to access the weapon more quickly when seated on a stationary surveillance. SA [redacted] placed his blue ballistic vest with the word "POLICE" across the front, on his front passenger seat, and also placed his loaded 5.56 x 45mm caliber Colt, M-4A1 rifle, serial number [redacted] on the front passenger seat. SA [redacted] stated his decision to not wear his ballistic vest during the initial surveillance was an effort to conceal his status as a law enforcement officer. SA [redacted] parked his vehicle on the north curb line of [redacted] facing west. He was positioned east and out of view of the target residence. TFO [redacted] was parked at the southeast corner of [redacted] and had the primary view of the residence. SA [redacted] placed a sun screen over his windshield, turned off the vehicle, and listened to radio traffic. SA [redacted] communicated with members of the task force on a Sprint-Nextel telephone and his FBI radio. TFO [redacted] and Officer [redacted] coordinated with officers from the CCD containment team. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

At approximately 7:30 a.m., Detective [redacted] observed a [redacted] male drive away from [redacted] in a [redacted] accompanied by [redacted] male. Officer [redacted] followed the vehicle to a nearby business, [redacted] located at [redacted] At approximately 7:50 a.m., CCD personnel were requested to [redacted] CCD Officers [redacted] responded and [redacted] and Officers [redacted] and Detective [redacted] Officers learned [redacted] years of age, was driving the vehicle and had dropped off [redacted] years of age, at [redacted] and Officer [redacted] interviewed him. [redacted] stated [redacted] residence. [redacted] years of age, [redacted] departed the residence a short time later [redacted] Martinez was at the residence. b6 -2,4 b7C -2,4 b7E -1

At approximately 8:12 a.m., part of the CCD team moved to [redacted] near the [redacted] residence. With confirmation Martinez was within the [redacted] residence, a planned change of tactical command was made from Detective [redacted] of the FTF to Detective [redacted] of Hollenbeck Division (Homicide), and LAPD [redacted] was requested. The CCD waited for the requested LAPD [redacted] before continuing with the operation. TFO [redacted] directed the FTF surveillance team to tighten up their coverage. At this time, SA [redacted] put on his ballistic vest with the word "POLICE" across the front, and repositioned his vehicle forward, closer to the corner near the [redacted] residence. b6 -1,2,4 b7C -1,2,4 b7E -1,6

At around 8:15 a.m., the LAPD [redacted] announced on the radio it was seconds away. At approximately 8:20 a.m., Detective II [redacted] arrived at the staging location to relieve Detective [redacted] who left the location to respond to the LAPD Police Administration Building. The CCD team put on tactical gear and proceeded to the residence to execute the plan to surround the residence and call-out Martinez. SA [redacted] arrive and move into a [redacted] TFO [redacted] told SA [redacted] he (SA [redacted] would be responsible for the north side perimeter and TFO [redacted] would take the south side perimeter. TFO [redacted] broadcasted on the radio the CCD officers were approaching the residence to execute the surround and call-out. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 b7E -1,6

SA [redacted] waited until the CCD officers passed his location, then drove his vehicle to the west curb line of [redacted] and parked facing west towards the northern side of the target residence. SA [redacted] had containment responsibility for the north side of the residence. SA [redacted] saw one marked and one unmarked CCD police cars approach the residence, and each parked on the south side of the residence, facing east toward the front of the target residence. SA [redacted] activated his emergency lights, grabbed his M-4 rifle, and exited the vehicle. SA [redacted] stood in front of his vehicle and watched the north side of the target location. As SA [redacted] 's b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2 view was obscured by heavy vegetation, he repositioned several yards north and west of his vehicle. SA [redacted] was carrying his M-4 slung across his chest. b6 -1 b7C -1

A female, later identified as [redacted] years of age, exited the residence and was quickly escorted clear of the area by the LAPD. Soon after, another female, later identified as [redacted] years of age, departed the residence and was also escorted clear. Martinez was thereafter observed looking over/through a fence at the officers. The CCD officers shouted at Martinez, "Police, Stop." SA [redacted] observed Martinez climb onto the roof of the residence immediately north of the target residence. SA [redacted] recognized Martinez based on photographs he saw earlier in the day. SA [redacted] gave Martinez commands to stop, and identified himself. SA [redacted] observed Martinez move northwest across the roof away from his location. SA [redacted] yelled to other officers to indicate Martinez was on the roof. SA [redacted] ran around the northeast corner of [redacted] and continued running west across the yard at [redacted]. SA [redacted] saw SA [redacted] move from north to south across [redacted] and point his weapon up in the direction of Martinez. SA [redacted] heard SA [redacted] give commands to Martinez to put his hands up. SA [redacted] also gave commands to Martinez to put his hands up. Martinez had moved onto the roof of the garage west of the residence at [redacted] The pitched garage roof of the [redacted] residence was a separate structure with a connecting partial cover over the adjoining courtyard between the residence and garage. b6 -1,2,4 b7C -1,2,4

SA [redacted] saw SA [redacted] move to a position on the west side of the garage, so SA [redacted] moved to a position on the east side of the garage. Three CCD Officers, [redacted] positioned themselves outside a wall located at the northern edge of the courtyard, which provided the officers a clear view of the garage roof, and of Martinez. SA [redacted] moved down the driveway and encountered a wooden gate leading to an area with access to the east side of the garage. SA [redacted] kicked the gate open and moved through it into the small courtyard in order to provide coverage on the east side of the garage. The courtyard had a narrow passage between the house and the garage, which led to a pool in the backyard. SA [redacted] took a position in the courtyard and pointed his M-4 towards the roof of the garage. Martinez was on the west side of the garage roof and moved back and forth across the pitched roof. SA [redacted] and the TFOs along the wall continued to yell at Martinez to stop and put his hands up. b6 -1,2,4 b7C -1,2,4

Martinez had his right hand tucked inside his pants. SA [redacted] and the three CCD officers along the wall ([redacted]) all reported Martinez appeared to be holding something heavy, and all said they observed a bulge in his pants where his right hand was concealed. Martinez was told multiple times by the officers, in English and Spanish, to put his hands up. Martinez used his left hand to make a call with his cellular telephone. His right hand remained tucked inside his pants. SA [redacted] believed he (SA [redacted]) was exposed and without sufficient cover, and moved to the northwest corner of the residence at [redacted] SA [redacted] could hear Martinez on his telephone say, "Hey baby, I'm calling to say goodbye, I'm just calling to say goodbye." SA [redacted] told Martinez, "Don't do that. Come down; let's talk about it. Just come down and talk to me." b6 -1,2,4 b7C -1,2,4

During the encounter, SA [redacted] opened the door to the residence at [redacted] and yelled "police" to notify any occupants of his presence. SA [redacted] opened the door in order to have somewhere to go for better cover and concealment because he would have neither if Martinez moved to the northern edge of the garage roof. SA [redacted] who was positioned approximately 19 feet from the suspect, lowered his weapon slightly while attempting to engage Martinez in dialogue, telling Martinez to come down from the roof and talk. Martinez looked at SA [redacted] and said, "Fuck you, I'm not talking to you." b6 -1,2 b7C -1,2

Noting Martinez was not complying with instructions, SA [redacted] used his radio to request a bean-bag shotgun from his LAPD FTF counterparts. Officer [redacted] moved from the back yard of [redacted] to his vehicle, where he retrieved a bean-bag shotgun and handed it to Detective [redacted] Detective [redacted] moved from the car towards the garage where Martinez was pacing on the roof. b6 -1,2,4 b7C -1,2,4

Martinez tried to make a second telephone call, which SA [redacted] believed was unsuccessful. Martinez appeared agitated and continued to yell profanities at the officers. As Detective [redacted] approached the garage with the shotgun and bean-bag rounds, Martinez swung his body around and quickly moved the right side of his body in the direction of SA [redacted] The bulge evident in Martinez' pants where his right hand was concealed was thrust outward toward SA [redacted] SA [redacted] heard a single gunshot and believed Martinez had just shot at him. Fearing for his life, SA [redacted] fired his assigned Colt M-4 rifle multiple times at Martinez. Officers [redacted] positioned to the rear of SA [redacted] behind a cinderblock wall, also responded to Martinez' actions and fired their service weapons at Martinez. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

A 06/26/2013 officer-involved shooting report of the Office of the Inspector General, Board of Police Commissioners, City of Los Angeles, included statements from LAPD interviews of Officers [redacted] (the INSD Shooting Incident Review Team did not interview the three officers). According to the statements, Officers [redacted] also observed Martinez with his right hand inside his pants. The three officers stated they perceived Martinez was concealing a weapon, and each of the three officers heard the sound of a gunshot as Martinez thrust his right leg forward in the direction of the Agent and officers. Each officer reported Martinez' actions caused them to be in fear for their life, and all three fired their pistols. b6 -4 b7C -4

Martinez subsequently fell onto the roof and continued to move with his right hand out of view of SA [redacted] and the three LAPD officers. The Agent and officers advised they continued to fire until Martinez' movements stopped and he no longer posed a threat. Martinez was struck multiple times and died at the location. As reflected in the medical reports section below, Martinez was struck 18 times. b6 -1 b7C -1

A video recording of the incident was made by an unidentified citizen and broadcast on television station KNBC, Los Angeles. The recording showed Martinez on the garage roof and the LAPD officers at ground level, pointing their weapons at Martinez. The poor quality recording captures portions of the shooting incident. A second recording made by a neighbor, [redacted] showed Martinez walking on the garage roof with his right hand inside the b6 -8 b7C -8 waistband area of his pants. The second recording showed Martinez move out of sight, followed by the sound of gunfire. The recordings were generally consistent with the accounts of SA [redacted] and Officers [redacted] but the poor quality provided limited details. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

Following the shooting, officers cautiously entered the courtyard area next to the garage. TFO [redacted] assumed SA [redacted]'s position covering the subject, and SA [redacted] looked around his area in an attempt to locate the impact mark from the round he believed Martinez fired at him. No gun was found on Martinez' person. No evidence of a shot fired by Martinez was found by SA [redacted] or the LAPD personnel who processed the scene. The LAPD led the subsequent crime scene investigation, assisted by FBI LA ERT. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

As noted in the FBI Laboratory Report section below, it was determined the cellular telephone in Martinez' possession at the time of the shooting contained the Android-based telephone application "Russian Roulette," capable of generating simulated gunshot sounds.

B. Shooting Incident Review Protocol

All members of the Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) reviewed the FBI produced videotape entitled, "The Rain After the Storm - Shooting Incident Investigations."

On 03/01/2012, IIC Ravenelle communicated with LAFO ASAC [redacted] to arrange logistics for the SIRT. The SIRT traveled to Los Angeles on 03/01/2012 and arrived during the late evening hours. On 03/02/2012, IIC Ravenelle met with LAFO ADIC Martinez to discuss INSD SIRT shooting incident protocols. IIC Ravenelle was informed the LAPD was conducting a parallel investigation and would provide copies of their reports to the SIRT. ADIC Martinez was advised signed sworn statements and FD-302s taken by the SIRT would be provided to the LAPD for inclusion in their investigative file.

On 03/02/2012, IIC Ravenelle met with all SIRT personnel and explained INSD SIRT procedures. The SIRT met with members of the LAFO West Covina RA, which was assigned to investigate the assault on a federal officer case initiated in response to the shooting incident. IIC Ravenelle introduced members of the SIRT and outlined the SIRT protocols. There was an opportunity for dialogue prior to start of the investigation. The SIRT subsequently visited the scene of the shooting, and met with LAPD's Force Investigation Division to discuss investigative activity conducted and to coordinate the investigation.

During the SIRT investigation, one Signed Sworn Statement (SSS) was taken from the FBI Agent who discharged his weapon, SA [redacted] who was represented by attorney [redacted] [redacted] Federal Law Enforcement Officers Association. Other interviews and investigative results were documented via FD-302s. Other FBI personnel, who participated in the surveillance and arrest operation but were not directly involved in the shooting, were allowed to read the FD-302 documenting their interview and confirmed the accuracy of the information provided. The SSS and interviews of witnesses were conducted voluntarily. An FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident) was executed by SA [redacted]

D. Firearms Training

A review of LAFO training records for SA [redacted] revealed he was in compliance with firearms qualification requirements. b6 -1 b7C -1

E. Deadly Force Training

The Office of Division Counsel for the LAFO provided quarterly legal training to Agents during eleven training sessions conducted in October and November 2011. During each of these sessions, training was provided on the Deadly Force Policy. The legal training sign-in sheet for 10/18/2011 included the signature of SA [redacted] Additionally, SA [redacted] was provided the Deadly Force Policy during a meeting called by ASAC [redacted] on 02/23/2012, and again on 03/01/2012, when the Deadly Force Policy was briefed to participants of the operation. b6 -1 b7C -1

F. Use of Body Armor and Law Enforcement Identifiers

SA [redacted] wore FBI SWAT-issued tactical clothing, including body armor, with the word "POLICE" clearly visible across the front of his clothing. b6 -1 b7C -1

G. FBI Indices and National Crime Information Center (NCIC)

On March 4, 2012, [redacted] Center Operations Specialist, LAFO, conducted record checks of the California and National Crime Information Center (NCIC) for Frank Eric Martinez (deceased), date of birth December 22, 1984, FBI number 366740VB9. Martinez' criminal history documented four instances where Martinez was armed when arrested, one instance in which he evaded law enforcement, and one violent felony. The criminal history included the following information: b6 -1 b7C -1

On December 31, 2001, at age 17, Martinez was arrested for possession of a controlled substance.

On May 18, 2003, at age 18, Martinez was arrested for possession of a controlled substance while armed. Martinez was convicted of possession of a controlled substance and possession of a loaded firearm. Martinez was sentenced to 36 months probation and 180 days jail.

On October 27, 2003, at age 18, Martinez was arrested for false imprisonment. Martinez was convicted of false imprisonment, felon in possession of a loaded firearm, and possession of a controlled substance for sale, and sentenced to six years in prison.

On November 17, 2006, at age 21, Martinez was arrested for possession of a controlled substance for sale, and a violation of parole. He was convicted of felon in possession of a firearm, and sentenced to two years in prison.

On August 14, 2008, at age 23, Martinez was arrested for evading a peace officer and possession of a firearm with a prior violent felony conviction. Martinez was sentenced to two years in prison.

On August 26, 2010, at age 25, Martinez was arrested for possession of a controlled substance and violation of parole. Martinez was sentenced to two years in prison.

In addition, the CALGANG database record for Martinez listed him as a documented member of the State Street Boys street gang with the moniker "Toker." The State Street Boys gang was a violent Hispanic street gang based in East Los Angeles.

On March 4, 2012, [redacted] LAFO Center Operations Specialist, LAFO, provided information obtained from [redacted] Parole Agent I, Gang Global Positioning System Agent, California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (CDC), regarding a CDC record for Frank Eric Martinez, date of birth December 22, 1984, CDC number V37978. Robles indicated Martinez' record showed a social security account number of 551-83-0631, Criminal Identification Information number A22684072, and California Driver's License number D3190207. Martinez had a special condition of parole not to have contact with any known or unknown gang members. Martinez had been wanted as a parolee-at-large based on a warrant issued on December 12, 2011.

H. ERT Report

The LAPD processed the scene. LAPD evidentiary findings were included in the Force Investigation Division, F011-12, Officer-Involved Shooting Investigation Report, which is attached to this report as Appendix 1.

I. FBI Laboratory Report

[redacted] b3 -3

The Operational Technology Division, Cryptologic and Electronic Analysis Unit's analysis of Martinez' cellular telephone revealed a total of 115 applications installed, downloaded/cancelled, or uninstalled. One of the applications was the "Russian Roulette" Android-based telephone application developed by Selafiel. This application simulated the sound of a gunshot when played. The application was installed in the telephone on January 12, 2012. Laboratory analysis could not determine if the application was accessed or running at the time of the arrest operation.

The LAPD conducted firearms testing and magazine cartridge counts for the four weapons fired by the law enforcement officers. Each weapon was found to function as designed. Investigation and analysis indicated SA [redacted] fired 22 rounds from his 5.56 x 45 mm caliber Colt, Model M4A1 semiautomatic/full-automatic rifle; Officer [redacted] fired eight rounds from his Smith & Wesson, .45 caliber semiautomatic pistol, Model 4506; Officer [redacted] fired 18 rounds from his Glock, .45 caliber semiautomatic pistol, Model 21; and Officer [redacted] fired nine rounds from his Smith & Wesson, .45 caliber semiautomatic pistol, Model 4506. All counts were based upon each weapon being fully loaded prior to the incident, as indicated by each of the involved officers/Agent. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

Casings recovered from the scene included 22 casings matched to SA [redacted] 's 5.56 x 45 mm caliber Colt, seven casings matched to Officer [redacted] Smith & Wesson .45 caliber pistol, 18 casings matched to Officer [redacted] Glock .45 caliber pistol, and eight casings matched to Officer [redacted] 's Smith & Wesson .45 caliber pistol. Shot calculations for SA [redacted] and Officer [redacted] were equal to the number of casings matched to their weapons. Casings matching the weapons of Officer [redacted] and Officer [redacted] were one less than the LAPD estimated shot counts. The discrepancy could be attributed to casings not being recovered at the scene, or to the officers' weapons not being loaded to capacity before the incident. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

J. Medical Reports

On March 4, 2012, Dr. [redacted] Deputy Medical Examiner for the Los Angeles County Coroner's Office, conducted the autopsy of Martinez. Initial information from the autopsy indicated Martinez was hit 18 times, with ten rounds being fatal. Of the 11 rounds recovered from Martinez' body, ten were .223 caliber and one was .45 caliber. The Medical Examiner categorized the gunshot wounds as follows: b6 -4 b7C -4

|---|---|
| Total gunshot wounds | 18 |
| Fatal shots | 10 |
| Non-fatal shots | 8 |
| Bullets recovered | 11 (ten .223 and one .45) |
| | |
| Wound locations: | |
| | |
| Head | 3 shots (2 fatal, 1 non-fatal graze) |
| Right Upper Arm | 1 upper arm (non-fatal shot) |
| Right Lower Arm | 2 lower arm (non-fatal shots) |
| Chest and abdomen | 7 (fatal shots) |
| Abdomen | 1 (non-fatal shot) |
| Right buttock/flank | 2 (non-fatal shots) |
| Right thigh | 2 (non-fatal shots) |

The majority of rounds entered Martinez' body from an angle consistent with a trajectory from below and to the right of Martinez. According to Dr. [redacted]s evaluation, Martinez would not have survived his injuries even had medical attention been provided immediately after the shooting incident. The amount of internal trauma to the lungs and vital organs would have caused death within seconds, and the bullet wound to the left side of Martinez' head resulted in an "instant kill." The initial cause of death was reported as "Multiple Gunshot Wounds." b6 -4 b7C -4

K. Declination by the Civil Rights Division

Upon completion of the on-site inquiry, IIC Ravenelle coordinated SIRT investigative findings with [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division. On August 27, 2013, Special Legal Counsel [redacted] notified Inspector Twersky the United States Department of Justice (DOJ) declined prosecution of SA [redacted] and the LAPD officers for their actions during the shooting incident on March 1, 2012. This declination represented the prosecutive decision of the DOJ Civil Rights Division and the United States Attorney's Office for the Central District of California. This decision was memorialized in the September 30, 2013 DOJ Civil Rights Division Notice to Close File located in Appendix C. b6 -1,3 b7C -1,3

L. Local Prosecutive Opinion

Upon completion of the on-site inquiry, IIC Ravenelle coordinated SIRT investigative findings with the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office. On February 13, 2013, [redacted] Deputy District Attorney, Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office provided a letter advising the District Attorney's Office declined to prosecute SA [redacted] and the LAPD officers for their actions during the shooting incident on March 1, 2012. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

Synopsis: (U) The Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) reviewed a shooting incident that occurred on 04/26/2012, involving Special Agent (SA) [redacted] of the San Juan Division. While walking toward a bank, SA [redacted] observed a masked male hitting a bank customer on the head with a handgun. SA [redacted] fired five rounds from his Bureau-issued Glock Model 22, .40 caliber pistol injuring the subject. SIRG members recommended that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. One Observation and associated Instruction was adopted by the SIRG for the San Juan Division. b6 -1 b7C -1

Administrative Notes: (U) Reference report of Inspector Robert J. Shields, Jr., dated 07/05/2012.

Details:

This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the SIRG with reference to the captioned shooting.

Details of the Shooting Incident

On 04/26/2012, at approximately 11:30 a.m., SA [redacted] was walking toward the Banco Popular Bank to make an ATM withdrawal. As he approached the bank, SA [redacted] observed a masked male, later b6 -1 b7C -1 identified as [redacted] attacking a bank customer. SA [redacted] saw the subject possessed a handgun and was repeatedly hitting the victim in the head with the weapon. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

SA [redacted] positioned himself behind a parked [redacted] by [redacted] SA [redacted] removed his firearm, took aim at [redacted] and shouted "FBI." [redacted] turned toward SA [redacted] while holding the handgun. Fearing for his life, SA [redacted] fired one round at the subject. [redacted] ran toward a [redacted] parked in front of the bank and fired one round at SA [redacted] as he reached the vehicle. SA [redacted] fired four additional rounds at [redacted] as he entered the getaway car. The getaway car, driven by an individual later identified as [redacted] sped from the scene and crashed into the front driver's side area of the [redacted] [redacted] exited his [redacted] after the crash and was run over by the getaway car as it became dislodged from the [redacted] and accelerated. b6 -1,5,7 b7C -1,5,7

SA [redacted] followed the getaway car on foot, obtained the license plate number, and contacted the San Juan office to advise he was involved in a shooting. He requested the receptionist contact A/SSA [redacted] and send assistance to the scene. SA [redacted] call was subsequently transferred to the radio room and he advised of the shooting and requested that the local police be notified and respond to the scene. He also provided the license plate number of the getaway vehicle and requested an NCIC check. b6 -1 b7C -1

SA [redacted] rendered aid to [redacted] and subsequently entered the bank to ensure the safety of everyone inside. b6 -1,5 b7C -1,5

The [redacted] was located a mile alway in the Rio Hondo 4 neighborhood. Two residents provided San Juan investigators recordings from their residential security cameras at the time the [redacted] was abandoned. The first resident's camera captured the [redacted] parking across the street from the resident's house. ## Observations and Recommendations of the SIRG

The SIRG reviewed the above synopsized incident with the intent to: (1) evaluate the application of deadly force; (2) provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint (if any); (3) provide recommendations concerning training and/or safety issues; and (4) provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary.

SIRG members unanimously agreed that the use of deadly force employed by SA [redacted] Agent was justified and in conformance with the

b7C -1

FBI's Deadly Force Policy. This discussion resulted in the recommendation that no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 -1 b7C -1

SIRG members unanimously adopted the following observation and instruction of the Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT):

INSPECTOR'S OBSERVATION

Observation #1: The shooting response plan was not activated by the San Juan Radio Room.

On 04/30/2012, the SIRT reviewed the San Juan Crisis Response Plan, Section XIII, Annex 5, Tab A detailing the response protocol for the Radio Dispatch Room.

Analysis: The San Juan Radio Dispatcher had responsibilities to: gather information about the shooting; support the Agent involved; dispatch emergency medical assistance; and if tactical, dispatch backup units; and immediately notify specified field office personnel. The radio dispatcher was to support the Agent involved by providing additional information as it became available, pending the arrival of additional FBI personnel at the scene and, advise/remind the Agent of the Agent's responsibilities as they pertain to an Agent involved shooting incident. In addition, the radio dispatcher was to dispatch emergency medical assistance, such as ambulance or EMS, and additional backup units if the situation was still tactical.

The SIRT determined the San Juan Radio Room Dispatcher did not make any notifications regarding the shooting incident.

Instruction #1: SAC, San Juan will ensure the San Juan Radio Room personnel are appropriately trained to activate the Crisis Response Plan when an Agent Involved Shooting occurs.

PROCEDURES FOR RESPONDING TO THE INSTRUCTIONS/RECOMMENDATIONS

The Inspection Division (INSD), Inspection Management Unit (IMU) is responsible for ensuring that each Inspection Instruction/ Recommendation is satisfactorily resolved. IMU maintains an Inspection Instructions/Recommendations database and provides the INSD Assistant Director (AD) a quarterly report reflecting all outstanding Instructions/Recommendations. The inspection process is not complete until all Instructions/Recommendations have been satisfactorily resolved.

IMU will provide all responses to the Inspector-in-Charge (IIC), who will determine if each Instruction/Recommendation has been resolved or requires further action. Resolution will be based upon specific actions taken rather than a recitation of what actions the division has under consideration or plans to take in the future. If the IIC determines an Instruction/Recommendation has not been resolved, an EC will be forwarded requesting further action or clarification. Upon resolution, all Instructions/Recommendations will be appropriately noted in the database.

SAC, San Juan is required to provide detailed responses addressing the Instruction in this EC, pages 4 and 5, including corrective actions taken and/or intended actions with time frames for completion. Each Observation which results in an Instruction/Recommendation must be responded to in a one-page, stand-alone response. The Observation and related Instruction is to be recited verbatim from the inspection EC, followed by the field office's detailed response. If supporting documentation is available, it should be enclosed with each response.

All initial and follow-up responses must be sent to the IMU on plain bond paper as enclosures to a transmittal EC, directed to Unit Chief [redacted] Inspection Division, Inspection Management Unit, Room [redacted] In addition, after the EC is serialized with the attached responses, please E-mail the Sentinel link to MPA [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

Re: Special Agent [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

Dear Special Agent Piro:

You should please accept this letter as the State Attorney's finding that Special Agent [redacted] s use of deadly force on July 31, 2012 in Miami Dade County, Florida, was legally justified pursuant to Section 776.012, Florida Statutes, which permits the use of deadly force when a person reasonably believes such force is necessary to prevent imminent death or great bodily harm to himself or prevent the commission of a forcible felony.

Ordinarily, our established procedure in these types of matters concludes upon the issuance of a formal police shooting close-out memorandum. In this case, in order to facilitate the prosecution of the surviving subject [redacted] we proceeded with the issuance of subpoenas to the involved shooting law enforcement officers, including Special Agent [redacted] We conferred immunity on all involved shooting officers. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

A formal memorandum will be generated regarding the incident of July 31, 2012. When that memorandum is completed, a copy will be forwarded by the State Attorney to you as the employing agency head for Special Agent [redacted]

As we have provided most if not all of the investigative reports in this case to counsel for Mr. [redacted] in accords with our state discovery rules of procedure, then these papers are now part of the public record. As a courtesy to your agency, a complete copy of the investigative file has been prepared and is available to you.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Synopsis:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 07/31/2012, at approximately 6:45 p.m., an Agent-involved shooting occurred in the front yard of [redacted] Miami, Florida. The Agent involved, SA [redacted] was assigned to the High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area (HIDTA) Task Force, Squad C-13. SA [redacted] was involved in a static surveillance of a suspected "Grow House" with four Miami Dade County police officers. All the officers were FBI TFOs assigned to Squad C-13. While approaching a male who was observed coming out of the front door of the residence, SA [redacted] and the TFOs were fired upon by a subject later identified as Gerardo Delgado, who exited a vehicle parked in the driveway of the residence. TFO [redacted] was struck three times and received injuries to his lower torso and pelvic area. SA [redacted] and the TFOs returned fire striking Delgado four times in the torso and once in the head. Delgado expired as a result of his wounds. TFO [redacted] was operated on and fully recovered. b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) Details:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 07/31/2012, at approximately 6:45 p.m., a static surveillance was conducted by FBI SA [redacted] and four TFOs from the Miami Dade Police Department. These TFOs were Sergeant [redacted] Detective [redacted] Detective [redacted] and Detective [redacted] All four TFOs and SA [redacted] were assigned to an FBI-lead HIDTA Task Force, Squad C-13. The team was reacting to a tip a marijuana "Grow House" was operated at [redacted] Miami, FL. The surveillance was in support of [redacted]. The residence was located in a lower middle-class neighborhood of Miami, not known for this type of activity. b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7 b7A -1

NYT-671

(U//~~FOUO~~) All five team members were in individual vehicles positioned in the area of [redacted] TFO [redacted] was observing the rear of the residence from one block east. The residence was a one story single family structure facing west. A driveway was located on the north and south sides of the property and connected by a concrete pad. A large [redacted] tree was located in the front yard of the house. A [redacted] with Florida license plate [redacted] and a [redacted] with Florida license plate [redacted] were parked in the north driveway. A [redacted] with Florida license plate [redacted] was parked in the south driveway. b6 -4,7 b7C -4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) A security video system, with audio, located inside of the residence, captured the event through two cameras, one located on the porch of the home facing west and the other on the northeast corner of the home facing west southwest, effectively covering the front yard where the incident occurred. The system was recovered during the execution of a search warrant at the residence. Subsequently, a separate search warrant was obtained to recover audio and video data from the security system.

(U//~~FOUO~~) TFO [redacted] was parked across the street from the residence with the "eye" on the location. His vehicle was parked in a nearby driveway facing away from the residence. An individual, later identified as Gerardo Delgado, male, Hispanic, DOB 12/08/1955, wearing a blue and white flannel shirt, jeans, and hat exited the residence at [redacted] and stood on the porch. TFO [redacted] notified other TFOs and SA [redacted] to move towards the residence to make contact with the individual. TFO [redacted] then backed his vehicle onto the street before exiting it, blocking the south side driveway. Delgado, unobserved, exited the porch, moved a short distance to the [redacted] and entered the vehicle. Almost simultaneously, an individual, later identified as [redacted], exited the home and stood on the porch. [redacted] was wearing similar clothes and resembled Delgado. b6 -4,7 b7C -4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) TFO [redacted] rounded the high fence on the south side of [redacted] [redacted] and was the first to enter the yard. He did not see Delgado enter the [redacted] TFO [redacted] focused on [redacted] who was on the front porch. He approached the porch attempting to engage [redacted] in conversation. TFO [redacted] approached the [redacted] but moved away to support TFO [redacted] because [redacted] began moving towards the north side of the yard in a non-compliant manner. SA [redacted] moved towards the confrontation in the yard, west of the tree. b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) As TFO [redacted], TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] moved towards [redacted] the driver's-side door of the [redacted] opened; Delgado exited, and immediately pointed a Colt, MK-4 Government Model .380 caliber semi-automatic handgun (Serial GMU-298) at SA [redacted] As the door opened, TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] immediately turned towards the car, reacted to the weapon, and drew their handguns. Both gave a verbal command and then fired multiple times at Delgado. Delgado was struck multiple times in the chest and subsequently moved north to the large tree in the center of the yard for cover. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] moved backwards, westbound, while engaging Delgado. Delgado fired multiple times at TFO [redacted] as TFO [redacted] moved northeast towards the house and the parked [redacted] in the driveway, while continuing to engage Delgado at a distance of approximately four yards.

(U//~~FOUO~~) TFO [redacted] was struck three times, stumbled, and moved around the [redacted] truck for cover. [redacted] grabbed TFO [redacted] behind the [redacted] punched and kicked him several times, and TFO [redacted] dropped his weapon defending himself. After a significant struggle with [redacted] TFO [redacted] escaped westbound down the driveway after the shooting ended. TFO [redacted] fell to the ground behind TFO [redacted] s truck and was given medical assistance by responding officers. He had two "through and through" wounds, one to his left upper thigh and another to his right pelvis. The third shot possibly struck the lower part of his vest and redirected into his body, damaging his spleen and lower intestines. He was airlifted to Jackson Memorial Hospital for surgery.

b6 -4,7
b7C -4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) TFO [redacted] pulled up in his truck facing south and blocking the north side driveway. He exited his vehicle and took a position of cover behind it. SA [redacted] moved behind TFO [redacted] s truck. TFO [redacted] engaged Delgado while moving westbound to join SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] behind TFO [redacted] s truck. TFO [redacted] fired from behind the truck and struck Delgado once in the right upper cheek area with a deflected shot off of the tree Delgado was utilizing for cover. Delgado fell to the ground, dropped his weapon within reach, and remained there until the time he was removed for medical attention. Delgado continued to make noises and periodic body movements the entire time he was on the ground.

b6 -1,4
b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) No immediate approach was made to Delgado or the house due to the unknown potential dangers within the residence. [redacted] was not cooperating and was hiding near the location of TFO [redacted] s weapon. Delgado was eventually removed tactically by several uniformed officers who arrived on the scene after the shooting had ceased.

b6 -4,7
b7C -4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] who had moved during the incident to the northeast corner of the house, could be heard talking to a 911 operator on the video. Once marked units arrived on the scene, [redacted] complied with commands and surrendered by moving to the street. Commands to both [redacted] and Delgado were given in English and Spanish.

(U//~~FOUO~~) TFO [redacted] was covering the rear of the residence and was not involved in the shooting.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] fired his duty weapon, a Glock 23, seven times. TFO [redacted] fired his duty weapon, a Glock 17, 10 or 11 times. TFO [redacted] fired once with his Glock 17 duty weapon. TFO [redacted] fired his duty weapon, a Glock 17, four times. Subject Delgado fired four times with a .380 Colt semi-automatic pistol. He experienced a stove-piped jam on his fourth shot. The casing remained in the stove pipe position when the weapon was dropped.

b6 -1,4
b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] was wearing a ballistic vest marked "FBI." TFOs [redacted] were wearing ballistic vests marked "POLICE."

NYT-673

(U//~~FOUO~~) Delgado expired from his wounds at Kendall Regional Hospital at approximately 7:39 p.m.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Metro-Dade Police Department TFOs involved in the shooting incident gave statements and were represented by Metro-Dade Police Department PBA attorneys. SA [redacted] was represented by FLEOLA during his Signed Sworn Statement given on 08/04/2012. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] was interviewed by the Metro-Dade Police Department on the night of 07/31/2012. He stated he was not sure if they [HIDTA Task Force members] were cops or if it was a rip-off. [redacted] was charged with the following violations of the Florida Penal Code:

Second Degree Felony Murder - 782.04(2) (a)
Trafficking marijuana over 25 lbs. - 893.135
Possession of a place used to manufacture controlled substance - 893.135(1)(2)
Possession of Cocaine .5 grams - 893.13

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Metro-Dade Police Department processed the scene. FBI Miami ERT was not involved. As of the date of this report, it is unknown whether spherical photography was completed by the Metro-Dade Police Department.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The autopsy of subject Delgado occurred 08/02/2012, and the results were pending as of the date of this report.

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] and Delgado were known to be involved in the jewelry business in the area. b6 -7 b7C -7

Re: INSD # 297-HQ-A1271285-D

Dear Inspector Stroud,

This letter is to confirm that the Professional Standards Unit of the Cook County (IL) State's Attorney's Office reviewed this case – the non-fatal shooting of [redacted] by Special Agent [redacted] that occurred on March 25, 2013, in Chicago. We have concluded that no conduct of SA [redacted] in this incident gives rise to charge him with any state criminal offense.

Case ID #: 297-HQ-A1271285-D (U) SHOOTING INCIDENTS

Synopsis: (U) This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) with respect to the captioned shooting following the SIRG meeting held on 02/21/2014.

Administrative Notes: (U) This communication summarizes the Inspection Division's (INSD) Shooting Incident Report, dated 04/12/2013, prepared by Inspector-in-Charge Shawn W. Stroud.

Enclosure(s): Enclosed are the following items:
1. (U) Chicago SIRT Report dated 0/25/2013

Details:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/25/2013, at approximately 12:30 p.m., three Chicago Field Office Agents, [redacted] while going to lunch and looking for a place to park at a parking lot located at 1220 South Ashland Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, noticed an individual kneeling near a sport utility vehicle. When the individual got into b6 -1 b7C -1 the driver's side of an adjacent [redacted] (herein referred to as sedan), repositioned it to the other side of the sport utility vehicle and got out, SAs [redacted] determined the individual was stealing hubcaps. SA [redacted] was driving and did not see what the individual was doing. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] parked the Bureau vehicle and SAs [redacted] immediately got out and approached the sedan. Upon seeing the Agents approach, the individual stealing the hubcaps got back into the sedan. The sedan had three occupants, who were later identified as driver [redacted] front passenger [redacted], and rear passenger [redacted] SAs [redacted] wanted to get the license plate of the sedan, identify the occupants, and then call the police. SA [redacted] positioned himself near the front passenger window of the sedan and SA [redacted] was near the back passenger window. SA [redacted] identified himself as law enforcement. SA [redacted] used his Blackberry and took a photograph of the two men while SA [redacted] issued commands to the occupants to turn off the engine and get out of the vehicle. The occupants of the sedan did not follow SA [redacted]'s directions. SA [redacted] who had gotten out of his Bureau vehicle, but lagged behind SAs [redacted] had returned to his car and repositioned it to the row near where the sedan was parked, a short distance away from the sedan. SA [redacted] stated he could clearly hear SAs [redacted] identify themselves as law enforcement officers and direct the occupants of the sedan to stop. SA [redacted] subsequently activated his vehicle emergency lights. b6 -1,7,9 b7C -1,7,9

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] who was driving, appeared very fidgety to SAs [redacted] and [redacted] put the vehicle in reverse and abruptly backed the sedan out of the parking space into the driving lane. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] moved out of the way to avoid being struck by the sedan. SA [redacted] felt the situation had escalated and drew his service weapon. SA [redacted] exited his car and remained near the driver side door. Suddenly, the sedan lurched forward and to the left nearly hitting SA [redacted] again. The sedan stopped briefly, and then it swerved to the right, towards SA [redacted] At this point, SA [redacted] perceived the b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7 direction of travel of the sedan as a direct threat to his safety and he commanded the sedan to stop. Subsequently, the sedan struck the left front bumper area of the BUCAR. As the sedan careened past the front driver side of the BUCAR, it was close enough for SA [redacted] to fear the sedan would hit him. SA [redacted] believed himself to be in imminent danger and indicated he made this determination based on the following: (1) he did not see the incident which prompted SAs [redacted] and [redacted] to initially approach the individual, but he did see SAs [redacted] and [redacted] confront the occupants of the sedan, identify themselves as FBI Agents, and start issuing commands; (2) he was unable to see the hands, gestures, or actions of the occupants of the sedan; (3) the sedan nearly struck SA [redacted] on two occasions; (4) one of his partners, who he worked with on a daily basis, perceived enough of a threat to draw his weapon; (5) the sedan had struck his BUCAR in an attempt to flee law enforcement, after all law enforcement personnel present identified themselves as such, orally and by activating emergency lights on [redacted] s BUCAR, and were issuing commands to stop; and (6) [redacted] was in a position where he could turn the wheel of the sedan and crush SA [redacted] between the sedan and BUCAR. Since SA [redacted] felt in imminent fear for his life, he drew his handgun, a Glock 23, identified himself as an FBI Agent, and raised his left hand while issuing verbal commands to stop. When [redacted] failed to comply with the commands to stop, SA [redacted] fired 10 rounds at [redacted] and [redacted] were each hit once and suffered minor, non-life threatening wounds. SA [redacted] estimated the total time that elapsed between the first and last shot was only a few seconds.

b7C -1,7,9

(U//~~FOUO~~) Following the shooting, the sedan left the parking lot at a high rate of speed. An ambulance crew parked in the parking lot observed the incident. The ambulance, with its emergency lights and siren engaged, pursued the sedan. The sedan crashed into a passenger car and light pole approximately a quarter of a mile away from the parking lot. Occupants of the passenger car sustained minor injuries and were briefly hospitalized. Upon observing the sedan leave the parking lot, the Agents returned to the BUCAR and followed in the direction the sedan was observed travelling. The Agents arrived at the crash scene approximately one minute after the crash. [redacted] was apprehended, and [redacted] left the accident scene before law enforcement arrived. [redacted] was later located and interviewed. [redacted] turned himself in to the FBI Chicago Field Office on 03/29/2013. FBI Chicago initiated an AFO case as a result of this incident. [redacted] was charged with violating Title 18, United States Code, Sections 111(a)(1) and (b), Assaulting, Resisting, or Impeding Certain Officers or Employees While Engaged In (or on account of the performance of) His/Her Official Duties. [redacted] were not charged. b6 -7,9 b7C -7,9

(U//~~FOUO~~) The shooting and crash scenes were processed by the Chicago Field Office ERT. SA [redacted]'s issued Glock 23 was rendered safe and entered into evidence. Ten .40 caliber shell casings were recovered which were consistent with the ammunition used in SA [redacted]'s weapon. The subject's sedan was processed by members of the FBI's Laboratory Shooting Reconstruction Team. b6 -1 b7C -1

SIRG Deliberations:

(U//~~FOUO~~) A presentation of the known facts of the Agent-involved shooting, as detailed above, was made to the SIRG by IIC Stroud via a Power Point presentation. The Power Point included photographs of the scene as enhanced by the FBI Laboratory, an INSD Diagram of the scene, an enhanced copy of a video from the parking lot as taken while the incident occurred, and a copy of a video showing the vehicle of the subjects engaged in an auto accident.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The DOJ Deadly Force Policy provides a core principle that Agents "may use deadly force only when necessary, that is, when the officer has a reasonable belief that the subject of such force poses an imminent danger of death or serious physical injury to the officer or to another person."

majority determined that SA [redacted] could have reasonably believed the use of deadly force was necessary because the subject ignored lawful commands to stop and while attempting to flee, almost struck SA [redacted] twice, hit a Bureau car, and almost ran over SA [redacted] causing him to move quickly to the side to avoid being hit by the vehicle. The vehicle was still in close proximity to SA [redacted] and the other agents, and presented an imminent danger to them when SA [redacted] fired the shots in a matter of seconds. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Two of the voting members dissented, expressing the belief the application of deadly force in this instance was not in compliance with the Department of Justice's Deadly Force Policy. The dissenting members requested and were provided the opportunity to document the factors for their belief the application of DOJ's Deadly Force Policy was violated.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The dissenting opinion of [redacted], Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ, was provided to INSD in a letter, which is noted as follows: b6 -3 b7C -3

SIRG Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 02/21/2012, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG voted regarding the application of deadly force. Ten of 12 voting members determined the use of deadly force by SA [redacted] was in compliance with the DOJ Deadly Force Policy. The majority determined SA [redacted] could have reasonably believed the use of deadly force was necessary and the vehicle presented an imminent danger to the involved Agents when SA [redacted] fired the shots. As a majority opinion, it was determined SA [redacted] was in compliance with the DOJ Deadly Force Policy.

Two of the voting members dissented, expressing the belief the application of deadly force in this instance was not in compliance with the Department of Justice's Deadly Force Policy. The dissenting members requested and were provided the opportunity to document the factors for their belief the application of DOJ's Deadly Force Policy was violated.

2. Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective action concerning operational planning and execution, training, and/or safety issues. The SIRG made the following observations and recommendations:

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Observation 1: The Chicago Field Office Agent Involved Shooting Response Plan (AISRP) was not followed by Chicago Field Office personnel.

Analysis: (U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/29/2013, the SIRT reviewed the Chicago Field Office AISRP. The AISRP was dated November 2010. As cited verbatim in the Chicago Field Office AISRP Introduction Section, "The purpose of this document is to provide guidance to Chicago Division employees who may become involved in a shooting incident, either as a participant or one who responds to an incident. Checklists have been devised to prioritize actions of those involved." AISRP Section III (1) (b) "The Involved Agent – Notification Checklist" stated, "When an Agent becomes involved in a shooting either he or an Agent in his presence should notify the Chicago Radio Room and request any necessary medical or other assistance. Depending on exigent circumstances, it may be necessary to first notify Emergency Services – 911."

(U//~~FOUO~~) The SIRT determined, based on 12 interviews, neither the involved Agent nor an Agent in his presence provided notification of the incident to the Chicago Field Office Radio Room as outlined in the AISRP.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Recommendation 1a: SAC, Chicago Field Office should ensure all Chicago Field Office personnel are appropriately trained regarding the AISRP.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Recommendation 1b: SAC, Chicago Field Office should ensure the Chicago Field Office AISRP is reviewed and updated annually.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Observation 2: Intervention to enforce minor infractions of the law could fall outside the scope of employment.

Analysis: (U//~~FOUO~~) The 03/25/2013 Agent-involved shooting incident evolved from Chicago Field Office Agents engaging with a subject they believed was stealing hubcaps in violation of Illinois Compiled Statutes (ILCS) Subdivision 5., General Theft, Section 16-1., Theft. The Agents involved in the shooting incident stated it was not their intention to arrest the subject, but just to identify him, determine what he was doing, and provide the information garnered to the Chicago Police Department.

DIOG, Section 19.3.3 states the following regarding non-federal crimes:

"There is no federal statutory authority for Agents to intervene in non-federal (state) crimes. FBI policy permits certain types of non-federal arrests in exigent circumstances.

As a general rule, an Agent should only make an arrest for a state crime if a serious offense (felony or violent misdemeanor) has been committed in his or her presence and immediate action by the Agent is necessary to prevent escape, serious bodily injury, or destruction of property.

Agents are also authorized to arrest a person who is the subject of an FBI Predicated Investigation when a state or local arrest warrant for that person is outstanding, and the person is encountered during the investigation and would likely escape if not arrested. Similarly, an Agent working with state or local law enforcement officers who request assistance to apprehend a nonfederal fugitive who has been encountered during the course of a federal investigation is authorized to provide the requested assistance when intervention is otherwise permitted for a state crime as described in the preceding paragraph.

In some states, there is legislative authority for an Agent to intervene in certain types of state crimes as a peace officer rather than as a private citizen. Deputization as a state peace officer allows a federal Agent to make arrests for state offenses with the authority and immunities of a law enforcement officer of the state or one of its subdivisions. Of greater significance is whether intervention by an Agent in a particular nonfederal crime falls within the scope of employment. Agents who intervene in serious nonfederal crimes committed in their presence or who arrest a state fugitive under the circumstances previously described will normally be considered to be acting within the scope of their employment. While the determination to provide legal representation depends on the facts and circumstances of each circumstance, the DOJ, as a general rule, will provide legal representation to Agents who act in accordance with this policy.

It is important to note that the DOJ has indicated that efforts to enforce minor infractions of the law, such as shoplifting or traffic violations, are not generally considered to be within the scope of employment. Civil actions against federal personnel concerning acts which fall outside the scope of employment will not be removed to federal courts, and employees in such circumstances will not be eligible for legal representation provided for by the DOJ. An Agent's status with respect to civil liability in such circumstances will depend on a particular state's law, which may require an employee to defend himself/herself as an ordinary citizen."

(U//~~FOUO~~) The State of Illinois afforded federal law enforcement officers, to include the FBI, "Peace Officer Status," for the purposes of sections concerning unlawful use of weapons, for the purposes of assisting an Illinois peace officer in an arrest, or when the commission of any offense (emphasis added) under Illinois law is directly observed by the person. Therefore, under ILCS, the Agents were considered "peace officers" when they approached the subject stealing hubcaps. The theft of hubcaps, not exceeding $500 in value, was a Class A misdemeanor in the state of Illinois.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Being afforded Illinois "Peace Officer Status" means the Agents likely would not have to defend themselves against civil liability as an ordinary citizen; however, the Agents may not be provided legal representation by the DOJ due to the question of scope. As stated in the DIOG Section 19.3.3 referenced above, DOJ indicated efforts by Agents to enforce minor infractions of the law, such as shoplifting or traffic violations, are not generally considered to be within the scope of employment. Taking action to thwart the theft of hubcaps could be interpreted as the enforcement of a minor infraction of the law. To not be afforded federal representation in civil actions needlessly exposes Agents to state legal issues and procedures.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Recommendation 2: SAC, Chicago Field Office should ensure all Agents are trained regarding intervention in non-federal crimes, and potential liability attached thereto.

3. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. The SIRG recommended no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Deputy Assistant Director (DAD) Mark Alan Morgan, INSD, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector Robert J. Shields, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, United States Department of Justice (USDOJ); [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Acting Section Chief [redacted], Criminal Investigative Division; Section Chief (SC) Roger Coe, Global Section, Counterintelligence Division; SSA [redacted] Squad CR-2, Washington Field Office; SSA [redacted], Practical Applications Unit (PAU), Training Division (TD); SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel; SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team (ERT), Laboratory Division (LD); SSA [redacted] Firearms Training Unit, TD; UC [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, b6 -1,3 b7C -1,3

Procedures for Responding to the Instruction

SAC, Chicago Field Office, is responsible for ensuring each Inspection Instruction/Recommendation is satisfactorily resolved. The inspection process is not complete until the Instruction/Recommendation is addressed by the field office. The Inspector-in-Charge (IIC) will review the field office's response to determine if the Instruction/Recommendation has been resolved or requires further action. Resolution is based upon specific actions taken and not a recitation of the actions the division has under consideration or plans to implement.

SAC, Chicago Field Office, is required to provide a written response, via EC, detailing the actions taken by the field office to resolve each Instruction/Recommendation. Follow- up EC responses must be directed to Unit Chief [redacted] Inspection Management Unit (IMU), INSD. Once the EC is serialized, please e-mail the Sentinel link to MPA [redacted]

[1] I applied the following standards:

(1) at the outset, the conduct of an agent should be presumed to be within policy;

(2) the burden of establishing that the conduct is not within policy should be the SIRG's burden,

(3) the proper standard of proof should be a preponderance of the evidence, as there is no rational basis to employ a lower standard or a higher one, such as clear and convincing;

(4) the agent's proffer of his own state mind (as recorded in a sworn statement) is significant evidence to establish this critical factor, but it should not be dispositive of the agent's state of mind;

(5) all surrounding circumstance and facts, including statements of others, factual and forensic information, and video documentation should be considered to adjudge the agent's state of mind;

(6) the ultimate issue is whether all the available evidence supports a conclusion that the use of deadly force was within the Department's policy as articulate by the plain language of the policy. What an objectively reasonable law enforcement officer would have done is a factor, but not the ultimate issue as it would be in determining civil liability in a constitutional torts case.

[2] It is noted that DOJ Attorney #1 applies a preponderance of the evidence standard and establishes certain presumptions that DOJ Attorney #1 states the SIRG should apply to the incident, but admits that these standards and presumptions are not set forth anywhere in DOJ policy. The DOJ Deadly Force Policy, however, is based upon a Fourth Amendment reasonableness standard, which looks to all the facts and circumstances to determine whether an agent had a reasonable belief that the subject posed an imminent danger of death or serious bodily injury to the agent or another person such that the use of deadly force was necessary.

Synopsis

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/25/2013, at approximately 12:30 p.m., three Chicago Field Office Special Agents (SAs), [redacted] were going to lunch and looking for a place to park in a grocery store parking lot, when SAs [redacted] observed a man stealing hubcaps. SA [redacted] parked the bucar and SAs [redacted] immediately got out of the vehicle and approached the individual, later identified as [redacted] identifying themselves as law enforcement and commanding [redacted] to stop. SA [redacted] lagged well behind SAs [redacted] and did not initially interact with [redacted] retreated to his vehicle, a [redacted] and got in the driver's seat. There were two other occupants in the vehicle. [redacted] pulled the vehicle out from the parking space almost hitting SAs [redacted] and [redacted] and then stopped momentarily. While SAs [redacted] were engaged with [redacted] SA [redacted] had returned to his bucar and repositioned it to the row where [redacted] was parked. When [redacted] vehicle began to move again, he was again commanded by SAs [redacted] to stop and get out of his vehicle. Instead of complying with commands, [redacted] with his two companions, drove off striking SA [redacted] s bucar and subsequently heading straight for SA [redacted] who was standing next to his bucar. SA [redacted] motioned and called for the vehicle to stop. When the vehicle continued to advance on SA [redacted] fearing for his life, SA [redacted] fired 10 shots from his Glock pistol and wounded [redacted] and one of the other occupants. Each sustained minor injuries. The vehicle fled from the scene and was involved in a vehicular accident a short distance from the parking lot. The driver, [redacted] escaped, but turned himself in to the FBI Chicago Field Office on 03/29/2013. [redacted] was charged with Assault on a Federal Officer (AFO).

SA [redacted] who had gotten out of his Bureau vehicle, but lagged behind SAs [redacted] had returned to his car and repositioned it to the row near where the sedan was parked, a short distance away from the sedan. SA [redacted] stated he could clearly hear SAs [redacted] identify themselves as law enforcement officers and direct the occupants of the sedan to stop. SA [redacted] subsequently activated his vehicle emergency lights.

b7C -1,7,9

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] who was driving, appeared very fidgety to SAs [redacted] put the vehicle in reverse and abruptly backed the sedan out of the parking space into the driving lane. SAs [redacted] moved out of the way to avoid being struck by the sedan. SA [redacted] felt the situation had escalated and drew his service weapon. SA [redacted] exited his car and remained near the driver side door. Suddenly, the sedan lurched forward and to the left nearly hitting SA [redacted] again. The sedan stopped briefly, and then it swerved to the right, towards SA [redacted] At this point, SA [redacted] perceived the direction of travel of the sedan as a direct threat to his safety and he commanded the sedan to stop. Subsequently, the sedan struck the left front bumper area of the bucar. As the sedan careened past the front driver side of the bucar, it was close enough for SA [redacted] to fear the sedan would hit him. SA [redacted] believed himself to be in imminent danger and indicated he made this determination based on the following reasons: (1) he did not see the incident which prompted SAs [redacted] to initially approach the individual, but he did see SAs [redacted] confront the occupants of the sedan, identify themselves as FBI Agents, and start issuing commands; (2) he was unable to see the hands, gestures, or actions of the occupants of the sedan; (3) the sedan nearly stuck SA [redacted] on two occasions; (4) one of his partners, who he worked with on a daily basis, perceived enough of a threat to draw his weapon; (5) the sedan had struck his bucar in an attempt to flee law enforcement, after all law enforcement personnel present identified themselves as such, orally and by activating emergency lights on his bucar, and were issuing commands to stop; and (6) [redacted] was in a position where he could turn the wheel of the sedan and crush SA [redacted] between the sedan and bucar. Since SA [redacted] felt in imminent fear for his life, he drew his handgun, a Glock 23, identified himself as an FBI Agent, and raised his left hand while issuing verbal commands to stop. When [redacted] failed to comply with the commands to stop, SA [redacted] fired 10 rounds at him. [redacted] were each hit once and suffered minor, nonlife-threatening wounds.

b7C -1,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) The sedan left the parking lot at a high rate of speed. An ambulance crew parked in the parking lot observed the incident. The ambulance, with its emergency lights and siren engaged, pursued the sedan. The sedan crashed into a passenger car and light pole approximately a quarter of a mile away from the parking lot. Occupants of the passenger car sustained minor injuries and were briefly hospitalized. Upon observing the sedan leave the parking lot, the Agents returned to the bucar and followed in the direction the sedan was observed travelling. They arrived at the crash scene approximately one minute after the crash. [redacted] was apprehended, and [redacted] left the accident scene before law enforcement arrived. [redacted] was later located and interviewed. [redacted] turned himself in to the FBI Chicago Field Office on 03/29/2013. FBI Chicago initiated an AFO case as a result of this incident. [redacted] was charged with violating Title 18, United States Code, Sections 111(a)(1) and (b). [redacted] were not charged.

b6 -1,7,9
b7C -1,7,9

(U//~~FOUO~~) The shooting scene and crash scene were processed by the Chicago Field Office ERT. SA [redacted]'s issued Glock 23 was rendered safe and entered into evidence. Ten .40 caliber shell casings were recovered which were consistent with the ammunition used in SA [redacted]'s weapon. The subject's sedan was processed by members of the Laboratory Shooting Reconstruction Team.

B. Shooting Incident Review Protocol

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/25/2013, IIC Stroud spoke with Chicago Field Office ASAC [redacted] b6 -1
[redacted] to arrange logistics prior to arriving in Chicago. On 03/25/2013, the SIRT traveled to b7C -1
Chicago. On the morning of 03/26/2013, IIC Stroud and SIRT members met with Chicago Field Office EM and SSA personnel before traveling to the shooting scene which occurred in a parking lot of the Jewel Osco Grocery Store located at 1220 South Ashland Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

(U//~~FOUO~~) All members of the SIRT reviewed the Inspection Division Shooting Review Protocol.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/26/2013, IIC Stroud met with the involved FBI SAs and management personnel to explain the review process and protocols. IIC Stroud, Inspector Bretzing, and TL [redacted] met with the Chicago Police 12th District Commander, [redacted] who stated she was not opening an investigation, and did not need for her personnel to participate in any interviews. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Three Signed Sworn Statements (SSSs) were taken from the three FBI Agents directly involved in the shooting. Other interviews, events, and observations were documented via FD-302s. Neither the FD-644 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information on a Voluntary Basis) nor the FD-645 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Required to Provide Information) were utilized. The SSSs and interviews of witnesses were conducted voluntarily. An FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident) was executed by all FBI personnel interviewed via SSS.

(U) On 03/27/2013, IIC Stroud, Inspector Bretzing, and TL [redacted] met with [redacted] [redacted] Criminal Chief of the Cook County State's Attorney's Office. [redacted] indicated he would like to receive a copy of the Shooting Incident Review results. He anticipated sending the results to their Professional Standards Unit, headed by Supervisory Attorney [redacted] b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U) On 03/27/2013, IIC Stroud had a conference call with Attorney [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division and AUSA [redacted] Northern District of Illinois, to provide an update on the investigation. [redacted] asked [redacted] to participate in the conference call due to the U.S. Attorney Office's interest in reviewing the results of the shooting investigation. b6 -3 b7C -3

(U) On 03/29/2013, IIC Stroud provided an exit brief to SAC Nelson and the CDC [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

C. Personnel Involved in the Shooting

1. SA [redacted] (fired weapon)
2. SA
3. SA

D. Firearms Training

(U//~~FOUO~~) FBI Chicago provided qualifications records for SA [redacted] A review of the office training records reflected the following: b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted]'s most recent qualification with his FBI-issued Glock 23, Serial Number [redacted] was on 12/26/2012.

NYT-713

E. Deadly Force Training

(U//~~FOUO~~) Since 10/27/2012, SA [redacted] participated in approximately 20 operations, which included controlled drug buys, firearms purchases, arrests, and tracker installations. All occasions included the presentation of the Deadly Force Policy. CDC [redacted] advised SA [redacted] attended an All Agents Conference on 09/30/2011, where a review of the FBI Deadly Force Policy was part of the curriculum. CDC [redacted] provided a copy of the conference sign-in log verifying SA [redacted]'s attendance. CDC [redacted] also advised the Chicago Field Office Primary Firearms Instructor (PFI) [redacted] reviewed the FBI Deadly Force Policy during firearm qualifications and training sessions. b6 -1 b7C -1

F. Use of Body Armor and Law Enforcement Identifiers

(U//~~FOUO~~) As the three Agents were on their way to lunch and not participating in a planned law enforcement action, none of them were wearing ballistic body armor, nor were FBI or law enforcement identifiers displayed. However, all personnel verbally identified themselves as FBI and law enforcement officers to the occupants of the vehicle. This was verified by witness statements.

G. FBI Indices and National Crime Information Center (NCIC)

(U//~~FOUO~~) The National Crime Information Center (NCIC), criminal history check included multiple entries for [redacted] and [redacted] was the subject of 40 arrests for offenses including narcotics and weapons violations, robbery, and assault. [redacted] was convicted 14 times, most recently on 06/09/2006, for Burglary. b6 -7,9 b7C -7,9

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted]'s criminal history included 47 arrests for offenses including resisting arrest as well as narcotics and weapons violations. [redacted] was convicted eight times, most recently on 02/21/2006, for Forgery. [redacted] was also an identified member of the Vice Lords street gang. b6 -9 b7C -9

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted]s criminal history included 31 arrests for offenses including narcotics, robbery, and weapons violations. [redacted] was convicted six times, most recently on 01/08/1998, for Possession of a Controlled Substance. b6 -9 b7C -9

H. Evidence Recovery and Laboratory Division Reports

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 1:45p.m., on 03/25/2013, in the process of responding to the scene of an Agent-involved shooting, Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] and SSA [redacted] collected a loaded Glock 23 pistol bearing serial number [redacted] and an additional Glock 23 magazine from SA [redacted] SA [redacted] advised he had changed magazines prior to the collection of the weapon. SSA [redacted] and SSA [redacted] conducted a manual round count of the weapon and extra magazine. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) The scene of the shooting was secured and processed by the Chicago Field Office ERT and the Laboratory Shooting Reconstruction Team (LRST) to include use of Total

2. (U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] was shot in the hip. The round was recovered at Stroger Hospital. He also had a rod surgically implanted in his leg on 03/26/2013, due to a broken leg. The leg injury was due to the impact of the subject vehicle with a non-police vehicle and subsequently a light pole. The accident happened several blocks away from the shooting scene. b6 -7,9 b7C -7,9

3. (U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] was not injured.

Innocent Bystander Victims:

1. (U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] was driving his car southbound on South Paulina Street. [redacted] was a passenger. As [redacted] was about to turn eastbound onto West Flournoy Street, he stopped when he observed an ambulance. After allowing the ambulance to pass, [redacted] proceeded with his turn and observed [redacted] car driving straight at him. Both cars collided in the intersection of South Paulina Street and West Flournoy Street. [redacted] was released from the hospital on 03/26/2013. He suffered a cracked sternum, cuts, and bruises. b6 -5,7 b7C -5,7

2. (U//~~FOUO~~) The passenger, [redacted] was released from the hospital on 03/25/2013, the day of the accident. She suffered two cracked ribs, cuts, and bruises.

J. Declination by the Civil Rights Division

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/27/2013, IIC Stroud contacted [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, DOJ, Civil Rights Division, and briefed him on the shooting incident. On 04/03/2013, AI/TL [redacted] hand-carried a copy of the Signed Sworn Statements and corresponding diagrams to Mr. [redacted] s office, located at 601 D Street, Washington DC. b6 -1,3 b7C -1,3

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/12/2013, [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, U.S. Department of Justice declined prosecution of this case.

K. Local Prosecution Opinion

(U//~~FOUO~~) Upon completion of the on-site inquiry, IIC Stroud coordinated SIRT investigative findings with [redacted] Criminal Chief of the Cook County State's Attorney's Office. He provided the findings to their Professional Standards Unit, headed by Supervisory Attorney [redacted] for his review and opinion. On 08/05/2013, Mr. [redacted] advised he concluded, "that no conduct of SA [redacted] in this incident gives rise to charge him with any state criminal offense." b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

L. Inspector's Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Observation 1: The Chicago Field Office Agent Involved Shooting Response Plan (AISRP) was not followed by Chicago Field Office personnel.

Analysis: On 03/29/2013, the SIRT reviewed the Chicago Field Office AISRP. The AISRP was dated November 2010. As cited verbatim in the Chicago Field Office AISRP Introduction Section, "The purpose of this document is to provide guidance to Chicago Division employees who may become involved in a shooting incident, either as a participant or one who responds to an incident. Checklists have been devised to prioritize actions of those involved." AISRP Section III (1) (b) "The Involved Agent – Notification Checklist" stated, "When an Agent becomes involved in a shooting either he or an Agent in his presence should notify the Chicago Radio Room and request any necessary medical or other assistance. Depending on exigent circumstances, it may be necessary to first notify Emergency Services – 911."

The SIRT determined based on 12 interviews, neither the involved Agent nor an Agent in his presence provided notification of the incident to the Chicago Field Office Radio Room as outlined in the AISRP.

The below table outlines, based on SIRT analysis, the calls made regarding the Agent Involved Shooting:

| CG Employee | Calls Made | Where Located at Time of Call | Comments |
|---|---|---|---|
| SA [redacted] | 911; SSA; CDC | At the scene of the accident (intersection of South Paulina Street and West Flournoy Street). | Involved in shooting incident. |

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Recommendation 1a: SAC, Chicago Field Office should ensure all Chicago Field Office personnel are appropriately trained regarding the AISRP.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Recommendation 1b: SAC, Chicago Field Office should ensure the Chicago Field Office AISRP is reviewed and updated annually.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Observation 2: Intervention to enforce minor infractions of the law could fall outside the scope of employment.

Analysis: The 03/25/2013 Agent-involved shooting incident evolved from Chicago Field Office Agents engaging with a subject they believed was stealing hubcaps in violation of Illinois Compiled Statutes (ILCS) Subdivision 5. General Theft, Section 16-1. Theft. The Agents involved in the shooting incident stated it was not their intention to arrest the subject, but just to identify him, determine what he was doing, and provide the information garnered to the Chicago Police Department.

DIOG, Section 19.3.3 states the following regarding non-federal crimes:

"There is no federal statutory authority for Agents to intervene in non-federal state) crimes. FBI policy permits certain types of non-federal arrests in exigent circumstances.

As a general rule, an Agent should only make an arrest for a state crime if a serious offense (felony or violent misdemeanor) has been committed in his or her presence and immediate action by the Agent is necessary to prevent escape, serious bodily injury, or destruction of property.

Agents are also authorized to arrest a person who is the subject of an FBI Predicated Investigation when a state or local arrest warrant for that person is outstanding, and the person is encountered during the investigation and would likely escape if not arrested. Similarly, an Agent working with state or local law enforcement officers who request assistance to apprehend a nonfederal fugitive who has been encountered during the course of a federal investigation is authorized to provide the requested assistance when intervention is otherwise permitted for a state crime as described in the preceding paragraph.

In some states, there is legislative authority for an Agent to intervene in certain types of state crimes as a peace officer rather than as a private citizen. Deputization as a state peace officer allows a federal Agent to make arrests for state offenses with the authority and immunities of a law enforcement officer of the state or one of its subdivisions. Of greater significance is whether intervention by an Agent in a particular nonfederal crime falls within the scope of employment. Agents who intervene in serious nonfederal crimes committed in their presence or who arrest a state fugitive under the circumstances previously described will normally be considered to be acting within the scope of their employment. While the determination to provide legal representation depends on the facts and circumstances of each circumstance, the DOJ, as a general rule, will provide legal representation to Agents who act in accordance with this policy.

It is important to note that the DOJ has indicated that efforts to enforce minor infractions of the law, such as shoplifting or traffic violations, are not generally considered to be within the scope of employment. Civil actions against federal personnel concerning acts which fall outside the scope of employment will not be removed to federal courts, and employees in such circumstances will not be eligible for legal representation provided for by the DOJ. An Agent's status with respect to civil liability in such circumstances will depend on a particular state's law, which may require an employee to defend himself/herself as an ordinary citizen."

The State of Illinois affords federal law enforcement officers, to include the FBI, "Peace Officer Status," for the purposes of sections concerning unlawful use of weapons, for the purposes of assisting an Illinois peace officer in an arrest, or when the commission of any offense (emphasis added) under Illinois law is directly observed by the person. Therefore, under ILCS, the Agents were considered "peace officers" when they approached the subject stealing hubcaps. The theft of hubcaps, not exceeding $500 in value, was a Class A misdemeanor in the state of Illinois.

Being afforded Illinois "Peace Officer Status" means the Agents likely would not have to defend themselves against civil liability as an ordinary citizen; however, the Agents may not be provided legal representation by the DOJ due to the question of scope. As stated in the DIOG Section 19.3.3 referenced above, DOJ has indicated that efforts by Agents to enforce minor infractions of the law, such as shoplifting or traffic violations, are not generally considered to be within the scope of employment. Taking action to thwart the theft of hubcaps could be interpreted as the enforcement of a minor infraction of the law. To not be afforded federal representation in civil actions needlessly exposes Agents to state legal issues and procedures.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SIRT Recommendation 2: SAC, Chicago Field Office should ensure all Agents are appropriately trained regarding the engagement in non-federal crimes.

Station. The Chicago Field Office ERT collected 10 shell casings in the vicinity of where SA [redacted] fired his weapon. The LRST accounted for nine of these rounds. Six complete slugs were recovered from the vehicle with one partial fragment. One slug was recovered from [redacted] the passenger of the subject vehicle. One impact point was discovered on the raised cement curb directly opposite the subject vehicle from where SA [redacted] stood and fired. The impact point tested positive for firearms lead, but the actual slug was not found. FBI Chicago Total Station and Spherical Photography were completed at the shooting and crash scenes. Trajectory Analysis was completed on the subject vehicle.

McHenry County

LOUIS A. BIANCHI
State's Attorney

June 5, 2013

Christopher Davis
Inspector
Inspector Division
935 Pennsylvania Ave. NW
Washington, DC 20535

Dear Inspector Davis,

Our office has reviewed the attempted armed robbery incident which occurred at the Associated Bank in Richmond, IL on May 10th, 2013. We believe that Special Agents [redacted] were justified in the use of force which resulted in the death of Tony Starnes. The evidence clearly established that Starnes was engaged in a forcible felony of attempting to rob the bank and when the Special Agents intervened he attempted to strike Agent [redacted] with his vehicle. The Special Agents responded by discharging their weapons. These actions were necessary to defend themselves against lethal force. Accordingly, this office will not file criminal charges against Special Agents [redacted] If you have any questions or comments please contact me.

Details:

(U) On 05/21/2014, the SIRG convened to review a shooting Incident which occurred on 05/10/2014, involving Chicago Field Office Special Agents [redacted] These agents were participating in a surveillance and arrest operation targeting a robbery crew led by [redacted] b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

Title: (U) Shooting Incident Chicago Field Office 05/10/2013
Re: 297-HQ-A1271285-D, 06/12/2014

(U) In August of 2010, CG initiated a case against [redacted] and his associates including Anthony "Tony" Starnes and [redacted] The crew was involved in [redacted] investigators identified a "work car" associated with [redacted]'s crew, a stolen silver 2005 Honda. Chicago Squad CE-7 agents [redacted] An Operations Plan was developed [redacted] The Operations Plan was a combination surveillance and arrest plan and indicated SWAT elements would be lead in the actual arrest with CE-7 agents acting as surveillance units and perimeter security. The timing of the arrest was based on overall public safety concerns as the scenario developed.

b7E -1,6

(U) The Operations Plan was briefed on 05/07/2013, however not all Agents scheduled to participate in the arrest were present. The Operations Order was signed by ASAC [redacted] as the On Scene Commander.

b7C -1

(U) At approximately 7:30 am on 05/10/2013, [redacted] At approximately 9:30 am, ASAC [redacted] was contacted by SSA [redacted] to advise the Operational Plan briefed on 05/07/2013, had been activated. Squad CE-7 Agents conducted surveillance of the Honda, driven by subject Tony Starnes, and a [redacted] Sports Utility Vehicle (SUV) driven by [redacted] with passenger [redacted] The surveillance began in Chicago and ended in Richmond, Illinois. Surveillance units included CE-7 agents, SWAT agents, CE-7 SSA [redacted] SWAT Senior Team Leader (STL) [redacted] and the SWAT coordinator, SSA [redacted] During the surveillance, Agents observed both subject vehicles stopped in a parking lot in Wisconsin, approximately one mile North of Associated Bank in Richmond, Illinois (IL) where [redacted] moved in to the Honda carrying a bag.

b6 -1,7
b7C -1,7
b7E -1,4,6

(U) The subjects drove back to Richmond, IL where the SUV entered and parked at a car wash across the street from the Associated Bank. The Honda circled the bank and neighborhood twice at which time the SUV followed the Honda into the parking lot and stopped in front of the ACE Hardware store. The Honda stopped in front of the bank. SWAT and CE-7 Agents confirmed arrest authority given by SSA [redacted] SWAT STL [redacted] Immediately SWAT SAs [redacted] exited STL [redacted] s vehicle. SAs [redacted] engaged the subjects yelling FBI, police, and giving instructions not to move. The Honda sped backward then lurched forward as to strike [redacted] and [redacted] SA [redacted] attempted to run out of the car's path. When the car lurched forward towards agents [redacted] they both fired at the driver. The vehicle struck SA [redacted] 's SUV and continued to proceed forward through the parking lot. SA [redacted] who had taken a position to the rear of SA [redacted] SUV, feared for the safety of others around him and also fired at the driver. The car accelerated and crashed into a light pole in the parking lot causing it to halt. SAs [redacted] arrested [redacted] was arrested by Agents in the ACE Hardware parking lot without incident. STARNES was pronounced dead at the scene. Starnes was stuck by four rounds, once in the head and once each in the shoulder, arm and abdomen. [redacted] was not stuck by any rounds.

b6 -1,7
b7C -1,7

SIRG Observations:

(U) On 05/21/2014, The SIRG reviewed the agent-involved shooting incident with intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by SAs [redacted] and [redacted] was in compliance with the Department of Justice's Deadly Force Policy.

Title: (U) Shooting Incident Chicago Field Office 05/10/2013
Re: 297-HQ-A1271285-D, 06/12/2014

2. Provide the Director with evaluative analyses, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions concerning operational planning and execution, training, and/or safety issues. The SIRG made the following observations and recommendations concerning operational oversight of the operation.

(U) Observation 1: The command and control structure was poorly defined for the surveillance and arrest operation.

(U) Analysis 1a: The SIRT review determined there was inadequate delegation of roles and responsibilities for the operation. The Operations Plan included 11 non-SWAT Agent personnel and 21 SWAT personnel to be involved in the surveillance and arrest. While arrest scenarios were clearly defined in the approved Operations Plan, it was not clearly delineated if this operation was intended as a SWAT operation or an operation supported by tactically-trained Agents. Overall control of operational activity at the scene was unclear.

(U) Analysis 1b: SWAT Policy Implementation Guide (PIG), Section 2.2.3 states the following:

(U) SWAT Coordinator

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] b7E -5

(U) The SIRT determined ASAC [redacted] had verbally given on-scene command of the operation to SSA [redacted] who was the SWAT Coordinator. However, SSA [redacted] gave the final approval on scene to arrest the subjects. Interviews indicated this resulted in b6 -1 b7C -1 confusion among the CE-7 Agents and SWAT personnel as to the appropriate chain of command.

(U) Analysis 1c: DIOG 19.2.3 Arrest Plans requires the [redacted] be used in lieu of the [redacted] when SWAT resources are employed. b7E -5

...In situations where an FBI SWAT Team(s) or the Critical Incident Response Group's (CIRG), Tactical Section is involved, the [redacted] Template must be used in lieu of the [redacted] See the Special Weapons and Tactics Policy Implementation Guide (PG), 0444PG and Hostage Rescue Team PG, 0501PG for more on the use of the SWAT Teams and CIRG, Tactical Section in high risk operations... b7E -5

(U) Interviews confirmed some Agents believed the entire operation was a Squad CE-7 operation with tactically-trained Agents assisting, while others believed this was a SWAT operation. The [redacted] was written and briefed by CE-7 Agents without SWAT input as to the placement or use of the SWAT operators. b7E -5

(U) Analysis 1d: SWAT Policy implementation Guide, Section 3.3 Rehearsals and Brief-Backs states as follows:

(U//~~FOUO~~) [redacted] b7E -5

[redacted]

All interviewed SWAT operators believed this to be a SWAT operation as they were tasked with the arrest scenarios. However, no official SWAT briefing was conducted to include all the SWAT operators involved in the planned arrest. The operational briefing held on 05/07/2013 included some, but not all, of the involved SWAT operators. While the Operations Plan was electronically provided to those absent, the SIRT determined a fully attended SWAT briefing with all assigned operators should have been conducted prior to this operation.

(U) Recommendation 1a: SAC, Chicago, should ensure the proper chain of command is adequately communicated to all participants involved in felony vehicle stops and/or arrest operations.

(U) Instruction 1b: SAC, Chicago, should ensure SWAT elements deployed to an arrest operation are under the direct control of the SWAT Coordinator or SWAT STL in compliance with SWAT PIG Section 2.2.3.

(U) Instruction 1c: SAC, Chicago, should ensure operations involving SWAT use [redacted] in compliance with DIOG Section 19.2.3 and the SWAT PIG. b7E -5

(U) Instruction 1d: SAC, Chicago, should ensure, when feasible, all team members of a proposed SWAT operation are briefed directly by the SWAT STL prior to deployment of the operation in compliance with SWAT PIG Section 3.3.

(U) Observation 2: The ASAC designated as the On Scene Commander (OSC) for the operation failed to maintain oversight of the operation or effectively delegate operational responsibility to an appropriate supervisor.

(U) Analysis 2: ASAC [redacted] the designated On Scene Commander (OSC) was conducting a community outreach program at the firearms range in Waukegan, IL. He did not immediately deploy to the scene or an area where he could maintain effective control of the operation. Further, ASAC [redacted] did not clearly designate which SSA, CE-7 SSA [redacted] or SWAT coordinator SSA [redacted], was in charge at the scene. Interviews with involved agents confirmed it was unclear to them who had overall control of the operation. While AASAC [redacted] verbally assigned OSC responsibility to SSA [redacted] INSD interviews revealed ASAC [redacted] maintained telephonic contact with multiple agents and supervisors to include SSA [redacted] who ultimately provided the final b6 -1 b7C -1 approval on scene to effect the arrest. ASAC [redacted] did not limit command and control directives to one consistent point of contact. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) Recommendation 2: SAC, Chicago, should ensure the OSC be in a position to maintain appropriate oversight of operations utilizing SWAT resources.

(U) Observation 3: SSA [redacted] and surveillance team member SA [redacted] were not wearing FBI issued Body Armor during the arrest operation.

(U) Analysis 3: MIOG, Part 2, Section 12-13.1(1) states: "Wearing of body armor by SA personnel is mandatory during planned arrests, execution of search warrants and surveillances which can reasonably be expected to culminate in a confrontation with armed and dangerous subject(s)."

(U) The SIRT determined through interviews SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were not wearing body armor at the time of the shooting incident. SSA [redacted] stated he was wearing an FBI armband, and no further explanation was provided as to why he was not wearing body armor. SA [redacted] advised he did not have time to put on the body armor as he did not want to draw attention to himself while on surveillance. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) Every indication was an arrest associated with this operation could involve a violent confrontation. Under such circumstances, it is imperative Executive Management and SSAs in the Chicago Field Office ensure all personnel wear body armor in accordance with the MIOG.

(U) Instruction 3: SAC, Chicago, will ensure all Special Agents utilize FBI approved body armor, during all planned arrest operations.

3. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. The SIRG recommended no administrative actions be taken against SAs [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

(U) The SIRG was chaired by non-voting member Deputy Assistant Director Mark Alan Morgan, INSD. The following voting members were in attendance: Chief Inspector David P. Gelios, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Roger Coe, Global Section, Counterintelligence Division; Supervisor Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Squad CR-2, Washington Field Office; Unit Chief (UC) [redacted] Practical Applications Unit (PAU), Training Division (TD); SSA [redacted] Investigative Law Unit, Office of the General Counsel (OGC); SSA [redacted] Evidence Response Team (ERT), Laboratory Division (LD); SSA [redacted] Defensive Systems Unit, TD; and SSA [redacted] Special Weapons and Tactics Operations Unit, Critical Incident Response Group (CIRG). In addition to the voting members in attendance, DOJ SIRG member [redacted] was unable to attend but reviewed the Shooting Incident Review Team report and provided his vote in writing prior to the SIRG. The following non-voting members were also in attendance: [redacted] Office of Inspector General (OIG), USDOJ; ASAC [redacted] OIG, USDOJ; SC Jay S. Tabb, Tactical Section, CIRG; [redacted] Violent Criminal Threat Section, CID; [redacted] Firearms and Toolmarks Unit, FBI Laboratory; Inspectors Shawn W. Stroud, R. Justin Tolomeo, Trent R. Teyema, and Paul Delacourt, OI, INSD; Team Leaders [redacted] OI, INSD; [redacted] Special Assistant, OI, INSD; Management and Program Analyst [redacted] Inspection Analysis Unit, INSD; and UC [redacted] and Management Program Analysts [redacted] Inspection Management Unit, INSD.

(U) Procedures for Responding to the Observation

(U) SAC Chicago is responsible for ensuring each Inspection Instruction/Recommendation is satisfactorily resolved. The inspection process is not complete until the Instruction/Recommendation is addressed by the field office. The Inspector-in-Charge (IIC) will review the field office's response to determine if the Instruction/Recommendation has been resolved or requires further action. Resolution is based upon specific actions taken and not a recitation of the actions the division has under consideration or plans to implement. SAC Chicago is required to provide a written response, via EC, detailing the actions taken by the field office to resolve each Instruction/Recommendation. Follow up EC responses must be directed to Unit Chief [redacted], Inspection Management Unit (IMU), INSD. Once the EC is serialized, please e-mail the Sentinel link to MPA [redacted] [redacted]

At approximately 7:30 am on 05/10/2013, [redacted] CE-7 Agents compiled [redacted] and communicated it to squad members and SWAT operators. CE-7 Agents conducted surveillance of the Honda, driven by subject Tony Starnes, which was accompanied/followed by a [redacted] Sports Utility Vehicle (SUV) driven by [redacted] with passenger [redacted] The surveillance began in Chicago and ended in Richmond, Illinois. During the surveillance, Agents observed both subject vehicles stopped in a parking lot in Wisconsin[1] wherein [redacted] grabbed a bag from the trunk of the Honda and switched vehicles to ride in the backseat of the Honda driven by Starnes. The subjects drove back to Richmond where the SUV entered and sat at a car wash across the street from the Associated Bank, 10910 North Main Street, Richmond, Illinois. The Honda circled the bank and neighborhood twice at which time the SUV followed the Honda into the parking lot and stopped in front of the ACE Hardware store, located adjacent to the Associated Bank. The Honda stopped in front of the bank. Upon observing Starnes and [redacted] wearing masks and [redacted] holding a handgun, the SWAT Senior Team Leader (STL) obtained verbal authority from SSA [redacted] to initiate the first arrest scenario as described in the Operations Plan. STL [redacted] Immediately thereafter, SAs [redacted] exited SA [redacted]'s vehicle to engage the subjects. The Honda then sped backward and lurched forward as if to strike SA [redacted] and collided with SA [redacted] SA [redacted] ran out of the vehicle's path. SAs [redacted] fired at the driver. As the vehicle continued to accelerate forward, SA [redacted] fired at the driver. The vehicle then crashed into a light pole in the parking lot and was disabled. Agents arrested [redacted] and Starnes was pronounced dead at the scene. [redacted] was arrested by Agents in the ACE Hardware parking lot without incident.

C. Briefings

On 05/06/2013, an Operations Plan utilizing CE-7 Agents and SWAT Agents was approved by ASAC , the designated OSC, with SSA as the reviewing official. The plan was briefed to available CE-7 and SWAT personnel on 05/07/2013. The Deadly Force Policy was read during this briefing. The Operations Plan was a combined surveillance and arrest plan. The investigation being conducted by CG indicated and his crew used a Honda stored at a paid, public parking parking lot facility to commit armed robberies. The surveillance portion of the Operations Plan authorized initiation when CE-7 and SWAT personnel would then follow the Honda to determine if it was being used to conduct an armed robbery.

The arrest portion of the Operations Plan detailed two arrest scenarios.

D. Initial Entry/First Contact

On 08/11/2010, CE-7 SA opened criminal enterprise investigation predicated by CHS reporting; SA was the co-case Agent. The investigation focused on a local crew of subjects conducting armed robberies at The crew was led by Initial intelligence on and his co-conspirators was obtained from a confidential human source (CHS) during the course of the investigation. In the fall of 2012, SAs and utilized and surveillance to determine the crew utilized a stolen Honda Civic with stolen license plates to conduct the robberies. When not being used for a "job," the Honda was stored at a paid, public parking lot facility. A court order was obtained for [redacted] b7E -1,6

On 05/10/2013 at approximately 7:30 am, [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1,4,6 SA [redacted] advised SSA [redacted] the Honda was moving and requested approval to activate SWAT and CE-7 personnel as outlined in the approved Operations Plan. SSA [redacted] approved this request and SA [redacted] contacted STL [redacted] to advise him SWAT deployment was approved.

At approximately 9:30am, ASAC [redacted] was contacted by SSA [redacted] to advise the Operational Plan briefed on 05/07/2013 had been activated. ASAC [redacted] notified the SAC via the CG Operations Center at 10:00am that the vehicle was moving and a car stop would be conducted when it was safe to do so. At the time, ASAC [redacted] – who was the designated OSC in the Operations Plan - was at the Chicago firearms range conducting an outreach program. ASAC [redacted] advised he remained at the range and monitored the surveillance via radio and received updates by cellular telephone. He did not immediately join the surveillance as the length of the surveillance and final destination were unknown at that time. He envisioned joining the operation when a determination was made on an arrest location. b6 -1 b7C -1

As the surveillance determined the target location appeared to be the Richmond, Illinois area, ASAC [redacted] left the range at approximately 11:10am and headed towards Richmond to join the operation. While enroute, ASAC [redacted] informed SSA [redacted] the SWAT Coordinator, that if the SWAT elements were in a position to make the arrests and if enough probable cause existed, they were authorized to effectuate the arrests. Based upon SWAT staff on-scene, ASAC [redacted] believed and advised SSA [redacted] he thought there were enough SWAT personnel available to execute the arrest if needed. b6 -1 b7C -1

During the surveillance, it was determined the Honda, driven by Starnes, was being accompanied/followed by a [redacted] SUV, driven by [redacted] with [redacted] as a passenger. The surveillance followed the two vehicles to the Illinois/Wisconsin border and the town of Richmond, Illinois. Both vehicles turned onto North Main Street in Richmond and traveled over the border to a parking lot in Wisconsin. At approximately 11:20am, the surveillance team observed the three men talking outside the vehicles and witnessed [redacted] obtain a bag from the trunk of the Honda and get into the back seat of the Honda with Starnes driving. b6 -7 b7C -7

Both vehicles returned to Richmond, Illinois and the SUV parked in the car wash business across the street from the Associated Bank, 10910 North Main Street, Richmond, Illinois. The surveillance team observed the Honda drive past the bank several times before driving into the bank parking lot and stopping. The SUV also moved from the parking lot of the car wash to the parking lot of the ACE hardware store adjacent to the bank.

According to the Operations Plan, [redacted] The SWAT personnel were divided into 4 vehicles. SAs [redacted] were in a [redacted] (hereinafter referred to as V1). SAs [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1,6

[redacted] were in a [redacted] (hereinafter referred to as V2). SAs [redacted] were in a [redacted] (hereinafter referred to as V3). SAs [redacted] and [redacted] were in a [redacted] (hereinafter referred to as V4). All CE-7 personnel were designated [redacted]

E. Shooting Incident

At approximately 11:30am, Agents witnessed Starnes and [redacted] wearing masks in the Honda and [redacted] was observed holding a handgun. SA [redacted] the STL, obtained verbal approval from SSA [redacted] to initiate arrest scenario one, as outlined in the Operations Plan, as it appeared Starnes and [redacted] were preparing to rob the bank. STL [redacted] gave the command for the SWAT teams to effect the arrests as he drove into the bank parking lot himself. STL [redacted] Once V1 hit the Honda, all the Agents exited V1 to engage the subjects.

b6 -1,7
b7E -1

b7E -1

[redacted] Starnes immediately reversed his vehicle, stopped, and then accelerated forward towards V1; SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] had positioned themselves initially in front of the Honda. STL [redacted] witnessing the Honda coming forward towards him jumped back into V1.

b6 -1,7

At about this same time, [redacted] who was also in front of the Honda, had to jump out of the way to avoid being hit as the Honda sped past him, firing what he believed was two to three rounds as the car passed.

Upon exiting V1, SA [redacted] took a position three feet from driver's window of the Honda, identified himself, and ordered the driver (Starnes) to stop. SA [redacted] heard what he thought was the Honda hit a vehicle as it was backing up and then saw it start to accelerate forward. SA [redacted] believing SAs [redacted] were positioned in front of the Honda, perceived a threat to them. SA [redacted] moved his weapon closer to the driver's window, aimed it downward, and fired three rounds into the driver's window. Due to the shattering of the glass and the smoke from the barrel of his weapon, SA [redacted] vision was temporarily obscured and he did not see what his rounds impacted.

b7C -1

SA [redacted] had initially taken a position to the left of SA [redacted] however as the Honda began to accelerate forward he moved to a position at the back passenger corner of V1. SA [redacted] saw the Honda accelerate past V1 and fearing the driver would injure additional people fired what he believed were eight rounds at the driver of the Honda.

b6 -1,7
b7C -1,7

As the SAs in V1 were engaging Starnes and [redacted] in the Honda, SA [redacted] who was originally positioned across the street from the parking lot, witnessed V2 stop to effect the arrest of [redacted] in the SUV. SA [redacted] did not realize V4 was approaching to provide support to the SAs in V1. SA [redacted] drove into the bank parking lot to assist the Agents engaging Starnes and [redacted] As she did so, a round entered her vehicle through the front windshield on the passenger side and embedded into the back seat. As soon as the round entered her vehicle, SA [redacted] exited the vehicle and sought cover. b6 -1 b7C -1

As the Honda accelerated past V1, it drove over a curb in the parking lot, continued to accelerate forward before jumping another curb, hitting a light post, and ultimately coming to a stop on an embankment.

SAs [redacted] followed the Honda on foot, while V4 followed the Honda through the parking lot. As Agents approached the driver's side of the vehicle they saw brain matter on the ground and significant blood splatter on the inside of the Honda. It appeared Starnes was deceased. SAs [redacted] ordered [redacted] out of the back seat of the Honda and arrested him without further incident. Three handguns were found in the Honda. b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

At the same time the shooting incident occurred, Agents in V2 and V3 arrested [redacted] without incident.

F. Post Shooting

After the shooting, Chicago Field Office ASAC [redacted] responded to the location and coordinated the subsequent investigation. ASAC [redacted] arrived on scene at about 12:40 pm. Chicago Field Office ERT and the Laboratory Shooting Reconstruction Team processed the scene. ASAC [redacted] arrived on scene at approximately 12:30 pm. SAC Corey Nelson arrived on scene at approximately 1:10 pm. b6 -1 b7C -1

G. Accounting of Shots Fired

Twenty shell casings were seized by ERT. All ballistic testing was conducted by the Firearms/Toolmark Unit. An analysis of these casings is contained in the attached laboratory report dated 01/28/2014.

H. Subject Information

The SIRT was provided with the results of National Crime Information Center warrant and arrest record check for Starnes, [redacted] which indicated the following: b6 -7 b7C -7

1) Anthony Starnes – Twenty-two arrests and eight convictions to include weapons, drug and assault offenses.

2) [redacted] – Eight arrests and five convictions to include assault and robbery offenses.

3) [redacted] – Twenty-three arrests and one conviction to include weapons, drugs and assault offenses.

I. Use of Body Armor and Law Enforcement Identifiers

The SIRT determined all Agents involved in the shooting incident were wearing ballistic body armor, with markings identifying them as FBI agents. SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] who were part of the perimeter team and not engaged directly in the shooting incident, were not wearing ballistic body armor. b6 -1 b7C -1

Agent Signed Sworn Statements (SSS) and witness interviews indicated Agents identified themselves as FBI prior to engaging the subjects in the shooting.

J. Forensic Summary

See attached laboratory report dated 12/18/2013.

K. Medical Summary

On 07/11/2013, SSRA [redacted] received the completed Autopsy Report for Anthony Starnes from the McHenry County Coroner's Office. The report identified the following gunshot wounds sustained by Starnes: b6 -1 b7C -1

2) A gunshot wound to the left shoulder with no evidence of close range fire. The wound coursed from left to right, slightly front to back and downward. The wound course involved skin, muscle, soft tissue, the left humerus, left lung, heart and right hemi-colon. A deformed small caliber lead bullet was recovered. This wound also caused a left hemothorax, hemopericardium and fecal peritoneum.

3) A gunshot wound to the left abdomen with no evidence of close range fire. The wound coursed from left to right, tunneling through soft tissue.

The toxicology report indicated Starnes tested positive for marijuana.

IV. Shooting Incident Review Protocol

On 05/10/2013, IIC Davis communicated with Chicago SAC Cory Nelson to arrange logistics for the SIRT. ASAC served as the point of contact for the SIRT.

Due to varying travel plans, SIRT members traveled to Chicago on 05/10/2013 and 05/11/2013. On the morning of 05/11/2013, SIRT members were met at their hotel by A/ASAC who provided four vehicles from the Chicago motor pool for use by the SIRT. A/ASAC drove the SIRT to the Chicago Field Office/North RA, 1600 Golf Road, Rolling Meadows, Illinois where the SIRT was provided work space.

IIC Davis provided a preliminary briefing to the SIRT members present (AIIPs and had not yet arrived in Chicago.) AI/TLs also addressed the SIRT and provided team and partner assignments.

ASAC arrived at the North RA and provided IIC Davis and AI/TLs with the names of the Chicago personnel involved in the shooting incident. ASAC also discussed the SIRT checklist and provided a status update on the items on the list. ASAC then drove the SIRT to the shooting scene where they were met by ASAC and viewed the scene while it was being processed by Chicago ERT and personnel from the Laboratory Evidence Response Team (LERT). ASAC also provided a detailed briefing of the shooting incident.

b7C -1

During the SIRT investigation, eight SSSs were taken from FBI Agents: three from the agents directly involved in the shooting: SAs (all represented by Esq). The remaining five SSSs were obtained from SAs Other interviews, events, and observations were documented via FD-302s. All interviewed FBI personnel were allowed to read the FD-302 summarizing their interview to confirm the accuracy of the information provided. The SSSs and interviews of witnesses were conducted voluntarily. An FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident) was executed by all those interviewed.

b6 -1,2,4
b7C -1,2,4

On 05/14/2013, IIC Davis and AI/TL met with the Assistant State's Attorney and Criminal Division Chief of the McHenry County State's Attorney Office, Woodstock, IL who advised they would review the information collected from the SIRT and provide a written declination of prosecution if the facts were consistent with the information verbally provided.

On 05/15/2013, an exit brief was provided by IIC Davis to SAC Nelson, ASAC [redacted] ASAC [redacted] ASAC [redacted] and CDC [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

A. Firearms Training

FBI Chicago provided qualification records dated 11/15/2012 for SAs [redacted] A review of the records showed the Agents had successfully qualified on the weapons used in the shooting incident. b6 -1 b7C -1

B. Deadly Force Training

CDC [redacted] provided training on the FBI Deadly Force Policy annually at the mandatory All Employee's Conference. Attendance at the All Employee's Conference was documented and maintained via sign-in sheets. CDC [redacted] provided the sign-in sheets for the training events for 2012 and 2011. The 2011 sign-in sheets reflected the attendance of SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] The 2012 sign-in sheet reflected the attendance of SA [redacted] There is no record of SA [redacted] attending either training event. CDC [redacted] stated the Chicago Field Office did not have an official 'make-up' session for the annual training however, the training materials were provided to Field Office personnel via the Intranet. In addition, the Deadly Force Policy was regularly read to personnel at operational briefings. b6 -1 b7C -1

C. DOJ Civil Rights Division Prosecutorial Decision

On 09/12/2013, IIC Davis was contacted by [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, DOJ who advised his office had declined a criminal civil rights investigation against the Agents involved in this shooting incident. b6 -3 b7C -3

D. Local Prosecutorial Decision

On 06/05/2013, IIC Davis was contacted by Louis A. Bianchi, State's Attorney for McHenry County, Illinois who advised his office had declined a criminal investigation against the Agents involved in this shooting incident.

VI. Inspector's Observations:

Observation 1: The command and control structure was poorly defined for the surveillance and arrest operation.

Analysis 1: The SIRT determined the approved Operations Plan in this instance had an arrest component consisting of SWAT personnel performing a Felony Vehicle Stop. The plan was approved by ASAC [redacted] however, the SIRT was not provided with documentation indicating SAC Nelson had delegated this authority to ASAC [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

[redacted] b5 -1,2

The SIRT determined the command decisions made prior to the shooting incident were not clearly delineated or communicated to personnel participating in the operation. The Operations Plan included 11 non-SWAT Agent personnel and 21 SWAT personnel to be involved in the planned surveillance and arrest. While arrest scenarios are clearly defined in the approved Operations Plan, it is not clearly delineated if this operation was written intended as a SWAT operation or an operation supported by tactically-trained Agents.

Interviews confirmed some Agents believed the entire operation was a Squad CE-7 operation with tactically-trained Agents assisting, while others believed this was a SWAT operation. The operation was written and briefed by CE-7 Agents without SWAT input as to the placement or use of the SWAT operators.

Conversely, all interviewed SWAT operators believed this to be a SWAT operation as they were tasked with the arrest scenarios. However, no official SWAT briefing was conducted to include all the SWAT operators involved in the planned arrest. The operational briefing held on 05/07/2013 included some, but not all, of the involved SWAT operators. While the Operations Plan was electronically provided to those absent, the SIRT determined a fully attended SWAT briefing with all assigned operators should have been conducted prior to this operation. [redacted] b5 -1,2

The SIRT determined ASAC [redacted] had verbally given on-scene command of the operation to SSA [redacted] who was the SWAT Coordinator. However, SSA [redacted] gave the final approvals on scene to deploy the arrest portion of the operation. Interviews indicated this resulted in confusion among the CE-7 Agents and SWAT personnel as to the appropriate chain of command. b6 -1 b7C -1

Analysis 3: MIOG, Part 2, Section 12-13.1(1) states: "Wearing of body armor by SA personnel is mandatory during planned arrests, execution of search warrants and surveillances which can reasonably be expected to culminate in a confrontation with armed and dangerous subject(s)."

The SIRT determined through interviews SSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were not wearing body armor at the time of the shooting incident. SSA [redacted] stated he was wearing an FBI armband, and no further explanation was provided as to why he was not wearing body armor. SA [redacted] advised he did not have time to put on the body armor as he did not want to draw attention to himself while on surveillance.

Every indication was an arrest associated with this operation could involve a violent altercation. Under such circumstances, it is imperative Executive Management and SSAs in the Chicago Field Office ensure all personnel wear BPU's in accordance with the MIOG.

Instruction 3: SAC, Chicago, will ensure all Special Agents utilize FBI approved BPUs, during all planned arrest operations.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The subject of the surveillance was Allen Desdunes, a predicated subject of a gang investigation [redacted] who was detained on 05/01/2013, for distribution of heroin. [redacted] b7A -1 b7D -1

[redacted] Eventually, the New Orleans Field Office sought a federal arrest warrant for Desdunes and scheduled an appointment with a Magistrate on the afternoon of 7/30/2013. The purpose of the surveillance on 07/30/2013 was [redacted] in order to assist in the development of an arrest plan. b7E -1,4,6

(U//~~FOUO~~) Utilizing a court ordered [redacted] Desdunes was quickly located in the parking lot of a Studio 6 Extended Stay Hotel in New Orleans, Louisiana. He was observed conducting hand-to-hand drug transactions with the occupants of other vehicles. Two Agents and a TFO from the surveillance team [redacted] b6 -7 b7C -7 b7D -1 b7E -1,6

(U//~~FOUO~~) After confirmation of the drug transaction, two Squad 11 Agents [redacted], and NOPD TFO [redacted] decided to approach Desdunes in the Motel 6 parking lot. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were in one vehicle and TFO [redacted] was in another. As the Agents approached Desdunes in their vehicle, they "chirped" their siren to identify themselves as law enforcement officers. Desdunes attempted to escape by ramming the Agent's and TFO's vehicles. During this encounter, Desdunes' vehicle was pinned against a curb by the Agent's vehicle. The Agents and TFO exited their vehicles, with TFO [redacted] taking a position of cover to the rear passenger side of Desdunes' vehicle. SA [redacted] approached the driver's window with his M4 carbine. SA [redacted] noted the driver's side window airbag deployed, obstructing his view of Desdunes. Agents' car, and continued to try to escape. Desdunes did not respond to commands to turn off his vehicle and exit.

(U) SA [redacted] used his M4 carbine to break the driver's side window in an attempt to subdue Desdunes. Desdunes reached behind the passenger's seat and made a turning motion towards SA [redacted] with a bag of drugs in his hand. As the Agents and TFO continued to yell commands at Desdunes and [redacted] Desdunes made a second motion towards the back seat and turned quickly towards [redacted] who was holding the deployed air bag with his left hand while aiming his carbine at Desdunes. Based on Desdunes' actions, and his failure to respond to commands, SA [redacted] fearing for his safety and the safety of others, fired one shot at Desdunes, fatally wounding him. TFO [redacted] observed the same sudden, aggressive movements by Desdunes. TFO [redacted] stated he would have fired his weapon, however he was in a potential cross-fire situation. He also noted Desdunes' car continued to slam against the FBI vehicle, thereby obscuring his shot. TFO [redacted] advised the vehicle presented a danger to himself and others.

SIRG Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/25/2014, the SIRG reviewed the agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

(U//~~FOUO~~) 1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by SA [redacted] on 07/30/2014 was in compliance with the Department of Justice's Deadly Force Police.

(U//~~FOUO~~) 2.Provide the Director with evaluative analyses, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions concerning operational planning and execution, training, and/or safety issues. The SIRG made the following observations regarding safety issues.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 1: The TFO involved in the shooting incident was not wearing body armor.

Re: 297I-HQ-A2974031, 06/11/2014

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 1: MIOG, Part 2, Section 12-13.1(1) stated:

[redacted] b7E -5

(U//~~FOUO~~) TFO [redacted] advised during his interview he was not wearing body armor at the time of the shooting incident. b6 -4 b7C -4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 1: SAC New Orleans will ensure, when feasible, all personnel assigned to FBI-led Task Forces utilize body armor during all planned or potential arrest operations.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 2: Agents failed to observe proper arrest, search, and detention techniques.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2a: Proper Arrest Plans and Techniques were detailed in SAC Memorandum 27-2001, dated 12/28/2001, which was codified in MIOG, Part 2, Section 11. Portions of the MIOG, Part 2, Section 11 were later incorporated into DIOG, Section 19. Relevant sections are cited as follows:

MIOG, PART 2, SECTION 11. TECHNIQUES AND MECHANICS OF ARREST

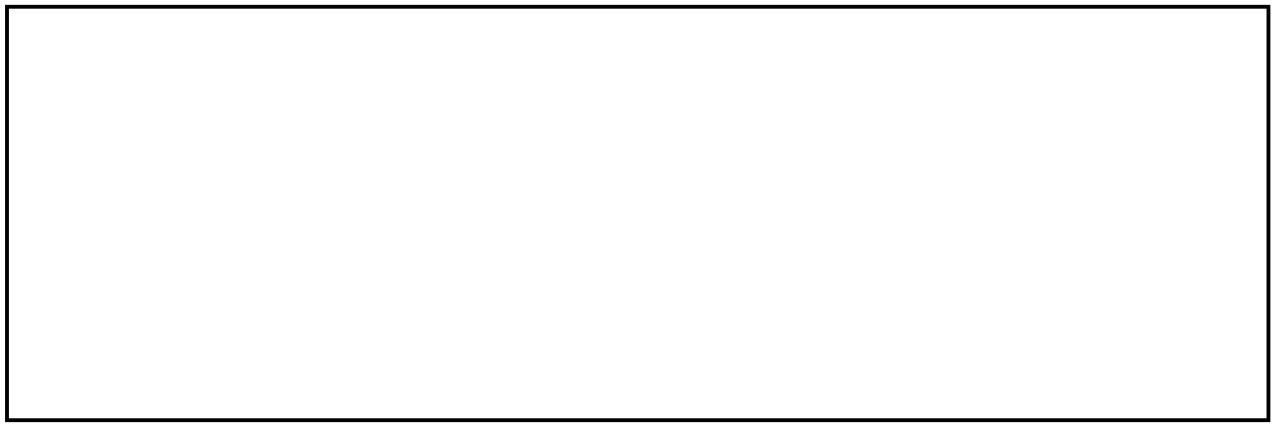
11-1 ARREST TECHNIQUES

11-1.1 General

(2) The arrest team should consist of enough Agents/officers, whenever possible, to cope properly with those or other situations which may arise. [redacted] b7E -5

11-1.3 Search of the Person

11-1.3.1 High-Risk Search/Full-Body Search/Handcuffing



b7E -5

(2).… it is required that all arrested persons be handcuffed with hands behind the back, back to back, and double locked. If circumstances necessitate handcuffing with the hands to the front, then the hands must be back to back, and the cuffs must be belted down and double locked…

11-1.3.2 Final Search and Collection of Evidence

(1) A high-risk search, even though believed to be thorough, cannot be relied upon to be adequate. A more thorough full-body search of an arrested person should be conducted as soon as possible before transport. Under existing Bureau instructions, the final search will usually be conducted in a place of local detention…

11-1.4 Transportation of Arrested Persons

(2) It will usually be necessary for Agents to transport persons arrested from the place of arrest to the place of local detention… With one subject and two or more Agents/officers, one Agent/officer should ride in the rear seat with the subject. This Agent/officer should be seated directly behind the driver. When more than one subject is transported in an automobile, it is desirable to place the subjects in the rear seat of the car with one subject on the passenger side and the other in the middle. An Agent/officer should be positioned behind the driver and maintain strict control over the subjects. Every precaution should be taken during the planning of the arrest to ensure that adequate personnel with corresponding emergency vehicles are available to avoid a ratio of more than one subject per vehicle… Subjects should not be transported by only one Agent unless exigent circumstances or Agent safety dictate. The Bureau vehicle should be searched both before and subsequent to the transportation of any subject.

DIOG 19.5.3 (U) RESTRAINING DEVICES

(U//~~FOUO~~) Temporary restraining devices, such as handcuffs, shackles and/or belts may be used to secure an arrestee. Use of such devices is lawful and proper, and Agents are expected to employ reasonable judgment under the circumstances in the use of these devices and to resolve any doubt in favor of their use.

DIOG 19.7 (U) SEARCH INCIDENT TO ARREST

(U//~~FOUO~~) The authority to search incident to an arrest is an exception to the warrant requirement. Under this exception, an Agent may conduct a full and complete search of the person of the arrestee and the area within the arrestee's "immediate control." Immediate control means "the area from within which he might gain possession of a weapon or destructible evidence." Once an arrestee has been secured and can no longer reach into the area to be searched, there is no longer justification for a warrantless search. The purpose for the exception is to protect the arresting Agent, prevent escape, and preserve any evidence in possession of the arrestee. The right to search flows from the fact of arrest, not the nature of the crime for which the arrest has been made.

(U//~~FOUO~~) INSD determined SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted]

[redacted] Shortly afterwards, TFO [redacted] departed the scene, leaving SAs [redacted] with the detained individuals. b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7 b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) After learning of the shooting incident, SA [redacted] left SA [redacted] alone with [redacted] and returned to the Motel 6 parking lot. SA [redacted] ultimately transported [redacted] approximately 1.1 miles [redacted] to a parking lot adjacent to the Studio 6 parking lot. SA [redacted] did not conduct a search of [redacted] prior to transporting them and he was unaware if anyone had conducted a search after they were detained. In addition, SA [redacted] transported [redacted] to the New Orleans Police Department's Seventh District with the assistance of SA [redacted] b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2a: SAC, New Orleans should ensure, when feasible, Agents are not left alone with multiple subjects.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2b: SAC, New Orleans should ensure, when feasible, arrested subjects are transported in a Law Enforcement vehicle properly searched before and after transport.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2c: SAC, New Orleans should ensure, when feasible, arrested subjects are transported with more than one Agent.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2d: SAC, New Orleans should ensure high risk searches are conducted on subjects post-arrest.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2e: SAC, New Orleans, should ensure all restrained subjects are properly controlled.

Title: (U//~~FOUO~~) Shooting Incident New Orleans Field Office
Re: 297I-HQ-A2974031, 06/11/2014

(U//~~FOUO~~) 4. Provide recommendations for Administrative action if deemed appropriate. The SIRG made the following observation regarding Administrative issues.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 3: Executive Management was not notified of a high risk operation.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 3: DIOG Section 19.3.1 stated, " Whenever possible, SAC and USAO authority must be obtained before making a warrantless arrest. Agents are authorized to make warrantless arrests for any federal crime (felony or misdemeanor) committed in their presence. Agents also have authority to make warrantless felony arrests for a crime not committed in the presence of the Agent if there is probable cause to believe the person to be arrested committed a federal felony. A warrantless arrest must only be made when sound judgment indicates obtaining a warrant would unduly burden the investigation or substantially increase the potential for danger or escape."

(U//~~FOUO~~) The goal of the surveillance operation was [redacted] b7E -1,4,6 in anticipation of executing an arrest warrant scheduled to be obtained in the afternoon. The objective of the surveillance changed when Desdunes was observed engaging in criminal activity. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] advised in their signed sworn statements they decided to approach Desdunes [redacted] b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7 They intended to elicit Desdunes' cooperation, and if he refused, to conduct a probable cause arrest. They failed to notify their SSA, ASAC or the USAO when the purpose of the operation changed.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Upon reviewing the totality of the circumstances leading to the shooting incident, INSD determined the Agents had sufficient time to notify their management of the change of objective. In addition, Agents could have requested additional resources to assist in the arrest operation, including marked law enforcement vehicles, and to obtain USAO concurrence with a probable cause arrest. It should be re-stated, New Orleans agents had court approved [redacted] This ensured Agents had the ability to locate Desdunes if he left the location prior to the arrival of additional resources. b7D -1 b7E -1,6 (U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 3: SAC, New Orleans should ensure, whenever possible, executive management notification and authority is obtained prior to potential high risk operations.

NEW ORLEANS FIELD OFFICE
07/30/2013

I. Executive Summary

On 07/30/2013, members of New Orleans Field Office (NOFO) Squad 11 were conducting surveillance in support of a pending gang investigation. The subject of the surveillance was Allen Desdunes, a predicated subject of the gang investigation who was detained on 05/01/2013 for distribution of heroin. [redacted] The NOFO began working with the USAO to obtain a federal arrest warrant for Desdunes and had an appointment with the Magistrate on the afternoon of 7/30/2013 to file a complaint and obtain a warrant. The purpose of the surveillance on 07/30/2013 was [redacted] in order to assist in the development of an arrest plan.

During the surveillance, Desdunes was located in the parking lot of a Studio 6/Motel 6 located at 12300 South I-10 Service Road, New Orleans, Louisiana where he was observed conducting hand-to-hand drug transactions with the occupants of other vehicles. Two Agents and a TFO from the surveillance team [redacted] position to the rear passenger side of Desdunes' vehicle as SA [redacted] approached the driver's window with his M4 carbine. SA [redacted] noted the driver's side window airbag had deployed, obstructing his view of Desdunes. Desdunes put his vehicle in reverse, rammed the Agents' car, and continued to try to escape. Desdunes did not respond to commands to turn off his vehicle and exit. SA [redacted] used his M4 carbine to break the driver's side window in an attempt to subdue Desdunes. At this point, Desdunes reached behind his seat and made a turning motion towards SA [redacted] with a bag of drugs in his hand. As the Agents and TFO continued to yell commands at Desdunes and [redacted] Desdunes made a second motion towards the back seat and turned quickly towards [redacted] who was holding up the deployed side of an air bag with his left hand while aiming his carbine at Desdunes. Based on Desdunes' actions and his failure to respond to commands, SA [redacted] fearing for his safety and the safety of others, fired one shot at Desdunes, fatally wounding him. TFO [redacted] observed the same sudden, aggressive movements by Desdunes, but did not fire his weapon due to a potential cross-fire situation. He also noted Desdunes' car continued to slam against the FBI vehicle, thereby obscuring his view. [redacted] was subsequently removed from the vehicle and arrested.

b6 -1,4,7

FBI Agents canvassed the area for eyewitnesses or video surveillance of the incident. No video surveillance was located and no Motel 6 employees or guests indicated they observed the incident. A group of laborers behind a wall to the parking lot where the incident occurred claimed they heard shouts and sounds of a car crashing, however the dividing wall obstructed any view.

The scene was processed by the Louisiana State Police (LSP), assisted by the NOFO ERT. Spherical photography and Total Station activities were concluded on 07/30/2013, after which Desdunes' car was transported to Baton Rouge by the LSP for additional processing.

E. Shooting incident

SA [redacted] driving his FBI vehicle, chirped his siren as his vehicle and TFO [redacted]'s vehicle approached Desdunes in the parking lot. SAs [redacted] believed Desdunes would recognize them as they had been present when Desdunes was first detained by the FBI in May 2013. SA [redacted] tackled Desdunes trying to escape while handcuffed during this initial detention. As the Agents approached Desdunes, he rammed their vehicle in an effort to flee. Desdunes' vehicle was forced into a raised sidewalk at the rear of the motel where SA [redacted] attempted to restrict its movement. Upon initial impact, SA [redacted] exited SA [redacted]'s vehicle and approached Desdunes' driver's side window with his Colt M4 carbine. Afterward, SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] exited their vehicles and covered Desdunes with their rifles. SA [redacted] was at the rear driver's side of Desdunes' vehicle and TFO [redacted] at the rear passenger side. While Desdunes continued to ram SA [redacted]'s vehicle, the Agents were shouting commands to Desdunes to stop and exit the vehicle. SA [redacted] approached the driver's window and broke it with his rifle. His view of Desdunes was obstructed by the driver's side air bags which deployed. Using one hand to steady the rifle, SA [redacted] raised the air bag and jabbed Desdunes with the tip of his rifle while shouting commands to stop the vehicle. Desdunes made a quick movement to the rear of his vehicle and turned back around quickly. He grabbed the steering wheel with his left hand while holding a plastic bag in his right hand, continuing to ram his vehicle back into SA [redacted]'s car. Desdunes then made a second sudden move towards the rear of the vehicle. SA [redacted] believing Desdunes was turning back around to shoot him and feeling an imminent threat, dropped the air bag, bladed his body, and fired one shot at Desdunes. SA [redacted] did not see the impact of the shot, but noticed Desdunes stopped moving. No additional shots were fired.

The passenger in the vehicle, [redacted] was detained and uninjured.

b6 -7
b7C -7

F. Post shooting

After the shooting, NOFO ASACs [redacted] responded to the location and coordinated with the New Orleans Police Department and Louisiana State Police (LSP) regarding the subsequent investigation. It was agreed the LSP would process the scene and conduct a Total Station review with the assistance of the NOFO ERT, who conducted spherical photography of the scene. LSP seized all pertinent evidence at the scene and transported Desdune's vehicle to Baton Rouge, Louisiana for further processing.

G. Accounting of shots fired

One shell casing was seized by the LSP. All ballistic testing was conducted by the LSP. An analysis of this casing was pending at the time of this report.

H. Subject information

The SIRT was provided with the results of the National Crime Information Center warrant and arrest record check for Desdunes. The report noted ten arrests and multiple convictions for offenses including several narcotics violations and multiple instances of a felon in possession of a firearm.

I. Use of body armor and law enforcement identifiers

The SIRT determined the two Agents involved were both wearing ballistic body armor. However, TFO [redacted] was not wearing ballistic body armor. The ballistic body armor had visible markings indicating the Agents were law enforcement. b6 -4 b7C -4

J. Forensic Summary

The Louisiana State Police provided the FBI will a full forensic report of all evidentiary items seized as well as crash data and ballistic testing. The complete report is included in its entirety in Tab VII.

K. Medical Summary

On 11//01/2013, [redacted] of the New Orleans Coroner's Office, provided the FBI with a copy of the coroner's report on Desdunes. The report indicated the round fired from SA [redacted] entered Desdunes' left cheek and was recovered in the right occipital scalp subcutaneous tissue. The complete report is included in Tab VI. b6 -4 b7C -4

VI. Inspector's Observations

Observation 1: The TFO involved in the shooting incident was not wearing ballistic armor.

Analysis 1: MIOG, Part 2, Section 12-13.1(1) stated: [redacted] b7E -5

[redacted]

TFO [redacted] advised during his interview he was not wearing body armor at the time of the shooting incident. b6 -4 b7C -4

Instruction 1: SAC, New Orleans, will ensure all personnel assigned to FBI-led Task Forces utilize ballistic armor during all planned or potential arrest operations.

Observation 2: Agents failed to utilize proper arrest, search, and detention techniques.

Analysis 2a: Proper Arrest Plans and Techniques were detailed in SAC Memorandum 27-2001, dated 12/28/2001, which was codified in MIOG, Part 2, Section 11. Portions of the MIOG, Part 2, Section 11 were later incorporated into DIOG, Section 19. Relevant sections are cited as follows:

MIOG, PART 2, SECTION 11. TECHNIQUES AND MECHANICS OF ARREST

11-1 ARREST TECHNIQUES

11-1.1 General

(2) A person who is being placed under arrest may do one of several things... The arrest team should consist of enough Agents/officers, whenever possible, to cope properly with those or other situations which may arise. [redacted] b7E -5

[redacted]

11-1.3 Search of the Person

11-1.3.1 High-Risk Search/Full-Body Search/Handcuffing

[redacted] b7E -5

(2) ... it is required that all arrested persons be handcuffed with hands behind the back, back to back, and double locked. If circumstances necessitate handcuffing with the hands to the front, then the hands must be back to back, and the cuffs must be belted down and double locked...

11-1.3.2 Final Search and Collection of Evidence

(1) A high-risk search, even though believed to be thorough, cannot be relied upon to be adequate. A more thorough full-body search of an arrested person should be conducted as soon as possible before transport. Under existing Bureau instructions, the final search will usually be conducted in a place of local detention...

11-1.4 Transportation of Arrested Persons

(2) It will usually be necessary for Agents to transport persons arrested from the place of arrest to the place of local detention... With one subject and two or more Agents/officers, one Agent/officer should ride in the rear seat with the subject. This Agent/officer should be seated directly behind the driver. When more than one subject is transported in an automobile, it is desirable to place the subjects in the rear seat of the car with one subject on the passenger side and the other in the middle. An Agent/officer should be positioned behind the driver and maintain strict control over the subjects. Every precaution should be taken during the planning of the arrest to ensure that adequate personnel with corresponding emergency vehicles are available to avoid a ratio of more than one subject per vehicle... Subjects should not be transported by only one Agent unless exigent circumstances or Agent safety dictate. The Bureau vehicle should be searched both before and subsequent to the transportation of any subject.

[redacted] Shortly afterwards, TFO [redacted] departed the scene, leaving SAs [redacted] with the detained individuals.

After learning of the shooting incident, SA [redacted] left SA [redacted] alone with [redacted] and [redacted] and returned to the Motel 6 parking lot. SA [redacted] ultimately transported [redacted] and [redacted] approximately 1.1 miles [redacted] to a parking lot adjacent to the Studio 6/Motel 6 parking lot. SA [redacted] did not conduct a search of [redacted] prior to transporting them and he was unaware if anyone had conducted a search after they were detained. In addition, SA [redacted] transported [redacted] to the New Orleans Police Department's Seventh District with the assistance of SA [redacted] b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7

Analysis 2b: INSD determined after the shooting incident, subject [redacted] was handcuffed after being taken out of Desdune's vehicle and left in a seated position at the rear and outside of the FBI vehicle which was directly behind Desdune's vehicle. [redacted] was subsequently left unattended and no high risk search was conducted by the arresting agents. b6 -7 b7C -7

Instruction 2a: SAC, New Orleans will ensure Agents are not left alone with multiple subjects.

Instruction 2b: SAC, New Orleans will ensure arrested subjects are transported in a Law Enforcement vehicle properly searched before and after transport.

Instruction 2c: SAC, New Orleans will ensure arrested subjects are transported with more than one Agent.

Instruction 2d: SAC, New Orleans will ensure high risk searches are conducted on subjects post-arrest.

Recommendation 2e: SAC, New Orleans should ensure all restrained subjects are properly controlled.

Observation 3: Executive Management was not notified of a high risk operation.

Analysis 3: DIOG Section 19.3.1 stated, "Whenever possible, SAC and USAO authority must be obtained before making a warrantless arrest. Agents are authorized to make warrantless arrests for any federal crime (felony or misdemeanor) committed in their presence. Agents also have authority to make warrantless felony arrests for a crime not committed in the presence of the Agent if there is probable cause to believe the person to be arrested committed a federal felony. A warrantless arrest must only be made when sound judgment indicates obtaining a warrant would unduly burden the investigation or substantially increase the potential for danger or escape."

The goal of the surveillance operation was to determine [redacted] in anticipation of executing an arrest warrant scheduled to be obtained in the afternoon. The objective of the surveillance changed when Desdunes was observed engaging in criminal activity. SAs [redacted]'s signed sworn statements indicated they decided to approach Desdunes [redacted] They b7E -1,4,6 b6 -1,7 b7C -1,7 intended to elicit Desdunes' cooperation, and if he refused, to conduct a probable cause arrest. They failed to notify their SSA, ASAC or the USAO when the purpose of the operation changed.

Upon reviewing the totality of the circumstances leading to the shooting incident, INSD determined the Agents had sufficient time to notify their management of the change of objective from surveillance to arrest. In addition, knowing Desdunes had attempted to escape during a previous detainment [redacted] there was an increased likelihood he would resist. Agents could have requested additional resources to assist in the arrest operation, including marked law enforcement vehicles, and obtained USAO concurrence for a probable cause arrest. Further, New Orleans agents had a court approved [redacted] ensuring Agents the ability to locate Desdunes if he left the location prior to the arrival of additional resources.

b7E -1,6

Recommendation 3: SAC, New Orleans should ensure executive management notification and authority is obtained prior to potential high risk operations.

Dear Sirs:

On July 30, 2013, Federal Bureau of Investigation Special Agents met at a Motel 6 in the City of New Orleans to arrest Allen Desdunes for distributing heroin. Based on the evidence presented and reviewed, the Agents believed that the actions they took were in the course of the performance of their duties and were necessary, proper, reasonable, and justified. In determining whether or not to institute prosecution arising from a fatal shooting of a suspect by Federal Law Enforcement Agents when acting in the course of effecting an arrest of a suspect for Federal Drug Law violations, local prosecutors are bound by the limitations of Federal Law granting immunity under the Supremacy Clause of the Constitution of the United States of America. The law does not require that the actions of a Federal Agent be in fact necessary or in retrospect justifiable, only that he reasonably thought it to be. Further, there is no indication that the Agents manifested malice towards the deceased. Therefore, this matter is being referred to the United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Louisiana for his review pursuant to Federal Law Standards because this office lacks the necessary jurisdiction to proceed. However, should you come to possess any information or evidence indicating that the Agents involved acted upon malice towards Mr. Desdunes, this office will further consider this matter.

Re: File 34-14-02

Agent [redacted]

I am writing in reference to the above file you submitted to my office for review. I have reviewed the file and based on the evidence gathered and interviews of the witnesses I have concluded that the only individual criminally culpable for any actions occurring during the shooting incident itself is [redacted]

b6 -4,7
b7C -4,7

Detective [redacted] of the Charlotte Mecklenburg Police Department was attempting to arrest Mr. [redacted] on an outstanding warrant for Armed Robbery at a residence in [redacted] South Carolina. He was accompanying local sheriff's deputies in a consent search of the home when he came upon Mr. [redacted] in an upstairs bedroom in possession of a firearm that he was pointing at the officer. Shots were exchanged.

Mr. [redacted] disputes he fired first but does not dispute that he was pointing a handgun at the officer who he knew to be attempting to arrest him. Indeed, it appears that the armed Mr. [redacted] was laying in wait for an officer to come through the door of the bedroom where he was hiding.

b7C -4,7

Detective [redacted] asserts the firing may have been simultaneous or [redacted] may have fired first. Under South Carolina law it is immaterial who fired first. Detective [redacted] was faced with a lethal threat through no fault of his own and was entitled to fire his weapon in self-defense the very moment he realized he was being menaced by Mr. [redacted] South Carolinians are generally a sporting bunch but neither our law nor our sense of fair play requires an individual to allow their assailant the first shot.

The use of force by Detective [redacted] was lawful and the level of force employed appropriate to the occasion. b6 -4 b7C -4

I am being forwarded the investigative file of the FBI and will review it upon receipt. If there is anything in that file that might cause me to reconsider my opinion I will alert you, otherwise I consider this aspect of the incident to be closed.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 08/29/2014, INSD provided SAC CE with observations, analysis, and recommendations resulting from the 07/31/2014 SIRG (297I-HQ-A4046109, serial 54). After a discussion between SAC CE and AD INSD, INSD revised Observation 1 and Recommendation 1c. The revision is included in the Observations provided below:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. As the application of deadly force in this instance involved a CMPD TFO rather than an Agent, the SIRG did not evaluate the application of deadly force with respect to whether it was in compliance with the Department of Justice's Deadly Force Policy. As TFO [redacted] was bound by the CMPD's Deadly Force Policy, his application of Deadly Force was evaluated by the CMPD. b6 -4 b7C -4

Analysis 1: Charlotte Squad CE08 responsibilities included supervision of the Violent Crime SSTF and the following threat issues: 1) Transnational Organized Crime West (TOC-West); 2) Transnational Organized Crime East (TOC-East); 3) Violent Incident Crimes-Domestic. Fugitive investigations were worked under the Violent Incident-Domestic threat issue.

Squad CE08 was led by SSA [redacted] and comprised of nine Agents and 14 full-time TFOs assigned to the Safe Streets Task Force (SSTF). Two of the 14 full-time TFOs were CMPD, officers [redacted] Prior to being assigned to the SSTF, TFOs [redacted] were assigned to CMPD's Violent Criminal Apprehension Team (VCAT). As members of the SSTF, their mission was to focus on the apprehension of dangerous fugitives where a federal investigative interest existed, and develop probable cause necessary to obtain UFAP warrants. There were no FBI Agents assigned to work fugitive investigations on Squad CE08. As such, TFOs [redacted] relied on other non-SSTF VCAT team members who were federally deputized to pursue FBI UFAP investigations. TFOs [redacted] also provided support to VCAT members in non-federal cases as needed. Both [redacted] and [redacted] participated in approximately 400 arrests during 2013. In contrast, Squad CE08 had 14 federal fugitive investigations pending during INSD's on-site review.

acknowledged receipt of TFO [redacted] s E-mail and requested specific addresses at which the TFOs would be pursuing the leads. SSA [redacted] reminded TFO [redacted] he needed to provide more advanced notice of potential operations to SSA [redacted] so he could make the necessary notifications to the Columbia Field Office and the Charlotte Criminal ASAC. b6 -4,7 b7C -4,7

After being notified of the above activity on 01/03/2014, SSA [redacted] immediately notified SSA [redacted] his counterpart in the Columbia Field Office, via FBI UNET E-mail. SSA [redacted] and SSA [redacted] had an arrangement whereby they notified each other in this manner when their squads needed to pursue leads in the other's AOR. It was also SSA [redacted] 's practice to notify his ASAC via telephone, E-mail, or Instant Messaging, although he does not recall notifying his ASAC of the activity on 01/03/2014. this investigation, prior to 01/07/2014. SSA [redacted] recalled after TFOs [redacted] obtained the information from the [redacted] they did meet in person at the Charlotte Field Office and discussed the information obtained regarding the [redacted] address. b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7

As per DIOG 7.1, a Full Investigation may be opened if there is an "articulable factual basis" of possible federal criminal or national threat activity. As a result of this incident, CID published an Electronic Communication (319W-HQ-A1487699-CID) dated 04/14/2014, to clarify Fugitive Investigation Policy, the Violent Crimes Unit (VCU) instructed fugitive matters be opened as [redacted] once the following standards were met: b7E -2

- [redacted]

b7E -5

The Charlotte UFAP opening Electronic Communication (EC)

verified an outstanding felony arrest warrant existed on [redacted] for Robbery With a Deadly Weapon. The EC did not articulate a factual basis for possible violations of federal law, did not document contact with the USAO, did not confirm a request for assistance from a local prosecutive authority, and did not set a lead to FBIHQ/VC/MOU for [redacted] factual review. b6 -7 b7C -7 b7E -5

There was no arrest plan prepared prior to the 01/07/2014 incident. Although there was not definitive information indicating [redacted] was at the residence, the TFOs acknowledged his presence was a possibility. As per DIOG 19.2.3 ARREST PLANS: b6 -7 b7C -7

*The ADIC/SAC is responsible to ensure that careful and thorough planning is conducted for the successful execution of a high risk arrest operation involving a potentially dangerous situation or subject. The arrest plan must be adapted to each situation and must include relevant details to enhance the safety and effectiveness of the agents and officers involved in the search operation. The SSA may consider utilizing, and/or alerting local authorities to the planned arrest, if appropriate under the circumstances. Although the time of notification is left to the discretion of the SSA, he/she must consider the jurisdiction of local law enforcement, its responsibility to its community and its need to be aware of law enforcement actions in its jurisdiction.

The term "Agent" in the context of this section includes FBI Special Agents and other federal, state, tribal, or local law enforcement officers who have been deputized under either Title 18 or 21 of the United States Code and are working on behalf of or at the direction of the FBI, e.g. task force officer, JTTF, etc.

INSD determined there was informal communication between TFOs and FBI personnel regarding the fugitive investigation prior to the incident on 01/07/2014. However, Charlotte lacked sufficient guidance or documentation outlining a strategy or expectations for TFOs while conducting federal investigations, to include a process by which detailed and timely information from TFOs was received to facilitate informed decisions and appropriate oversight. There was no documented squad guidance or protocol regarding fugitive investigations or specific responsibilities of VCAT and FBI personnel. The current FBI-CMPD Memorandum of Understanding signed on 05/01/2013, did not adequately address the TFOs responsibilities to communicate with FBI personnel during potential arrest situations.

Based on intelligence obtained from the interviews of [redacted] prior intelligence [redacted] worked in South Carolina, and the actions taken by the TFOs on site (use of LRAD and large law enforcement team), INSD assessed there was a reasonable presumption [redacted] would be at the residence. SSA [redacted] neglected his managerial responsibility to ensure there was logical operational planning with consideration of contingencies by permitting FBI TFOs to conduct FBI fugitive investigations with little more than an expectation of cursory notification of their investigative activities. SSA [redacted] acted as a mere conduit to the adjacent Field Office by only notifying the Columbia SSA via E-mail his TFOs would be in the Columbia AOR conducting a fugitive investigation. SSA [redacted] in his capacity as the SSA of the TFOs, should have been more engaged in the discussion and planning for what could have reasonably been expected to be an arrest scenario.

b7C -1,2,7

Instruction 1a: SAC, Charlotte will ensure UFAP investigations are worked in accordance with existing DIOG policy, the Fugitive Policy Guide, and recent CID guidance (319W-HQ-A1487699-CID, Serial 1081) on fugitive investigations.

Instruction 1b: SAC, Charlotte will ensure an operations plan is utilized when conducting a potential high risk arrest.

Recommendation 1c: SAC, Charlotte should ensure guidance is provided to Squad CE08, consistent with current DIOG policy, the Fugitive Policy Guide, and CID Guidance outlining UFAP investigative requirements and delineating TFOs' responsibilities to include those related to communication and command and control with FBI personnel, to facilitate informed decision making.

Recommendation 1d: SAC, Charlotte should ensure communications between supervisors and EM regarding TFO investigative actions are appropriately documented.

Observation 2: There was no documentation of SAC or designee approval for travel into another field office's area of responsibility for operational activity.

Analysis 2: Manual of Investigative Operations and Guidelines (MIOG) Part 2, Section 23-3.1 stated, "Investigative information from another field office is to be obtained by that office unless extraordinary haste requires direct communication. When the exigencies of a case, emergencies, or economy and common sense dictate, an employee, if authorized by his/her SAC, may enter the territory of another field office. The concurrence of the SAC of the entered office is to be obtained prior to the travel."

SSA [redacted] advised cross-border travel occurred frequently with Charlotte personnel traveling into South Carolina and South Carolina personnel, to include TFOs, traveling into North Carolina. This travel was common due to the close proximity of the state line to downtown Charlotte. SSA [redacted] and SSA [redacted] routinely coordinated the travel through unclassified E-mail. Per Charlotte, this practice was verbally approved by Charlotte and Columbia SACs, but not documented via EC.

Instruction 2: SAC, Charlotte will ensure SAC or designee approval is appropriately documented prior to operational travel into another field office's area of responsibility.

TFO [redacted] Officers [redacted] entered the bedroom located on the left side of the stairway. TFO [redacted] saw an individual seated or crouched on a bed with a handgun drawn and pointed at TFO [redacted] TFO [redacted] recognized this individual as [redacted] from a previously viewed photograph. TFO [redacted] immediately fired his weapon at [redacted] firing four rounds, striking [redacted] twice, once in each leg. Simultaneously, [redacted] discharged four rounds from a .22 caliber handgun at TFO [redacted]. Two of the .22 caliber rounds struck TFO [redacted] one in the left shoulder and one in the pelvic region. No other officers were injured. Both TFO [redacted] recovered from their wounds. b6 -4,7 b7C -4,7

SIRG Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 07/31/2014, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. As the application of deadly force in this instance involved a CMPD TFO rather than an Agent, the SIRG did not evaluate the application of deadly force with respect to whether it was in compliance with the Department of Justice's Deadly Force Policy. As TFO [redacted] was bound by the CMPD's Deadly Force Policy, his application of Deadly Force was evaluated by the CMPD. b6 -4 b7C -4

2. Provide the Director with evaluative analyses, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions concerning operational planning and execution, training, and/or safety issues.

Observation 1: The [redacted] UFAP investigation lacked managerial oversight, and was not conducted in accordance with CID Fugitive Policy. b6 -7 b7C -7

Analysis 1: Charlotte Squad CE08 responsibilities included supervision of the Violent Crime SSTF and the following threat issues: 1) Transnational Organized Crime West (TOC-West); 2) Transnational Organized Crime East (TOC-East); 3) Violent Incident Crimes-Domestic. Fugitive investigations were worked under the Violent Incident-Domestic threat issue.

Squad CE08 was led by SSA [redacted] and comprised of nine Agents and 14 full-time TFOs assigned to the Safe Streets Task Force (SSTF). Two of the 14 full-time TFOs were CMPD, officers [redacted] Prior to being assigned to the SSTF, TFOs [redacted] were assigned to CMPD's Violent Criminal Apprehension Team (VCAT). As members of the SSTF, their mission was to focus on the apprehension of dangerous fugitives where a federal investigative interest existed, and develop probable cause necessary to obtain UFAP warrants. There were no FBI Agents assigned to work fugitive investigations on Squad CE08. As such, TFOs [redacted] relied on other non-SSTF VCAT team members who were federally deputized to pursue FBI UFAP investigations. TFOs [redacted] also provided support to VCAT members in non-federal cases as needed. Both [redacted] and [redacted] participated in approximately 400 arrests during 2013. In contrast, Squad CE08 had 14 federal fugitive investigations pending during INSD's on-site review. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 Investigation (88A-CE-3900107) on 12/18/2013. The predication for this investigation was a state arrest warrant for [redacted] based on an Armed Robbery of a fast food restaurant where [redacted] On Friday, 01/03/2014, TFO [redacted] notified CE08 SSA [redacted] via UNET E-mail, that he and TFO [redacted] were traveling to [redacted] South Carolina to pursue a lead on the [redacted] UFAP investigation. TFO [redacted] also stated they would be pursuing a lead in an unrelated [redacted] case ([redacted] in [redacted] South Carolina and meeting with the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division (SLED). SSA [redacted] acknowledged receipt of TFO [redacted]s E-mail and requested specific addresses at which the TFOs would be pursuing the leads. SSA [redacted] reminded TFO [redacted] he needed to provide more advanced notice of potential operations to SSA [redacted] so he could make the necessary notifications to the Columbia Field Office and the Charlotte Criminal ASAC.

b7C -1,4,7

After being notified of the above activity on 01/03/2014, SSA [redacted] immediately notified SSA [redacted] his counterpart in the Columbia Field Office, via FBI UNET E-mail. SSA [redacted] and SSA [redacted] had an arrangement whereby they notified each other in this manner when their squads needed to pursue leads in the other's AOR. It was also SSA [redacted]'s practice to notify his ASAC via telephone, E-mail, or Instant Messaging, although he does not recall notifying his ASAC of the activity on 01/03/2014. On occasion, SSA [redacted]'s ASAC would seek additional information on a matter after electronically acknowledging receipt. The SIRT was unable to determine if such notification was made to the ASAC by SSA [redacted].

Since no vehicles were parked in the driveway when the TFOs drove by, TFO [redacted] notified SSA [redacted] they were going to make contact the following morning. SSA [redacted] again notified SSA [redacted] of these developments. However, SSA [redacted] was not certain if he notified ASAC [redacted] ASAC [redacted] was also uncertain if he received an Instant Message from SSA [redacted] on 01/06/2014, regarding the noted investigation and the intended investigative steps. ASAC [redacted] remembered no other communications with SSA [redacted] including E-mail, telephonic, or otherwise, regarding this investigation, prior to 01/07/2014. SSA [redacted] recalled after TFOs [redacted] obtained the information from the [redacted] they did meet in person at the Charlotte Field Office and discussed the information obtained regarding the [redacted] address.

As per DIOG 7.1, a Full Investigation may be opened if there is an "articulable factual basis" of possible federal criminal or national threat activity. As a result of this incident, CID published an Electronic Communication (319W-HQ-A1487699-CID) dated 04/14/2014, to clarify Fugitive Investigation Policy, the Violent Crimes Unit (VCU) instructed fugitive matters be opened as [redacted] once the following standards were met:

INSD determined there was informal communication between TFOs and FBI personnel regarding the fugitive investigation prior to the incident on 01/07/2014. However, Charlotte lacked sufficient guidance or documentation outlining a strategy or expectations for TFOs while conducting federal investigations, to include a process by which detailed and timely information from TFOs was received to facilitate informed decisions and appropriate oversight. There was no documented squad policy or protocol regarding fugitive investigations or specific responsibilities of VCAT and FBI personnel. The current FBI-CMPD Memorandum of Understanding signed on 05/01/2013, did not adequately address the TFOs responsibilities to communicate with FBI personnel during potential arrest situations.

Based on intelligence obtained from the interviews of [redacted] prior intelligence [redacted] worked in South Carolina, and the actions taken by the TFOs on site (use of LRAD and large law enforcement team), INSD assessed there was a reasonable presumption [redacted] would be at the residence. SSA [redacted] neglected his managerial responsibility to ensure there was logical operational planning with consideration of contingencies by permitting FBI TFOs to conduct FBI fugitive investigations with little more than an expectation of cursory notification of their investigative activities. SSA [redacted] acted as a mere conduit to the adjacent Field Office by only notifying the Columbia SSA via E-mail his TFOs would be in the Columbia AOR conducting a fugitive investigation. SSA [redacted] in his capacity as the SSA of the TFOs, should have been more engaged in the discussion and planning for what could have reasonably been expected to be an arrest scenario.

b7C -1,2,7

Instruction 1a: SAC, Charlotte will ensure UFAP investigations are worked in accordance with existing DIOG policy, the Fugitive Policy Guide, and recent CID guidance (319W-HQ-A1487699-CID, Serial 1081) on fugitive investigations.

Instruction 1b: SAC, Charlotte will ensure an operations plan is utilized when conducting a potential high risk arrest.

Recommendation 1a: SAC, Charlotte should coordinate with CID to ensure a squad fugitive policy is developed, delineating TFOs' responsibilities regarding communication and command and control with FBI personnel, to facilitate informed decision making.

Recommendation 1b: SAC, Charlotte should ensure communications between supervisors and EM regarding TFO investigative actions are appropriately documented.

Observation 2: There was no documentation of SAC or designee approval for travel into another field office's area of responsibility for operational activity.

Analysis 2: Manual of Investigative Operations and Guidelines (MIOG) Part 2, Section 23-3.1 stated, "Investigative information from another field office is to be obtained by that office unless extraordinary haste requires direct communication. When the exigencies of a case, emergencies, or economy and common sense dictate, an employee, if authorized by his/her SAC, may enter the territory of another field office. The concurrence of the SAC of the entered office is to be obtained prior to the travel."

SSA [redacted] advised cross-border travel occurred frequently with Charlotte personnel traveling into South Carolina and South Carolina personnel, to include TFOs, traveling into North Carolina. This travel was common due to the close proximity of the state line to downtown Charlotte. SSA [redacted] and SSA [redacted] routinely coordinated the travel through unclassified E-mail. Per Charlotte, this practice was verbally approved by Charlotte and Columbia SACs, but not documented via EC.

Instruction 2: SAC, Charlotte will ensure SAC or designee approval is appropriately documented prior to operational travel into another field office's area of responsibility.

3. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. As the application of deadly force in this instance involved a CMPD TFO rather than an Agent, the SIRG made no administrative action recommendations; deferring to the CMPD review of the application of deadly force. As it related to FBI personnel, the SIRG made no administrative recommendations.

REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT;
CHARLOTTE FIELD OFFICE;
01/07/2014

Investigative Period: 01/07/2014 – 03/27/2014

I. Executive Summary

(U//~~FOUO~~) On December 12, 2013, the Charlotte Mecklenburg, North Carolina, Police Department (CMPD) obtained an arrest warrant for [redacted] for the Armed Robbery of a Jack in the Box restaurant located in Pineville, North Carolina. After receiving information [redacted] may have fled North Carolina to South Carolina, on December 18, 2013, CMPD TFO [redacted] assigned to the Charlotte Field Office Violent Crimes Safe Streets Task Force (SSTF), opened a [redacted] Investigation. TFO [redacted]'s duties on the SSTF were to conduct violent fugitive investigations. This investigation was opened to allow investigative steps to be conducted to determine if [redacted] did in fact flee the state to avoid prosecution. b6 -4,7 b7C -4,7 b7E -2

U//~~FOUO~~) On January 7, 2014, at approximately 6:12 a.m., TFOs [redacted] and [redacted] accompanied by three CMPD Violent Criminal Apprehension Team (VCAT) officers and four deputies from the York County, South Carolina, Sheriff's Office (YCSO), drove to [redacted] South Carolina. A vehicle known to belong to [redacted] the known [redacted] was in the driveway of the residence. For approximately 25 minutes, the Charlotte TFOs attempted to get [redacted] to answer the front door. These attempts included repeated knocks on the door, verbal requests through an open bedroom window, and the use of a police Long Range Acoustical Device (LRAD), a device which amplified and directed speech. [redacted] answered the door at approximately 6:37 a.m. [redacted] told the TFOs [redacted] was not in the residence and provided verbal consent to a cursory search. b6 -4,7 b7C -4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) TFO [redacted] CMPD, North Carolina, Officers [redacted] Lieutenant [redacted] and YCSO, South Carolina, Deputy [redacted] entered the residence. TFO [redacted] Officers [redacted] accompanied by Deputy [redacted] proceeded upstairs to clear two bedrooms. TFO [redacted] and Officers [redacted] entered the bedroom located on the left side of the stairway. TFO [redacted] saw an individual seated or crouched on a bed b6 -4 b7C -4 with a handgun drawn and pointed at TFO [redacted] TFO [redacted] recognized this individual as [redacted] from a previously viewed photograph. TFO [redacted] immediately fired his weapon at [redacted] firing four rounds, striking [redacted] twice, once in each leg. Simultaneously, [redacted] discharged four rounds from a .22 caliber handgun at TFO [redacted] Two of the .22 caliber rounds struck TFO [redacted] one in the left shoulder and one in the pelvic region. TFO [redacted] was assisted out of the room by other officers. Two YCSO, South Carolina, deputies entered the room following the shooting, handcuffed [redacted] and secured [redacted]'s weapon without further incident. During the arrest, [redacted] told the deputies he wanted to die and wished the officers had killed him.

b7C -4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) The shooting scene was processed by the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division (SLED), who, at the request of the York County, South Carolina, Sheriff, took the lead on the investigation. Voluntary statements were obtained by SLED from all officers and deputies involved in the incident, with the exception of TFOs [redacted] whose statements were documented through FD-302s. All voluntary statements, evidentiary reports, and photos were provided to the SIRT by the SLED and the York County Sheriff's Office.

c. Case Review and Operational Briefings

(U//~~FOUO~~) On December 12, 2013, investigation by the CMPD, North Carolina, developed probable cause that [redacted] committed the offense of Robbery with a Dangerous Weapon (Gun), a felony offense punishable by up to 10 years in prison under the laws of the State of North Carolina. CMPD, North Carolina, detectives obtained an arrest warrant for the subject on December 12, 2013, for the Armed Robbery of a Jack in the Box restaurant located in Pineville, North Carolina. Initial law enforcement efforts to locate the subject in and around Charlotte, North Carolina were unsuccessful. Based on unsuccessful investigative efforts and the belief the subject may have traveled interstate to South Carolina with the intent to avoid prosecution, FBI Charlotte opened a unlawful flight to avoid prosecution (UFAP) [redacted] Investigation (88A-CE-3900107). This investigation was opened to allow investigative steps to be conducted to determine if [redacted] did in fact flee the state to avoid prosecution.

(U//~~FOUO~~) A review of the opening communication showed that an arrest warrant was Obtained on December 12, 2013, charging [redacted] with Robbery With a Deadly Weapon. The communication did not cite a specific reason why [redacted] was believed to have traveled interstate with the intent to avoid prosecution, only it was reasonable to believe he did. SIRT interviews revealed the basis for the belief [redacted] may have traveled interstate was due to the close proximity to the South Carolina state line (approximately four miles) and [redacted] had a [redacted] who resided in South Carolina. The opening communication did not address any of the other criteria outlined in Sections 3.4.2 and 4.2.2.

d. Events Leading Up to the Day of the Shooting

(U//~~FOUO~~) On January 3, 2014, at 7:33 a.m., TFO [redacted] sent an unclassified E-mail to SSA [redacted], Charlotte Squad CE08/SSTF, indicating he and TFO [redacted] were heading to [redacted], South Carolina to conduct an investigation on [redacted]. A wanted poster of [redacted] was attached to the E-mail. TFO [redacted] noted in the E-mail they would also be driving by an address in [redacted] South Carolina to look for a [redacted] suspect connected to one of TFO [redacted]'s SSTF fugitive investigations. TFO [redacted] wrote in the E-mail they would be meeting up with SLED, and FBI investigative cases were open on both, [redacted] and the [redacted] subject. SSA [redacted] requested both addresses, which were provided by TFO [redacted]. During the interview of SSA [redacted] by SIRT members, SSA [redacted] advised he had reminded TFO [redacted] he needed to give him more notice of potential operations so proper notification could be made to the Columbia Division and his ASAC. At 8:04 a.m., SSA [redacted] sent an unclassified E-mail to SSA [redacted] Columbia Field Office and requested permission for his TFOs to travel into the Columbia Division area of responsibility (AOR) to conduct the investigations. SSA [redacted] acknowledged receipt of SSA [redacted]'s E-mail. TFOs [redacted] met with members of the Chester County, South Carolina, Sheriff's Office (CCSO) at [redacted] South Carolina. The residence belonged to [redacted] and was identified through open source record checks. TFOs [redacted] along with members of the CCSO, conducted a consent search of the residence. [redacted] was not located, and [redacted] did not provide any information on [redacted]' whereabouts.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On January 6, 2014, at 10:34 a.m., SSA [redacted] sent an unclassified E-mail to SSA [redacted] advising him his TFOs received a lead on [redacted] and they were en route to [redacted] South Carolina. At 10:41 a.m., TFO [redacted] sent an unclassified E-mail to SSA [redacted] advising they drove by the residence and there were no vehicles in the driveway. TFO [redacted] notified SSA [redacted] they would attempt contact the morning of January 7, 2014. During the SIRT interview of SSA [redacted] SSA [redacted] believed he notified ASAC [redacted] via instant messenger (IM) the TFOs would be traveling to the [redacted].

[redacted] South Carolina address on January 7, 2014. SIRT investigation could not corroborate if this IM was sent, and ASAC [redacted] could not state for certain he received the IM. During the SIRT interview, SSA [redacted] advised cross border travel occurred frequently with Charlotte personnel traveling into South Carolina and South Carolina personnel, to include TFOs, traveling into North Carolina. This travel was common due to the close proximity of the state line to downtown Charlotte. SSA [redacted] and SSA [redacted] routinely coordinated the travel through unclassified E-mail, which although not documented via EC, was approved by Charlotte and Columbia SACs.

e. Shooting Incident Details

(U//~~FOUO~~) There was no Arrest or Operations Plan prepared prior to the incident. An operational briefing was conducted the morning of the shooting incident, January 7, 2014. The briefing was conducted by TFO [redacted] in a parking lot near [redacted] South Carolina. TFO [redacted] briefed all personnel that a "Knock and Talk" would be conducted at the residence to determine if [redacted] was present and could provide any information on the whereabouts of [redacted] As customary with fugitive-related "Knock and Talks" conducted by the VCAT, the TFOs planned for the possibility [redacted] could be in the residence. This planning consisted of [redacted]

(U//~~FOUO~~) On January 7, 2014, at approximately 6:12 a.m., TFOs [redacted] accompanied by three CMPD, North Carolina VCAT officers and four YCSO, South Carolina deputies drove to [redacted] South Carolina. A vehicle known to belong to [redacted] was in the driveway of the residence. For approximately 25 minutes, the Charlotte TFOs attempted to get [redacted] to answer the front door. These attempts included repeated knocks on the door and verbal requests through an open bedroom window. TFO [redacted] through the use of a LRAD, called out the address, identified the persons present outside the house as law enforcement officers of the "York County Sheriff's Office," and directed the occupant(s) to answer the front door. Using the LRAD and believing [redacted] was present, TFO [redacted] called her out by name. After using the LRAD for approximately 15 minutes, [redacted] answered the front door. [redacted] identified as [redacted] told the TFOs [redacted] was not in the residence, and she provided verbal consent to a cursory search. [redacted] told the officers [redacted] were upstairs in their bedroom of the residence.

first floor with [redacted] TFO [redacted] searched and cleared the upstairs hallway bathroom before TFO [redacted] and Officer [redacted] assumed a position of cover on the door of the bedroom located on the left at the top of the stairs. The door to this room was closed, but not locked. Simultaneously, Officer [redacted] and Deputy [redacted] entered the bedroom located on the right at the top of the stairs. They confirmed the [redacted] was in the bedroom on the right, and spoke with him briefly. Officers decided they would not move the [redacted] to the first floor. b6 -2,4,7 b7C -2,4,7 (U//~~FOUO~~) While watching the door of the bedroom on the left of the stairs, TFO [redacted] heard the presence of a dog. TFO [redacted] directed Officer [redacted] to contact [redacted] downstairs and request she remove the dog. [redacted] complied with the request, and while she was in the bedroom spoke to no one. [redacted] provided no information to TFO [redacted] or other officers regarding the presence of anyone in the bedroom.

(U//~~FOUO~~) TFO [redacted], Officer [redacted] and Officer [redacted] then entered the bedroom at the left of the stairs. TFO [redacted] was the first person through the door with his Smith and Wesson M & P .40 caliber semi-automatic hand gun drawn. The weapon was loaded with 15 rounds in the magazine and one in the chamber and it was equipped with a flashlight. TFO [redacted] was also wearing a ballistic protection vest with visible police markings. Upon entering, TFO [redacted] noted the lights were not turned on in the bedroom and the area was completely dark except from the light on his weapon. Due to a recess in the wall, TFO [redacted]'s view of the room was limited. TFO [redacted] could not see all of the room to the right due to the bedroom door and restriction of its movement by the wall or furniture. Limited space in the entryway of the room prohibited either of the other officers from entering the room with TFO [redacted] TFO [redacted] progressed further into the room and cleared the portion to the left and observed no one present. Upon sweeping to the right, TFO [redacted] saw an individual seated or crouched on a bed. He had a handgun drawn and pointed at TFO [redacted] TFO [redacted] recognized this individual as [redacted] from a previously viewed photograph. TFO [redacted] immediately fired his weapon at [redacted] four times, striking him twice, once in each leg. Simultaneously, [redacted] fired a .22 caliber handgun at TFO [redacted] discharging four rounds. Two rounds struck TFO [redacted], one in the left shoulder and one in the pelvic region. TFO [redacted] believed he fired first. TFO [redacted] attempted to re-holster his weapon, but dropped the weapon on the floor. TFO [redacted] retreated from the room, notified the other officers he had been shot, and he had dropped his weapon in the room. He then moved downstairs assisted by other officers to seek medical attention. YCSO, South Carolina Deputies [redacted] then entered the room following the shooting, handcuffed [redacted] and secured [redacted] weapon, a Ruger .22 caliber pistol, without further incident. During his arrest, [redacted] told the deputies he wanted to die and wished the officers had killed him. The YCSO, South Carolina deputies also recovered TFO [redacted]'s weapon from the room. b6 -4,7 b7C -4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs) responded to [redacted] [redacted] South Carolina and transported TFO [redacted] across state line, to Carolina's Health Care System in Charlotte, North Carolina. b6 -4,7 b7C -4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) The shooting scene at [redacted] South Carolina, was processed by the SLED, who, at the request of the York County, South Carolina Sheriff, took lead on the investigation. Voluntary statements were obtained by SLED from all officers and deputies involved in the incident, with the exception of TFOs [redacted] whose statements were documented through FD-302s. All voluntary statements were provided to the SIRT. All other evidentiary reports and photos were provided to the SIRT by SLED and the YCSO. FBI Charlotte Agents conducted a canvass of the neighborhood for the SIRT. b6 -4,7 b7C -4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) Statements taken from officers and deputies who observed the actions taken by TFO [redacted] corroborated his account of the shooting. No other law enforcement officers fired their weapons, and no other officers or deputies were injured. A loaded .22 caliber handgun was recovered in the bedroom.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On January 7, 2014, [redacted] was arrested and charged with Obstruction of Justice by the YCSO, South Carolina.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On January 8, 2014, [redacted] was interviewed at the hospital by SLED Agent [redacted] and SA [redacted] Columbia Division. [redacted] admitted to pointing his gun at TFO [redacted] and stated the officer had a right to shoot him. [redacted] said TFO [redacted] shot him in the legs first and he fired at TFO [redacted] to get him to shoot higher. [redacted] advised he wanted the officers to kill him. b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) On January 9, 2014, after being released from the hospital, [redacted] was taken into federal custody for the December 12, 2013, Armed Robbery of the Jack in the Box restaurant.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On January 10, 2014, a criminal complaint was signed by United States Magistrate Judge David S. Cayer, for the United States District Court in the Western District of North Carolina, charging [redacted] for Hobbs Act Robbery in violation of Title 18 USC Section 1951, related to the robbery of the Pineville, North Carolina Jack in the Box restaurant he committed on December 12, 2013.

g. Accounting of Shots Fired

(U//~~FOUO~~) TFO [redacted] fired four .40 caliber rounds at [redacted] striking him twice, once in each leg. The remaining two rounds were recovered from the bedroom wall behind the bed. Four .40 caliber shell casings were recovered at the scene. The number of rounds fired (four) and the number of rounds remaining in TFO [redacted]'s firearm (twelve) corroborated he carried his semi-automatic handgun fully loaded with 15 rounds in the magazine and one round in the chamber. A round count was conducted by SLED investigators of all TFOs, CMPD officers, and YCSO, South Carolina deputies in the proximity of the scene to verify no other personnel fired their weapon. b6 -4,7 b7C -4,7

d. Local Prosecutorial Decision

(U//~~FOUO~~) On January 7, 2014, IIC Bretzing and TL [redacted] met with District Attorney (DA) for the Sixteenth Judicial Circuit York and Union Counties, Kevin S. Brackett. Based on the facts presented, the DA did not see any issues regarding the use of deadly force. b6 -4,7 b7C -4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) On March 3, 2014, DA Brackett (also known as "Solicitor") notified INSD via E-mail, based on his review of the SLED investigative reports, the officers were justified in their use of force and level of force employed by them was appropriate given the nature of threat posed by [redacted] An official declination letter was received by INSD on March 27, 2014.

VI. Inspector's Draft Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 1: The [redacted] UFAP investigation lacked managerial oversight, and was not conducted in accordance with CID Fugitive Policy. b6 -7 b7C -7

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 1: Squad CE08 responsibilities included supervision of the Violent Crime SSTF and the following threat issues: 1) Transnational Organized Crime West (TOC-West); 2) Transnational Organized Crime East (TOC-East); 3) Violent Incident Crimes-Domestic. Fugitive investigations were worked under the Violent Incident-Domestic threat issue.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Charlotte Squad CE08 was led by SSA [redacted] and comprised of nine Agents and 14 full-time TFOs assigned to the Safe Streets Task Force (SSTF). Two of the 14 full-time TFOs were CMPD, North Carolina officers [redacted] Prior to being assigned to the SSTF, TFOs [redacted] were assigned to CMPD, North Carolina's Violent Criminal Apprehension Team (VCAT). As members of the SSTF, their mission was to focus on the apprehension of dangerous fugitives where a federal investigative interest existed, and develop probable cause necessary to obtain UFAP warrants. There were no FBI Agents assigned to work fugitive investigations on Squad CE08. As such, TFOs [redacted] relied on other non-SSTF VCAT team members who were federally deputized to pursue FBI UFAP investigations. TFOs [redacted] also provided support to VCAT members in non-federal cases as needed. Both [redacted] participated in approximately 400 arrests during the past year. In contrast, Squad CE08 had 14 federal fugitive investigations pending during INSD's on-site review. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) TFO [redacted] opened [redacted] as a [redacted] Investigation (88A-CE-3900107) on December 18, 2013. The predication for this investigation was a state arrest warrant for [redacted] based on an Armed Robbery of a fast food restaurant where [redacted] On Friday, January 3, 2014, TFO [redacted] notified CE08 SSA [redacted] via UNET E-mail, that he and TFO [redacted] were traveling to [redacted] South Carolina to pursue a lead on the [redacted] UFAP investigation. TFO [redacted] also stated they would be pursuing a lead in an unrelated [redacted] case ( [redacted] in [redacted] South Carolina and meeting with the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division (SLED). SSA [redacted] acknowledged receipt of TFO [redacted] 's E-mail and requested specific addresses at which the TFOs would be pursuing the leads. SSA [redacted] reminded TFO [redacted] he needed to provide more advanced notice of potential b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7 operations to SSA [redacted] so he could make the necessary notifications to the Columbia Field Office and the Charlotte Criminal ASAC. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) After being notified of the above activity on January 3, 2014, SSA [redacted] immediately notified SSA [redacted] his counterpart in the Columbia Field Office, via FBI UNET E-mail. SSA [redacted] and SSA [redacted] had an arrangement whereby they notified each other in this manner when their squads needed to pursue leads in the other's AOR. It was also SSA [redacted] s practice to notify his ASAC via telephone, E-mail, or Instant Messaging, although he does not recall notifying his ASAC of the activity on January 3, 2014. On occasion, SSA [redacted] 's ASAC would seek additional information on a matter after electronically acknowledging receipt. The SIRT was unable to determine if such notification was made to the ASAC by SSA [redacted]

(U//~~FOUO~~) On Monday, January 6, 2014, TFOs [redacted] traveled to a [redacted] in [redacted] South Carolina to pursue another lead on [redacted] SSA [redacted] was not notified by the TFOs prior to going to the [redacted] At the [redacted] TFOs [redacted] learned a [redacted] lived at [redacted] South Carolina. [redacted] was known to drive a [redacted] minivan. TFO [redacted] notified SSA [redacted] via UNET E-mail of the investigation's developments, indicated he had requested assistance from the York County Sheriff's Office, and was proceeding to the [redacted] address. Since no vehicles were parked in the driveway when the TFOs drove by, TFO [redacted] notified SSA [redacted] they were going to make contact the following morning. SSA [redacted] again notified SSA [redacted] of these developments. However, SSA [redacted] was not certain if he notified ASAC [redacted] ASAC [redacted] was also uncertain if he received an Instant Message from SSA [redacted] on January 6, 2014, regarding the noted investigation and the intended investigative steps. ASAC [redacted] remembered no other communications with SSA [redacted] including E-mail, telephonic, or otherwise, regarding this investigation, prior to January 7, 2014. SSA [redacted] recalled after TFOs [redacted] obtained the information from the [redacted] they did meet in person at the Charlotte Field Office and discussed the information obtained regarding the [redacted] address. SSA [redacted] viewed the TFOs going to the residence as following up on lead information, as they had done on January 3, 2014 and January 6, 2014. b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) As per DIOG 7.1, a Full Investigation may be opened if there is an "articulable factual basis" of possible federal criminal or national threat activity. Per CID Electronic Communication (319W-HQ-A1487699-CID) dated April 14, 2014, regarding Fugitive Investigation Policy, the Violent Crimes Unit (VCU) instructed fugitive matters be opened as [redacted] once the following standards were met: b7E -2,5

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Charlotte UFAP opening Electronic Communication (EC) verified an outstanding felony arrest warrant existed on [redacted] for Robbery With a Deadly Weapon. The EC did not articulate a factual basis for possible violations of federal law, did not document contact with the USAO, did not confirm a request for assistance from a local prosecutive authority, and did not set a lead to FBIHQ/VC/MOU for [redacted] factual review. b6 -7 b7C -7 b7E -5

(U//~~FOUO~~) There was no arrest plan prepared prior to the January 7, 2014 incident. Although there was not definitive information indicating [redacted] was at the residence, the TFOs acknowledged his presence was a possibility. As per DIOG 19.2.3 ARREST PLANS: b6 -7 b7C -7

(U) The SSA may consider utilizing, and/or alerting local authorities to the planned arrest, if appropriate under the circumstances. Although the time of notification is left to the discretion of the SSA, he/she must consider the jurisdiction of local law enforcement, its responsibility to its community and its need to be aware of law enforcement actions in its jurisdiction.

(U) The term "Agent" in the context of this section includes FBI Special Agents and other federal, state, tribal, or local law enforcement officers who have been deputized under either Title 18 or 21 of the United States Code and are working on behalf of or at the direction of the FBI, e.g. task force officer, JTTF, etc.

(U//~~FOUO~~) INSD determined there was informal communication between TFOs and FBI personnel regarding the fugitive investigation prior to the incident on January 7, 2014. However, Charlotte lacked sufficient guidance or documentation outlining a strategy or expectations for TFOs while conducting federal investigations, to include a process by which detailed and timely information from TFOs was received to facilitate informed decisions and appropriate oversight. There was no documented squad policy or protocol regarding fugitive investigations or specific responsibilities of VCAT and FBI personnel. The current FBI-CMPD Memorandum of Understanding signed on May 1, 2013, did not adequately address the TFOs responsibilities to communicate with FBI personnel during potential arrest situations.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Based on intelligence obtained from the interviews of [redacted], [redacted] prior intelligence [redacted] worked in South Carolina, and the actions taken by the TFOs on site (use of LRAD and large law enforcement team), INSD assessed there was a reasonable presumption [redacted] would be at the residence. SSA [redacted] neglected his managerial responsibility to ensure there was logical operational planning with consideration of contingencies by permitting FBI TFOs to conduct FBI fugitive investigations with little more than an expectation of cursory notification of their investigative activities. SSA [redacted] acted as a mere conduit to the adjacent Field Office by only notifying the Columbia SSA via E-mail his TFOs would be in the Columbia AOR conducting a fugitive investigation. SSA [redacted] in his capacity as the SSA of the TFOs, should have been more engaged in the discussion and planning for what could have reasonably been expected to be an arrest scenario. b6 -1,2,7 b7C -1,2,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 1a: SAC, Charlotte should ensure UFAP investigations are worked in accordance with existing DIOG policy, the Fugitive Policy Guide, and recent CID guidance (319W-HQ-A1487699-CID, Serial 1081) on fugitive investigations.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 1c: SAC, Charlotte should ensure communications between supervisors and EM regarding TFO investigative actions are appropriately documented.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 1d: SAC, Charlotte should ensure an operations plan is utilized when conducting a high risk arrest.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 2: There was no documentation of SAC or designee approval for travel into another field office's area of responsibility for operational activity.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2: Manual of Investigative Operations and Guidelines (MIOG) Part 2, Section 23-3.1 stated, "Investigative information from another field office is to be obtained by that office unless extraordinary haste requires direct communication. When the exigencies of a case, emergencies, or economy and common sense dictate, an employee, if authorized by his/her SAC, may enter the territory of another field office. The concurrence of the SAC of the entered office is to be obtained prior to the travel."

(U//~~FOUO~~) SSA [redacted] advised cross border travel occurred frequently with Charlotte personnel traveling into South Carolina and South Carolina personnel, to include TFOs, traveling into North Carolina. This travel was common due to the close proximity of the state line to downtown Charlotte. SSA [redacted] and SSA [redacted] routinely coordinated the travel through unclassified E-mail. Per Charlotte, this practice was verbally approved by Charlotte and Columbia SACs, but not documented via EC. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 2: SAC, Charlotte will ensure SAC or designee approval is appropriately documented prior to operational travel into another field office's area of responsibility.

Fifth Quarter Sports Bar & Pizzeria in East Peoria, Illinois. The purpose of the visit was to attend [redacted]'s high school reunion. b6 -4 b7C -4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Jason A. Moore, born 10/12/1973, entered the establishment at about 7:45 P.M. and had a brief conversation with the greeter at the door. At approximately 7:49 P.M., he drew a Sig Sauer 9mm handgun with a laser sight, walked a short distance into the bar, and shot his ex-wife, Lori A. Moore, and her boyfriend, Lance Griffel, once each in the head. Jason Moore then walked back to the greeting area. Jason Moore pointed his handgun at his own head as well as at a crowded dining area where SA [redacted] was standing. While the weapon was pointed at his head, Jason Moore fired one round in what appeared to be a suicide attempt; however, the bullet only grazed his left cheek. As Jason Moore pointed the weapon at the crowded dining area, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his Bureau-issued Glock 23 .40 caliber handgun hitting Jason Moore once in the shoulder and once in the upper right side of his torso. Jason Moore died at the scene. Lori Moore and Lance Griffel were transported to the Order of Saint Francis Medical Center in Peoria, Illinois, where they were pronounced dead. There were no other injuries. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) An autopsy of Jason Moore determined the cause of death to be a gunshot wound which punctured his aorta. Jason Moore's toxicology report listed the ethanol alcohol level in his blood as 0.354. The report also indicated the presence of a prescription antidepressant. Interviews conducted by local authorities indicated Jason Moore had ongoing issues with Lori Moore regarding their divorce, which occurred about one year earlier. Text messages reviewed from the day of the incident revealed several messages between Jason Moore and Lori Moore where Jason complained of matters such as child custody, support payments, and Lori Moore's new boyfriend. The last text message from Jason Moore to Lori Moore was sent at 7:14 P.M. and read, "anywho, I'm gonna show up just to piss you off." Another interview with a friend of Lori Moore indicated at about the same time Lori stated Jason was going to ruin her night.

SIRG Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 10/21/2014, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG voted unanimously the application of deadly force by SA [redacted] on 06/14/2014 was in compliance with the Department of Justice Deadly Force Policy. b6 -1 b7C -1

2. Provide the Director with evaluative analyses, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions concerning operational planning and execution, training, and/or safety issues. The SIRG determined SA [redacted] took appropriate actions to protect himself and others from the imminent threat posed by Jason Moore. Therefore, the SIRG did not propose any observations.

3. Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. The SIRG recommended no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in the 06/14/2014 shooting incident. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Acting Deputy Assistant Director David Paul Gelios, INSD, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting Board Member. ## I. Executive Summary

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 06/14/2014, at approximately 7:36 p.m., SA [redacted] and [redacted] an FBI Task Force Officer (TFO), arrived at The Fifth Quarter Sports Bar & Pizzeria, 1110 North Main Street, East Peoria, Illinois 61611. SA [redacted] were at the bar to attend [redacted] high school reunion. SA [redacted] was at the bar for only a few minutes when Jason A. Moore, DOB 10/12/1973, entered the establishment. Jason Moore had a brief conversation with the greeter at the door. At approximately 7:45 p.m., Moore drew a 9 mm handgun, walked a short distance into the bar, and shot his ex-wife, Lori A. Moore, and her boyfriend, Lance Griffel, once each in the head. Lori Moore and Lance Griffel were also at the bar to attend the high school reunion. Jason Moore then walked back towards the front door of the establishment. He stopped just inside the doorway and faced a crowded dining area of the bar. Moore pointed his handgun at his own head as well as a crowded dining area where SA [redacted] was standing. Jason Moore fired one round while the weapon was pointed at his head in what appeared to be a suicide attempt; however, the bullet only grazed his left cheek. SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his Glock .40 caliber handgun hitting Jason Moore once in the shoulder and once in the upper right side of the torso. Jason Moore died at the scene.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Lori Moore and Lance Griffel were transported to the Order of Saint Francis Medical Center in Peoria, Illinois, where they were pronounced dead. No others in the bar or surrounding area were injured. An autopsy of Jason Moore was performed on 06/15/2014 by Coroner's Physician Dr. [redacted] who determined the cause of death to be a gunshot wound where the projectile entered the right side of Jason Moore's body and traversed to the left side of his chest and punctured the aorta. Two other gunshot wounds, one to the right shoulder and another to the left cheek (self inflicted) were superficial. A review of available video from the bar as well as witness interviews and SA [redacted]'s Signed Sworn Statement were all consistent. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Interviews conducted by local authorities indicated Jason Moore had an ongoing issue with his divorce from Lori Moore. Text messages reviewed from the day of the incident revealed several messages between Jason Moore and Lori Moore where Jason complained of matters relating to his divorce such as child custody, support payments, and Lori Moore's new boyfriend. The last text message from Jason Moore to Lori Moore was sent at 7:14 p.m., and read "anywho, I'm gonna show up just to piss you off." Another interview with a friend of Lori Moore indicated at about the same time, Lori stated, "Jason was going to ruin her night."

[redacted] high school reunion. At approximately 7:40 p.m., Jason A. Moore entered the bar and spoke with two female greeters at the door for several minutes. Shortly after, at approximately 7:45 p.m., he drew a 9 mm Sig Sauer handgun, walked a short distance into the bar, and shot his ex-wife, Lori A. Moore, and her boyfriend, Lance Griffel, once each in the head. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Subsequent to shooting his ex-wife and her boyfriend, Jason Moore walked back toward the front door of the establishment. He stopped just inside the door and faced a crowded dining area of the bar. Moore pointed his handgun at his own head as well as a crowded dining area where SA [redacted] was standing. There were over 100 people in the bar at the time of the incident. Jason Moore fired one round while the gun was pointed at his head in what appeared to be a suicide attempt; however, the bullet only grazed his left cheek. As Moore continued to manipulate the gun, SA [redacted] fired two rounds from his Glock .40 caliber service handgun hitting Jason Moore once in the shoulder and once in the upper right side of the torso. Initial response to the scene was by the Fondulac Park Police Department and the East Peoria Police Department. Jason Moore died at the scene. Lori Moore and Lance Griffel were transported to the Order of Saint Francis Medical Center in Peoria, Illinois, where they were pronounced dead. No others in the bar or surrounding area were injured. Tazewell County Deputy Coroner [redacted] arrived at the scene of the shooting and pronounced Jason Moore dead at 11:20 p.m. A review of available video from the bar as well as witness interviews and SA [redacted]'s Signed Sworn Statement were all consistent. TFO [redacted] was not carrying a firearm at the time of the incident.

F. Post-shooting

(U//~~FOUO~~) A/SSRA [redacted] was notified of the shooting via telephone by [redacted] at approximately 7:56 p.m. Since A/SSRA [redacted] was not in the area, he designated SA [redacted] as the acting supervisor and directed him to the scene. SA [redacted] contacted SA [redacted] and they responded to the scene, arriving at approximately 8:46 p.m. SA [redacted] took possession of SA [redacted]'s firearm and ammunition which included his Glock 23 and the Glock 23 magazine which was in the weapon along with a Glock 22 magazine SA [redacted] had in his pocket at the time of the shooting. A round count taken indicated a total of four rounds were missing including one from the spare Glock 22 magazine. SA [redacted] advised and evidence confirms he fired two rounds. SA [redacted] further advised he intentionally carries his magazines with one less round than they are designed to hold. SA [redacted] carries the Glock 23 magazine with 12 of the possible 13 round capacity and the Glock 22 magazine with 14 of the possible 15 round capacity. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

Springfield ASAC [redacted] SSA [redacted] the Springfield ERT coordinator, and a firearms instructor as well as other ERT members from the Springfield HQ city office also responded to the scene. They coordinated with the East Peoria Police Department (EPPD) and the Illinois State Police (ISP) regarding scene processing and investigative responsibilities. It was agreed the ISP would process the scene and complete a digital 3D mapping of the location b6 -1 b7C -1 with the assistance of the Springfield Field Office ERT. An FBI Chicago ERT photographer [redacted] conducted spherical photography of the scene. The ISP seized all pertinent evidence at the scene and later signed over the evidence to the East Peoria Police Department, which then provided all requested evidence to FBI Springfield for processing at the FBI Laboratory. There were 114 patrons at the bar of which approximately 37 were identified as witnesses with the majority of these interviewed by EPPD. Additionally, a video taken from the establishment's video surveillance system was obtained and reviewed. Although there were several cameras in the bar, only four recorded. A review of this video revealed the four cameras did not directly capture the incident with the exception of Jason Moore being shot while SA [redacted] is off camera. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) There were a total of five rounds fired during this incident, three by Jason Moore and two by SA [redacted] Jason Moore fired one round into the head of Lori Moore and one round into the head of Lance Griffel. Each round passed through the heads of the victims. One round was recovered from an interior glass partition behind the victims in the middle of the bar. The impact location of the second round was observed by the ISP in a partition wall in the middle of the bar. However, they were unable to locate and recover the round. The third round fired by Moore, in an apparent suicide attempt, went through the roof and was not recovered. Both rounds fired by SA [redacted] struck Jason Moore and both were recovered from Moore's body at autopsy. b6 -1 b7C -1

H. Subject Information

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) was provided with the results of the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) warrant and arrest record check for Jason A. Moore. NCIC showed Moore, a White Male; DOB, 10/12/1973; address: 632 Carola Street, Creve Coeur, IL 61610, had no criminal history. A U.S. Military record for Moore was located and revealed he was discharged by the U.S. Army after four months and seven days of service. The record indicated the reason for separation was "chronic right ankle pain."

I. Use of Body Armor and Law Enforcement Identifiers

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] was not wearing body armor at the time of the incident. b6 -1 b7C -1

J. Forensic Summary

(U//~~FOUO~~) FBI Laboratory report dated 09/25/2014 revealed both weapons functioned in the testing environment. The Laboratory confirmed the two .40 caliber bullet fragments recovered from the body of Jason Moore were fired from SA [redacted]'s service weapon. Additionally, the .38 caliber/9 mm bullet fragment recovered from the bar was fired from the Sig Sauer weapon used by Jason Moore.

K. Medical Summary

(U//~~FOUO~~) An autopsy of Jason Moore was performed on 06/15/2014 at 12:00 p.m. by Coroner's Physician Dr. [redacted] Dr [redacted] determined the cause of death to be a gunshot wound where the projectile entered the right side of Moore's body and traversed to the left side of his chest and punctured the aorta. Two other gunshot wounds, one to the right shoulder and another to the left cheek (self inflicted) were superficial. A toxicology report indicated Jason Moore had a blood alcohol level of 0.354 at the time of his death. b6 -4 b7C -4

III. Shooting Incident Review Team Details

A. The Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) was comprised of the following personnel:

Inspector-in-Charge (IIC) R. Justin Tolomeo
Inspector Trent R. Teyema
Assistant Inspector/Team Leader (AI/TL) [redacted] b6 -1
AI/TL [redacted] b7C -1
Assistant Inspector-in-Place (AIIP) [redacted]

IV. Shooting Incident Review Protocol

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 06/15/2014, Inspector Teyema communicated with Springfield Field Office ASAC [redacted] to arrange logistics for the SIRT. ASAC [redacted] and AO [redacted] served as the points of contact for the SIRT. b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 06/15/2014, IIC Tolomeo, Inspector Teyema, and AI/TLs [redacted] and [redacted] traveled to Peoria, IL. They were met at the Peoria Regional Airport by SA [redacted] and transported to the Peoria Resident Agency (PRA). Three of the four AIIPs arrived at the PRA at this time as well. One AIIP arrived later in the evening.

(U//~~FOUO~~) IIC Tolomeo and Inspector Teyema provided a preliminary briefing to ASAC [redacted] on 06/15/2014 and to A/SAC [redacted] on 06/16/2014. Additionally, on 06/15/2014, IIC Tolomeo and Inspector Teyema met with ASAC [redacted] and the Agent involved, [redacted] and provided a description and overview of the SIRT process. Subsequently, on 06/15/2014, IIC Tolomeo convened a meeting involving the SIRT, ASAC Smith, PRA Agents, the EPPD, and the ISP. A full brief between the law enforcement agencies and FBI components was provided relative to the shooting incident and the responsibilities and expectation of the various agencies and the SIRT. There was an opportunity for dialogue between the SIRT team, the involved personnel, and outside law enforcement agencies to address concerns, to provide clarification, and to answer questions prior to the investigation commencing. The SIRT then went to the shooting scene where SA [redacted] provided a walk- b6 -1 b7C -1 through of the shooting incident. The scene had been processed by the ISP with the assistance of the Springfield Field Office ERT.

(U//~~FOUO~~) During the SIRT investigation, a Signed Sworn Statement (SSS) was taken from SA [redacted] SA [redacted] was represented by [redacted] Esq. An interview with TFO [redacted] took place at her residence and was documented in an FD-302. [redacted] was also represented by Mr. [redacted] Other interviews, events, and observations were documented via FD-302s. The majority of the witness interviews were conducted by the EPPD, who provided copies of their written reports and, when available, copies of audio and video recordings of the interviews. The SSS and interviews of witnesses were conducted voluntarily. An FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident) was executed by SA [redacted]

b6 -1,2,4
b7C -1,2,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 06/16/2014, IIC Tolomeo contacted [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, DOJ Civil Rights Division, and briefed him on the shooting incident.

b6 -1,3

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 06/16/2014, IIC Tolomeo and Inspector Teyema met with Supervisory Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) [redacted] to brief her on the SIRT investigation.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 06/16/2014, IIC Tolomeo and Inspector Teyema met with Tazewell County Chief Assistant State's Attorney [redacted] to brief him on the SIRT investigation.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 06/18/2014, an exit brief was provided by IIC Tolomeo to ASAC [redacted] EPPD, and ISP.

V. Administrative

A. Firearms Training

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Springfield Field Office provided qualification records for SA [redacted] SA [redacted] used his issued Glock 23 during the shooting incident. A review of SA [redacted] s record revealed SA [redacted] was current in all qualifications.

b6 -1

B. Deadly Force Training

(U//~~FOUO~~) Documentation provided by the Springfield Field Office indicated SA [redacted] legal advisor, provided deadly force training to Squad 7, the Peoria and Quad Cities Criminal Squad, on 04/19/2014. SA [redacted] was present for this training. Additionally, SA [redacted] was present for Deadly Force Policy and Judgmental Shooting training for SWAT personnel provided by Chief Division Council [redacted] on 05/08/2014.

C. DOJ Civil Rights Division Prosecutorial Decision

(U//~~FOUO~~) An E-mail from Special Legal Counsel [redacted] DOJ Civil Rights Division, was received by IIC Tolomeo on 06/27/2014. Mr. [redacted] advised the facts suggested the Agent, who may or may not have been acting under the color of law, fired his weapon to protect himself and others from potentially more deadly gunfire from the subject. Based on these and additional facts known to him at the time, Mr. [redacted] advised a criminal civil rights investigation was not warranted. b6 -3 b7C -3

D. Local Prosecutorial Decision

(U//~~FOUO~~) IIC Tolomeo received a letter dated September 10, 2014, from Tazewell County State's Attorney Stewart J. Umholtz. The letter noted Umholtz completed his review of the incident and assessed SA [redacted] acted appropriately and his actions were lawful. Additionally, Umholtz advised SA [redacted] should be commended for his actions. b6 -1 b7C -1

Dear Inspector Tolomeo:

I have reviewed the incident reports and investigation surrounding the shooting incident which took place on June 14, 2014, at The 5th Quarter Sports Bar & Pizzeria, 1110 North Main Street, E. Peoria, Illinois. Specifically, I have reviewed Special Agent [redacted]'s use of deadly force which resulted in the death of Jason A. Moore. b6 -1 b7C -1

Based upon my review of this incident I am of the opinion that Spec. Agent [redacted]s use of deadly force was lawful in that it was based upon a reasonable belief that Jason A. Moore had caused the infliction of death or great bodily harm to two other persons, that deadly force was necessary to prevent death or great bodily harm to another person and that such force was necessary to prevent the arrest from being defeated by resistance or escape.

Every police officer knows that in every situation in which an officer must discharge his weapon that he will face intensive review of his conduct which may result in civil and/or criminal litigation. Despite these concerns, Special Agent [redacted] responded in a way that he had been trained by taking decisive action in response to Jason A. Moore's act of executing two innocent citizens: Lori A. Moore and Lance E. Griffel. b6 -1 b7C -1

Spec. Agent [redacted] should be commended for taking appropriate action in a difficult situation while maintaining concern for the safety of bystanders.

Sincerely,

Stewart J. Umholtz
State's Attorney

Synopsis

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/04/2013, at approximately 7:00 a.m., FBI Special Agent [redacted] was assisting the U.S. Marshals Service Task Force (USMSTF), Middle District of North Carolina, Charlotte Office, with the arrest of Anthony Meeks, a known violent felon. SA [redacted], was providing [redacted] Once his position was determined, the USMSTF planned to execute his arrest. [redacted] located Meeks at 357 Freedom Street Southwest, Apartment 6B, Concord, NC. The USMSTF took positions at the front door and along the perimeter of the building. [redacted] positioned himself on the rear perimeter on a corner of the building while Deputy Marshals of the USMSTF knocked and announced their presence. Within seconds of the knock, Meeks broke a window in the rear of the apartment and exited with a handgun. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Meeks' actions were observed by USMSTF members and [redacted] As Meeks exited the window, [redacted] observed Meeks point the handgun at other USMSTF members on the perimeter positioned on the opposite corner. [redacted] yelled "Gun!" multiple times while simultaneously drawing his FBI issued Glock 27 handgun, and fired four times at Meeks. Details

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/04/2013, at approximately 7:00 A.M., members of a U.S. Marshals Service Task Force (USMSTF), Middle District of North Carolina, Charlotte Office, were attempting to arrest Anthony DeShon Meeks, date of birth 09/27/1990, on six local arrest warrants for numerous state violations to include narcotics, robbery with a dangerous weapon, assault, and felony probation. Meeks was a known member of the "Eastside 9 Tre Bloods," a local chapter of the national "Bloods" gang, and was involved in various illegal activities to include drug and weapons trafficking.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 07/05/2012, Meeks' was found guilty on two felony counts for possession of narcotics with intent to sell and possession of a stolen weapon, and two misdemeanor charges for possession of drug paraphernalia and resisting arrest. He was given a sentence of eight to 19 months of confinement which was suspended, and 30 months of supervised probation. On 12/20/2012, NC Probation/Parole Officer [redacted] and local law enforcement officers conducted a warrantless search of Meeks' residence, located at [redacted] The search was authorized as a condition of Meeks' probation and was conducted in his presence. Narcotics and other drug paraphernalia were discovered. As such, Meeks was subject to additional charges in addition to probation violation. The new charges were: one count for simple possession of 5 Xanax tablets; one count of possession with the intent to sell and deliver 8.8 grams of marijuana; and one count for knowingly and intentionally keeping and maintaining a dwelling house used for selling controlled substances.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 02/27/2013, [redacted] identified Meeks in the vicinity of Concord, NC. Also on 02/27/2013, [redacted] received a call from CMPD Detective [redacted] regarding Meeks. Detective [redacted] was a member of the CMPD Violent Criminal Apprehension Team and the USMSTF. Through his association with these two task forces, Detective [redacted] had learned [redacted] Meeks and offered to have the USMSTF apprehend him based on the outstanding arrest warrants and Meeks' felony probation violation. [redacted] had worked with Detective [redacted] before and was confident in his and the USMSTF abilities. SA [redacted] concurred with utilizing the USMSTF and requested Sergeant [redacted] be included on the apprehension team due to his knowledge of Meeks. [redacted] agreed and began coordination with Deputy U.S. Marshal (DM) [redacted] of the USMSTF on possible locations for Meeks. DM [redacted] served as the team leader of the USMSTF for Meeks' apprehension. According to [redacted] on 02/28/2013, he advised his supervisor, SSA [redacted] he was working with the USMSTF to

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 5:00 A.M. on 03/04/2013, [redacted] and identified a previously unknown location of Meeks, 357 Freedom St. SW, Concord, NC (hereinafter 357 Freedom St.). DM [redacted] was notified and indicated he would conduct surveillance of this location. At approximately 6:30 A.M., members of the USMSTF and other law enforcement officers supporting Meeks's arrest, met in a church parking lot near Meeks' suspected location for an operational briefing. As this was a USMSTF operation, the briefing was in accordance with U.S. Marshal's protocols. The following is a list of those who participated:

1. Deputy Marshal (DM) [redacted] – USMSTF/Team Leader
2. Deputy Marshal (DM) [redacted] – USMSTF
3. Deputy Marshal (DM) [redacted] – USMSTF
4. Deputy Marshal (DM) [redacted] – USMSTF

(U//~~FOUO~~) During this briefing, DM [redacted] briefed the team on Meeks probable location and provided aerial photographs from the internet of 357 Freedom St. Concord, N.C. DM [redacted] also introduced [redacted] to other members of the team. Several of the members were new to the USMSTF and had not worked together before. [redacted] described to the team [redacted] Sergeant [redacted] provided a briefing on Meeks's violent background to include his threats to law enforcement and the likelihood he was in possession of a .410/.45 Long Colt Taurus "Judge" revolver. DM [redacted] and [redacted] discussed [redacted]'s primary role was to locate Meeks and, as such, he was not assigned any specific arrest duties. After the brief, all participants proceeded to Meeks' suspected location.

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 7:00 A.M., all members of the arrest team arrived at 357 Freedom St., a two-story multiple unit apartment complex shaped like a horseshoe. Upon arrival, [redacted] determined Meeks was more than likely located in one of the apartments on the right side (South end) of the building. [redacted] put on a ballistic vest with police markings and he and Detective [redacted] exited their vehicle to locate Meeks [redacted]

[redacted] As the rest of the arrest team took positions around the perimeter, [redacted] and Detective [redacted] walked around the South end of the building [redacted] [redacted] determined Meeks was located on the second floor in apartment 6B. He informed Detective [redacted] who radioed Meeks' location to DM [redacted] who in turn, had all members take their assigned positions. Rather than walk across an unsecured open area around the apartment, [redacted] proceeded to the southeast corner of the building on the perimeter.

(U//~~FOUO~~) According to the operational plan, [redacted] DM's [redacted] were positioned to the left of the door to apartment 6B and DM's [redacted] were on the right. Sergeant [redacted] and Officer [redacted] were positioned at the bottom of the landing leading up to apartment 6B near DM's [redacted] Detective [redacted] was positioned on the opposite side of the landing nearest DM's [redacted] N.C. Corrections officer [redacted] was positioned on the east perimeter of the building between Detective [redacted] and [redacted] covering a potential exit for Meeks. N.C. Corrections officers [redacted] and Mecklenburg County Sheriff's Deputy [redacted] were positioned on the southwest perimeter corner of the building opposite [redacted]

(U//~~FOUO~~) Once everyone was in position, DM [redacted] conducted a knock and announce at apartment 6B stating clearly "Police, U.S. Marshals. Anthony Meeks, come to the door." A voice responded "who is it" whereby DM [redacted] restated clearly "Police, U.S. Marshals." At this point, DM [redacted] heard movement in the apartment. Shortly thereafter, DM [redacted] heard Deputy Sheriff [redacted] announce over her handheld radio Meeks was trying to exit through a rear window and he had a gun. Meeks had broken the rear window to apartment 6B and jumped to the ground. As he was standing up, he faced N.C. Corrections officers [redacted] and Deputy Sheriff [redacted] brandishing a handgun. As all three retreated to position of cover, [redacted] who was located on the corner directly opposite, observed Meeks' actions and loudly announced "Gun"! According to [redacted]'s Signed Sworn Statement, he "....saw glass breaking and a gun protrude from the window followed by a male who held the gun. I yelled gun multiple times....I knew the officers on the opposite side of the building were exposed to the threat posed by the armed subject. I felt they were in imminent danger". [redacted] recalled Meeks was bladed at an angle to him and in a runner's stance pointing his handgun at the officers located across from [redacted] Taking into consideration Meeks' violent history and fearing for his fellow officer's safety, [redacted] fired four rounds from his FBI issued Glock 27 at Meeks. One round struck Meeks in his lower left buttock causing Meeks to fall to the ground where he rolled down a small embankment into the street (Freedom Way); one round missed Meeks and was not recovered; another round missed Meeks and struck a vehicle parked in a drive way across the street [redacted] and was recovered; a fourth round missed Meeks and entered the residence located at [redacted] through a first floor window and embedded into a wall. This round was also recovered. The residence at [redacted] was occupied but no one was injured.

(U//~~FOUO~~) As Deputy Sheriff [redacted] announced Meeks' exit through the rear window, DM [redacted] left the entry team and proceeded toward [redacted]'s position. According to DM [redacted], he did so as he realized the rear perimeter was secured with only TFOs and they may need assistance. As he neared [redacted]'s position, he heard [redacted] yell "Gun!" several times and observed him fire three to four rounds. DM [redacted] took position beside [redacted] and aimed his U.S. Marshal AR-15/M3 at Meeks. DM [redacted] observed Meeks reaching toward his waistband and issued several verbal commands to Meeks, who was non-compliant and continued to reach toward his waistband. Fearing Meeks still possessed a handgun; DM [redacted] fired two rounds at Meeks from his AR-15/M3. One round missed Meeks and was not recovered. The second round entered Meeks's left chest and was recovered. By this time, all the U.S. Marshals on the entry team had moved to the rear of the apartment near [redacted] and DM [redacted]'s location.

(U//~~FOUO~~) DM's [redacted] approached Meeks and handcuffed him. Officer [redacted] called for emergency services (EMS) and back up units from CCSO. EMS units from Cabarrus County were notified at approximately 07:23 A.M. and arrived on scene at approximately 07:33 A.M. EMS reports from the scene indicated Meeks was unresponsive and was determined to be deceased. The scene was secured and [redacted]'s Glock 27 was rendered safe and entered into evidence. DM [redacted]'s AR-15/M3 was rendered safe, secured by the U.S. Marshals, and was entered into evidence by FBI Charlotte on 03/05/2013. The scene was processed by FBI ERT Charlotte and a FBI Laboratory Division Shooting Reconstruction Team. Four .40 caliber casings and two .223 casings were recovered from the scene. One .40 caliber round and one .223 round were recovered from Meeks' body. One fully loaded .410/.45 Long Colt Taurus "Judge" revolver was recovered on the ground outside the window Meeks had exited. Additionally, a fully loaded HIPOINT .380 automatic pistol and 14 grams of marijuana were located inside the apartment.

(U//~~FOUO~~) FBI Charlotte conducted neighborhood interviews. Two individuals witnessed the event. Their statements corroborated the statements made by the law enforcement officers involved in the operation. A separate interview was conducted of a juvenile who was in the apartment with Meeks before the USMSTF attempted entry. According to him, he had gone to Meeks' apartment to purchase marijuana and arrived at the apartment at approximately 7:30 A.M. Once inside, he went to use the bathroom. While there, he heard loud banging at the front door. He quickly finished and, as he opened the bathroom door, Meeks told him it was "the Marshals". The juvenile noticed Meeks held a silver handgun and watched him use the butt of the weapon to break the window and jump through it. The juvenile then exited the apartment through the front door where he was detained by officers.

(U//~~FOUO~~) All law enforcement officers present during the operation were interviewed as well as FBI Charlotte EM, (U//~~FOUO~~) Meeks's, [redacted]'s, and DM[redacted]'s weapons as well as all recovered bullets, cartridge casings, magazines, and unfired ammunitions were examined by the FBI LD Firearms/Toolmarks Unit. As detailed in LD report 130322003 PM KG dated 07/09/3013, all weapons functioned normally and the casings were physically consistent with the unfired ammunition. The three recovered .40 caliber bullets were fired from a six grooved rifled barrel with a right twist similar to [redacted]'s Glock 27. However, due to insufficient microscopic marks, the LD could not make a conclusion they were fired from [redacted]'s weapon. The recovered bullet from DM[redacted]'s AR-15/M3 was positively identified as being fired from his weapon. (U//~~FOUO~~) Anthony Meeks was treated on scene by Emergency Medical Service (EMS) personnel from Cabarrus County. EMS records indicate they were notified of the incident at 07:23 A.M. and arrived at 07:31 A.M. According to their report, Meeks was unresponsive. He was placed on a cardiac monitor which showed he had Pulseless Electrical Activity. He was pronounced dead and no further resuscitation efforts were conducted.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/05/2013, an autopsy of Anthony Meeks was conducted by Dr.[redacted] of the Mecklenburg County Medical Examiners Office. Preliminary results indicated Meeks was struck by two bullets. One was consistent with a rifle round and one was consistent with a pistol round. The rifle round appeared to have entered into Meeks' upper left chest, traveling through the heart, coming to rest in the lower right back. The pistol round appeared to have entered Meeks through his lower left buttocks area, traveling through the femoral artery and came to rest in the Meeks' mid-right hip area. Both rounds were considered fatal and were recovered from the body. A final report, dated 08/11/2013 and signed by Dr.[redacted] confirmed Meeks' injuries and listed the cause of death as gunshot wounds.

M. (U//~~FOUO~~) Inspector's Observations

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 1: Charlotte did not ensure a thorough arrest plan was established prior to the operation.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 1: DIOG Section 19.2.3 provided policy regarding arrest plans:

(U) The SAC is responsible for ensuring that arrests are carefully and thoroughly planned....Whenever possible, written arrest plans must be prepared prior to conducting law enforcement activities that may result in the arrest of a potentially dangerous subject. Arrest plans must address five topics: Situation, Mission, Execution, Administration and Equipment, and Control and Communications.

(U//~~FOUO~~) In addition, DIOG Section 19.2.4 provided policy guidance regarding joint arrests:

(U) An SSA may authorize a joint arrest with state and local authorities, United States Marshal's Service (USMS), or other federal law enforcement agencies. In circumstances of joint arrests, the SAC remains responsible to ensure that there is a well-considered arrest plan.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 02/27/2013, [redacted] located Meeks in the general vicinity of Concord, N.C. On the same day, he received a call from CMPD Detective [redacted] Detective [redacted] was a member of both the CMPD Violent Criminal Apprehension Team and the USMSTF and offered to have the USMSTF apprehend Meeks based on his outstanding local arrest warrants. [redacted] agreed and began coordinating with DM [redacted], team leader of the USMSTF. On 02/28/2013, [redacted] verbally advised his supervisor, SSA [redacted] he would be providing technical support to the USMSTF in locating Meeks to facilitate his immediate arrest. This was confirmed by SSA [redacted] during her interview. However, she stated [redacted] did not provide specific details of the operation, only that it was pending and would occur within the next few days. On 03/01/2013, Detective [redacted] contacted [redacted] to discuss a plan to locate and arrest Meeks on 03/04/2013 at approximately 6:00 A.M.

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/04/2013, [redacted] and Detective [redacted] participated in the USMSTF operations brief conducted by DM [redacted] This brief included Meeks' violent history, aerial photographs of his suspected location, and team assignments. [redacted] was introduced and his primary function was described as only providing technical support in locating Meeks. As such, he was not assigned any arrest duties but was aware Meeks would be arrested immediately upon location. His role in the operation was not further defined.

accomplished this, [redacted] stationed himself on a far corner of the building. Even though he was not assigned any arrest duties, his position was near the perimeter which allowed him to actively participate in the operation if needed. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) SSA [redacted] advised detailed briefings of technical operations in support of other law enforcement operations were not required to be briefed to Charlotte EM. Instead, she would provide weekly reports to the ASAC outlining the prior week's tracking activity as well as any upcoming events. For the Meeks arrest, the FBI was providing technical assistance because the U.S. Marshals Service did not have available resources.

(U//~~FOUO~~) When interviewed, A/SAC [redacted] indicated requests for assistance from outside agencies did not rise to either the ASAC or SAC levels. Though this was not an FBI led operation subject to the requirements in DIOG Section 19.2.3, interviews of Charlotte EM indicated they were unaware [redacted] was supporting the USMSTF in Meeks' arrest on 03/04/2013. As such, they were not in a position to ensure the USMSTF arrest plan was adequate as it pertained to [redacted] in accordance with DIOG Section 19.2.4. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Interviews of ASAC [redacted] who previously had EM oversight of the [redacted] program, and SSA [redacted] indicated it was not standard practice for [redacted] According to ASAC [redacted] once the [redacted] provided technical assistance, they would retreat to their vehicle. SSA [redacted] stated [redacted] is not often an active part of an arrest plan. He is either in the [redacted] vehicle or on the perimeter. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 1a: SAC, Charlotte will ensure joint arrest plans in support of other law enforcement agencies are well-considered in accordance with DIOG Section 19.2.4.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 1b: AD, OTD should promulgate policy regarding [redacted] support in conducting electronic surveillance and actively participating in the operation. b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 2: Charlotte did not document FBI technical assistance provided to other law enforcement agencies in accordance with FBI Operational Technology Division Corporate Policy Directive (OTD CPD) 0189D and DIOG.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2: OTD CPD 0189D Section 8 (5.a) requires all requests for FBI technical assistance to be submitted in writing by an executive level official of the requesting agency. Synopsis: (U//~~FOUO~~) This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) with respect to the captioned shooting following the SIRG meeting held on 11/20/2013.

Administrative Notes: (U//~~FOUO~~) This communication summarizes the Inspection Division's (INSD) Shooting Incident Report dated 9/5/2013 by former Inspector Dena E. Choucair. A copy of the complete INSD Shooting Incident Report is electronically attached to this communication.

Enclosure(s): Enclosed are the following items:
1. (U//~~FOUO~~) Summary of Charlotte Shooting Incident

Details:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 11/20/2013, the SIRG convened to review a shooting incident which occurred on 03/04/2013, involving [redacted] Charlotte Field Office (CE). SA [redacted] assisted the U.S. Marshals Service Task Force (USMSTF), Middle District of North Carolina, Charlotte Office, with the arrest of Anthony Meeks, b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1 a known violent felon. SA [redacted] and was not included as part of the arrest plan for perimeter security. Once his position was determined, the USMSTF took positions at the front door and along the perimeter of the building in which Meeks was believed to be located. SA [redacted] positioned himself on the rear perimeter on a corner of the building while Deputy Marshals (DM) of the USMSTF knocked and announced their presence. Within seconds of the knock, Meeks broke a window in the rear of the apartment and exited with a handgun. As Meeks exited the window, SA [redacted] observed Meeks point the handgun at other USMSTF members on the perimeter positioned on the opposite corner. SA [redacted] yelled "Gun!" multiple times while simultaneously drawing his FBI-issued Glock 27 handgun and fired four times at Meeks.

Result of the SIRG

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 11/20/2013, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. (U//~~FOUO~~) Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by SA [redacted] on 03/04/2013 was in compliance with the Department of Justice's deadly force policy.

b7C -1

2. (U//~~FOUO~~) Provide the Director with an evaluative analysis, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions from an operational standpoint. The SIRG made the following operational observations.

Observation 1: SA [redacted]'s role in the arrest of subject was not clearly defined or known by the SSA and EM.

b7C -1

Analysis 1: DIOG Section 19.2.3 provided policy regarding arrest plans:

"The SAC is responsible for ensuring that arrests are carefully and thoroughly planned…. Whenever possible, written arrest plans must be prepared prior to conducting law enforcement activities that may result in the arrest of a potentially dangerous subject. Arrest plans must address five topics: Situation, Mission, Execution, Administration and Equipment, and Control and Communications."

In addition, DIOG Section 19.2.4 provided policy guidance regarding joint arrests:

"An SSA may authorize a joint arrest with state and local authorities, United States Marshal's Service (USMS), or other federal law enforcement agencies. In circumstances of joint arrests, the SAC remains responsible to ensure that there is a well-considered arrest plan."

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 02/27/2013, SA [redacted] located Meeks in the general vicinity of Concord, N.C. On the same day, he received a call from Charlotte-Mecklenburg Police Department (CMPD) Detective [redacted] Detective [redacted] was a member of both the CMPD Violent Criminal Apprehension Team and the USMSTF and offered to have the USMSTF apprehend Meeks based on his outstanding local arrest warrants. SA [redacted] agreed and began coordinating with DM [redacted] team leader of the USMSTF. On 02/28/2013, SA [redacted] verbally advised his supervisor, SSA [redacted] he would be providing technical support to the USMSTF in locating Meeks to facilitate his immediate arrest. This was confirmed by SSA [redacted] during her interview. However, she stated SA [redacted] did not provide specific details of the operation, only that it was pending and would occur within the next few days. On 03/01/2013, Detective [redacted] contacted SA [redacted] to discuss a plan to locate and arrest Meeks on 03/04/2013 at approximately 6:00 A.M.

b7C -1,3,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 03/04/2013, SA [redacted] and Detective [redacted] participated in the USMSTF operations brief conducted by DM [redacted] This brief included Meeks' violent history, aerial photographs of his suspected location, and team assignments. SA [redacted] was introduced and his primary function was described as only providing technical support

b6 -1,3,4

in locating Meeks. As such, he was not assigned any arrest duties but was aware Meeks would be arrested immediately upon location. His role in the operation was not further defined.

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] determined Meeks' location at 357 Freedom St. [redacted] After he accomplished this, SA [redacted] stationed himself on a far corner of the building. Even though he was not assigned any arrest duties, his position was near the perimeter which allowed him to actively participate in the operation if needed. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) SSA [redacted] advised detailed briefings of technical operations in support of other law enforcement operations were not required to be briefed to Charlotte EM. Instead, she would provide weekly reports to the ASAC outlining the prior week's [redacted] as well as any upcoming events. For the Meeks arrest, the FBI was providing technical assistance because the U.S. Marshals Service did not have available resources. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) When interviewed, A/SAC [redacted] indicated requests for assistance from outside agencies did not rise to either the ASAC or SAC levels. Though this was not an FBI-led operation subject to the requirements in DIOG Section 19.2.3, interviews of Charlotte EM indicated they were unaware [redacted] was supporting the USMSTF in Meeks' arrest on 03/04/2013. As such, they were not in a position to ensure the USMSTF arrest plan was adequate as it pertained to [redacted] in accordance with DIOG Section 19.2.4. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) Interviews of ASAC [redacted] who previously had EM oversight of the [redacted] program, and SSA [redacted] indicated it was not standard practice for [redacted] According to ASAC [redacted], once [redacted] provided technical assistance, they would go back to their vehicle. b6 -1 b7C -1 b7E -1,4

SSA [redacted] stated SA [redacted] was not often an active part of an arrest plan. He was either in the armored technical vehicle or on the perimeter. b6 -1 b7C -1 (U//~~FOUO~~) OTD CPD 0189D was used to support the observations and recommendations. Charlotte should be aware of the superseding CPD and PIG (0554DPG) published on 01/27/2014.

Instruction 1: SAC, Charlotte, will ensure well considered arrest plans are prepared when supporting joint law enforcement agency arrest operations in accordance with DIOG Section 19.2.4.

Recommendation 1a: SAC, Charlotte, should ensure effective oversight of [redacted] in support of joint operations. b7E -1

Recommendation 1b: AD, Operational Technology Division, should promulgate policy regarding [redacted] involvement in arrest operations following completion of electronic technical support to pre-arrest operations.

Observation 2: Charlotte did not obtain a request for FBI technical assistance provided to other law enforcement agencies from a Requesting Agency Official (RAO) in accordance with FBI Operational Technology Division Corporate Policy Directive (OTD CPD) 0189D and DIOG.

Analysis 2: OTD CPD 0189D Section 8 (5.a) required all requests for FBI technical assistance to be submitted in writing by an executive level official of the requesting agency. The request could be via letterhead, e-mail, facsimile, or other similar means. Furthermore, DIOG Section 12.5.3 required the use of the FD-999 when any technical assistance was provided to other agencies (domestic of foreign). In support of this requirement, [redacted] b7E -5

[redacted] b7E -5

Instruction 2a: SAC, Charlotte, will ensure requests for FBI technical assistance are submitted in accordance with CPD and PIG 0554DPG, which superseded CPD 0189D.

Instruction 2b: SAC, Charlotte, will ensure the FD-999 is utilized for FBI technical assistance provided to other agencies in accordance with OTD PIG 0554DPG and DIOG.

Observation 3: SAC, Charlotte, did not authorize the provision of FBI technical assistance to the USMS.

Analysis 3: OTD CPD 0189D Section 11 (1.a) required all requests for FBI technical assistance to other law enforcement agencies be approved by the SAC. [redacted]

[redacted] b7E -5

Instruction 3: SAC, Charlotte, will ensure all requests for FBI technical assistance are reviewed by his office and the CDC.

3. (U//~~FOUO~~) Provide recommendations concerning training and safety issues. The SIRG made the following observation requesting additional training.

Observation 4: SA [redacted]'s Glock 27 backup magazine was for a Glock 22 weapon. b6 -1 b7C -1

Analysis 4: When SA [redacted] relinquished his FBI-issued Glock 27 weapon and two magazines after the shooting incident, it was determined one of SA [redacted]'s magazines was for his FBI-issued Glock 22 weapon. b6 -1 b7C -1

Recommendation 4a: SAC, Charlotte, should ensure SA [redacted] carry the proper backup magazine for the weapon utilized.

Recommendation 4b: SAC, Charlotte, should ensure the Principle Firearms Instructor reminds all Agents, during firearms training, about carrying the proper backup magazines for the model of weapon being utilized.

4. (U//~~FOUO~~) Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. The SIRG recommended no administrative action be taken against SA [redacted] as a result of his involvement in this shooting incident. b6 -1 b7C -1

Inspector Dena Choucair
FBI Inspection Division

Based upon the information provided in your Shooting Incident Report, we have determined that the FBI agent and DUSM shooting during the execution of an arrest warrant in Concord, N.C., on March 4, 2013, resulting in the death of Anthony Meeks, does not warrant federal criminal investigation of whether the federal criminal civil rights statutes were violated. The local district attorney has declined the matter as well.

FBI agents and DUSMs were attempting to arrest a suspected armed robber at an apartment. The arrest team was composed of a number of task force members who had been briefed that the subject could be expected to be armed and dangerous. Task force members were positioned around the apartment when the entry team knocked. A civilian eye witness was inside the apartment and another was near his vehicles outside in the parking lot.

According to a civilian witness inside the apartment, Meeks immediately armed himself with a silver handgun and broke a back window through which he exited to escape. Several agents, DUSMs and a civilian witness outside the apartment saw Meeks exit the window with the hand gun. An FBI agent who was nearer to the subject and saw his escape – gun-first – through the window, yelled "gun" and called for the subject to "drop it." Others gave similar warnings and commands. Meeks did not heed the warnings and ran with the gun in hand, posing a risk to the arrest team, as well as to the civilian witness towards whom the subject ran. Several agents and DUSMs saw or heard the window break, heard the yell, "gun" and saw Meeks running. Some of them also saw the gun in Meek's hand.

The FBI agent who saw Meeks exit the window, gun-first, and yelled the warning and commands, advised that he feared Meeks would shoot at him or at other more exposed and vulnerable agents. He fired four times with his Glock handgun, striking Meeks in the buttock and femoral artery and causing him to fall to the ground and drop the handgun. A DUSM armed with an M3 rifle, who had heard the glass break and heard the warning yells "gun" and the commands, joined the agent at his position and also fired at the running subject, missing him.

Once Meeks was down the agent, who had seen the gun drop from his hand, did not fire again. Some task force members saw the gun drop; others did not. The DUSM, who had fired his M3, maintains that he did not see the victim's hands as he ran and as the DUSM fired in support of the agent who was firing and yelling gun and also did see the subject's gun fall to the ground. The DUSM was also not aware that the subject had never returned fire. The DUSM maintained that he watched the subject attempt to rise from the ground while commands were being yelled for him to show his hands and stay down. He further maintains that, when Meeks reach for his waist band, he feared that he was reaching for a weapon and the threat increased. The DUSM fire one shot, striking Meeks in the chest.

Other DUSM witnesses corroborate the DUSM's account of what he claimed that he observed after the subject fell. Also, the first gunshot wound was located so as to explain a hand movement toward the waist band. The forensic evidence is consistent with the various witness accounts. Task Force members attempted to render aid to the mortally wounded subject.

Under the totality of the circumstances, there is insufficient evidence to establish that either shooter willfully used more force than was reasonably necessary and that he believed was reasonably necessary to prevent death or grievous bodily harm to himself and others. Accordingly, there is insufficient evidence to warrant a criminal investigation of this shooting of an armed fugitive attempting to escape the execution of an arrest warrant. Please advise if you have a contact in the USMS to whom we can forward this finding. Also, please complete your administrative action.

Dear Inspector Choucair,

I have completed my review of the materials the FBI provided regarding the officer involved shooting case on March 4, 2013, in Cabarrus County involving Anthony Meeks. Based on all of the facts contained in the investigative report, it is the District Attorneys Office's conclusion that neither Special Agent [redacted] nor Deputy Marshall [redacted] used excessive force in the performance of their duties when attempting to arrest Anthony Meeks. Therefore the Cabarrus County District Attorney's Office will not be pursuing any criminal charges against either of these officers in this case. Please forward this letter to anyone else in your agency that may need a copy for their file. If you have any questions regarding this matter, do not hesitate to contact me.

REPORT OF SHOOTING INCIDENT;
PHILADELPHIA FIELD OFFICE;
07/22/2013

Investigative Period: 07/22/2013 – 07/27/2013

I. Executive Summary

On 07/22/2013, two Philadelphia (PH) FBI Agents and a Philadelphia PD (PPD) Task Force Officer (TFO), all assigned to PH's Violent Crimes Task Force (VCTF), Squad C-4, were involved in a shooting incident with two subjects in northwest Philadelphia. One subject was shot and killed, and the other shot and wounded.

The PH VCTF personnel were engaged in a surveillance operation related to a Federal fugitive case. The subject, [redacted] was charged by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with murder and robbery, and was considered a suspect in additional murders. [redacted] 21-year-old Tevin Hammond, were subjects of a PPD Officer Safety Bulletin which recommended officers use extreme caution. VCTF intelligence determined [redacted] and Hammond were aware they were being pursued by law enforcement and intended to engage police when confronted.

Analysis of [redacted] and members of the VCTF deployed in an attempt to identify a specific location. Additional [redacted] resolved to [redacted] SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] were parked in a minivan on [redacted] with a view of the rear alley of [redacted] The other three VCTF members, SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] were in a second minivan on [redacted]

Shortly after the VCTF members staged their vehicles, Hammond and [redacted] exited the rear of [redacted] and walked slowly down a narrow alley toward the minivan occupied by TFO [redacted] (driver) and SA [redacted] TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] observed the two, with Hammond leading the way down the narrow alley. Hammond and [redacted] were described as "creeping" down the alley in what appeared to be an attempt to conceal themselves.

NYT-841

As Hammond and [redacted] approached [redacted] and closed the distance between themselves and the VCTF minivan, Hammond reached toward his waistband as if to retrieve a weapon. Fearing an ambush, SA [redacted] exited the vehicle to address the threat. TFO [redacted] also exited the vehicle and an exchange of gunfire ensued. During the gunfight, [redacted] and Hammond retreated back down the narrow alley and wound up near the end of the fenced-in alley, where the gunfight continued. The three VCTF personnel in the other minivan, who had been alerted to the presence of the subjects via radio, responded to the shooting.

b6 -1,4,7
b7C -1,4,7

Witness accounts and review of ballistic evidence determined TFO [redacted] engaged the subjects with his Glock 21 upon exiting the driver-side of the minivan on [redacted] Shell casings from a Glock 26 possessed by Hammond were also recovered near the entrance (northwest) of the alley where the initial exchange of gunfire occurred. After [redacted] and Hammond retreated to the end (southeast) of the alley, TFO [redacted] proceeded down the alley and sought a position of cover in the backyard of [redacted] and Hammond initially exited. TFO [redacted] continued to discharge his weapon, while SA [redacted] assumed a tactical position at the entrance of the alley along [redacted]

b6 -1,4,7
b7C -1,4,7

Hammond took a position of cover behind a pole at the southeast end of the alley. After which, SA [redacted] observed Hammond raise his arms holding the gun, and appeared to fire at SA [redacted] In response, SA [redacted] discharged his Glock 22 at Hammond in a series of three volleys (two to three shots each) from a kneeling position. After SA [redacted] fired seven total rounds, Hammond fell toward the ground and out of sight of SA [redacted] SA [redacted] recalled observing [redacted] as being low to the ground in the alley, a few feet away from Hammond.

b6 -1,7
b7C -1,7

SA [redacted] who assumed a position near the kneeling SA [redacted] approximately 35-40 yards from the subjects, gave commands to [redacted] to show his hands. [redacted] did not comply and appeared to SA [redacted] to be attempting to get up. Over [redacted] s left shoulder, SA [redacted] observed a black handgun pointed in the direction of the Agents. SA [redacted] also heard TFO [redacted] yell, "They are still firing at us." After telling TFO [redacted] to move out of the line of fire in the alley, SA [redacted] continued to see the black handgun. Believing [redacted] posed a deadly threat, SA [redacted] fired his M-4 rifle at [redacted] until [redacted] fell to the ground.

b6 -1,4,7
b7C -1,4,7

During the gunfight with the VCTF, Hammond was struck three times, including a round which penetrated his neck. He died at the scene, and the black Glock 26 weapon was recovered from underneath his body. [redacted] was struck approximately eight or nine times (in the neck, back, and buttocks), and ended up on top of Hammond.

b6 -7
b7C -7

Two days later while still at the hospital, [redacted] was in stable condition and consented to an in-custody interview. During the interview, [redacted] admitted direct involvement in four murders. Under Miranda, he also provided details of the confrontation with the VCTF. [redacted] stated he and [redacted] intended to kill police officers, and [redacted] said Hammond fired the Glock 26 during the gunfight with the VCTF.

A total of 33 shell casings were recovered by the PPD's Crime Scene Unit: six .40 caliber casings; eight .223 caliber casings; 15 .45 caliber casings; and four 9 millimeter caliber casings. It was estimated approximately 37 rounds were fired during the incident by TFO [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and Hammond. SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] did not discharge their weapons. [redacted] was determined not to have fired a weapon.

TFO received information from Lieutenant that an attempt to arrest the two subjects would be made by PPD SWAT (also known as " "). SA stated Lieutenant determined the violent history and threats to kill police officers warranted the use of the PPD SWAT. The VCTF mission was to conduct surveillance to ascertain the location of the subjects, and hold the position until SWAT arrived. The VCTF members utilized PPD radio channel " " The task force typically carried PPD radios in order to communicate with the PPD.

At [redacted], SA [redacted] forwarded to his VCTF partners an updated photograph of [redacted] in an attached E-mail, originally sent by IOA [redacted] At approximately [redacted] both surveillance vehicles were in the area. The [redacted] minivan ([redacted] and [redacted] parked on [redacted] with a view of both the [redacted] residences. The [redacted] mini-van ([redacted] parked on [redacted] with a view of the alley behind the [redacted] residences.

The three occupants of the [redacted] mini-van donned their ballistic vests and SA [redacted] retrieved his M-4 from the middle of the vehicle's interior. TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] did not wear their ballistic vests.

e. Shooting Incident Details

Approximately five to ten minutes after parking, both surveillance vehicles observed a [redacted] male walk to the corner of [redacted] talking on a cellular phone. The [redacted] male stopped and made eye contact with SA [redacted] The individual did not match the description of either of the two subjects, but acted as though he was possibly a lookout. After making eye contact with SA [redacted] the individual turned around and went back toward [redacted]

b6 -1,2,7
b7C -1,2,7

Within a minute of seeing the [redacted] male on the cellular phone, SA [redacted] looked to his left and observed two [redacted] males, one wearing an orange shirt, walking slowly down the alley toward their [redacted] minivan. They were hugging the right side of a wall and "creeping" down the alley in what appeared to be an attempt to conceal themselves. TFO [redacted] reported over the radio there were two men who resembled the subjects walking his way, one wearing a white shirt, and one wearing an orange shirt. TFO [redacted] then said he was "100 percent sure these were our guys."

b6 -1,2,4,7

SA [redacted] also believed the two men resembled Hammond and [redacted] respectively. They were walking in a single file, with the individual wearing orange leading the way. TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] both reclined their seats to conceal themselves. However, SA [redacted] ultimately made eye contact with the man wearing the orange shirt, who SA [redacted] recognized to be Hammond. Additionally, SA [redacted] recognized the second man as [redacted]

b6 -1,4,7
b7C -1,4,7

As Hammond and [redacted] approached [redacted] and closed the distance between themselves and the [redacted] minivan, SA [redacted] observed Hammond reach for his waistband. SA [redacted] believed it was the intent of both men to ambush the police surveillance. TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] opened their doors simultaneously. As SA [redacted] placed his foot onto the sidewalk to exit the car, he heard the distinct sound of gunshots. The gunshots sounded like they were coming from more than one gun. Though his back was turned away from the approaching men as he exited the passenger side of the vehicle, SA [redacted] believed TFO [redacted] was involved in an exchange of gunfire. SA [redacted] heard approximately a dozen shots before he came around the rear of the minivan and observed TFO [redacted] taking cover near the concrete steps of a residence with a vantage point of the alley. SA [redacted] saw TFO [redacted] from a position of cover, firing his Glock 21 down the alley, though SA [redacted] could not see Hammond and [redacted] from his position. As SA [redacted] paused at the rear of the [redacted] minivan, he observed TFO [redacted] sprint down the alley.

b6 -1,4,7
b7C -1,4,7

SA [redacted] moved to the same position of cover formerly held by TFO [redacted] near the concrete stairway. When SA [redacted] reached this position, he saw TFO [redacted] duck into a yard to the southwest side of the alley. SA [redacted] looked down the alley and observed Hammond had taken cover behind a pole at the end of the alley. SA [redacted] could clearly see Hammond's orange shirt. SA [redacted] also observed [redacted] who appeared to be injured and kneeling close to the ground at the end of the alley, a few feet from Hammond.

Hammond raised his arm holding a 9mm Glock 26 and, according to SA [redacted] began shooting at SA [redacted] While no 9mm shell casings were recovered in the vicinity of Hammond, SA [redacted] stated he saw smoke and heard gun shots. In response, SA [redacted] fired approximately two shots at Hammond. SA [redacted] paused behind cover before leaning out and firing two or three additional shots at Hammond, who continued to point his Glock 26 at SA [redacted] SA [redacted] regained cover again before leaning out and firing his last two or three rounds at Hammond. [NOTE: The PPD forensics unit processed the scene with assistance from the FBI Evidence Response Team. No shell casings were recovered in the vicinity of the pole behind which Hammond reportedly fired his Glock 26 at SA [redacted] Four 9mm shell casings were recovered from Hammond's Glock 26 where the first exchange occurred with TFO [redacted].

b7C -1,4

After SA [redacted] s last shot, he saw Hammond fall toward the ground and disappear from view (the area where Hammond fell was an area of unkempt foliage and uneven ground). SA [redacted] was unsure if Hammond had gone down, or left the alley and was attempting to flee. SA [redacted] saw [redacted] was still low to, or kneeling on, the ground.

b6 -1,7
b7C -1,7

TFO [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] approached from the intersection of [redacted] though SA [redacted] was unaware of their presence while he was firing at Hammond. SA [redacted] ran to the location where SA [redacted] was kneeling, and asked him, "What do we have?" SA [redacted] stated there were two [redacted] males and words to the effect, "they're shooting at us." SA [redacted] moved to the other side of the alley with his M-4 out. SA [redacted] looked down the alley and saw a [redacted] male wearing a white shirt ([redacted]) near the far end. [redacted] was on his knees with his back towards SA [redacted] and appeared to be trying to get up. SA [redacted] could not see his hands, nor was [redacted] complying with SA [redacted] s orders to "show his hands." Over [redacted] s left shoulder, SA [redacted] could see a black handgun pointed at him. SA [redacted] did not see anyone else, including Hammond or anyone wearing an orange shirt. SA [redacted] turned to TFO [redacted] and asked him to broadcast "the shooter in the orange shirt [Hammond] was gone."

b6 -1,4,7
b7C -1,4,7

Simultaneously with SA [redacted] s observation of a gun, he heard TFO [redacted] yelling, "They are still firing at us!" SA [redacted] was getting ready to shoot when TFO [redacted] appeared midway in the alley, from a backyard. Both SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] yelled at TFO [redacted] to get out of the line of fire. TFO [redacted] immediately moved out of the way. SA [redacted] again looked down the alley and continued to see the black handgun over [redacted] s shoulder. SA [redacted] yelled, "Show me your hands, show me your hands!" When [redacted] did not comply, SA [redacted] discharged his M4 rifle. SA [redacted] fired between eight and 10 rounds until he observed [redacted] fall to the ground.

b6 -1,4,7

NYT-846

After a brief pause, TFO [redacted] yelled if it was "OK to come out," to which SA [redacted] replied, "Yes." TFO [redacted] retraced his steps and joined SA [redacted] at the entrance of the alley. Hammond's whereabouts were still unknown as SA [redacted] continued to cover the alley with his M-4. After yelling commands such as "Don't move," and "show me your hands," and receiving no response, SA [redacted] reloaded his M-4 with a full magazine, even though he only fired approximately 10 rounds. This procedure to "top-off" his weapon with a fully loaded magazine was standard protocol in the event there may have been a further engagement. There were no more shots fired. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

f. Post Shooting Details

SA [redacted] TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] were concerned Hammond may have run from the area, as SA [redacted] told them Hammond had disappeared from sight after SA [redacted] shot him. SA [redacted] TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] proceeded southeast down [redacted] toward a group of police officers who just arrived and were standing in the street. SAs [redacted] and TFO [redacted] continued to move along [redacted] toward [redacted] in an attempt to locate Hammond. Their plan was to circle the area of houses until they reached the end of the alley from the opposite side. b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7

Meanwhile, SA [redacted] and TFO [redacted] moved slowly down the alley to where they could see one subject on top of the other. The male with the white shirt ([redacted]) was on top of the male with the orange shirt (Hammond). SA [redacted] asked [redacted] "Where is the gun?" [redacted] replied he did not have it. TFO [redacted] handcuffed [redacted] TFO [redacted] also asked [redacted] if he had been shot and [redacted] responded, "All over." SA [redacted] arrived in time to hear [redacted]'s response. b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7

Knowing Hammond and [redacted] were accounted for, TFOs [redacted] and SAs [redacted] walked back to their vehicles and waited for their supervisors to arrive. Other officers remained with the two subjects. SAs [redacted] were soon met by SAC Edward Hanko, CDC [redacted] and SSA [redacted] SA [redacted] drove them back to the office. b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7

On 07/25/2013, in a Mirandized statement, [redacted] admitted he and [redacted] Hammond were staying on [redacted]. During their stay, they took turns watching out the windows to determine if the police were outside, and at all times had a loaded Glock handgun. [redacted] stated he had arrived at [redacted]'s house the day before and had checked out the alley behind the house and knew the only clear exit from the alley was out onto [redacted] knew the alley going in the other direction was overgrown with trees and bushes. b6 -2,7 b7C -2,7

[redacted] stated when he and Hammond exited [redacted]'s house, Hammond had the gun (Glock 26) in his possession. When they got to the rear gate of [redacted]'s residence, [redacted] saw two police officers in a mini-van parked at the end of the alley on [redacted] stated he pointed them out to Hammond and said to Hammond, "There go the cops right there." [redacted] stated the police officers jumped out of the mini-van when "they seen (sic) [redacted] with the gun." b6 -2,7 b7C -2,7

[redacted] relayed after he and Hammond fled back up the alley, [redacted] was hit by gunfire and fell. [redacted] stated Hammond, who had already been shooting at the police officers, ran past him and was still shooting at the police officers from the back of the alley. [redacted] heard the police yelling "get down." b6 -7 b7C -7

[redacted] admitted before the shooting, he told his family members and other people he was not going to let the cops lock him up. [redacted] boldly proclaimed the police were going to have to kill him or he would kill the police officers. [redacted] and Hammond agreed they would "not let the cops lock them up" and would shoot it out with the police. [redacted] stated he believed he could not fight these cases (homicides) and he was "in too deep." [redacted] felt if he had a gun on the morning of July 22, 2013, he never would have let the police officers exit their mini-van because he would have shot them while they were still in the van. b6 -7 b7C -7

[redacted] stated they only had one magazine for the Glock. [redacted] knew he had ten bullets in the magazine on the morning of July 22, 2013, because he had 13 bullets before he shot "Tef" in the face three times. [redacted] stated after he shot "Tef" (Otif Wright) he knew there were 10 bullets left because several days before July 22, 2013, [redacted] unloaded the magazine and reloaded the bullets to ensure his fingerprints were on each bullet so people would know what he did. b6 -7 b7C -7

[redacted] was subsequently charged with three homicides by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

1. 07/09/2013 Murder of Carlos Barnes
2. 07/15/2013 Murder of Tyrone Hayes
3. 07/18/2013 Murder of Otif Wright

[1] Detective [redacted] was not formally interviewed as per PPD policy. He provided information to Sergeant [redacted] He carried a Glock 21 and at most 27 rounds (two 13-round magazines loaded at capacity with one round in the chamber (13 x 2 plus 1 = 27). Eleven live rounds were recovered from his weapon or magazines at the scene and 15 shell casings were found at the scene (27 rounds carried – 11 rounds still on his person = 16 rounds fired). If he did not "top-off" his weapon, this could explain the possible missing shell casing in the next chart. b6 -4 b7C -4

A National Crime Information Center (NCIC) criminal history check for Tevin Hammond included five arrests; the offenses included narcotics possession with intent to deliver, and assault. Hammond was convicted most recently on February 14, 2012, for Possession with intent to deliver. There were no active arrest warrants located for Hammond, though he was on state probation for the 2012 narcotics conviction.

The Commonwealth of Philadelphia Criminal History check for [redacted] included four arrests; the offenses included murder, assault, robbery, recklessly endangering, unlawful restraint, possessing an instrument of a crime, and criminal homicide. A PPD Bulletin reflected active warrants for [redacted]'s arrest for murder (warrant #134783, dated 7/18/2013) and robbery (warrant #133688, dated 6/10/2013).

j. Forensic Summary

SA [redacted] ERT Team Leader assigned to the Philadelphia Field Office, furnished to the Shooting Incident Review Team (SIRT) four FBI documents, a CD, and three Philadelphia Police Department (PPD) documents pertaining to the 07/22/2013 Agent-involved shooting. The CD and the three PPD documents were products of the PPD Crime Scene Unit (CSU), which processed the scene of the shooting with assistance from FBI ERT. The FBI documents, the CD, and the PPD documents revealed the following: b6 -1 b7C -1

The FBI documents consisted of a three-page sketch of the scene prepared by SA [redacted] on 07/22/22013; FD-302 prepared by SA [redacted] dated 07/23/2013 detailing the date and time the FBI weapons were collected from SAs [redacted] (07/22/2013 at 3:12 p.m.); and the corresponding FD-1087s for the weapon retrievals for storage in the FBI Evidence Control Room. The FBI weapons were transferred to PPD custody for examination on 07/24/2013 at 2:22 p.m. b6 -1 b7C -1

The PPD CD contained 212 files of photographs depicting the scene of the shooting, and evidence located and tagged for collection.

The three PPD documents were Property Receipts and represented a log of the evidence items collected at the scene. The receipts were:

1. 9015566 for items #1 – 57, being all items collected on 07/22/2013 and 07/23/2013. Some of the items included are 33 total fired casings, comprised of 15 .45 caliber casings, six .40 caliber casings, eight 5.56 mm casings, and four 9 mm casings.
2. 9015567 for item #58, being a Glock 26, 9mm handgun, serial number #KAA0744, with one magazine containing five live 9mm cartridges and one live 9mm cartridge in the chamber.
3. 9015577 for items D and E, being two cotton-tipped applicators used to swab the above Glock and the accompanying magazine and live cartridges.

According to the PPD Property Receipts, on 07/22/2013 at 7:00 p.m., CSU concluded processing of the scene.

Additionally, the PPD Office of Forensic Science, Firearms Identification Unit (FIU), provided a final Laboratory Report dated 04/24/2014. The FIU Laboratory Report is part of this report in Tab 9 – Shooting Scene.

k. Medical Summary

FBI Agents/TFOs involved in the shooting:

No injuries.

Subjects:

NYT-850

Both subjects sustained injuries as a result of the Agent-involved shooting; Hammond died at the scene as a result of his wounds. [redacted] was transported via ambulance to the [redacted] Medical Center. The arrival time to the emergency room was 1:41 p.m. The body injury chart for [redacted] was prepared by PPD Detectives [redacted] at 2:40 p.m. Noted on the body diagram were nine gunshot wounds to the back, neck and buttocks, and an abrasion/scratch to the left elbow. [redacted] had surgery on 07/23/2013 and recovered from his wounds; he signed a Health Information Privacy Act form consenting to release his medical records. No ballistics evidence was removed from [redacted] by doctors. b6 -7 b7C -7

An autopsy was conducted of Hammond on July 23, 2013. The autopsy was conducted by Dr. [redacted] at the City of Philadelphia Office of the Medical Examiner, 321 University Avenue, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19104 (case number 13-02997). According to a Findings and Opinions document provided by Dr. [redacted] Hammond sustained one gunshot wound to the volar left forearm (palm-side), one gunshot wound to the posteromedial (back) left thigh, and one gunshot wound to the right upper back with exit on the right side of the neck region. The cause of death was listed as "Gunshot Wound to the Back Involving Neck," and the manner of death was listed as "Homicide." During the autopsy, projectiles and bullet fragments were recovered from both the left forearm and the left thigh. The gunshot wound to the shoulder was a through and through wound, with the projectile exiting through the neck. Detective [redacted] took custody of the projectiles and fragments recovered from Hammond. b6 -4 b7C -4

b. The FBI Laboratory Shooting Reconstruction Team (LSRT) Personnel:

The LSRT did not deploy. The scene was processed by PPD.

IV. Shooting Incident Review Protocol

On 07/22/2013 Philadelphia SAC Edward J. Hanko spoke with Chief Inspector Robert J. Shields Jr., and submitted a FD-1085, Executive Situation Report to the Director. IIC Twersky spoke with Philadelphia ASAC [redacted] to arrange logistics prior to the SIRT arrival in Philadelphia. b6 -1 b7C -1

On 07/22/2013, the SIRT traveled to Philadelphia and members were briefed on the Inspection Division shooting review protocol by IIC Twersky.

On the morning of 07/23/2013, IIC Twersky and the SIRT members met with Philadelphia EM and SSA personnel. The SIRT also viewed the shooting scene, which occurred in the vicinity of an alley behind the residences at [redacted] Philadelphia. b6 -7 b7C -7

On 07/23/2013, IIC Twersky met with the involved FBI Agents and management personnel to explain the SIRT process and protocols. IIC Twersky and TL [redacted] met with PPD Lieutenant [redacted] (Internal Affairs Division) and Detective [redacted] (Homicide) regarding interagency cooperation and evidence collection processing. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

In total, three Signed Sworn Statements (SSS) were taken from the FBI Agents involved in the shooting incident. Other interviews, events, and observations were documented via FD-302s. The SSSs and interviews of witnesses were conducted voluntarily. A FD-927 (Warning and Assurance to Employee Requested to Provide Information Following a Shooting Incident) was signed by the Agents interviewed via SSS.

On 07/25/2013, IIC Twersky telephonically contacted Special Legal Counsel Attorney [redacted] Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division to provide an update on the investigation. b6 -4,3 b7C -4,3

On 07/26/2013, IIC Twersky conducted outbriefs with the SAC, ASACs, and squad SSA. The IIC met with [redacted] an Assistant Chief in the District Attorney's Office, to provide a briefing of the investigation. IIC Twersky also telephonically provided a briefing to AUSA [redacted] from the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. A copy of the reports created by the SIRT were provided to PPD Lt. [redacted]

a. Firearms Training

Firearms qualifications records for SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] were provided to the SIRT by Philadelphia PFI [redacted] A review of the training records reflected SA [redacted]'s most recent qualification with his FBI-issued Glock 22 was on 6/24/2013. SA [redacted] last qualified on his FBI-issued M4 on 03/11/2013. They were both in compliance with the firearms qualifications requirements. b6 -1 b7C -1

b. Deadly Force Training

CDC [redacted] advised FBI Deadly Force Policy training was conducted on May 30, 2012 during the Philadelphia Division's Annual Employee Conference. CDC [redacted] was the presenter of this training, which was memorialized via EC dated 05/30/2012, under 1Y-PH-90415 Serial 767. The PowerPoint presentation utilized by CDC [redacted] was also E-mailed to all field office Agents on 05/31/2012. Subsequent deadly force policy training was provided to Agents during the fourth quarter firearms training session. A review of the Philadelphia Division b6 -1 b7C -1

NYT-852

Firearms training log revealed SA [redacted] was present during the session held on September 9, 2013. SA [redacted] was not present for the Deadly Force Policy review during the fourth quarter firearms training session. The Deadly Force Policy was not discussed prior to this surveillance; however the Deadly Force Policy is on all operational plans. Squad C-4 averages at least one operational plan per week. b6 -1 b7C -1

c. DOJ Civil Rights Division Prosecutorial Decision

On 02/18/2014, Special Counsel [redacted] advised via E-mail, "there is insufficient evidence to warrant a federal criminal civil rights investigation into a shooting by two FBI agents and a local police task force officer in Philadelphia on July 22, 2013, resulting in the death of Tevin Hammond and the wounding of [redacted] in order to arrest them on homicide related charges." b6 -3,7 b7C -3,7

d. Local Prosecutorial Decision

District Attorney (DA) R. Seth Williams reviewed the interviews and investigation reports of the PPD, the FBI, the Office of the Medical Examiner and the Internal Affairs Division, and concluded no criminal charges were warranted. Accordingly, the DA's office terminated their investigation on 11/27/2013.

VI. Inspector's Draft Observations

Proposed Observation 1: SA [redacted] did not wear his ballistic vest during the operation. b6 -1 b7C -1

Analysis: The MIOG, Section 12-13.1 states in part: "Wearing of body armor by SA personnel is mandatory during planned arrests, execution of search warrants and surveillances which can reasonably be expected to culminate in a confrontation with armed and dangerous subjects."

At approximately [redacted] before departing on the surveillance, TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] gathered their gear, which included their ballistic vests containing additional magazines of ammunition, handcuffs, and law enforcement identifiers. They placed their ballistic vests in the minivan's rear seat within arm's reach from the front seats. Surveillances are inherently dangerous, especially when searching for a suspect in multiple homicides who had threatened to shoot law enforcement officers. When the circumstances of the surveillance necessitated SA [redacted] quickly exit his vehicle, he placed himself in a situation where he lacked adequate ballistic protection, and was forced to abandon the extra magazines attached to the vest. TFO [redacted] similarly exited the minivan without his ballistic vest. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 b7E -6

Proposed Instruction 1: SAC, Philadelphia will ensure all personnel wear ballistic protective vests during planned activity which can be reasonably expected to culminate in a confrontation with armed and dangerous subjects.

NYT-853

Proposed Observation 2: A specific operational plan was not formulated to account for a potential arrest.

Analysis: DIOG, Section 19.2.3 states in part:

"Proper planning and preparation for arrest situations can greatly enhance the safety and effectiveness of Agents and officers during ... high-risk situations. Whenever possible, written arrest plans must be prepared prior to conducting law enforcement activities that may result in the arrest of a potentially dangerous subject. Arrest plans must address five topics: Situation, Mission, Execution, Administration and Equipment, and Control and Communications. The [redacted] must be utilized whenever possible. When briefing the arrest plan, the briefing Agent should stress to the participants of the operation that any arrest has the potential to become dangerous. Exigent circumstances may necessitate an oral briefing in lieu of a written plan, but the oral briefings must address the five topics required to be included in written plans."

b7E -5

On the morning of 07/22/2013, the investigation of [redacted] was opened, and the case Agent, TFO [redacted] briefed SSA [redacted] on information he received. They discussed several investigative strategies, to include [redacted] Ultimately, it was intended PPD SWAT would arrest [redacted] but the initial idea was for the VCTF to determine if the information received from [redacted] SSA [redacted] concurred with the initial strategy and ensured each team member saw the subjects' photographs and the Officer Safety Bulletin. Five experienced agents and TFOs went to survey the site: PPD TFO [redacted] TFO [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted] and SA [redacted]

b6 -1,4,7
b7E -1,6

SA [redacted] understood an attempt to arrest the subject(s) would be made by PPD SWAT. SA [redacted] stated, the VCTF's "mission was to hold and conduct surveillance until SWAT arrived." SA [redacted] said, "The plan was to drive out to the [redacted] location, scout the area, and call PPD SWAT when the suspects' location was identified." SA [redacted] was "clear regarding the general plan to conduct surveillance to locate the subjects." SA [redacted] "understood if more information regarding the subjects was gathered, a more detailed plan, to possibly include SWAT, would be developed."

b6 -1,7
b7C -1,7

The intent to conduct more detailed planning did not fully account for the possibility that time and circumstances would necessitate the VCTF to effect an arrest.

Proposed Recommendation 2: SAC, Philadelphia should ensure a surveillance plan which involves a high risk subject with an active arrest warrant, addresses the potential for an arrest scenario, consistant with the five topics in written arrest plans.

Proposed Observation 3: The Philadelphia Agent-Involved Shooting Response Plan (AISRP) was not implemented.

Analysis: On 07/23/2013, the SIRT reviewed the Philadelphia Field Office AISRP. The AISRP was dated June 2012.

NYT-854

As cited in the Philadelphia AISRP Notification Procedures section, "When an Agent becomes involved in a shooting, the Agent, and/or other Agents present, should render emergency medical assistance to any injured persons, or request such assistance. Following whatever logical steps are necessary to control the situation, the Agent should thereafter immediately notify the on-duty personnel in the Communications Unit at the PHHQ Switchboard by calling 215-418-4000." Additionally, AISRP Section III (A) (7) reiterates Agents involved in a shooting have the responsibility to notify PHHQ Switchboard personnel that an AIS has occurred.

The SIRT determined none of the involved Agents provided notification of the incident to the Philadelphia Communications Center (PHHQ Switchboard) as outlined in the AISRP. Nor did anyone in the office who received a call from the involved Agents notify the radio room. An interview of Operational Support Technician (OST) [redacted] determined there was no radio traffic or telephone calls about a shooting incident on July 22, 2013. At approximately 2:00 p.m., OST [redacted] co-worker, OST [redacted] informed her of an article on www.philly.com mentioning information about the referenced shooting. OST [redacted] said the article stated the information was heard via the Philadelphia Police Department's radio traffic. b6 -1 b7C -1

An E-mail from ASAC [redacted] was sent to all employees within the division at 2:20 p.m. on July 22, 2013 with a subject line of "Agent Involved Shooting" and stated "Ladies/Gents, Two C-4 agents were involved in a shooting. All FBI/police personnel are safe. More to follow. [redacted]"

After the shooting, OST [redacted] stated multiple supervisors asked her numerous times if "anything came across the radio" or if "any calls came in." b6 -1 b7C -1

Proposed Recommendation 3a: SAC, Philadelphia should ensure field office personnel are appropriately trained regarding the AISRP.

Synopsis: (U//~~FOUO~~) This communication was prepared to furnish the analysis, comments, and recommendations of the Shooting Incident Review Group (SIRG) with respect to the captioned shooting following the SIRG meeting held on 07/31/2014.

Administrative Notes: (U//~~FOUO~~) This communication summarizes the Inspection Division's (INSD) Shooting Incident Report dated 06/07/2014 by Inspector Paul Delacourt and former Inspector Ron Twersky. A copy of the complete INSD Shooting Incident Report is electronically attached to this communication.

Enclosure(s): Enclosed are the following items:
1. (U//~~FOUO~~) Philadelphia Field Office Shooting Report

Details:

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 07/31/2014, the SIRG convened to review a shooting incident which occurred on 07/22/2013, involving two Philadelphia (PH) FBI Agents and a Philadelphia PD (PPD) Task Force Officer (TFO), all assigned to PH's Violent Crimes Task Force (VCTF), Squad C-4. The Agents involved in the shooting were SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] The TFO involved in the shooting was TFO [redacted] One subject was shot and killed, and the other shot and wounded. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

NYT-856

(U//~~FOUO~~) The PH VCTF personnel were engaged in a surveillance operation related to a Federal fugitive case. The subject, [redacted] was charged by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with murder and robbery, and was considered a suspect in additional murders. [redacted] 21-year-old Tevin Hammond, were subjects of a PPD Officer Safety Bulletin which recommended officers use extreme caution. VCTF intelligence determined [redacted] and Hammond were aware they were being pursued by law enforcement and intended to engage police when confronted. b6 -7 b7C -7

(U//~~FOUO~~) Shortly after the VCTF members staged their vehicles, Hammond and [redacted] exited the rear of [redacted] and walked slowly down a narrow alley toward the minivan occupied by TFO [redacted] (driver) and SA [redacted] TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] observed the two, with Hammond leading the way down the narrow alley. Hammond and [redacted] were described as "creeping" down the alley in what appeared to be an attempt to conceal themselves. b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) As Hammond and [redacted] approached [redacted] and closed the distance between themselves and the VCTF minivan, Hammond reached toward his waistband as if to retrieve a weapon. Fearing an ambush, SA [redacted] exited the vehicle to address the threat. TFO [redacted] also exited the vehicle and an exchange of gunfire ensued. During the gunfight, [redacted] and Hammond retreated back down the narrow alley and wound up near the end of the fenced-in alley, where the gunfight continued. The three VCTF personnel in the other minivan, who had been alerted to the presence of the subjects via radio, responded to the shooting. b6 -1,4,7 b7C -1,4,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) During the gunfight with the VCTF, Hammond was struck three times, including a round which penetrated his neck. Hammond died at the scene, and a black Glock 26 weapon was recovered from underneath his body. [redacted] was struck approximately eight or nine times (in the neck, back, and buttocks), and ended up on top of Hammond. b6 -7 b7C -7

(U//~~FOUO~~) Two days later while still at the hospital, [redacted] was in stable condition and consented to an in-custody interview. [redacted] admitted direct involvement in four murders. Under Miranda, he provided details of the confrontation with the VCTF. [redacted] stated he and [redacted] intended on killing police officers, and [redacted] said Hammond fired the Glock 26 during the gunfight with the VCTF.

Result of the SIRG

(U//~~FOUO~~) On 07/31/2014, the SIRG reviewed the Agent-involved shooting incident with the intent to:

1. (U//~~FOUO~~) Evaluate the application of deadly force. The SIRG unanimously determined the application of deadly force by the Agents on 07/22/2013 was in compliance with the Department of Justice's deadly force policy.

2. (U//~~FOUO~~) Provide the Director with evaluative analyses, observations, and recommendations for corrective actions concerning operational planning and execution, training, and/or safety. The SIRG made the following operational observations.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 1: SA [redacted] did not wear his ballistic vest during the operation. b6 -7 b7C -7

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 1: The MIOG, Section 12-13.1 states in part: "Wearing of body armor by SA personnel is mandatory during planned arrests, execution of search warrants and surveillances which can reasonably be expected to culminate in a confrontation with armed and dangerous subjects."

(U//~~FOUO~~) At approximately 12:45 p.m. on 07/22/2013, before departing on the surveillance, TFO [redacted] and SA [redacted] gathered b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 their gear, which included their ballistic vests containing additional magazines of ammunition, handcuffs, and law enforcement identifiers. They placed their ballistic vests in the minivan's rear seat within arm's reach from the front seats. Surveillances are inherently dangerous, especially when searching for a suspect in multiple homicides who had threatened to shoot law enforcement officers. When the circumstances of the surveillance necessitated SA [redacted] quickly exit his vehicle, he placed himself in a situation where he lacked adequate ballistic protection, and was forced to abandon the extra magazines attached to the vest. TFO [redacted] similarly exited the minivan without his ballistic vest. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

(U//~~FOUO~~) Instruction 1: SAC, Philadelphia will ensure all personnel wear ballistic protective vests during planned activity which can be reasonably expected to culminate in a confrontation with armed and dangerous subjects.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 2: A specific operational plan was not formulated to account for a potential arrest.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 2: DIOG, Section 19.2.3 states in part:

"Proper planning and preparation for arrest situations can greatly enhance the safety and effectiveness of Agents and officers during … high-risk situations. Whenever possible, written arrest plans must be prepared prior to conducting law enforcement activities that may result in the arrest of a potentially dangerous subject. Arrest plans must address five topics: Situation, Mission, Execution, Administration and Equipment, and Control and Communications. The [redacted] must be utilized whenever possible. When briefing the arrest plan, the briefing Agent should stress to the participants of the operation that any arrest has the potential to become dangerous. Exigent circumstances may necessitate an oral briefing in lieu of a written plan, but the oral briefings must address the five topics required to be included in written plans." b7E -5

(U//~~FOUO~~) On the morning of 07/22/2013, the investigation of

[redacted] was opened, and the case Agent, TFO [redacted] briefed SSA [redacted] on information he received. They discussed several investigative strategies, to include [redacted] Ultimately, it was intended PPD SWAT would arrest [redacted] but the initial idea was for the VCTF to determine if the information received from [redacted] SSA [redacted] concurred with the initial strategy and ensured each team member saw the subjects' photographs and the Officer Safety Bulletin. Five experienced agents and TFOs went to survey the site: PPD TFO [redacted], TFO [redacted] SA [redacted] SA [redacted], and SA [redacted]

b6 -1,4,7
b7E -1,4,6

(U//~~FOUO~~) SA [redacted] understood an attempt to arrest the subject(s) would be made by PPD SWAT. SA [redacted] stated, the VCTF's "mission was to hold and conduct surveillance until SWAT arrived." SA [redacted] said, "The plan was to drive out to the [redacted] location, scout the area, and call PPD SWAT when the suspects' location was identified." SA [redacted] was "clear regarding the general plan to conduct surveillance to locate the subjects." SA [redacted] "understood if more information regarding the subjects was gathered, a more detailed plan, to possibly include SWAT, would be developed."

b6 -1,7
b7C -1,7

(U//~~FOUO~~) The intent to conduct more detailed planning did not fully account for the possibility that time and circumstances would necessitate the VCTF to effect an arrest.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 2: SAC, Philadelphia should ensure a surveillance plan which involves a high risk subject with an active arrest warrant, addresses the potential for an arrest scenario, consistent with the five topics in written arrest plans.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Observation 3: The Philadelphia Agent-Involved Shooting Response Plan (AISRP) was not implemented.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Analysis 3: On 07/23/2013, the SIRT reviewed the Philadelphia Field Office AISRP. The AISRP was dated June 2012. As cited in the Philadelphia AISRP Notification Procedures section, "When an Agent becomes involved in a shooting, the Agent, and/or other Agents present, should render emergency medical assistance to any injured persons, or request such assistance. Following whatever logical steps are necessary to control the situation, the Agent should thereafter immediately notify the on-duty personnel in the Communications Unit at the PHHQ Switchboard by calling 215-418-4000." Additionally, AISRP Section III (A) (7) reiterates Agents involved in a shooting have the responsibility to notify PHHQ Switchboard personnel that an AIS has occurred.

(U//~~FOUO~~) The SIRT determined none of the involved Agents provided notification of the incident to the Philadelphia Communications Center (PHHQ Switchboard) as outlined in the AISRP. Nor did anyone in the office who received a call from the involved Agents notify the radio room. An interview of Operational Support Technician (OST) [redacted] [redacted] determined there was no radio traffic or telephone calls about a shooting incident on July 22, 2013. At approximately 2:00 p.m., OST [redacted] co-worker, OST [redacted] informed her of an article on www.philly.com mentioning information about the referenced shooting. OST [redacted] said the article stated the information was heard via the Philadelphia Police Department's radio traffic. b6 -1 b7C -1

All FBI/police personnel are safe. More to follow. [redacted]" b6 -1 b7C -1

(U//~~FOUO~~) After the shooting, OST [redacted] stated multiple supervisors asked her numerous times if "anything came across the radio" or if "any calls came in."

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 3a: SAC, Philadelphia should ensure field office personnel are appropriately trained regarding the AISRP.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Recommendation 3b: SAC, Philadelphia should ensure the field office AISRP is reviewed annually.

3. (U//~~FOUO~~) Provide recommendations for administrative action if deemed necessary. The SIRG recommended no administrative action be taken against the Agents as a result of their involvement in this shooting incident.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Acting Deputy Assistant Director David Paul Gelios, INSD, chaired the meeting and was a non-voting member. The following members were in attendance: Acting Chief Inspector Paul D. Delacourt, Office of Inspections (OI), INSD; [redacted] Trial Attorney, Criminal Division, United States Department of Justice (USDOJ); [redacted] Special Legal Counsel, Civil Rights Division, USDOJ; Section Chief (SC) Robert E. FBI Inspector Greg Bretzing

Based upon a review of materials from your shooting inquiry, we have determined that there is insufficient evidence to warrant a federal criminal civil rights investigation into a shooting by two FBI agents and a local police task force officer in Philadelphia on July 22, 2013, resulting in the death of Tevin Hammond and the wounding of [redacted] Members of an FBI Task Force on Violent Crime were searching for Hammond and [redacted] in order to arrest them on homicide related charges. Recent informant information advised that the two men were armed and intended to resist arrest. Hammond, who was in fact armed with a handgun and fired it, was killed. [redacted] was wounded. The District Attorney declined prosecution. The United States Attorney's Office for the District of Pennsylvania is prosecuting the surviving subject and has thus recused its office from this decision. b6 -7 b7C -7

Attempting to evade arrest, the two subjects were sneaking along a wall down a narrow alleyway unknowingly toward an FBI agent and task force officer seated inside a car parked on an adjoining street. Both pairs of men observed each other at about the same time. The law enforcement officers quickly exited their car when they saw Hammond reach to his waist band. The agent and task force officer exchanged gunfire with Hammond as he and [redacted] retreated down the confined area of the alleyway. The task force officer followed and took cover partway down the alley and continued to fire. Soon, a second FBI agent joined the first agent at the front of the alley and also fired at the two [redacted] By then, they had moved to the far end of the alley next to and behind a utility pole and were down on the ground. The task force officer, closer to the subjects, yelled at the men to "show your hands" and warned the agents that the subjects were still shooting. b6 -7 b7C -7

Hammond sustained three wounds and died at the scene. [redacted] was struck with at least eight bullets and survived. No law enforcement officer was wounded. Examination of the weapons of the two agents and the task force officer and the handgun found with Hammond revealed that they had all been fired. The visibility in the confined alleyway was limited. It is likely that the sound of echoing of shots among the buildings surrounding the alley impacted a determination of who was firing at any given point in the moving gun battle. b6 -7 b7C -7

The law enforcement officers related consistent accounts and explained that they fired their weapons because an armed subject was firing at them. They stated that they thus feared the imminent threat of the subject's use of deadly force. [redacted] corroborated the law enforcement officers' accounts. He stated that the law enforcement officers jumped out of their car when they "seen my [redacted] with a gun." Further, he stated that Hammond fired at the officers because he wanted to die rather than be incarcerated for his crimes. Also according to [redacted] he and Hammond had agreed to either kill the police or be killed by them and were planning to kill another young man in order to get a second gun. b6 -7 b7C -7

The evidence does not establishes that any of the three law enforcement officers willfully intended to use force that he knew to be unreasonable and unwarranted under the exigent and extremely dangerous circumstances in violation of the criminal civil rights statutes. A criminal investigation is not warranted and the administrative review of the agents' conduct should be completed.

This matter should be closed for the reasons described below:

1. Date of the Incident: March 1, 2012

2. Synopsis of the Facts and Reasons for Closing

On March 1, 2012, in La Mirada, California, the Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) and FBI were attempting to arrest by warrant Frank Martinez for a gang related double-homicide. Mr. Martinez fled to evade capture to a nearby rooftop and was shot and killed by gunfire from three LAPD officers and a special agent of the FBI. The three LAPD officers and the FBI agent fired simultaneously at Martinez after he repeatedly refused to obey their commands to show his hands and to surrender and aggressively respond to those commands. Martinez pretended to be concealing and pointing a handgun at the law enforcement officers, and made a sudden aggressive movement, after saying goodbye to a girl friend on a cell phone. The shooters were aware that Martinez was believed to be armed and dangerous [redacted] b3 -3 b7E -1,6 [redacted] After the shooting, however, it was determined that Mr. Martinez had not been armed with a handgun or any weapon.

The events on the roof immediately before and during the shooting were observed by other law enforcement and civilian eye witnesses and recorded on video by an unidentified by-stander. The shooting entailed an initial eight-second volley of heavy gunfire (dozens of overlapping gunshots). After a five-second pause, seven gunshots were separately fired, one-at-a-time, over an eight-second period. Martinez suffered eighteen gunshot wounds, at least eight of which were fatal wounds. Projectiles were extracted from the body of the deceased man, while other wounds were through-and-through gunshot wounds and no bullet slugs were recovered from inside the body. As discussed below, neither forensic nor other evidence can establish beyond a reasonable doubt that Martinez was struck by a gunshot fired from other than in the initial volley. While bullets may be striking Martinez body during the second volley (as possibly reflected in the video and as assumed by at least one witness), the medical examiner cannot opine when any particular wound was inflicted nor whether any wound was inflicted as a result of the second volley of sporadic gunfire. Nor can the medical examiner opine exactly when Martinez expired from his several fatal wounds.

Each of the four law enforcement officers maintains that he fired his weapon during the initial volley of gunfire and again after the initial volley. Each maintains that he thought Martinez had a weapon concealed in his sweat pants, which he was pointing at them, and that Martinez fired first before any officer fired. Each of the four also claims that Martinez attempted to rise after he dropped prone on the roof and thus continued to present an imminent threat to the law enforcement officers.

Since Martinez had no weapon, we now know that he did not fire at the officers. At the same time, the shooters accounts of what they observed and their perceptions regarding their observations are supported by other law enforcement personnel, civilian witnesses, and the video recording. Beside the fact that Martinez did not in fact have a weapon or fire one, there is no other evidence that credibly contradicts these asserted perceptions.

A violation of the federal criminal civil rights statues requires prove beyond a reasonable doubt that a subject law enforcement officer acted willfully, that is, with the intent to do something that he knew to be unlawful. Mistake of fact, and even bad judgment, would not establish such willful intent. Accordingly, the United States Attorney's Office for the Central District of California concurs with a recommendation that the evidence does not support a violation of the applicable federal criminal civil rights statute, 18 United States Code, Section 242.

3. Predication and Allegations Investigated:

The matter was immediately investigated by the FBI Inspections Division, the LAPD, and the Los Angeles District Attorney (LADA). The FBI agent shooter provided a voluntary signed sworn statement. LAPD compelled statements from its shooter officers.

[redacted] b3 -5

The LADA declined prosecution, finding the conduct of the four law enforcement officers justified by self-defense and defense of others. The LAPD found the shooting to be within LAPD policy. After reviewing all the other relevant evidence, we elected to read the compelled statements of the LAPD officer shooters in order to make a fully informed decision in this matter.

A federal civil suit has been initiated by Frank Martinez' successors. The law suit is pending.

5. Witness Accounts and Video

b6 -8 per DOJ CRT
b7C -8 per DOJ CRT

A number of other law enforcement personnel and civilian [redacted] observed some or most of the relevant conduct while Martinez was on the roof. An unidentified person a block away from the rooftop began to video tape the events while Martinez was atop the roof and during the gunfire. The LAPD officers are visible on this video behind a wall below the roof. The video has an audio component. The original version was provided to local TV Channel 4 and, pursuant to subpoena, provided to the Department of Justice. The FBI laboratory attempted to enhance the video and its audio. The enhancement resulted in only a slightly improved image of the events. In any event, the video and the other witness accounts are generally consistent with the version of events provided by the shooters.

In the video, Martinez paces back and forth on a slightly slanted roof while he holds one hand inside his pants and holds a cell phone in the other hand. He appears to be talking on the cell phone. Immediately before gunfire is heard on the audio of the recording, Martinez makes a sudden movement in the direction of the officers who then fire their weapons.

Just before the volley of shots, an LAPD officer "racked" his shotgun – he chambered a bean bag round into the gun – preparing to fire the less lethal device at Martinez. An FBI agent saw Martinez react by abruptly moving away from the sound of the shotgun "racking." According to this witness, the gunfire immediately followed this sudden movement by Martinez in the direction of the police officers who fired.

Several other law enforcement officers involved in the attempt to capture Martinez corroborate the accounts of the officers who fired their weapons. For instance, the FBI agent, who described the shotgun racking, corroborated the shooters account of Martinez' conduct and heard the LAPD officers commanding Martinez in both English and Spanish to take his hand out of his pocket. Additionally, that agent spoke with SA [redacted] immediately after the shooting. SA [redacted] told him that "he had his hand in his pocket, he said fk you, he moved his hand, and I heard a shot."

b6 -8 per DOJ CRT
b7C -8 per DOJ CRT

Significantly, civilian witnesses who observed the events also perceived that Martinez appeared to be concealing a weapon and considered him a threat to the police officers. For example, the [redacted] and observed Martinez on the roof. He described Martinez as pacing while he was holding a cell phone and holding his other hand tucked into his pants like he had a concealed weapon. This [redacted] advised that the police officers repeatedly asked him to surrender and raise his hands. The [redacted] also saw Martinez make a quick move just before he heard a volley of gunshots. Another [redacted] advised that [redacted] saw Martinez repeatedly ignor the police commands and reach for something in his pocket just before the police started shooting.

b6 -1,8 per FBI, DOJ CRT
b7C -1,8 per FBI, DOJ CRT

Additionally, a married couple [redacted] observed the events on the roof together [redacted] The husband, [redacted] saw one of Martinez' hands in his pocket the entire time, as the police yelled show us your hands. Martinez refused to obey the instructions and eventually pointed the hand in his pocket toward the officer with the rifle (SA [redacted]. The husband advised that he perceived Martinez to be a threat and would have shot the subject in response to the threatening gesture. His wife proffered the same factual observations, adding that Martinez started down the roof toward the police immediately before the volley of gunfire. She believed that Martinez had a gun.

b6 -8 per DOJ CRT
b7C -8 per DOJ CRT

Most witnesses ducked or took cover after the initial volley and did not observe the second sporadic volley of shots. However, the husband [redacted] observed the police moving back as they fired those shots and expressed his view that, once the man was down, he stopped moving and that any movement in his body was only the result of bullets striking him.

In the video, Martinez drops to a prone position on the rooftop after the first volley. As he lies with his head higher than his body partially on his side and stomach, the seven shots can be heard fired at a random pace over the eight second period of time. Movements of Martinez' body and arm are visible in the video. It is debatable whether the movements are voluntary, involuntary, or the result of his body being struck by bullets.

6. Forensic Evidence:

A. Ballistics and Autopsy

The four law enforcement officers' weapons had all been fired. The agent was armed with a semi-automatic rifle that fired .223 caliber rounds of ammunition. The LAPD officers were equipped with handguns that fired .40 caliber rounds.

All but one of the bullet projectiles recovered from Martinez' body were .223 caliber projectiles (fired by SA [redacted]'s rifle). The additional projectile recovered from the body was a .40 caliber (fired by Officer [redacted]' handgun). Several of the .223 caliber wounds were fatal and the .40 caliber wound was fatal as well. Accordingly, shots fired by the SA [redacted] and one shot fired by LAPD Officer [redacted] struck Martinez and caused fatal wounds. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

The medical examiner could not with scientific certainty determine the order in which the wounds were sustained nor whether a specific wound was sustained during the initial volley or during a shot fired during the second volley. Nor could the medical examiner opine whether any of the wounds were sustained from any of the seven shots fired during the second volley. Finally, the medical examiner further could provide no opinion to scientific certainty as to whether Martinez was still alive if he was struck by a bullet during the second series of shots.

B. The Video

The video is grainy and recorded from a distance greater than the distance that the shooter officers were from the rooftop. The shooters were positioned immediately below the roof. The video recorder was a block away. The recording is obviously not three-dimensional. The FBI Lab enhancement provides a modest improvement in the image. Undoubtedly, the four shooters who were closer to Martinez, and who observed reality in three-dimensions, had a much better view than what can be seen on video.

7. Legal Issues

To prove a violation of 18 U.S.C. § 242, the applicable federal criminal civil rights statute, the government must prove, beyond a reasonable doubt, that a police officer subject willfully used more force than was reasonably necessary under the circumstances. This burden of proof has both an objective and a subjective component. The reasonableness of the amount of force used is determined objectively and from the perspective of a reasonable officer on the scene, rather than with the 20/20 vision of hindsight. Graham v. Connor, 490 U.S. 386, 396 (1989). Allowance must be made for the fact that law enforcement officials are often forced to make split-second judgments in circumstances that are tense, uncertain, and rapidly evolving. Id. 396-97.

Even if there is evidence of unreasonable force, the government must further show that an officer acted willfully, that is with a bad purpose to violate the law. Screws v. United States, 325 U.S. 91 (1945). Accident, mistake, misperception, or even poor judgment, do not constitute willful conduct prosecutable under the statute. The misperceptions that the officers obviously had – Martinez was not armed and not about to shoot them – cannot be proven to be unreasonable perceptions, especially since the same perceptions were held by several witnesses to the events.

Additionally, the statue requires that the victim of unreasonable force be a "person." While we were unable to locate any law relevant to the issue, a jury should be instructed that it would need to determine that Frank Martinez was alive when he was subjected to unreasonable force. This presents a serious problem when evaluating the second volley of shots. As discussed above, after conducting the autopsy and viewing the video, the medical examiner is unable to opine that Frank Martinez was alive when the seven shots were fired at him during the second volley. Without such proof, a violation of § 242 cannot be established as to those gunshots.

8. Conclusion:

A violation of the applicable federal criminal civil rights statues, 18 U.S.C. § 242 requires prove beyond a reasonable doubt that a subject law enforcement officer acted willfully, that is, with the intent to do something that he knew to be unlawful; that he did what he did knowing it was wrong. Mistake of fact, and even bad judgment, cannot establish the requisite willful intent. Accordingly, the evidence does not support a prosecutable violation of federal law and it is recommended that the matter should be closed. The United States Attorney's Office for the Central District of California concurs with this recommendation.

Re: J.S.I.D. File # 12-0154

Dear Captain Lopez:

The Justice System Integrity Division of the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office has completed its review of the fatal shooting of Frank Eric Martinez by Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) Officers Rudolph Rivera, Juan Zendejas, Miguel Contreras and Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) Special Agent Matthew Parker. We find that the officers acted lawfully in self-defense and in defense of each other.

The District Attorney's Command Center was notified of the shooting at 8:12 a.m., on March 2, 2012. The District Attorney Response Team, comprised of Deputy District Attorney Stephanie Sparagna and District Attorney Senior Investigator Gregory Frum, responded to the scene and were given a briefing of the circumstances of the shooting and a walk-through of the scene.

The following analysis is based on reports submitted by LAPD Detective Luis Alarcon, Force Investigation Division (FID). Compelled statements of Officers Rivera, Zendejas and Contreras were not considered in this analysis.[1]

FACTUAL ANALYSIS

On January 25, 2012, the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office Hardcore Gang Division filed charges against Frank Martinez and Martin Figueroa for a double homicide and issued felony warrants for their arrest. The murder investigation was conducted by LAPD Hollenbeck Division. The case was featured on "LA's Most Wanted." In an attempt to locate Martinez, detectives monitored telephone calls and electronic communications made between Martinez and his girlfriend, Marlene Mena, who had texted Martinez that he was identified as the murder suspect on the television show. Martinez expressed to Mena his intent to kill the police:

[1] LAPD Sergeant David Gomez obtained Public Safety Statements from Rivera, Zendejas and Contreras in which they acknowledged discharging their weapons.

| MARTINEZ: | "I'm going to take one out when they come get me." |
| MENA: | "Who?" |
| MARTINEZ: | "A cop." |
| MENA: | "There are too many. . . [t]hey have bulletproof vests." |
| MARTINEZ: | "I don't care, I'm not going back." |

The telephone tracking continued for over a month. On February 29, 2012, Martinez' phone was pinged to a residence occupied by Gregory Luna and his family located at 15509 Escalona Road in the City of La Mirada.

On March 1, 2012, a task force was assembled and a plan devised for the capture and arrest of Martinez. The task force was comprised of Hollenbeck Division, Career Criminal Detail (CCD) Officers Juan Zendejas, Rudolph Rivera, Miguel Contreras, Ricardo Huerta and Aaron Skiver, FBI Agents Scott Garriola and Matthew Parker and members of LAPD Gang and Narcotics Division (GND), Fugitive Warrant Section. During a briefing, officers were informed that Martinez was a gang member, wanted in a double homicide involving his use of a gun, known to be armed and dangerous, and that he told his girlfriend he would not go back to prison and would be willing to kill an officer if they tried to arrest him.

The task force arrived at the Luna residence where they set up a perimeter and conducted surveillance.[2] The officers detained Gregory Luna as he left the house and learned that Martinez was inside the residence asleep on the couch. GND and FBI personnel maintained the perimeter and surveillance. The CCD officers were assigned to support the surveillance operation and if Martinez left the location they would become the arrest team. CCD officers were dressed in plain clothes with utility belts and wore tactical vests marked "Los Angeles Police" and ballistic helmets. The plan was to surround the location, place a black and white police car in front of the residence and order Martinez out. Air Support Division was requested to respond to the location to assist with the operation.

The officers moved closer to the residence as they waited for Air Support. Some officers placed themselves in a position to observe the rear of the residence. Christine Luna exited the house and looked up and down the street on two occasions causing the officers to speculate that the element of surprise for the operation had been compromised. Christine Luna was ordered to walk away from the house. Within moments, an officer broadcasted that Martinez exited the residence through the rear door, ran along the side of the property toward a side gate and was holding his front waistband as if he were concealing something. Martinez climbed over a fence and onto a shed located north of the fence. From there, he climbed onto the roof of a detached garage on the property next door. Officers surrounded the garage area and commanded Martinez to stop and put his hands up for two to three minutes. Martinez did not comply. He quickly and aggressively moved down the roof toward the officers and appeared to possess a gun in his pocket. Believing Martinez reached for a gun, the officers fired their service weapons killing him.

[2] The immediate area is comprised of single family residences.

Sworn Statement of Special Agent Matthew Parker[3]

Parker saw Martinez climb onto the roof of a home next to the residence he exited. Parker identified himself and commanded Martinez to stop and raise his hands. Martinez ignored Parker's commands and climbed on to the roof of the garage. Parker positioned himself in the passageway on the east side of the property near the garage. Parker pointed his rifle toward the roof where Martinez was moving back and forth along the peak. Parker was aware of other officers standing behind him who were also ordering Martinez to raise his hands. Martinez moved to the east side of the roof toward Parker. Martinez tucked his right hand deep inside the front of his pants. Parker believed he was holding something heavy and could see a bulge in his pants where his right hand was concealed. Parker continued to command Martinez in English and Spanish to come off the roof and put his hands up. Martinez did not respond to any commands. Martinez used his left hand to make a call with his cell phone. His right hand remained tucked deep inside the front of his pants. Parker believed Martinez was concealing a weapon.

Parker heard Martinez say, "Hey baby, I'm calling to say goodbye." Parker stated to Martinez, "Don't do that. Come down. Let's talk about it. Just come down and talk to me." Martinez tried to make a second phone call, said "Fuck" and lowered the phone from his ear. He looked directly at Parker who again stated, "Come down and talk to me." Martinez responded, "Fuck you, I'm not talking to you." Martinez looked aggravated, swung around and lunged the right side of his body in Parker's direction. Concurrently, Parker heard a single shot. Fearing for his life, Parker flipped his selector to semiautomatic, raised his rifle and fired. Martinez fell to his left side. Parker continued to fire at Martinez because he was still moving and Parker could not see his hands. Parker was aware that officers positioned behind him had also discharged their weapons.[4]

Statement of Special Agent Garriola

Garriola saw Parker kick the gate to enter the area east of the garage. Garriola ordered officers to get a bean bag shotgun.[5] Garriola saw an officer get the bean bag shotgun, heard a shotgun rack and an officer say, "I got the bean bag." Martinez looked in the direction of the sound of the shotgun racking and moved quickly to the east side of the roof. Garriola heard one gunshot followed by thirty to forty shots in rapid succession. Garriola asked Parker what happened. Parker stated, "He had his hand in his pocket. He said 'Fuck you', moved his hand and I heard a shot."

[3] Parker was not aware of any statements provided by LAPD officers.
[4] The investigation revealed that Officers Rivera, Zendejas and Contreras were standing along the cinder block wall which ran parallel to the garage and near the shed were Parker stood.
[5] A bean bag shotgun is a shotgun loaded with non-lethal ammunition.

Statement of Justin Whetsell

Whetsell was in his living room when he heard the sound of a helicopter circling above his neighborhood. He walked outside, looked toward Luna's property and saw eight officers stacked up along a brick wall and two to three officers standing next to the wooden gate which forms an intersection with the wall. Some of the officers were wearing civilian clothes with vests identifying them as the police and several of them wore Kevlar helmets. The officers commanded Martinez, who was standing on the garage roof walking towards the peak, to show his hands. The officers clearly stated, "Get your hands up." Martinez did not comply, screamed something incomprehensible at the officers and acted extremely belligerent. Martinez wore baggy clothing. He grabbed at his shirt to pull it up and attempted to get something out of his waistband or pocket. Whetsell never saw a weapon. However, based on his experience in the military and as a special agent for the Army, Whetsell believed that Martinez was reaching for a weapon and moving in a threatening manner. Once Martinez' right hand went toward his waistband, the officers discharged their weapons and Martinez went down. Whetsell estimated twenty-five to thirty-five rounds were fired. After the initial burst of fire, Whetsell ran back inside to ensure his family was safe and heard a second burst of gunfire of approximately five to ten rounds. Whetsell opined that Martinez either had a weapon or committed "suicide by cop."

Statement of Steve DeRuse

DeRuse's home is located behind the Luna property. DeRuse saw Martinez on the roof and two officers near his shed pointing their rifles at him. They ordered him multiple times to raise his hands and get off the roof. Martinez paced back and forth trying to use his cell. His right hand was in his pants "as if he had a concealed weapon." An officer scaled the fence and went into the backyard. Martinez seemed agitated and quickly moved down the roof away from DeRuse's view. As Martinez came down the roof, DeRuse heard gunfire and lost sight of him. Martinez never complied with the officers' commands and never took his hand out of the waistband of his pants as he ran down the roof out of sight.

Statement of Gerardo Villa

Villa, a Downey police officer, resides across from the Luna property. Villa saw Martinez pacing back and forth on the roof with his hands in his pockets. Six officers pointed their guns at Martinez and ordered him to put his hands up. The officers spoke in both English and Spanish. Martinez did not comply with their commands. He used his left hand and pulled a cell phone out of his left pocket. He stopped pacing and stood at the peak of the roof where he made two phone calls. He kept his right hand in his pocket the entire time. Suddenly, Martinez ran down the slope of the roof toward an officer positioned below in a shed located across from the garage. Martinez tilted his hand up as if simulating a firearm. Villa heard a shot followed by ten to twelve shots. Martinez looked like he back pedaled trying to run from the rounds hitting him and fell backward landing on his side. Villa believed that Martinez had a weapon.

Statement of Tamara Lockhart

Martinez acted "like there was nobody there...like he was disoriented...he was not listening to anything they were saying." Martinez reached for his pocket to get something out when the officers' yelling escalated and shots were fired.

Firearms Evidence

Martinez was not in possession of a gun.

Rivera fired 9 rounds from his .45 caliber Smith and Wesson semiautomatic service weapon.

Zendejas fired 8 rounds from his .45 caliber Smith and Wesson semiautomatic service weapon.

Contreras fired 18 rounds from his .45 caliber Glock semiautomatic service weapon.

Parker fired 22 rounds from his Colt semiautomatic/full-automatic bureau issued rifle.

Autopsy and Toxicology Reports

On March 4, 2012, Los Angeles County Associate Deputy Medical Examiner Doctor Cho Lwin performed an autopsy on Martinez and concluded his death was a homicide from multiple gunshots wounds. A toxicology analysis detected the presence of marijuana and alcohol in his body.

Other Evidence

An unidentified witness captured the OIS on video from the northwest corner of Escalona Road and Cheshire Street. The National Broadcasting Company (NBC) Television Channel 4 obtained a copy of the video from that witness and broadcasted part of it during their newscast programming. The video depicts Zendejas and Contreras standing along the south portion of Cheshire Street. Martinez is depicted standing on the roof and when gunfire erupts, he collapses. Steve DeRuse videotaped a portion of the incident from his residence. The video depicts some movement by Martinez just prior to the OIS. Martinez is seen with his right hand secreted in his right waistband area.

A forensic analysis was completed on the cell phone belonging to Martinez. He called his mother, Hortencia Castillo, and his girlfriend, Darlene Mena, moments prior to the OIS.

Martinez was a documented member of the "State Street Boys" street gang and was known by the monikers of "Frankie" and "Toker." Martinez has numerous prior arrests and convictions for drug related activity, possession of concealed weapons, and taking hostages. At the time of this incident, Martinez was on parole for possession of a controlled substance in violation of Health and Safety Code section 11350(a) in Case No. GA081018.

LEGAL ANALYSIS

California law permits the use of deadly force in self-defense or in the defense of others if it reasonably appears to the person claiming the right of self-defense or the defense of others that he actually and reasonably believed that he or others were in imminent danger of great bodily injury or death. People v. Humphrey (1996) 13 Cal.4th 1073, 1082; see also, California Criminal Jury Instructions (CALCRIM) No. 505.

In protecting himself or another, a person may use all force which he believes reasonably necessary and which would appear to a reasonable person, in the same or similar circumstances, to be necessary to prevent the injury which appears to be imminent. CALCRIM No. 3470. If the person's beliefs were reasonable, the danger does not need to have actually existed. Id.

"When the peril is swift and imminent and the necessity for action immediate, the law does not weigh in too nice scales the conduct of the assailed and say he shall not be justified in killing because he might have resorted to other means to secure his safety." People v. Collins (1961) 189 Cal. App.2nd 575.

"The 'reasonableness' of a particular use of force must be judged from the perspective of a reasonable officer on the scene, rather than the 20/20 vision of hindsight. . . . The calculus of reasonableness must embody allowance for the fact that police officers are often forced to make split-second judgments – in circumstances that are tense, uncertain, and rapidly evolving – about the amount of force that is necessary in a particular situation." Graham v. Conner (1989) 490 U.S. 386, 396-397.

"An officer is not constitutionally required to wait until he sets eyes upon the weapon before employing deadly force to protect himself against a fleeing suspect who turns and moves as though to draw a gun." Thompson v. Hubbard (2001) 257 F.3d 896,899

The test of whether the officer's actions were objectively reasonable is "highly deferential to the police officer's need to protect himself and others."
Munoz v. City of Union City (2004) 120 Cal. App. 4th 1077, 1102

CONCLUSION

Officers Contreras, Zendejas, Rivera and Agent Parker responded to a residential area attempting to execute a felony arrest warrant. The officers were briefed that Martinez was an armed and dangerous gang member wanted in a double homicide case. They also knew he told his girlfriend he would not go back to prison and would be willing to kill an officer if given the opportunity.

Although mistaken, the officer's belief that Martinez was armed was reasonable under the circumstances not only because of what they had been told, but also because of what they observed. Martinez ran from the officers and recklessly climbed onto the garage roof in an attempt to escape arrest. Martinez disregarded numerous commands to put his hands up and to come down. Martinez was heard saying goodbye to his girlfriend. He responded to Agent Parker's plea to come down from the roof and talk to him with disdain and furtively moved in a manner with his hand in his waistband which any reasonable person would interpret as a threat. Numerous civilians believed Martinez was armed and that his actions were dangerous justifying the officers' lethal response.

Under the totality of the circumstances, it was reasonable for the officers to fear that Martinez was armed and dangerous with the ability to harm them and the residents in the community. It was also reasonable for the officers to believe Martinez would endanger the lives of others in his attempt to flee when he had shown no regard for his own life. The officers were required to make a "split second" decision when they fired their guns at Martinez. The events that were unfolding were the very "tense, uncertain, and rapidly evolving" circumstances that the United States Supreme Court had in mind in Graham v. Conner. The officers based their decision on what was known to them about Martinez in conjunction with his aggressive movement on the roof. In reasonable fear of great bodily injury or death, the officers fired their service weapons at Martinez, ending the threat. We find that Officer Contreras, Officer Zendejas, Officer Rivera and Special Agent Parker acted in lawful self-defense and in defense of each other. We are closing our file and will take no further action in this matter.

Very truly yours,

The following report was prepared by Force Investigation Division (FID). The report does not include any information from the officers directly involved in the Categorical Use of Force incident. The report was drafted via the statements of uninvolved police personnel and independent witnesses in the case. The specific actions, tactics, and statements of the involved officers will be addressed in the report completed by Force Investigation Division, Administrative Investigation Section.

INVESTIGATIVE SUMMARY

On Wednesday, November 30, 2011, at approximately 0014 hours, a double murder occurred at 2133 City View Avenue, Los Angeles, California. The victims were identified as Art Gomez, 31 years of age, and Jesus Rendon, 36 years of age (Addenda Nos. 1 and 2).

Hollenbeck Detective Division, Homicide Unit, Detective III [redacted] Serial No. [redacted] and Police Officer III [redacted] Serial No. [redacted], were assigned to investigate the murders. Their investigation identified Frank Eric Martinez, a male Hispanic, 27 years of age, and [redacted] a male [redacted] years of age, as the individuals responsible for the murders of Gomez and Rendon. On January 25, 2012, Officer [redacted] presented the case to the Los Angeles County, District Attorney's Office, Hardcore Division. Deputy District Attorney [redacted] reviewed the case, filed murder charges and issued felony warrants against Martinez and [redacted] on Case Nos. LACBA39317501 and LACBA39317502, respectively (Addendum No. 3).

Detective [redacted] and SA [redacted] provided background information, photographs and the content of [redacted] to the above listed personnel. The purpose of the surveillance was to monitor the activity at [redacted] and determine whether or not Martinez was at the location. This would be accomplished by having an Observation Post (OP) on [redacted] and several units around the perimeter. If a vehicle was observed leaving the residence, officers would stop the vehicle and attempt to gain information about Martinez' whereabouts. If confirmation was obtained that Martinez was at the residence, Hollenbeck Division CCD personnel would be requested to assist.

A few seconds after [redacted] exited the residence, Officer [redacted] observed a male (Martinez) wearing a grey shirt and black pants exit the residence through the rear door. Martinez looked [redacted] and went back inside the residence. Officer [redacted] communicated his observations to the [redacted] units.[10] Approximately 30 seconds later, Officer [redacted] observed Martinez again exit through the rear door. Martinez immediately ran north to the northwest corner of the house and then east along the north side of the property toward a side gate. Officer [redacted] broadcast the direction Martinez ran and that he was holding his front waistband as if he was concealing something.

[10] Officer [redacted] communicated with the [redacted] via [redacted] radio, [redacted] which was not recorded by Communications Division.

Simultaneously [redacted] Officer [redacted] observed and recognized Martinez exit the rear of the residence and ordered him to get on the ground. Martinez ignored Officer [redacted] and ran north, then east along the north side of the house out of Officer [redacted] s view. Using his [redacted] radio, Officer [redacted] broadcast Martinez' direction of travel. From the front of the residence, Officers [redacted] observed Martinez reach the side gate and also recognized him. The officers ordered Martinez to put his hands up. Martinez looked in the officers' direction and immediately ran back west away from the gate and out of the officers' view.

According to SA [redacted] he observed Martinez move west along the roof at [redacted] and ordered him to stop. Special Agent [redacted] then crossed to the south side of [redacted] near the west side of the garage. Special Agent [redacted] observed SA [redacted] had the west side covered and decided to tighten the perimeter around Martinez. He quickly walked west along the south sidewalk of [redacted] to a cinder block wall that extended from the house to the detached garage enclosing the rear yard. Special Agent [redacted] believed he would have better containment from inside the rear yard. He observed a wooden gate that allowed access into the rear yard and quickly walked to the gate and entered the rear yard. He cleared it of any potential threats, then looked up and observed Martinez at the crest of the roof. He then moved to the northwest corner of the house and aimed his rifle at Martinez. Special Agent [redacted] remained on the sidewalk west of the garage.

Note: The roof of the garage was pitched and extended down east and west from its highest point.

Officers [redacted] were positioned southwest of the garage when they observed Martinez reach the west side of the roof. They immediately ordered Martinez to get down and noticed he held a cellular telephone with his left hand which he kept by his left ear as if he was talking on the telephone. Martinez' right hand was completely secreted inside his right front waistband area. He ignored the officers' orders and walked back to the east section of the roof. b6 -4 b7C -4

> Note: All of the officers and agents present at this incident were aware of the circumstances of the murder case which involved Martinez, the fact a firearm was used during the crime, he was considered armed and dangerous, and [redacted] b7E -6 b3 -1

Special Agent [redacted] ordered Martinez, both in English and Spanish, to get down and to show his hands. Martinez failed to comply. Instead, he maintained his right hand tucked deep inside the front of his pants which gave the impression he had a weapon in his right hand. Special Agent [redacted] observed several officers behind his position, referring to Officers [redacted] and [redacted] also yelling commands at Martinez. b6 -1,2,4 b7C -1,2,4

> Note: Since Martinez refused to comply with the officers' commands, SA [redacted] requested a bean bag to be deployed. Officer [redacted] responded to the request and retrieved his bean bag shotgun from his vehicle which was parked on [redacted] at [redacted] Officer [redacted] handed the bean bag shotgun to Detective [redacted] who immediately walked back toward Martinez. According to Detective [redacted] he chambered a round into the bean bag shotgun and immediately Martinez walked from the west to the east side of the roof. The OIS occurred as Detective [redacted] was approaching Martinez' location.

Martinez continued to refuse to comply with the officers' verbal commands. Instead, he quickly moved toward them and moved his right hand, resulting in an OIS. The following describes the perception and actions taken by SA [redacted] however, it does not represent the sequence in which the officers discharged their weapons, since Officers [redacted] and SA [redacted] discharged their weapons simultaneously. b6 -1,4,8 b7C -1,4,8

> Note: The OIS was videotaped by an unidentified citizen and was later broadcast on a local channel newscast. Further information pertaining to this video is documented in the "Visual Documentation" section of this report. In addition, civilian Witnesses [redacted] described Martinez' actions as a quick and aggressive move toward the officers while attempting to get an object out of his waistline or pocket area.

Special Agent [redacted] stood in the backyard area using the northwest corner of the residence as cover. He observed Martinez place the cellular telephone to his left ear and heard him say, "Hey baby, I'm calling to say goodbye, I'm just calling to say goodbye." b6 -1 b7C -1

Special Agent [redacted] attempted to deescalate the situation by making eye contact with Martinez and reason with him. He lowered his rifle slightly and continued to focus on Martinez's eyes and right hand but Martinez ignored him.

b7C -1

According to SA [redacted] Martinez made another telephone call which appeared not to go through. Martinez said, "Fuck" and lowered the telephone from his left ear. Special Agent [redacted] still trying to reason with Martinez said, "Don't do that. Come down, let's talk about it. Just come down and talk to me." Martinez looked directly at him and said, "Fuck you, I'm not talking to you." Martinez's facial expression changed and he appeared to become more aggravated. Martinez turned counter clock wise and lunged the right side of his body toward SA [redacted] Simultaneously Martinez thrust the protrusion where his right hand was concealed, and where SA [redacted] believed he was holding a firearm, toward him. Special Agent [redacted] believed Martinez aimed his right hand directly at him. Concurrent with this movement, SA [redacted] heard a single gunshot and fearing for his life, he moved his rifle's selector lever from safe to semiautomatic and fired at Martinez from an approximate distance of 19 feet. Special Agent [redacted] continued firing at Martinez's center body mass as he transitioned from a standing position to lying on his left side on the roof. Martinez's continual movement posed a continuing threat to SA [redacted] and to the other officers present. He continued to fire at Martinez because Martinez was still moving and he could not see his hands. When Martinez stopped moving, SA [redacted] believed Martinez was no longer a threat and ceased fire, then he placed his rifle's selector lever on safe.

Believing Martinez had fired directly at him, SA [redacted] immediately searched for the impact of Martinez' round along the wall and surrounding area where he had been standing, but found no bullet impacts. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

> Note: Special Agent [redacted] was aware the officers positioned behind him had also discharged their weapons, referring to Officers [redacted] Special Agent [redacted] did not know the number of rounds he fired. Based on the evidence recovered, it was determined he fired a total of 22 rounds.

After the OIS, at 0832:42 hours Officer [redacted] (Unit [redacted]) broadcast on Hollenbeck frequency a request for a RA unit to respond to the scene. Officer [redacted] notified the Norwalk Sheriff's Station and requested units to respond to assist securing the scene. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

Detectives [redacted] walked to [redacted] and identified the involved officers. Officers [redacted] were separated and ordered not to discuss the incident, while Special Agent [redacted] stood by with Special Agent [redacted] Since Martinez was not in custody, everyone maintained their positions until Fire Department personnel arrived and provided a ladder to access the roof. Although Martinez was not moving, he was believed to still be armed. Officers [redacted] followed by Detective [redacted] climbed the ladder to the roof. Officer [redacted] handcuffed Martinez and Officer [redacted] conducted a quick pat down search for weapons, however none were located. The paramedics then conducted their medical assessment and determined Martinez dead at scene at approximately 0840 hours.

Detective [redacted] requested Detective [redacted] to return to the scene to monitor the involved officers while Detective [redacted] made notifications to Lieutenant [redacted] who in turn notified the Hollenbeck Watch Commander. At approximately 0835 hours, Hollenbeck Patrol Division Sergeant I [redacted] Serial No. [redacted] Unit [redacted] was requested to respond to the scene. Once Detective [redacted] arrived at the scene, he assisted monitoring the involved officers along with Detectives [redacted] until additional supervisors responded. Sergeant [redacted] arrived at the scene at approximately 0906 hours and individually took a Public Safety Statement from Officers [redacted] b6 -4 b7C -4

Force Investigation Division Detective II [redacted] Serial No. [redacted] reviewed all documents and circumstances surrounding the separation, monitoring and admonition not to discuss the incident to officers prior to being interviewed by FID investigators. All protocols were followed (Addenda Nos. 10 and 11).

SCENE DESCRIPTION

The OIS occurred at [redacted] La Mirada, California. This property is located at the southwest corner of [redacted] is a two lane thoroughfare traveling north and south, approximately 40 feet in width with parking available at the east and west curbs. [redacted] intersects [redacted] and is also a two lane thoroughfare traveling east and west approximately 30 feet in width with parking available at the north and south curbs. b6 -2 b7C -2

The immediate area is comprised of single family residences and is bordered by [redacted] to the north and [redacted] to the south. The property at [redacted] consists of a single story family residence with a detached garage. The driveway is located along [redacted] allowing direct access to the garage. The front and north side yards of the property are open allowing access from the sidewalks along [redacted] The rear yard is enclosed by a red cinder block wall approximately six feet in height, which extends north from the house to the sidewalk, then west to a wooden gate. The wooden gate extends south from the sidewalk to the detached garage enclosing the rear yard. The entire enclosed rear yard consists of a concrete patio that surrounds a swimming pool, which is located along the south side of the rear yard and extends behind the garage. The enclosed concrete rear yard contained several items that included a "Popup" style trailer, a barbecue grill, a large plastic storage container, a table, chairs and other miscellaneous items. Wood beams connected the rear of the house to the detached garage were covered with corrugated plastic sheets that provided shade to a small area of the rear yard. b6 -2 b7C -2

The incident occurred during daylight hours and the location of the street lights and other artificial illumination was not a factor. The weather was approximately 57 degrees Fahrenheit with partially clear skies and no discernable wind.

CANVASSING FOR WITNESSES

Force Investigation Division and Federal Bureau of Investigation personnel conducted a canvass of the immediate area for witnesses to the officer-involved shooting. The parameters of the canvass included the [redacted] blocks of [redacted] and the [redacted] blocks of [redacted] During the canvass detectives located several individuals who observed or heard the incident; however, some refused to have their interview recorded. ## SUSPECT INFORMATION

Frank Eric Martinez was described as a male Hispanic, black hair, brown eyes, five feet nine inches in height, 214 pounds, with a date of birth of December 22, 1984. His last known address was listed as 1317 North Sierra Bonita Avenue, Pasadena, California.

Martinez was identified by the following numbers: CII No. A22684072, FBI No. 366740VB9, MAI No. 30133724, Social Security Nos. 551-83-0631 and 551-83-3106, California Department of Corrections No. V037978, and California Driver License No. D3190207. Martinez was a documented member of the "State Street Boys" street gang and was known by the monikers of "Frank" and "Toker."

At the time of the officer-involved shooting, Martinez was on parole for possession of a controlled substance, 11350(A) H&S, Case No. NEGA08101801.

On March 14, 2012, Detective [redacted] notified California Department of Corrections, Pasadena Office No. 1, Parole Agent [redacted] of Martinez' death. In addition, there was a warrant for Martinez' arrest for murder on Case No. LACBA39317501. Martinez' criminal history included prior arrests for possession of a controlled substance, possession of marijuana for sales, possession of a concealed weapon, possession of a firearm by a felon, hit and run, taking hostages, violation of parole, evading, and carrying a loaded firearm (Addenda Nos. 12 and 13). b6 -4 b7C -4

INJURIES

At approximately 0835 hours, the Los Angeles County Fire Department received an alarm to respond to [redacted] Engine No. 49 and Rescue Ambulance (RA) No. 49 were dispatched and responded. Engine No. 49 consisted of Captain [redacted] Serial No. [redacted] Engineer [redacted] Serial No. [redacted], and Firefighter [redacted] Serial No. [redacted] Rescue Ambulance No. 49 consisted of Firefighter/Paramedics [redacted], Serial No. [redacted] and [redacted] Serial No. [redacted] b6 -4 b7C -4

Engine No. 49 and RA No. 49 arrived at the location at approximately 0839 hours. The paramedics observed Martinez on the roof of the garage laying on his left side. Since Martinez was believed to be armed, the officers used a fire department ladder to climb onto the roof of the garage and take Martinez into custody. Once in custody, Paramedic [redacted] climbed onto the roof and conducted an assessment of Martinez' injuries. Paramedic [redacted] noted Martinez had multiple gunshot wounds to his upper torso and head. He was neither conscious nor breathing, and had no pulse or signs of life. A substantial loss of blood and brain matter was visible from the head injury. Paramedic [redacted] determined Martinez' death at 0840 hours (Addendum No. 14, Investigator's Note No. 3). b6 -4 b7C -4

At approximately 1219 hours, FID Detective II [redacted] Serial No. [redacted] notified the Los Angeles County Department of Coroner regarding Martinez' death. Martinez was assigned Coroner's Case No. 2012-01480. At approximately 1410 hours, Coroner's Investigator [redacted] arrived at the scene to conduct her preliminary field investigation. At approximately 1735 hours, Forensic Attendant [redacted] transported Martinez' remains to the Los Angeles Forensic Science Center, located at 1104 North Mission Road, Los Angeles California (Addendum No. 15). b6 -4 b7C -4

AUTOPSY

The examination was conducted by Deputy Medical Examiner Doctor [redacted] Force Investigation Division Detective II [redacted] Serial No. [redacted] Los Angeles County, District Attorney's Office Senior Investigator [redacted] and FBI Agents [redacted] witnessed the autopsy. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

During the autopsy, Doctor [redacted] noted 18 gunshot wounds to Martinez' body. The gunshot wounds were arbitrarily labeled and do not indicate the sequence of when the injuries occurred. Doctor [redacted] ascribed the cause of death to multiple gunshot wound injuries and ruled the manner of death a homicide.

Gunshot wound No. 1 was a fatal wound located on the left side of the head with no exit wound. The direction of this wound was left to right, back to front and slightly upward. A deformed projectile was recovered from the brain.

Gunshot wound No. 2 was a non-fatal graze wound to the right temple. Gunshot wound No. 3, was a fatal through and through wound to the right eye. The direction of this wound was left to right and front to back with no projectile recovered.

Gunshot wound No. 4 was a non-fatal through and through wound to the right arm. The direction of this wound was left to right, front to back and upward with no projectile recovered.

Gunshot wound Nos. 5 and 6 were non-fatal through and through wounds to the right forearm. The direction of these wounds was right to left and back to front with no projectiles recovered.

Gunshot wound Nos. 7 and 8 were fatal wounds to the right chest. The direction of these wounds was right to left, front to back and upward with projectiles recovered in the left chest and spine respectively.[11]

Gunshot wound No. 9 was a fatal wound to the lower right chest. The direction of this wound was right to left, front to back and slightly upward with a projectile recovered in the soft tissue of the back.

Gunshot wound Nos. 10 through 13, were fatal wounds to the center area of the chest. The direction of these wounds was right to left and front to back with four projectiles recovered from the soft tissue of the back.

Gunshot wound No. 14 was a fatal wound to the stomach. The direction of this wound was front to back, right to left and upward with a projectile recovered from the tissue of the back. Gunshot wound No. 15 was a non-fatal, non-penetrating wound to the right abdomen.

Gunshot wound No. 16 was a non-fatal wound to the right buttock. The direction of this wound was right to left front to back and upward with a projectile recovered from the tissue of the back.

Gunshot wound No. 17 was a non-fatal through and through wound to the right thigh. The direction of this wound was left to right, front to back and upward with no projectile recovered.

Gunshot wound No. 18 was a non-fatal wound to the right thigh. The direction of this wound was right to left, front to back and upward with a projectile recovered from the tissue of the back.

> Note: The direction of the gunshot wounds described above are consistent with Martinez being shot while facing the officers in an elevated position in relation to the shooting officers.

---

[11] The projectile recovered from gunshot wound No. 7 was fired from Officer [redacted] pistol. The ten additional projectiles recovered during the autopsy were fired from Special Agent [redacted] s rifle. See additional information listed under the Firearms Analysis section.

b6 -1,4

In particular, gunshot wound Nos. 5, 6 and 15 are consistent with Martinez being shot while his right arm was in front of his torso close to his body and facing the officers.

A laboratory screen was completed on Martinez' urine, blood and vitreous humor. Los Angeles County Coroner's Office, Supervising Criminalist II, [redacted] completed the toxicology report on April 9, 2012. Martinez' toxicology results indicated he had marijuana and alcohol in his body (Addendum No. 16, Investigator's Note No. 4). b6 -4 b7C -4

CLOTHING ANALYSIS

Martinez was attired in a grey long sleeve shirt, grey undershirt, black sweatpants, black shorts, black and blue underwear, black socks and black shoes. The clothing was collected and booked as evidence (Item Nos. 71L through 71R). On August 13, 2012, Criminalist II [redacted] Serial No. [redacted] completed the examination of the above clothing items for the presence of firearms related defects and/or impacts, and found the following: b6 -4 b7C -4

Forty-three holes/defects were observed in the shirt.

- Thirty-one were located on the front.
- Four were located on the back.
- Four were located on the front of the right sleeve.
- Three were located on the back of the right sleeve.
- One was located on the back of the left sleeve.

Fifteen holes/defects were observed in the undershirt.

- Ten were located on the front side.
- Five were located on the back side.

Eleven holes/defects were observed in the pants.

- Five were located on the front. Two on the left front lower leg and three on right upper leg area.
- Six were located on the left side. Four on the lower left leg area and two on the left buttock area.

Six holes/defects were observed in the shorts.

- Two were located on the right front area.
- Four were located on the back side.

Fifteen holes/defects were observed in the underwear.

- Eleven were on the right front area.
- Four were on the back side of the shorts.

No holes/defects were observed on the shoes and socks; therefore, no further analysis was conducted on these items. In addition, since the underwear and undershirt were consistent with being worn as undergarments, which precludes the deposit of gunshot residues on these items, no further chemical analysis was performed on these items.

Chemical analysis was performed on the defects found in the shirt and in the sweatpants and some residues consistent with the discharge of a firearm were observed on some of the holes; however, due to the absence of discernible gunshot residue patterns, a muzzle to garment distance could not be determined. The location of the defects noted on the clothing items described above was consistent with the location of the gunshot wounds to the upper and lower torso (Addendum No. 17).

WEAPONS

Officer [redacted] was armed with a Department approved Smith & Wesson, .45 caliber semiautomatic pistol, Model 4506, Serial No. [redacted] which he carried in a single retention drop down black nylon holster. b6 -4 b7C -4

Officer [redacted] pistol was recorded in the LAPD FITS on May 2, 2012, and he completed the Semiautomatic Glock Transition School on March 29, 2005 (Investigator's Note No. 8).

Special Agent [redacted] was armed with a 5.56 x 45 mm caliber Colt, Model M4A1 semiautomatic/full-automatic rifle, Serial No. [redacted] The rifle was equipped with a scope and a tactical light which were mounted on the upper receiver. It was found unloaded and secured in the trunk area of SA [redacted] s vehicle. b6 -1 b7C -1

Note: LAPD personnel did not conduct a magazine count on the rifle. Based on the evidence recovered, it was determined Special Agent [redacted] fired 22 rounds during the incident (Investigator's Note No. 9).

On March, 2, 2012, SID Criminalist II [redacted] Serial No. [redacted] examined and test fired SA [redacted]'s rifle, a Colt, Model M4A1 rifle, Serial No. [redacted] Criminalist [redacted] determined the rifle functioned as designed. The rifle had an ammunition capacity of 30 rounds in the magazine and one round in the chamber. The measured trigger pull was approximately 6 ¾ to 7 pounds in semiautomatic mode and 9 ¾ to 10 pounds in full-automatic mode (Addendum No. 21). b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

FIREARMS ANALYSIS

On March 1, 2012, SID Criminalist II [redacted] Serial No. [redacted] with the assistance of Criminalist [redacted] conducted an examination and analysis of the officer-involved shooting scene for bullet paths, bullet impacts and ballistic evidence. b6 -4 b7C -4

There were 11 impacts and one defect found at the scene, with some of these impacts being associated as having been caused by the same projectile. A total of nine distinct projectile pathways were documented. Five pathways were caused by projectiles traveling east to west which struck the garage at or near the east side. The additional four pathways struck the roof of the garage. These were shallow graze impacts that yield limited information (Addendum No. 22).

Criminalist [redacted] compared the expended cartridge casings, fired bullets and projectiles recovered from the officer-involved shooting scene to the test fired bullets and cartridge casings from the officers' weapons and projectiles recovered during Martinez' autopsy. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 Criminalist [redacted] concluded eight expended cartridge casings (Item Nos. 1-3, 5-7, 30 and 54) were fired from Officer [redacted]'s pistol. Seven expended cartridge casings (Item Nos. 4, 8, 9, 17, 20, 55, and 56) were fired from Officer [redacted] pistol.

Eighteen expended cartridge casings (Item Nos. 10-16, 18, 19, and 21-29) were fired from Officer [redacted] pistol, and twenty-two expended cartridge casings (Item Nos. 32-53) were fired from Special Agent [redacted]'s rifle.

In regards to projectiles' comparison, Criminalist [redacted] concluded that ten fired bullets recovered during the autopsy (Item Nos. 71B-71K) were fired from SA [redacted]'s rifle. The eleventh fired bullet recovered during the autopsy (Item No. 71A, recovered from the left chest) and Officer [redacted] test fired bullet (Item No. 60) had polygonal rifling and were not microscopically compared.[12] One fired bullet recovered from the scene (Item No. 57) was fired from Officer [redacted]'s pistol. The remaining fragments and projectiles had no microscopic comparison value (Addendum No. 23). b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

EVIDENCE

There were a total of 71 items of evidence booked in conjunction with this investigation. The evidence included discharged cartridges, expended projectiles, live ammunition, clothing, blood swatch, and other miscellaneous items (Addenda Nos. 24 and 25).

[12] According to Department policy, polygonal rifled bullets are not microscopically compared. Officer [redacted] was the only officer that carried a Glock pistol which has a polygonal rifled barrel. b6 -4 b7C -4

SEROLOGY

There were no items that were swabbed to collect potential biological material.

VISUAL DOCUMENTATION

On March 1, 2012, SID Photographer III [redacted] Serial No. [redacted] responded and photographed the scene, the evidence prior to its recovery, Martinez' remains and the positions of the officers. Force Investigation Division Sergeant II [redacted] Serial No. [redacted] took additional photographs of the scene and evidence. The photographs were documented under Control Nos. 0361984 and 0312147. In addition, SID Photographer III [redacted] Serial No. [redacted] took [redacted] of the scene under Control No. 0361995. b6 -4 b7C -4 b7E -1

During the incident, an unidentified witness captured the OIS on video from the northwest corner of [redacted] The National Broadcasting Company (NBC) Television Channel Four obtained a copy of the video from that witness and broadcast part of it during their newscast programing. The video depicted Officers [redacted] standing along the south portion of [redacted] Martinez is depicted standing on the roof and when gun fire erupts, he collapses. A copy of the newscast was obtained and booked at SID Electronics Section under CD Box No. 620903 (Investigator's Note No. 10). b6 -2,4 b7C -2,4

Witness [redacted] took a photograph of Martinez from his residence located at [redacted] The photograph depicts Martinez standing on the roof of the garage. A copy of the photograph was stored at SID Photographic Lab under Control No. D311949. [redacted] also videotaped a portion of the incident from his residence. The video depicts some of Martinez' movements just prior to the OIS. A copy of the video was booked at SID Electronics Section under CD Box No. 620904 (Investigator's Note No. 11). b6 -8 b7C -8

INVESTIGATOR'S NOTES

1. [redacted] indicated when she exited her residence, an officer used profanity as he directed her to the ground. In addition, when she was placed at the rear of the police vehicle, the same officer pushed her against the vehicle. The allegations of inappropriate language and being pushed were documented under Complaint Form No. 12-000865 and forwarded to IAG. b6 -2 b7C -2

2. During the canvass for witnesses, 14 citizens were located who only heard the gunshots during the OIS. The number of gunshots heard by witnesses varied from five to 50 and from one volley of gunshots to a volley, a pause and then additional gunshots. A Heard-Only Witness form was completed for each, and the forms are contained in the FID investigative file, and are available for review. In addition, during the interviews of some of the witnesses, the following issues were identified:

   Witness [redacted] indicated her husband was also present during the OIS. Her husband was identified as [redacted] He was interviewed and his transcribed statement is included in this report. b6 -8 b7C -8

   Witness [redacted] indicated [redacted] was present during the OIS and also heard the gunshots. Force Investigation Division detectives attempted to interview him on three occasions and left business cards and messages requesting him to call back. As of the date of this report, he has not been interviewed.

Witness [redacted] indicated he exited his residence after he heard the gunshots and his "loved ones" followed him outside. These citizens were identified as [redacted] who both refused to provide a statement about the case. b6 -8 b7C -8

[redacted] indicated people from her residence walked outside after the OIS. They were identified as [redacted] were interviewed in regards to the OIS, however, [redacted] refused to provide a statement. [redacted] indicated [redacted] took photographs after the incident and possibly posted them on the social media site Facebook. Investigators were unable to determine if in fact she posted photographs of the incident.

[redacted] indicated her neighbor identified as [redacted] a male approximately [redacted] years of age, was outside his residence and had apparently taken photographs of the scene after the shooting. Detectives contacted [redacted] who indicated he had not witnessed the incident and had only recorded a portion of the scene and of the aftermath with his cellular telephone. The video was viewed and did not depict the incident. [redacted] was unable to download or forward the video to investigators. b6 -8 b7C -8

[redacted] indicated [redacted] referring to [redacted] witnessed a portion of the incident from outside his residence. [redacted] refused to provide a statement about the case. In addition, [redacted] indicated his "kids" had told him that FBI personnel were involved in the OIS. His kids were identified as [redacted]

[redacted] indicated his wife was present. She was identified as [redacted] who was interviewed and her transcribed statement is included in this report. b6 -2,8 b7C -2,8

[redacted] indicated his wife and grandmother were home during the incident and had only heard the gunshots. A Heard-Only Witness form was completed on his wife, [redacted] but his grandmother, [redacted] refused to be interviewed, however indictaed she had only heard gunshots.

Prior to the OIS, [redacted] observed two officers on the roof at [redacted] however, the investigation revealed no officers had been on the roof of any structure prior to the shooting.

During her interview, [redacted] made reference to a diagram for orientation purposes only. Since she did not mark the diagram, it was not included with her transcribed statement. The same diagram was later utilized by her husband [redacted] who marked his position at the time of the OIS on the diagram. The marked diagram was included with [redacted]'s transcribed statement. b6 -8 b7C -8

[redacted] did not witness the OIS and her statements were documented on a Heard-Only form.

[redacted] indicated a neighbor identified as [redacted] had witnessed [redacted] being tackled by officers when he was detained. [redacted] was interviewed and did not state he was tackled by officers. Additionally [redacted] and [redacted], who witnessed the detention, did not indicate [redacted] was tackled by officers. Investigators were unable to identify [redacted] indicated a neighbor had recorded the incident. This neighbor was identified as [redacted] who was previously identified and interviewed for this investigation. b6 -8 b7C -8

3. Los Angeles County Fire Department Engineer [redacted] and Firefighter [redacted] responded to the scene but did not assist with Martinez' medical assessment or make contact with any of the involved officers. Battalion Chief [redacted] also responded but remained outside the crime scene. Engineer [redacted] Firefighter [redacted] and Battalion Chief [redacted] were not formally interviewed. b6 -4 b7C -4

4. On March 1, 2012, during her field investigation, Coroner's Investigator [redacted] completed a Gunshot Residue (GSR) test on Martinez' hands, GSR Kit No. C7158. The GSR kit was not analyzed since the investigation determined there was no evidence to support Martinez had discharged a firearm.

5. Based on Officer [redacted]s magazine count, there were a total of nine rounds discharged; however, only eight expended cartridge casings recovered from the scene were determined as having been fired from Officer [redacted]s pistol. b6 -4 b7C -4

6. During the magazine count of Officer [redacted]' pistol, it was determined he fired a total of eight rounds during the incident; however, only seven recovered expended cartridge casings were determined as having been fired from Officer [redacted]' pistol.

> Note: The crime scene was not immediately secured and fire department vehicles and personnel travelled through the area where some of the expended cartridge casings were located.

In addition, Officer [redacted]' ammunition, which was head stamped "Federal 45 Auto +P," had been phased out on April 1, 2011 and was not authorized to be carried on duty.[13] b6 -4 b7C -4

7. At the time of the OIS, the .45 caliber Smith & Wesson pistol carried by Officer [redacted] had not been recorded into the LAPD FITS. On April 30, 2012, Detective [redacted] advised Officer [redacted] of this discrepancy and on May 2, 2012, he took his pistol to the Department [redacted] where it was recorded into the system.

Officer [redacted]' TEAMS report does not indicate he attended the .45 Caliber Transition Course, however, on March 1, 2011, the Department phased out the .45 Caliber Handgun Transition Course and since, has allowed personnel to carry .45 caliber pistols if they had been trained and certified to use them.[14] On December 15, 2011, Officer [redacted] successfully qualified with his Smith & Wesson .45 caliber pistol, fulfilling the requirement to carry this type of pistol. b6 -4 b7C -4

[13] Office of Administrative Services Notice dated October 10, 2010, titled "Transition to the new .45 caliber ammunition."

8. As of the date of the OIS, the .45 caliber Glock pistol carried by Officer [redacted] had not been recorded into the LAPD FITS. On April 30, 2012, Detective [redacted] advised Officer [redacted] of this discrepancy and on May 2, 2012, he took his pistol to the Department Armory where it was recorded into FITS.

Note: The information about Officers [redacted] FITS discrepancy along with the use of phased out ammunition by Officer [redacted] was brought to the attention of Hollenbeck Area Commanding Officer, Captain III [redacted] Serial No. [redacted]

9. The condition of SA [redacted] s rifle was verified and documented by SA [redacted] at the scene of the OIS. Special Agent [redacted] found the rifle with the bolt locked rearward, the safety engaged and the magazine removed which contained eight live .223 caliber rounds. The rifle was subsequently transported to and secured by SA [redacted] at the West Covina Resident Agency Armory Locker (Addenda Nos. 27 and 28). b6 -1 b7C -1

10. [redacted] b3 -5

11. On the date of the OIS, Witness [redacted] provided FID investigators a copy of a photograph he had taken depicting Martinez standing on the roof. He also captured a portion of the incident on video. On April 23, 2012, Detective [redacted] received a copy of the video taken by [redacted] b6 -8 b7C -8

[14] Los Angeles Police Department, Firearms and Tactics Section, Approved and Authorized Handguns notice, dated March 1, 2011.

12. [redacted] were interviewed in regards to their knowledge of Martinez' wanted status and about the OIS. In addition, a search warrant was obtained for their residence at [redacted] The investigation determined there was not enough evidence to charge them or anyone else living at the residence with harboring Martinez. [redacted] were released after their interviews (Addendum No. 29). b6 -2 b7C -2

13. Martinez' cellular telephone was sent for a forensic analysis to the FBI Cryptologic and Electronic Analysis Unit. In regards to calls made from the telephone, the analysis revealed three telephone calls made during the morning of March 1, 2012. The first call was made at 0826:50 hours to telephone [redacted] which lasted one minute and 39 seconds. The second call was made at 0828:35 hours to telephone [redacted] which lasted one minute and 22 seconds. The third call was made at 0830:06 hours to telephone [redacted] which lasted for 19 seconds. The above telephone numbers were associated with [redacted] and [redacted]. Force Investigation Division detectives attempted to interview them but they refused to provide a statement. b6 -2 b7C -2

> Note: The above listed times are consistent with the officers' observations who describe Martinez utilizing his telephone prior to the OIS.

The analysis revealed at total of 115 "Apps" that were either installed, downloaded/cancelled, or uninstalled in the telephone. One of these Apps was the "Russian Roulette" Android based telephone application developed by Selafiel. This application can simulate the sound of a gunshot when played. The application was installed in the telephone on January 12, 2012; however the analysis could not determine if the application was accessed or running at the time of the OIS. The results of the analysis are contained in a detailed laboratory report which is 439 pages long, however only Pages Nos. 1 through 13 contained pertinent information regarding the telephone and calls made. These pages are included as an addendum. The entire laboratory report is kept in investigative file and is available for review (Addendum No. 30).

INVESTIGATION

Annotated Force Investigation Division (FID) Incident Summary[1]

On Wednesday, November 30, 2011, at approximately 0014 hours, a double murder occurred at 2133 City View Avenue, Los Angeles, California. The victims were identified as Art Gomez, 31 years of age, and Jesus Rendon, 36 years of age (Addenda Nos. 1 and 2).

Hollenbeck Detective Division, Homicide Unit, Detective III [redacted] Serial No. [redacted] and Police Officer III [redacted] Serial No. [redacted] were assigned to investigate the murders. Their investigation identified Frank Eric Martinez, a male Hispanic, 27 years of age, and [redacted] a male [redacted] years of age, as the individuals responsible for the murders of Gomez and Rendon. On January 25, 2012, Officer [redacted] presented the case to the Los Angeles County, District Attorney's Office, Hardcore Division. Deputy District Attorney [redacted] reviewed the case, filed murder charges and issued felony warrants against Martinez and [redacted] on Case Nos. LACBA39317501 and LACBA39317502, respectively (Addendum No. 3).

[redacted][3] Detective [redacted] and Special Agent [redacted] conducted computer checks, obtained background information on the residents at this address and planned a surveillance to determine if Martinez was hiding at the location. A briefing for the surveillance was scheduled for March 1, 2012, at approximately 0530 hours. Officer [redacted] was notified of the briefing and purpose of the surveillance.

Detective [redacted] and Special Agent [redacted] provided background information, photographs and the content [redacted] to the above listed personnel. The purpose of the surveillance was to monitor the activity at [redacted] and determine whether or not Martinez was at the location. This would be accomplished by having an Observation Post (OP) on [redacted] and several units around the perimeter. If a vehicle was observed leaving the residence, officers would stop the vehicle and attempt to gain information about Martinez' whereabouts. If

According to Special Agent [redacted] he observed Martinez move west along the roof at [redacted] and ordered him to stop. Special Agent [redacted] then crossed to the south side of [redacted] near the west side of the garage. Special Agent [redacted] observed [redacted] had the west side covered and decided to tighten the perimeter around Martinez. He, along with Officer [redacted] quickly walked west along the south sidewalk of [redacted] to a cinder block wall that extended from the house to the detached garage enclosing the rear yard.

Special Agent [redacted] and Officer [redacted] stood behind the wall and maintained their weapons aimed at Martinez. Special Agent [redacted] believed he would have better containment from inside the rear yard. He observed a wooden gate that allowed access into the rear yard and quickly walked to the gate and entered the rear yard. He cleared it of any potential threats, then looked up and observed Martinez at the crest of the roof. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

> OIG Note No. 1: There is no evidence that Agent [redacted] communicated or coordinated his redeployment into the rear yard with other officers. Agent [redacted] recalled that, upon entering the rear yard, "I also believed I was exposed without sufficient cover from the weapon in Martinez' right hand."[12]

He [Agent [redacted] then moved to the northwest corner of the house and aimed his rifle at Martinez. b6 -1,2,4 b7C -1,2,4

Once Special Agent [redacted] positioned himself in the rear yard, Officers [redacted] and [redacted] redeployed to the southwest corner of [redacted] When the officers reached the corner, they observed Martinez on the roof of the garage. Officers [redacted] were positioned southwest of the garage when they observed Martinez reach the west side of the roof. They immediately ordered Martinez to get down and noticed he held a cellular telephone with his left hand which he kept by his left ear as if he was talking on the telephone. Martinez' right hand was completely secreted inside his right front waistband area. He ignored the officers' orders and walked back to the east section of the roof. b6 -4 b7C -4

Martinez stood up and Officer [redacted] took cover behind the cinder block wall. In addition, the officers and witnesses that were in a position to see Martinez, described him as having his right hand either inside his waistband or in his right front pants pocket.

Officers [redacted] along with Special Agent [redacted] ordered Martinez, both in English and Spanish, to get down and to show his hands. Martinez failed to comply. Instead, he continued to hold the cellular telephone with his left hand, which at times he would bring up close to his left ear giving the impression he was talking to someone. Other times, Martinez looked down at the cellular telephone's screen and appeared to manipulate it with his fingers as if he was dialing. Martinez maintained his right hand inside the right front section of his waistband. His right hand was pressed against the fabric of his pants which gave the officers the impression he was concealing a weapon. During the entire time, Martinez appeared nervous and agitated and constantly looked around and paced back and forth.

b6 -1,4

According to Officer [redacted] Martinez kept saying, "No, hell no, this is not happening, no way!" and appeared disoriented and talking to himself. From Officer [redacted] s position, he could not understand what Martinez was saying but described him pacing back and forth and talking on the telephone. According to Officer [redacted] appeared to be upset and responded to the officers' orders saying, "Fuck you, I don't want to talk."

b6 -4

According to Special Agent [redacted] the protrusion of the right hand inside the pants was a clear threat. He observed Martinez place the cellular telephone to his left ear and heard him say, "Hey baby, I'm calling to say goodbye baby."

Martinez continued to refuse to comply with the officers' verbal commands. Instead, he quickly moved toward them and moved his right hand, resulting in an OIS. The following describes the perceptions and actions taken by each of the officers; however, the order in which they are listed does not represent the sequence in which the officers discharged their weapons, since the shooting happened simultaneously:

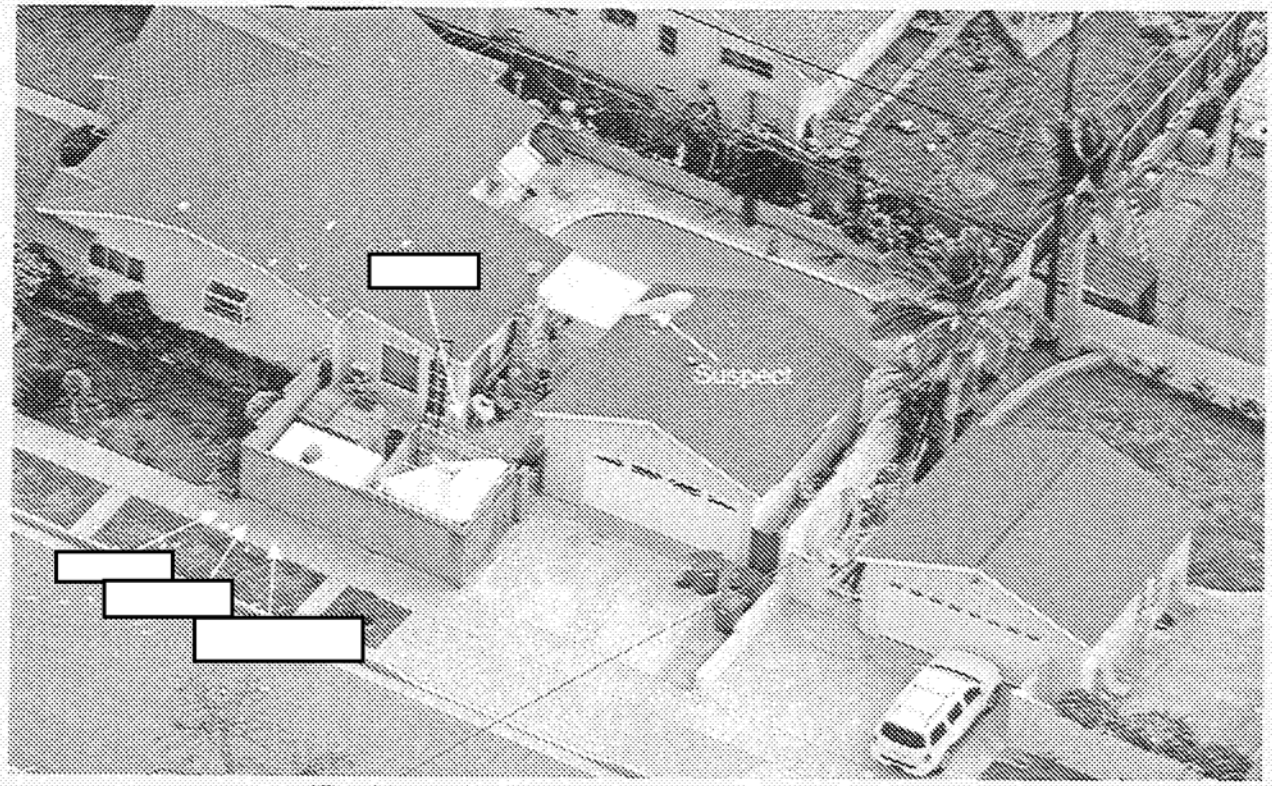
Note: The OIS was videotaped by an unidentified citizen and was later broadcast on a local channel newscast. Further information pertaining to this video is documented in the "Visual Documentation" section of this report. In addition, civilian Witnesses [redacted] described Martinez' actions as a quick and aggressive move toward the officers while attempting to get an object out of his waistline or pocket area. b6 -8 b7C -8

Note: Since Martinez refused to comply with the officers' commands, Special Agent [redacted] requested a bean bag to be deployed. Officer [redacted] responded to the request and retrieved his bean bag shotgun from his vehicle which was parked on [redacted] Officer [redacted] handed the bean bag shotgun to Detective [redacted] who immediately walked back toward Martinez. According to Detective [redacted] he chambered a round into the bean bag shotgun and immediately Martinez walked from the west to the east side of the roof. The OIS occurred as Detective [redacted] was approaching Martinez' location. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4



(Position of [involved] Officers during the OIS) b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

Officer [redacted] initially stood on a small flower bed at the northeast corner of the cinder block wall. This elevated position allowed him to not only observe Martinez but to see into the rear yard where Special Agent [redacted] was standing. After a few moments, the bricks of the flower bed collapsed and Officer [redacted] moved northwest to the sidewalk next to Officer [redacted] From this position Officer [redacted] could still see Martinez b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 without obstruction.[13] According to Officer [redacted] Martinez had his right hand inside his right front pants pocket. Officer [redacted] observed the outline of a handgun in the pants fabric and although he did not see one, he believed Martinez was armed with a handgun inside his pocket. Martinez, with his right hand inside the right pants pocket, moved his right leg forward and lifted his right hand upward (still inside the pocket). Immediately, Officer [redacted] heard a gunshot and formed the opinion the gunshot came from Martinez. Officer [redacted] believed Martinez had lifted his right hand in order to give him an angle to shoot toward the officers instead of shooting down at the ground. In immediate defense of his life and the life of the officers near him, Officer [redacted] raised his service pistol in a two-handed isosceles shooting stance, aimed at Martinez' center body mass and fired consecutively until his pistol went to slide lock, from an approximate distance of 46 feet.

b6 -4

> Note: Officer [redacted] believed he fired a total of nine rounds before his pistol went to slide lock, eight from the magazine and one from the chamber.

b6 -4

Officer [redacted] assessed as he fired the rounds and attempted to see if Martinez dropped the gun, lifted his hands up or went down. Martinez did not go down and although Officer [redacted] did not hear any additional shots from Martinez, he firmly believed Martinez had a gun on his person. Officer [redacted] stated, "So if he used it once, he tried to shoot us one time, what makes me think he's not going to do it again."[14] Officer [redacted] indicated that as long as Martinez was standing with his right hand concealed, he was still a threat.

Officer [redacted] conducted an out of battery speed reload while looking at Martinez and noticed he had gone down on his stomach, with his right hand tucked under his body. From his position, Officer [redacted] could see the right side of Martinez' body but not his right hand. Officer [redacted] believed Martinez' right hand was outside the pocket and he was trying to push himself up with his forearm. Officer [redacted] did not know if Martinez had been hit or had dropped down to avoid getting shot.

Officer [redacted] believed the only reason Martinez tried to push himself up was to continue to shoot at them. Officer [redacted] aimed his pistol at Martinez' center body mass and fired one additional round from an approximate distance of 46 feet. Officer [redacted] then heard Officer [redacted] yell, "Assess, assess, assess." Officer [redacted] assessed, observed Martinez was no longer a threat, decocked his pistol and holstered it. After the shooting, since the scene was not secured, Officer [redacted] decided to pick up the empty magazine he had dropped during the out of battery speed reload and placed it in his tactical vest.

Note: Officer [redacted] was aware Officer [redacted] had also discharged his pistol at Martinez. According to Officer [redacted] he fired all of his rounds from the same location; however, video footage depicted him firing while he stood on the flower bed and while he transitioned to the sidewalk.

Officer [redacted] stood between Officers [redacted] on the sidewalk looking over the cinder block wall at Martinez. Officer [redacted] indicated Martinez kept his right hand inside his right front pants pocket. Martinez held some type of hard object with his right hand and pressed it against the pants causing Officer [redacted] to see the outline of the object in the pants fabric. Officer [redacted] believed the object Martinez held was a small caliber weapon. After failing to comply with the officers' commands, Martinez walked in a northeast direction toward Special Agent [redacted] Martinez stepped forward with his right leg, leaned his upper body backwards and to his left and lifted his right hand, while still inside the pocket. At the same time Martinez made this motion, Officer [redacted] heard a gunshot emanating from Martinez' pocket area and observed what appeared to be muzzle flash. In fear for his life and the life of the other officers present, Officer [redacted] raised his pistol, used a Weaver stance and fired five consecutive rounds at Martinez from an approximate distance of 44 feet. He assessed after the fifth round and observed Martinez lying down on the roof with his hands still moving.

b6 -1,4
b7C -1,4

Note: Officer [redacted] indicated he yelled at Martinez to stop while he fired the five initial rounds.

b6 -4
b7C -4

Officer [redacted] was not sure how many rounds he fired; however, he knew his pistol had an ammunition capacity of eight rounds in the magazine and one in the chamber. In the event he had to re-engage Martinez, Officer [redacted] conducted an in-battery speed reload and assessed again.[15] At this time, Martinez was on his left side with his right hand still moving. Officer [redacted] believed Martinez was still armed and a threat so he fired three additional consecutive rounds at Martinez.

Note: Officer [redacted] did not recall whether Martinez' right hand was inside the pants pocket or not; however, he recalled observing movement with the right hand that he perceived as a threat.

Officer [redacted] assessed and observed Martinez still lying down on his left side on the roof making no additional threatening movements. Officer [redacted] believed he maintained his pistol unholstered until he was contacted and separated by Detective [redacted] however, he was not sure at what point he holstered his pistol.

b6 -4

Officer [redacted] subsequently picked up the partially loaded magazine he had dropped when he conducted the in-battery speed reload. As he did this, a live round ejected from the magazine. Officer [redacted] placed the partially loaded magazine in his left rear pants pocket and left the ejected live round on the ground (Evidence Item No. 31).

[15] During the magazine count after the OIS, Officer [redacted] learned he had fired five rounds during the initial sequence of fire.

Note: Officer [redacted] was aware that Officers [redacted] as well as Special Agent [redacted] had also discharged their weapons. He indicated Special Agent [redacted] was not in his line of fire when he fired at Martinez.

b6 -1,4
b7C -1,4

Officer [redacted] stated Martinez kept his right hand inside his front waistband area and refused to comply with the officers' commands. At times, Martinez cursed at the officers who continued to yell orders. Martinez then took two steps toward Officer [redacted] and said, "Fuck you guys." At the same time Martinez leaned back, he pushed his hips forward. Officer [redacted] heard a gunshot emanating from Martinez and observed the shape of a handgun underneath Martinez' waistband area.[16] Officer [redacted] formed the opinion Martinez had fired at him from a gun he kept in his right hand. Officer [redacted] had maintained his pistol pointed at Martinez and, when he heard the gunshot, he immediately fired what he believed were ten consecutive rounds at Martinez from an approximate distance of 43 feet using a two hand semi-weaver stance.

Note: Based on the magazine count, it was determined Officer [redacted] fired 13 rounds during this initial sequence of fire.

b7C -4

Officer [redacted] assessed between the rounds and observed Martinez still advancing toward him. Officer [redacted] said, "He's still gesturing to me that he is still armed and he is a threat to me."[17] According to [redacted] Martinez was still a threat and was not going down. Officer [redacted] conducted an in-battery speed reload, assessed and observed Martinez still standing. [redacted] used a two hand semi-Weaver stance and fired what he believed were two additional rounds at Martinez from an approximate distance of 43 feet.

Note: Based on the magazine count, it was determined Officer [redacted] fired five rounds during the second sequence of fire and a total of 18 rounds during the entire incident.

b6 -4
b7C -4

Officer [redacted] assessed the situation and observed Martinez was no longer a threat. Martinez fell to his knees, then onto his left side with his right hand tucked underneath his torso. Officer [redacted] ordered Martinez to show his hands but observed no movement. He heard someone request a rescue ambulance (RA) to respond and then he holstered his pistol.

Note: Officer [redacted] advised he continued to fire at Martinez until he collapsed because he was still a threat, however, video depicted Martinez had collapsed to the roof before Officer [redacted] conducted his in-battery speed reload. Officer [redacted] also advised he was not able to see Special Agent [redacted] was standing in the backyard area using the northwest corner of the residence as cover. He attempted to deescalate the situation by making eye contact with Martinez and reason with him. He lowered his rifle slightly and said, "Don't do this, let's talk, look, just come down and talk to me," but Martinez ignored him.

According to Special Agent [redacted] Martinez made another telephone call which appeared not to go through. His facial expression changed and he appeared to become more aggravated. Martinez maintained his right hand inside his waistband area as if he was holding an object. Special Agent [redacted] raised his rifle again and aimed it at Martinez. Martinez made eye contact with him and said, "I'm not talking to you! Fuck you!" Martinez made a fast motion with his right hand, leaned his upper torso back and pushed his right hand toward Special Agent [redacted] Special Agent [redacted] heard a "pop" emanating from Martinez. Believing Martinez had fired at him, Special Agent [redacted] moved his rifle's selector lever from safe to semiautomatic and fired at Martinez from an approximate distance of 19 feet. Special Agent [redacted] fired until Martinez collapsed and was no longer a threat. Believing Martinez had fired directly at him, he immediately searched for the impact of Martinez' round along the wall and surrounding area where he had been standing, but found no bullet impacts.

Note: Special Agent [redacted] was aware the officers positioned behind him had also discharged their weapons, referring to Officers [redacted] and [redacted] Special Agent [redacted] did not know the number of rounds he fired. Based on the evidence recovered, it was determined he fired a total of 22 rounds.

After the OIS, at 0832:42 hours Officer [redacted] (Unit [redacted]) broadcast on Hollenbeck frequency a request for a RA unit to respond to the scene. Officer [redacted] notified the Norwalk Sheriff's Station and requested units to respond to assist securing the scene.

Detectives [redacted] walked to [redacted] and identified the involved officers. Officers [redacted] were separated and ordered not to discuss the incident, while Special Agent [redacted] stood by with Special Agent [redacted] Since Martinez was not in custody, everyone maintained their positions until Fire Department personnel arrived and provided a ladder to access the roof. Although Martinez was not moving, he was believed to still be armed. Officers [redacted] and [redacted] followed by Detective [redacted] climbed the ladder to the roof. Officer [redacted] handcuffed Martinez and Officer [redacted] conducted a quick pat down search for weapons, however none were located. The paramedics then conducted their medical assessment and determined Martinez dead at scene at approximately 0840 hours.

Gunshot wound Nos. 10 through 13 were fatal wounds to the center area of the chest. The direction of these wounds was right to left and front to back with four projectiles recovered from the soft tissue of the back.

Gunshot wound No. 14 was a fatal wound to the stomach. The direction of this wound was front to back, right to left and upward with a projectile recovered from the tissue of the back.

Gunshot wound No. 15 was a non-fatal, non-penetrating wound to the right abdomen.

Gunshot wound No. 16 was a non-fatal wound to the right buttock. The direction of this wound was right to left front to back and upward with a projectile recovered from the tissue of the back.

Gunshot wound No. 17 was a non-fatal through and through wound to the right thigh. The direction of this wound was left to right, front to back and upward with no projectile recovered.

Gunshot wound No. 18 was a non-fatal wound to the right thigh. The direction of this wound was right to left, front to back and upward with a projectile recovered from the tissue of the back.

> Note: The direction of the gunshot wounds described above is consistent with Martinez being shot while facing the officers in an elevated position in relation to the shooting officers. In particular, gunshot wound Nos. 5, 6 and 15 are consistent with Martinez being shot while his right arm was in front of his torso close to his body and facing the officers.

1. [redacted] indicated when she exited her residence, an officer used profanity as he directed her to the ground. In addition, when she was placed at the rear of the police vehicle, the same officer pushed her against the vehicle. The allegations of inappropriate language and being pushed were documented under Complaint Form No. 12-000865 and forwarded to IAG. b6 -2 b7C -2

2. During the canvass for witnesses, 14 citizens were located who only heard the gunshots during the OIS. The number of gunshots heard by witnesses varied from five to 50 and from one volley of gunshots to a volley, a pause and then additional gunshots. A Heard-Only Witness form was completed for each, and the forms are contained in the FID investigative file, and are available for review.

5. Officer [redacted] indicated he fired consecutively at Martinez until his pistol went to slide lock, where he conducted an out of battery speed reload and fired one additional round. Assuming Officer [redacted] had all of his magazines loaded to full capacity, he presumably fired a total of nine rounds during the initial sequence and one round after, totaling ten rounds. Based on the magazine count, there were a total of nine rounds discharged; however, only eight expended cartridge casings recovered from the scene were determined as having been fired from Officer [redacted] pistol. b6 -4 b7C -4

6. During the magazine count of Officer [redacted] pistol, it was determined he fired a total of eight rounds during the incident; however, only seven recovered expended cartridge casings were determined as having been fired from Officer [redacted] pistol.

Note: The crime scene was not immediately secured and fire department vehicles and personnel travelled through the area where some of the expended cartridge casings were located.

In addition, Officer [redacted] ammunition, which was head stamped "Federal 45 Auto +P," had been phased out on April 1, 2011 and was not authorized to be carried on duty.[19] b6 -4 b7C -4

7. At the time of the OIS, the .45 caliber Smith & Wesson pistol carried by Officer [redacted] had not been recorded into the LAPD FITS. On April 30, 2012, Detective [redacted] advised Officer [redacted] of this discrepancy and on May 2, 2012, he took his pistol to the Department Armory where it was recorded into the system. b6 -4 b7C -4

   Officer [redacted] TEAMS report does not indicate he attended the .45 Caliber Transition Course, however, on March 1, 2011, the Department phased out the .45 Caliber Handgun Transition Course and since, has allowed personnel to carry .45 caliber pistols if they had been trained and certified to use them.[20] On December 15, 2011, Officer [redacted] successfully qualified with his Smith & Wesson .45 caliber pistol, fulfilling the requirement to carry this type of pistol.

8. As of the date of the OIS, the .45 caliber Glock pistol carried by Officer [redacted] had not been recorded into the LAPD FITS. On April 30, 2012, Detective [redacted] advised Officer [redacted] of this discrepancy and on May 2, 2012, he took his pistol to the Department Armory where it was recorded into FITS. b6 -4 b7C -4

CHIEF OF POLICE REPORT[21]

Chief of Police Analysis

Tactics

- In his analysis of this incident, the Chief identified the following tactical considerations:

Debriefing Point No. 1 Tactical Planning

Officers must approach every contact with officer safety in mind. Complacency, overconfidence, poor planning, or inappropriate positioning can leave officers vulnerable to attack. (California Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training, Learning Domain 21).

In this instance, the FBI, GND and the CCD did not have an all-inclusive brief prior to the contacting the suspect. However, a brief was conducted with GND and FBI personnel regarding the surveillance of a location that possibly contained Martinez. To augment GND/FBI personnel, CCD personnel were advised during a separate brief, that they would assume the role of containment and arrest team if necessary. In the event that Martinez refused to submit to an arrest, Detective [redacted] would notify Metropolitan Division regarding a possible barricaded suspect. b6 -4 b7C -4

Operational success is directly related to proper planning, thus minimizing unforeseen obstacles. Detective [redacted] was aware of the operations plan as it related to GND and FBI personnel. Furthermore, Detective [redacted] directed Officer [redacted] to complete an operations plan for all CCD personnel assigned to the incident. Consequently, all personnel assigned to the incident were aware of their designated assignments relative to the apprehension of Martinez.

In this case, while the Chief was comfortable that all personnel were briefed and fully aware of the critical roles of the operation, he would have preferred that an all-inclusive brief had taken place to ensure that each involved person was fully aware of the roles and responsibilities of the others.

In evaluating the officers' actions, the Chief determined that based on the totality of the circumstances their actions did not represent a substantial deviation from approved Department tactical training. However, Detective [redacted] is reminded that communication is paramount to officer safety. Including all personnel assigned to an operation in a single brief ensures each entity is cognizant of their roles as well as those operating around them. The Chief will direct that this topic be discussed during the Tactical Debrief. b6 -4 b7C -4 [21] The information provided in this section summarizes the analysis and findings set forth in the Chief of Police's report for this case.

Debriefing Point No. 2 Utilizing Cover

Cover is something that will stop an opponent's bullets. Officers should utilize cover when involved with an armed suspect. Officers should be aware of what type of cover is required to stop handgun, shotgun and rifle fire. (Los Angeles Police Department Regular Basic Course Version 3, Firearms Session 14 Lesson Plan, Page 4)

Cover: Any object that is believed to be capable of stopping a bullet. Cover may Include, large trees, block walls or parked cars. (Use of Force-Tactics Directive 3.1, Foot Pursuits, January 2011)

Pursuing Armed Suspects: When pursuing a suspect believed to be armed, officers should generally do so in containment mode while considering the available tactical advantages, including cover and concealment where available. The goal is to maintain observation of the suspect and the tactical advantage while coordinating the response of additional units and other resources for a perimeter with the objective of containing the suspect and taking him into custody safely. (Use of Force-Tactics Directive 3.1, Foot Pursuits, January 2011)

In this instance, the tactical situation was fluid and dynamic. Martinez had jumped several fences and climbed onto the roof of a detached garage. With the assistance of the [redacted] Officers [redacted] were able to effectively contain Martinez. In addition, Officers [redacted] utilized available cover by standing behind a cinderblock wall approximately 46 feet south of Martinez.

b6 -4
b7E -1

Officers [redacted] were faced with a situation that was rapidly unfolding and responded to Martinez' attempt to escape by positioning themselves behind a cinder block wall. Martinez maintained the advantage by the mere fact that he had a higher vantage point while standing on the detached garage. Officers [redacted] were forced into a position that afforded ample cover while still maintaining a line of sight. This essentially eliminated any opportunity for Martinez to jump onto the ground and potentially escape into the residential neighborhood.

b6 -4

In this case, while the officers could have sought better cover relative to Martinez' position on the roof, the Chief determined that Officers [redacted] and [redacted]'s actions of taking cover behind the cinderblock wall did not represent a substantial deviation from approved Department tactical training. Officers [redacted] utilized the best available cover that enabled them to effectively cover, communicate, and contain Martinez. However, the Chief will direct that this topic be discussed during the Tactical Debrief.

b6 -4

Debriefing Point No. 3 Command and Control

Line Supervision - Defined. A supervisor who has the specific responsibility of issuing directions and orders to designated subordinates shall be considered as having the duty of line supervisor and shall be held accountable for achieving conformance with the directions and orders that he/she issues. (Los Angeles Police Department Manual, Volume 3, Section 135)

In this instance, Detective [ ] was the Officer in Charge (OIC) of the tactical portion of the operation. Detective [ ] was instrumental in devising the tactical plan to take Martinez into custody after the OIS. Detective [ ] responded to Officers [ ] location and verified their status. Detective [ ] was advised by Officers [ ] that they were involved in an OIS. Detective [ ] separated the involved officers and advised them not to speak to each other. Eventually, Detective [ ] accompanied by Officer [ ] ascended the garage roof and took Martinez into custody. b6 -4 b7C -4

Detective [ ] became directly involved ascending onto the rooftop and taking Martinez into custody. Although Officers [ ] were properly separated, the scene was not fully secured. Various tasks required immediate attention. The target location had not been searched and logistical concerns had not been addressed.

In this instance, Detective [ ] did not make required notifications regarding medical treatment, the La Mirada Sheriff Department, as well as Real Time Analysis and Critical Response Division (RACR) as required. Additionally, the immediate area required canvassing to ensure that the surrounding area did not have any additional victims as a result the amount /angle of the involved officer's gunfire. b6 -4 b7C -4

In evaluating Detective [ ]s actions, the Chief would have preferred that Detective [ ] made the necessary notifications. However, based on the dynamic circumstances involved, the Chief determined that based on the totality of the circumstances, Detective [ ] actions, relative to command and control, although not optimal, did not represent a substantial deviation from approved Department tactical training. However, Detective [ ] is to be reminded of the overall supervisory responsibilities at the culmination of an OIS. As such, the Chief will direct that this topic be discussed during the Tactical Debrief.

Chief of Police Findings

The Chief recommended the following findings in this case:

- Tactics – Tactical Debrief, Detective [ ] along with Officers [ ] and [ ] Additionally, FBI Special Agent [ ] will be invited to attend the Tactical Debrief. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

NYT-936

- Drawing/Exhibiting – In Policy, No Further Action, Detective [redacted] along with Officers [redacted] b6 -4 b7C -4
- Lethal Use of Force – In Policy, No Further Action, Officers [redacted] and [redacted]

Positive Aspects

- Initial investigative efforts to locate Martinez were well planned, involving the use of [redacted] process and the additional efforts involved. All personnel are commended for those diligent efforts. b6 -4 b7C -4 b7E -1,6
- A tactical plan was completed and notifications to the Los Angeles County Sheriff Department were completed.
- The officers utilized tactical vests that clearly identified themselves as police officers and appropriately donned their ballistic helmets.
- Detective [redacted] utilized additional Department resources, including [redacted] to effectively contain the residence.
- The tactical plan ensured a marked black and white police vehicle was to be utilized [redacted]
- Less-lethal munitions were requested to assist with taking Martinez into custody.
- Effective communications were utilized to broadcast Martinez' movements as he attempted to flee.

Tactics

- Department policy relative to Tactical Debriefs is: "The collective review of an incident to identify those areas where actions and decisions were effective and those areas where actions and decisions could have been improved. The intent of a Tactical Debrief is to enhance future performance." (Use of Force Directive, July 2008)

  The evaluation of tactics requires that consideration be given to the fact that officers are forced to make split-second decisions under very stressful and dynamic circumstances. Tactics are conceptual and intended to be flexible and incident specific. Each tactical incident inherently results in considerations for improvement. Each incident must be looked at objectively and the areas of concern must be evaluated based on the totality of the circumstances.

  The Chief recognizes how unique the circumstances involved in this case are, – including the involvement of the FBI in the joint operation. The Chief considered those circumstances in conducting his review and in making his recommendations. In his assessment, the Chief believed that all personnel involved worked well together, in a coordinated effort, to locate a wanted homicide suspect. Furthermore, their efforts resulted in their successful containment of the suspect in a timely manner.

Regarding the tactics of all personnel, the Chief agrees with the UOFRB that there are identified areas for improvement; however, the tactics utilized did not substantially and unjustifiably deviate from approved Department tactical training.

The Chief will direct Detective [redacted] along with Officers [redacted] and [redacted] to attend a Tactical Debrief. The Chief will also ensure that an invitation is extended to Special Agent [redacted] to attend the Tactical Debrief. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

Note: In addition, the Tactical Debrief shall include the following mandatory discussion points:

- Use of Force Policy;
- Equipment Required/Maintained;
- Radio and Tactical Communication (including Code-6);
- Tactical Planning;
- Command and Control and;
- Lethal Force.

Drawing/Exhibiting

- Department policy relative to drawing and exhibiting a firearm is: "An officer's decision to draw or exhibit a firearm should be based on the tactical situation and the officer's reasonable belief there is a substantial risk that the situation may escalate to the point where deadly force may be justified. When an officer has determined that the use of deadly force is not necessary, the officer shall, as soon as practicable, secure or holster the firearm." (Los Angeles Police Department Manual, Volume 1, Section 556.80)

In this instance, Detective [redacted] along with Officers [redacted] responded to the location of an identified murder suspect wanted in connection with a double homicide that occurred in the Hollenbeck Area. The above personnel had previously attended a briefing regarding the surveillance of the murder suspect and the facts surrounding the case. b6 -4 b7C -4

Furthermore, Detective [redacted] along with Officers [redacted] were informed that the weapon utilized in the homicide was a handgun. Consequently, Detective [redacted] along with Officers [redacted] arrived at the residence and drew his service pistol.

Officer [redacted] recalled, b6 -4 b7C -4

"At that particular point with the information we had that our murder suspect was in the house. We were unsure who's in the house. I worked gangs for a lot of years so I know if there's one gang member possibly on the location, there's multiple gang members and if there's a possibly one gun, there's more than one. So I unholstered knowing that, you know, we weren't just doing a little probation search or chasing a misdemeanor warrant. This guy was wanted for murder so I knew that."[22]

Officer [redacted] recalled, b6 -4 b7C -4

"I unholstered it on the initial approach just due to the information that we had on -- on the suspect. He was wanted for the two murders. We had good information that he was inside the residence. The information that we had that he (Martinez) was trying to obtain guns. He (Martinez) was willing to shoot it out with the police and he wasn't going to be taken, you know, without – without any incident…So I believe it -- would -- the situation was -- would lead to a use of force or a deadly -- deadly use of force situation."[23]

Officer [redacted] recalled, b6 -4 b7C -4

"I un-holster my weapon here knowing the fact that suspect could come in my direction and I was dealing with a murder suspect. I unholstered my weapon here and then I move."[24]

Detective [redacted] stated the reason why he drew his service pistol was because of the following,

"This was a suspect that was wanted for a double murder. A gun was used in the murder. An active State Street gang member and I wasn't sure whether he was going to comply and come out or fight it out or barricade himself."[25]

Based on the totality of the circumstances, the Chief determined that officers with similar training and experience as Detective [redacted] and Officers [redacted] and [redacted] faced with similar circumstances would reasonably believe that there was a substantial risk that the situation may escalate to the point where deadly force may be justified. b6 -4 b7C -4

Therefore, the Chief found Detective [redacted] along with Officers [redacted] and [redacted] Drawing/Exhibiting to be In Policy, No Further Action.

Note: In addition to the above listed employees, there were additional persons that drew or exhibited firearms during this incident. This drawing/exhibiting was appropriate and requires no specific findings or action in regard to these officers.

Lethal Use of Force

- Law enforcement officers are authorized to use deadly force to:

    - Protect themselves or others from what is reasonably believed to be an imminent threat of death or serious bodily injury; or,
    - Prevent a crime where the subject's actions place person(s) in imminent jeopardy of death or serious bodily injury; or,
    - *Prevent the escape of a violent fleeing felon when there is probable cause to believe the escape will pose a significant threat of death or serious bodily injury to the officer or others if apprehension is delayed. In this circumstance, officers shall, to the extent practical, avoid using deadly force that might subject innocent bystanders or hostages to possible death or injury. Officer [redacted] continued to verbalize with Martinez, while Martinez held a cellular telephone in his left hand. Martinez was involved in telephone call while holding his right hand in his waistband. Officer [redacted] opined that Martinez was utilizing his right hand to conceal a handgun in his waistband.

Officer [redacted] recalled, *"I believe he had -- he had, yea, he had some type of weapon on him just from knowing how gang members act, how they -- how they carry their guns. Officer [redacted] recalled, "I -- I thought he was trying to push up off his forearm off the rooftop. Now, I don't know how many times he had been hit. I mean, he had all those rounds fired. Did all the rounds hit him, I don't know. Maybe he never -- maybe he didn't even get hit. Maybe he just ducked and fell and hit the deck to avoid being shot."[32]

Officer [redacted] continued, "There's no other -- why run at this point. Why -- why do it; why try and give up at this point. Just, I believe, he's trying to get up and to continue shooting at us."[33] b6 -4 b7C -4

Officer [redacted] observed that Martinez discontinued his movements and surmised that the threated posed by Martinez ceased. Consequently, Officer [redacted] holstered his service pistol.

Officer [redacted] recalled, "And then I remember -- [redacted] going, hey -- what do they call, I'm sorry assess, assess, assess. He was yelling that out. I assess, I decocked and once I -- realized that he wasn't going anywhere, the threat was over, I had holstered my weapon."[34] b6 -4 b7C -4

Officer [redacted] - .45 caliber, eight rounds fired from a distance of approximately 46 feet.

In this instance, Officer [redacted] observed Martinez on the rooftop of the detached garage located at [redacted] Officer [redacted] issued commands to Martinez to raise his hands. Martinez failed to comply and kept his right hand in his waistband while attempting to use a cellular telephone with his left hand. Officer [redacted], based on Martinez' actions formed the opinion that Martinez was attempting to conceal a handgun in his waistband while holding it with his right hand. Officer [redacted] recalled, "And I actually remember telling him to, you know, let go of the weapon, drop the weapon because at that point that's what I -- believe he had in his pocket."[35] b6 -2,4 b7C -2,4

Officer [redacted] continued to verbalize with Martinez for approximately 3-4 minutes when Martinez began to walk down the roof toward the direction of Special Agent [redacted] who was positioned in the rear yard. Martinez, while holding his right hand in his waistband, leaned back and to the left and immediately heard a gunshot. Based on Martinez movements, coupled with a single gunshot emanating, Officer [redacted] b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4 surmised that Martinez had fired his handgun at him, as well as at Officers [redacted] and [redacted] and Special Agent [redacted] Consequently, Officer [redacted] fired five rounds from his service pistol at Martinez. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

Officer [redacted] recalled, "That's where I saw movement. It looked a little bit more of muzzle -- muzzle flash as he's as he's doing that motion and hearing the sound and I'm looking right at him as he's doing this…I'm in fear for my life. I'm in fear for the lives of FBI agents and my two partners. I fire my weapon to stop the suspect's [Martinez] actions."[36]

Officer [redacted] fired five rounds and Martinez fell onto the roof. As Martinez fell, he landed onto his left side, facing the officers with his right hand still beneath him. Officer [redacted] conducted an in-battery speed re-load and assessed the situation. Officer [redacted] believed Martinez was still armed and was moving his hands around. Based on the movements of Martinez, Officer [redacted] surmised that Martinez' right hand possessed a handgun and was still moving into a position to reengage Officers [redacted] and Special Agent [redacted] Consequently, Officer [redacted] fired three additional rounds at Martinez. b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

Officer [redacted] recalled, "Just his hand movements and I knew he had a weapon in his hand."[37] b6 -4 b7C -4

Officer [redacted] recalled, "So, you know, I didn't want to take a chance of him just reaching out and shooting again, so that was my concern."[38]

Officer [redacted] subsequently assessed the situation and determined that Martinez no longer posed a threat. Accordingly, Officer [redacted] ceased fire. b6 -4 b7C -4

Officer [redacted] recalled, "We heard -- well, I -- I maintained the visual of the suspect to make sure there was no -- more threat at that time."[39]

Note: The FID investigation revealed Officer [redacted] fired eight rounds during the incident. b6 -2,4 b7C -2,4 holding his right hand in his waistband. Officer [redacted] with negative results, verbalized with Martinez to raise his hands. b6 -4 b7C -4

Officer [redacted] recalled, "I tell him, 'Let me see your hands. Let me see your hands. You need to get off the roof now.' And he's, 'Fuck you guys. I'm not getting off.' He's on the phone and I don't know if he hangs up or now but he just keeps motherfucking us."[40]

Officer [redacted] continued with his commands and formed the opinion that Martinez was holding a handgun in his right hand while concealing it inside his waistband. b6 -4 b7C -4

Officer [redacted] recalled, "I -- saw a gun in his front waistband."[41]

According to Officer [redacted] after a few minutes, Martinez moved toward him, Officers [redacted] and Special Agent [redacted] and simulated a handgun. Simultaneously, Officer [redacted] heard what he believed to be a gunshot and formulated the belief that Martinez had fired the handgun that was concealed in his waistband at him and Officers [redacted] and Special Agent [redacted] b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

Officer [redacted] recalled, "Like I say, minutes later, or moments later he -- he has his hand in his -- in his front -- down his front waistband and he advances towards the officers or to myself and -- and he simulates a handgun and I hear pop, pop, a gunshot."[42]

Officer [redacted] continued, "I -- from my knowledge it was coming from the front of it and he (Martinez) shot from his gun or his hand that was inside his front waistband he shot from -- from that position."[43] b6 -4 b7C -4

Officer [redacted] reiterated, "Well, I saw -- I saw a shape of a gun that he was holding underneath his waistband and fired one round towards my partners and I."[44]

Consequently, Officer [redacted] fired approximately 10 rounds at Martinez. Officer [redacted] conducted an in-battery speed reload and believed that Martinez was still armed and advancing toward him and his partners. Consequently, Officer [redacted] fired an additional two rounds at Martinez. b6 -4 b7C -4

Officer [redacted] recalled, "The threat was still -- was still coming towards me. I thought it was coming still towards me..."[45] Officer [redacted] continued, "He's (Martinez) still gesturing to me that he's still armed and he's a threat to me."[46] b6 -4 b7C -4

Officer [redacted] believed that he fired the initial ten rounds, conducted an in-battery speed reload and fired the additional two rounds prior to Martinez falling onto the roof. Officer [redacted] was asked why he stopped firing and Officer [redacted] recalled,

"I saw the suspect, the threat that was -- there was no more threat to -- me and I saw the suspect fall -- fall on -- the top of the garage."[47]

The UOFRB recognized that discrepancies exist between Officer [redacted] recollection of his sequence of fire and the other available evidence to be considered. Specifically, Officer [redacted] believed he fired 10 rounds, conducted an in-battery speed reload and then fired an additional two rounds, totaling 12 rounds fired. However, based on the magazine counts and the casings recovered at scene, it was determined that Officer [redacted] fired 13 rounds, conducted an in-battery speed reload and then fired an additional five rounds, totaling 18 rounds fired. b6 -4 b7C -4

A thorough and comprehensive review of the available video footage of the incident tends to establish that Officer [redacted] conducted the in-battery speed reload after Martinez fell to the roof; hence, Officer [redacted] fired his last five rounds not as Martinez was still standing but rather after Martinez had fallen to the roof. b6 -4 b7C -4

The Chief's analysis of Officer [redacted] recall is based in part on well accepted and peer reviewed research into memory and recall during deadly force encounters. That research supports that traumatic incidents, such as deadly force encounters, will inevitably result in some degree of memory impairment. The actual impact that stress has on memory may vary from one individual officer to another and may vary depending on their role in the incident or physical position in the tactical environment.

In adjudicating prior CUOF cases, the issue of altered memory and or recall has been critical to the analysis of officer accounts. The Chief considered this well founded phenomenon when considering the weight of Officer [redacted] statement. (See Additional, Memory and Recall) b6 -1,4 b7C -1,4

Special Agent [ ]'s statement indicated that he had moved from his containment position, behind the cinder block wall adjacent to Officers [ ] and proceeded into the rear yard of [ ] He indicated that he verbalized with Martinez while Martinez was on the roof of the detached garage located at [ ] Agent [ ] indicated he gave commands to Martinez to raise his hands while Martinez concealed his right hand in the front of his pants. "The bulge evident in Martinez' pants where his right hand was concealed, and where I believed he was holding a firearm, was thrust outward toward me at the same time that he abruptly turned in my direction." (See Special Agent [ ]s Statement Page 9).

Special Agent [ ] continued to verbalize when Martinez abruptly turned in his direction and aimed the "bulge," where Martinez' right hand was located, in Special Agent [ ]s direction. When He stopped moving, and I believed the threat was eliminated, I ceased fire, and place my selector lever on safe."* (See Agent [ ]'s Statement Page 9-10).

Note: According to the Autopsy Report, Martinez sustained 18 gunshot wounds, 11 projectiles/bullets were removed from his body. The LAPD Scientific Investigation Division (SID) Firearms Projectile Comparison Report identified that 10 of the projectiles were fired from Special Agent [ ]s rifle, to include the single projectile that was recovered from the right frontal brain. The eleventh projectile was recovered from the left chest and was determined to have polygonal rifling, a characteristic unique to the Glock pistol. This projectile can be attributed to Officer [ ] since he was the only officer with a Glock pistol.

In reviewing this case with regards to Department personnel, the Chief conducted a comprehensive and objective assessment of the actions of each officer involved in this incident - in light of the facts known to them (individually) at the time they fired their weapons. The Chief also reviewed the video recordings of the incident and all information pertaining to the trajectory and impact points as well as other available evidence, including the statement provided by Special Agent [ ]

In reviewing the case, the Chief also considered the findings of the Coroner and content of the Autopsy Report. The Report identified that Martinez sustained two fatal gunshot wounds to the head. After a complete review of the evidence including the videos, wound track analysis, movements by Martinez and the positioning and perceptions of each officer, the Chief agreed with the UOFRB that it cannot be determined when the fatal rounds occurred or what Martinez' position was when they were fired. Therefore, the findings and opinions of the Coroner do not refute the available evidence or the Chief's recommendations.

Consequently, in assessing the lethal force used by [redacted] and [redacted] the UOFRB evaluated the totality of the available evidence to determine the objective reasonableness of each officers' actions and did not solely rely on the events as depicted by each individual officer. The Chief agreed with the UOFRB that an officer in their individual circumstance, with similar training and experience, would reasonably believe that Martinez posed and imminent threat of death of serious bodily injury and would have used deadly force. The lethal force used by Officers [redacted] was objectively reasonable and within Department policy. b6 -4 b7C -4

Additionally, the United States Department of Justice has initiated its own use of force investigation regarding the role of FBI Special Agent [redacted] b6 -1 b7C -1

Additional Tactical Debrief Topics

- Reasonable suspicion: Reasonable suspicion exists when the detaining officer was aware of specific facts which reasonably indicated the detainee, (1) was in the process of committing a felony, misdemeanor, or infraction, (2) was about to commit a crime, or (3) was wanted for a crime that had already occurred. (Los Angeles Police Department Legal Bulletin, Volume 20, Issue 2 October 15, 1996.)

  In this instance [redacted] was conducted on [redacted] after he left [redacted] [redacted] was cooperative and indicated Martinez was inside the residence. [redacted] was subsequently detained pending an investigation regarding his involvement regarding harboring a fugitive. Additionally, all occupants of the aforementioned address were detained pending the outcome of the harboring a fugitive investigation. The investigation determined there was insufficient evidence to charge any of the individuals with harboring Martinez. The individuals were released at the conclusion of their interviews. The Chief will direct that the topic of reasonable suspicion be discussed during the Tactical Debrief. b6 -2 b7C -2 b7E -1

- Los Angeles Police Department/Outside Agencies Protocols:

  Supervision and Control:

  7. Each Los Angeles Metro Task Force on Violent Gangs (LAMTFVG) member will be subject to the laws, regulations, policies and personnel rules applicable to his or her respective agency. FBI Participants will continue to adhere to the Bureau's ethical standards, including Department of Justice (DOJ/FBI regulations relating to outside employment and prepublication review matters, and will remain subject to the Supplemental Standards of Ethical Conduct for employees of the DOJ.

Deadly Force and Shooting Incidents:

41. Members of the LAMTFVG will follow their own agency's policy concerning firearms discharge and use of deadly force. If personnel from more than one LAMTFVG agency are involved in the incident, representatives from the affected agencies agree to conduct a joint investigation unless, under the circumstances, a joint investigation is determined by the parties to be impracticable or undesirable. If a joint investigation is not agreed upon, each agency may investigate the conduct of its own personnel according to its own procedures and policies and will do so in a manner that does not interfere with or obstruct any other agency's investigation. Regardless whether a joint investigation or multiple investigations are conducted, each agency agrees to share information among the affected agencies consistent with each agency's rules and regulations. In addition, in the event multiple investigations are conducted, the affected agencies agree to confer on their reported findings and, to the extent practicable, to resolve any significant differences.[48]

The tactical operation consisted of personnel from the Los Angeles Police Department and the FBI. In this instance, FBI Agent [redacted] placed himself into the tactical scenario involving a murder suspect that was believed to be armed and moved into a position that potentially left him exposed and an OIS occurred. The involved LAPD officers were unaware of the FBI tactical protocol specific to containment, arrest, or their deadly force policy. The integration of various law enforcement personnel, into a tactical situation, may create concern regarding possible conflicting tactics and use of force standards and policies. The Chief fully appreciates the critical relationships between the Department and the various federal law enforcement agencies, and realizes the significant value of such joint operations. However, as there is often room for improvement in such joint operations, the Chief will direct that the Department evaluate the processes involved, including the participation in joint Tactical Training and Debrief sessions. Accordingly, the Department will extend an invitation to Special Agent [redacted] to attend the Tactical Debrief for this incident

- Service Pistol Inspection – The post OIS weapon inspection revealed Officer [redacted] service pistol was not recorded into the LAPD Firearm Inventory Tracking System (FITS). On December 15, 2011, Officer [redacted] successfully qualified with his Smith and Wesson .45 caliber pistol, fulfilling the requirement to carry the pistol. The service pistol was subsequently registered to Officer [redacted] and met all Department specifications.

Captain [redacted] Serial No. [redacted] Commanding Officer, Hollenbeck Area, was advised of the issues and will conduct a comprehensive audit of each of the specialized units within Hollenbeck for similar concerns. The Chief will direct that this issue be discussed during the Tactical Debrief.

- Service Pistol Magazine Loading – During the post OIS weapons inspection, it was discovered that Officer [redacted] s service pistol magazine contained seven live rounds, which is one less than full capacity of eight rounds. This topic will be discussed during the Tactical Debrief. b6 -4 b7C -4

- Unauthorized ammunition - Officer [redacted] service pistol was loaded with Federal .45 Auto + P ammunition at the time of the shooting. This ammunition was phased out of service by April 1, 2011. This issue was brought to the attention of Captain [redacted] Additionally, the Chief will direct this issue be discussed during the Tactical Debrief.

  The Chief will direct that the Use of Force Review Division publish information regarding these issues in a TacOps Newsletter and relay the information to Department operational commands.

- Profanity – [redacted] stated when she was exiting the residence; an unidentified officer used profanity as he directed her to the ground. The allegations of inappropriate language and being pushed were documented under Complaint Form No. 12-000865 and forwarded to Internal Affairs Group (IAG). The Chief will have this topic discussed during the Tactical Debrief. b6 -2 b7C -2

Additional

- Research on memory/recall and perceptual distortion

  Various researchers have conducted and published [peer reviewed and well accepted] studies on the impact of traumatic events such as deadly force encounters, on memory and recall.[49] Those studies were supported in part by hundreds of interviews of officers in various agencies involved in shooting incidents over several years. As indicated, officers may not record (memory) or recall details of an incident that would have been clearly remembered under normal circumstances, or not remember details in factual order. Additionally, various other considerations may impact memory and or recall. When an officer is multi-tasking (i.e. reloading, transitioning between weapon systems, giving commands etc.), the ability to record or recall each of those acts may be effected as well.

[49] Dr. Audrey Honig (LASD), Dr. Alexis Artwhol, Dr Bill Lewinsky (Force Science Institute).

NYT-949

A related phenomenon impacting memory is perceptual distortion, which is defined as a lack of correspondence between the way a stimulus is commonly perceived and the way an individual perceives it under given conditions.

This phenomenon is another reason why an officer may never record (receive) part of an incident and may clearly remember the suspect in one position when in reality they had changed their position or location and or may never see or hear other peripheral events or occurrences taking place around them.

A 1998 study of 348 OIS incidents investigated by the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department revealed that 90 percent of officers involved in those incidents experienced some degree of perceptual distortion. In a separate peer reviewed study, 157 officers reported memory anomalies as follows:

52% experienced memory loss of some part of the event
46% experienced memory loss of their individual actions
84% heard diminished sound volumes
21% experienced memory distortion

As indicated, the consideration of these very-real factors is important to the adjudication of CUOF incidents, specifically when assessing the individual accounts of the officers involved.

- Outside Agency Notification – In this instance, Officer [redacted] and notified her regarding the OIS. Officer [redacted] is reminded that notifications subsequent to an OIS in areas outside the city should be coordinated through the Incident Commander. The Chief will direct the Commanding Officer, Hollenbeck Area, to document and discuss this issue with Officer [redacted]

Chief's Direction

- In the area of Command and Control, supervision was transferred between supervisors after the initial briefing. A supervisor was at scene during the entire incident but it would have been beneficial if one supervisor oversaw the incident. ## INSPECTOR GENERAL REVIEW

Inspector General Analysis

Investigation Quality

- No significant issues of concern were identified in relation to investigation quality.

Training Issues

- No significant issues of concern were identified in relation to training.

Equipment Issues

- No significant issues of concern were identified in relation to equipment.

Additional

- The OIG noted that Agent [redacted] re-deployed into the rear yard, without communicating and/or coordinating with other officers. By his own admission, the move compromised Agent [redacted]'s safety by leaving him exposed to Martinez. Although Agent [redacted]s performance is not evaluated as part of the Department and OIG's review of this case, it is clear that his actions had the potential to compromise the tactical approach employed by the involved LAPD officers, as well as to increase the risk that an OIS would occur by exposing Agent [redacted] to any threat posed by Martinez.

  As noted in the Chief's report, the involved LAPD officers were unaware of FBI tactical protocol, and the integration of various law enforcement personnel into a tactical situation may create concern regarding possible conflict in tactics and other policies. Given the potential for inconsistent tactical standards to compromise performance, as well as to limit the ability of Department supervisors to exercise effective command and control during tactical situations, the OIG concurs with the Chief's direction that the Department evaluate the processes associated with joint operations.

Inspector General Recommendations

Tactics

- The OIG concurs with the Chief's findings.

Drawing/Exhibiting

- The OIG concurs with the Chief's findings.

Lethal Use of Force

- The OIG concurs with the Chief's findings.

- Although all of the involved officers gave statements that, in some respects, conflicted with other sources of evidence, the OIG recognized that the incident was stressful and dynamic. In such circumstances, it is not uncommon for officers' recollections to differ. In evaluating each officer's decision to use lethal force during this incident, the OIG considered those features of the incident that were established to a preponderance standard by testimonial and/or other sources of evidence, including the video recording of the incident.

  While the cell phone video obtained by NBC News was somewhat unclear, it showed that Martinez was facing the officers while on the roof. Martinez' right hand appeared to be in his right front pants pocket or near the associated waist band, consistent with the officers' and several independent witnesses' statements. While in this position, Martinez appeared to quickly move toward Agent [redacted] Although the video does not clearly show Martinez pushing his right hand forward, or otherwise simulating a firearm, several of the involved officers described seeing those motions. As described by Officer [redacted] "His [Martinez'] hand was in his pocket and it's like a -- like in the movies. You know, you see a guy put his hand in the -- in his jacket pretending he has a gun."[50] As recalled by Officer [redacted] "As he's [...] walking maybe a couple steps toward the -- the agent he makes a movement where he lifts the hand, his right hand [...] towards the agent and us."[51] According to Officer [redacted] "[H]e advances towards the officers or to myself and [...] simulates a handgun."[52] Given this evidence, in concert with the officers' prior knowledge regarding the type of crime for which Martinez was wanted, and his prior communications regarding obtaining a gun to use against police officers, the OIG believes that it was objectively reasonable for the involved officers to believe that Martinez was threatening their lives with a handgun which was concealed in his pocket or waistband. Further, although the investigation did not establish who fired the first round of the OIS, each officer described hearing a gunshot. Given Martinez' apparent simulation of a handgun, the officers each apparently mistook the gunshot for it having been fired by Martinez.

  After the initial series of rounds was fired, Martinez fell to the roof. Although it appears from the video that Martinez moved as the incident continued, appearing to move for the last time in the moments when the final rounds were fired, the quality of the video is such that his precise movements (e.g., exact position of hands, etc.). cannot be determined.
